

Chapter 2421: Love To Eat Fish

Ye Rong did not know whether to laugh or cry at the small yellow croaker in the lunch box. From the looks of it, there were more than a dozen of them. Just like that, there were still people who continued to give them. However, Ye Rong did not want any more. If she continued to give them like this., even if there were one more of them, they would not be able to finish them.

“Huanhuan, why do you want so many small yellow croakers?”

Ye Rong placed the lunchbox on the table, then picked Yan Huan up and told her to sit properly. Her daughter indeed had a lot of little thoughts. Why did she want so many small yellow croakers?

“Give the fish to Mommy.”

Yan Huan scooped up a spoonful of rice with a spoon and stuffed it into her small mouth.

“Mm, give the fish to Mommy.” Her mother loved to eat fish. She did not have the ability to make her mother eat more fish in her previous life. In this life, she would definitely make her mother eat more fish. Now that she was only four years old, she did not have much ability either, therefore, she could only let her mother eat the small yellow croaker first.

“You Child.” Ye Rong stretched out her hand and gently rubbed her daughter’s small head.

Then, she picked up a small fish and placed it in her bowl. While eating these fish, her heart was filled with a feeling that she had never been touched before. In fact, she was so touched that tears began to well up in her eyes.

She had always completed Yan Huan’s scenes very well. She had long memorized the script thoroughly. She also remembered her lines very clearly.

Moreover, everyone thought that she had acted casually in every scene. After all, she was too young. However, only Yan Huan knew that every night when she slept, she had done her homework, what she was going to shoot the next day, how she was going to shoot it, and what kind of position she was going to use. She could not steal Liangchen’s scene, but she could also make herself appear obscure. Therefore, she had to do her best in every scene.

And in the shot, she wasn’t Yan Huan, but Liangchen’s younger sister.

Of course, Yan Huan had liked Liangchen for two lifetimes.

And the scenes between her and Liangchen had taken advantage of Liangchen. After all, Liangchen was different from her. Liangchen was real, but her acting skills had been honed for three lifetimes.

Liangchen was only in her teens, but her acting skills were already top-notch.

Although she was not as proficient as she was in her days, she still had more than ten years to get used to it. She grew up slowly, and this kind of success was still too monstrous for Yan Huan.

It was too monstrous.

She was a genius in acting, but Liangchen was a monster.

So it wasn't that she couldn't admit it. If it weren't for her strange experience, she might not have been able to compete with Liangchen for the rest of her life.

Yan Huan was the most popular actress in the crew. Whether it was the actors or the staff, they all liked her very much. After all, she was a child, and the youngest child here, she was also a child that could be held in one's arms.

Because she was likable, even Ye Rong had a very good time here. Everyone had always been very concerned about the mother and daughter. They knew that it was not easy for Ye Rong to take care of her daughter alone, so everything was fine, they would all go over to help. Just like the hot water used by the mother and daughter, there were people fighting to get it ready every day. Ye Rong had not gotten hot water by herself for a long time, and in their small cabinets.., there were a lot of snacks and toys. They were all given to Yan Huan by the people in the production team.

Just by looking at the room full of things, one could tell just how popular Yan Huan was in the production team.

From the director to the producer, and then to every staff member, they all wished they could carry her to their own homes every day.

Ye Rong picked up a teddy bear from the table, patted the teddy bear, and then put it aside. She walked out, and Yan Huan was still filming there. Recently, she had a lot of scenes, but no matter how many.., yan Huan could still act well, and almost all of them went smoothly. Even the director rarely gave her bad takes, and he rarely let her reshoot.

Ye Rong also did not know what kind of daughter she had given birth to. Why was it that other people's children were still breast-feeding and rolling around looking for their mothers, but her Huanhuan was already a child star, moreover, this movie was shot one after another. Even her mother was still unable to react.

And just as she was unable to react again, Yan Huan had already shot a movie and a television drama.

"Alright, cut, cut."

The director shouted and also let out a sigh of relief.

This was really good. The children's scenes were finished, and now it was the adults'turn. Although the two children had performed very well, they could not help but feel worried and afraid along the way. What if the child dropped the ball in the middle?

As long as the child's scenes were finished, he could finally heave a sigh of relief.

It was just that he would not be able to see Little Huanhuan in the future.

Ye Kong had already packed his luggage in his room. Now that the scenes were finished, they were going home. They had already stayed in the production team for almost three months. Yan Huan still had to go to kindergarten when he returned.

Of course, during these three months, she had not relaxed her daughter's studies. Although this little girl was filming every day, her studies had never fallen behind.

She still had to learn how to write and read every day. However, Yan Huan was very fast at Reading and had a good memory. She had only learned it yesterday and remembered it clearly the next day. Otherwise., she really did not dare to let her film like this. If she continued filming, it would delay her studies.

That's right, what she was worried about now was these toys and snacks. How were they going to move these back home.

Fortunately, the drama family staff had said that she did not have to worry about these things. In a few days, they would specially send them back home. If she did not want to bring any luggage, she could also put them inside, they would send all of them over together.

Ye Rong only brought a few of their own luggage before she held Yan Huan's hand and prepared to go home.

Just as she was about to leave, all of them were teary-eyed. Hugging her daughter, they almost burst into tears.

Such a cute child. She was small, good-looking, obedient, and obedient. Her small mouth was also very sweet. No one could stop her charm. Now that she was about to leave, everyone began to be reluctant to part with her.

Ye Rong took her daughter back on the plane. The film crew had given her the tickets. They did not need to spend any money to go home. Otherwise, Ye Rong might have taken the train.

Because the plane tickets were too expensive.

Although they were already making a lot of money, Ye Rong was still afraid of being poor. She was also afraid. Now, she spent money carefully and did not dare to spend any more money.

Chapter 2422: one more home

Liangchen had left a few days earlier than Yan Huan. She still had to go back to take her exams. Yan Huan propped his little hand on his small face. She thought that Liangchen must be a straight-a student. After filming, she could still go for her exams, she just didn't know how many marks she would get?

Of course, the current Liangchen was the future her.

She might also have to go for her exams after filming. And she had used her experience of living for three lifetimes to guarantee that she would definitely not fail the exams. These three lifetimes were not wasted.

When the plane arrived in Hai City, Ye Rong could not help but look into the distance. She was a little lost in thought and also a little sad. However, when she lowered her head and looked at her daughter, she smiled.

“Huanhuan, let’s go home.”

“Okay.” Yan Huan held ye Rong’s finger tightly.

In fact, she knew that her mother had always wanted to go home. She wanted to go home. She had always been homesick. No one did not miss home. No one did not miss their parents. No one did not miss their loved ones. It was just that she could not go home.

Yan Huan held ye Rong’s hand tightly. She also turned her head to look in a certain direction. She had never liked ye Jianguo. No matter how he had walked his own path in the end, the harm he had left behind., was always there.

She couldn’t forgive him.

However, she would still help her mother go home. They would definitely go home, but not now.

She would not become a stain on her mother’s life. She would become her mother’s pride, and she would not let anyone look down on her mother, much less let others call her a bastard.

They got into the car, and the car would take more than five hours to drive back to their small home. Five hours, and these five hours, to them., it was not a short journey, but it was not counted as Yan Huan. Yan Huan usually arrived after a nap. Of course, this was how Yan Huan felt when he got into the car.

