Chapter 1461

However, what surprised him was Sean's way of dealing with things.

There was a saying—"Complicated things are usually unbelievably simple."

Sean used a seemingly simple method to solve the root of the problem.

He looked relaxed because he had expected it.

You could only have that kind of control if you were confident.

Not everyone had the brains to control everything.

William knew that not even Sean's adoptive father, Colin, could do it.

"Old Master, he solved the problem and acquired Billion Trees regardless of the process.

"Lennon Real Estate will probably rise in Joules Town's business circle from now on!"

Hubert's tone was emotional.

Sean had visited William when he first came to Joules Town.

You could not call him penniless at the time. However, he was a minor character without identity nor background in Joules Town.

Chapter 1462

It was a phone call from Janestown, and William dared not ignore it.

“Hello, this is William Collins speaking.”

William said as he answered the phone call.

“Old Master Collins, it’s me.”

A middle-aged man’s voice came from the phone.

“Mr. Jamestone? How did you find time to call me?”

William sat up straight at the sound of the caller’s voice.

Although they were not as old as he was, status was not decided by age.

As the saying went, you would not know your status until you went to Janestown.

Joules Town and Janestown were very different in status.

One was one of the modern cities, and the other was the capital of Dragon Kingdom, where the monarch resided.

How could the two compare?

How could someone from the Janestown government be taken lightly?

The Collins family rose to prominence in Joules Town.

However, even William had to remain respectful and polite in the presence of Janestown’s big shots.

“Mr Lupin has settled his business.

“I expect him to leave for Joules Town in a couple of days.

I realized it earlier, but I have no choice 15 years have passed since I retired!

Hubert looked at William and persuaded earnestly

"Okay"

William nodded gently

Then he tapped on the dial logo.

He eventually accepted Hubert's advice and was ready to get in touch with Sean.

"Hello?"

"Don't you think our attitude's the problem, Old Master?"

"Sean's a human being. He's not a pet. He's also a capable person with high status.

"How can he accept being called upon and dismissed like this?"

Hubert's words rendered William dumbfounded.

Sean was a former commander, so he had his pride. He would not enjoy William bossing him around.

After all, William was dismissive when Sean came to visit.

They deserved Sean's attitude toward them!

"But I'm his elder!"

William sat down slowly and said through gritted teeth.

"But we didn't act like elders..."

Hubert shook his head slightly. He realized William was getting a little senile.

There was a term "Old man child". People did behave like children as they grew older.

“Anyway, invite him to dinner yourself if you want. I’ve done what I said. It’s not my fault he doesn’t come.”

William was silent for a moment. Then he turned and went into a room after saying.

Hubert sighed, picked up his phone, and hesitated to call Sean.

At the same time.

After Sean put down his phone, he opened the file before him and looked through it.

“Commander, we’ve set an appointment with Mr. Dane.

“He won’t have time in the afternoon-not until after 8 p.m.”

Zander looked at Sean and reported softly.

“Alright.”

Sean nodded gently.

Chapter 1465
Sean was interested in the news.
He could reject or ignore the Collins family.
However, even Sean would not take someone from Janestown lightly.

Why?

It was because Janestown was Dragon Kingdom's capital and where the sovereign resided.

They were at the same ministerial level, yet the ones from Janestown had more weight than any other city.

If Sean wanted to return to the army and avenge those who died in vain, there was no way he could bypass Janestown.

If Janestown commanded to protect Blaze and prevent Sean from making a comeback, Sean would never have had a chance.

If Janestown were interested in Sean, it would be a done deal. No one could stop him.

Therefore, Sean attached great importance to Janestown's response.

"Mr. Lennon, are you listening?"

Hubert's cry brought Sean back to reality.

"Go ahead."

Sean replied immediately.

"Mr. Lennon, I know you're an elite who could get anything you wanted without help from others.

"But I think it would be nice to have some outside help to make things go more smoothly."

Hubert paused before saying with a smile.
