

Sweetheart 1401

1401 chapter 1405-the real movie queen for a few years, there was no news about her in the country, and just like that, she disappeared from the public's sight.

when teng siqing reappeared two years ago, she had already secretly acted in several foreign blockbuster films and even won the best actress award at a film festival in D country.

since then, she had completely gotten rid of her reputation as a flower vase and a gossip maker. she had been reborn and became a true movie queen.

just two months ago, teng siqing had made the headlines of the entertainment section. it was said that she was engaged to the heir of a big european family. other than her successful career, she was about to marry into a rich family. this was the most popular gossip among the public.

however, the popularity of this news only lasted for two days before it was suppressed by the news of young master mu's secret marriage with a daughter.

luo chenxi read through teng siqing's information carefully and was secretly impressed by her.

it should be known that the popular stars who became famous overnight at a young age would almost always be chased and confused by their fans. they would think that they could survive for the rest of their lives by relying on their beautiful faces and innate charm. very few people were like teng siqing, who was willing to calm down and train herself ...

she was well aware of mu yichen's character. it was impossible for him to have an ex-girlfriend. after much thought, she could only think that bai shixun was the only one who could be involved in this.

"xingchen, what are you saying? we're here, it's time to get off!" yan heng urged.

luo chenxi carried the little dumpling in her arms and alighted from the car together.

the villa that teng siqing lived in occupied a very large area. there was a very large garden around it, and it was filled with all kinds of flowers and trees. moreover, it was in the suburbs of the imperial capital where land prices were expensive!

this surprised luo chenxi.

it seemed that teng siqing had really married into a rich family as the rumors had said ... otherwise, the income of an ordinary female star would not be able to support such a huge expense.

luo chenxi followed yan heng and knocked on the door before entering the room. the butler immediately came up to them and informed them that teng siqing was already waiting for them in the guest room.

the butler was obviously stunned for a moment when he saw the little dumpling by luo chenxi's side.

“this little friend is ...”

luo chenxi said with a smile, “this is my daughter.” she’s too clingy, so i could only bring her along. sorry for disturbing you. i’ve brought bodyguards with me. when we discuss business later, i’ll let my bodyguards play with her for a while.”

such a cute little princess, anyone who saw her would like her, and the butler was no exception. he quickly asked someone to send over a lot of snacks.

although the little dumpling loved to act coquettishly at home, she was still very sensible outside.

after listening to luo chenxi’s instructions, she nodded obediently and stayed in the living room with the bodyguard.

“director yan, you’re a rare guest. i’ve long heard of your name when i first started cultivating. you’ve always been a senior i respect. i’m really sorry to trouble you to come to my place this time.”

as soon as luo chenxi and yan heng entered the door, teng siqing came over to welcome them.

luo chenxi could not help being stunned for a moment when she saw her.

there were many rumors about teng siqing in the outside world. in the era of popular actresses, people said that she was a flower vase. in the era of the movie queen, people said that she was cold and aloof.

however, the teng siqing who appeared in front of her and yan heng today had nothing to do with being a vase or being aloof. she looked like an ordinary woman who was very homely.

1402 you are xingchen, aren’t you?

it was just that he was a little more good-looking.

she was indeed worthy of being called the “ nation’s fairy “. even without makeup, she was still pretty good looking.

just as luo chenxi was sizing up teng siqing, teng siqing was also looking at her.

yan heng was just about to introduce the two of them when teng siqing’s eyes lit up.

“you’re xingchen, right? i heard that you’re now the fashion design director of the ‘gorgeous turn’ crew. it seems that it’s true! ever since you participated in the chinese style competition, i’ve liked your designs very much. i even wanted to contact you and ask you to design a dress for me! later, i heard that you married young master mu and stopped designing. i felt that it was a pity for a while ...”

as teng siqing spoke, she walked over and shook hands with her.

luo chenxi did not expect her to be so approachable. her impression of her improved by a large margin. she cracked into a smile as well.

“it’s my honor that movie queen teng likes my design. if you want me to design a gown for you, just ask. that’s definitely a rumor!”

