

Sweetheart 741

Chapter 741: the nation's husband, mu yichen, is already married?

everyone was immediately stunned when they heard this!

even though the reporters had their own speculations, their hearts still trembled when they heard luochenxin say that mu yichen was her husband with their own ears!

'the nation's husband, mu yichen, is already married?'

how could such a thing happen?

"this ... this is impossible! young master mu doesn't even have a rumored girlfriend, how could he suddenly get married?"

"yes, that's right! if a top wealthy family like the mu family were to hold a wedding, it would definitely be a grand one. how could there be no news at all?"

"i've never heard of young master mu having a wife. this is fake. it must be fake!"

"how could this thief who stole someone else's design be young master mu's wife? i don't believe that our male god is so blind!"

luochenxin's expression turned a little ugly when she heard so many doubtful voices.

boxnovel.com

these people actually said that mu yichen was blind?

she thought that they were the ones who were blind, right?

she and mu yichen were a perfect match made in heaven!

luochenxin sneered, 'i say ... my friends from the media, you have to be responsible for what you say! otherwise, i'll really sue you! i said i'm the young mistress of the mu family, so of course i have evidence. open your eyes and take a good look!"

as she spoke, she took out her phone from her bag, opened her photo album, swiped a few pages, and handed it to the host who was closest to her.

the host looked down and his eyes instantly widened in shock. he couldn't even speak.

"this ... this ... really ..."

the people around her gathered around her and looked at the phone in her hand.

luochenxin and shengyu looked at each other before they walked over as well.

on the screen was an extremely clear wedding photo.

in the photo, a beautiful woman in a white off-shoulder wedding dress was standing next to a tall man.

although the man's face was obviously cold and impatient, the woman seemed a little uneasy.

however, everyone could still easily recognize that these two people were ... mu yichen and xingchen!

luo chenxi could not help frowning when she saw the photo.

sheng yu suddenly frowned and asked in a low voice behind her, "what's going on? the person in the photo ..."

"it's me."

luo chenxi turned her head to the side. at an angle where luo chenxin could not see, she secretly mouthed a silent gesture to sheng yu.

she had never seen this photo before, but she could tell that it was taken during her wedding with mu yichen just by looking at the background.

mu yichen was extremely against getting married to luo chenxin. that was why they did not take any wedding photos before the wedding.

even the wedding was held very sloppily, which did not match the mu family's power and status at all. only a few tables were set up in the villa and close relatives and friends were invited, and it was considered a wedding.

even in a middle-class family, such a scene would be considered shabby.

moreover, the wedding dress that luo chenxi was wearing was bought at the last minute so it did not fit her well.

however, luo chenxi had been feeling very uneasy as a substitute bride at the time. she was only thinking about how to deal with mu yichen. hence, she did not feel sad about the shabbiness of the wedding.

luo chenxin gestured to the host. "flip to the back. there are several photos." the wedding was held in the mu family's villa, and the decorations inside already explained this. when second young master mu was interviewed in the past, he had shown off his mansion. everyone should have an impression of it, right? if you don't remember, you can compare it with the photos on the internet."

Chapter 742: the power behind the mu family is unimaginably powerful the reporters present took out their phones on the spot and compared it with the photo on mu yiling's weibo.

the result was obvious. the background of the wedding photo luo chenxin showed was really the mu family's villa!

many people's expressions changed on the spot.

"this ... xingchen is really mrs. mu!"

"heavens! 'the nation's husband, mu yichen, is married!' this ... this is the real big news!"

“i didn’t expect this, i really didn’t expect this at all! how did young master mu ...”

some of them wanted to express their disdain for luo chenxin, but their mouths were covered by their companions before they could finish their words.

“you’re crazy! that’s the young mistress of the mu family, you still dare to spout nonsense? don’t drag our entire news agency down with you!”

the gazes that were cast on them from all directions changed from the disdain they had at the beginning to reverence.

ordinary people might still think that the mu family was just a little richer. although they had some privileges, they were nothing.

however, these media reporters all understood that the power behind the mu family was unimaginably powerful. even the fu family, which had produced several presidents, could only stand firm in hua’s political scene with the support of the mu family.

if xingchen was really the wife of the mu family’s powerful young master mu, then it was just as she had said. she really had no need to steal other people’s design drafts just to become famous or earn a few dollars.

she already had everything, what more was this bit of reputation?

