Chapter 235: A Hundred People Spat Saliva!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Mr. Lee did not know that Jordan had already knocked down two of his personal trainers.

Jordan's heroic stance was like that of a movie star as he subdued his taller and stronger opponents in just a few moves. The female customers had long been attracted to him.

The wealthy ladies were, of course, worried about their safety too, but they stopped being worried after Mr. Lee arrived.

The character and interests of the wealthy women who chose to work out here could be guessed easily.

There were many high-end gyms in New York City. Of all, why did they choose this one?

It was obviously because the personal trainers here were really dashing.

Since they were boy-crazy and adored handsome men, they obviously wanted to know Jordan through Mr. Lee after seeing how dashing and ferocious he was. Moreover, he seemed to be from a prominent family.

Mr. Lee chuckled and said, “Since you don’t want to leave, for now, you may stay and continue working out. I guarantee you won’t get hurt.”

As of this moment, Pablo’s initial batch of underlings had already scurried in and arrived in front of Jordan. They exclaimed loudly in unison, “Mr. Steele!”

“Wow, this handsome man is so domineering.”

“Haha, this gentleman is interesting. I’ve seen many other wealthy scions who have underlings but rarely are there this many foreigners among the underlings.

The wealthy women were sipping on their drinks and enjoying the show.

“Okay.”

Jordan nodded at them.

When he turned around, he discovered that this group of women was gawking at him from afar. A girl who was drenched in sweat and had her hair tied up into a bun waved at Jordan and greeted, “Hello.”

Jordan knew that this was a gym, which was considered a public place of a private nature. He was well-mannered, so he definitely considered the interests of others before doing anything.

Hence, Jordan took a few steps towards them and said, “Ladies, what is going to happen next may cause you discomfort. Why don’t you guys go home or go take a shower instead? You guys seem to be quite tired from training. You're all drenched in sweat.”

The young woman with a ponytail, whose figure was slightly inferior to Elle, laughed and said, “Handsome, you're really funny. This is the first time we're meeting, and you want me to go take a shower. Haha, I think I look the most beautiful when I am sweating, don't you think so?”

The girl with a ponytail actually verbally flirted with Jordan on their first meeting.

She wasn't the only one. There was also a woman whose age was around 35 years, who was ogling at Jordan like he was her prey. “Hunk, let me give you a piece of advice. Why don't you forget about it? If you fight him, you'll end up in trouble too.”

“Yes, a little compromise goes a long way. I want you to be my personal trainer,” said another lady who maintained her youthful appearance and didn't look her age.

Jordan looked at the few chatty women and thought, ‘I finally know why Kane and Nate come here to work out all the time.’

‘Forget it, since they're not scared, we'll let them watch.’

Jordan walked over again.

Although he was still quite far away, Kane began to retreat incessantly, “Jordan Steele, what are you trying to do!?!”

Jordan walked to the original position and stopped. He chuckled and said, “You don’t need to be nervous. Not all my men are here yet, so you can continue relaxing for a while.”

Jordan’s revenge would not start until everyone was present.

Soon, another twenty minutes had passed.

“Strange, why haven’t our underlings arrived yet?”

Kane asked Nate in bewilderment.

Nate also wondered, “It shouldn’t be. They said they were nearby a while ago. They should be able to reach in ten minutes. I’ll make a call and ask them about it.”

“You don’t have to!”

Pablo suddenly said, “Your underlings have already been dealt with by mine when they met downstairs.”

“What do you mean?” Kane and Nate didn’t dare to believe that it was true.

‘Did they not make it to the entrance of the gym?’

At this moment, another batch of people arrived aggressively. There were about seventy-odd of them!

They walked in quickly, many of them stained with blood, which frightened all the wealthy ladies and heiresses!

The seventy-odd people who stood in front of Jordan greeted in unison, “Mr. Jordan!”

Jordan looked at them and counted the number of people, only to find that there were more than a hundred people. They were all of Pablo’s subordinates in New York City.

“Well, everyone is here. Let’s start.”

Jordan suddenly walked towards Kane!

Kane kept moving backward until he reached the pool and table tennis table, where there was no longer any space to retreat.

Leaning against the wall, Kane swallowed saliva nervously and spoke in a shaky voice.

“You... you guys, don’t mess around! My men will be here soon. Nate and I have called at least 200 people! All of you here add up to a hundred at most. We won’t get killed by you!”

One of Pablo’s underlings who entered said with a smile, “I can knock down the bunch of losers you called with one punch each. Each of us here can defeat ten people each. What’s so strange about 70-odd people hitting 200-odd people?”

With more than a hundred underlings, Jordan continued to walk towards Kane.

Kane said nervously, “Jordan Steele, don’t try anything funny. There are lots of customers here. If you hit me, you’ll go to jail too!”

Jordan laughed. “Kane Gayle, if I wanted to hit you, I would have done so just now. Rest assured, I won’t hit you now.”

“Didn’t you spit on my face just now? I’m a fair person. Since you spit on me, each one of us will spit on you too.”

After saying that, he said to the underlings, “Get moving.”

Pablo had long understood. He instructed, “Spit on this guy’s face. Remember, you must spit on his face!”

“Yes!”

With a command from Jordan and Pablo, the hundred Southeast Asian professional fighters charged towards Kane!

Spit

Spit

Spit

Spit

Kane was bombarded with mouthfuls of spit!

“No!”

“Ah!”

“Help!”

“Damn it, it’s sticky mucus!”

“...”

Kane kept yelling, but he didn't even dare to say anything because if he opened his mouth to speak, the spit might land straight in his mouth...

“Hey...”

Those female customers in the distance hurriedly took a shower and left. The scene would indeed cause some discomfort to these women who cared a lot about their appearances.

“You spit on me, huh?”

Jordan sneered and looked at Kane. ‘You don't know any better!’

At this moment, as Kane's good friend, Nate, walked towards Jordan and said gently, “Buddy, Kane is the son of a banker after all. Creating trouble won't do any good for you!”

“Forget it, let's all talk things over calmly during a meal. It'll be on me. Let's be friends, okay?”

‘Buddy?’

‘Indeed, he's a scion who has gotten used to being arrogant. This guy can barely save himself, and he's still pleading for his friend?’

‘Do you think you're safe?’

Jordan looked at Nate and questioned, “I heard you held Emily's hand.. Is that true?”

Chapter 236: Learning Of An Important Piece of News

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Nate looked at the seemingly gentle but ferocious gaze in Jordan's eyes and said fearfully, "No... No... We just watched a movie together, and we're good friends. I really don't harbor any other thoughts about her!"

Jordan obviously wouldn't believe him even though he was pretending to be a nice guy now.

Since Nate was really short, Jordan put his arm around him and continued to walk towards the strength training equipment.

"Oh, you just watched a movie with her, huh? What movie was it?"

Nate didn't know what Jordan intended to do, so he simply walked alongside him and answered, "God... Godzilla."

Jordan continued to ask, "How long was the movie?"

Nate replied nervously, "Two... two hours."

The two gradually reached the strength training equipment area and stopped.

Subsequently, Jordan grabbed a 10 kg dumbbell from the weights rack in the equipment area and handed it to Nate. "Lift this up for two hours."

"What? Two hours?" Nate was confused.

Jordan said seriously, “If you stop, I’ll send you to accompany your best friend.”

Jordan knew that Nate had hypocritically cheated Emily out of her feelings to make her hold his hand.

In that case, Jordan would take revenge on his hand and not touch the other parts of his body.

“Sir...”

“There’s no point in calling me that. Hurry up and lift it, or else, I’ll throw you out!”

“Okay, I’ll do it, I’ll do it!”

Nate slowly lifted the dumbbell up before putting it down slowly again.

“Faster!”

Jordan began training him as a personal trainer.

Nate started to speed up, but he soon got so tired that he couldn’t lift his arms anymore.

However, he didn’t dare to put down the dumbbell for fear that once he did, Jordan would throw him over to where Kane was and let him drown in spit.

However, Nate couldn’t sustain any longer after ten minutes and dropped the dumbbell on the ground.

Without another word, Jordan immediately proceeded to grab him in a bid to bring him over to the other side.

Nate burst into tears immediately. “Jordan! Please don’t do that, I’m sorry! I shouldn’t have provoked Emily. It’s all because of that bastard Kane Gayle. He couldn’t win her heart, so he made me do it. I’m innocent!”

Jordan humphed coldly and berated, “Now you’re blaming your brother? Why did you get Cayden Huxley to court her when you failed to do so yourself?! You’re a bunch of good-for-nothings!”

The more Jordan thought about it, the angrier he got, and he kicked Nate hard.

Nate almost couldn’t catch his breath and kept coughing incessantly.

“I... I’m sorry.”

Soon, those hundred people stopped spitting, and Pablo walked over to report to Jordan.

“Do you want me to pull that punk over?” Pablo asked.

Jordan looked at Kane from afar, his face and body covered in saliva. He looked extremely disgusting.

Pablo's subordinates took Kane for a shower, and when he came out all fresh and clean, he knelt down in front of Jordan with Nate.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Jordan, we won't dare to do it again. Please spare us."

"I was wrong, Mr. Jordan. You are generous and magnanimous. Please don't stoop to our level."

The two incredibly wealthy scions of New York City were already petrified after being tormented by Jordan.

As Jordan was not the type to drive others to a corner, he asked the two of them, "Are you going to play this boring game where you'll send one of you to replace the one that fails to get the girl?"

Kane hurriedly said, "We won't dare to do so again. I won't dare to woo a girl again in my life!"

Nate also said, "In fact, ever since I got beaten up for courting a girl, I've long wanted to quit playing this game. We'll disband our group and never do such things again!"

Jordan was still doubtful after hearing his words. "You got hit after courting a girl? Was that girl Emily? Who hit you?"

Nate hurriedly shook his head and answered, "No, it's an owner of a café who's really pretty. Although she's already a mother of one, she took my breath away the moment I glanced at her."

“However, when I tried to pursue her, I somehow got beaten up into a pulp.”

“Kane got beaten up by his father too.”

Jordan suddenly became severe.

‘Is the owner of a café who has a daughter, the lady whom I previously mistook for Jamie’s lover!?!’

He suddenly remembered that Arnold had secretly taken a picture of the personal locker belonging to Cayden and the others. On a photo of the lady, Kane annotated: “Strong background, do not provoke.”

Jordan was very curious about his brother’s “lover” so he asked Kane, “Your dad hit you? Why?”

Kane nodded. “After Nate failed, I also planned to pursue that café owner, but I wanted to find out her background before doing so. Hence, I asked my dad to help me investigate.”

“Who knows? My father slapped me after investigating and warned me not to toy with her. He said that I could toy with any woman I wanted except her!”

“As long as I do, my family would be finished!”

Jordan was a little stunned. Kane was a wealthy scion of a family that owned a bank.

According to what Kane said, this woman’s status was probably superior to his!

Indeed, she was the wife of a wealthy man!

Jordan asked, “What exactly is that woman’s background like?”

Kane said, “I asked my father the exact question, but he told me to just obey him and not touch her.”

“Later on, he was willing to tell me, only when I pestered him incessantly. This woman is from DC, and she has a very powerful family background. It’s not as simple as any other rich family.”

Jordan nodded. There were indeed many hidden forces and powerful people in a place like New York City and DC.

Even in Orlando, there was someone like Jordan, the scion of a mysterious but extremely powerful family, who stayed there for three years.

It wasn’t that strange that a café owner actually belonged to a prominent family in DC.

Thinking of this, Jordan became even more interested in that woman.

‘Why did Jamie leave his keys here? Is he really planning to introduce her to me because he thinks she’s pretty, just like what Audrey said?’

‘But Jamie must know her background. If I had really pursued her, wouldn’t I have been beaten up by her husband, just like these idiotic scions?’

While thinking about it, Jordan turned to look at the two of them and then asked, “Did Cayden Huxley also fail in wooing her?”

Among the five scions, Cayden was the richest, tallest, and most handsome one. He even managed to win Hailey’s heart, so generally speaking, there were few women he couldn’t handle.

Kane said, “Cayden chickened out and didn’t dare to try his luck with her. After having some coffee at her café, he returned and surrendered on his own by admitting defeat. Since our clique was established, she’s the only woman we haven’t gotten any success with! She really isn’t ordinary at all!”

Spit

Jordan spat on Kane’s face again because he hadn’t done so even though those hundred people had already spat on him just now.

Jordan said, “What do you mean the only one? You people failed to get fresh with Emily too! Do you think that bastard Cayden got it? He can forget about getting his hands on Emily for the rest of his life!”

“Yes, yes, yes, I was wrong.” Although Kane had been spat on, he didn’t feel a single trace of humiliation at all. Everything was settled with one wipe.

It seemed that quantity really causes a qualitative change. After being spat on by so many people, Kane was no longer that affected by the saliva.

At this moment, Nate suddenly said, “Although Cayden took the initiative to admit defeat and did not dare to pursue her, he managed to have a good chat with that woman in the café and even obtained some extremely useful information!”

“What do you mean?” Jordan asked.

Nate and Kane answered in unison, “That woman doesn’t have a husband!”

Chapter 237: What A Familiar Feeling

“She doesn’t have a husband?”

Jordan was surprised because he had been curious about who the female café owner’s husband was since he met her.

At first, Jordan also suspected that her husband was his brother, Jamie, but she denied it vehemently.

Hence, Jordan thought that she might just be an ordinary married woman who has a daughter.

However, Kane and the others said that this woman didn’t have a husband.

“What do you mean she doesn’t have a husband? Did she get divorced, or is she widowed?” Jordan asked.

Kane shook his head and said, “We’re not sure, but after Cayden returned, he has been regretting his decision to marry Hailey, and he kept saying that he wouldn't have married Hailey if he had met that woman earlier. He even said that she was truly the one for him.”

Nate said, “Yes, Cayden is already married now, so he doesn't dare to flirt with that woman. After all, she has quite an impressive family background. If she finds out that he's toying with her despite being a married man, Cayden will receive his retribution.”

Jordan was a little surprised because Cayden was considered to have dated many exquisite beauties. Yet, that woman had the ability to make him regret. It seemed that she was indeed attractive.

Jordan was also getting even more curious about this woman.

“Okay, you guys can go back. Don't get up to such nonsensical things again in the future. Otherwise, I'll have a thousand people spit on you next time!”

Jordan warned the two of them.

“Yes, we won't dare to do it again.”

Kane and Nate got up and frantically walked out of the gym.

These two wealthy scions of New York City had never been so humiliated before.

After the two left, Pablo walked up and asked, “These two punks have been taught a lesson. Mr. Jordan, do you want to go teach them a lesson?”

Jordan looked at the time and said, “They’re just a few punks who are not qualified enough for me to teach them a lesson one by one. You may just send someone to go teach them a lesson. Now, take a few people with you and accompany me somewhere.”

“Yes!” Pablo answered respectfully.

Jordan chatted with Mr. Lee for a while and Mr. Lee gave Jordan a lifetime diamond-tier VIP membership card that would allow him to come here and spend as much as he wanted.

After walking out of the gym, Jordan got inside a car and set off to Café Nostalgia in the suburbs of New York City.

Jordan would like to see this woman again!

The last time he met her, he thought she was pure and lovely, but after learning that she was the daughter of an extremely wealthy family, he felt that she was pretty unique.

How could a rich girl of her status open a small cafe in the suburbs?

Jordan reckoned that it wouldn’t be an issue for her to rent the most expensive shopfronts in New York City and set up a hundred stores.

Filled with doubts and curiosity, Jordan pushed the door to enter.

Jordan entered the café alone while Pablo and the other underlings stood guard outside.

Ring ring...

The Japanese Edo windchime hanging on the door once again reminded the woman of the arrival of a customer.

There were still no customers in the café, only the woman and her daughter.

‘The first time I was here, there were no customers. The second time I was here, there were no customers either. This time, there still aren’t any customers.’

Only then did Jordan realize that this was not a coincidence.

Even if it was in the suburbs, the coffees here were extremely expensive. They cost 20 dollars a cup.

However, the woman’s beauty was enough to attract lots of customers.

Thinking about what Nate said just now about getting a beating, Jordan realized that there was definitely someone protecting this woman and her daughter in the vicinity!

If someone were to develop lustful thoughts and tried to pursue or harass her, that person would be beaten up into pulp the moment he leaves!

That was also why Jordan had Pablo stand guard outside to find out if there was a bodyguard.

“Welcome.” The woman smiled.

This time, she was wearing a high-waisted bustier dress, still exposing her long and fair legs.