“really? that would be great! i’ve been looking for you since the film festival in D country.”

” the film festival where you won the best actress award? ” the two of them felt like old friends at first sight and had a very good chat.

seeing this, yan heng felt more confident and smiled. ” ahem, beautiful ladies, let me interrupt you. let’s talk about business first. ” miss teng, the people from our production team have contacted you several times. you should know why we are here. ” our ‘gorgeous turn’ crew is very sincere in inviting you to join us. the cast is very gorgeous, and they are all top-tier actors in china. even the fashion design director has been invited by the top-tier star entertainment ... ” yan heng had thought that this was already a matter of certainty.

however, when teng siqing heard him mention the matter of x-ray, she revealed a troubled expression.

“director yan, this ... i’ve explained to you last time that i don’t plan to take on any shows for the time being ...”

yan heng waved his hand. ” miss teng, i know your concerns. you feel that the quality of the domestic films is not guaranteed. however, you don’t have to worry about working with our crew. our goal is to win next year’s oscars, and the production team has plenty of funds. if you have any requests in terms of remuneration or other aspects, you can talk about it. ” teng siqing frowned. ” director yan, you’ve really misunderstood me. i don’t have any concerns about the crew. you’re the best director in the country, and i’ve always admired your standards. chu juncheng is also a good friend of mine in the industry. i’ve worked with him before, and i know that his acting skills are excellent, but ... well, it’s mainly my personal problem. i don’t want to take on a domestic film. ”

as a famous director with a very high status in the country, yan heng rarely had the chance to persuade others with such earnest words.

however, this time, even though he said it until his mouth broke, it was to no avail.

teng siqing’s attitude was very polite, and every word she said was watertight. however, she refused to nod and accept the role, nor did she reveal the reason.

yan heng was at his wit’s end. he could only turn his head around and shot luo chenxi a look, indicating that it was her turn.

luo chenxi was put in a difficult position.

she had never done anything like forcing others to do things they didn’t want to do!

however, when faced with yan heng's pleading eyes, her heart moved and she blurted out, "miss teng, did you refuse to take on this film because the investor is the bai pictures?"

teng siqing was stunned and raised her head.

1403 it's not good, young madam, little miss, she ...

"bai pictures?" teng siqing was obviously stunned. " what does this have to do with bai pictures? " luo chenxi was stunned for a moment when she heard teng siqing's question.

this answer ... was completely different from what she had expected!

" this ... " luo chenxi's thoughts churned rapidly. she forced herself to come up with an excuse and explained, " " because bai shixun, the president of bai pictures, is very famous in the circle. miss teng, since you returned from M nation, you seem to have been avoiding scandals with others. i thought that you were worried because second young master bai's reputation was too great ... " as soon as luo chenxi said that, yan heng had an expression of sudden realization and smacked his head hard.

"yeah! xingchen, you're right. why didn't i think of that?"

these words were like a wake-up call.

although second young master bai was his boss, yan heng, as an old artist, was still quite disdainful of his behavior of appearing in the entertainment headlines every two or three days.

not to mention teng siqing, who was a national treasure-level movie queen who valued her reputation very much.

"miss teng, i can understand your concerns. however, ever since we started filming, second young master bai only appeared once at the opening ceremony. after that, he didn't even come to visit us. i heard that second young master bai recently got a girlfriend who has broken his record of dating for less than a month. it's possible that they're going to be together. so, you don't have to worry at all ..."

"ahem, director yan, miss xingchen, what are you guys thinking? i really didn't mean it that way!" teng siqing shook her head in amusement.