even if she really stole someone else’s idea, as long as she had the mu family behind her, no one would have the guts to expose her!

it wasn’t like he didn’t want to live anymore!

for a moment, the reporters who were still angry just a moment ago were all as quiet as chickens. they didn’t even dare to let out a fart.

all of them shrank their necks and did not even dare to look at luo chenxin.

suddenly, someone shouted, “young mistress mu, your design today is so outstanding that anyone with a little bit of aesthetic standard can see it. you definitely deserve the fame and popularity you have today! no wonder today’s new product launch was so successful.”

the reporters cursed in their hearts when they heard this.

f * ck!

this shameless bootlicker!

his reaction was so fast that he was ahead of everyone else!

since this person had started, the others also put down their concerns and fought to please luo chenxin.

” miss xingchen, your designs are really amazing. no wonder everyone says that you’re a rising star in the fashion circle in china! ”

“what new star? he’s clearly the brightest star! even the godfather of the fashion industry is feeling threatened.”

“isn’t it? young mistress mu, your new product this time is really great. who said that it was plagiarized? who said the quality was bad? this was a style! some people have been famous for too long and are already out of touch with the new trends in the fashion industry!”

in order to clear luochenxin’s name, these people did not hesitate to turn the spearhead around and pour the dirty water on shengyu.

most people knew very well that with shengyu’s status in the fashion industry, it was impossible for him to say something without careful consideration. it was absolutely based on facts and reason.

but, so what?

no matter how good shengyu was, he was just a designer of SL holdings.

even if he was born into a rich family, the sheng family could never compare to the mu family. as the third young master, he was not in charge of family affairs. how could he be compared to the eldest young master of the mu family?

if they had to choose someone to suck up to, they would definitely choose young mistress mu.

Chapter 743: you are the real mrs. mu!

luochenxin smiled with satisfaction and lifted her chin proudly.

he did not even pay attention to shengyu’s current situation.

as long as she was the young mistress of the mu family, all the public opinion would be on her side.

what plagiarism, what plagiarism, those were not a problem!

shengyu watched from the side and was so angry that he was about to vomit blood.

her first reaction was to rush forward and expose luochenxin’s true colors.

however, at this moment, he suddenly felt a tight grip on his sleeve.

luochenxi pulled him from behind.

shengyu came back to his senses and suddenly realized that it was not the time to act up.

boxnovel.com

he frowned. he turned around and followed luochenxi. they retreated from the crowd and walked to a quiet corner where no one was around.

everyone was busy trying to please luochenxin, so no one noticed their departure.

shengxiao’s anger had not subsided. “damn it, luochenxin, that b*tch!” in the past, i only knew that she was shameless. today, i finally know that she can actually be shameless to this extent! i think you might as well stop tolerating her and expose her true colors. tell everyone that she's a shameless imposter and that you're the real mrs. mu!"

luo chenxi's eyes were filled with rage while her body was trembling ever so slightly.

in terms of anger, she was definitely much more serious than sheng yu.

however, she also knew that she had to stay calm.

she and mu yichen had yet to expose luo chenxin until now. they could not afford to mess up their original plan because of a moment of rashness.

however, she was really unwilling to swallow her anger ...

at this moment, in the middle of the venue, the reporters had already finished taking photos.

the people who flattered luo chenxin became the daughters of rich families and movie stars.

these people were all smart people, and they all knew that just saying some flattering words had no effect at all.

therefore, the method they used was more direct.

"xingchen, your design is really amazing! i love it so much! i want this one! just sell it to me! if you don't sell it to me, i'm not leaving today!"

su tongtong, who was known as the jade lady sect leader, pointed at a piece of clothing on the fake model and said loudly.

luo chenxi and sheng yu turned around to take a look. the dress su tongtong was pointing at was the one that sheng yu had accused of plagiarizing. it was difficult to explain in terms of color, fabric, and style.

however, su tongtong was able to praise it as a flower.

he even had a fanatical look on his face as if he was going to die if he couldn't buy it.

"tsk, tsk. the media said that su tongtong is a flower vase with only good looks, and her acting skills are very awkward. in my opinion, which part of her acting skills is bad? it was clearly very good! it's simply one of a kind!"

sheng yu gritted his teeth and complained.

luo chenxi almost laughed out loud despite the tense atmosphere.

when sheng yu heard the commotion, he turned around and glared at her with an expression of disappointment.

