In the Joseph's family.

Kathy stood in front of the mirror and looked at her mouth. Was Joseph a dog? He bit her!

She spent a lot of time in the bathroom before she went out. She had a faint scent after the bath. When Joseph saw her come out, his face was as cold as ever.

"Are we going to sleep together tonight?" Kathy asked nervously.

Joseph frowned. Clearly, he saw her reluctance. A feeling of irritation rose from the bottom of his heart. He unfastened the buttons of his shirt but this action actually made Kathy feel scared and didn't dare to get close.

"Are you afraid of me?" Joseph's tone was much softer than before.

Kathy was really a little scared of him.

She bit her lips for a moment and nodded.

In the car, Joseph kissed her almost madly, and even pressed her into the seat.

"Kathy, I was just angry." Joseph got up and walked up to her.

Kathy stepped back until her back was against the wall.

"Why?" Kathy asked.

She and Peter are in the past Peter and she broke up a long time ago. Why was Joseph angry?

Looking at Kathy's innocent face, Joseph maintained his grim-face and said nothing.

After a while, he passed her and went into the bathroom. He slammed the door and Kathy was startled by the thud.

Frowned, she was on tenterhooks all the time. She tried to open the door, but it was locked, just like last night.

Did Joseph lock it?

As she thought of it, Kathy became more restless.

When Joseph came out, Kathy stood at the door and looked at him warily. She said, "I want to sleep in the guest room."

Joseph remained calm, as if he had expected it.

"Stay here." Then, he unlocked easily the fingerprint lock and went out.

When Kathy tried to open the door, it was locked again.

"Asshole!"

She frowned, but was relieved that Joseph was not there and she could sleep.

The next day, Kathy was woken up by a ringing phone. It was the HR Department calling to inform her to work.

The new boss will come today and all employees must be present..

Kathy didn't dare to be late, so she washed up and went to the living room. There was only Matthew there.

"Kathy, go to work?" Asked Matthew kindly.

"Yes, grandpa. I'm in a hurry. I go first."

In NCHV Medical Company.

Alexia had just gotten off the car when Kathy arrived.

As Kathy got out of the Rolls-Royce, Alexia took off her sunglasses and walks over. "Wow, this is car that Dr. Joseph gave you?"

Kathy thought about how to answer her. "Of course not... It's just that this car and I are headed in the same direction."

"Really? There's nobody in the car except the driver." Alexia caught her.

Kathy was embarrassed. She really didn't like be ostentatious, so she didn't want the driver to pick her up.

"Kathy, Dr. Joseph can afford you anyway. Why don't you quit your job and become a stay-at-home wife?"

"No, housewife of Joseph will be required to have children.. I refuse!" Kathy quickly countered.

But then she realized that she and Joseph weren't really married. Why she was thinking so far?

"Well, looks like you are enjoying being with Dr. Joseph!" They were already in the elevator now.

Alexia's voice was not loud, but there was not much room in the elevator. So everyone in the elevator heard what she said.

But Kathy had always been low-key in the company.

Fortunately, since she came to the company, few people paid attention to her.

But to prevent rumors, she covered Alexia's mouth and said, "Some things are secret!"