"i won't underestimate the power of the bai pictures just because of second young master bai's gossip. in recent years, almost all of china's international films were produced by bai pictures. this was a golden signboard! second young master bai's management skills and vision are outstanding. he is also someone i admire. it's really my personal reasons that i can't take on the film ..."

teng siqing shrugged and leaned back on the sofa. she explained with a sincere and relaxed attitude.

luo chenxi stared at her for a while. she felt even more puzzled.

judging from teng siqing's behavior ... it seemed that she was not familiar with bai shixun at all!

moreover, when he praised bai shixun, there was no reluctance or unwillingness at all. it was an objective evaluation of a public figure.

it was either that teng siqing's acting skills were excellent as the best actress, or she really did not know bai shixun ...

on the other hand, luo chenxi was inclined to believe the latter.

due to teng siqing's refusal to explain her reason for not accepting the role in the film, luo chenxi had no choice but to give in to her after a few words of persuasion.

it seemed that this path didn't work, so he could only change people.

she couldn't help but sigh to herself. after seeing teng siqing in person, she felt even more strongly that teng siqing was the real huo daining. the role had to be hers!

but unfortunately ...

"it's getting late. it's rare for the two of you to come here. if you don't mind, why don't you stay for lunch? "i've already asked the kitchen to make the arrangements ..." teng siqing greeted the two of them enthusiastically."xingchen, i really want to ask you to design a dress for me. let's talk about it in detail when we eat, okay?"

"alright, that's more than i could ask for!" luo chenxi nodded.

she could tell that teng siqing did not want to talk about the movie anymore, so she could only give up.

the three of them were about to leave the guest room when suddenly, a loud " bang " was heard. the door was slammed open from the outside!

"it's bad, young lady! little miss, she ..."

1404 you keep calling her my daughter the young bodyguard rushed in in a panic, his face full of guilt.

the moment she saw luo chenxi, she shouted, " young madam, little miss is missing! i don't know where he is ..."

"what? what did you just say? tang tang is missing? how was that possible? what's going on?"

luo chenxi immediately became nervous upon hearing that something had happened to the little dumpling. she stood up immediately and dashed toward the bodyguard in one big stride.

the bodyguard's face was flushed red. he lowered his head and dared not look into luo chenxi's eyes anymore.

"young madam, it's all my fault. just now, little miss was eating cake in the kitchen when brother liang called. he saw that little miss was sitting obediently and focused, so he went to answer the call. in the end, when i came back, little miss was gone!"

"how is that possible? where could tang tang run to in three minutes? she was so young. have you searched the surrounding area?"

the bodyguard's head drooped lower and lower. " i've already looked around the house just now. i ... i didn't see little miss ... " the little dumpling had actually gone missing!

luo chenxi was so frightened that her heart almost stopped beating. her hands and feet turned cold. she stomped her feet and was about to rush out.

teng siqing overheard the conversation between luo chenxi and the bodyguard. she quickly took a step forward and pulled luo chenxi back.

"wait, xingchen, what's going on? the little miss that this gentleman is talking about, could it be ..."

"it's my daughter! my daughter has been very clingy recently, and her father has returned to T city. i'm worried about leaving her in the hotel, so i brought her here. she was sitting in the living room downstairs just now. i didn't expect her to suddenly disappear ... miss teng, i'll tell you later. i have to go and find her first!"

when teng siqing and yan heng heard luo chenxi addressing her as 'my daughter', they were secretly impressed by her despite not knowing what was going on.

looking at xingchen's anxious look, she had completely treated young master mu's daughter as her own. these feelings were too real, and there was no trace of deception at all. no wonder the entire mu family approved of her so much.

seeing that luo chenxi shook her off and was about to rush out, teng siqing quickly followed her.

"xingchen, don't be anxious. don't worry too much. my villa's security system is still very good. if miss mu runs out of the villa's range, there will be an immediate police report. now that the security guards didn't respond, it was most likely because miss mu was young and couldn't sit still. she ran away when she saw something fun. don't worry, we'll definitely find it if we look for it seriously. i'll take you to find him now."

luo chenxi nodded. " i know, miss teng. i've troubled you. " rationaly, she knew that what teng siqing said was right.

there was a 99% chance that the little dumpling would run away for fun. moreover, the villa was only so big. no matter which corner it was in, it would be found eventually.

however, the anxiety in her heart did not show any signs of easing.

the little dumpling had been separated from her for so many years, and it had not been long since she had finally reunited with him. now, every little thing that happened to the little dumpling, even if it was just the little dumpling who fell and scraped his skin in kindergarten, would make her heart ache for a long time.

not to mention that the little dumpling had disappeared for no reason!

luo chenxi followed teng siqing and walked around the villa. they had searched the entire first and second floor, but they still could not find the little dumpling.

as a result, luo chenxi was even more anxious.

teng siqing's expression also changed.