"smile, smile, smile, you can actually still smile! not only did luo chenxin steal your design, but she also pretended to be you! 'you're not taking it seriously, but when mu yichen is really snatched away by her

... just wait to cry!' 'or have you been thinking of dumping mu yichen and marrying me for a long time? that's exactly what you wanted?"

luo chenxi's petite face immediately turned serious. " chief sheng, you're really overthinking things! if my husband heard you say that, he'll be jealous!"

"hubby? the whole country knows that mu yichen is luo chenxin's husband now!"

Chapter 744: mom will come over immediately to support you!

luo chenxi pursed her lips. her expression was inevitably stiff.

"it's okay, i have a way to cure her."

as she spoke, she took out her phone from her backpack and made a call.

when sheng yu saw this, he scoffed coldly, 'what's the matter? you're thinking of asking mu yichen for help now? didn't you just say that mu yichen won't be able to return from abroad? it's useless to look for him now, let's just watch me ..."

before he could finish, the call was connected.

he heard luo chenxi calling out sweetly, " "mom!"

then, she quickly explained the situation, " mom, i didn't go very well at the new product launch today ... " as soon as he started, tan yueru took over the phone.

tan yueru didn't even say goodbye and quickly hung up.

he must be on his way here.

the phone call was very short and ended in less than ten seconds.

however, sheng yu, who was at the side, was so shocked that his jaw almost fell to the ground.

when he heard the word 'mother', he knew that the person who was talking to luo chenxi on the phone earlier was certainly mu yichen's mother, tan yueru.

ms. tan was a famous person in the upper-class circle of china. this first-class socialite was not easy to get along with. if she did not like her, she could embarrass her in minutes.

therefore, sheng xiao thought that a mother-in-law like tan yueru would be more difficult to deal with than an ordinary mother-in-law.

even if luo chenxi was mu yichen's favorite, her family background was ordinary after all. she also had a stain on her reputation because of the 'proxy marriage'. how could tan yueru possibly treat her nicely?

at most, he would only maintain a superficial courtesy toward her for mu yichen's sake.

in the end, the phone call just now completely overturned his imagination!

tan yueru had actually come to support luo chenxi without a second word!

moreover, judging by her tone, she was treating luo chenxi as her own daughter. she could not bear to see her being bullied by outsiders.

luo chenxi did not notice anything wrong with sheng yu. she hung up the phone and said with a smile, "alright, now we just have to wait for mom to come!"

"chief sheng, mr. chen! so the two of you are here, i've been looking for you for a long time!"

suddenly, someone called out to them from behind.

at the same time, urgent footsteps could be heard.

both of them were surprised. they turned their heads and saw tian yidan, the famous director of T city tv station. he was in charge of today's live broadcast.

sheng yu immediately frowned. "director tian?"

tian yidan looked at the two of them. he hesitated for a while, then coughed twice and said, " "ahem. chief sheng, mr. chen, i have something to trouble you with ... "

"what's the matter?" luo chenxi asked.

director tian rubbed his hands and stammered, "well ... ahem, actually ... you saw it just now. miss xingchen is actually the young mistress of the mu family, young master mu's newly-married wife! with her status ... she can't afford to offend anyone ..."

luo chenxi had already guessed what he was going to say. her expression darkened. "get to the point!"

director tian said, "the two of you just said that young mistress mu stole someone else's design. that's too offensive." so, can i trouble you to go to the front and accept another interview to clarify?"

Chapter 745: smacking the faces of all the bootlickers present!

sheng xiao's eyes were cold. "what do you mean ... by clarifying?"

director tian saw that the two of them were not willing to cooperate, so his attitude became tough.

"both of you are smart people, so i'll be direct! the young mistress of the mu family wanted to be a designer. how could anyone go against her at her new product launch? you said that young mistress mu plagiarized and stole the manuscript. is this something you can blindly say? what would others think of her? this will also affect the mu family's reputation!"

” so, in order to salvage the situation, i think it’s better for the two of you to cooperate. during the interview later, just say that you saw wrongly and rashly criticized constellation without any verification. in fact, you’ve already confirmed that there’s nothing wrong with constellation’s design ... ” hearing this, sheng yu could not hold it in any longer and interrupted him with a cold voice.