She was still too young.

When Ye Rong returned home, she took some local specialties that she had bought over there and went to the neighbor’s place.

“How can I do this?” The female neighbor said, but her hands took those things over.

“These are all small things, not worth much,” ye Rong said with a smile. “I even have to trouble you to watch our door for so long.” When Ye Rong came back, she found that the stairs in the house were all cleaned, she knew that it was the neighbor who helped her clean. Although she had been away from home for more than three months, the door was always clean, without a speck of dust.

These were all cleaned by her neighbor.

“Look at what you said.” The female neighbor also covered her mouth and laughed. “We are all neighbors. Didn’t they say that distant relatives are not as good as close neighbors? They just help you clean up the aisle. It’s no big deal.”

“Oh Right.” What did she think of again?

“Your family has a very strange relative. He has been here many times.”

“A very strange relative?” Ye Rong frowned slightly. How could there be a relative? She did not have any relatives. She used her identity as Yan Nuo and did not have any relatives to begin with.

“Yes, a woman.” The female neighbor pulled ye Rong and said softly, “I think you have to be careful. I know that woman is not a good person with just a glance. Although she is smiling, don’t think that I can’t see that it’s a fake smile?”

"I think she has a grudge against you. Last month, she came over every day to knock on your door, as if she wanted to eat your flesh and drink your blood. Tell me, how much does she hate you?"

Ye Rong's face darkened. Actually, she had already thought of who it was?

Other than Yu Qing, she could not think of any other woman who had such a deep grudge against her. Why? Did she really think that she had a grudge against her husband? However, she was very sorry. In Yu Qing's eyes, Zhang Shujie might be a treasure.., he was everything, but he was nothing to her, Ye Rong.

She would not find a stepfather for her daughter, and she did not want a man either.

She gently pushed open a door and saw a small bed inside. On the small bed, she had already obediently slept on her own. The small child was still so small, as if it had just been born.

She was just like a kitten. Now that she had grown up a little, why did she still feel so small.

She gently walked over and sat down. She placed her hand on her daughter's small forehead.

Her daughter had grown up and now wanted her own small room. The little girl knew that she had privacy.

She grew up faster than other children. In terms of intelligence, perhaps it was because she was a single mother, so her daughter also grew up much faster than other children.

She stood up again, came out, and gently closed the door.

She walked to the sofa in the living room, took her own small basket, and prepared to do handicrafts. Oh right, she had done a lot of handicrafts in the past few months. When she had time, she would sell them.

In fact, she still wanted to find a job that was not too busy to do. In the end, it was much better than sitting at home all the time. Although, the family really did not lack money now.

Her family now had 700,000 yuan. When she gave birth to Yan Huan, she only had a few thousand yuan in savings. This 700,000 yuan was simply an astronomical figure.

"Mom..."Yan Huan Tiptoed and pulled ye Rong's hand. Ye Rong had been doing handicrafts for several days, but she still hadn't found a job that she could do.

Now that Yan Huan was too young, it was impossible for her to work for too long. Moreover, Huanhuan was different from other children. She had a lot of advertisements to shoot, and she did not want to be like the Zhang family, she spent every day thinking about how to apply for leave, and every time she applied for leave, it was torture to her. Therefore, she had to obediently do her handicrafts now.

"What's Wrong?"Ye Rong put down her hands, then picked her daughter up and carried her to the sofa at the side.

"Are You Hungry?"She touched her daughter's small belly. It was a little flat. It was time to eat.

Yan Huan shook his head. "Mom, can we buy another home?"

Yan Huan tugged at Ye Rong's sleeve with all his strength. Since the house prices had not risen yet, she should stock up more. In the future, even if she rented it out, it would still be fine. At the very least, there would be some rent for a month, her mother would not have to think about how to earn money every day.

Money, she would earn it. Although she was earning less now, she would definitely earn a lot of money in the future.

Ye Rong stared into her daughter's big eyes. "Huanhuan, why do you want to buy a house?" Actually, Ye Rong understood what her daughter meant. The house that Yan Huan was talking about was the house.

When the uncle of the production crew said that, Yan Huan raised his little chin and said in a serious tone.

"Uncle said that in the future, the number of houses will increase tremendously. When mom buys a house, we will have a second house."

Chapter 2423: was about to receive an award

"But mother, why do we have a second family?"

Yan Huan fiddled with her little finger. She just didn't understand, and her face was still filled with confusion.

"Is it possible for a family to give birth to a baby and then give birth to a small family?"

Ye Rong couldn't help but burst out laughing when she heard her daughter's childish words.

However, this was something that could be done. She was a member of the Ye family. Although she had always been a child who was protected by her parents and older brother, the Ye family had started from business. The business of the Ye family was very broad, of course, as a member of the Ye family, although she was not smart, she could still smell the trend of some businesses after so many years of exposure.

Yes, a house could actually be bought again.

She currently had 700,000 yuan in her hand, which was also the mortgage for the house they were currently living in. She had already paid off all of it, so she could completely buy another house.

She would just buy one house and keep it for her family's Huanhuan. Right, wasn't there no high school here? If she bought a place with a high school, then she could accompany her daughter to high school.

Once ye Rong had this idea, she could smell a different scent. She was actually not stupid. Of course, she also had some investment ideas. However, in the past, she did not have money, so she did not have any relatives. There was also a young daughter. All of her things were placed on her daughter's milk powder. Of course, she did not have time to think about other things.

Now that she finally had some spare money in her hands, it was naturally easy for her to figure it out. Putting Money in the bank was the biggest devaluation. Therefore, she was now thinking of buying a house for her daughter near a high school, although Yan Huan was still young, only four years old, there were still more than ten years before she entered high school. However, she had first made preparations. However, she had lived in a house for more than ten years. As long as she took good care of it, when the time came to live.., it was still very new.

And Ye Rong was indeed a person who dared to say and do things. The next day, after she sent Yan Huan to kindergarten, she bought a house in the area of a few high schools. Of course, this house was close to every high school, no matter which high school Yan Huan was going to attend in the future, this was a pretty good location.

And Yan Huanhui naturally did not know that her mother actually bought a house for her to live in in high school. Moreover, he also did not know if ye Rong was really right or if she was really lucky.., the apartment that she had bought happened to be next door to the new high school. She did not even need to cross the street. Of course, after Yan Huanhui found out about this, he was the happiest. In the future, she would not have to wake up early to go to school, she would also be able to stop living at school and eat the food that was not delicious there. She had never been able to go to a good university in her two lives. At that time, she would be mocked by Fang Zhu, saying that she was a big-breasted and brainless woman, and in this life, no matter what, she had to go to university. No matter what, she had to fulfill her dream of going to university. She would absolutely not let others insult her for not going to university, saying that she was uneducated, they would say that she was brainless and illiterate with big breasts.

Because her family had another house, Ye Rong did not feel that she had much leisure. Every morning, she would send her daughter to kindergarten, and she would go to the new house. She was a woman.., right now, she was using herself more than a man. The renovation of the new house was also done by herself. Other than saving money, the most important thing was the quality. She had to personally watch others work on it, after all, this house could last for decades. If their financial conditions allowed it, then she would not be willing to sell the House no matter what.

