Chapter 1041

“Even if they’re backed by Reach For Will Group, they’re no match for Jen–Bond Holdings!”

Samuel spoke confidently.

“Sam’s right.”

Old Madam Quinn nodded in agreement.

Kent said no more. He only sighed and kept quiet.

He finally understood Sean’s meaning when he said the Quinn family was unrepentant and blind.

However, he could not resist anything and could only watch the Quinn family go on.

A private room.

Jon and Quill were already waiting.

Seeing Old Madam Quinn and the rest come in, they greeted them enthusiastically.

“Mr. Zimmer, we’re not going to eat.

“Let’s get down to business...”

Old Madam Quinn sat down and got straight to the point.

Old Madam Quinn looked puzzled.

Jon and Quill were equally surprised.

None of them could figure out why Sean was here.

Did Jon not invite the Quinn family here to talk things over?

Why was Sean involved in this again?

Also, the person outside said Mr. James Thomson was here.

Then why did Sean show up instead of James?

In a short time, countless thoughts raced through the minds of the people in the room.

Eventually, none of them could figure out what was going on.

“What’s the matter? Do I need to introduce myself?”

Sean put his hands behind his back and asked indifferently as he looked at the crowd.

The crowd gradually came to their senses after he spoke.

“Sean, what are you doing here?”

Quill instantly hit the table, got up, and shouted as he pointed at Sean.

“Watching a show.”

Sean’s eyes were calm as he muttered.

'A show?

"What show?

"Whose show?"

The crowd was more confused to hear that.

"Quill, Mr. Thomson is a generous man. Don't argue with Sean. Stop speaking."

Jon immediately said as he gave Quill a look.

He thought James was going to use Jen-Bond Holdings to humiliate Sean.

That was why he deliberately asked Sean to stay.

"Yes."

Quill answered before sitting down.

"Sean, what do you mean? Mr. Thomson hasn't even touched his cutleries yet. You!"

Suddenly, Quill saw Sean picking up a slice of fruit and could not help losing his temper again.

Many people were waiting for James to sit down and start eating.

Even someone old as Old Madam Quinn waited.

Sean not only had the cheek to freeload a meal but had the gall to eat before the others.

Quill could not stand it.

"Can we talk business in peace?"

“Get out if you can’t!”

James yelled as he suddenly banged the table.

“Yes! Sean, get the f*ck out right now!”

Smug, Quill shouted as he pointed at Sean.

“I’m talking about you!”

James suddenly picked up a cup of coffee and threw it at Quill.

“What?”

Everyone froze instantly.

They also stopped taking food.

Sean casually picked up another slice of fruit again.

The private room was quiet except for the sound of Sean picking up food.

His calm demeanor was in stark contrast to the Quinn family and Jon’s panic.

“Mr... Mr. Thomson, is... is this a joke...”

A few seconds later, Jon forced a smile and said as he looked at James.

“Yes, Mr. Thomson. You...”

Samuel nodded too. He thought James must be joking too.

Jen–Bond Holdings had no reason to divest!

They had put so much money and effort into taking over River City.

Besides, the future profits of the developing River City was immeasurable.

Why would Jen–Bond Holdings want to give up such a profitable land?

Was it because Sean knew Souz River’s Mr. Freeman and was backed by Reach For Will Group?

With Jen–Bond Holdings’ powerful financial resources and terrifying background, they should not fear Reach For Will Group!

“I’m not kidding you.

“HQ has announced it.

“They asked me to wrap things up and return to Janestown.

“You can do whatever you want in River City. Jen–Bond Holdings isn’t getting involved anymore.”

James said, slowly rising to his feet.

Everyone finally confirmed that James was not kidding.

Jen–Bond Holdings was indeed pulling out of River City!

In other words, the Zimmer family lost their big backer, Jen–Bond Holdings.

Therefore, would the Quinn family’s plan to use the Zimmer family to get connected to Jen- Bond Holdings has gone down the drain?

They suddenly remembered what Sean had said when he got here.

Jon fumed and banged the table.

“So what if I bully you?”

Sean replied, leaving Jon silent instantly.