It was now close to November, and it was already cold in New York City.

Jordan said smilingly, “Hi, here I am again. You’re wearing so little. It seems that I got to see your excellent figure all three times I was here.”

As Jordan spoke, he pointed to her long, straight legs.

His words may sound disrespectful, but he was here with the deliberate intention to flirt with her.

He really wanted to know what kind of result he would get if he tried to pursue and harass her.

‘Perhaps, this is what Jamie is looking forward to seeing, huh?’

Jordan had been trying to get in touch with Jamie, but he hadn’t been able to contact him. Hence, he thought that Jamie was just too busy with his training to answer him.

However, Jordan learned that Jamie had contacted Audrey in private, but he ignored Jordan’s messages.

The pretty woman did not feel offended. Instead, she smiled and said, “Thank you, most women like to look good. Besides, the temperatures aren’t that cold yet.”

“Would you like to have a vanilla latte as usual?”

Jordan glanced at a spot that was far away and saw that her daughter was already sleeping.

Hence, Jordan boldly walked forward and inched very close to the pretty woman, who retreated incessantly until she no longer had any space.

“What... are you trying to do?” The pretty woman leaned against the wall and asked, running out of breath.

Jordan did not expect this woman to be that nervous. Strictly speaking, if there were bodyguards outside, her heart wouldn't be beating so rapidly.

Jordan propped himself against the wall with one hand, slowly lowered his head, pretending to want to kiss her. He said softly, “You still remember my previous order. Do you have a crush on me?”

“I heard that you are divorced. Should we date each other?”

The pretty woman was breathing heavily, her body quivering nervously as she stared deadly at Jordan, but there was no horror in her eyes.

She looked at Jordan without blinking as if she hadn't had the chance to look at him before this.

At that very moment, Jordan heard the sounds of fighting outside the door.

However, those sounds soon disappeared.

A smile appeared on Jordan's face, and he finally pulled away. “I'm sorry, Ma'am, I didn't mean to offend you just now. I just wanted to test if there was a bodyguard outside your door.”

“You’re gorgeous, and many rich scions are harboring designs on you. Besides, you’re the woman Jamie has arranged to meet me. I have to pay attention to your safety.”

“I’m relieved to know that you have someone to protect you.”

“Oh, by the way, don’t take what I just said seriously. I have a girlfriend, and I’m going to propose to her next year.”

“I’ll have coffee here another day. I have to get going now.”

Jordan took out his cell phone and scanned the QR code to transfer % 4,000 to her.

Pablo should have subdued her bodyguard outside the door, so the money was considered medical expenses.

Ring ring...

As the Edo windchime rang again, Jordan disappeared from the pretty woman’s sight.

However, after Jordan left, she was still leaning against the wall, not moving a single inch.

She suddenly closed her eyes and said to herself with a smile on her face, ‘What a familiar feeling...’

Chapter 238: A Woman Who Looks Like Victoria!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

After coming out of Café Nostalgia, Jordan got into Pablo's car parked at the roadside.

Right after getting into the car, Jordan asked, "You didn't hit too hard, right?"

Pablo said, "No, this cafe owner's bodyguard is powerful and capable. If I didn't bring all the elites here today, I'm afraid that I wouldn't have been able to subdue them in a short period."

"Oh?" Jordan did not expect the pretty woman's bodyguard to be that impressive.

Nowadays, all wealthy men will go out with bodyguards, but the strength of the bodyguards varies.

Elite underlings like Pablo were bought with money.

Pablo asked, "Mr. Jordan, have you fallen in love with the woman in this cafe?"

Jordan shook his head and said, "I'm just curious, and I was testing her. I keep having a feeling that she is not as innocent as she seems."

When Jordan pretended to kiss her just now, she was breathing heavily, but there was no fear in her eyes, and she was looking straight at him without dodging.

Jordan was an expert at reading micro-expressions, and he realized that this woman was definitely not simple!

“Pablo, starting tomorrow, send someone to monitor this café and see what this woman usually does and who she sees.”

Jordan instructed.

However, the following day, Pablo called Jordan and said, “Mr. Jordan, that woman didn’t come today, and the cafe is closed. There’s even a subletting notice on the door.”

Jordan was somewhat stunned. ‘Did she decide to close the café because of what I did yesterday?’

However, this woman had nothing to do with Jordan after all. He was now dating Victoria and didn’t bother courting her.

Perhaps, like most other people, Jordan and her would part ways forever after just meeting once.

A month later.

In Capital Flora nightclub in New York City.

“Mr. Decker! Haha, come in and take a seat.”

In the private room, Cayden and Nate got up to greet Arnold.

Arnold was still dressed in a suit and tie, and he was in higher spirits than before.

Cayden greeted Arnold and said with a smile, “Mr. Decker, is your company on steroids? Why is the stock price skyrocketing? Breezy Express can’t even catch up!”

Arnold smiled and took a seat while a beautiful woman beside him immediately lit a cigarette for him.

Arnold laughed and said, “Thanks to the leadership of the two outstanding beauties, Miss Audrey and Miss Clarke, that we can achieve what we have today at Perry Express!”

“Haha, Cayden, we are also considered old friends, and I’m not going to hide it from you. I’ve actually been thinking all these years about when Perry Express can surpass Breezy Express. Still, I didn’t expect it to be so soon!”

Cayden was so furious that he gritted his teeth and cursed this old man.

Nate, who was beside him, had been drinking.

Since the last time Jordan abused him in the gym, he and Kane had complained to Cayden about it.

When Kane and Nate were in the gym, they both knelt down to Jordan.

However, after they left the gym, they started to wonder if they should take revenge against Jordan for the humiliation that they had suffered!

Hence, they went to Cayden to ask about Jordan’s background.

Cayden told them that Emily was the future sister-in-law of his grandfather's sworn brother, Russell.

He wouldn't be able to bear the consequences of failure if Russell were to find out.

Cayden guessed that Jordan dared to mess with his best friends because Victoria had instructed him to do so.

He didn't want to blow things up because of Russell.

Cayden laughed and said, "Mr. Decker, you may be a successful businessman, but you're not doing well in love. I heard that now Victoria completely treats you as a subordinate."

"Tsk, at this rate, you can never get her. Which woman will like her subordinate? Aren't I right?"

Nate laughed and said, "That's right, Mr. Decker, you and your wife are living separately. It must be tough being all by yourself. Cayden and I have specially arranged something for you."

With a sullen expression, Arnold quickly refuted, "I said, don't set me up with random women. I won't accept them."

Saying that Arnold pushed away from the woman who was lighting cigarettes and pouring wine for him.

Cayden laughed and explained, "Of course, I'm not sending random women to accompany you, Mr. Decker."

"Go outside," Cayden said to the woman who was quite pretty.

After the woman left, Cayden snapped his fingers, and soon, a woman wearing a professional business suit entered!

As soon as the woman walked in, Arnold stood up in astonishment.

“Miss... Miss Clarke?”

Arnold mistakenly thought that the person who entered was Victoria!

However, when the woman came closer, he realized that she wasn't Victoria.

“She's not Victoria.” Arnold sat down again.

Cayden and Nate both laughed out loud while Cayden patted Arnold's thigh and asked, “How about this one? Do they look alike?”

Arnold was extremely emotional. “Yes! They look so alike, especially their eyes, and the way they dress. Victoria usually likes to wear Chanel business suits too.”

“Amazing! Cayden, how did you do that?”

Nowadays, plastic surgery procedures have become unbelievably advanced.

He reckoned that even Jordan, Victoria's boyfriend, would mistake this woman for Victoria!

The resemblance was too remarkable!

Cayden knew that Arnold had been coveting Victoria, and he was eager to drag Arnold down. Thus, she went to get plastic surgery.

The woman who resembled Victoria hurriedly sat next to Arnold and respectfully poured a glass of wine for him, “Mr. Decker, please drink.”

“Oh. Good.” Arnold smiled and took the glass.

Then, the woman said, “Mr. Decker must be tired from working all day, right? Let me give you a shoulder massage.”

Although the woman was pouring wine and giving Arnold a massage, Arnold’s expression slowly turned from delighted to deadpan.

Cayden could tell what Arnold was thinking. “What’s the matter, Mr. Decker?”

Arnold shook his head and said, “Unfortunately, she only looks like her. Her mannerisms are completely different. She doesn’t act like the boss at all.”

Everyone knew that Victoria was an aloof president of the company who was now Arnold’s superior. There was no way she’d speak to Arnold that respectfully.

Cayden slapped the woman who resembled Victoria on the face, but not too hard because he was afraid that he might damage her newly done nose.

Cayden said angrily, “Get out and do it again!”

“Yes.” The woman covered her face and obediently walked out of the private room.

Half an hour later...

The woman pushed open the door of the room again, but this time, she was no longer as deferential as she was just now and was instead more aloof.

The woman did not sit next to Arnold but casually found a seat and sat down cross-legged in a domineering manner.

“Cayden, come and pour me a glass of wine.” The woman instructed Cayden.

Cayden obediently picked up the bottle and walked over. “Yes, Victoria, you look gorgeous today. What material is your outfit made of? Let me take a look.”

The woman snapped with displeasure, “Outrageous! Your father and I are considered to be of the same status. How dare you speak this disrespectfully?”

At this moment, the smile on Arnold’s face gradually became unrestrained, and he exclaimed happily, “Yes, this is the feeling! This is what it feels like! This is Victoria! This is the Miss Clarke I’ve been thinking about! Victoria, I’m here!”

Arnold’s eyes were like that of a lion as he stared at the woman who looked like Victoria..

Chapter 239: Victoria’ s Scandal!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Arnold had been carrying a torch for Victoria and wanting to win her heart for more than just a day or two. In fact, it had been more than a few years too.

Ever since he met her in Canada and was saved by her when he encountered an almost fatal asthma attack, he decided that Victoria was another close confidante he would have for the rest of his life.

However, Arnold could never win her heart in the past few years regardless of what he did.

Moreover, since Victoria had somehow become the president of Perry Express and Arnold's superior, he stood an even smaller chance.

However, Cayden had now given Arnold the chance to make his dream come true!

Arnold was drinking wine, and he had long stopped bothering about whether or not the woman was the real Victoria. At his age, he had long understood that the world is full of falsehoods. Everything that happened in the past is nothing but hollow memories.

However, Arnold leaped towards Victoria's impostor, but she was full of resistance against him. "Mr. Decker, what are you doing? I have a boyfriend. Please respect me!"

Like a beast, Arnold questioned, "Who's your boyfriend? Is he the lowly manager of the training department, Jordan Steele?"

“Victoria” answered, “Yes, my boyfriend is Jordan Steele!”

When Arnold heard Jordan’s name, he gritted his teeth and hollered, “Psht! That freeloader isn’t worthy of you at all. You and I truly belong to each other!”

After saying that, he threw himself onto her again.

Smack!

The woman slapped Arnold!

“Bitch!”

At the side, Cayden slammed the table, pointed at the woman, and cursed, “You cheap wench, how dare you hit Mr. Decker? Have you got a death wish!?! I’m going to beat you to death!”

However, when Cayden was about to hit her, Arnold defended the woman and reached out to stop Cayden.

He wasn’t enraged at all and was, in fact, a little surprised.

“That’s right, this is what Victoria is really like! They’re becoming more and more similar! Hahaha!”

Cayden was thrilled too. He had personally trained this woman who had long mastered the way Victoria spoke, her mannerisms, and her temper.

Cayden said, “Since this is the case, why don’t you take Miss Clarke back to the hotel room, and the two of you can take your time to talk? Mr. Decker, I’ve already booked the presidential suite at the Peninsula Hotel for you.”

Arnold took the initiative to down another glass of wine and said, “Okay, I’ll accept this gift from you, Cayden. From now onwards, we’ll have each other’s back because we’re all in the same boat!”

Arnold had inadvertently discovered the secret between Cayden and his rich scion friends. Hence, he knew that if he didn’t play along once, they wouldn’t trust him.

Besides, he really wanted to get intimate with Victoria’s impostor, who was right in front of him.

Cayden toasted to Arnold again, and then the four of them left the private room together.

A few minutes after they left, a figure suddenly entered the private room quietly, stepped on a chair, and took away an extremely tiny and inconspicuous camera in the corner of the private room.

The person was Tim!

When they reached the parking lot, Cayden, Nate and Arnold waved goodbye to one another.

“Mr. Decker, I shall not see you off. You and Miss Clarke enjoy yourselves tonight. Here’s some medicine, just in case you need it. Haha.”

After they left, Nate humphed coldly and gibed, “Finally, this old foggy has been dragged into this, but Cayden, you’ve spent too much money and effort to pick a girl for him. You had to change her ID and send her for plastic surgery.”

Cayden laughed and said, “Nate, you don’t understand. I’m not trying to drag him down to make him one of us.”

“I’m taking this opportunity to deal Perry Express a lethal blow!”

Seemingly deep in thought, Nate asked, “What do you mean?”

Cayden said with a sinister smile, “Tomorrow, you will see the news of the president and vice president of Perry Express sleeping with each other, haha!”

...

7:30 am.

Jade Villa.

Victoria had already woken up and finished washing up by this time. She had also changed into her Chanel business suit that she often wore.

While she was spraying perfume on herself in front of the mirror, Jordan got out of bed, hugged her from behind, and asked, “Honey, what do you want for breakfast? I’ll prepare it for you.”

Victoria smiled blissfully, looked at Jordan through the mirror, and said, “I suddenly want to have some chicken nuggets. Make some chicken nuggets, and we’ll pair them with milk.”

“Alright, I’ll get to it now.”

Jordan let go of Victoria and was just about to go make breakfast.

Ding-Dong.

Ding-Dong.

They received a notification on their cell phones at the same time.

Both of them worked at the same company in the same industry now, and thus, they had downloaded the same apps on their cell phones, so it wasn’t strange for them to receive a notification at the same time.

Hence, both of them took out their cell phone and looked at what the notification was.

It was a notification from Twitter regarding a tweet posted by a business account they were both following.

The content, on the other hand, gave them both a great shock.

“The president and deputy president of Perry Express share a passionate kiss in the hotel elevator, and walk into a hotel room, hand in hand!”

They tapped it to see that it was a photo of Arnold and Victoria kissing each other passionately in the elevator!

There were also photos of them entering a hotel room intimately, hand in hand!

Jordan froze on the spot because, from the angle and clarity of the photo, the woman in the photo did seem to be Victoria. The woman in the photograph was even wearing the suit that Victoria was wearing now!

It was exactly the same!

As Victoria's boyfriend, Jordan was obviously upset to see those photos!

Victoria also saw them, and she hurriedly put her cell phone down and walked towards Jordan.

She explained, "Honey, I swear, I definitely didn't go to a hotel with Arnold Decker. The person in those photos isn't me!"

Perhaps, Victoria felt that the woman in the photo really resembled her, and she knew that Jordan might not believe her.

Hence, to get Jordan's trust, Victoria got on her knees right on the spot and raised her right hand. "I, Victoria Clarke, solemnly swear that if I have been unfaithful to you, I..."

Before Victoria could finish, Jordan stopped her and helped her up. "Victoria, we've known each other for such a long time, and our relationship is so strong. How can I possibly not trust you?"

"This must have been digitally doctored by someone. I won't be bothered."

"Thank you." Victoria was really touched, and she hugged Jordan.

Afterward, the two of them carefully scrutinized the photos and comments again.

Victoria said, “These photos aren’t digitally doctored. Honey, look, this woman is shorter than I am, and her hairstyle is also different from mine. She’s just a woman who looks like me.”

Jordan looked carefully for a few moments and discovered that it was indeed as Victoria said.

“That’s incredible. Even Emily doesn’t have such a striking resemblance to you. Why does this woman look so much like you?”

Jordan was puzzled.

However, Victoria wasn’t worried about this issue. She looked at the comments and found that everyone was aware that Arnold was a married man.

As the vice president of Perry Express, Arnold being embroiled in such a scandal will cause a huge blow to Perry Express, which was currently on the rise!

“The stock price of the company is probably going to plunge!” Victoria said dejectedly..

Chapter 240: I’ ll Just Forgive Her, Okay?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Honey, I have to hurry to the company to hold a board meeting, so I won’t accompany you for breakfast.”

Victoria looked like she was in a hurry.

Jordan nodded and said, “Okay, go ahead, be careful.”

At the same time, Hailey, who was in the villa next door, had just woken up and saw the content of the trending topic on Twitter.

“Wow, “Yeah, Victoria Clarke and Arnold Decker kissed passionately in the elevator? Oh my God, Victoria Clarke cheated on Jordan?”