“so, director tian’s meaning is for us to lie through our teeth? it’s obviously plagiarism, and she’s still saying that she didn’t do it?”

when director tian heard the word ‘plagiarism’, he was so nervous that he almost jumped up on the spot.

she quickly looked left and right to make sure that no one was around, before she turned back and lowered her voice. ” chief sheng, why would young mistress mu do such a thing? she didn’t do it, do you understand? you must remember this!”

tian yidan was getting impatient. ” it’s not your first day in this circle. do you still need me to say more? ” even if mr. sheng was the young master of the sheng family, what good would he get if he offended the mu family? also, mr. chen, your career has just started. if the mu family wants to ban you, it’s as easy as lifting a finger!”

“i advise the two of you not to play with your future just for a bit of face! although he would be scolded by the netizens if he admitted that he had framed young lady mu, it was still better than being banned by the mu family, right? everyone should know how to weigh the pros and cons ...”

tian yidan tried to persuade him.

luo chenxi did not answer. she frowned ever so slightly and turned her head to look in luo chenxin’s direction.

luo chenxin happened to look in her direction.

at this time, she was very proud and arrogant.

luo chenxi felt like beating someone up again when she saw that.

she took a deep breath and said, ” alright, i’ll accept another interview. ” tian yidan was overjoyed, ” that’s right! a wise man submits to circumstances! alright, please come this way.”

he led the two of them to the center of the venue and motioned for all the cameras to point at them.

after that, he asked the host to step forward.

” chief sheng, mr. chen, i heard you two have something to say? ” luo chenxi nodded and spoke first, " what i want to say is that it's true that luo chenxin stole other people's designs and plagiarized foreign brands. " could it be that just because she had leaked a few photos of the mu family's villa, she could clear her name? just because she had a photo, did it mean that she was the young mistress of the mu family? i'm really worried about your intelligence!"

luo chenxin's expression changed when she heard that.

she had thought that chen xiluo had given in and had come back for the interview.

whoever knew that he actually dared to say that!

this was not only a slap to her face, but it was also an arrogant slap to the face of all the bootlickers present!

"chen xiluo! you've slandered me time and time again, and i've tolerated it, but i can't tolerate it anymore this time! you're simply ..."

luo chenxin couldn't help but speak up and wanted to refute him.

however, at this moment, there was a commotion at the door.

luo chenxi had a joyous expression on her face. " i didn't expect mother to come so soon! " however, it turned out that she had guessed wrong ...

Chapter 746: aren't they too loving?

the exhibition center's door opened.

a tall and imposing figure came against the light.

almost at the moment young master mu appeared, the entire venue was in an uproar.

"young master mu! it's actually young master mu!"

initially, the reporters were attracted by luo chenxi's words earlier. they surrounded her in an attempt to create some big news.

but now, no one could care about her and sheng yu.

mu yichen had actually appeared!

the fact that he would lower himself and appear at such an ordinary brand's new product launch was already eye-catching.

moreover, everyone had just learned from luo chenxin that she and young master mu were actually husband and wife!

was there a need to explain the reason behind mu yichen's appearance?

" young master mu actually came personally to support constellation! "

“what’s so strange about that? didn’t he also publicly promote xing chen at the angel film festival?”

“but ... but ... sigh, i still find it unbelievable! young master mu was the nation’s husband. he could have any woman he wanted, but he actually married a girl with such an ordinary family background. and he even came all the way here to promote her ... isn’t this too much of a loving relationship?”

“so what if you think it’s incredible? stellar union is just lucky!”

“i’m so envious. if i can be mrs. mu for just one day and still get young master mu’s care and concern, then it’s worth it even if i die the next day!”

the venue was filled with discussions.

in particular, a group of daughters from rich and powerful families with outstanding family backgrounds stared at mu yichen’s handsome face. they were so jealous that their eyes turned red.

they thought that their status was barely worthy of young master mu, and which one of them had not secretly dreamed of becoming the young mistress of the mu family? in the end ... xingchen had beaten them to it!

mu yichen slowly walked to the center of the hall under the public’s watchful eyes.

the flashes from all directions became one.

luo chenxin’s eyes widened. she stared at mu yichen without blinking. she held her heart with both hands. she was so excited that she almost could not stand still.

mu yichen had actually come!

she did not expect young master mu to appear at first. after all, mu yichen had refused to reconcile with her at the angel film festival.

she had thought that she would need to put in some effort to win mu yichen’s favor again.

she did not expect mu yichen to meet her at the product launch before she could do anything.

in luo chen’s mind, mu yichen must be regretting his decision to divorce her.

however, he could not bring himself to apologize to her.

this time, he had personally appeared at the product launch not only to support her and support her career, but also to subtly express his desire to reconcile ...

luo chenxin thought about it and thought that he had grasped young master mu’s inner thoughts.

the corners of her mouth curled up, and a charming smile appeared on her face.

she deliberately adjusted her posture and walked in a standard catwalk manner. she walked gracefully and gracefully toward mu yichen step by step.

