

《Sweet Marriage: Smart Cute Wife》

Chapter 145

When I went to pick up the little guy from kindergarten, suddenly a young man rushed out and desperately dragged her hand. The little guy in her hand was shaky.

"What are you doing?" Out of vigilance towards strangers and disgust at his behavior, Xia Jinsheng has frowned and deliberately avoided the young man who seems to have some abnormal nerves.

The boy was very excited and increased the shaking, "you are Xia Jinsheng and Xia Yuxiu. I'm your fan. Please give me an autograph."

It turned out to be a fan. Xia Jinsheng's vigilance dropped a lot. It is estimated that he met some crazy fans. He would leave as long as he signed his name. He has been pestering himself.

"Stop shaking. I'll just sign it for you." Xia Jinsheng put the little guy down and took the signature book. When he was about to sign, he found something that said:

Bitch and her daughter should go to hell.

Frowning together, she looked at the person in front of her discontentedly, "what do you mean?"

"Just scold you. Neither you nor your daughter is a good thing. She came out to sell when she was so young. I don't know how many people have made unspoken rules. They should be played by men and fed to fish. "

"Crazy." Knowing that the comer was not good, Xia Jinsheng picked up the little guy and left. However, the man still argued and pulled Xia Jinsheng not to let him go.

"You let go, bad man." The little guy helped slap her hand. She also saw from what happened just now that he was not a good man because he made Mommy angry.

The little nail scraped on his face, and the boy immediately screamed like a pig, "what's the matter with you, big star?" Don't I just want to ask you for an autograph?

They even caught me. "

His voice immediately made some people's attention focus here. He manipulated the direction of public opinion in a pitiful way, and many people were aggrieved for him in an instant.

"Big star, why haven't I heard of it?"

"Don't you just want a signature? Just sign it. "

"It's disgusting to start playing big cards before Mingming is famous."

At first, only a few people spoke, and then more and more people stood up. Xia Jinsheng and Xia Yuxiu were surrounded by the crowd and drowned in their saliva.

Seeing that the time was ripe, the man fell down on his knees and hugged his thigh in front of Xia Jinsheng. He took the opportunity to wipe off the oil and didn't say his unreasonable request, "please give me an autograph. I like you very much."

If it hadn't been for the words just now, Xia Jinsheng almost believed it and was moved to tears, but this is not the case.

Because he hugged her leg, Xia Jinsheng was in a hurry to struggle. Her center of gravity was unstable and she fell back directly. When it was over, she thought:

If she falls, she will beat the man to relieve her anger.

The unexpected body fell into a strong embrace and protected them tightly. I felt a gust of wind blowing. The next second, I saw that the person who was pestering her was severely kicked out and rolled for several circles before stopping.

It's Gu Nanchen. Xia Jinsheng is very happy.

The crowd was suddenly strangely quiet. After a few seconds, someone hid far away and shouted, "Oh, there's a fight. It's going to kill people."

The reason why some people say this is because the boy's head is broken and his face is bleeding. He is beyond recognition and looks very scary.

"Let's go first. I asked Qin Wen to deal with it." In such a case, Xia Jinsheng's brain crashed. Gu Nanchen protected her into the car and took people away. In the eyes of others, it was the same as hit and run.

They don't know at all. A camera in an unknown corner silently records all this.

"Why are you here? Will that man be all right?" Sitting in the car, Xia Jinsheng was still in shock. It's hard for anyone to calm down after such a experience.

"No." Although he was angry with Xia Jinsheng, Gu Nanchen still had a sense of propriety before he did it. This time, he felt that it was not as simple as it seemed.

I arranged several bodyguards to follow Xia Jinsheng every day to protect their safety.

A big player on the Internet still distorted the story and only intercepted the scene where the boy chased for his signature, was caught by the little guy, knelt down to Xia Jinsheng, and finally was kicked over by Gu Nanchen. Someone began to take them out of context.

The boring technique is as like as two peas in the Internet. They just think about it.

This time it was probably done by the same person. She opened the live broadcast with great calmness to clarify the accident. A person present proved it for her.

The storm was handled lightly by the company's public relations. Gu Nanchen has begun to investigate the people behind the scenes. It can be solved twice at a time, but he has been so passive by the enemy. Next, there will be endless troubles.

The wild fire never burns out, and the spring breeze blows again.

"Do you have a way?" Xia Jinsheng raised his eyebrows and turned his attention from the professional book to him.

"Black technology." Gu Nanchen's slender index finger was placed on the lip flap, and the "Shh" action was full of color and gas, as if someone was tasting it.

As a result, Qin Wen used black technology to investigate the address where he had negotiated with the two big ones, and her identity was also human flesh, LAN Xiaoai.

She was originally an ordinary white-collar worker, but she was the little assistant with Ling Qiaoqiao. It was clear who was the real mastermind.

