

My Sweetheart

Chapter 8 Joseph Was Always Single

Looking at Kathy, Joseph smiled.

Only Matthew and Kathy went to the study. Kathy was inevitably a little nervous.

"Kathy, sit down." Matthew didn't put on airs and looked kind.

Kathy smiled, still standing upright, and couldn't get relaxed.

"Be relaxed. Take it as your own home."

Kathy didn't dare, but it was less nervous.

"How long have you known my grandson?"

"One month."

"Lightning marriage! How did you know him?"

"I went to the hospital for check and Joseph was exactly my doctor, so I knew it."

"How can you get his appointment?" Matthew asked suspiciously.

After all, as his grandfather, he had never got his appointment!

"Um, I was just extremely lucky!" Kathy responded it quickly.

"You are really predestined, who took the initiative step?"

"Of course I was his suitor. Dr. Joseph is so good. If I didn't woo, how would he notice me?"

"No, that guy has such a bad temper. Nobody can bear him even he was good-looking. He was always single until he met you. I think he had done many good things in his previous life. That's why he can marry you."

Kathy looked at Matthew with admiration for a long time, and Grandpa was so nice to her!

However, Joseph was always single? Uh, it seemed impossible for him. She thought that he must have had many girlfriends!

Grandpa must lie to her, right?

"I think I was the luckiest woman in the world. Dr. Joseph was my idol. It was my wish to marry him. I didn't expect it would come true." Kathy showed a fascinated expression.

Of course, she practiced this expression for a long time.

Matthew rubbed his chin, was very satisfied.

"That guy has fans?"

Kathy lowered her head. It was certain.

Joseph not only has fans, but even a backup group, and he deserved to be called as a super star.

But if his fans knew he was married ... would she be surrounded by her fans?

Thinking of this, Kathy decided to keep their marriage as a secret!

Leaving the study, Kathy planned to go home, but the housekeeper took her to Joseph's bedroom. The door was locked when she wanted to go out! Kathy immediately came to open the door, but it was late.

As soon as she turned around, Joseph came out of the bathroom. Kathy was attracted by the man's good looking.

The man's hairs were wet, water dripping from his hairs, went along his delicate eyebrows, straight nose, sexy thin lips, to the neck, on the perfect chest muscles. The drops on his chest was attractively glittering.

He didn't wear clothes on his upper part of body, only surrounded by bath towels on his lower part of body. And the crystal drops slowly flowed from his upper body to his lower abdomen.

Kathy was dumbfounded and screamed in her heart, "What an attractive man!"

"Are you fascinated by me?" Joseph approached, standing in front of Kathy.

She just felt the forehead was hot, and something liquid was flowing from her nostrils.

Staring at Joseph's pectoral muscles, she blinked. Her vision became more and more blurred. She grabbed something. Oh, she seized Joseph's bath towel...

The man frowned and hugged Kathy steadily. She looked at Joseph at the last glance and got fainted completely.

"Are you frightened?" Joseph's voice was hoarse. At this moment, she seemed to have touched his genital. Looking down, Kathy checked that her hand was on his genital...

Joseph was anxious, and threw her on the bed.