“hubby, thank you for coming all the way here to support me.”

she said sweetly and extended her arms toward mu yichen.

she thought that mu yichen would seize the opportunity to move forward and pull her into his arms.

yet, who would have known that mu yichen did not even spare her a glance. he did not move at all.

there was no expression on his handsome and cold face, only his slightly furrowed brows, which made him look a little impatient.

luo chenxin's arm froze in mid-air.

she waited for a while and found that young master mu still didn't pay attention to her. he even glanced past her and kept looking behind her.

Chapter 747: she must show off her love for mu yichen luo chen was unwilling to give up. he bit his lip and called out again, "honey ..."

however, mu yichen did not pay attention to what she was saying at all.

he placed all his attention on luo chenxi and sheng yu who were standing behind luo chenxi.

his little woman didn't even call him to inform him of such a big thing.

if it wasn't for her mother who couldn't stand it and contacted him, he would still be in the dark!

and the idea this little woman came up with was to bring sheng yu along to the press conference?

is there a mistake? did this stupid woman not know who her husband was?

when luo chenxi saw mu yichen, her initial surprise turned into joy. she widened her large, sparkly eyes and shot him a look continuously to signal him to get rid of luo chenxin as soon as possible.

however, mu yichen did not seem to understand what she meant. not only did he ignore luo chenxin, but he was also glaring at her.

his face was getting darker and darker, almost dripping ink.

luo chenxi had a dumbfounded expression on her face. she did not know what this man was being tsundere about this time.

sheng yu had guessed it.

he shot mu yichen a provocative look and took two steps toward luo chenxi on purpose.

with this, the distance between the two of them was less than ten centimeters, and they were about to touch.

mu yichen exploded in anger instantly. his voice was cold."sheng ..."

he had just started when a pungent fragrance suddenly rushed over. immediately after, a soft body crashed into his arms.

“hubby, i’m so happy that you could come today ...”

luo chenxin’s sweet voice was heard in her ears.

at the same time, she didn’t forget to rub against his body.

luo chenxin thought that mu yichen was still embarrassed when he noticed that he did not say anything.

therefore, she decided to give young master mu a way out and simply took the initiative to stick to him.

she thought to herself, ‘i’ve already taken the initiative to this extent. no matter how angry mu yichen is, it’s time for him to calm down. it’s also a good opportunity for everyone to see clearly how loving she is with young master mu!’

when she thought of this, she pouted her lips again and pressed them against mu yichen’s sexy thin lips.

he planned to have a passionate kiss.

they would definitely make the headlines tomorrow. she would definitely show off her love for mu yichen and let those little b * tches who said that she was not worthy of young master mu see how pampered she was in the mu family!

luo chenxin stood on her tiptoes and was about to kiss him.

suddenly, she felt a sharp pain in her shoulder. at the same time, a strong pushing force hit her, causing her to lose her balance and fall backward.

luo chenxin did not expect such an unforeseen event at all and was caught off guard.

he took a few steps back and could not stabilize his body.

with a “crack,” she suddenly felt a sharp pain in her ankle.

she had not fully recovered from the sprained ankle at the angel film festival, and now she twisted it again in her high heels, which made her injury even more serious.

luo chenxin’s face twisted immediately because of the pain.

he fell backward with a thud.

“it hurts ... it hurts!”

luo chenxin’s face turned pale, and she could not help but scream.

everyone present was stunned by this sudden turn of events.

all of them were tongue-tied and unable to speak.

the venue suddenly fell silent.

luo chenxin had bragged so much about herself earlier, and mu yichen had actually appeared at the product launch.

everyone thought that they would definitely see a dog-torturing show today.

Chapter 748: when did i become your husband?

no one expected mu yichen to have such a reaction when his 'lovely wife' threw herself into his arms. he had pushed luo chenxin away!

moreover, judging from luo chenxin's miserable state on the ground, he was not showing any mercy at all.

after a short silence, the venue became chaotic again.