Besides being busy inside, she also had to take care of Yan Huan after school. She also had to bring Yan Huan to the children's clothing store on the weekend. That store would produce several new clothes every week, therefore, every week, Ye Rong and Yan Huan would receive a thousand Yuan of income. In this month, it would be close to five thousand yuan. In addition, Yan Huan would receive new advertisements to shoot, therefore, sometimes their family's monthly income could shock other people.

One day, Ye Rong also received a call from director Liu. Director Liu was so excited that he could not even touch the north and south of the phone.

"Ye Rong, our movie is about to win an award. Although it's a nomination now, it's not far from the truth. Remember to bring Little Huanhuan here because Little Huanhuan is also nominated for the Best Newcomer Award. This time, she is the youngest child in this award."

Ye Rong gripped the phone in her hand tightly. She breathed in and out gently as she calmed her thoughts. She was about to win an award. Her daughter was about to win an award, but that was also true. It was possible, but it was just a possibility, it was not a certainty.

However, it did not matter whether it was possible or not. After all, Yan Huan was still young. She still had plenty of time and plenty of opportunities.

Of course, Ye Rong couldn't possibly not let her daughter go. This was an honor that her daughter had earned herself, so she should go.

She made some general arrangements for the situation at home and then brought her daughter out. However, she didn't show herself. After all, she was still afraid that someone would recognize her.

Although Ye Kong had never had much interaction with the entertainment industry, she was still worried. Therefore, after she brought her daughter over, director Liu personally took care of her, while she hid not far away, just like that, she looked at her daughter.

This time, there were quite a number of famous directors. Some of them were veteran actors, while some were new and young actors. Of course, all of them were adult men and women of various colors. Yan Huan, who was so young, was indeed the only one.

Of course, there were also many people who were paying attention to Yan Huan. Of course, it was impossible to ignore that little child. Back then, when they said that the little actor in the movie was a three-year-old child, everyone did not really believe it, what did a three-year-old child know? They could not even speak properly. They could not even walk far. How could they still film? This must be a fake age., however, only when they truly met Yan Huan did they know that he was definitely not bragging. Even though he was four years old now, he was still a little kid. In half a year's time, Yan Huan did not grow taller., nor did he gain weight.

Almost a year had passed. This kid was around four years old now. Because he was too young, his small arms and legs were all chubby. He was sitting on a chair little by little, however, his pair of small feet were still dangling in the air from time to time.

The awards were announced one after another. The mythical movie that they had shot had really become the biggest winner of this film festival. They had won the Best Director Award, Best Actress Award, Best Actor Award., best Lighting, and Best Story

Chapter 2424: The Foolish Son

This was simply winning a grand slam. Of course, this was understandable. After all, this movie had received the highest box office earnings in the history of the domestic box office.

What was even more surprising was that this time, the best newcomer award was not given to anyone else, but the four-year-old Yan Huan.

When the host announced the winner, everyone below was stunned. This was something no one had expected. Yan Huan had indeed shouted well. She was just a little child, no matter if it was her eyes or her movements., or the feeling she gave others was very accurate. However, there was no one who could win the best newcomer award. If it was a little brat like her, what would the adults do? Moreover, she was a four-year-old newcomer., this was earlier than what Liangli had wanted at that time. Liangchen had only won a newcomer award when she was seven years old. It was not as big as this one, nor was it as valuable as this one.

And Yan Huan was only four years old now, a four-year-old little thing.

When Yan Huan went up to receive the award, a little pink ball felt a little smaller than the one on TV. Of course, the same thing as the one on TV was that she was still as beautiful and cute as ever.

And the host was about to squat down and talk to her. Of course, she could not afford to beat up such a big award.

Ye Rong stood behind her and covered her mouth. At this moment, her face was already covered in tears. Her daughter was really a great person.

Yan Huan hugged her big trophy. Her eyes were bright and her little red mouth was also smiling. And she had become the youngest newcomer award in the country to date.

It was originally liangchen. At that time, she was seven years old.

She was only four years old. It was her first movie and she had already won the award. It was likely that she would be even more amazing in the future.

At this moment, she did not know that a boy around seven or eight years old was sitting in the living room of a house. There was not even a hint of expression on his face, it was only when he saw the little girl hugging the trophy that was even taller than him that the corner of his mouth, which had never moved, finally lifted a little.

“Lu Yi...”ye Shuyun walked over and turned her son’s face away. However, when she saw her son’s expressionless face, she wanted to cry.

“Son, do you think you are really stupid or are you pretending to be stupid?”

She touched her son’s little head, “You are already in primary school, how can you still be so stupid? Look at Lu Qin, he is so talkative, but you can’t even speak a word. Why are you always slower than others?”

The boy was still staring at his mother. His eyes were so quiet that there seemed to be no ripples at all.

There seemed to be a gust of wind blowing from outside, raising the corner of the window. On the television, the little girl holding the large trophy was still smiling cutely and childishly.

“Mom, put it there.”Yan Huan picked up the tip of her little feet and pointed at the highest part of the cabinet. She was really too short now. Even if she stepped on a chair, she wouldn’t be able to carry the trophy up.

Moreover, the trophy was so heavy. How could she carry it? It would crush her to death.

Ye Rong picked up the trophy and placed it on the highest part of the cabinet. Then, she picked up her daughter, so that she could easily see the trophy that she had won this time.

“My Huanhuan is really amazing. She has won the award.”

Ye Rong used her chin to knock her daughter’s little head. Perhaps right now, Ye Rong still did not understand what it meant for Yan Huan to win the award. After all, she was not a member of this circle.

But Yan Huan knew.

This award was too valuable. With this award, she would be much more expensive in the future. Of course, her advertising fees would also double in the future. and very soon, someone would look for her to sign a contract. Although.., she did not want to sign any contract at all. After all, it would restrict her freedom. But she had already decided that if she wanted to develop in this industry since she was young, she would have to earn a lot of money for mother ye to spend.

No matter how many lifetimes she lived, it seemed that she only knew how to act. Other than acting, she didn't know how to do anything else. Therefore, other than acting, she really couldn't think of a second way to earn money.

She really wanted to win a lottery or something like that.

However, this kind of thing wasn't as practical as her acting.

Fortunately, she was young now. Even if she signed a contract, there would be a professional company to package it for her. To her, it was just a benefit.

Of course, the most important thing was that once she signed the contract, they would be paid. She also had to find a job for her mother in the company, so that her mother wouldn't have to worry about her every day.

Yes, it was a happy decision.

That night, she had a beautiful dream. She dreamed that she had grown up and gotten married. The person she married was Lu Yi, and her mother learned to stand there and smile at her.

She thought that in this life, her mother would definitely see her get married. She would definitely.

Yan Huan's expectations were pretty good. Some entertainment companies had indeed come looking for her to sign the contract, and they had even come looking for her. Of course, the conditions were also very good. For a child like her, they were very generous.

Ye Rong looked at the rules and regulations on the contract. She looked at them very seriously and very carefully, because she knew that as long as her pen was written down. What did this contract mean? Yi Ye was going to sell her daughter.

When the person who came to sign the contract saw Ye Rong's hesitation, he quickly explained.

