

Sweet Wife 2351

Chapter 2351: was in a very bad situation

“The situation is very bad.” He Yibin really did not want to say this. At their age, they were already a dangerous group of people. They were already over 60 years old. Although Yan Huan was still considered young, he was almost 60 years old, at their age, it could be said that they were going to see the King of Hell at any time. They really were not like young people.

They also had to pay attention to these and those things at all times. Even if they were to catch some kind of illness, it could only be said that it was their fate.

However, Yan Huan was indeed not doing too well this time. She was actually still very young, especially with such a face. However, no matter how young her face was, she was still old. Her face was still young, but the weakness was in her internal organs, there was also the various functions of her body.

Yan Huan was indeed not doing too well now. There weren't any problems with her body's functions, but what was more serious was..

He Yibin placed the examination report he brought over into Lu Yi's hands. “Take a look for yourself.”

Lu Yi opened the examination report. There were many examination items in it. In the past few years, he would bring Yan Huan for a physical examination. In addition, he yibin would occasionally explain it to him, and he had also studied it before, therefore, he could barely understand what was written on the report?

It seemed to be the basics. It was not bad.

His blood pressure and blood sugar were also very normal. There was no deviation.

When he flipped to the next page and saw the string of examination results, his pupils suddenly constricted. The examination report in his hand also tightened in an instant. The veins on the back of his hand also jumped up violently.

This result.

“How could this be?”

Yes, how could this be?

What on Earth was going on?

And on the examination report that he was holding tightly in his hand, there were two words that obviously should not appear.

That Was..

Brain failure.

“She has been lethargic all this time, and her memory is also the reason for the obvious decline. It’s also because of this that you have to be mentally prepared,” he yibin sighed, but he did not know how to comfort Lu Yi.

“What will happen to her?” Lu Yi carefully held Yan Huan’s hand. “Will it hurt? Will it be uncomfortable?” He would rather her sleep to death than suffer any pain.

“She will...”

He Yibin did not know how many times he had sighed. It was fine when he was young, but now that he was old, there was no way to treat this illness.

“She will continue to be lethargic, and her memory will decrease day by day. In the end, she may not even remember you. As for whether it will hurt, he yibin shook his head again. It should not be. However, it is absolutely certain that she will feel uncomfortable later on.”

“She may die in her sleep, or she may leave at any time. You guys should be mentally prepared.”

When Lu Yi asked him to come over, he Yibin had a bad feeling. He was also worried that Yan Huan might get this disease, and as expected, he was right.

However, even he did not expect that Yan Huan would have such a disease.

She had been taking care of her body for the past few years, and she had always been disease-free. Although her body was not very good, it was not to the extent that she could be so sick all of a sudden.

Once it was found out, it was such an incurable disease.

“You’d better discuss it with Lu Qi and the others.” He Yibin did not want Yan Huan to get this disease, but it seemed that there was no other way.

Let them be mentally prepared.

Mentally prepared. When Lu Yi heard this word, why did it sound so harsh. He actually told him to mentally prepare himself.

“How much longer does she have?” Lu Yi carefully placed Yan Huan’s hand under the blanket.

He just wanted to know how much longer she could stay with him?

“That’s hard to say.” He Yibin could not give him a definite number. “It might not be more than a year.”

This was already a death sentence for Yan Huan. Although it was a suspended death sentence, he did not know if he would be sentenced to life.

A year’s time, only a year’s time..

“Don’t let her know,” Lu Yi said to he yibin. “I don’t want her to know about this.”

“I understand.” He Yibin stood up. “I brought some medicine. Let Her eat it first. She might feel better.” As he spoke, he took out the medicine from his bag.

“Thank you.” Lu Yi reached out to take the medicine. He clearly wanted to throw the medicine away, but in the end, he still opened the drawer and carefully placed the medicine inside.

After he yibin left, Lu Yi carefully placed his hand on Yan Huan’s forehead. If it hadn’t come to that, I would rather you leave while you’re asleep. At the very least, there wouldn’t be any pain.

Don’t be afraid. He gently stroked Yan Huan’s hair. You Won’t be lonely. Don’t you still have me? I’ll go over to accompany you very soon. Didn’t we agree that when we’re alive, we’ll be together. After we die.., our ashes will be placed together.

Lu Yi bent down and gently pressed his face against Yan Huan’s face. At this moment, no one knew that his heart, which had been through a lot, was now in unbearable pain.

Lu Yi walked out. There was already a bunch of people sitting outside. Among his and Yan Huan’s three children, fatty he, Little Lei Zi, and the Ye family’s brat were also there. The Ye family’s Brat was the youngest and was only twenty years old now, however, their relationship with Yan Huan was also very good. Yan Huan had watched her grow up, and the Ye family’s brat also had a beautiful face. Although he wasn’t like ye Xinyu when he was young, he was tortured until he grew up, however, he was beaten up by his own mother until he grew up. and Yan Huan had always been protecting that child, so he liked Yan Huan the most.

“Uncle, how’s my aunt?”

Little ye asked Lu Yi carefully. Once they heard the news, they put down what they were doing and immediately came over. and looking at Uncle’s current expression, he didn’t look too good. was aunt really fine?

Lu Yi raised his head and looked at the children around him. The children had all grown up and had gotten married and had children. They were all children now, so he wasn’t worried about them. Yan Huan should be too.

“What?” Lu Wei felt her mind go blank, and her vision went black as well.

“My mother has brain failure. How is this possible?”

She didn’t believe it. She didn’t believe it at all. She didn’t believe that such a thing would happen to her mother. Her mother was clearly so young. Although her body had been a little weak for the past few years.., she was very healthy. A few months ago, she had a physical examination. At that time, she was fine. How did her mother become like this in just a few short months.

Fang Yu hurriedly hugged Lu Wei’s shoulders.

Even he, the son-in-law, could not accept it, let alone Lu Wei, his biological daughter. Yan Huan was really too young. Sometimes, people would forget her age when she was young. However, no matter how much they forgot, they could not deny it, yan Huan’s current age was almost sixty years old. She was already old and her body was gradually not doing too well.

Chapter 2352: Sunset Glow

“You can ask your uncle he about the specifics.” Lu Yi didn’t want to say anything more. He Yibin explained that he would be more professional and more comprehensive than him. He could also answer all their questions, this also included how long Yan Huan could live.

They still had one year. How could one year be enough? How could it be possible?

“Why do I have to Eat This?” Although Yan Huan complained, she still swallowed the medicine in her hand in the end.

“I’m already old?” Yan Huan rolled her eyes at Lu Yi. “Don’t treat me like a child.”

“I’ve always treated you like a child.”

Lu Yi pinched her fair and clean little face. “No matter how old you are, as long as I’m here, you’ll always be a child.”

Yan Huan’s life had been miserable ever since she was young. In her previous life, she had also suffered a lot. In this life, she had not had a good life either. How many years of a good life had they had? But then again..

They only had a year left, and in this year, he would always be by her side. They would not be apart for even a moment.

“This medicine is so bitter.” Yan Huan stuck out her tongue. It was so bitter, and she really felt that this old hag knew how to act cute. If she was photographed.., she didn’t know if she would be awarded the best acting cute award.