Hailey was now seven months pregnant, and her baby bump was large. Life was rather mundane for her and bored out of her wits every single day. Such gossipy news was exactly what she needed to perk herself up.

However, she didn’t expect to come across any news about her former husband.

She looked out the window and coincidentally saw Victoria driving away in her Porsche that zoomed away swiftly with a whoosh.

Cayden didn’t come home last night either, so Hailey immediately walked out of the villa to go look for Jordan in the villa next door.

Knock-knock.

“Jordan!”

Jordan opened the door and saw the heavily pregnant Hailey. Although she had a less svelte figure than before, her face was still as flawless as ever.

She was the most beautiful pregnant woman Jordan had ever seen.

“Why are you here?” Jordan asked.

Hailey asked cautiously, “Did you have a fight with Victoria?”

“No,” Jordan answered.

Hailey unlocked her phone and asked, “Didn’t you guys read the news?”

Jordan glanced at Hailey’s phone screen and said, “Oh, we did.”

Hailey immediately found it rather strange.” You saw the news, but you two didn’t even have a tiff? Jordan, when have you become so good-tempered that you won’t even get upset after being made a cuckold?”

Jordan said helplessly, “The woman in those photos isn’t Victoria.”

Hailey asked in surprise, “You believe such a lie? You’re so foolish. These photos weren’t digitally doctored. There are GIFs and videos to prove its authenticity!”

“Victoria has really cheated on you. You mustn’t trust her!”

Too lazy to explain to her, Jordan said, “Okay, even if she has done it, I’ve forgiven her, okay?”

“What... what?”

Hailey was stunned and at a loss for words. After deliberating over it for a while, she suddenly swung her tiny fists at him.

“You jerk. If you can forgive her, why couldn’t you forgive me back then!?!”

Hailey was now heavily pregnant, so Jordan chose not to lose his temper at her. He merely grabbed her hand and calmed her down.

“Hailey, can you not bring up our past again?”

“And you’re going into labor soon, don’t get physical all the time. What if something untoward happens?”

Hailey was so furious that she stomped her foot and humphed coldly. “You still know to show concern about the baby, huh!?! You’re not a responsible father at all! Cayden hasn’t been home for a long time, and you didn’t even come over to keep the baby company and me during the day.”

Jordan said helplessly, “I have to go to work in the day.”

“Your girlfriend is the President of the company. Even if you don’t go to work, she can’t possibly fire you, can she?” Hailey said immediately afterward.

Jordan didn’t want to continue arguing with her. Instead, he changed the subject. “Hailey, your baby bump is much larger than most pregnant women in their seventh month of pregnancy. Are you carrying twins?”

Previously, Jordan had heard from Cayden that Hailey was carrying twins, but he hadn't heard it from Hailey herself.

As the baby's father, Jordan, of course, wanted to find out if she was carrying twins.

Hailey was clearly surprised, and she asked, “Are you hoping that I'm carrying twins? Hmph, I won't tell you. Anyway, I'll be going into labor in a couple of months. You can come to the hospital to take a look yourself by then!”

Jordan had an expectant look on his face.

Based on his understanding of Hailey, he knew that Hailey was pregnant with twins!

“Okay, I will definitely go to the hospital to visit you,” Jordan said.

Hailey was carrying Jordan's child, so he, the father, of course, had to go see his child for the first time!

At this moment, Jordan's phone rang.

“Hailey, go get some rest. I have to get busy soon,” Jordan said, chasing her away.

“Okay.” Hailey pouted and slowly left.

“Let me know in advance before you go into labor,” Jordan said.

Hailey deliberately tried to spite Jordan. “I won’t tell you, just wait to be the last one to see your baby!”

Jordan shook his head helplessly and then answered the phone. It was a call from Tim.

“What is it?”

Tim answered, “Jordan, have you seen the news? Don’t be angry. The woman in the photo who has gone to the hotel with my uncle isn’t Miss Clarke but a woman whom Cayden had deliberately sent to get plastic surgery to look like Miss Clarke.”

“She’s gone under the knife? How did you find out about this?” Jordan asked.

Tim chuckled and said, “Cayden wanted to use this trick to deal with my Uncle, you, and Perry Express, but I have the video of him using this woman to seduce my uncle.”

“Jordan, as long as we post this video, it’ll be over for Breezy Express!”,

Jordan said, “Well done. What do you want for your remuneration?”

Tim said, “I just want to work alongside you. When you’re going to abuse these rich scions again, count me in. I’ll go spit on them or something, hahaha, I just hate how they blow their trumpet and act impressive!”

Jordan laughed and said, “Go to Pablo and be his underlings.

“Thank you, Jordan!”

...

In the conference room of Perry Express.

Victoria walked to the conference room with large strides and a domineering aura. The other shareholders had already arrived long ago.

“Miss Clarke.”

“Miss Clarke.”

When they saw Victoria coming, the other shareholders all stood up to greet her.

This also included Arnold, the vice president, who was now a trending topic.

“Miss Clarke, I’m sorry...”

Arnold looked at Victoria with an apologetic expression.

Victoria was furious, and she walked up to Arnold, raised her hand, and slapped him!

Smack!

The shareholders in the conference room were all dumbfounded.

Victoria growled, “Arnold Decker, you are the deputy president of President, but you actually did such a thing! Do you know how much damage your actions will do to the company?”

“Do you know how embarrassed you’ve made my boyfriend feel?”

Despite being slapped in public, Arnold didn’t dare to be resentful. “I’m sorry, Miss Clarke, I will explain clearly to the public that the woman I was with is just someone who has gotten plastic surgery to look like you...”

Smack!

Victoria slapped him again, making all the major shareholders gasp.

Victoria said, “You are really perverted! I order to satisfy your own selfish desires, you... even got other women to look like me.”

Arnold hurriedly said, “No, it wasn’t me who found her but that little bastard Cayden who set this up to trick me!”

Victoria said mightily, “I don’t care who did it. Anyway, Arnold Decker, you’re now fired.. From now on, you are no longer an employee of Perry Express!”

Chapter 241: The Huxleys Suffer A Huge Blow!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

From the moment Jordan lured Arnold to check out Cayden’s locker, Jordan knew that Arnold would be forced to leave the company.

However, he didn't expect this matter to be even more complicated and twisted than he had expected.

Cayden even tried to kill two birds with one stone by harming both Arnold and the whole of Perry Express.

Now, everyone on the Internet was mocking Perry Express.

“Haha, the deputy president of Perry Express is really interesting. He actually harbors improper thoughts about his female superior!”

“The president of Perry Express is so pretty. If I were the deputy president, I would harbor designs on her too!”

“He even deliberately sent a woman to South Korea to get plastic surgery to look like his boss and then checked into a hotel room with her. What a sick movie. Haha.”

“I take pity on Miss Clarke and her boyfriend. Haha.”

At this moment, Cayden had also arrived at the president's office of Breezy Express bright early in the morning to claim credit from his grandfather.

Overjoyed, Cayden said, “Grandpa, have you seen the news? I was the mastermind who planned the scandal that Arnold Decker, the deputy president of Pe, is now embroiled in! Haha, now the netizens are all slamming and mocking Perry Express. I'm sure their stock price will plunge when the stock market opens later!”

During this period of time, Perry Express's stock prices have been rising continuously. It had already surpassed Breezy Express to become the top logistics company in the country.

However, as the old saying goes, the higher you climb, the harder you fall. The same applies in the stock market as well.

With such a scandal, the stock price of Perry Express will definitely plummet!

This was an extremely good piece of news for Breezy Express!

Arthur Arthur also smiled and said, "Well done! I've been overwrought and vexed when Perry Express kept suppressing us and leading us by the nose lately."

"However, Victoria is Russell's woman. He's going to be upset when he finds out that you got her involved."

It was apparent that Arthur was somewhat scrupulous towards his sworn brother!

Cayden laughed and said, "That woman isn't really Victoria. It's just someone who looks like her. Rest assured, Uncle Russell won't find out that I was the one who arranged this."

While he was being smug, a video was spread on the Internet again.

It was the video of Cayden and Arnold in the private room of the nightclub yesterday afternoon!

As soon as the video was released, a huge uproar was once again sparked on the Internet!

“Holy crap! There’s actually such a quick twist! It’s not the deputy president of Perry Express, but the grandson of the chairman of Breezy Express who devised this scheme to set them up!”

“Breezy Express is so shameless to have resorted to such despicable and unscrupulous means to deal a blow to their competitor. They deliberately sent a woman to get plastic surgery to look like the president of their business rival and then instigated the deputy president to commit a mistake.”

“Boycott Breezy Express, support Perry Express!”

Soon, the stock market opened.

The stock price of Breezy Express plunged immediately!

On the other hand, the stock price of Perry Express surged closed with a five percent increase!

Smack!

Arthur slapped Cayden on the face and berated, “Didn’t you say that no one will find out!?! Someone has even gotten hold of the video evidence! Punk, why did you make so much trouble for no reason! If you’re incompetent, don’t get involved in the competition between our company and our rivals!”

Cayden was also dumbfounded to see the quick plunge of Breezy Express's stock prices. "How... could I have been tailed by someone? Who is it!?!?"

He could have never imagined that Tim, the chauffeur Jordan had planted as a snitch by his side since a while ago, would be the culprit.

"You... you're really..."

Arthur wanted to continue to berate Cayden, but he suddenly got a dizzy spell, and his body fell backward.

"Grandpa! Grandpa, are you okay? It's all my fault. I was too foolish to have been played out by someone. Grandpa, simmer down and be mindful of your health."

Arthur gradually regained his composure, wiped off the medicinal wine, and lamented with emotion, "There's a wise man behind this."

"Wise man?" Cayden was puzzled.

Arthur said, "Since things have come to this, it's useless to hold it against you any further. We'd better get this matter settled as soon as possible."

"Should we hold a board meeting or press conference immediately?" Cayden asked.

Arthur shook his head and said, “Before that, we have to call Russell and apologize to him.”

“Victoria is his future wife, and yet, you created her double and gave her double to another man. Isn’t that a blatant insult to him?”

Arthur sighed helplessly, picked up his phone, and made a video call to Russell.

The call was quickly connected.

“Good afternoon, Russell.”

“Arthur.”

Russell was still rather polite.

Arthur smiled and said, “Russell, I believe you have seen the news. I have to apologize to you for failing to discipline Cayden well, so much that he has done such an absurd thing.”

“Cayden, what are you waiting for? Get on your knees and apologize to Uncle Russell!”

Since it was a video call, Russell could clearly see Cayden getting down on his knees.

Cayden said to the camera, “Uncle Russell, I was all muddled up when I came up with such an awful idea. Please be magnanimous and forgive me!”

Russell was obviously furious to see Cayden, but he and Arthur were sworn brothers after all. The two had lots of business dealings. Hence, he couldn't afford to lose his temper.

Russell said calmly, "Forget it, Arthur, let Cayden get up. It's understandable that young people are playful."

"Besides, he didn't really touch Victoria and had merely got a woman who looks like Victoria. Cayden, the plastic surgery that that woman went for is pretty impressive. I almost thought she was the real Victoria when I saw the photos."

"Which hospital did you take her to for plastic surgery? Remember to send the name to me."

Seeing that Russell had forgiven him, Cayden finally felt really relieved. "Yes, Uncle Russell, I'll send you the address right now."

Arthur turned the camera to himself and asked, "Russell, don't mind me asking but do you still plan to marry Victoria now?"

"She's still living with Jordan Steele, and there seem to be no signs of a breakup between them."

Russell said with a confident smile, "Of course I will marry her. I've always done what I promised to do."

"However, when I met her, I told her that I'd let her have fun for another six months. When the time is up, she will become my wife!"

Arthur thought about it and realized that the last time he had dinner with Russell and Victoria was in August.

“Six months... Will the time be up in February next year?”

Arthur asked.

Russell nodded.

“February next year?” Cayden was stunned because Hailey’s estimated labor date was in February too.

Unbeknownst to them, Jordan was planning to propose to Victoria after Hailey delivered the baby!

It was planned for February next year!

Cayden said, “Uncle Russell, I’ll be looking forward to your wedding with Victoria. I’ll definitely go to Houston to attend it!”

Russell said with a smile, “Sure, you’re utmost welcome. I gotta go now.”

After hanging up the video call, Cayden secretly thought, “Why is Russell so confident that Victoria will marry him once the six-month period is up?”

“Victoria and Jordan seem to be getting married soon!”

“Does he... have some kind of evidence against them?”

Chapter 242: Becoming The Live-In Son-in-law Of The Camdens Again?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

In the afternoon, a press conference was held in Breezy Express.

Arthur personally apologized to the public and Victoria at the press conference. He stated that although Cayden was his grandson, he did not hold any official position in Breezy Express.

He also claimed that this matter had nothing to do with the competition between Breezy Express and Perry Express and stated that he hoped for the media and world at large not to speculate about it.

However, Arthur's clarification barely did anything to help the situation.

In the next month, the stock price of Breezy Express continued to decline, eventually reaching a market value of only 10 billion dollars.

Breezy Express went from being a top logistics industry giant to a second-tier company worth only half of Perry Express.

It was the 25th of December, Christmas Day.

Cayden bought a gift for Hailey, but she didn't even bother to open it.

Hailey asked, "Cayden, why hasn't the stock price of Breezy Express risen yet? Isn't your grandfather very resourceful? How come he doesn't have a remedy for this? Breezy Express has now become a second-tier courier company, and my friends don't even use Breezy Express anymore."

Hailey was obviously more concerned about the situation of the Huxleys' company than the little gifts.

Cayden was also a lot more haggard than he had been a few months ago. His face was now covered in beard, and he hadn't shaved or groomed himself for days.

“Rest assured, Hailey, Breezy Express will definitely rise again next year. Now that my grandfather has reorganized the management and gone into deep cooperation with several companies, the stock price will surely rise to its previous position next year.”

Cayden assured Hailey.

“Let's hope so.”

Hailey said scornfully with displeasure.

As the Huxleys gradually fell into the doldrums, Hailey began giving Cayden the cold shoulder.

Now, the Huxleys were worth only about 10 billion dollars. There were two male heirs in Cayden's generation, so he would be entitled to an average of about 4 billion dollars of the inheritance.

After the development over the past six months, the Camdens' net worth was close to 4 billion dollars!

In comparison, the Camdens and the Huxleys were almost on par, so Hailey saw no need to bow down and accommodate Cayden.

“Hailey, it’s Christmas. Nate and the guys have set something up, and we happen to have some business to talk about, so I won’t be coming home today.”

Cayden put on a jacket and prepared to go out.

Hailey frowned and chastised, “You’re not even going to be home with me on Christmas! Throughout my pregnancy, how many times have you taken care of me? Are you even fit to be my husband?”

Cayden thought, ‘You’re not pregnant with my baby, so why should I care for you? Go get Jordan Steele to take care of you!’

However, he didn’t voice his thoughts out loud and instead said gently in a warm voice, “Well, your mother is staying here too. Since she’s taking care of you, I can be at ease.”

Hailey’s mother, Sylvie, had already moved in with them for a long time so that she could take care of the pregnant Hailey.

Hailey muttered, “You’re always mentioning my mom. I don’t see your mom coming to take care of me.”

Cayden smiled and said, “Well, I’ll get going now. Merry Christmas.”

As soon as he walked out the door, Cayden murmured, “You want my mom to come here to take care of your and Jordan’s bastard child? Hailey Camden, you don’t deserve that!”

Just as Cayden walked out the door, Hailey’s mother, Sylvie, made her way downstairs.

Seeing how disgruntled Hailey was, Sylvie asked, “What’s wrong, my dear daughter? Have you had a tiff with Cayden again? Don’t fight with Cayden all the time. Just be more accommodating.”

Sylvie was still very fond of Cayden, and she preferred to have him as her son-in-law instead of Jordan.

Hailey walked towards the window furiously and happened to see the management staff of the villa pushing a cart with a beautiful Christmas tree to Jordan and Victoria’s house.

Seeing Jordan and Victoria’s sweet smile, Hailey became even more jealous.

“Why? Why do I have to be the one to suffer throughout the pregnancy while Jordan can go anywhere to have fun with Victoria Clarke every single day? It’s too tough being a woman!”

The more she thought about it, the more upset she was, and she finally couldn’t help but call Jordan.

“Jordan, come here quickly!”

Jordan quickly arrived at Cayden’s villa. When he saw Sylvie, he greeted, “Mrs. Camden.”