"You can rest assured. Because Yan Huan is still young, our contract is very simple. It is impossible to require her to do too many things. We will provide a series of resources and endorsement opportunities. There will also be movies and television shoots. Of course, we will try our best to make time as tight as possible for the child. The films that we will accept will also be approved by you. After all, you are now her guardian. In other words, as long as you don't agree, we will not force you. Moreover, the contract can be unilaterally terminated. There is no need to pay any penalty."

Speaking up to this point, the staff member in charge of the contract wanted to cry. Was it easy for them? In order to sign a child star like Yan Huan, they had sacrificed so much. The main reason was that they wanted to be ahead of the others, they had even taken out the matter of unilaterally settling the contract. All they could count on was the conscience of Yan Huan and his daughter, as well as their feelings.

Why did he feel that the person they had signed was not an artiste, but their ancestor? They had to properly provide for him in the future. Otherwise, if he was not happy, this small boat would capsize just like that.

“Brother...”Yan Huan’s sudden addition caused the staff member’s heart to rise to his throat.

“What’s wrong, Little Yan Huan?”

Chapter 2425: the truth

He tried his best to smile, but he did not know whether he was more foolish than a fool, or the kind of foolish.

“Brother, can you help my mother find a job?”Yan Huan asked in his childish voice. This way, Huanhuan could see her mother every day.

“Yes, yes, absolutely,”the staff agreed without a second thought. “You can ask your mother to be your assistant. You’ll get paid every month, and you can see your mother every day.”

“Then will there be money to be paid?”

Yan Huan widened his eyes innocently. “Mother has to earn money to feed Huanhuan, and she has to buy meat for Huanhuan to eat.”

The staff was really ecstatic. Child, do you know how much it costs to take on a movie? Do you know how many rich families want you to act in advertisements? Do you know that there are still many big-name foreign brands, if you take on a film, it will be enough for us to eat for several years. Don’t talk about eating meat. Even if you want to eat my meat, I will cut off a piece and give it to you.

Of course, he did not dare to delay. He hurriedly called the company. When he came, the leader had already said that he must sign this child. No matter how many requests they made, no matter how excessive.., it was all for him to sign.

Now, he just wanted to find a job for his mother and ask for more pay. Although the child’s thinking was simple, it had to be said that this was also the truth. Of course, if she wanted to do this, the other side would definitely agree.

He hung up the phone. His baby face was very likable. Of course, it was because of his baby face. Otherwise, the company would not have sent her over. Wasn’t it because the baby face was small and well-behaved? It was also easy to bully.

“Ms. Yan,”he said to Ye Rong. Of course, Yan Huan was like a little invisible person at the side. Anyway, no matter what decision she made, as a child, she could not make the decision. Whether or not she could make it.., it all depended on the words of her mother.

“Our manager has agreed to let you be your daughter’s assistant. You will receive a base salary of three thousand a month and a commission. When there is a chance, you will follow. When there is no chance, you will follow too. The salary will be the same as before. What do you think?”

Ye Rong lowered her head and looked at Yan Huan.

Yan Huan stretched out his hand and grabbed her fingers tightly.

“Mother, this brother is smiling foolishly. Let’s help him. Otherwise, he might be beaten even more foolishly when he goes back.”

The baby-faced girl wanted to cry.

Child, you have told the truth.

If I really did not sign you, your brother will lose his job. In the future, I will have to go home and drink northwest wind. If I drink too much northwest wind, not only will I become stupid, but I will also drink myself to death.

Ye Rong hesitated again, but when she turned around, she saw that her baby face’s eyes were about to turn red. Why did it feel exactly like when her daughter was about to cry.

She could not help but rub her forehead. She did not know if it was because of this little doll’s pitiful appearance, or if it was because of something else, but she just signed the contract.

Then she sold herself and her daughter.

After signing the contract, she began to regret it. She studied the contract for the whole night, and the terms and conditions on the contract were indeed nothing to them. Moreover, it was beneficial to them, especially the last clause, which could unilaterally terminate the contract.

So, she thought that she should wait first. If it really didn’t work, then she would terminate the contract.

She put the contract in the drawer and locked it. Then, she went to check on her daughter. Seeing that she was sleeping well, she went back to her room to sleep.

Of course, after she signed the contract, she received news in a few days that she was going to report there.

The reason why she chose this company in the first place was probably because the company was not far from where they were. As long as she took a bus, she would be able to reach their home, although it was not in the center of Hai City, it was still Hai City. Hai City was her home. She was born here and grew up here. Even if she died in the future, she still wanted to die here.

And she would not leave this place. In fact, she just wanted to be closer to home.

She brought her daughter to the new company. When everyone saw Yan Huan’s small appearance, they were all very curious. In fact, even now, Ye Rong was still very nervous. After all, this was a new job, and she did not know anyone.

Fortunately, it was that baby-faced person who brought her along. Yan Huan also had a new manager. It was a little girl. The little girl’s name was Xiao Lu, and her name was pretty easy to remember. Because she was young, her smile was also pretty, that was why she brought Yan Huan along. Of course, there was also Yan Huan’s mother. Xiao Lu was naturally not stupid. If he wanted to get along well with Yan Huan, he would first have to befriend Yan Huan’s mother.

At such a young age, Yan Huan would not listen to others. She would only listen to her mother.

And right now, she did not have the time to let Ye Rongshi take on a new job. This was because they already had quite a number of advertisements that they wanted Yan Huan to take. There were also quite a number of photos that they wanted to take. Such a job., it felt like they would be busy until next year.

Xiao Lu originally thought that it would be quite difficult to take photos for a child as young as Yan Huan. However, when they were done, her jaw was so shocked that it almost fell off.

It was over just like that.

It was really over just like that.

It had not even been half an hour when Yan Huan had already finished taking the photos that they were about to take.

“Mommy, I want to eat cake.” Yan Huan held Ye Rong’s hand. After her work was done, she could go home. However, she only needed to take photos. In her previous life, she had taken all kinds of photos before. There was no need for the photographer to say anything, she herself would be able to put on a very standard action.

The photographer only needed to press the shutter button, and there was no need to take any more photos.

“Okay, Mommy will bring you to eat cake.” Ye Rong gently touched her daughter’s little face and was ready to bring her home.

Xiao Lu hurriedly took his bag, but she had to follow Yan Huan and her daughter every day. Wherever they went, she would go. This was the first day of work, and there would be more tomorrow. If she did not properly understand her own artiste, then how could she continue with her work? Even though Yan Huan was still a little girl of more than three years old.

She followed Yan Huan and her daughter around. After a few days, she could not be more familiar with them. Of course, although Yan Huan was young, her degree of cooperation was quite high, just don’t treat her as a four-year-old child.

Whether it was filming an advertisement or a movie, she would do very well.

Of course, if she was relaxed, Ye Rong would be relaxed. She actually did not need to go to the company for a day. She only needed to study Yan Huan’s schedule together with the small road. When it was the same weekend and Sunday, she would bring her daughter to go around to collect sceneries.

And having a celebrity daughter was like this, there was really no other way.

Chapter 2426: A Child with a mother is a treasure

Sometimes, if she received a cameo, Yan Huan would go over and shoot it. Fortunately, she was very young and had very good acting skills. Other people might need ten days to half a month to finish it, but she finished it in a few days, so it really did not affect her studies.

After three months of being busy like this, Ye Rong was also used to the life of the new company. And now, she was no longer the woman who only knew how to lower her head and do handicrafts in order to earn money for her daughter's milk powder.