‘So what if he bullies us?’

He was so straightforward that Jon could not retort him.

Sean was no longer the same wheelchair-bound loser that people could trample over.

He was wealthy and powerful.

He had Reach For Will Group behind him.

He was capable of getting Reach For Will Group on his side.

Jon wanted to suck up to them, but Reach For Will Group did not even care about them.

During the process, the Quinn family said nothing as if they were mute.

Even James stood by and said nothing.

Sean had taken control of the entire room.

They could feel unwilling but could only accept it.

“Well, Mr. Quinn, help me out. Talk to Sean.

“I’ll do anything as long as he will leave the Zimmer family alone...”

Jon grabbed Samuel’s arm again and said urgently.

However, Samuel glanced at Old Madam Quinn and shook his head helplessly after hearing Jon’s speaking.

How could they talk to Sean?

Forget about the Zimmer family. They had no idea if Sean would go after the Quinn family next.

His biggest enemy—the Zimmer family had been eliminated.

No one knew if Sean would go after the Quinn family now.

Samuel tore Jon’s arm off before turning away.

The Quinn family also left.

Only Jon and Quill were left in the private room.

“Dad, is... is there nothing else we can do...”

Quill asked, clenching his fists and gritting his teeth.

He was deeply unconvinced.

However, he had to accept it.

Sean was so brutal and shrewd that they were caught off guard.

“Run! We must run now.”

Jon pondered for two seconds before looking at Quill.

“Run? We’re blacklisted for breach of trust.

She even thought Sean was bluffing.

However, they would find out tomorrow whether Sean was bluffing.

12 a.m.

Desperate, Jon and his family packed up to leave River City overnight.

He could not afford to repay the debt of three hundred million dollars.

His only option was to run.

“We'll take the back road out of River City later.

“As long as we can get out of here and go overseas, we'll be alright.”

Jon checked his phone before saying to Quill.

“Okay!”

Quill got into the driver's seat and started driving.

Without proof, he could not do anything to Jon.

Even though he ruled River City, the amount of money involved in Jon's case was too much.

It would cause a big stir and maybe make the news.

No matter how bold Sean was in front of the news cameras, he would never dare act recklessly.

Jon was a little flustered but not too flustered.

It was silent.

Things in River City changed again overnight.

Some people wanted to keep observing at first.

However, James did nothing. He had gone off the grid.

Some well-informed people got word that Jen-Bond Holdings was preparing to pull out of River City.

They finally confirmed that the business war affecting the entire River City ended with Jen- Bond Holdings' retreat.

More people began to accept the reality and approached Sean.

Sean was in the Jen–Bond Holdings building!

He also sat in the chairman’s office and the chairman’s seat!

What did that mean?

The middle–aged men widened their eyes as they looked at each other.

“Sean... Sean Lennon, what do you want? What are you doing here?”

A short–haired middle–aged man was the first to ask after a moment of silence.

“Why can’t I be here?”

Sean leaned forward and placed his hands on top of each other on the table.

“This is Jen–Bond Holdings’ office building.

“And you’re sitting in Mr. Thomson’s seat.”

A middle–aged man in glasses nearby also said as he took over the conversation.

“I’ll say it once again. Listen well.

“This is now the Lennon Group office building.

“I’m the representative and chairman of Lennon Group.

“So this building is mine.

“That includes every inch of ground you’re standing on.”

Sean slowly reached out his hand and pointed to the crowd’s feet as he spoke indifferently.

Sean put down the coffee cup. The bottom of the cup clinked with the table, making a sharp sound.

“Hsss!”

Zander took a deep breath before nodding heavily.

In the past two years of Sean’s disappearance, he dreamed of following Sean into battle again.

That day was finally around the corner.

“Okay!

“Everything is at your disposal.”

Zander nodded heavily and even rubbed his hands together in excitement.

“Tell Harry to speed things up with Lennon Group.

“Work these things out.

“I have other things to do.”

Sean looked at Zander and said quietly.

“Yes! I got it!”

Zander nodded heavily before turning and walking out.

Sean slowly turned around, walked to the floor-to-ceiling window, and looked into the distance.