Sylvie ignored Jordan’s disdainfully.

Jordan had been her son-in-law for three years, but she was now completely ignoring him.

Jordan sneered in his mind and didn’t bother about Sylvie’s attitude because he had long known what kind of a woman she was.

“What do you want from me?” Jordan asked.

Hailey said, “Send me to the hospital. I feel really uncomfortable now. Every part of me is uncomfortable, my body, my head, everything. I’m really frustrated, and I don’t want to have kids anymore!”

Jordan asked, “Where’s Cayden?”

Hailey yelled, “Is the baby yours or Cayden’s? What are you asking about him for? Can you be a responsible father and do something for the baby?”

Hailey cursed Jordan for not having a conscience and failing to show concern for his unborn child.

Jordan was speechless. When Hailey was bent on keeping the baby back then, she told him to stay out of her pregnancy and all the child’s matters because Cayden would take care of them.

If not for the events of the past six months and if Jordan had rashly come over to take care of her, Hailey would have probably kicked him out.

Yet, she called Jordan irresponsible now.

If Jordan popped by Cayden’s place every other day, he would seem like he was obviously making Cayden a cuckold.

Not wanting to argue with Hailey any further, Jordan said, “Fine, I’ll have to inform Victoria about this. Give me a moment.”

At this moment, Sylvie remarked, “What a good-for-nothing. He’s been living a lowly life as your live-in husband for three years and now that he’s gotten together with a rich woman, he has to seek her permission before doing anything.”

“Jordan, can’t you be more competent? Are you going to sponge off a woman for the rest of your life?”

Jordan flew into a rage and snapped, “Sylvie Parker! Listen up, informing Victoria about this is a form of mutual respect between a couple, not a seeking of permission!”

“The Camdens have indeed provided for me for three years, but I also paid it back a long time ago! Without my help in the field of business, do you think the Camdens can enjoy the glory that they do today?”

Sylvie was indeed rather arrogant when she heard the word “glory” because the Camdens were indeed very glorious now!

In the beginning, the Camdens managed to sign many big contracts thanks to Jordan’s help.

After Hailey subsequently got married to Cayden, they progressed a step further with the help of the Huxleys.

Diana was undeniably an intelligent and capable woman!

Hailey said smilingly, “Forget it, Mom, why rake up the past? The Camdens are rich enough to provide for my live-in husband.”

“Jordan, I heard that my cousin Elle is head-over-heels in love with you now.. If Victoria dumps you in the future, do you want to marry into our family and become a live-in husband again?”

Chapter 243: Sending Hailey To The Hospital!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Hailey was already behaving like she was the head of the Camdens.

After all, the Camdens had risen from a second-rate family with a few hundred million dollars to a powerful family worth nearly 4 billion dollars in assets today, all thanks to Hailey.

Her marriages to the wealthy men, Jordan and Cayden, brought them the glory they enjoyed today.

The status of Hailey’s family in Diana’s heart has also surpassed that of Elle’s family.

Hailey was clearly still resentful and disgruntled about the fact that Jordan and Elle had had a fling, so she deliberately mentioned Elle in a bid to humiliate Jordan by asking him to be a live-in husband again.

Jordan was really annoyed by Hailey and Sylvie, but Jordan had been married to Hailey for three years and had long known the right response to give to spite her.

Jordan laughed and replied, “Really? Elle still fancies me? Elle has such a great figure. If Victoria really dumps me one day, of course, I’d be willing to marry Elle!”

Hailey's face turned red with fury as soon as she heard Jordan singing praises about Elle's good figure!

Hailey and Elle had been competing with each other since they were young, and the one thing that Hailey could not defeat her in was her figure!

In the past, she would never be able to trump Elle, but now, she was pregnant and could no longer compete with Elle in terms of figure.

Hence, she felt inferior and jealous!

She felt that Jordan had cheated on her because Elle had a good figure!

Hailey threatened furiously, "If you dare to get together with Elle, I'll tell my grandmother to expel her from the family immediately!"

One second, Hailey was proactively "setting up" Elle and Jordan together. Still, when Jordan agreed, Hailey snapped and lost her temper.

Sylvie was puzzled. "What do you mean? How did Jordan and Elle hook up? Jordan, did you start harboring designs on Elle a long time ago? You bastard, how dare you covet Hailey's cousin while you were married to Hailey, who's so perfect?"

Hailey didn't inform her family that Jordan and Elle "slept with each other" previously, so Sylvie didn't know about it either.

Jordan humphed coldly and exclaimed, "My girlfriend, Victoria, and her sister, Emily, are far prettier than Hailey and Elle!"

“I’m going back. You guys pack up and get ready to leave!”

After saying that, Jordan pushed the door and left.

“Who is Emily!?”

Hailey became jealous again, and only then did she know that Victoria had a younger sister. Besides, Jordan even said that she was very pretty!

“No wonder this bastard Jordan refuses to stop sponging off of Victoria. Not only is his girlfriend beautiful, but her sister is also. He must be trying to get the best of both worlds!”

When he returned to the villa, Jordan told Victoria about this matter.

“Victoria, if you don’t want me to go, I can turn her down,” Jordan said.

Victoria was Jordan’s current girlfriend, and he had to take care of her feelings first.

If Victoria did not like the idea of Jordan being alone with Hailey, he wouldn’t send her to the hospital.

However, Victoria was a magnanimous person. She said, “Cayden is not a good man. Besides, the baby is not his child, so he will definitely not care about Hailey.”

“It’s not easy for a woman to carry a baby for nine months, and you, as the father of the child, should help her as much as you can.”

“Take her to the hospital. I happen to have some work to do.”

Jordan nodded.

Subsequently, Jordan drove Hailey and Sylvie, who had tagged along, to the hospital in her Audi.

Hailey rode shotgun while Sylvie took the backseat.

As soon as Hailey got into the car, the music started playing. She said with a smile, “Ah, it’s been a long time since I experienced this feeling of you driving Mom and me around. Hehe.”

Jordan had driven that Audi for three years, during which he ferried Hailey and her parents around.

Everything in the car was way too familiar.

Jordan was also feeling rather emotional because he did not expect that he would have the opportunity to drive this car again after leaving the Camdens.

Sylvie lamented, “Yes, Jordan has great driving skills, and he never slams the brakes abruptly. I feel really comfortable when he drives, and I always fall asleep during the ride.”

“Unfortunately, how did you get expelled from the family, Jordan? Otherwise, you’d still be my son-in-law now.”

Jordan humped coldly, feeling really lucky to have left the Camdens and stopped being her son-in-law!

The car had already started to move, and Sylvie asked again, “Jordan, I heard that Victoria’s parents have both passed away, and her only kin left is her sister. Is that true?”

“Yes,” Jordan responded softly.

Sylvie kept shaking her head non-stop. “Jordan, you have, after all, been my son-in-law for three years, and I used to treat you like half a son, so I have to tell you this.”

“You can’t marry a girl whose parents have both passed away, no matter how rich she may be. You should know that parentless children tend to have psychological problems, right?”

“And if you two have children in the future, who will help you take care of them? You should also know that children will suffer without any grandparents, right?”

The car was traveling at 40 km/h, and Jordan immediately slammed the brakes, causing Sylvie, who wasn’t wearing her seatbelt and was leaning forward, to jerk forwards.

“Ouch.”

Sylvie shrieked in pain and complained resentfully, “Jordan, why did you step on the brakes!?!?”

Jordan said to Sylvie coldly, “Get off.”

Sylvie was furious. “What did you say?”

Jordan repeated seriously, “I said, get off the car!”

Jordan can tolerate Sylvie badmouthing him, but he couldn't tolerate her callous remarks about Victoria!

Victoria didn't owe the Camdens anything, so why would she say that about a woman with a pitiful background!?!

Victoria's father had been killed abroad, and the murderer had not been found. She wanted to have a complete family too.

Sylvie was enraged. "This is my family's car. Who are you telling to get out!?! Are you out of your mind!"

Jordan said, "If you don't get out of the car, I will get out of the car, and you two can go to the hospital on your own!"

With that, Jordan was about to unbuckle his seat belt.

Hailey had a hard time tricking Jordan into coming out with her. How could he let him go so easily?

Hence, Hailey immediately grabbed Jordan's hand, stopping him from leaving. She said to Sylvie, who was in the backseat, "Mom, you go down. Jordan will take me there. It'll be fine."

Sylvie said with disgruntlement, "Fine, Jordan, you have to take care of Hailey. If anything happens to her, I'll come after you!"

Bang!

Sylvie got out of the car and slammed the door shut.

Jordan watched Sylvie leave and only started driving after she left.

Hailey complained, “You went overboard. No matter what, my mother has also been your mother-in-law for three years. When we were trying for a baby, she cooked for you and made your bed. She was also very good to you.”

“She merely said a few words about Victoria. Why did you make her get off?”

Jordan said coldly, “Except for the time when we were trying for a baby, and she acted like a mother-in-law, I don’t think she ever treated me like a son-in-law during other times.”

Hailey knew that Sylvie had been mistreating him for the past three years and did not mention it again.

As the car drove down the road, Hailey stretched and laughed.”
It’s good that my mother is gone. It’s been a long time since we got to spend some time alone together.”

While driving with a solemn expression on his face, Jordan pointed to the car’s dash camera.

If Cayden knew that Jordan had taken Hailey to the hospital today, he would definitely check the dash camera footage to find out what the two of them had talked about in the car.

Hailey quickly rephrased her words. “Ah, we haven’t listened to the song ‘A World of Two’ for a long time.”

Hailey played the song.

Looking at the sudden change in Hailey’s expression, Jordan burst into laughter.

‘What a good actress!’

[How can I forget the promises we made to love each other ? How can I forget your lovely face ?]

[...]

On the way, Hailey kept playing songs that contained duets between male and female singers.

An example would be ‘Need You Now’ and many others.

It seemed that every song could reflect the relationship between Jordan and Hailey.

However, when they were about to arrive at the hospital, Hailey played a song named ‘Green’.

After stopping the car, Jordan asked, “Why did you play that song ?”

Hailey said, “Nothing, I just think the melody is nice. Come over here and hold me.”

Hailey was now heavily pregnant, and the hospital was crowded, so Jordan had to hold her at all times to keep her safe.

She went for a checkup at the hospital, but there was nothing serious.

Hailey was still worried when she came to the doctor’s office with the medical report in hand.

“Doctor, most expectant mothers are sleepy during their second trimester, and they spend their time either sleeping or eating, but I’ve developed food aversions. I’ve been getting more and more nervous now that I’m nearing the labor date. What’s going on?”

This doctor was a famous obstetrician and gynecologist of this hospital. He was also a psychologist.

The doctor laughed and said, “It’s your first time having a baby, right? It’s normal to be nervous.”

“But I get nightmares all the time, and I feel anxious everyday. I even get scared, and sometimes I don’t want the baby anymore,” Hailey said.

The doctor said, “You may have prenatal depression. Is this gentleman the baby’s father?”

The doctor looked at Jordan.

Jordan nodded.

The doctor said to Jordan, “The reason your wife is experiencing these symptoms may be that she has some expectations of you, which you have not fulfilled. There is nothing wrong with your career recently, right?”

Jordan smiled.’ So that’s the reason.’ There hadn’t been any problems with his career lately, but Cayden’s career has been declining considerably.

“It’s not too bad,” Jordan said perfunctorily.

The doctor continued, “If your career is stable and there are no major problems, then it is your wife’s emotional needs that are not being met. May I ask if you are too busy with work that you don’t have time to spend with her?”

Hailey humphed coldly. “He doesn’t have time for me.”

The doctor quickly said, “See, I was right, wasn’t I? It must be because you usually spend too little time with your wife. That’s why she has developed anxiety.”

When Jordan saw Hailey rolling her eyes, he felt aggrieved. ‘I wouldn’t spend time with you even if I had time. Go look for Cayden!’

However, Jordan wouldn’t mention their complicated relationship in front of the doctor and other outsiders.

The doctor admonished Jordan, “You must pay attention to this matter. Your wife will go into labor in another month. This month, you have to take more time out of your schedule to spend with her.”

“It’s not easy for a woman to carry a baby for 10 months, right?”

Jordan nodded and said, “Okay, I will make more time to spend with her.”

After chatting for a while in the doctor’s office, Jordan helped Hailey up as they proceeded to leave.

After the two left, the doctor’s young assistant said, “I think that pregnant woman doesn’t look like she’s suffering from prenatal depression? She’s not in low spirits at all, and instead, she is sometimes excited. She’s just a little nervous about giving birth, and I don’t know why she is.”

The senior doctor laughed and said, “You are still too young. Work in the hospital for a few more years, and you will be able to tell such things at a glance.”

“I’d be able to tell at a glance? What do you mean?” The young doctor’s assistant asked.

The doctor laughed and said, “This pregnant woman is probably nervous and scared, not because she’s worried about the pain of giving birth, but because she’s worried that the baby does not belong to her husband!”

“Huh?” The young assistant was stunned and covered her mouth in shock.

As a doctor in obstetrics and gynecology who also specialized in the psychology of pregnant women, he had seen too many such incidents where the baby did not belong to their husband.

Some of the dates were not even right, and the doctors actually knew it clearly, but they couldn't tell the spouses of those women.

The doctor recalled Hailey's stunning beauty and said, "This pregnant woman is so beautiful. She must have many suitors. Let's see and wait another month. Maybe there will be a farce in our hospital."

"Be careful. Get in slowly."

Jordan opened the door for Hailey and helped her into the car. He had taken care of her throughout the journey to and fro the hospital. He had done an excellent job as her former husband.

Hailey was naturally happy! She enjoyed this feeling!

When she got into the car, Hailey said, "Jordan, you just heard it. The doctor said I have prenatal depression and need more company and quality time with the baby's biological father. I don't care, for the next month, you have to come to my place every single day and stay with me for two hours."

Jordan said, "Accompany you for two hours every day? Will Cayden agree?"

“Besides, your depression is caused by the fact that the Huxleys’ assets have shrunk to 10 billion dollars. 10 billion is still a lot, don’t be so greedy, okay?”

Hailey retorted angrily, “Bullshit! I’m not depressed because of this! I don’t love money that much!”

“What is the reason then?” Jordan asked.

Hailey bit her lips and suddenly paused.

“Anyway, you have to spend time with me. You are the father of the baby, so you have to perform your fatherly duty. I will call Cayden now.”

Hailey dialed Cayden’s number right on the spot.

“Cayden, where are you?” Hailey turned on the loudspeaker.

“I’m with Nate and the others. What’s up?” Cayden’s background noise was rowdy, and he seemed to be drinking.

There were lots of female voices too.

Hailey said, “I just went to the hospital for a checkup, and I’ve been diagnosed with prenatal depression. I need my husband to stay with me.”

“I know, the baby is not yours, and you don’t want to serve me, so can I ask Jordan to come over and stay with me for two hours every day?”

Cayden thought about it and agreed, thinking that since Hailey was now eight months pregnant, there was no way the two of them could do anything.

“Okay, let him come over.”

After hanging up, Hailey said to Jordan, “Now you can come to my house anytime to keep me company.”

Jordan said, “I still have to go back and discuss it with Victoria.”

Hailey said, “Don’t bother, I’ll talk to her about it.”

Hailey took the initiative to call Victoria and spoke in a pretentiously coquettish voice.

Victoria was also rather polite. “How did the checkup go? Is everything okay?”

Hailey said, “The doctor diagnosed me with prenatal depression and said I need more company from the baby’s father. As you know, the baby isn’t Cayden’s, and he doesn’t care about me right now.”

“Can I borrow Jordan from you for two hours every day so that he can play the piano for me or something? Is that okay, Victoria?”

Chapter 245: Hailey Goes Into Labor!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Being Jordan's ex and current lovers, respectively, coupled with the fact that they were absolutely gorgeous, Hailey and Victoria were naturally like water and fire.

However, since she learned that Victoria might marry Russell, her attitude became very cordial.

Since Hailey was being pleasant and respectful to her now, Victoria didn't want to seem too petty.

Victoria said, "Sure, I won't be jealous. He's the father of the child and is obliged to do that."

"Thank you, Victoria."

Hailey hung up the phone, smiled, and said to Jordan, "She has given the green light. Let's go."

Since both their significant others had agreed, Jordan didn't say anything else and drove Hailey back to her and Cayden's villa.

As soon as she returned, Sylvie asked, "My dear daughter, how's the outcome of the checkup? Is the baby okay? Did Jordan take good care of you? He didn't let you fall, did he?"