“You have to take it even if it’s bitter. The medicine has a good effect.”

Lu Yi placed the cup in front of her. “Eat more of my pretty face. The vitamin will make your skin better.”

Lu Yi coaxed her.

“Got it. I’ll eat it every day.” Yan Huan happily took the glass and drank it. Her long eyelashes drooped, creating a peaceful atmosphere in the room.

“Aren’t you going to work?” Yan Huan felt that Lu Yi had been a little strange lately. He used to be busy every day. Although he was no longer working on cases, the Procuratorate still couldn’t leave him. No matter how close the Procuratorate was to his home.., he would arrive in another ten minutes or so. However, he wouldn’t have to work overtime every day like when he was young, but he still had to go to work.

“I’m retired.” Lu Yi took the cup from Yan Huan’s hand and placed it in front of her. He insisted on letting her drink more water. He used to like drinking water, but why didn’t he like it recently.

Yan Huan could only hold the cup again. However, she looked at Lu Yi suspiciously for a long time.

“You’re retired?”

She didn’t quite believe it. Why was he retired?

“Didn’t you say you wanted to be seventy years old and that they would let you come back?” Lu Yi had always been able to handle several people by himself. If he retired now, wouldn’t the Procuratorate be in a mess, in fact, Lu Yi had wanted to retire a few years ago, but the Procuratorate never let him go and insisted that he bring a few students out.

If there was no suitable successor, the Procuratorate would really be in a mess.

Now that the successor had been found, they were willing to let him retire?

“Can’t you retire earlier?”

Lu Yi took the cup from Yan Huan’s hand and put it aside. “I can accompany you for a walk. Wherever you say we’re going, I’ll accompany you.”

“Alright.” Yan Huan hugged Lu Yi’s neck. “Then let’s have a sunset glow.”

“Alright, I’ll listen to you.” Lu Yi caressed Yan Huan’s face in pain, “I’ve never properly accompanied you in my entire life. If we can still meet in the next life, then I’ll definitely give up everything I have to accompany you for a lifetime.”

And... he replied in his heart.

I will protect you well. I will not let you suffer any more injuries or sufferings. Otherwise, I would not have let you have such an illness at your age.

And we only have one year left. After every minute and second passes, we will lose every minute and second. We will never be able to find the same amount of time again.

How many minutes and seconds are there in a year? I never thought that you would leave me, but I never thought that you would leave so early.

Lu Yi had always known how to hide his thoughts, so Yan Huan did not discover anything.

Yan Huan was not at the point of incurable illness, so he did not need a bunch of people at home. At the very least, before they learned how to hide their thoughts, Lu Yi would not let them come over.

Lu Qi brought Xiaomei and Lu Xiaosan back to the Gao family. Lu Wei rushed back overnight as well. Lu Guang went to work as usual, while Qin Yushi looked after the children. Those who wanted to go back went back, and those who wanted to work were still working, everything seemed to be the same as before, and Yan Huan didn’t suspect anything. Moreover, all her thoughts weren’t on other places. She was thinking about where Lu Yi would take her to play?

How could she miss such a good sunset glow? How could she be completely drowned out by other things.

It was soon the departure day, and Lu Yi and Yan Huan had secretly gone out. They did not tell anyone. Everyone thought that they still had to pack their things, but they did not expect that they did not pack anything, instead, they had already boarded a plane and flew around the world.

Lu Yi brought Yan Huan around these mountains and rivers. Perhaps it would not be in her memories, but it would be in her memories.

When these children found out about it, they had already left for a long time.

Sometimes, Lu Yi would send back a few photos through his computer and phone. At home, he would also use his computer. When Yan Huan missed her son or grandson, he would open a video on his computer to meet them.

Most of the time, her schedule was very full. She did not even have time to think.

They were walking in the same place as the landlord. Their pace had gone from normal at the beginning to feeling more and more difficult to walk day by day. Yan Huan was just like he Yibin had said. Her narcolepsy was getting worse.

Every time they arrived at a place, Lu Yi would bring Yan Huan for all sorts of examinations. Actually, Lu Yi brought Yan Huan out this time. Other than Yan Huan wanting this sunset glow, he wanted to find famous doctors from all over the world, perhaps he could cure Yan Huan's disease.

But he had already looked for many places and seen many doctors. But in the end, all the doctors gave him the same result as he Yibin had said. There was no way to treat brain failure.

Yan Huan could only wait for death. Fortunately, when Yan Huan died, she would probably be in a dream. She would not feel any pain. Her brain failure was an extremely rare illness, for a person, this way of dying was much more merciful than the usual way of dying. This was because she would not feel any pain. She would also not feel any pain. She might really fall asleep one day, she would really fall asleep and would not wake up again.

Lu Yi still did not give up. She still brought Yan Huan to go from place to place, and also to country after country. Perhaps she would be there today and there the next day.

Chapter 2353: She had forgotten

Every time they arrived at a new place, the first place he brought Yan Huan to was the famous local hospital.

It was a pity that no matter how many places he went and how much hope he saw, the end result was that Yan Huan slept more and more, the others could not do anything about her symptoms.

Yan Huan really did not have much time left. In fact, they still had many places to go, many places to go, and many doctors to look for. However, all of these things required time, however, what they lacked the most right now was time.

Yan Huan's time to wake up was getting lesser and lesser. Moreover, her eyes were no longer as lively as before. Her appearance still did not change. Time stopped on her face, but it did not take care of her body.

She was still as old as the others. With this young girl's face, she was old..

Sometimes, the thing she did the most was to sit by the window in a daze. No one knew what she was looking at?

Why was she sitting here? Lu Yi took a piece of clothing and helped Yan Huan put it on. He was careful not to catch a cold.

Yan Huan grabbed the clothes on her body and turned around to stare at him for half a day.

“What’s Wrong?” Lu Yi squatted down in front of her and tidied up the hair by her ear.

Yan Huan stretched out her hand and placed it on Lu Yi’s face.

“I will definitely not forget you.”

Lu Yi’s body trembled as he placed his chin on top of Yan Huan’s head. He knew that he would not be able to hide it from her for long. His body knew that he had always brought Yan Huan to all the major hospitals, however, he had always gone to the hospitals when she was asleep. He had also carefully avoided her and avoided her. However, she still found out about it in the end, didn’t she?

“Don’t be afraid. You’ll recover.”

Lu Yi gently stroked Yan Huan’s hair. “You’ll definitely recover.”

Yan Huan clutched tightly onto Lu Yi’s clothes. Her eyes were wide open as she looked at the unfamiliar scenery on the other side. She didn’t feel the slightest sense of familiarity, nor did she feel any sense of familiarity.

That was why she was sick.

She knew that she had already forgotten many things, but she would never forget Lu Yi.

She hugged Lu Yi’s waist tightly. She still remembered how Lu Yi looked like when she first met him. She remembered the bits and pieces of the past. She didn’t know how to build a house, and she would never forget it for the rest of her life. Even if she died.., she would never forget it.

She would remember all of this in her mind. She would remember it even in her next life.

The light outside was refracted through the glass. It also fell down gently. The colors around it were also very warm and warm. It was unknown who was stunned by the years, or who had a life that was gentle.., or it was to fade away the past that no one wanted to forget.