"I, I knew she was upset and kind." Xia Jinsheng's professional books were devastated in his hands. Xia Jinsheng could stare a hole in the computer screen.

Ling Qiaoqiao invested in the crew with bad intentions and lurked around them at any time. She could not tell whether the prop accident of the logistics team was her instigation or that she intended to use those for herself.

"Want revenge?" Gu Nanchen held her full. Xia Jinsheng was busy reading the data on the computer and twisted restlessly on his legs. His big hand held her waist, "be honest."

Little bastard, there's no sense of crisis. He can't guarantee that he won't do anything when he moves.

The low voice seemed to suppress something. Xia Jinsheng's body stiffened and soon understood. He turned a deaf ear and pretended that nothing had happened.

Her movement Gu Nanchen had a panoramic view, and the smile at the corners of her mouth was helpless. Her head was pillowed in her hair to suppress her mind.

"I didn't expect that woman's situation to be so miserable." Xia Jinsheng muttered to himself.

The documents from Qin Wen's investigation are all the good deeds that Ling Qiaoqiao did after she came to the crew. Of course, it also includes encouraging people to do hands and feet on the little guy's clothes and buying threatening women. All of them are recorded on it.

The woman herself is also a poor man. She has an alcoholic gambler husband and an adolescent son who likes racing and fighting. The family's expenses depend entirely on her meager income in the crew.

On the one hand, Ling Qiaoqiao gave her money, on the other hand, she was jealous of women. Her life was overwhelmed. At this time, someone from all walks of life appeared.

She began to complain about the injustice of life, but ended up putting herself in detention.

"Have you figured out what to do?" In Gu Nanchen's opinion, dealing with Ling Qiaoqiao is as simple as killing an ant, so he is more concerned about Xia Jinsheng's opinions.

Make your wife happy, that's the most important thing.

"How?" Xia Jinsheng smiled like a flower, "treat him with his own way."

Others bullied her, and she didn't intend to be soft hearted and burst out the information in the same way. Lingqiaoqiao himself is not low-key and is often active in the public eye. As soon as the truth was revealed, the anger of netizens burned to her studio and my microblog.

It was even more boring that someone made an annual annoying list. Ling Qiaoqiao was at the top of the list with no effort. She was scolded. Some people nicknamed her "snake and scorpion woman" and mocked her.

She has to be careful when she goes out. It is said that several people who want to "walk for heaven" are dormant around her.

"You did it, didn't you?" Ling Qiaoqiao finally escaped the monitoring of the media and went to the set to find Xia Jinsheng's "theory".

Her hair was scattered. Xia Jinsheng knew that something lively had happened at the entrance of the set just now. According to her appearance, she guessed that she might be surrounded.

"People are doing, the sky is watching." When she started to do it herself, she didn't think of this end. Xia Jinsheng also took the little guy to hide, so she didn't know how to do it.

"Hum, you admit it yourself. You're deliberately harming me." Ling Qiaoqiao suddenly laughed and took out a black recording pen with a ferocious smile. "You're finished. I'll explode this recording now. You're setting me up."

"..." what did she admit? Is Lingqiao neurotic?

A big hand took the recorder in her hand. Ling Qiaoqiao was angry, but her eyes were shocked when she saw Gu Nanchen.

With a crisp sound, the recording pen became two pieces in Gu Nanchen's hand.

"You, Nanchen, what are you doing?" Once in front of Gu Nanchen, Ling Qiaoqiao changed a clever face. An ant was reluctant to step on it. It was harmless to humans and animals.

"I want to ask you what you want to do?" Gu Nanchen snorted coldly, stepped over her and went directly to Xia Jinsheng. When he heard the news that Ling Qiaoqiao was making trouble on the set, he hurried over for fear that it would be bad for his wife.

I don't know what Xia Jinsheng said, but she recorded it, but now the evidence has been destroyed. Gu Nanchen looks at Xia Jinsheng pleasantly, and the meaning of praise in his eyes is not too obvious.

However, all she got was a speechless white eye. Even so, Gu Nanchen's eyes had always been only her.

The interaction between the two people and the posture that could not accommodate a third party made Ling Qiaoqiao feel dazzling. How could it be? She was unwilling.

"Nanchen, listen to me. Xia Jinsheng deliberately subverts my image on the Internet and makes others misunderstand me. She just wants you to alienate me." In her eyes, Xia Jinsheng seems to be a vicious woman full of conspiracy, but she is the innocent victim.

"Really? I'll be happy. " Gu Nanchen laughed when she reversed black and white. If Xia Jinsheng really did what she said, Gu Nanchen would never be happy to find Bei.

Beauty is in the eye of a lover. In his eyes, Xia Jinsheng would be very lovely if he was jealous and played tricks for him. Ling Qiaoqiao seems to be ready to say something. Gu Nanchen's sentence made her fall to the bottom of the valley: "by the way, I did something about you on the Internet."