Hailey walked forward slowly and said, "He took great care of me. He held my hand the whole time."

"The doctor diagnosed me with prenatal depression and said that I need to spend more time with the baby's father, so I asked Jordan to come over and keep me company."

Sylvie began to get worried. “Prenatal depression? Oh dear, why are you depressed, my dear daughter? What’s so depressing about giving birth? I’m telling you, childbirth isn’t that scary, don’t be worried.”

Afterward, she walked towards Jordan and said, “Jordan, you have to accompany Hailey well. Cayden is busy with work, so he has no time for her. Come over whenever you can. With me keeping an eye on you at home, Cayden won’t think there’s anything wrong when he finds out.”

Jordan humphed coldly. ‘Are you going to keep an eye on us to make sure we won’t cheat on Cayden?’

‘Well then, thank you very much! I don’t want anyone to get the wrong idea either!’

“Okay, Mom, stop talking and go make me something to eat. I’m hungry.” Hailey said.

“Okay, I’ll get to it now.”

After sending Sylvie away, Hailey walked to the couch in the living room and sat down. Pointing to the piano across the room, she said, “Jordan, it’s been a long time since I’ve heard you play the piano. Play something for me.”

“Okay,” Jordan agreed, thinking that playing the piano or something would be more interesting than chatting with Hailey.

In the living room, there was a Steinway grand piano. Jordan lifted the piano cover and sat down.

“I want to hear you play and sing ‘A Thousand Reasons to be Sad’!”

Hailey said excitedly, suddenly remembering that night when she watched a concert with Tyler, but they ran into Jordan and Victoria.

After Tyler successfully proposed to her, the jealous and heartbroken Jordan played and sang this song on stage in front of tens of thousands of people!

Hailey enjoyed herself at that moment!

At that time, Jordan was extremely in love with Hailey!

However, now that Jordan was giving Hailey the cold shoulder, she had to keep Jordan in love with her though she could choose not to like him!

“No,” Jordan clipped.

“You...” Hailey was so furious that she was going to jump up. ‘You performed so well in front of tens of thousands of people that you made the superstar pale in comparison!’

‘Now you’re saying you don’t know how to play?’

Hailey gave in, “Play ‘If You Feel Nothing’ then.”

It was another song that belonged to both of them.

“I don’t know how to play it,” Jordan repeated.

“How about lovers?”

Jordan said, “No.”

Hailey was furious. “You’re doing this on purpose, aren’t you? You’re so familiar with these songs. You can play with your eyes closed!”

Jordan said coldly, “I’ve forgotten all these songs.”

Ever since the moment Hailey betrayed him again, Jordan had never listened to these songs and would never play them again.

“Then you can play whatever you want!”

Hailey was extremely displeased because she intended for Jordan to play their songs in the past so that they could reminisce about the good old days too!

However, soon, Hailey realized that Jordan didn’t need to play those familiar songs from the past because she just needed to hear him play and have him by her side.

Any tune he played could captivate Hailey and bring her back to that good old days.

Jordan played a tune he had only recently heard—
“Revolutions” by Capo Productions.

The night was getting darker, and the colorful lights on the Christmas tree inside the living room were blinking rhythmically.

Jordan played the piano with both hands. This was a piece that had an extremely beautiful, serene, and therapeutic melody.

In less than a minute, Hailey, who had been suffering from insomnia for a long time, drifted off to dreamland while listening to Jordan's playing.

After a while, Sylvie came out after cooking and saw Hailey sleeping on the couch. A heartened smile appeared on her face.

Sylvie looked at Jordan and said, "Jordan, it's been a long time since Hailey has slept so soundly. You're the only one who can let her sleep so well. Remember to come tomorrow."

"Yes." Jordan regarded it as piano-playing sessions since there was only a month left until she went into labor.

Besides, Jordan was playing the tune for his baby, not Hailey.

"I'll get going now."

When Jordan saw that Hailey had fallen asleep, he left. Sylvie didn't ask him to stay for dinner either.

Just like that, a month passed.

Soon it was the 1st of February of the new year, a day that was extremely important to many people.

It was extremely important for Jordan, Hailey, and Cayden!

Reason being it was the day Hailey would be going into labor!

In the women's and children's hospital in New York.

Hailey had been wheeled into the operating room, and in a short period, their baby would be delivered!

Cayden, Shane, their parents, Benedict, and Sylvie were all waiting outside the delivery room in the hospital!

Of course, as the child's father, Jordan was also there with Victoria.

However, the two were standing farther away.

“God bless that both Hailey and the baby are fine.”

Sylvie closed her eyes and prayed.

Jordan stood at a distance, looking at the two families who were getting all anxious. He said to Victoria, “Is it inappropriate for us to be here? Our presence seems a bit redundant.”

Victoria laughed and said, “Your child is being born. How is your presence redundant? I'm a little redundant, but I still want to see the moment you become a father with my own eyes.”

“Thank you, Victoria. You are so magnanimous.” Jordan held Victoria's hand, incredibly grateful to have a girlfriend like her.

If a scheming and petty woman were to find out that her boyfriend's ex-wife was giving birth to their child, she'd definitely be furious.

At this moment, Sylvie suddenly exclaimed, “Ah! The baby has been delivered! Hailey has delivered!”

Jordan was extremely agitated.

‘Has Hailey finally given birth? Have I finally become a father!?!’

Chapter 246: The Child Must Carry The Last Name Steele!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Jordan grew up experiencing a variety of trials arranged by his family, so his maturity level had long surpassed that of the majority of people of the same age as him.

However, it was Jordan’s first time being a father!

This feeling was wonderful and exciting for him.

After all, women are the ones who give birth to babies, and men do not get to experience the process of childbirth firsthand.

He had just been informed outside the ward that the child had been born.

Soon, Sylvie walked over to Jordan excitedly and said happily, “Hailey has delivered! Hailey has delivered!”

Jordan was a little surprised. “So soon? Are the twins two boys or two girls? Or is it a boy and a girl?”

After entering the delivery room, it took only over ten minutes for Hailey to deliver, and Jordan thought it would take at least an hour or two.

In fact, there was no absolute relationship between the time of entering the delivery room and the duration of delivery because there were three stages of labor. Hailey was already in the third stage of labor, which would take no more than 30 minutes.

Sylvie replied, “We don’t know if it’s a boy or a girl yet. We have to wait for another two hours before they can be brought out.”

“Oh.” Jordan rubbed his hands, eager to see the babies!

“Alright, Aunt Sylvie.”

Sylvie rubbed her hands together gleefully and said, “What do you think is a good name for the children? I thought of a few. Tell me what you think of them.”

“If it’s two boys, one will be called Zachary and the other Zander.”

“If it’s two girls, one will be named Scarlet and the other Sierra.”

“If it’s a boy and a girl, how about Adam and Anna?”

Seeing that his former mother-in-law had painstakingly given his children names, Jordan smiled and said, “They sound great.”

To his surprise, Sylvie continued, “Zachary Huxley, Zander Huxley, Zachary Camden, Zander Camden, Sierra Huxley, Scarlet Huxley, Sierra Camden, Scarlet Camden. Hahhaa that sounds great.”

Jordan's smile suddenly changed!

Jordan questioned Sylvie with a serious expression, "Auntie, what do you mean?"

Sylvie said, "What do YOU mean?"

Jordan said, "What do you mean by taking the last names of these names and adding Camden or Huxley? I'm the father of the children, and their last names should be Steele!"

Jordan was furious because he thought that they should be carrying his last name!

Hearing his words, Sylvie chuckled and said, "Jordan, are you alright? You want the babies to take your last name? You're just a live-in husband. Why should they take your last name? Don't you know that a live-in son-in-law is not qualified to have his children take his last name?"

"Now there are only two possibilities for their last names, and they were Huxley or Camden. Hailey wants them to take her last name, but I think that since she has already married Cayden, they should take his last name. What do you think, Jordan?"

Jordan flew into a rage. "Bullshit! My children can only carry the last name 'Steele'!"

Seeing that Jordan had lost his temper, Victoria quickly grabbed his arm and persuaded, "Jordan, simmer down and talk things over slowly. The babies have just been born, don't be so eager to name them."

Sylvie rolled her eyes at Jordan and said, “My dear former son in law can you go back and look in the mirror? After three years of freeloading off the Camdens. You still want the children to take your last name? Oh, you’ve got some nerve.”

After saying that, she walked back to the delivery room.

Bang!

Jordan was so furious that he punched the wall.

Although the children have been born, they would soon be taken away by his family, but he hoped that ‘Steele’ would be their registered last name.

“Jordan, calm down, wait for Hailey to come out of the delivery room, and talk things over with her then. Her life may not be out of danger yet.”

Jordan nodded.

Just like that, another two hours passed.

The Huxleys were a notable family, and today, everyone thought it was Cayden’s kids that were going to be born so soon. The Huxleys’ acquaintances and friends were gathered at the hospital, including those who wanted to suck up to them.

Soon, Arthur himself also arrived.

As soon as Arthur got out of the elevator, he saw Victoria and Jordan.

Arthur had long treated Victoria as his younger sibling, so he naturally wouldn't fail to greet her when he saw her.

“Victoria, what brings you here?” Arthur asked curiously.

Victoria smiled and said, “Just to join in the fun.”

Arthur smiled and said, Victoria, you're really too harsh to Russell. I'm Russell's sworn brother, and you still beat me so hard.”

Arthur was implying that Perry Express, which was helmed by Victoria, had completely defeated Breezy Express.

Victoria said, “Mr. Huxley, don't say that. I'm just an acting president, and the person who has real control over the operations is Miss Audrey. How dare I compete with you, Mr. Huxley?”

Arthur smiled, knowing that Victoria wasn't a simple woman. He looked at Jordan again and asked, “You must be Mr. Jordan Steele, right?”

Jordan and Arthur were meeting for the first time. Jordan greeted, “Hello, Mr. Huxley.”

Arthur had heard Russell mention that Jordan was not a simple person. It was highly likely that his expulsion from the Steele family was a hoax.

However, Arthur did not know about Jordan's relationship with his granddaughter-in-law, Hailey.

Hence, he said, “Since you are here, let’s go see my great-grandchildren together.”

Arthur took the two of them to the delivery room together.

At this moment, the operation was over, and Hailey had given birth to a pair of twins comprising of a girl and a boy!

Arthur burst into laughter and said, “I heard that the chances of having twins are extremely low, and to have a boy and a girl is even less likely. It’s a huge blessing that my grandson gets a son and a daughter at the same time!”

“Congratulations, Mr. Huxley! Congratulations on your great-grandchildren!”

“In the future, the boy will definitely inherit your family’s business empire while the girl will rise to fame in the city!”

Others showered Arthur with compliments.

‘Hmph, a bunch of idiots. You people don’t even know that the babies don’t belong to the Huxleys at all. Arthur’s dearest grandson had become infertile a long time ago, and he can forget about having children forever!’

Jordan secretly thought, but he wouldn’t make things hard for Cayden in public.

He entered the delivery room and looked at the pair of little angels from afar while countless warmth surged in his heart.

There seemed to be a telepathic communication between him and the children as he felt they must belong to him!

At this moment, Jordan's phone rang. It was a call from Frank.

Jordan then walked out, ran to the security exit, and answered the phone.

“Mr. Jordan, I heard that your ex-wife Hailey went into labor today. Have the babies been delivered safely?”

“Yes, labor went smoothly, and both the mother and children are safe. She gave birth to a boy and a girl.”

“A boy and a girl? There's like a 0.1% chance of that happening. Congratulations, Mr. Jordan!”

“Thank you.”

“But don't mind me.. Although you trust Hailey, it's still necessary to do a DNA paternity test!”

Chapter 247: Talking To Me About Status?

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

A paternity test!

For a wealthy family, a paternity test is mandatory!

After all, tens of millions and hundreds of millions of dollars of assets are no laughing matter, and they couldn't allow someone else's child to benefit for nothing.

Besides, the Steeles had a unique training regime for their descendants, and only their biological descendants would enjoy such treatment.

Jordan said indifferently, "I know. I'll find time to do the paternity test."

Jordan hung up right away.

He did not have the intention to get the paternity test done now because Hailey had just given birth after all.

The Huxleys and the Camdens were now surrounding the children, and Jordan couldn't get close at all.

Jordan intended to let Hailey rest for a few days before mentioning to her about the paternity test.

Jordan walked back to the ward from the security exit, tapped Victoria's back, and said, "Let's go back."

"Okay."

The two drove away from the hospital.

Victoria noticed that Jordan looked slightly austere and didn't seem happy to have become a father.

She asked, "Jordan, why are you sulking? Aren't you glad to have a son and a daughter now?"

Only then did Jordan force a smile and said, “No, I’m really happy about it.”

How could Victoria not see through Jordan’s thoughts?

Since there were no outsiders in the car, Victoria went straight to the point, Uh, Jordan, are you worried that... the children don’t belong to you?”

Hailey was a terrible woman who had cheated thrice and repeatedly lied to Jordan, so it was difficult to trust her.

Jordan chuckled and said, “Of course not! The children are definitely mine. When we were trying for a baby, Hailey and I just got back together.”

“At that time, we had a very loving relationship, and I had just exposed my identity to her, so she was aware of the rules imposed by the Steeles where all children had to undergo a paternity test.”

“So, even if she was really seeing another man besides me at that time, she wouldn’t have dared to mess around because she was after our family’s assets.”

Jordan understood Hailey well and knew that she was a woman who valued money more than anything else!

She cheated on Jordan with Cayden because she was already pregnant with Jordan’s child, so she was fearless.

If she was still childless when she met Cayden, she might not have dared to get too close to Cayden.

Hearing Jordan's analysis, Victoria suddenly found him to be really pitiful.

It was unfortunate for a man to go through all sorts of analyses and judgments to conclude if his newborn children were really biologically related to him.

Victoria held onto Jordan's hand and said, "Honey, if I give birth to our kids, I won't let you be so worried. I swear that the children I give birth to will definitely be yours and only yours."

Jordan had one hand on the steering wheel and the other wrapped around Victoria's hand.

He could only seek warmth and comfort from Victoria!

What Hailey brought her was only misery, betrayal, doubt, and heartache!

Just like that, another week passed.

Jordan felt that Hailey had gotten enough rest after labor. It was time for him to go to the hospital to talk to her about the paternity test and the children's last names.

Hence, Jordan bought some fruit and health supplements early in the morning before heading to the hospital.

When he arrived at the hospital's VIP ward, Jordan discovered two guards outside the ward.

"What are you doing?"

One of the guards asked Jordan.

Jordan sized up the two people, surprised to find that the Huxleys had deliberately hired security guards to guard the ward. It seemed that the twins mattered a lot to them.

‘Unfortunately, the children don’t belong to the Huxleys at all!’

Jordan would like to thank them for taking such great care of his children.

Jordan said, “I’m here to see Hailey and the babies.”

The guard continued to ask, “Tell me your name and work unit. We have to report to the higher-ups before you can be permitted entry.”

It seemed that not any Tom, Dick, or Harry could visit Hailey.

It made sense. Given that the Huxleys were so wealthy and powerful, there must be loads of people who want to befriend them and suck up to them.

After those businessmen learned that the Huxleys had welcomed a pair of twins, they’d definitely rush to the hospital to send gifts and curry favor with them.

That would disturb Hailey and the twins while they were resting, and it wouldn’t be appropriate for the Huxleys to accept their gifts without helping them in the future.

That was why the guards would ask for the names of the visitors and the companies they represented.

Jordan understood the rationale behind it, so he cooperated and answered, “Jordan Steele, manager of the training department of Perry Express.”

To his surprise, the guards both laughed after hearing Jordan’s answer.

One of the guards laughed and gibed, “Hahaha, a mere training department manager is here to give gifts too? Trying to suck up to the Breezy Express, huh? Get the president of your company, Victoria Clarke, to come over instead!”

The other guard laughed and said, “This damned Perry Express caused Breezy Express to lose billions of o dollars. Quickly get lost, you lowly training department manager. The sight of you irks me!”

Bang!

The guard then kicked over the fruit basket that Jordan was carrying and criticized, “Trust you to have the cheek to bring these lousy fruits here. Save it for yourself!”

After the guard kicked it, the various fruits in the fruit basket were scattered all over the ground.

Jordan was enraged!

“Pick them up,” Jordan said coldly to the guard who had kicked the fruit basket.

The guard said without a single trace of fear, “Who are you trying to scare? Punk, I’ve forbidden countless bosses of various companies from entering. Do you think...”

Seeing that the guard did not intend to pick up the fruit, Jordan immediately grabbed the guard’s wrist tightly.