Time passed by little by little in the changes of the light.

Minute by second, minute by minute..

Perhaps the most impossible thing for humans in this world was nothing else but time.

Whether you wanted to or not, time was still passing by minute by minute.

In your fingers, in your sleep, in the moment when you waited for the red light.

One second, two seconds, three seconds... and then countless times, taking away your youth, your years, and your life..

Lu Yi and Yan Huan were still walking outside. Lu Yi had brought her to many places and had seen many local customs. Yan Huan looked fine on the outside, but Lu Yi knew that.

She had already forgotten many things. She didn't even remember where her home was. She just followed Lu Yi. Wherever Lu Yi went, she would follow him. Every day, the moment she opened her eyes., the person she saw was Lu Yi. Every day before she fell asleep, the last person she saw was also Lu Yi. Lu Yi was now her only one, her direction, her path..

After about half a year, Yan Huan's memory was getting worse and worse. She was no longer suitable for living outside. Therefore, they returned to the Liuyuan Garden of Hai City, which they had been separated from for a long time.

"Where is this?" Yan Huan looked up at the spacious and bright building in front of her. "Is this the place you brought me to?"

"Yeah." Lu Yi held Yan Huan's hand tightly. This was the true future of holding a son. They had walked together for decades, and they still had to walk together for the rest of their lives, no matter if it was a day or two.

"We'll stay here in the future. The scenery here is very good, so we won't have to stay in a hotel for a long time."

Lu Yi still coaxed Yan Huan. He didn't want to burden her too much, nor did he want her to force herself to remember some things. He also didn't want to give her a scar in her already limited memory.

She said that wherever she was, she would be there. He just wanted to make her life a little easier. If he overthought it, his head would hurt.

But how could he bear to?

Lu Yi brought Yan Huan in. There was no one in the house, only them. When Lu Yi came back, he had already told them not to appear in front of Yan Huan first, yan Huan's current memory was pitifully short. She no longer remembered them.

If they appeared in front of Yan Huan rashly, it would really scare her.

"Is this place good?" Lu Yi asked Yan Huan. "Do you like it?"

"I like it." Yan Huan nodded. She really liked this place. It was very big, safe, and had a similar sense of security.

Lu Yi was still holding her hand, but no one knew. At this moment, he was smiling, but there was also a faint trace of pain at the corner of his lips.

As expected, she had forgotten. Even her own home had followed the house. And now, he was really afraid that there would be a day when Yan Huan would forget about him.

Then, when her life was left with nothing, would she be afraid?

Lu Yi opened the door and brought Yan Huan in.

This was their house. They had lived in it for a few years.

Yan Huan let go of Lu Yi's hand and ran to the big bed. Then, she sat down. "So you've already prepared it. It's all my favorite color. This room is really nice. I like it very much."

She might have even forgotten her own age.

“Lu Yi...” Yan Huan hugged Lu Yi’s face.

“Why Are You Old?”

“Am I?” Lu Yi smiled and nodded at her face. “I’ve matured, do you understand?”

“I understand.” Yan Huan hugged Lu Yi’s neck. “I know that my Lu Yi will never grow old. I Won’t grow old either. We will always be young and live on.”

Lu Yi was still gently stroking her hair. The pain in his black eyes that no one could see intensified day by day.

Chapter 2354: She only remembered him

“Grandma, Grandma...”

Lu Xiaosi ran in. It had been a long time since she had seen her beautiful grandma. She had heard from her father that her beautiful grandma had returned. Was It True? Her grandma loved her the most and would comb her hair..., she would buy her many beautiful little dresses. Moreover, her grandma was also the most beautiful grandma.

Yan Huan turned around and stared at the little girl who was running toward her with a strange expression. The little girl was chubby and chubby. When she ran, she was like a little duck, swaying and swaying. She was very cute.

Yan Huan reached out his hand and instinctively took the little chubby girl.

“Grandmother, grandmother...”

Lu Xiaosi finally saw his grandmother. He used his little face to rub against his grandmother’s chest from time to time.

“Grandmother?” Yan Huan could not help but laugh.

How did she become an old grandmother? She was clearly still very young, okay?

She touched her own face. Actually, sometimes even she herself felt very strange. She clearly remembered that she was only in her twenties, but why did it seem like she had lived for a very long time.

If it was not for the fact that her face was still the way she remembered it, she would have really thought that she was sixty years old now.

But how could that be? She was clearly in her 20s, but she wasn’t 60. Moreover, was a 60-year-old woman still looking like her? No one would believe it even if she said it out loud.

And no one would believe it. Of course, Yan Huan himself wouldn’t believe it either.

Therefore, she felt that it was very strange for this child to call her grandma.

“Little girl, do you know that you have to call me Auntie?”

Yan Huan placed the little girl on the ground and touched her little face.

Lu Xiaosi tilted his little head. She was still young, so her thoughts were very simple.

“Auntie..”

Lu Xiaosi was a good child. He would do whatever Grandma said. Grandma said that if she didn't call him grandma and called him Auntie, then she would call him Auntie. However, this was clearly grandma..

“So well-behaved.”Yan Huan pinched Lu Xiaosi's little face. However, she quickly remembered what was wrong?

“Where did you come from? Where are your parents?”

That's right. Where did this child come from? Where did her parents go? who was looking after the child? She didn't even know how the child was lost. How could there be such parents.

Anyway, she couldn't find the child's parents now. Since she liked the child, she could just let her take care of it.

She and Lu Xiaosi watched TV together and watched the scenery outside the window. The two of them were having fun until the door outside rang. Lu Guang and Qin Yushi came over.

Qin yushi comforted Lu Guang and shook his finger.

Lu Guang's thin lips twitched weakly. was there a son in this world who was more miserable than him?

His mother was right in front of him, but he could not call her 'mother'because their mother had completely forgotten about him.

“Father...”

Lu Xiaosi's sharp eyes spotted Lu Guang and Qin Yushi standing at the door. He quickly climbed down from the sofa and went to look for Lu Guang.

Lu Guang carried Lu Xiaosi and looked at Yan Huan with a complicated expression.

“This child is Your Daughter?”Yan Huan was not surprised to see Lu Guang and the others.

Lu Yi had told her before that this place was actually a resort villa. There were many people living there. Because they came early, there was no one there. However, one after another, people would keep coming in.

“Yes.”Lu Guang suppressed the sobs in her voice.

Yan Huan really had no memory of him at all. Her eyes were unfamiliar, and her appearance was also unfamiliar.

She had been looking at them calmly, as if she was looking at a stranger. There was no sense of familiarity at all.

“Be more careful in the future.” Although Yan Huan had no memory, her tone of lecturing was exactly the same as before. It was as if she was lecturing her son.

“Don’t leave the child alone. He’s so young. You have to be careful from time to time. You Can’t leave an adult’s sight. What if you lose him?”

No matter how hard she tried, she couldn’t utter the word ‘mother’..

Yan Huan stood up. She didn’t like crowded places, so she wanted to return to her house. However, after taking a few steps, she turned her head around.

Then, she carefully observed Lu Guang’s face for half a day. Why do I feel that you look like my husband? However, you’re about the same age as my husband. Otherwise, I would really think that you’re his son.