She already had a certain level of business ability. Of course, she was also very familiar with the people in the new kilometer, and everyone was very polite to her. It was impossible not to be polite to the people, but in just three short months., the little guy had already earned quite a lot of money for the company.

Don't look at her as small, but she was really a little girl who sucked in money.

She wasn't even one meter tall, but her entire body was made of gold.

And if one were to ask which child star was the most popular, there was no doubt that Little Yan Huan, a four-year-old child, had already won a small newcomer award. Advertisements could be seen every day, the clothes, stationery, snacks, and other endorsements also had very good effects. Of course, everyone also liked to work with such lucky child stars

Yan Huan's fame began to grow day by day. Of course, the more advertisements she received, the more money she earned. In just three months, she had already earned millions for her mother.

Ye Rong turned on the television. She was looking forward to it very much. Of course, she had been waiting for this film for a long time. This was Yan Huan's first television project. At that time, when she had gone to the film studio with her daughter., it was still a little complicated. She did not know where the future lay?

After all, at that time, she had already been fired and did not have a job. Therefore, the complexity of her emotions was something that she would never understand.

She turned around and glanced at her daughter. Yan Huan was obediently doing his homework. This was also the reason why she was so relieved to let Yan Huan film. This was because Yan Huan had never left his studies behind, every time she received praise from her teacher, she was also the most obedient and intelligent child in the kindergarten.

The program on the television had already begun. It was the one Liang Chen and Yan Huan were filming.

Ye Rong had been in the entertainment company for a long time. Of course, she had some understanding of acting. She was no longer like before, where she did not know anything. She just looked at the camera and read the lines.

Actually, it was not like that. Acting was just like life. Not only did she have to remember, she also had to have her own understanding and emotions. Many people said that her Huanhuan's acting skills were very good.

In the past, she had not been able to understand it. But when she really came into contact with it, especially when she met other children, she knew just how good her daughter's acting skills were. She simply did not lose out to adults.

Liangchen was a child star. She had also watched Liangli's TV show before. Of course, she had watched it often and liked the way she filmed it. And now, her little Huanhuan was not inferior to Liangchen at all when she was together with her, and it was even because of her small.., she was even more likable.

And she was also on TV, but she could not find any hint of her little Huanhuan's personality. It was as if her daughter had become someone else's daughter, and also become another child.

Xiao Lu said that this was just acting. Some people were fast in acting, while others were slow in acting. Yan Huan, on the other hand, was extremely rare. Even adults could not do it in an instant, but a child.., was better than an adult.

It could be seen just how good Yan Huan's acting skills were.

And Ye Rong just stared at the television without turning her eyes away. After a while, she was already attracted to it.

On the television, the expressions of the two children seemed to have been etched into her heart. Her mood was also fluctuating along with the ups and downs of this television drama. She was excited and excited, and it was peaceful and peaceful.

Ye Rong could not bear to blink her eyes throughout the entire process. She only felt as if she had entered the plot, and the child on the television was no longer her own pleasure, it was just like a child born in the real era. Even the tone of her voice felt like it was during the Republic of China.

She suddenly turned her head and saw her daughter, still seriously doing her homework. This was clearly her daughter's, but was the one on the television still her daughter?

She herself was confused.

This movie was broadcasted twice a day. At this time, there were not many entertainment activities for everyone. Other than watching TV, there were also people listening to the radio. Therefore, the biggest entertainment activity for everyone now was.., it was to watch TV when they went home. What was the background of This TV? It was actually broadcasted during the prime time. From 8:30, there were many advertisements in the middle, and even though there were so many advertisements, there were still many people who were willing to stay in front of the TV just to watch these two episodes.

Of course, this film had touched countless people. Everyone watched it every day with tears in their eyes, especially when the younger one was crying. No matter what, it made people feel sad, even ye Rong finished watching it with red eyes.

She gently stroked her daughter's little head. The children on TV were all fatherless and motherless. That was why they were bullied and looked down upon.

"Mommy will definitely not let you be bullied like the children on TV. Although mommy doesn't have any ability, she will always love my little Huanhuan."

Yan Huan raised her head and looked at Ye Rong. She pretended to be silly and smiled at her mother.

Her mother was the best mother in the world. No matter how many lives had passed, she knew that in her mother's heart, she was the most important. She was more important than her mother herself.

And a child with a mother was a treasure.

It was another two-episode movie series.

"Lu Yi, bring me a roll of paper," Ye Shuyun said to her son, who was sitting at the side and doing his homework.

Lu Yi stood up and walked to the cabinet. He took a roll of paper from the cabinet. He was only eight or nine years old and was already very tall. His facial features had grown a little, but he still carried a lot of childishness, of course, for a child this age, his expression seemed to be a little less.

He placed the paper on the sofa and sat back at his desk. He began to write. His hand speed was very fast. With just one glance, he knew the answers to the elementary school questions, he only wrote the answers and did not even perform calculations.

Ye Shuyun tore a piece of paper and began to wipe her tears.

Chapter 2427: My Brother Hits Me

Lu Yi raised his face and looked at the little girl on the television. She was crying, and Ye Shuyun was also crying. However, she herself raised the corner of her lips slightly, as if she was smiling, as if she was smiling for no reason, it was as if she was smiling for no reason.

"Lu Jin, Lu Jin..."

Ye Shuyun suddenly burst into tears. She even gave Lu Jin, who had just entered the room, a big fright. He thought that something was wrong with her?

Lu Jin did not even change his shoes and ran over in a hurry.

The sweat on his head was dripping down.

"What's wrong? What's wrong? Are you not feeling well?"

Ye Shuyun covered her chest..

Lu Jin was so scared that his face turned pale.

What's wrong? Was her chest not feeling well? But it couldn't be. Ye Shuyun's body couldn't be any better. She used to be extremely valiant and even men couldn't beat her. After giving birth to a son, she restrained herself a little, but without seeing her, she could really turn into sister Lin.

"Lu Jin, my heart aches..."

Ye Shuyun pounded her chest. Her tears were so pitiful. She pointed at the television. The way she looked like she was about to die scared Lu Jin so much that his heart almost stopped beating.

“Tell me, why can’t I give birth to such a cute daughter who is sitting on the television? Why did I give birth to such a silly son? He can’t even smile. He only learned to speak when he was two years old, and he only learned to walk when he was three years old. Even now, he still hasn’t learned how to make an expression.”

“Tell me, what kind of sin have I committed?”

Ye Shuyun continued to pat her chest. She was in so much pain..

“I want a daughter. I don’t want a silly son.”

Lu Jin patted ye Shuyun’s shoulder.

“No matter how silly a son is, it’s still yours. This is our fate. Our family doesn’t have a daughter’s fate.”

Lu Yi silently looked at his parents who despised him. He stood up, picked up his homework, walked into the room, and gently closed the door.

Then he walked to the desk. There was a computer on it. It was still very thick and heavy, and its performance was not very good. However, such a computer was not something an ordinary family could have.

This was his ninth birthday present. He had only touched the computer this year.

He pressed the boot button and placed his finger on the keyboard. It was not a very long finger. At this moment, it was almost broken with a snap. His finger was very fast, and it had become a shadow after a few stops.

A burst of sound came from the door outside.