"what's going on? what happened?"

"what is young master mu doing? why did you push his wife away?"

"isn't it too much to push him so hard? could it be that young master mu was usually like this? then he won't be violent at home, right?"

" i know, young master mu definitely likes men. his marriage with xingchen is only a marriage of convenience. so, once xingchen touches him, he will reflexively push her away! " for a moment, there were all sorts of guesses.

boxn ov el. c o m

however, no matter what the crowd guessed, the only thing that remained unchanged was the sympathetic look they gave luo chenxin.

"tsk, tsk, it's not that easy to enter a rich family! that blissful expression on her face just now was all an act, right?"

" as the saying goes, 'the more you eat, the more you drink.' with her family background, if she wants to marry into a rich family, of course she has to recognize her own identity. " luo chenxin's face was extremely stiff.

her brain was buzzing and in a mess.

she could not understand why mu yichen would treat her like this no matter how hard she thought about it.

didn't he come here to support her?

luo chenxin stared at his cold and ruthless face. she gritted her teeth and used all her willpower to endure the severe pain in her ankle. she supported her body and tried to stand up.

"h-hubby ... what happened to you just now? it must have been an accident, right? my ankle is injured, you ... you help me up first ..."

she tried to hypnotize herself.

she convinced herself that it was an accident and mu yichen did not mean it.

now that he saw it in her hand, he must have regretted it.

the reason why he didn't immediately go forward to help her up was that he didn't expect her to be so seriously injured. he was scared silly.

luo chenxin extended her arm toward mu yichen as she spoke.

as expected, mu yichen furrowed his brows. he strode toward her with his long legs.

luo chenxin was secretly relieved and looked happy. she felt that the injury on her ankle did not hurt as much.

mu yichen was truly regretful and his heart ached for her!

she pursed her lips and made a pitiful expression on purpose. "hubby, you've really gone too far this time. look at me here ..."

however, mu yichen stopped in his tracks. his gaze swept past her.

but he didn't reach out to help her.

"honey ..."

mu yichen turned around just as luo chenxin was feeling puzzled.

she said coldly, "miss, the husband you're talking about ... is it me? when did i become your husband? i advise you to stop spouting nonsense and confusing us! otherwise, i'll sue you for slander and pursue legal responsibility!"

luo chenxin was stunned when she heard that.

she couldn't come back to her senses for a long time.

she had guessed that mu yichen might not be willing to pull her up if his anger had not subsided.

however, she had never thought that mu yichen would deny their marriage in her worst case scenario.

she quickly called out when she saw mu yichen turning around to leave.

Chapter 749: fake, it's all fake!

mu yichen curled his lips coldly as if he was looking at a fool.

"wedding photos? where did the wedding photos come from? i don't remember taking wedding photos with any woman!"

it had always been his regret that he had never taken a wedding photo with this little woman.

every time he mentioned to luo chenxi that he wanted to reshoot, the little woman would reject him because it was not the right time yet.

he was obviously worried about Luo Chenxin's existence!

he had already planned to settle the score with Luo Chen, but she still touched his sore spot and ended up hitting the muzzle of her gun!

Mu Yichen's gaze turned even colder at the thought of this.

When Luo Chenxin made eye contact with him, she immediately shivered and was so scared that she could not speak.

However, she also knew her current situation. She had to prove that she was really Mrs. Mu. Otherwise, she would really be finished!

she quickly took out her phone and showed the media the photos she had just shown.

his mouth trembled as he urgently emphasized, "it's true! I really have wedding photos! hubby, have you forgotten? we even invited a lot of relatives and friends to our wedding. you can't deny it!"

Mu Yichen took a glance at the photo and sneered, "you call this a wedding photo? 'would my wedding be so shabby?' what do you think the Mu family is?"

As soon as he said that, everyone present had a feeling of sudden realization.

"I was wondering why these photos looked a little weird!"

"That's right. How can Young Master Mu's wedding only have a few tables? Where would the Mu family's face go? It's impossible!"

"Oh, I get it. These photos must have been photoshopped! It's fake, it's all fake!"

The reporters made their speculations based on Mu Yichen's train of thought.

Luo Chenxin was even more anxious when she heard that. She shouted, "you ... are you all blind? How could this be photoshopped? This was the original picture! I ... I really married Young Master Mu! This was a picture of the wedding scene! Take a good look!"