After she finished speaking, she smiled. How could Lu Yi have a son? Even if he did, he should be the same age as that Little Lass. It was impossible for him to have such an old son.

She opened the door and went straight in. She closed the door behind her and closed the door between the two worlds.

No one else could enter.

And she had forgotten how to get out?

Lu Guang’s nose suddenly turned sour. His mother still could not recognize him in the end.

Qin Yushi still held his hand and felt sad. She really thought of Yan Huan as her mother. Yan Huan was a very good mother-in-law. Naturally, the moment she entered the Lu family, Yan Huan treated her extremely well. What delicious food.., whatever was fun and useful, she had a part to play in it. She treated her as the same person as Xiaomei and Lu Wei.

Now that Yan Huan had become like this, Lu Guang was sad, but so was she.

“No matter what, at the very least, mother didn’t suffer, right?”

Qin yushi comforted Lu Guang. This was already the best outcome. Compared to being sick or in pain, she would rather Yan Huan Walk the last part of her journey in oblivion than in pain.., even her breathing was painful.

“I know,” Lu Guang understood. However, this was only rational, but it was emotional. What should he do? This wasn’t someone else, this was his mother.

His mother was clearly fine. She was clearly sitting there. She was clearly still able to speak, and she was clearly going to teach him a lesson, but why didn’t she recognize him.

Even the doctor had said that his mother only had half a year.

Half a year? How could this be? Yes, how could this be.

His mother was fine, how could she only have half a year.

And he would rather his mother forget everything, but not leave her alive.

Even if she didn't remember them, even if they were like strangers in her eyes, even if they could only see her from afar, it was fine, it was fine.

The heavens didn't take away their mother's looks, but they did take away her health, and now they wanted to take away her life?

Of course, Yan Huan still didn't know about this. She only knew that there seemed to be other guests here.

She told these things to Lu Yi, who just smiled and let her get along well with the new neighbors.

Yan Huan also agreed.

Chapter 2355: she was afraid that he would be lonely

By the afternoon, there were more and more people living here. There were two more couples, and they seemed to be relatives. They all looked alike, and in her eyes, these people were all outsiders, they were all strangers she didn't know.

But in reality, these were the people she loved the most, her son and her daughter.

But they were all houses.

Her current memories were almost blank. The only one that existed in her memories was Lu Yi.

Perhaps it was because Lu Yi was by her side every day, or perhaps it was because her memories of Lu Yi were too etched in her heart, so even if she had forgotten everything.., she had never forgotten Lu Yi for a single day.

And as time passed, Yan Huan's memories were refreshed almost every single day. The people outside were just like these memories, no matter how much they had discussed with her the day before.., but on the second day, they became strangers again, and then they got to know each other again. Even so, Lu Guang and the rest had to be mentally prepared. Yan Huan would forget about him once again on the second day.

She did not remember her age, and of course, it was impossible for her to remember having three children. She also had many grandchildren now. She did not remember anything. She only remembered Lu Yi, she only remembered that she was only twenty years old now.

At this time, she was definitely living the most recklessly.

Although her memory was blank, every day was very fulfilling and very happy. Lu Yi would accompany her to make snacks, go out to experience rural life, and take her to see those ginkgo trees.

Therefore, she was really happy living such a life. It was a pity that every time she opened her eyes, she would forget, and then continue with the memory of this day.

The Fish's memory was only maintained for five seconds, so they did not have a person in their hearts that was carved into their bones.

Yan Huan's memory was only for a day, but her memory had always clearly depicted Lu Yi.

Whether it was Lu Qi, Lu Guang, Lu Wei, or the others, they did not want Yan Huan to remember anything. Even if Yan Huan could not recognize them in his lifetime, it was fine, as long as she still had a lifetime, even if she was given another ten years, it would be fine.

Everyone knew that Yan Huan's days were numbered. The time she was awake was getting shorter and shorter, but the time she slept was getting longer and longer, and she could not remember anything.

The only thing she remembered was Lu Yi. However, she remembered Lu Yi, but she had even forgotten her own.

"Huanhuan, Huanhuan..."

Lu Yi gently patted Yan Huan's face. Yan Huan had fallen asleep. She had already slept for an entire day and night without eating or drinking.

If it wasn't for the sound of her breathing and the heaving of her chest, Lu Yi would have been afraid that she was already gone.

"Huanhuan..." he gently patted Yan Huan's face again.

However, Yan Huan was only breathing. There was no reaction at all.

"I'm not afraid." Lu Yi gently placed his forehead on Yan Huan's forehead.

"I'm not afraid. I will accompany you. I Won't let you walk through those dark days alone. I know that you are most afraid of the dark. No matter where you go, I will accompany you."

He closed his eyes. At that instant, the tears that were squeezed out of the corners of his eyes rolled onto the pillow and seeped into it.

At this moment, a hand was placed on his hair.

He suddenly opened his eyes and realized that Yan Huan had already woken up.

That kind of innocent gaze that was like that of a child and the appearance that had been changed for decades made Lu Yi really believe that they would live like this forever.

"I won't forget you." Yan Huan held Lu Yi's hand tightly.

If there was a next life, I would find you again.

Yan Huan was more clear-headed than anyone else, and she even remembered those things that she had forgotten, such as her child and the years that she had lost.

But it was precisely this that made people even more afraid.

Because of this, she suddenly recovered. It was as if she had never been sick before, just like how she was in the past.

However, this was the most dangerous part.

Because this sudden good thing was not a good thing.

They had gone to so many places, seen so many doctors, and taken so many medicines. But in the end, Yan Huan still became like that. She had forgotten everything.

And it was impossible for her to suddenly remember everything, and it was also impossible for her to suddenly wake up.

And the better she was like this, the more the others were worried and afraid, and the more afraid they were

Because the way she was like this was really like a reflection of the past.

Yan Huan held Lu Yi's hand tightly, and also placed his hand on her face.

"What should I do? I'm afraid that you'll be lonely."

In her hazy vision, she had always remembered Lu Yi's face. It was as if she wanted to imprint everything about him into her soul. She wanted to remember him and never forget him. She couldn't bear to forget him.

"I'll be fine." Lu Yi gently caressed her face. "Wait for me. I'll find you."

Yan Huan nodded lightly. "I'll wait for you. I'll wait for as long as it takes..." she held Lu Yi's hand tightly and could feel his body temperature seeping through her skin all the way to every part of her body, her internal organs, her four limbs, and her bones.

It was as if he had injected a source of heat into her ice-cold body once again.

It could allow her to live, and it could also allow her to remember.

"Wait for me..." Lu Yi kissed her forehead. At this moment, his black eyes were filled with deep pain. The most painful day in Lu Yi's life was the day he personally sent his wife away, after sending away his wife who had accompanied him for his entire life, he did not know how he would spend the remaining ten years of his life.

Lu Yi carefully placed Yan Huan's hand back under the blanket and gently caressed her face. Her breathing was still there, but it was already indistinct. Perhaps it was really like what all the doctors had said.., yan Huan passed away in her sleep.

Yan Huan's breathing was still faintly discernible, and Lu Yi just sat by her side, guarding her without eating or drinking.

It wasn't until Lu Yi stood up and opened the door.

The children outside suddenly had a very bad feeling in their hearts.