1405 the little dumpling ran out on her own seeing the butler standing behind the mu family's bodyguards, teng siqing frowned. " what's going on? the mu family's young lady came to our house and actually got lost! there are so many of you here, yet you can't even take care of a child?"

"miss teng, young mistress mu, it's all our fault. we're really sorry!"

the butler was also extremely vexed.

although they usually had experience in taking care of children, they had never seen such a lively and active little girl like the little dumpling.

their young master usually sat alone and would not leave for a long time. who knew that other children could not even sit still for three minutes ...

" hurry up and get the surveillance footage. let's see where miss mu left from! " the butler hurriedly brought them to the surveillance room.

luo chenxi's heart was burning with anxiety. she looked through the surveillance footage of that period of time seriously. as expected, she found something.

on the screen, the bodyguard squatted down in front of the little dumpling and gave her a few words of advice.

the little dumpling was holding a spoon in her hand and eating a strawberry pudding with her head buried in it. her cheeks were puffed up and she didn't even look up. it was unknown if she had heard the bodyguard's words.

the little dumpling stuffed two more mouthfuls of pudding into her mouth. suddenly, she raised her head as if she heard a sound. her doll-like eyes blinked twice as if she was thinking about something.

immediately after, she dropped the spoon in her hand, jumped down from the chair, and ran to the door with her short legs.

the door of the villa was just ajar, so the little dumpling pulled the door open and ran out.

however, the door was closed by a sudden gust of wind.

after another minute or so, the bodyguard returned. when he found that the little dumpling was missing, he immediately began to look for her in a panic ...

“tang tang really ran out! how could this be? she’s usually very obedient. what’s wrong with her today? why is she running around?” luo chenxi was extremely anxious.

“you won’t lose it even if you run out,” teng siqing hurriedly said, “the entire courtyard’s walls are equipped with a security system, so you won’t lose it. looking at miss mu’s appearance, she seems to be running towards the small forest behind. let’s go and take a look.”

teng siqing brought luo chenxi and the others to the courtyard to look for her.

“tangtang, tangtang! where are you? hurry up and come out, don’t scare your big sister!”

the few of them looked around the courtyard. luo chenxi then realized that the courtyard of teng siqing’s villa was much larger than she had imagined. there was even a small pond at the back.

at first, she was very worried that the little dumpling would slip and fall into the pond, but when she got closer, there was no one in the pond.

the courtyard was quiet, without a single sound.

luo chenxi’s throat was about to burst from all the shouting, yet she did not hear the little dumpling’s response. it made her even more terrified.

at this moment, soft piano music came from the other side of the courtyard. the music was very light, and it sounded a little far from here.

however, the sound of the zither was unusually smooth and melodious, like the rhythm of an elf dancing in the forest, which made people involuntarily attracted.

luo chenxi was stunned for a moment. she turned around and asked teng siqing who was behind her, “this is the sound of a piano. what ... what’s going on? ” where is it coming from?”

unexpectedly, teng siqing was obviously hesitant.

luo chenxi did not notice her expression, but she had already made a judgment in her heart. ‘is there someone else living behind this forest? could tang tang have gone there?’

1406 she’s flirting with little brother again!

” i can’t find it anywhere. it’s probably behind the forest! ” yan heng also agreed with this judgment.

just as the two of them were about to go over, they realized that teng siqing had rushed over and stopped them.

“you two, over there ... don’t go over there. the person living there doesn’t like to be disturbed, so miss mu can’t be there. if there were outsiders, he wouldn’t be playing the zither.”

luo chenxi could not help frowning. she asked in puzzlement, ” “miss teng, what do you mean by this? who was living there? how do you know tang tang isn’t there?”