His finger stopped and pressed on the keyboard as well.

He turned around and saw a little boy with a runny nose standing at the door. He was skinny and small, and he was sniffing his nose from time to time.

“Come here.”

He hooked his finger at the little boy.

The boy sniffed his nose again and almost started crying. Then, he walked forward step by step as if he was stepping on a landmine.

“Brother...” as the boy approached, he grabbed Lu Yi’s sleeve and wiped his snot all over it.

Lu Yi stared at the boy who was almost a head shorter than him. He looked up at the ceiling, feeling a little hopeless.

“Brother, Jianghe hit me again... wah...”

The boy suddenly sat down on the ground, his legs kicking from time to time as tears and snot flowed down his face.

“He said I was a dwarf. If I don’t grow tall in the future, I can only be a Wu da Lang. Brother, I don’t want to be a Wu da Lang. I want to be Wu Song. I want to be Wu Song...”

Lu Yi turned around and looked at the computer screen again. He allowed the boy behind him to continue hugging his leg and crying.

“Brother, do you think I can grow taller?”

The boy tugged at the corner of Lu Yi’s shirt again and sniffed. The snot that was about to fall onto his shirt was sucked back in. But after a while, the snot flowed down again and the boy wiped it with the back of his hand, he thought it was toilet paper from somewhere.

Lu Yi’s fingers paused for a moment before he lowered his head and narrowed his eyes just like that. His small face was so cold that there was almost no warmth.

“Lei Qingyi, how many times have I warned you not to touch my clothes? is your skin loose again?”

“Wow, Auntie...”

The boy practically rolled and crawled as he ran out.

“My Brother hit me, he wants to hit me...”

Lu Yi closed his eyes as though he was enduring something. He turned around again and his fingers quickly typed on the keyboard. If anyone could see it, they would realize that the television screen was showing the stock chart.

And it seemed like this stock chart would change along with his fingers..

The television outside was still going on. There were only two episodes a day, and it was unmoving.

There were more than 20 episodes of the TV series, and almost every family watched this one every day. They were also waiting for this one. It was unknown if this was the secret to the success of this movie.

During this period, there were no other good films, which was why this one took up almost 70% of the viewership ratings. The actors on it were all popular, even if it was just a small peddler selling things, a rickshaw puller was also very popular, not to mention the lead actor. Of course, everyone clearly remembered that it was a four-year-old child.

The child’s expression and her small face were almost household names. Of course, she was also extremely popular.

Of course, this child had already become the most famous child star in the country. There was no one who did not know her. After this film was broadcasted, this child’s figure could be seen almost everywhere.

In the shopping mall, there were large advertisements, candy, small toys, all kinds of snacks, stationery, and almost everywhere. This child was so popular that it was a complete mess. Of course, there was also her name, she was called Yan Huan.

The little child, who was wearing a pink dress, was really too small. The little one was so small that one could pick her up with one hand.

She walked onto the stage and bowed to the audience. She looked good and her actions were cute. It made the audience scream.

The host placed a large trophy in front of Yan Huan.

“Little Huanhuan, you have won the award again. What do you have to say to everyone?”

Yan Huan opened his big black and white eyes. After thinking for a long time, he finally managed to squeeze out a sentence.

“Thank you, Big Brother...”

The host touched his face, and his eyes lit up. In this era, no one wanted to be called old. Calling Him ‘Big Brother’ made him almost lose track of who he was.

This was the award ceremony of this year’s International Television Festival.

It was only a difference of one year. The three-year-old Yan Huan had won last year’s youngest newcomer award.

Now, she had won an award for a television drama. How Old was this child? She was only four years old and was still a little girl. However, she had acted in many commercials and cameos in many scenes.

Chapter 2428: was really hard to earn

Of course, she was still in kindergarten.

“Mom, put it there.” Yan Huan pointed at the top of the cabinet. There were already many trophies in the cabinet. These trophies of all sizes were all obtained by Yan Huan over the past year.

Ye Rong opened the cabinet and also put the trophies inside. Then, she closed the cabinet.

She turned around and squatted in front of her daughter.

“Huanhuan, it’s time for the exam.”

“Okay.” Yan Huan nodded her little head vigorously. “Mom, Huanhuan will get first place in the exam.” She clenched her little fists. She could get first place in acting, and it would be the same for her exams.

She didn’t dare to say it in high school, but in the lessons before junior high school, she was absolutely sure that she could get first place in the school. She could use her two lifetimes to guarantee this.

“Then we have a deal.” Ye Rong pinched her daughter’s little face again. “If you don’t get first place, I won’t accept any scenes for you, and I won’t accept any advertisements for you.”

Yan Huan stretched out his little finger. “Mommy, let’s pinky swear.”

“Okay, Pinky swear.”

Ye Rong stretched out her finger and pinky swear with her daughter.

She allowed her daughter to act because she was still young. However, no matter how she acted, her studies could not be neglected. Moreover, they already had five to six million yuan in their hands.

And this money was rising almost every day. Even if they did nothing in this lifetime, it was still quite a lot of money. Even ye Rong herself was still unwilling to believe that the poor girl.., the mother and daughter who had relied on renting a house in the past actually had so much money in one go, and they even had two houses.

Therefore, money was no longer that important to her now. Instead, she was worried about her daughter's studies. In her heart, studies were much more important than acting.

However, in Yan Huan's heart, acting was the most important thing.

Because she wanted to earn money, she wanted to earn a lot of money. However, it was really hard to earn money now. In her previous life, she had sold a gemstone, and it had made her a billionaire. In an instant, she had obtained a few billion.

Other than that gemstone, her monthly income was enough to crush her to death, not to mention her sky-high endorsement fees and sky-high salary.

It was also possible that she had earned too much in the past, so why didn't she feel anything about what she was earning now?

However, she seemed to have forgotten how many years ago it was now. It was twenty years ago.

Compared to the price of goods twenty years ago, the difference was like the difference between heaven and earth. Therefore, her speed of earning money could already amaze many people.

What she needed to do now was to stop everything and properly go to kindergarten to take her exams.

She really didn't understand. She was only a four-year-old little thing. How could she be tormented by exams? She would have to suffer for more than ten years in the future.

When would she be able to grow up? When would she be able to not go to school? When would she be able to do as she pleased.

She knew that there would be a day like that. However, she had to wait for time. When she grew up, she had to wait for her to meet him.

Right, meet him..

Yan Huan moved a small stool and stepped on it. Then, she flipped through the calendar page by page. This was one of those very old calendars. It was a small notebook with dates and months on it. Each day, she would tear a page.

Yan Huan flipped through page by Page and then flipped to a page. She used a pen to draw a large circle on it. Then, she started counting from each page. There were still forty-three pages left.

In other words, there were still forty-three days left.

One month and thirteen days.

“Huanhuan, what are you doing there?”

As soon as Ye Rong came out, she saw Yan Huan standing on the small stool. Was she trying to fall down?

She hurriedly picked up her daughter and pinched her little face hard. Her face also turned serious.

“Huanhuan, how many times have I told you not to step on the high ground and the low ground? How could you forget? What if you fall down? If you flatten your little face, who are you going to cry to?”

“Mommy, I was wrong.”

Yan Huan obediently admitted her mistake. She was not the kind of child who would not admit her mistake and had a tough mouth. She was thick-skinned now and could yield.