"You guys should see her for the last time," Lu Yi stood by the door and said this indifferently before walking in Lu Wei's lips touched from time to time, but there was no sound.

"Is my mother okay?"

She asked Lu Qi, "Brother, is our mother okay?" "She is so young and so beautiful. She will be like great-grandfather, like grandfather and grandmother. She will accompany us for a long time. She will continue to be beautiful, and continue to be beautiful."

Chapter 2356 time is like this

We are her pride, and she is also our pride.

Lu Qi reached out his hand and gently stroked the top of his sister's head

"Wipe your tears clean. Daddy doesn't want to see us cry."

Lu Wei was stunned for a moment. Only then did she wipe her tears away bit by bit. The Tears on her face were clean, but what about the ones buried in the bottom of her heart? What about the ones buried in the bottom of her heart?

Lu Qi stood up and walked towards the room. No emotions could be seen on his face. Some of them were hidden in his black hair. The pain was almost unbearable.

If their mother was gone, they would no longer have a mother in the future.

And no matter how old they were, as long as their mother was there, they would still be children. But now, they would no longer have a mother..

"Mother..."he squatted in front of Yan Huan. He could not hear her voice, nor could he see her smile. All he could hear was her faint breathing and her face that had not changed in the slightest. It was a face that had been forgotten by time.

But why had time forgotten Yan Huan's face but not her health? Why had she used such a method to take her life in the end.

The children had come to see Yan Huan.

This might really be the last time they saw him.

They all felt it, and they could not bear it. Yan Huan, who was still with them last year, was really going to leave. They would never see him again.

They had all left. Lu Yi gently caressed Yan Huan's face. 'You Sleep well. I will be here. I will always be with you.'

He also laid down and hugged Yan Huan in his arms. 'If there's a next life, I'll be the one protecting you, alright?' 'I won't let you suffer so much when you were young. That's how you left behind these roots of illness. In the next life, we must live a long life, Alright?'

The moment he finished speaking, he could no longer hear Yan Huan's breathing.

Wait for me..

He still said, "Wait for me."

Yes, wait for him.

It wouldn't be too long.

There was no Yan Huan in this world, so there was no need for Lu Yi.

Yan Huan passed away when he was 60 years old. She really fell asleep and did not suffer any hardships. Lu Yi personally took care of Yan Huan's funeral, he also placed Yan Huan's bone rubbing in a small bottle and hung it around his neck.

He wanted to take her to places that Yan Huan had yet to go. He wanted to spend the rest of his time looking at these great rivers and mountains.

Lu Qi and the others had no way to stop him. The Living Lu Yi would no longer be able to live with them.

Yan Huan only had Lu Yi in her heart, and Lu Yi only had Yan Huan in his soul.

It could not be said that they were selfish. They had already given up too much for them. Enough was enough.

If it were not for the fact that they were born, Yan Huan's body would not have been so weak. After the age of forty, he had not had any good times. He had also left early. Other than missing him, they could not force him to do anything else, they could not force Lu Yi.

Lu Yi was not an ordinary old man. He was Lu Yi. He was the prosecutor Lu Yi who was once famous throughout hai city.

Lu Yi did not tell anyone. He took the small bottle, his few pieces of luggage, and left.

In the past few years, he had trampled on the land of countless countries. He had been to many places, some near and some far away. All kinds of scenery had entered his eyes.

He came with Yan Huan's eyes, and he had always believed that Yan Huan was there.

"Wait for me. It'll Be Quick." Lu Yi gently stroked the small bottle hanging around his neck.

Yes, it won't be long. It really won't be long. Very soon, they would be able to meet, and they would be able to be together forever. When they were alive, their people would be together, and when they died, their bones would be together, their souls would also be together.

Two years later, Lu Yi, who had traveled to countless places, finally returned.

He passed away alone in a quiet night. When he died, he was still holding the bottle in his hand. Just like Yan Huan, he passed away in his sleep.

When he was alive, he had no illness or pain. His body was also very good. The men of the Lu family lived a long life. His parents were still around, but he passed away early.

In fact, they all knew that Lu Yi just could not let go of Yan Huan. Without Yan Huan, there was no point in leaving him alone.

He was lonely. He was also lonely. His body was in good health, but he no longer had the intention to live because he did not want to live anymore.

Sometimes, death was a relief to him.

Lu Qi and the others respected his will and buried him with Yan Huan's ashes.

In the future, they could really live forever and never have to be separated again.

If they were asked, did they have any regrets?

They definitely did.

No one's life could be truly complete.

The dead had already become the past. The moment they closed their eyes, the living had to continue living.

However, people were forgetful and ruthless.

Perhaps in a few years or decades, they would forget Yan Huan, who had always been as beautiful as a young girl, and Lu da prosecutor, who had always been successful in the procuratorate.

No one would remember yesterday, and their last bit of information would disappear in this world. Only their names, which once belonged to them, would occasionally be remembered by some people.

Time was always like this

It was the most real and ruthless thing in this world..

A wind blew in from outside the window, and it also blew up the pages of the book that was placed in front of the table. No one knew what words were written on those pages.

The book rattled, and after a few times, it returned to its original position.

This was a very simple and crude room, and there was really nothing in the room except for a simple wooden bed. The wind from outside blew in again, and the page was turned into a mess again.

At this moment, a hand reached over and picked up the book and placed it under the table. Only then did he walk over and crouch beside the wooden bed. On the wooden bed, there was a baby that was only a few months old. It was currently sleeping soundly.

A hand was placed on the baby girl's small face and gently patted her shoulder. It was like an unknown folk tune, like a Jiangnan tune that was soft spoken by Wu Nong.

Although it was neither a song nor a tune, it made the baby girl sleep even more soundly.

"Sleep, sleep more and grow faster."The woman smiled and kissed her daughter's small face.

"You are the closest person to me, and you are also the person I love the most. Baby, I will raise you well in a while. You will definitely grow into the cutest and most beautiful little girl."

Chapter 2357: you are Huanhuan

“Mommy Really Loves You.” She could not help but kiss her daughter’s small forehead again. She really felt that she could give her life to her.

This was her daughter, her own daughter. She was also the daughter that had extended her life and her bloodline.

“Oh Right.” The woman finally remembered something. She also felt that she was a little too stupid. However, she was still young after all. She had grown up under the protection and care of her family. She wanted to grow up., if she wanted to raise her daughter well, she still needed some time to get used to it.

“Mom hasn’t given you a name yet?” The woman knocked her head. She really felt that she had failed. How could she be a mother like this? She had even forgotten about giving her daughter a name.

“Actually, I don’t know what to call you either.” For the first time, the woman was so confused. No matter what her life was like now, she had never regretted it, especially since she didn’t regret giving birth to this little child. This wasn’t someone else’s child. This was her child. It was her own child.

She watched her grow from a small ball to this big. Although she was still small, she was fair and tender. She was very beautiful and cute. Anyone who had seen her daughter would say that her daughter was really very beautiful. She was a little beauty.

However, she did not know what name to give her daughter as she touched her daughter’s little face?

“I used to be surnamed Ye, but I can’t give you this surname. I don’t have the face to return to the ye family, so I can’t use this surname anymore. No matter what, I definitely can’t do anything for Meng Xiu at home.”