” this ... of course i’m sure. if you’re worried, i can help you call and ask ... ” teng siqing still looked like she wanted to say something but hesitated.

her hemming and hawing had aroused Luo Chenxi's suspicion.

her brows furrowed even more. "Miss Teng, I may be a little offensive by saying this, but I hope you can understand the feelings of a mother whose daughter has gone missing. I must go and take a look. I can only be at ease when I'm sure that Tang Tang is not there."

As Luo Chenxi was speaking, she took a wrong step and went around Teng Siqing.

She was quite skilled, and few ordinary girls could compare to her.

Teng Siqing did not manage to react to the situation at all. She only saw a blur before Luo Chenxi dashed straight in the direction of the sound of the zither.

"Ai, wait! Miss Luo, please listen to me ..."

However, Luo Chenxi was too eager to find her daughter that she could not care about anything else at the moment.

Even though Teng Siqing kept trying to stop her from behind, she did not stop and went around to the back of the forest.

Sure enough, there was an exquisitely designed small house.

The faint zither sound from earlier became clear.

Listening to it up close, the music was even more moving than before. Not only was it smooth and melodious, but it also had a unique clear feeling, making people feel warm in their hearts.

Luo Chenxi's footsteps became lighter subconsciously. She was hesitating whether to rush in directly or knock on the door first.

Suddenly, the music stopped.

A soft and sweet voice came from the room, it sounded like Tang Tang!

Luo Chenxi shuddered. She did not have the time to think about it anymore. She hastily pushed open the unlocked door and rushed in.

The living room ... was empty!

However, on the balcony behind the living room that was filled with sunlight, there were people moving.

Luo Chenxi ran over at lightning speed. When she fixed her gaze on the spot, she saw her little dumpling sitting on the edge of the balcony with his back facing her as expected.

The little dumpling held her cheeks in her hands and swayed her little feet in beige short boots. The point was ... she wasn't injured!

Luo Chenxi heaved a sigh of relief.

unexpectedly, the little dumpling spoke up at this moment. " little brother, you play the zither very well!
" this is the first time tang tang has heard such a nice piano piece! it's true! can you give me another song, tangtang bang?"

luo chenxi turned her head subconsciously upon hearing his words. she noticed a pure white grand piano by the balcony. a little boy was sitting in front of the piano. he appeared to be about four or five years old, yet he had a cold expression on his face.

his small face was exquisitely sculpted, and his genes were very good. he would definitely be a handsome young man in the future.

moreover, luo chenxi found him to be rather familiar-looking for some reason.

upon hearing the little dumpling's words, the little boy's originally stoic face suddenly turned red. he pursed his lips and said in a small voice, " "i was just casually playing, it's not ... not as good as you say

1407 she finally realized how difficult it was for mu yichen xiao tuanzi's eyes suddenly widened, and it said in surprise, " "little brother, you spoke! so you can talk!

then why didn't you talk to tang tang just now?"

upon hearing this, the little boy pursed his lips and his face turned even redder, as if it would burn up at any moment.

his face was red and he didn't know how to answer. he could only look around to cover up his embarrassment.

all of a sudden, the little boy's gaze fell upon luo chenxi and he was startled. he immediately asked in a guarded manner, " "who ... who are you? how did you get in?"

before luo chenxi could answer, the little dumpling had already turned her head to the sound.

"big sister?"

the little dumpling immediately cracked into a dazzling smile when she saw luo chenxi. she jumped down from the balcony and ran toward her.

"come back! don't go over, i don't allow outsiders to come in. this must be a bad person!" the little boy called out anxiously.

he got up and wanted to hold the little dumpling, but he was a step too late.

he could only watch helplessly as the little dumpling plunged into luo chenxi's arms.

moreover, the little boy began to wriggle around and act coquettishly as soon as he hugged luo chenxi's thigh. " big sister, you're finally done with your work. tangtang was so bored. i missed you so much! " did you also run over because you heard little big brother's zither music?"

luo chenxi was angry and anxious at first. she wished that she could spank the little dumpling's little bottom when she thought about how disobedient the little dumpling was by running around without a word.

however, when she really saw the little dumpling appear in front of her with such an innocent and lovely smile, she really couldn't get angry.

luo chenxi felt helpless. she shook her head to herself and squatted down to pick up the little dumpling. she pinched her toot cheeks with her fingers.

