

My Sweetheart

Chapter 20 the Boss Wanted to See her

"Kathy, are you planning a secret marriage?" Alexia looked stunned.

What a glorious thing to get married with Joseph! Alexia didn't understand why she insisted on keeping it a secret.

Kathy nodded, ready to tell Alexia that she and Joseph had a bogus marriage. But at that time, they were told to attend a meeting.

All employees knew that NCHV Medical Company was on the verge of bankruptcy. Even if they had a new boss now, they didn't believe him could make a difference, and some of them had already found a new job.

It doesn't matter to Kathy, whoever the boss is. She is nobody.

"He is?"

" I feel so familiar at seeing his face..."

"Ah! Joseph, Joseph!"

"Really? He's Joseph. No wonder he's so handsome. I never thought I can meet him in person."

Kathy stood stiffly.

As she frowned, the women around murmured, and as Kathy looked up, Joseph passed right in front of her.

He wore white shirts and black trousers with his hands in pockets, dark eyes squinting slightly. He walked with a commanding, elegant and disdainful air.

He was so strange to Kathy...Kathy thought.

When he passed her, Kathy came to herself. Alexia grabbed her arm and said. "Kathy, why didn't you tell me your husband is the new boss?"

Kathy was surprised. She didn't know, too!

"Hello everyone, my name is Joseph, and I am officially taking over NCHV Medical Company. My assistant will announce the following personnel arrangement, thank you for your concern."

Joseph signed the agreement, and stayed in the conference room ...no more than five minutes.

Kathy looks at Joseph in surprise. Before he left, his eyes finally fall on Kathy's face for half a second.

"Kathy!" Alexia shook her.

Kathy stared down. Her brain was in a mess.

Why the new boss was Joseph? Wasn't he just a doctor?

Or, did he have another identity?

She knew a lot about the new boss of NCHV Medical Company from Alexia. Everyone said he was well-connected and well-off.

Was that what people thought of him?

"Don't ask me. I really know nothing." Kathy frowned.

Soon Joseph's assistant John came to announce the new personnel arrangement that NCHV Medical Company would not have any layoffs, and if the employees wanted to leave, the company would also make compensation. From now on, all the employees of NCHV Medical Company would get a 10% raise in salary.

As for the change among top leaders, Joseph had chosen another to be the CEO. The new CEO would be the head of NCHV Medical Company.

All of a sudden, the hot atmosphere in the meeting room subsided a lot. The announcement meant that Joseph will not come to NCHV Medical Company in the future. He was the boss behind the Company, but not involved in the Company's decisionmaking affairs.

"Why Dr. Joseph made such a big purchase of NCHV Medical Company?"

"Yes, NCHV Medical Company is going broke."

"Kathy, what do you think about?" Alexia looked at her with a grin of gossip.

Kathy was covering her ears. She didn't want to hear anything about Joseph right now.

Kathy opened the mail and pretended to be calm and got on with her work as usual.

It just seemed like someone was always bothering her.

John knocked the door, and almost everyone were looking at him. But he said, "Miss Kathy, Boss Joseph asked you to go to his office."

Then he walked up to Kathy and said the boss wanted to see her.□□□□□□