“Actually, you should be surnamed Su.” The woman raised her face. Perhaps she saw that her daughter was not sleeping very well, so she gently patted her little shoulder to coax her to sleep.

“But I won’t let you be surnamed Su. The people in the Su family are not good people. If you grew up in that place, I don’t know what kind of temper you will develop. Therefore, I won’t let any of them know of your existence. They will not want you and will hurt you. You are still so young. I only want you to grow up safely and healthily. These grudges between adults have nothing to do with you.”

The woman sighed. Her fingers fondly caressed her daughter’s tender little face. Every time she saw her, no matter how much pain she had to endure, she was willing to go through it, this was her child.

“Mommy Will Call You Huanhuan, okay?” The woman suddenly smiled. “Mm, let’s call it that. Mommy will call you yannuo, and you will call her Yanhuan, okay? We will abandon everything in the past, and we can still live a good life.”

“Mommy wants you to be happy for the rest of your life, to be able to live as you please. Don’t be like Mommy, who met someone unladylike, and ended up in such a situation. You have a home, but you can’t go back, and you can’t acknowledge your family.”

The woman pulled up the little blanket for her daughter, then stood up and went to cook something for herself. However, she lowered her head and looked at her chest. When she gave birth, she had lost a lot of her health, therefore, she did not have much milk to feed her daughter. Sometimes, the child would cry from hunger. However, she really did not have any money to buy milk powder for her now.

They really did not have much money in their hands. Moreover, she still had to take care of the little girl, so she could not go out to work.

When she was older, she would go out to look for a job. This way, the mother and daughter's days would be better.

In the future, she would only eat once a day. This way, she might save her daughter a bag of milk powder.

The curtains outside were blown up by the wind and then fell down. The wind that blew into the house also brought with it the unique warmth of this place. The weather was neither hot nor cold. It happened to be the most comfortable season in this city, it was the most comfortable season.

A small hand stretched out from under the small blanket and grabbed the small blanket covering her body. Then, the small hand moved up again and placed it in the air..

The owner of the small hand shook her small chubby hand and then moved her small body. Her big eyes blinked. Her eyeballs had been rolling for a long time, but after a long time, they seemed to be a little strange.

"Why are you awake?"

The woman heard the sound from inside and ran out of the kitchen. Then, she picked up her daughter who was sleeping on the bed.

"Good girl, Huanhuan, don't cry. Mommy is here."

The little baby girl opened her big eyes and grabbed her mother's clothes with her little hand. Her pink and tender little mouth opened and squirmed a few times, but no one knew what she wanted to say?

"What's Wrong?" The woman carried her daughter in front of her. "Huanhuan, do you want to say something to your mother?"

The woman was still smiling. She had a pair of very beautiful eyes. At this moment, her eyes were filled with nothing but the little child in her arms. This little unimaginable child.

The little baby girl suddenly opened her small mouth and smiled. That little smile actually stunned the woman.

"My family's Huanhuan will laugh."

The woman happily hugged her daughter tightly. Her mother was really afraid that she wouldn't be able to laugh. It was as if she was a little fool, young parents were always worried about gains and losses. They were afraid that their daughter wouldn't be able to speak, walk, or laugh. Moreover, she was a single mother. She didn't have anyone by her side, only herself.

Taking care of her daughter was something that she had figured out by herself. At the beginning, she was also flustered. The child was not sensible and would cry every day. When her daughter cried, she would also cry.

She did not even know what she was crying about. When she woke up, she would cry. When she wanted to sleep, she would cry. When she was hungry, she would cry. When she was full, she would cry. Most of the time, she would hug her daughter, who would not stop crying, she also cried silently.

Now that the child had grown up, she had lived with her daughter for so long. She also understood the child's habits and slowly got better. In fact, her daughter was very obedient. She did not cry often and did not disturb her mother too much.

When she had a full stomach, she would grab the blanket and play alone. She did not like to cry too much.

The woman patted her daughter's small back gently. The smile on her lips was very satisfied and beautiful.

The child in her arms had always kept her big and bright eyes open. She looked at her mother like this. It was as if she recognized her mother and also seemed to remember her mother..

This gaze was not simple. There was a story behind this gaze. This gaze should not even be on such a small baby.

The woman carefully put her daughter down and patted the blanket for her.

"Huanhuan, stay here. Mommy will cook some food. You will need to drink some milk later."

The baby girl grabbed her blanket and smiled at her mother.

Chapter 2358: the child who loves to laugh

"I don't know who you look like, but why do you love to laugh so much?"The woman finally felt that her daughter had grown up. She didn't laugh in the past, which made her think that her daughter was a little fool. In the end, she was fine, but now that she had grown up.., she knew how to laugh.

When the woman left, the sweet smile on the baby girl's face also fell. Then, she rolled her eyes and curiously looked around, it was as if she wanted to dig out something from her memory, but unfortunately, there was nothing.

She put her little finger in her mouth and bit hard, but she also felt pain.

Her little face wrinkled. With such a rich expression and smart eyes, she did not feel like an ignorant child.

And she was really not a child. In fact, even she herself did not know what was going on?

She was Yan Huan. She was really Yan Huan. She had been reborn for a lifetime and finally lived to the age of sixty. She had a husband who loved her for a lifetime, three children, and four grandchildren. But later on, she fell ill., she fell seriously ill and began to fall asleep. She began to forget, and the only person she did not forget was Lu Yi.

But she remembered that she was already dead, and that last sentence that Lu Yi left in her soul.

Wait for me..

She did not know what happened after that. She only remembered that she seemed to have had a very, very long dream, and that dream had no sound, no color, no person, no her, and no Lu Yi., everything was like an unconscious state.

When she opened her eyes again, she was actually reborn once again.

The first rebirth was luck, because she could change her fate.

And this time, she actually saw her mother. Her young mother, she grabbed her little quilt with all her strength, and suddenly burst into tears.

Mother... mother..

She wanted to call her mother, but the only sound she made was the sound of a baby crying.

She thought about her mother for her whole life, her mother who had been wronged for her whole life, her aunt who had been bullied to death, and her mother who could not die peacefully.

“What’s Wrong?”Ye Rong hurriedly came out of the kitchen, wiped her hands on her body, and picked up her daughter.

“Huanhuan, what’s wrong? Are You Hungry?”Her hand skillfully touched her daughter’s diaper, wanting to see if she had peed. However, the diaper was clean and there was no wetting at all.

“Don’t cry. Don’t be afraid. Mommy is here. Mommy will always be with us, Huanhuan.”

Ye Rong gently shook her daughter and lowered her head. She saw the crying child slowly stop crying. However, she still sobbed her little nose from time to time as if she had suffered a great grievance.

Ye Rong actually wanted to cry too.

She was useless as a mother. If she could not give her daughter a good life, it would be difficult for her to fill her stomach. Such a young child did not even have milk powder to eat. She even had to drink rice soup and batter, in this era, no one starved to death. No Child ate these things.

No matter how poor or bitter they were, they could not be poor or bitter.

And what use was she?

Just as her tears were about to fall, a small hand reached out and placed it on her face, causing her tears to uncontrollably fall a few more drops.