“Ah, it hurts!” The guard screamed in pain.

Another guard kept his guard up when he saw Jordan getting physical. “Punk, you must be courting death!”

He was just about to help his pal out when Jordan punched his face with his other hand.

Jordan’s left hand struck the guard’s face, and he passed out immediately after being slammed against the wall.

The other guard, whose wrist was grasped tightly by Jordan, was so frightened that he started trembling.

Jordan once again asked the guard, “Are you going to pick it up or not?”

Only then did the guard start to comply and nod profusely. “Yes! Yes! Yes! I’ll pick up the fruit right now!”

Jordan let go of the guard and kicked him to the ground!

“Filthy snob!”

As the saying goes, lackeys tend to be harder to deal with than their bosses. In many places, these watchdogs tend to throw their weight around with the little amount of power that they were given and make things hard for others.

Jordan hated these things the most!

The guards picked up the apples obediently, and when they suddenly saw someone, they exclaimed with a joyful grin, “Mr. Huxley, you’re here!”

It happened that Cayden had also just come over to visit Hailey.

The guard immediately approached Cayden and said, “Mr. Huxley, this man is a lowly manager of the training department of Perry Express. I stopped him from entering, but he kicked up a fuss and knocked out my partner! Should we call the police?”

When Cayden saw Jordan, he said to the guard, “That’s not necessary. I know this person.”

Cayden walked towards Jordan and said sneeringly, “Jordan, it’s okay for you to come to see Hailey, but why did you beat my guards up as soon as you arrived?”

Jordan said, “You should discipline your men properly and teach them not to have their noses in the air!”

Cayden humped coldly. “You should reflect on yourself and find the reasons for their behavior. If you’re the president or vice president of Perry Express, I reckon they wouldn’t have stopped you.”

“This world is like that. It’s all about status and identity wherever you go.”

Jordan sneered, “Hmph, status and identity? Is my identity as the babies’ father not enough for me to be granted entry!?”

Chapter 248: You’ re Not Fit To Get The Paternity Test Done!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Hearing Jordan’s words, the smug Cayden immediately blushed with embarrassment!

The guards on the side, on the other hand, were bewildered by what they had just heard.

‘The babies’ father?’

‘What babies’ father?’

Cayden didn’t want the irrelevant people to learn of the secret between them, so he reached his hand out and said, “Come on in. Save the gifts. We don’t need them.”

Hence, Cayden took the lead to push the door and entered.

Jordan followed closely behind.

The VIP ward was spacious and well-equipped. It was morning, and the curtains were open, so the rays of sunlight shone in through the window, providing ample light for the room.

When Cayden and Jordan entered, Hailey sat by the bed and played with the twins lying in their crib.

Seeing that the two of them had entered, Hailey immediately said with a smile, “My dear babies, Daddy is here to see you.”

‘Daddy!’

Jordan had a warm and fuzzy feeling in his heart when he heard those words.

Once again, it was that somewhat surreal feeling!

‘Am I already a father now?’

He walked over gleefully, only to find that Cayden was a step ahead of him and had already reached Hailey and the babies.

After Cayden went over, Hailey continued to say to the newborns, “My dear babies, look at Daddy. Do you miss Daddy?”

Jordan was overwhelmed with disappointment, and his spirits were dampened. Hailey wasn’t referring to him but Cayden!

“Atrocious!”

Jordan was so jealous that he walked over and pushed Cayden to the ground. He said, “I’m their father!”

Hailey chided Jordan resentfully, “What are you doing? What if you scare them?”

However, the newborns, who were only a week old, didn’t cry or get scared when they saw Jordan pushing Cayden, as well as the furious expression on Jordan’s face.

They looked straight at Jordan with warmth in their eyes!

In an instant, Jordan suddenly felt that the look in his eyes was very familiar because it seemed that the daughter of that mysterious woman at the café had also looked at him in a similar manner.

When he saw the look in their eyes, Jordan's heart immediately softened.

A smile graced his face immediately, and he looked at the infants. "Babies... Daddy has come to see you."

Now, it was Cayden, who had fallen to the ground, who was displeased!

Cayden got up from the ground and said, "I think we need to talk about the matter of the children's father!"

Of course, Jordan was willing to talk to him because that was precisely what he was here for!

Cayden locked the door of the room from the inside to prevent others from entering. He then walked over and said, "My grandfather really likes them, and he has already named them."

"The girl will be named Leah, and the boy will be named Luke."

Jordan looked at the two little infants and muttered, "Leah Steele and Luke Steele. Not bad. I like these names."

Cayden was so enraged that he wanted to slam his hand against the table. “What do you mean Leah Steele and Luke Steele!?! It should be Leah Huxley and Luke Huxley!”

On the other hand, Hailey chimed in, “Leah Camden and Luke Camden sound better!”

All three of them were fighting over the children’s last names!

Cayden said to Hailey, “Hailey, you’re now my wife, and we’re a prestigious family. It really doesn’t seem appropriate for our children to take their mother’s last name. We’d better stick to Huxley.”

Hailey felt that Cayden did not love her enough. Since he wasn’t the biological father of her children, they might not inherit the Huxleys’ assets in the future, so she wanted the children to take her last name.

Hailey compromised and said, “The boy can take your last name, but the girl has to take mine. Moreover, you have to make sure that the boy can be entitled to a share of the inheritance!”

Cayden said, “Yes, the boy shall take the last name Huxley while the girl shall take the last name Cayden.”

Hailey nodded and agreed, “Okay.”

‘Okay, my foot!’ Jordan thought.

He was so furious that he felt an urge to flip the table. If not for the two babies, he would have lost his temper and hit the roof!

Jordan said furiously, “I’m the father of the children. If they take your last names respectively, what about me?”

Hailey was completely dismissive of Jordan, and she said disdainfully, “Jordan, don’t forget, you were my live-in husband and you can ask around, which live-in husband is fit to have their children take on their last name? The children of live-in husbands all take the last name of their mothers.”

Jordan said angrily, “I was married to you for three years as your live-in husband, and if we had children from the time we got married, I’d have no objections to them taking your last name!”

“But you never allowed me to get intimate with you in those three years, and we didn’t have any kids.”

“We both really wanted children only when I revealed myself to be a Steele. At that time, all the household expenses, including the car, house, and your families’ needs, were taken care of by me! I had provided for you guys!”

“At that time, I was no longer your live-in husband! So, of course, I’d have the right to make them take my last name!”

Jordan knew that if he didn’t hide his identity, Hailey wouldn’t be arguing with him about the children’s last names.

Hailey decided to let her kids take her last name only because she thought Jordan was penniless now.

Hailey said, “Yes, you have every right to make that request, but we’re divorced now, and we have our respective partners. If the babies take your last name, how are we supposed to explain that they don’t have the same last names as us when we bring them out or enroll them in school in the future? What if others ask about it? How awkward would that be for them?”

“You don’t have to worry about that problem!” Jordan said.

Reason being the children won’t even attend school like regular kids. Instead, they will receive professional training from the Steeles!

Cayden said condescendingly, “Jordan, what’s the point of letting the children take your surname? Are they going to inherit the billions of dollars worth of assets belonging to the Steeles or what?”

“If they take my last name, I can guarantee that they will live in the lap of luxury for the rest of their lives!”

Hailey was enticed and tempted after hearing that. “Look how magnanimous Cayden is. He’s willing to raise your children and even give your son his assets! You should be thanking him!”

Jordan humphed coldly and thought, ‘Will Cayden really be willing to give his assets to my son?’

Jordan didn’t believe he would be so nice!

Only the silly woman Hailey would believe him!

Jordan couldn't outargue them. After a momentary pause, he said, "At the end of the day, we still can't reach a consensus on this matter."

"There's another reason that I'm here today. It won't be too late to talk about the matter regarding their last name after I'm done with this."

Hailey looked at Jordan and asked, "What is it?"

Jordan glanced at the infants and said, "I want to do a paternity test with the children."

"No!" Hailey refuted immediately!

Hailey held the infant's hands heartbrokenly and said, "Jordan, you're so cruel. The babies have just been born and want to draw their blood and pull their hair. I won't let you hurt my children!"

Feeling helpless, Jordan explained, "There is no need to draw blood or pull out their hair. We just need to do an oral swab by rubbing their inner cheeks a few times with a cotton swab to collect their samples."

"No! That sounds terrifying to me! I will never let you do a paternity test! You don't deserve to do a paternity test with them either!" Hailey once again refuted vehemently..

Chapter 249: The Children Are Not Yours!

Jordan and Hailey argued endlessly.

Standing at the side, Cayden looked like he was watching a good show.

Cayden laughed and said, “Jordan, why do you insist on doing the paternity tests with the children? Do you suspect that Hailey slept with another man when she was trying for a baby with you?”

Cayden knew for a fact that the children didn’t belong to him anyway, so he didn’t have to run a maternity test.

Hailey took advantage of it and looked at Jordan as she asked, “Yeah, Jordan, what do you mean by forcing the children to undergo paternity tests? Aren’t you blatantly suspecting that I had slept with another man?”

“Jordan, you’re such a jerk. I loved you so much at that time, and I wanted to see you every waking minute of my life. I wanted to text you all the time and stayed in your villa every single day. Yet, you’re suspecting me of having cheated on you?”

Jordan was at a loss for words. He knew that Hailey was rather nice to him at that time and didn’t show any signs of cheating.

Jordan said, “No, I’m not suspecting you. This is just one of our family’s rules. I can’t help it either.”

Hailey sneered. “Haha, what rules of your family? You’ve long been expelled by the Steeles, and you’re still mentioning the rules set by them?”

“The Steeles require their descendants to take the paternity test because they’re going to give them billions of dollars worth of assets after the test!”

“What’s the point of you doing the paternity test? Even if the children are proven to be yours, do you have a property to leave to them?”

“All your money comes from Victoria. Victoria won’t give the money she earned to my children!”

Jordan didn’t want to explain anything to Hailey. Instead, he said, “You don’t have to worry about whether I have any assets to be given to the children. As long as they’re mine, I won’t mistreat them!”

“The children aren’t yours!” Hailey suddenly said.

At this moment, even Cayden was taken aback.

He was overjoyed and proceeded to peel a banana to munch on while watching the drama unfold.

Jordan was shocked to hear those words that he had sometimes had nightmares about during Hailey’s pregnancy!

Breathing heavily, Jordan looked at Hailey and asked, “What... what did you say?”

Hailey said with an arrogant look on her face, “I said, the children aren’t yours!”

“Who do they belong to then!?!?” Jordan exclaimed loudly.

Hailey, however, was not afraid of Jordan and said to him with a straight face, “Tyler Collins!”

Jordan and Cayden were both astounded to hear that answer.

After the shock, Cayden was delighted, and he said, “It turns out the children belong to my cousin. Haha, that’s exciting, huh? My cousin, who doesn’t look like much but is a person who can do great things, kept such a huge matter from me.”

“That said, I haven’t contacted him for a long time, and I don’t know where he’s been for the last six months.”

“When I have time, I have to give him a call and tell him that I’ll be raising his children. Haha, we’re relatives after all.”

At this moment, Jordan was rather agitated!

“Tyler Collins? The children are fathered by him?”

Jordan kept recalling the image of Hailey and Tyler being in the hotel room and the video that Tyler had secretly taken.

“Does it mean that Hailey was already pregnant at that time?”

“Does it mean that Tyler secretly came to Orlando to see her when she was trying for a baby with me?”

Recalling how happy Tyler had made Hailey in the past, Jordan reckoned that it wasn’t impossible for her to accept Tyler again!

If it wasn’t for the two babies, he would have given Hailey two slaps on the face right now!

Jordan, who had never hit a woman before, couldn't stand how shameless Hailey was!

However, Jordan was already a mature man who knew that Hailey was a chronic liar, so he couldn't trust her words.

Jordan exclaimed, "I don't believe it! When we were trying for a baby, Tyler Collins went to New York City. He definitely didn't dare to come back!"

"I want to do a paternity test! It's not enough for you to say that the children aren't mine. I have to personally verify it for myself!"

As Jordan spoke, he was about to carry the babies.

Hailey stopped Jordan with all her might. "Don't touch my kids! You're not fit to do a paternity test with the children!"

"If you were still the grandson of the Steeles now, I wouldn't stop you, but you're just a freeloading good-for-nothing now. Who are you to demand that we do a paternity test?"

"Even if the children are yours, I don't need you to fork out a single cent because I can raise them myself!"

"Anyway, the kids have nothing to do with you. Get out of here. I don't want to see you again!"

Hailey was so emotional that the children started crying too.

Seeing this, Cayden also stood in front of Jordan and said,
“Jordan, you should go. You scared the babies as soon as you came.”

“Is it really that important whether the children belong to you or not? You have Victoria now, and it’s a good thing for you if you’re childless. Do you actually expect Victoria to help you raise your kids?”

Hearing the babies crying, Jordan’s heart ached!

He didn’t want to continue arguing with Hailey here as he wanted them to stop crying.

Hence, Jordan turned around and left, but before he did, he told the two of them, “I will definitely get the paternity tests done.”

As soon as he headed downstairs after coming out of the hospital, he got a call from Butler Frank.

“Hello.”

“Mr. Jordan, Mr. Steele Senior would like to know the result of the paternity test of your twins.

“I haven’t done it yet.”

“You haven’t? Did you encounter any trouble? Do you need my help?”

“No!”

Jordan quickly turned down Frank's help because he knew that once his family intervened, they would do whatever they could to achieve their goal.

The children were inseparable from Hailey now, and if they had to be forcibly taken away for a paternity test, Jordan could do it himself without Frank's help.

However, Jordan didn't want to do that and treated it as his last resort.

At this moment, Victoria called too.

Jordan hurriedly said, "I'll handle this matter myself. I'll hang up now."

Jordan ended the call with Frank and then answered Victoria's call.

"Jordan, how did the talk with Hailey go?"

Victoria asked, knowing that Jordan would be going to the hospital today for the paternity test.

As Jordan's current girlfriend, she was also very concerned about this matter.

Jordan said, "She said the children aren't fathered by me but Tyler Collins."

"What?" Victoria was stunned on the other end. "No way? Could she be just trying to spite you on purpose?"

“Beats me,” Jordan said.

Victoria said, “Okay, don’t panic yet. I’ll make a trip to the hospital now, let me talk to her. It’ll be easier for me to communicate with her since I’m a woman too. You two must have argued again, and in such circumstances, nothing positive will come out of your discussion.”

“Yes.” Jordan nodded, knowing that Victoria was good at communications.

Perhaps, Victoria would help him solve the problem.

Jordan went to the smoking area of the hospital and smoked a cigarette despondently. He secretly thought, ‘I thought that once Hailey gives birth, I wouldn’t need to worry, but I didn’t think this to be the beginning of my troubles.’”

“Are the children... mine or not?”

Chapter 250: Restoring His Identity As The Scion of The Steele Family!

There had always been all sorts of people of all walks of life in the smoking area of the hospital.

While Jordan was smoking and waiting for Victoria, several middle-aged men took the initiative to strike a conversation with him. Their wives had all just given birth.

However, they were all brimming with the joy of being a father for the first time and 100% certain that they were the biological fathers of their children without having done a paternity test.

Indeed, such a dramatic event wouldn't happen to ordinary people.

When one marries a beautiful woman like Hailey, who attracts countless suitors, one is destined to experience the corresponding misery.

Soon, Victoria arrived at the hospital. She headed to the smoking area to meet up with Jordan and asked him to wait for her there while she went to see Hailey alone.

Like Jordan, Victoria also bought a fruit basket and some health supplements to Hailey's VIP ward.

There were two guards outside the ward, and although they were no longer the same ones as before, they were just as challenging to deal with.

"Name and workplace," one of the guards said indifferently while staring at Victoria's superb figure.

The two guards were astonished!

"President... president of Perry Express? Miss... Miss Clarke?"

The president of Perry Express was on the same level as their boss, Arthur Huxley, and the reputation and stock prices of Perry Express had now far surpassed Breezy Express!

The guards frantically bent forward respectfully and answered, “Please come in, Miss Clarke...”

“Hey, Victoria is here!”

Upon sight of Victoria, Cayden hurriedly went over to greet her. “Victoria, it’s so thoughtful of you to take the time out of your schedule to come to visit my wife. You’ve even brought gifts with you. The fruit looks delicious. Bring them to me.”

Victoria handed the fruit basket and health supplements to Cayden before walking towards Hailey.

“Victoria.” Hailey also greeted Victoria cordially and obediently.