"tang tang, what did big sister tell you? eh? this isn't your home, it's someone else's. how can you just run around? do you know how anxious big sister was when she found out that you were missing? i thought you'd been abducted by bad guys!"

upon seeing luo chenxi's serious expression, the little dumpling realized that she had done something wrong. her petite face fell immediately. her aggrieved expression made her look like a drenched little rabbit.

"wuwu, big sister, tang tang didn't do it on purpose. it's ... it's all because little big brother's piano playing is too good ..."

after all, she was her biological daughter and she was so adorable. luo chenxi was at a loss for words when she saw her admitting her mistake.

at this moment, she finally understood how difficult it was for mu yichen usually. every time he was angered by the little dumpling to the point that he almost suffered internal injuries, he could not lose his temper ...

she could only sigh. " don't run around in the future. you have to be obedient, understand? "

" yes, yes, tangtang knows how to provoke! " the little dumpling admitted her mistake so quickly that luo chenxi was deeply suspicious of whether she had really taken his words to heart.

moreover, the little dumpling began to hug luo chenxi's neck and act coquettishly after hastily admitting her mistake.

"big sister, i met a super good-looking little brother today! besides, he's not only good-looking, but he also knows how to play the piano. he's so good at it!"

it was only then that luo chenxi remembered the little boy from earlier. she turned around to see that the little boy had already returned to his seat in front of the piano. he was looking at her with a guarded expression.

to be honest, the little boy was really beautiful, as delicate as a little girl.

the little dumpling's taste was really good!

however, the way her eyes would light up whenever she saw a good-looking little brother ... did she inherit it from her?

1408 isn't that the little princess herself!

no way?

she remembered that she had been very reserved when she was young.

when she saw good-looking boys, she would only admire them secretly. she was not as bold as the little dumpling, who directly ran over and took the initiative to hit on him.

just as luo chenxi was feeling conflicted, she heard the sound of messy footsteps coming from behind her.

in the next second, teng siqing's anxious voice came from the door, " mrs. mu, wait a moment ... xiaoze, how are you? " with a slightly trembling voice, teng siqing's figure rushed in from the door.

as soon as she entered the door, her gaze fell on the little boy. she immediately rushed over and hugged him.

"xiao ze, don't be afraid! this auntie didn't mean to scare you. she's looking for her daughter ..."

the little boy was in teng siqing's arms, but there was no fear on his face. instead, he nodded obediently. " i know, mom. this auntie is the little princess 'big sister! "

"what little princess?" teng siqing was stunned.

she turned her head around instinctively and followed the little boy's line of sight. she saw the little dumpling in luo chenxi's arms at first glance.

those big watery eyes, doll-like long eyelashes, chubby and tender little face, and the exquisite and beautiful little dress ... wasn't that the little princess herself?

boxn ov el. c o m

"xingchen, is this ... is this the mu family's little miss?" teng siqing stared at the little dumpling and asked in surprise.

luo chenxi nodded. " that's right. this is my daughter. don't call her 'little miss'. you can just call her by her name. her name is mu tianxin and her nickname is tang tang. " hearing the big sister's introduction, the little dumpling immediately showed a sweet smile. " hello, beautiful auntie. i'm tang tang ... is that handsome little brother from your family? " hearing the little dumpling's soft voice, teng siqing almost melted from its cuteness.

he didn't expect the legendary little princess of the mu family to be so cute!

he was completely different from the cold and serious young master mu!

however, what surprised her even more was what happened next. before she could reply, the little boy in her arms had already taken the initiative to say, " "so you're called tang tang. your name is so cute! hello tang tang, my name is teng qingze, and this is my mother!"

teng siqing's eyes immediately widened as she looked at teng qingze in surprise.