She saw that the child who was crying so loudly just a moment ago was now smiling. She opened her small mouth and smiled. There were clearly still tears in her eyes, but her smile was extremely lovable.

Ye Rong hugged her daughter tightly. At this moment, she really felt that she was willing to die.

After her daughter fell asleep again, Ye Rong returned to the kitchen. Her noodles had just been cooked because she did not have time to eat. Now, they were all together.

She did not dislike it. She brought out the noodles and sat in front of a table at the side. She looked at her daughter while eating the tasteless rice.

There was not even a bit of green vegetable leaves inside, but she was still eating happily. As long as she saw her daughter here, as long as her daughter was obedient, she was willing to do anything for her.

After eating, she picked up her daughter's milk powder bag. In the end, she sighed. The little girl's food quantity was quite good, and the bag of milk powder was bottomless again. Although she was already very frugal., she mixed it with batter and rice soup, but there was really no other way. The child's staple food could only be milk powder. The baby was still too young, and when she grew up., as long as she could eat more non-staple foods, then the milk powder would be eaten less.

But no matter how difficult and difficult it was now, she still had to let her daughter eat until she was full. She couldn't let her daughter starve. She was still a child who didn't know anything. Even if she was a mother who was starving, she couldn't let her daughter suffer.

She was a mother. Even if it cost her life, even if she had to sell her blood, she couldn't let her daughter starve again. If she ate too much rice and noodle soup, the child would still be hungry. Such a young child still had to have milk powder.

She gently stroked her daughter's tender little face again. Then, she opened the cabinet at the side and took out a small box. Then, she poured out all the money inside.

She really did not have much money. Counting the change, it was probably less than a thousand yuan. She did not know if this money was enough. She needed to buy rice, pay for water and electricity, she didn't know how many bags of milk powder she could buy.

She didn't have much money. Of course, she couldn't buy imported milk powder for her daughter. However, she didn't buy the cheapest milk powder for her. If she ate cheap milk powder, her resistance wouldn't be good. It might also affect the child's development, therefore, she clenched her teeth and bought her daughter more than enough milk powder to drink.

Even so, it was still very economical. However, she didn't have much money on hand now. She wanted to find something to do, but she couldn't do much. In the past, she only did odd jobs, she could still barely earn some income. Later on, the Yan family's parents left her some money and this old house. In the end, the mother and son were able to survive.

They still had a long way to go in the future.

Their future livelihood had become a problem.

Right, she still had this. She opened the cabinet and pulled out a small bag. Then, she poured out a small velvet box. Inside the box was a piece of jade, this was something she had worn around her neck since she was young. It was also a good piece of jade. If she sold it, how much would it fetch?

Chapter 2359: wait for me

She clenched the jade in her hand tightly and finally put the jade back into the box. No matter what, she really didn't want to sell this jade. She wanted to keep it for her daughter. She was a useless mother, she couldn't leave anything for her daughter. There was only this jade and another identity. In the future, this jade might be able to save her daughter's life. When she was at the end of her rope, this might be her last way out.

She put the jade away again and stuffed it into the corner of the cabinet.

It did not matter. She encouraged herself. How she lived in the past, what she could do now. She believed that she would definitely be able to raise her daughter.

Let's go, Huanhuan. Mommy will take you out to buy milk powder.

Ye Rong carried her daughter and placed her in the baby carriage. The baby carriage was sent by a kind neighbor. It was used by their child when he was young. Ye Rong did not dare to spend the money that she had saved. She wanted to save all this money to buy milk powder for her daughter.

The baby carriage that the neighbor had sent was just right. It also solved her urgent problem. She had carefully washed the baby carriage many times before letting her daughter use it.

"Come, let's take the carriage."

Ye Rong picked up Xiao Yan Huan and carefully placed her in the baby carriage. Although the design of the carriage was very old, it was spotless.

Even now, Yan Huan's mind was a little blank. However, she still did not know what was going on. She was clearly an old woman who was about to die, but she just closed her eyes.., in the end, when she opened her eyes again, she was actually reborn. She was reborn when she was an infant. In this day and age, was it really so easy to be reborn?

She didn't know which immortal did it. Was it because she had done too many good deeds in her past life and saved many people? That was why she was reborn again.

In her previous life, her greatest regret and most guilt was her mother.

She didn't care how good her life was. She had lived a wealthy life and had many children and grandchildren. However, her mother had worked hard all her life because of her. When she was alive, she didn't have a good life. After she died, she still had to be implicated by her daughter, ye Jianguo crushed her bones and scattered her ashes. That was her mother's biological father.

Her mother had suffered all her life and all her sins were because of her daughter.

However, she would not hate her own birth because of this. Lu Yi had said that her life was her mother's suffering, but it was also her mother's greatest joy and happiness in her life.

"What's Wrong?" Ye Rong squatted down in front of her daughter and realized that she did not know what was wrong with this little girl. In the past, she was still a little silly and foolish, but now, it was as if she had suddenly grown up, her facial features and expressions also became rich. She could even frown and sigh.

How would such a young child know about this? Could it be that she didn't give birth to a stupid baby, but to a mature Little Huanhuan?

"You..."Ye Rong pinched her daughter's little face and then put the little hat on her head. "Mommy will take you out to buy milk powder. You must be obedient."

Yan Huan originally wanted to nod her head in agreement, but in the end, she still felt that she should be a little silly. Although she knew everything, she still did not forget her two lifetimes, right now, she was trapped in such a small body that could not be any smaller. She was still young, and she still needed to grow up. She still needed her mother.

And she wouldn't let her mother work hard for too long. She would definitely grow up well in this life. She also wanted her mother to live a good life. She didn't want her mother to die from overwork when she was young.

She would let her mother live a long life. She would also let her mother find her uncle and her father. Even though ye Jianguo was a person who had lived his entire life, what he left in her heart.., was unforgivable persecution time and time again. Even after he confessed, he used his life to repent, he used his life to repent, but in the end, she could not forget those hurt days.., those calculated days.

However, she had to admit it.

He loved his mother. No matter how many mistakes he made, they were not as important as his own daughter.

No matter how many mistakes he made in the past, they were not as important as his daughter's present.

However, Ye Rong's personality was too stubborn. Even when she died, she did not reveal it to Yan Huan. She did not let Yan Huan know what kind of background Yan Huan had. She did not let Yan Huan know that she actually had a grandfather, she had an uncle.

It was to the extent that Yan Huan struggled with difficulty for his entire life. In the end, he still had to die an unnatural death.

As a result, she had to live another life, but in the end, she was beaten half to death by Sun Yuhan.

She was now sitting on her baby carriage and was only playing with the little blanket on her body. She did not mention anything else, and she did not have the right to do so because she was still young, and she could not even speak.

In this life, she would find Lu Yi early.

She wanted to grow up with Lu Yi, and she would let him accompany her until she grew up, and then she would accompany him until she died.

She did not know if Lu Yi still knew her.

Wait for me..

Yes, she would wait for him. She would definitely find her, and he would definitely wait for him.

Of course, the premise now was that she had to grow up quickly. She did not want to use her baby body to see Lu Yi. That would be silly.

She was only six months old and was still a baby. She needed someone to take care of everything she ate, drank, and defecated. Because she was her mother, she didn't feel uncomfortable. That was because she had treated her like this when Xun Xun was young.