“Hailey,” Victoria called out affectionately.

Hailey’s pretentiousness and ability to converse hypocritically were several notches below Victoria’s.

“Hailey, how’s your body recovering?” Victoria asked, showing Hailey some concern.

Hailey said with a smile, “Much better. Thank you for your concern.”

Victoria took a look at the pair of twins and remarked gleefully, “The babies are gorgeous. They’re going to grow up to be really good-looking.”

Hailey was also extremely confident in her children’s looks.

After chatting for a while, Victoria said, “Actually, I came here to visit you and the children and also to ask you to do me a favor.”

“What is it?” Hailey asked.

Victoria said, “Can you get the children and Jordan to do a paternity test?”

Only then did Hailey learn that Victoria was here for Jordan.

Hailey’s expression changed. “No!”

Victoria didn’t expect Hailey to be so determined, and she said, “Hailey, are you adamant about it because you think the kids are still too young? We can wait a few more days or even a week or two.”

“Give us a date so that Jordan can have something to look forward to.”

However, Hailey refuted with determination, “I won’t let the children do a paternity test with Jordan, ever!”

“Why?” Victoria asked

Hailey said straightforwardly, “Because there is no point in doing that! Even if the children are proven to be his, so what? Can they inherit the Steeles’ assets?”

“At the end of the day, Cayden and I will still have to raise them.”

Victoria thought about it and said, “How about this? If it turns out that are fathered by Jordan, I’m willing to pay you 15 million in alimony on his behalf.”

15 million dollars!

Hailey and Cayden both froze in shock. ‘Victoria’s girlfriend is too generous, huh?’

The children had nothing to do with Victoria at all. Other women would try to keep their boyfriends from giving money to their ex-wives’ children.

Yet, Victoria was helping Jordan pay his ex-wife and children alimony!

Hailey immediately felt ashamed and guilty. She exclaimed, “A woman is actually willing to spend 15 million dollars on Jordan!”

As Jordan’s ex-wife, she was displeased and immediately refuted when she saw Victoria undermining her with money.

“No way! I have 15 million dollars too! I don’t need your money!”

The Camdens were not what they used to be. If they first met in the past, 15 million dollars would still be considered an enormous sum to Hailey.

After all, Hailey had slept with Tyler just to get him to invest a few million dollars.

However, 15 million dollars no longer meant much to Hailey now.

“Okay, then, if you change your mind later, call me again. The promise of 15 million dollars will stand at any time. I won’t disturb you from resting now.”

Seeing how resolute Hailey was, Victoria didn’t waste her breath any longer.

Victoria headed back to the smoking area downstairs and shook her head at Jordan when she saw him.

“She has been dead against getting a paternity test done but don’t worry, I’ll find time to come back and talk to her again.”

Victoria comforted Jordan.

Jordan shook his head and said, “It’s alright, Victoria, just go ahead and focus on your work. Stay out of this matter. I have my own solution.”

Jordan felt his heartache for Victoria because this matter had nothing to do with her. He couldn’t bear to see her getting vexed about the issues between him and his ex-wife.

Jordan sent Victoria to work and then called Frank again.

“Do you have any orders for me, Mr. Jordan?”

Frank seemed to sense that Jordan was going to hand him a major task!

Jordan said, “I want to acquire Speedy Express, Omni Express, 365 Express, Daily Express, and the other top courier companies in the country other than Perry Express and Breezy Express!”

“I also want to acquire the three major takeout companies like Uber and the others!”

Frank was so shocked that he exclaimed on the other end of the line!

The acquisition of so many companies would probably require several dozens of billions of dollars!

Frank asked, “Mr. Jordan, are you... going to make Victoria Clarke the president of these companies again?”

Jordan said, “No, I’m going to be the president!”

“I’m going to set up a group of companies that belong to me, just like I did in Orlando. I want to dominate New York City and become the richest man in the country!”

Frank swallowed his saliva agitatedly. “Yes!”

After hanging up the phone, Jordan closed his eyes and lifted his head to look up at the sky!

He had tried it before!

He had tried treating everyone with sincerity as a penniless man!

However, Cayden and Russell looked down on him and despised him!

The Camdens abandoned him!

Hailey even felt that Jordan was not worthy of a paternity test!

It was solely because she thought that Jordan was no longer one of the Steeles!

The only one he really wanted to keep by his side was Victoria!

‘If that’s the case, then I won’t hide anymore. I won’t care about your feelings anymore!’

‘I’m a scion who’s worth dozens of billions of dollars!’

‘I’m the richest man in the country!’

‘That powerful Mr. Steele who dominated Orlando is back!’

‘Hailey Camden, I want you to beg me on your knees to get a paternity test done the next time you see me!!’

Chapter 251: The Proposal!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

‘Since the world worships heroes, I will become a hero!’

‘Since this society only respects rich people, then I will become a rich person!’

In the following week, groundbreaking pieces of news appeared in the local business circle every single day.

“J Corporation has acquired Speedy Express! The change of legal entity has been completed!”

“J Corporation has acquired 80% of the shares of Daily Express with a cash contribution of one billion dollars (including equity transfer tax)!”

“J Corporation has completed the acquisition of several courier companies such as Omni Express and 365 Express!”

“Breaking! Breaking! J Corporation has completed the full acquisition of the takeout company, EatUp, for 10 billion dollars!”

“Breaking! Breaking! Breaking! J Corporation has acquired Ubereats for 40 billion and became the largest shareholder of the company!”

It was near the end of the year, so many employees were on vacation leave and gone home for Christmas and the New Year.

However, those big pieces of news continuously appeared in the business circle!

“Soaring! Soaring! After the acquisition of Ubereats, the total market value of Ubereats has soared to nearly 150 billion dollars!”

“The identity of the chairman of J Corporation remains unknown, but the business world already considers him to be the richest man in the country!”

...

Hailey and Cayden’s home in Jade Villa.

Cayden and Hailey were both watching the news with utter astonishment in their eyes!

“J Corporation... What exactly is the origin of this J Corporation? How did it manage to acquire so many enterprises one after another!?!”

Cayden was emotional and amazed.

Since J Corporation acquired many courier companies, the domestic courier industry was now dominated by a tripartite of J Corporation, Breezy Express, and Perry Express!

Hailey was surprised too, and she remarked, “Why can’t I find any information about the CEO of J Corporation? This person definitely has a powerful background. He has acquired so many companies without having to reveal his name, huh?”

Cayden explained, “He claims to be an acting president, but now everyone knows that that person is not really the one in charge of J Corporation.”

“J Corporation has become the top corporation in the country, and he has become the new richest man in the country!”

Hailey was extremely tempted too. “The richest man in the country... oh my God, I really want to get to know this man and find out what he looks like.”

“I hope to have the opportunity to know him...”

...

At this time, in the villa next door, Victoria had just returned home as well.

She took off her high heels and said with amazement and admiration, “There are hidden experts everywhere. Have you seen the news of the J Corporation? This person is really powerful. Even Mr. Walton said that they are no match for J Corporation!”

“He also said that the president of the J Corporation did not just become the richest person of the country today, but he has always been the richest person. He just didn’t want to show his face.

Victoria changed into her slippers and took a large sip of water, still feeling worried.

It was no wonder that Victoria, who had been involved in the business world, must have been shocked by those groundbreaking news every day!

Victoria suddenly said, “By the way, Jordan, my sister just called me to say that she wants to go to the Maldives during the New Year. Shall we go together?”

Many people would spend New Year’s Eve With Their Families.

Emily was Victoria's only sister. It was rare for the two to meet, so they definitely had to spend the New Year holiday together.

Jordan didn't have any relatives in the country at the moment, so the three of them could gather for some fun.

However, Jordan pretended to be reluctant. "To the Maldives? That's so far away."

Seated next to Jordan, Victoria grabbed Jordan's arm and shook it. "Come on, Honey, let's give in to Emily's wishes."

"Well, okay." Jordan then reluctantly agreed.

"Thank you, Honey!" Victoria gave Jordan a kiss on the cheek and then stood up. "I'm going to take a shower!"

Watching Victoria leave, Jordan smiled sinisterly and thought, 'Silly sweetheart, you still don't know that it was my idea to go to the Maldives, do you? Hehehe.'

Indeed, going to the Maldives for New Year's Eve was Jordan's idea!

He had already chartered an island in the Maldives a long time ago!

Jordan wasn't planning to go there just for a holiday trip for the New Year but also to propose!

Emily had said that Victoria would like to be proposed in a quiet environment, so Jordan chartered the island for the proposal!

Jordan had planned to propose at the beginning of the year.

Besides, Jordan was about to come clean with Hailey and tell her that he was the president of J Corporation!

He wanted to tell her that he had not been expelled from the family at all.

Before Hailey could learn the truth, he had to let Victoria know first, or it would be too unfair to her!

...

New Year's Day, Maldives.

It would have been freezing in New York City at this time.

However, in this part of the Maldives, it was rather warm. They just had to wear short-sleeved clothing because the temperature here is between 26-31 degrees all year round.

“Victoria! Jordan!”

At the airport, Emily skipped towards them, clad in a lightweight short dress.

Victoria thought Emily and Jordan were meeting for the first time, so she introduced, “Emily, let me introduce you to...”

“Hey, you can save the introduction. We are already familiar with each other!” Emily quickly said.

The last time Emily and Jordan met, they spent a night in a hotel in DC.

“How do you know each other? Isn’t this the first time you two are meeting?” Victoria asked curiously.

Emily laughed and said, “Well, there’s something called Instagram. We video call each other on Instagram all the time, right, Jordan?”

“Yes!” Jordan nodded.

Victoria looked at Jordan with a suspecting gaze and questioned, “Why are you always in a video call with my sister? Have you taken a fancy to her?”

“No...” Jordan said with an innocent expression.

“Haha.” Looking at her sister’s jealous look, Emily grinned happily and said, “Vicky, quit being jealous. Let’s go to the hotel.”

The three of them took a cab from the airport to an island named Vommuli.

When they arrived on this island, Victoria found it somewhat puzzling that there wasn’t a single person in sight even though there was unlimited scenery.

There were no tourists or service staff.

Strolling around the island, Victoria discovered that the island was beautifully decorated. There were signs everywhere that read, “Will you marry me?”

“Oh dear, someone has chartered this island. Let’s hurry up and go somewhere else to have fun.”

Victoria realized that the island must have been chartered. Otherwise, it was impossible for there to be no one around.

However, just at this moment, Jordan suddenly took out a diamond ring from his pocket, got down on one knee, and proposed to Victoria, who was clad in a white maxi dress!

“Will you marry me?”

Victoria instantly covered her mouth and froze in shock!

“Did... did you set this all up?”

At a glance, Victoria could tell that a wealthy young scion had chartered the island to propose to his girlfriend since there was a sense of romance all over the island.

She just didn’t expect that the person who chartered the island was Jordan, and the woman being proposed to was herself!

“Marry him! Marry him!”

Emily kept clapping her hands at the side.

Victoria was so touched that she burst into tears. Then, she looked at Jordan and gave him her answer.

“I do..”

Chapter 252: I’ m The Richest Man in The Country!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Jordan got up and hugged Victoria tightly.

Victoria closed her eyes, and tears of joy kept streaming down her delicate face.

She was already 31 years old, and although she had been surrounded by many suitors all these years, she always felt that she would end up alone until she met Jordan.

Jordan was in high spirits, too, because Victoria was the best woman he had ever met and also the woman who treated him the best.

When everyone ridiculed and humiliated him for being abandoned by his wife and the Steele family, Victoria was the only one who was willing to stay by his side.

Jordan took out the sparkling diamond ring from the diamond ring box, gently lifted Victoria’s delicate hand, and put the ring on her ring finger.

Victoria was incredibly touched, and she realized that the ring was not tacky at all. She exclaimed with some surprise, “This diamond ring... is beautiful!”

The diamond ring was designed by New York’s top bespoke jewelry brand, Lorraine Schwartz. It was made of an octagonally-cut 18-carat diamonds that was set in a platinum base.

The toughness of the diamond represented the indestructible love he had for her!

Emily, who was at the side, had already taken out her DSLR camera and assumed the role of the photographer. While taking pictures, she explained, “Vicky, this diamond ring is worth seven million dollars. Jordan specially had it custom-made for you!”

Seven million dollars!

That’s as much as the price of a villa in New York City!

Besides, it would take a few million dollars to charter the island too.

Jordan had spent more than ten million dollars just for those two things!

Victoria looked at Jordan in surprise and asked, “Where did you get the money from?”

Jordan had already put the diamond ring on Victoria’s left ring finger. At this moment, he also had to come clean with her.

“Victoria, I’d like to apologize to you. In fact, my expulsion from the Steele family is a lie, and I have always been a part of the family,” Jordan said.

Emily, who knew the truth a long time ago, also smiled and said, “That’s not all, Sis. He’s now the richest man in the country, and the corporation, J Corporation, which has been acquiring major companies, was built by him.”

Victoria was completely dumbfounded.

“You were not expelled from the family? Does J Corporation belong to you?”

J was the initial of Jordan’s name!

Jordan nodded.

However, Victoria was really exasperated to learn of the news.

“In that case, you’ve been lying to me all this well? If you were so distrusting of me, forget about marrying me!”

As Victoria spoke, she was about to take off the ring that Jordan had just put on her finger.

Jordan hurriedly hugged Victoria and stopped her. “Victoria, it’s not like that. Let me explain.”

“At that time, I learned that Hailey deceived me because she had clearly slept with Tyler, but she lied and told me that she didn’t do anything with him.”

“That wasn’t it. She also had an ambiguous affair with Cayden and went on dates with him every day even after she got pregnant.”

“I wanted to divorce her, but before Hailey’s grandaunt passed, she made me promise her that I wouldn’t divorce Hailey.”

“Hailey’s grandaunt had saved my life, and I didn’t want her to leave this world with regrets, so I agreed.”

“As you know, I take promises seriously, and I didn’t want to break my promise, so I came up with this solution.”

“I know Hailey loves money, and once she knows that I’m broke, she’d definitely take the initiative to divorce me.”

Victoria knew quite a bit about Jordan and Hailey’s marriage.

Victoria knew that Jordan was a good person, and so she didn’t blame him either. She asked, “Why didn’t you tell me even after we got together?”

Jordan said, “I’ve always wanted to find a chance to tell you, but I wanted to wait until Hailey had given birth. Well, as you know, that woman will definitely come back to haunt me once she knows that I wasn’t expelled from the family.”

Victoria nodded, knowing that Hailey had always liked Jordan and left him only because he was penniless. Once she knew that he was wealthy, she would definitely try to get him back again.

Emily persuaded Victoria from the side, “Vicky, just forgive him. He may have been hiding his identity, but he’s been secretly helping you too. You became the deputy president of Perry Express because of him too. Miss Audrey is his younger sister.”

Victoria was even more surprised. “Miss Audrey is your sister?”

Jordan smiled and nodded. “Yes, she’s my youngest sister.”

Only then did Victoria understand why she could easily become the deputy president and then the president of Perry Express!

It turned out that all of this was not because of her good luck or the fact that she could get along well with Audrey, but because of Jordan's arrangement!

“You're so annoying. You didn't tell me earlier either!”

Victoria patted Jordan gently, but he knew that she had already forgiven him after looking at her expression.

This world is just like that. If a rich person pretends to be poor, he or she would tend to be forgiven easily.

However, if a poor man pretended to be rich, the woman would definitely break up with him once she found out about it. She would even lash out at him.

Of course, Victoria was not a money-grubber.

In the next two days, Jordan, Victoria, and Emily enjoyed themselves leisurely.

Jordan and Victoria took a flight back to New York City on the third day of the new year.

Before leaving, Jordan invited Emily to go to New York City and move in with him and Victoria. He also said that he could arrange for her to take on a high post in J Corporation.

However, Emily, who was quite strong-headed, refused.

She said that she preferred being a flight attendant and flying around the world.

To Jordan, all jobs are equal. In his opinion, there is no difference between the president of a listed company and a flight attendant who serves guests on airplanes.

Hence, Jordan respected Emily's decision.

When they arrived at the airport, they discovered that there were lots of fans surrounding the place because they happened to have boarded the same flight as a famous celebrity.

Victoria had long been famous and had been on national TV before so many reporters recognized her.

When they saw Victoria, the most beautiful president of New York City, holding hands with a handsome man and wearing a sparkling diamond ring on her hand, they immediately realized that there was something newsworthy and thus rushed forward.