As expected, Ye Rong no longer had any temper towards her.

“Alright.” She patted her daughter’s little face again. “Let’s eat first. Mommy will accompany you to do your homework in a while.”

“Alright,” Yan Huan agreed. He had also had enough of the child.

She turned her head and looked at the calendar again. There was still one month and thirteen days left.

In this lifetime, she didn’t want to have any regrets. Of course, she wouldn’t let her mother have any regrets either.

She ran over and sat on the chair, eating with her chopsticks. As for Yan Huan, he was too independent. Sometimes, Ye Rong really felt that she had given birth to a fake daughter. Why was it that other people’s daughters were so old.., now, they all had to be fed by adults. But for her family, she could eat by herself, wake up by herself, dress herself, and do her own homework. She could not feel it at all, she had raised a little daughter, and her daughter had suddenly turned eighteen years old.

And she had really found out the truth.

Yan Huan was not only eighteen years old, she was also sixty years old. No, she should be ninety-eight years old. She was already an undying old demon.

Yan Huan took out her homework from her school bag and wrote down her homework one stroke at a time. Ye Rong realized that she actually had no way of tutoring her daughter.

Yan Huan did not need help at all. Whether it was writing or math, she could calculate it herself.

How could Ye Rong not know that she had such a smart brain? Could it be that person? No, Ye Rong would never admit that her daughter was with that man.

Yan Huan looked very much like her, but she did not look like that man at all. She had such good grades now, so she must have followed her uncle.

That must be it.

Ye Rong told herself this as well as consoling herself.

Ye Rong took her report card from the teacher's hand. When she saw the first place on it, she finally let out a sigh of relief. Although she knew that she would definitely get her first time, she was still quite worried.

She was afraid that Ye Rong would not let her act again because of her grades. In this life, she was willing to go to university, but acting was a path that she had to take. She would not give up on either.

Although it was a little shameless for an old woman like her to compete with a bunch of kids for first place.

But it did not matter. If she wanted to be shameless, she did not want to live. With a childish little face, she acted cute every day.

"Mother, here." Yan Huan handed his report card to Ye Rong.

Ye Rong took the report card. In fact, the teachers in the kindergarten had already called her early in the morning. In the past, no one cared about them. But now, no matter where Yan Huan went, he was the center of attention,

Chapter 2429: Eat Cake

Of course, the number one teachers in the kindergarten were also very careful, afraid that they would offend someone. When the time came, Ye Rong would transfer her daughter to another kindergarten. There were so many students in their school now, all because of Yan Huan, and Yan Huan's fame was also growing day by day.

He was good-looking, good at acting, and good at reputation. Of course, the most important thing was that his studies were also good.

Whether it was handicraft, exams, or acting, she was always first place. She was practically someone else's child.

On the contrary, Ye Rong was afraid of her daughter's small head. She then held her daughter's small hand and said, "Let's go, we're going home."

Yan Huan smiled happily with her eyes curved. She had finally passed the test. Her mother did not say anything, which meant that she was very satisfied. If she was satisfied, she could continue filming and continue taking advertisements.

Actually, she was really quite busy during the day.

However, she believed that as an adult, she would not be able to do these things. It did not matter if she worked a little harder, as long as she did not make her mother work hard.

However, history had changed. Actually, in her previous life, the current ye Rong had already shown signs of aging. She was only in her twenties, but because of excessive work, there was also too much mental pressure, she was young, but she had aged ahead of time. Twenty years old was thirty years old. Even the corners of her eyes had many wrinkles. Unlike now, she was still in her twenties because she was in a good mood, therefore, her current mental state was also good. In fact, Yan Huan felt that ye

Rong should be the same as her. Even if she could not be like her previous life, when she reached sixty years old, she could still be said to have maintained the appearance of a young girl. However, Ye Rong should be around forty years old, just like now. There should not be too much of a change.

And Ye Rong's aging was actually because of life.

It was because she did not have money.

It was also because of her daughter.

And now, she did not need to worry about anything else. She believed that she would definitely continue to be young and continue to live.

She would accompany her daughter for a very, very long time.

Page after page of the calendar was torn off. Yan Huan remembered everything clearly. Every day, when Ye Rong woke up early in the morning, she would tear off a page of the calendar. If she did not tear it off., yan Huan, the little one, would move a small stool.

For the sake of this daughter who was as stubborn as a little donkey, Ye Rong had no choice but to tear it off early in the morning. She did not want the little thing to step on the lower ones. What if she really fell down by herself, this pretty little face would also be gone.

Yan Huan ran out of the room. The first thing she had to do was to look at the calendar. She remembered the time very clearly. Moreover, she had to remember every day. She even wrote down the date on., she had to flip through the books every day, on the stationery box, and even on her little hand bowl. She endured the pain and wrote down this number, afraid that she would forget it.

This time, she would not let herself have any regrets. Her greatest regret was not anything else, but her mother.

On the calendar, there was a black circle that she had drawn. In her previous life, it was this black circle that trapped ye Rong's line. Perhaps ye Rong had passed away early. Other than the day-to-day heavy work., it was the indescribable wound that was hidden in the bottom of her heart.

Actually, Ye Rong might have already lost all hope in life, so she had passed away early. To her, it was a relief, but to Yan Huan, it was a fatal pain. She only had one family member., and it was also because she had lost her mother, Ye Rong, that she ended up like that.

The heavens had truly treated her well, very well.

She could finally make her life without any regrets.

Her mother had returned.

How wonderful.

At night, Yan Huan would occasionally look at the electronic clock hanging on the other side. He was also calculating the time in his heart. As time passed by, her heart would actually clench nervously, only now did she truly feel what it meant to live each day as if it was a year. wasn't it just living each day as if it was a year?

No, it was simply living each day as if it was a year.

“Mommy...”she suddenly jumped up, grabbed ye Rong’s arm, and shook it continuously.

“What’s Wrong?”Ye Rong put down the handicraft she was doing and touched her daughter’s little forehead. “Do you want to sleep?”

“No.”Yan Huan shook her little head vigorously.

“Mommy, Huanhuan wants to eat cake.”

At this moment, Ye Rong looked at the time. It was already 9:30 pm. What cake? What was wrong with this child? In the past, when it was night time, she would not even eat snacks, why did she suddenly want to eat cake.

“Mother, I want to eat cake.”Yan Huan worked hard to be a disobedient child. In a short while, tears welled up in her eyes. In any case, when it came to acting, she believed that she would not lose to anyone, even though it was rather shameless to have such a face.

“Alright.”Ye Rong could not do anything about Yan Huan. She patted her daughter’s small face. In the past, she was so obedient. But now, she was not obedient at all. Could it be that she had grown up and had a rebellious heart.

Yan Huan only smiled foolishly. What was hidden under his long eyelashes was the second hand of the electronic clock on the wall that moved forward from time to time.

One second, two seconds... three seconds..

Ye Rong helped her daughter put on her clothes. Then, she held her little hand and led her out.

The wind outside was cold and cheerless. It also brought a sense of comfort to such a person at night.

At this time, there were not many pedestrians outside. After all, there was not that much entertainment. Hai city was not a city that did not sleep, and it was very far away from Hai City. Of course, it was impossible for the lights to stay on throughout the night.