her son was usually reclusive. when he went to kindergarten, he didn't get along with other children and didn't like to talk. the only thing he liked was to play the piano ...

this was the first time he had said such a long sentence in one breath and even introduced himself to other children!

luo chenxi was also extremely shocked at the moment as she looked at the mother and son.

however, she couldn't see anything strange about teng qingze. what surprised her was that teng siqing already had a son of this age! she seemed to be one or two years older than her tang tang.

in terms of time, didn't it already exist before teng siqing went to country M for further studies?

as for teng siqing's fiancé, it was said that teng siqing had met him in country M, so this child shouldn't be her fiancé's ... upon closer inspection, it was indeed so. the teng qingze in front of her looked like a typical easterner and didn't seem to be of european descent. of course, he couldn't be the child of the heir of a european wealthy family.

"xingchen, miss teng, why are you two running so fast? what's wrong?"

yan heng finally caught up with the two of them and rushed into the room, breaking the awkward silence in the room.

1409 why would teng siqing have such a misunderstanding?

at this moment, teng siqing had already calmed down. she stood up and walked over with teng qingze.

she nodded ever so slightly at luo chenxi and said in a slightly apologetic tone, "i'm sorry, xingchen, i was too arbitrary just now. i didn't expect tang tang to really be here and almost delayed you from finding her. i have to apologize to you."

on the other hand, luo chenxi did not think that there was anything wrong with teng siqing.

after all, her little dumpling was unscathed. not only was she not bullied, but she also seemed to be having fun.

moreover, it was the little dumpling who had run over to harass the little brother mischievously.

luo chenxi hastily said, "miss teng, i should be the one apologizing." you're worried about your son too. we're both mothers, i can understand. it's my tang tang who shouldn't run around."

hearing this, teng siqing shook her head slightly. "tang tang is so cute. logically speaking, i should be happy that she's willing to play with my son. " there was actually a reason why he was so nervous just now. qingze is a loner and doesn't like to interact with outsiders, so i overreacted."

"reclusive?" luo chenxi was slightly surprised and took a glance at teng qingze again.

to be honest, she didn't feel that there was anything wrong with teng qingze. he was just like the other little boys, blushing the moment he saw her little dumpling ... hmm, he was very cute!

teng siqing wanted to explain, but she swallowed the words that were on the tip of her tongue.

" i don't know why, but qingze really likes tang tang. this is the first time i've seen him having so much fun with a child! " luo chenxi thought to herself, 'mmm ...'

he wondered why teng siqing would have such a misunderstanding.

in fact, she didn't see that the two little guys were " playing happily ". the scene just now was clearly her little dumpling pestering the little brother to play the zither ...

she pinched the little dumpling's palm. " my tang tang also likes qingze a lot, right? "

"yes, yes!" the little dumpling nodded her head repeatedly. " brother qingze is pretty and he can play the zither. i like him a lot! " as the little dumpling said this, teng qingze's face, which had just returned to its normal skin color, turned red once again. his beautifully shaped thin lips pursed, and he couldn't even speak.

luo chenxi chuckled to herself and took the initiative to say, " what a coincidence. since the two children can get along, let them play together. we can continue to chat. " teng siqing nodded and asked the housekeeper to bring a large plate of snacks.

the little dumpling cheered and pounced toward the strawberry cake. teng qingze followed.

luo chenxi was relieved to see that the two children were having a good time. she was about to continue talking to teng siqing about the custom-made gowns.

at this time, a trembling voice came from behind, " " this ... this child ... this is ... movie queen teng's son?! " it was only at this moment that yan heng finally came back to his senses, and he was very surprised.

it wasn't rare for a female celebrity to have a child out of wedlock in the film and television industry. however, he couldn't connect this matter with teng siqing.

moreover, the child was already so big, but the outside world had not even heard a word about it. she could actually protect the child so well!

teng siqing's attitude was very calm. " that's right. qingze is my biological son. i don't have to hide it from everyone. however, the child is still young. i want to protect him and let him grow up healthy and happy. if outsiders find out, i'm afraid that someone will disturb his peaceful life."

yan heng came back to his senses and hurriedly said, "i understand, i understand very well!" miss teng, don't worry. xingchen and i will not tell anyone about this."

because of this small incident, they had been delayed for half an hour.

however, it did not affect the atmosphere between the three of them.

teng siqing followed her original plan and asked luo chenxi and yan heng to stay for lunch. of course, xiao tuanzi was also there now.

even without teng siqing's special care, the teng family's chef took the initiative to make a lot of snacks and sent them over.