However, no one was interested in verifying the authenticity of her photo even after she shouted for a long time.

Not to mention that her photo was really suspicious, even if it wasn't, since Young Master Mu said it was fake, then the real one must be fake!

After all, what was the difference between a Mrs. Mu who was not acknowledged by Young Master Mu and a flower vase?

"She's actually so bold to pretend to be the young mistress of the Mu family. She's definitely in trouble now, right?"

"It's not just tragic, it's tragic beyond compare! Even if Young Master Mu didn't appear today, just based on the fact that she was tied up with the nation's husband to create hype, she would be torn to pieces by Young Master Mu's wife fans!"

luo chenxin was so anxious that she almost vomited blood.

in order to get rid of her and divorce her, young master mu actually lied to her openly.

she was clearly mu yichen's wife. even if it was that little b * tch, luo chenxi, who was at the wedding at the time, she, luo chenxin, was also written on the red booklet ...

at the thought of this, her eyes lit up and she quickly raised her voice again.

“alright, it's fine if you think the photo was photoshopped! however, young master mu and i have a marriage certificate. we are legally married! don't you entertainment news reporters all have connections? we'll know if it's real if we go to the civil affairs bureau to verify it, right?”

luo chenxin's explanation successfully made most of the people quiet down.

that was because what she said made too much sense.

whether they were husband and wife or not had nothing to do with the wedding photos.

Chapter 750: she had always been single in the end, it still depended on the registration at the civil affairs bureau.

however, the reporters didn't immediately pick up their phones and go to the civil affairs bureau to inquire through their connections. instead, they all turned their eyes to the cold-looking young master mu.

their so-called 'connections' were only to check on the marital status of ordinary people.

this was because it was against the rules.

even if it was a popular celebrity, the people at the civil affairs bureau were not willing to take the risk of divulging the privacy of the other party.

moreover, it was a top wealthy family like the mu family.

who would dare to publicize young master mu's marital status?

unless he was tired of living!

mu yichen squinted his eyes and stared at luo chenxin coldly. his eyes were filled with monstrous anger!

the back of luo chenxin's clothes was soaked with cold sweat.

she was extremely regretful that she had revealed that she was the young mistress of the mu family today, but it was useless to regret it now.

for the little bit of reputation she had left, she had to prove her identity and call young master mu a scumbag. only then could she win everyone's sympathy.

the corners of mu yichen's lips were pursed slightly. he let out a cold snort with an unknown meaning. he spoke in disdain, "alright, since everyone wants to know about my marital status, i'll let you know. i have no need to hide it. zhuofeng, call the civil affairs bureau and ask them to provide proof of my marriage status." also, if anyone wants to check today, you can reply truthfully."

zhuo feng appeared out of nowhere and ran out of the door.

once again, everyone was in an uproar.

the reporters were excited and called the civil affairs bureau.

however ...

"damn, i can't get through! why can't i get through?"

"are you an idiot? with so many people calling at the same time, of course, there's a 99% chance that it's a busy tone!"

" actually, even without checking, we know that young master mu is definitely telling the truth. why would he lie? " luo chenxin's heart turned cold instantly when she saw mu yichen's fearless expression.

could it be that ... she had never registered with mu yichen before?

that was impossible!

how was that possible?

the mu family was a legitimate wealthy family, and marrying a wife was also a serious matter. how could they do something like just having a drink and not getting a marriage certificate?

unless that little b * tch, luo chenxi, was an idiot who did not even know if she had collected her marriage certificate!

in reality, luo chenxi, the 'idiot' in her eyes, was truly in a daze at the moment.

she could not react to mu yichen's words at all.

what kind of situation was this? mu yichen and luo chenxin had not registered their marriage?

however, when she quarreled with mu weiwei in the past, she always claimed that she was the officially married young mistress mu and used her status to oppress her. mu yichen was watching from the side, but he had never corrected her!

in just a minute, the faster-reacting reporters had already obtained the exact news from the civil affairs bureau.

“that’s right, the information i got here is the same.”

a few minutes later, the director of the T civil affairs bureau rushed into the venue, sweating.

she hastily nodded and bowed when she saw mu yichen.

“young ... young master mu, sorry to keep you waiting. i’ve brought you the proof of your marriage status that you wanted ...”

the bureau chief was still confused until now. he could not figure out why mu yichen suddenly wanted this kind of proof.