The wind outside blew on his body, and it was very comfortable. Ye Rong could not help but close his eyes. He also felt the feeling of the wind blowing on his face. It was cool and warm. It was completely different from the heat of the day.

The lights of the shops on both sides were still on, and there were many pedestrians on the road. The street lights were also very bright, and cars would occasionally drive by.

Yan Huan brought his daughter to a cake shop. Ye Rong knew about this shop. Otherwise, she really did not know where to buy a cake for her daughter to eat in the middle of the night.

“Mommy, I want this.”

Yan Huan pointed at a small piece of cake inside. It was strawberry flavored.

She actually didn’t like eating sweets, especially when she was an actress in her past life. As an actress, how could she not pay attention to her own body? Although she didn’t have a fat body, even so., she couldn't overeat every day. She had always been a disciplined person, so she had forgotten how many years it had been since she had eaten sweets.

This piece of cake looked pretty, so this was it.

Ye Rong took out her wallet and bought this piece of cake for her daughter. In the past, when their conditions were not good, Ye Rong was also willing to buy cakes for her daughter to eat. Now that their conditions were good, they earned more money, of course, Ye Rong could also afford to buy as big a cake as Yan Huan wanted.

Chapter 2430: picked up a person

Ye Rong handed the cake to her daughter. "Let's take it home and eat it, okay?"

She bent down and said to her daughter.

It was almost ten o'clock now. Even if they did not sleep, they would have to sleep.

"Okay." Yan Huan nodded vigorously. "Huanhuan, eat it with Mommy."

Ye Rong held Yan Huan's small hand. Yan Huan was holding a small cake in one hand. The cake was not heavy and was rather light. It was originally a small piece. There was a lot of cream on it, but the cake was also small.

"Mommy, I want to see the lights." Yan Huan pointed at a very tall building in front of them.

"Lights?" Ye Rong raised her head and took a look. It did not seem like there was anything to see.

"Mommy, I want to see the lights." Yan Huan still used his little finger to point at the building.

Ye Rong could only bring her daughter to see the lights. She did not know what was wrong with Yan Huan today. Why did he like to do such weird things? In the past, she did not like it at all. When she had the time.., she would rather stay at home and read her little book.

Ye Rong brought her daughter and stood on top of the building. Yan Huan was still hugging his little cake in his arms. She was looking at the lights, but her eyes seemed to be looking for something from time to time?

Why wasn't it there? That's right, why wasn't it there? It was clearly at this time. That woman had been talking about this time every day. No matter how much time had passed, she clearly remembered that there was still a time and a place.

There was no mistake, but why was there no mistake?

Could it be that she had really memorized the date wrongly? But that was impossible, she would not remember wrongly.

She resisted the impulse to stomp her feet, and still pretended to like the lights in front of her. In fact, what was there to see with these lights? All she saw was that she wanted to doze off, and it was impossible for her to stay for too long.

She was so anxious that cold sweat broke out on the tip of her little nose, and even her face was completely red from holding it in. Fortunately, it was still night, so there wasn't that much light. Fortunately, Ye Rong didn't notice., her face was as red as a monkey's butt.

Until a faint voice reached her ears.

She listened carefully. Sure enough, it was another voice. If she had not listened carefully, she would not have been able to recognize it.

"Mother, I heard a cat meowing. Let's go and bring the cat home, okay?"

"Cat, where did the cat come from?" Ye Rong did not hear it.

"There's a cat. It's over there."

Yan Huan pointed to the front. She let go of Ye Rong's hand and ran over.

"Huanhuan, don't run..."

Ye Rong hurriedly followed.

Yan Huan had already run to a flower bed. As expected, she first saw half a human leg there. Of course, this person had all of them. He did not lose an arm or a leg. Moreover, she also knew who this person was?

Finally, she had met him.

Finally, they were not late this time.

Finally, he was still there, and so were they.

Uncle Zhou, we meet again. Uncle Zhou, in this lifetime, there will be no one standing in the middle of you, uncle Zhou, I will hand my mother over to you. Then you must treat my mother well. We have agreed that we will do it for the rest of our lives.

"Huanhuan..."

Ye Rong quickly came over and held her daughter's little hand. In the end, she saw a person lying on the ground.

"Mom," Yan Huan stretched out his finger and pointed to the garden in front, "There's an uncle. Uncle is sick."

Ye Rong pulled her daughter behind her. She was actually very nervous and afraid. No matter who met a half-dead person lying on the ground in the middle of the night, it was impossible for them to be calm.

Ye Rong did not seem to have the courage to ask ye Rong to save this person. However, if ye Rong were to turn around and leave now, Ye Rong would not be able to do such a thing. She would not leave him to die.

"Mother, Uncle is sick. Can we bring Uncle Home?"

Yan Huan tugged at Ye Rong's sleeve. "Uncle is really too pitiful. He is just like a cat."

Ye Rong looked at that man for a long time before she turned around and squatted on her daughter. She then placed the small piece of cake in her daughter's small hand.

"Huanhuan, you stay here. Don't go. Mother will go and see that uncle."

"Okay," Yan Huan agreed. Her eyes did not leave that man. In fact, she knew that he was fine. It was just that he had a fever, which was quite serious. That was why he had fallen asleep.

What they had to do was to pick him up and bring him back to their home.

Yan Huan placed her small cake in front of her. The cake was not beautiful at all. Of course, there was no art to it, but it tasted pretty good.

Ye Rong carefully walked over and squatted down.

Then, she gently pushed the man.

"Hey, wake up."

In fact, she originally thought that this was a dead person. After all, he was still lying there motionless. But when she got closer, she knew that this person was not dead because he was still breathing... because the heaving of his chest continued.

"Wake up." She pushed him again. In the end, the temperature that came from the man's body also made her hurriedly withdraw her hand. At this moment, there was still the overly hot body temperature of this man's body on her finger.

This was a fever?

"Hey..." Ye Rong patted the man's face again. Once this hand touched this man, it was almost as if it was going to burn her finger.

The man responded with a "En", but he did not wake up. However, it seemed that he was still conscious and did not pass out.

"Don't sleep." Ye Rong looked around. She really did not know what to do with this man?

The man's head swayed left and right. Perhaps he wanted to wake up a little, but his head was too wooden, so he could not wake up no matter what.

The man narrowed his eyes and wanted to sit up. It was as if he was in a dream. Perhaps even he himself did not know where he was and what he had done?

"Let me help you up." Ye Rong quickly wanted to help the man up, and the man's entire body weight was pressed on Ye Rong's body. Ye Rong was no longer the Ye Rong of the past, and she had gained a lot of strength, so at the very least, she could still stand up straight, even if she was still bearing the weight of a man.

Fortunately, this man could still stand, and he still had some consciousness.

Ye Rong tried to walk forward, and when she walked, this man also followed.

Gently, Ye Rong let out a sigh of relief. It was good that this man did not really sleep to death. Otherwise, she really did not know how to get this man up. She could not let her carry a grown man on her back.

Yan Huan saw Ye Rong coming over and hurriedly ran over. She held the cake in one hand and held the corner of her mother's clothes in the other.

Don't let her hold it loose. Ye Rong only had one hand in modern times. She gently rubbed her daughter's small head. And now, she really could not care about taking care of her daughter. What exactly did this man eat to grow up, how could it be so heavy?