Yan Huan raised her little head forcefully and turned around to look at her mother.

They all said that Xun Xun looked like her grandmother, and she had always thought so too. That was because Xun Xun had a dimple like her grandmother. However, the mother in her memory was already old at that time, and she was overly tired, moreover, the pressure of life had already caused her to age by too much. At that time, she was only in her thirties, but she was like an old man in his forties and fifties. Her life was also nearing the end of her life, she could no longer find a trace of life force.

And at that time, perhaps to Ye Rong, death was a kind of relief.

She could finally leave, and she had really lived enough. However, she still could not rest assured that her daughter was only an adult. Her pitiful Huanhuan had no father to begin with, and very soon, she would also no longer have a mother.

What was deeply embedded in Yan Huan's memory was nothing else. It was the time when her mother was as thin as a stick before she died. It was not the time when she was only in her twenties. It was the time of spring.

Regardless of how old her clothes were or whether she had used any makeup, she was still a beautiful young woman. If she did not have children, there would be many people chasing after her no matter where she was?

Chapter 2360: raising a family is difficult

It was only at this moment that Yan Huan truly knew that her mother was so young and so beautiful. It was no wonder. If her mother wasn't beautiful, how could she have given birth, she was so beautiful.

And she secretly shook her little hand.

In this lifetime, she would definitely let her mother live well, get what she wanted, and give up those things that she shouldn't have to endure.

"What's Wrong?"

Ye Rong had been paying attention to her daughter's little expression.

She walked over, squatted in front of her daughter, and then tidied up the little hat on her head.

"What did you think of?" Ye Rong lovingly touched her daughter's pink little face. She saw that this little girl seemed to have become more and more obedient recently. Of course, she did not know if it was because she had grown up.., recently, her eyes had been extremely bright. Moreover, she seemed to be able to talk to her mother. When she wanted to go to the bathroom, she would pull on the blanket. When she was hungry, she would pull on her mother's sleeve. Now, she even washed fewer diapers.

Her Little Huanhuan had finally grown up.

Yan Huan clearly had a lot to tell her mother, but in the end, she could only pretend to be cute and obedient. She was afraid that she would scare Ye Rong and treat her as a little monster. What should she do?

So, she still had a confused look on her face. She pulled her mother's finger and chewed on it.

Her mother's body would have a fragrant smell of milk. She knew that this was her own body. Because she was still a little baby, her body would have a nice smell of milk. Moreover, her mother loved to be clean, she often bathed. Although she did not have good-looking clothes, could not afford to live in a big house, and did not have a comfortable rocking bed, her mother compensated all of this with the love she gave her.

Ye Rong had never been afraid of trouble, so she tidied up her daughter every day. In addition, her daughter was now very fond of cleanliness. When she took a bath, she was very obedient. She still liked to play with the water very much, it was not like in the past, when she put it in the water, she would start crying. Giving her a bath was no different from running a marathon. Usually, when her daughter finished bathing, as a mother, she would also become drenched.

"Let's go." Ye Rong stood up again and brought Yan Huan to a shopping mall that she often went to to buy milk powder for her daughter.

Her hand had never left the pram. Now, her daughter was everything to her. If her daughter was lost or something happened to her, then she definitely did not want to live anymore.

Ye Rong picked up the milk powder for her daughter, but she always paid attention to the pram that was placed at the side and the baby girl in the pram. The salesperson in the milk powder shop took the initiative to take care of Yan Huan.

"This child is really beautiful."

The staff couldn't help but praise him. He sold milk powder every day, so he had the most contact with children, but he had never seen such a cute child. His eyes were black and white, his little mouth was pink and tender, his little nose was pointed and tender, and he had a beautiful little chin. He was obviously a little beauty. When he grew up in the future, he would definitely be a great beauty.

Of course, no one knew that this child would really grow up to be a great beauty in the future. She would be the fifth most beautiful woman in Asia, and she would be so beautiful until she was old.

Yan Huan also played with the two shop assistants for no reason. Anyway, when others teased her, she would laugh. She tried her best to act cute so that her mother could buy milk powder for her without worry.

"Huanhuan, they gave us a fifty yuan discount today."

Ye Rong pushed Yan Huan away. In fact, she herself was also inexplicable. How did she suddenly give them so much discount? She had run all over the vicinity of this shop to buy milk powder, only then did she find this shop that sold milk powder. This was the cheapest place. She could save more than a hundred yuan at one go. With this hundred yuan, she could buy two more packets of milk powder for her daughter.

The price was already good enough in the past, but who would have thought that they would actually give her an extra fifty yuan.

Yan Huan rubbed her chubby little face with her little hand.

This fifty yuan was really hard to earn. She was about to laugh until her little face turned stiff, and she was about to laugh until she turned into a fool.

Thinking about the days when she would be sitting on billions of assets, not to mention fifty, even fifty million, she never said that she would blink her eyes. But who would have thought that one day, she would actually want to sell this little face of hers., just to save her mother fifty yuan.

And Ye Rong was really happy. Fifty Yuan could really buy a lot of things.

Ye Rong put the milk powder behind her daughter's baby carriage. Only then did she push her to continue walking, and also to find a place to work. But she looked for many houses and walked many places., others were unwilling to take her because she wanted to take care of the child. It was difficult for a normal person to find a job, let alone a woman like her who had a burden on her shoulders.

Actually, based on Ye Rong's situation, she really should have given Yan Huan away. After all, she was not married yet and she was still so young. If she really wanted to keep Yan Huan by her side, she would have taken care of a daughter, it was impossible for her to marry well again. There were not many men in this world who could completely accept another person's daughter. What Ye Rong was most afraid of was that some men would appear to be happy with her on the surface, but in the dark., she did not know how they would torture her daughter, so her daughter would definitely not be taken care of by others. She would take care of her own daughter, but of course, she also did not trust anyone.

She brought Yan Huan back to the house to change her diapers and feed her milk. Little Yan Huan was really easy to take care of now. After tidying her up and eating her fill, she could play by herself.

Ye Rong took a basket from the side and was doing handicrafts. She would pay fifty cents for each piece she made. If it was in the past, when Yan Huan was too noisy, she would not be able to make ten pieces a day. It would be a lot more if she could earn five dollars, but now, Yan Huan was obedient. When she was making handicrafts, Yan Huan would play with his little hands and feet alone, giving ye Rong time to do other things.

Although making handicrafts was not a good thing and there was no way to earn more money, it was still something that ye Rong could do now. Ye Rong's handicrafts were very good. Grandma ye used to be a lady from a wealthy family. During the Qing dynasty., she might still be a member of the imperial family. If the Qing dynasty had not been destroyed, Ye Rong would not know what kind of life she would have had. Grandma Ye had also raised ye Rong according to the standards of a lady from a wealthy family.

Since she was young, she had studied embroidery, piano, and calligraphy. If she had not met a scumbag named Su Qingdong, Ye Rong's life would not have ended up like this. She would have become a real lady from a wealthy family, even if she was a socialite in the future, she would marry a good man, just like the Lu family. They lived the life of a noble lady for a lifetime. They did not have to worry about food and drink, just like Ye Shuyun.