"i saw miss mu eat a lot of strawberry pudding and strawberry cake just now. i guess she likes this flavor? so you specially made this strawberry plate for miss mu to try?"

xiao tuanzi's eyes lit up, and its chubby little hand reached out immediately. at the same time, it said loudly, "thank you, uncle!"

she did not monopolize the entire plate of desserts when she received them. instead, she distributed them to luo chenxi first.

"big sister will eat this, little brother will eat this, this ..."

she then gave them to teng qingze, teng siqing, and yan heng in order of how much she liked them ...

it wasn't until everyone had their share that she picked up a small fork and began to eat with relish.

teng siqing smiled as she looked at the little dumpling. "tangtang is really cute and sensible. xingchen, you've taught her well!"

luo chenxi replied humbly, "it's alright. i can't take the credit for this alone. tang tang's father takes care of the child every day. her father taught her a lot of etiquette. he even taught her english and french." i have to say, a good father's education is very important ..."

she was expressing her feelings, but halfway through her sentence, she suddenly remembered that teng qingze was a child without a father. she quickly shut her mouth and glanced at teng siqing cautiously.

after spending a few hours with teng qingze, luo chenxi also realized that teng siqing was right.

although teng qingze was astonishingly talented at playing the piano, he was too quiet. he was the complete opposite of the noisy little dumpling.

teng siqing's hand trembled slightly, and a trace of sadness flashed in her eyes.

indeed, a father's love and education were very important to a child.

however, her family's qingze was a child who came to this world without her father's expectations ...

after all, teng siqing was the movie queen. even though she felt emotional, she concealed her emotions very well and did not let luo chenxi notice anything unusual.

however, luo chenxi changed the topic immediately. "siqing, you'd better think about it again. i really think that you're the most suitable candidate for the role of huo daining. this role will certainly fulfill your wish and let you win the throne of the best actress at the oscar. i have a feeling that you'll regret it if you don't come!"

“ahem, xingchen, why are you bringing this up again?” teng siqing had a helpless expression. “i’ve really thought it through!”

luo chenxi pursed her lips and shook her head in secret.

after a whole day of communication, she and teng siqing had become friends. they had even started to call each other by their names. however, teng siqing still refused to give in.

“aunty teng, you can work with my big sister! my big sister can make beautiful dresses and make money! let’s go together!” the little ball raised its head and pouted its milk-covered mouth to help.

she didn’t know what her big sister was talking about, but she was going to speak up for her!

teng siqing was amused by the little fellow. she took a piece of tissue and helped her wipe the corner of her mouth. “be good, tangtang. maybe next time. auntie teng is not free recently.”

luo chenxi shook her head helplessly. it seemed like she was really going to return empty-handed this time.

after the meal, luo chenxi held the little dumpling’s hand and bade farewell to teng siqing.

“thank you for your warm hospitality. it seems that we can only find an opportunity to cooperate in the future. tang tang, say goodbye to auntie teng and brother qingze.”

“auntie teng, please!” the little ball waved its hand.

then, she turned to teng qingze and pouted. “brother qingze, i wanted to play with you, but your mama can’t work with big sister. i can only go back with big sister to mess with ... i’ll find you next time. see you, brother qingze!”

the little dumpling was a little unhappy that she had to say goodbye to a good-looking little brother after just meeting him. however, she was relieved when she thought about how brother shaoxuan would play with her when she returned to T city.

however, no one noticed that teng qingze’s pupils suddenly shrank when he heard this.