The female reporters probed about Jordan. "Miss Clarke, Miss Clarke, can you introduce this handsome man to us?"

"Someone reported that you have gotten a boy toy who's an idol group trainee. Is this him? Is he an artist?"

Victoria couldn't help but burst into laughter when she heard their questions. She turned to look at Jordan and said, "Honey, someone said that you look like an idol group trainee. Haha."

Jordan laughed. It seemed that he was quite handsome, and he could consider joining the entertainment industry if he didn't run a business.

Jordan's status was not what it used to be, and Victoria didn't want the tabloid reporters to write nonsense about him.

Victoria stopped in her tracks and faced the camera and reporters.. She asked, "This is my fiancé, Jordan, the president of J Corporation!"

Chapter 253: Causing A Stir At The Huxleys' Wedding!

The president of J Corporation!

Everyone present was shocked to hear that title!

In the past few days, the person occupying all the trending topic lists was not some celebrity but the president of J Corporation!

"What? He is the president of J Corporation? The newly minted richest man in the country?"

"Oh my God, he is too young and handsome! I thought this mysterious tycoon was at least 50 years old!"

"Ahhhhh, the president of Perry Express is married to the president of J Corporation. You guys are going to be an invincible duo of the business world!"

Everyone was chasing them and trying to interview the "most beautiful CEO of New York City" and the "richest man in the country"

The popular celebrity was left aside!

Soon, the keywords “Richest man in the country marries New York City’s most beautiful president” and “Jordan and Victoria” topped the hot search list!

...

Jade Villa.

At this moment, Hailey had just coaxed the twins to sleep and finally had some time to relax. Thus, she picked up her cell phone and started to scroll through Twitter.

When she clicked on the app, she was stunned to see the list of trending topics.

The first topic on the list was Jordan and Victoria!

“Strange, how did Jordan and Victoria end up on the list of trending topics? Jordan has actually ranked ahead of Victoria!”

They were quite particular about the ranking of these names too.

Victoria was the president of Perry Express, while Jordan was just a training department manager. Even if they had made it to the list of trending topics, Victoria should have ranked in front of Jordan.

Hailey tapped on it to take a look, only to be dumbstruck.

“The president of J Corporation is... Jordan!?!”

Seeing the news content, Hailey turned pale as if she had been suffocated.

J Corporation is one of the most powerful and wealthiest companies in the country now. The president of J Corporation was considered to be the richest man in the country!

During this period, Hailey had been admiring the CEO of J Corporation. She had wanted to find an opportunity to get to know him.

However, today, she learned that this mysterious tycoon she admired and looked up to was her ex-husband, the live-in husband that her family despised and abandoned!

“Jor... Jordan!”

“No!”

Hailey collapsed to the ground and passed out!

...

At this time, Jordan and Victoria had already shaken off these bored reporters and got into the Maybach sedan.

Yes, it was the limited edition Maybach that Jordan drove in Orlando previously!

Sitting in the back seat of the car, Jordan held Victoria’s hand and said, “Victoria, I’ll take you back to the villa where you can get some rest. I’m going to go somewhere.

Victoria asked curiously, “Honey, where are you going?”

Jordan said, “Tim told me that just now that the Huxleys are holding a baby shower for my twins today. I have to go take a look.”

Victoria knew that a conflict between Jordan and the Huxleys was inevitable.

However, with Jordan’s status today, Victoria no longer needed to worry about him.

“Okay.” Victoria assented obediently without stopping him.

Heart Hotel in New York City.

At this moment, the Huxleys were holding a party for Cayden’s twins.

There were many customers, and it was extremely crowded. The babies’ photos and names were hung on the wall.

Leah Huxley and Luke Huxley.

Dressed in a white and clean suit, Jordan brought Tim and the others with him as he appeared at the venue.

“Sir, you can’t enter without an invitation!”

A service staff quickly stopped Jordan.

Tim immediately pulled out a wad of cash and threw it at the service staff’s face. “Here’s the gift, now get lost! Don’t get in the way of Mr. Steele!”

Jordan then entered the venue.

As soon as he appeared, Jordan's designer-name suit and aura caused many people at the scene to look at him!

“Jordan?”

Cayden had been busy greeting the guests and hadn't had time to watch the news, so he didn't know that it was revealed that Jordan was the president of the J Corporation.

Cayden walked over with a look of displeasure and exclaimed, “Jordan Steele, what are you doing here? I didn't invite you. Leave immediately!”

Sine the newborns belonged to Jordan and not Cayden, Cayden obviously wouldn't welcome Jordan here!

Without waiting for Jordan's reply, Tim yelled loudly,

“Audacious! How dare you call Mr. Steele by his full name!?!”

Cayden looked at Tim and laughed out loud. “I was wondering who you were. So it's you, little bastard. Have you gone to become Jordan Steele's lackey instead of driving for me? Can he afford to pay you?”

“Mr. Steele? You really know how to make yourself seem mighty. Are you the CEO of the training department? Hahaha.”

Tim took out his cell phone, opened Heaven's Eye app, searched Jordan's name, and then showed it to Cayden.

“Open your eyes and look, you dog! Mr. Steele is the president of J Corporation! I don't need to tell you how many companies J Corporation has recently acquired, do I!?!”

Now, it was shown in Heaven's Eye app that J Corporation was helmed by Jordan!

Cayden was stunned completely when he saw the information displayed on the screen.

A mere company owned by the J Corporation was enough to defeat Breezy Express. Not to mention, Jordan had also acquired other courier companies!

Now, Breezy Express was no longer a match for J Corporation in the courier industry!

Cayden pointed at Jordan and hollered, “You... you haven't been expelled from your family!”

At this moment, the guests at the other tables at the wedding banquet also got up and discussed incessantly among themselves.

“Oh my God, that young man is the president of J Corporation? This is unbelievable!”

“He's the leading whale of the local domestic express delivery, who has quickly monopolized the industry!”

“That’s right, even Mr. Huxley’s Breezy Express will not escape the fate of being acquired by him!”

Jordan ignored other people’s comments about himself and maintained an indifferent expression. “Cayden, don’t worry, I’m not here to flip the tables or cause a stir.”

“Well then... what are you going to do?” Cayden asked, full of fear towards Jordan at this point!

Jordan pointed to the stage in front of him, where there was a large photo of the twins. “The names are written wrongly.”

After saying that, Jordan stretched out his hand, and Tim immediately handed Jordan a pen.

Jordan then took a step forward to stride towards the stage while everyone watched quietly. No one dared to stop him!

Afterward, Jordan struck through the words ‘Huxley’ with the pen!

He then replaced them with “Steele”!

Even if the twins were named Leah and Luke, they should be taking Jordan’s last name!

As soon as he did that, everyone got into a huge uproar!

Arthur and Cayden’s parents, who were seated in the first row, were all flushed!

“Oh my god, why did Mr. Steele change the names of the Huxleys’ grandchildren?”

“This is blatant humiliation! He’s here to humiliate the Huxleys, right?”

The guests discussed among themselves.

At this moment, Arthur couldn’t sit still anymore. He slammed his hand against the table and stood up to yell at Jordan.

“Mr. Steele! You are the president of the J Corporation and the newly minted richest man in the country!”

“May I ask, why did you change my great-grandchildren’s last name to yours!?!?”

Chapter 254: The Children Are Not Yours!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“That’s right! You owe us an explanation! Do you think you can humiliate others just because you’re rich!?!?”

“Take a video of this and put it on the Internet so that everyone in this country can see how rude the billionaire president of the esteemed J Corporation is behaving at his rival’s celebratory event!”

“That’s right, post it on the Internet! The incident about Cayden setting Arnold Decker and Victoria up has caused Breezy Express to lose billions of dollars! This time, I shall let him have a taste of the power of public opinion!”

All of the Huxleys stood out to yell at Jordan.

Jordan was a cold and skeptical person. He had come over only because Tim had sent him a photo that was captioned “Luke Huxley and Leah Huxley.”

He came here just to change their names.

However, since the Huxleys demanded an explanation, he decided to give them one!

Jordan stood on the stage, looked at the Huxleys, said, “Hailey Camden is my ex-wife, and the twins she gave birth to are my children. What’s wrong with me changing their last names to mine?”

His words made the audience’s jaws drop!

Arthur couldn’t believe it and asked in disbelief, What did you say? Hailey is your ex-wife? The children are yours? Isn’t Cayden her first husband?”

Arthur knew that Jordan, who was currently the president of the J Corporation and the most famous figure of the business industry, would never dare to lie.

Reason being, every single word he says would affect dozens of companies!

Hence, Arthur immediately called out loudly to Cayden, “Cayden, come here!”

Cayden walked over, looking extremely embarrassed.

Arthur asked with a serious expression, “Cayden, is what he said true!? Are the twins biologically related to you or not!?”

Cayden lowered his head without responding for a long time.

How can he bring himself to do such an embarrassing thing!?!

Tim said with a sinister smile, “You want to find out if the twins are biologically related to the Huxleys, huh? That’s simple. Just get the paternity test done.”

Seeing that Cayden was not saying anything, he immediately ordered, “Take the twins to the hospital immediately for a paternity test!”

Cayden hurriedly pulled Arthur to stop him. “Grandpa, don’t, don’t.”

Cayden knew that the twins weren’t his biological children, therefore he would only be humiliating himself by taking a paternity test on them, which he felt was unnecessary.

Cayden teared up aggrievedly and finally admitted, “Grandpa, the twins are indeed not my children. Hailey was already pregnant when I met her.”

Smack!

Arthur slapped Cayden on the face and exclaimed, “Bastard! You bastard! Are you an idiot!?! You married Hailey even though she was pregnant with someone else’s child? You actually still want to raise someone else’s children?”

Shane, who was at the side, knew that Cayden had his reasons for doing so. Seeing that Cayden had been beaten up into a pulp, his heart ached, and he persuaded, “Grandpa, it was Cayden’s last resort...”

Smack!

The sound of another loud slap filled the air.

Arthur raised his hand again and gave Shane a slap on the face. “So you know about this too! As his brother, you didn’t persuade him and even spoke up for him. Are you two out of your minds!?!”

Cayden had already become infertile. That’s why he wanted to use Hailey and the twins as a pretense.

However, he couldn’t say that in front of so many people.

When outsiders discover he has become infertile, he would become a laughing stock. He would no longer be able to gain a foothold in New York City.

Hence, Cayden had no choice but to explain, “Grandpa, I love Hailey too much. If you love someone, you should accept every part of them, even if she’s pregnant!”

When the guests saw this, they thought that Cayden was really devoted.

“Cayden loves Hailey Camden so much and treats her so well.”

“Yeah, he’s actually willing to accept that his wife is pregnant with her ex-husband’s child and has even thrown a baby shower for them. Not all people can be as magnanimous as him.”

Seeing that the guests were impressed by him, Cayden wiped his tears and said to Jordan indignantly, “Jordan Steele. You’re Mr. Steele, huh!?! You’ve embarrassed me in public today, but I’ll take it! If not for Hailey, I wouldn’t want to raise your children for over a decade!”

“But don’t be too smug!”

“Yes, it’s true that the children aren’t mine, but you may not be their biological father either!”

Hearing those words, Tim flew into a rage immediately and pointed at Cayden. He hollered loudly, “Cayden Huxley, what nonsense are you spouting!?! How dare you insult Mr. Steele? Do you have a death wish!?!”

Cayden yelled at Tim too. “You dog, you are not fit to talk to me! You’re just a dog belonging to Jordan and me! You’re in no place to interrupt when I’m speaking to your owner!”

Tim had defected to Jordan, only because he wanted to pretend to be impressive.

Jordan hated him too, but he would feel comfortable bringing him along to some occasions.

After all, he was already the billionaire president of J Corporation who had a noble status, and there were some things and words he couldn't say or do personally.

Afterward, Cayden looked at Jordan again and said, "Jordan Steele, you and I both know what kind of woman Hailey is. You haven't done a paternity test yet, and you're already so certain that the kids are yours?"

Jordan began to have second thoughts after hearing Cayden's words!

Cayden and Jordan were probably the men who understood best what kind of a woman Hailey was!

She was a vain and materialistic woman who would cheat on her significant other for money and status!

Jordan would never trust her if he couldn't get the paternity test done!

He couldn't believe a single word they said, and he could only observe the results!

Jordan looked at Cayden and exclaimed coldly, "I'll do it right now!"

"Let's go!"

Jordan assented while Tim and the other underlings followed behind him.

“Mr. Steele, where do we go now?” Tim asked.

Jordan said, “Cayden Huxley’s home.”

Tim turned his head and looked at Cayden, “You guys continue with the party while we go to your place to get some business done!”

Feeling extremely humiliated, Cayden clenched his fists and secretly thought, ‘Hailey Camden, I hope you arranged a good show for Jordan. The twins better not belong to him!’

...

Half an hour later, the limited edition Maybach stopped outside Cayden and Hailey’s villa.

Jordan stepped out of the luxury car.

As soon as he did, his former mother-in-law, Sylvie, came out of the villa and scurried towards Jordan smilingly.

“Ah, it’s you, Jordy. I was wondering what car it was, and it turns out it’s yours. This car is really well maintained. I haven’t seen it in a long time.”

Sylvie had already found out that Jordan hadn’t really been kicked out of the family.

Seeing Sylvie’s disgusting face, Jordan no longer had anything to say to her. He asked coldly, “Where’s Hailey Camden?”

Sylvie hurriedly said, “Hailey’s looking after the kids at home. Jordan, do you know? The twins are growing up, and as they do, they’re starting to resemble you more and more. Their eyes, noses, and lips are so similar to yours!”

“I’ve given them several names, like Joey and Jake Steele, Mavis, and Mason Steele, Wilfred and Winna Steele, etc. Which one do you think is nice? Well, in my opinion, any name sounds great as long as their last names are ‘Steele’. Hahaha..”

Chapter 255: Hailey Regrets Again!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Previously at the hospital, Sylvie had also asked Jordan to make a choice after the twins were born.

She asked him if the kids should adopt ‘Huxley’ or ‘Camden’ as their last name.

The only option that was not available was Steele!

She also said that Jordan was just a live-in husband who did not deserve the children to take his last name, even if he was their biological father!

After learning that Jordan had become the richest man in the country, she acted like his mother-in-law again!

Jordan glanced at Sylvie disdainfully, ignored her, and walked straight into the villa.

As soon as he entered, Jordan saw a pure-looking back clad in a white maxi dress.

It seemed that Hailey had anticipated that Jordan would come to her, so she put on an innocent-looking outfit, which was his favorite.

“Hailey Camden.”

When Hailey heard Jordan’s voice, she slowly turned around. Although she had worked hard to get back in shape after giving birth, she was still a bit chubby now.

However, that did not mean that she was not pretty now.

Many women think that they have to be skinny to be beautiful. Some who weighed only 50 kilograms would still insist that they are fat and try to lose weight desperately.

Jordan didn’t like girls who were too skinny, and he felt that slightly chubby girls were great too.

Hailey was now slightly chubby, and her legs were still really sexy even though they were thicker than before.

Her facial features were still as flawless as before.

Among all the women Jordan had met throughout the decades of his life, only the mysterious woman in the café could compare to Hailey in terms of beauty.

Besides, Hailey seemed to have grown taller, though it was unclear if it was because of her stilettos.

It made her legs look longer and her aura nobler.

When Hailey saw Jordan, she burst into tears and scurried towards Jordan before leaping into his arms!

At this moment, it was exactly the same as the scene where Hailey ignored Collins' pride and leaped towards Jordan during her wedding with Tyler back then!

Hailey threw herself into Jordan's arms and hugged him tightly. She exclaimed devotedly with tears in her eyes, "Indeed, I didn't love the wrong person!"

Boom!

However, Jordan unceremoniously pushed Hailey to the ground with his left hand!"

'You didn't love the wrong person?'

'How can you say such disgusting words?'

'You didn't love the wrong person because I'm now the president of a company who's worth billions of dollars. But if I'm just an ordinary person, would you have loved the wrong person?'

Jordan said coldly, "Hailey, I'm not here to catch up with you!"

After falling to the ground, Hailey was still tearing incessantly. "Jordan, it turns out that you lied to me about being expelled from your family."

“Why would you lie to me? After getting married to me, you lied to me for three years.”

“After remarrying me, you actually lied to me again. We were married, but you were so shady and insincere. Don’t you think you’ve mistreated me?!”

Hailey actually went on to blame Jordan with resentment!

Jordan flew into a rage and retorted, “I’ve mistreated you? Hailey Camden, who’s the one who let the other person down!?”

“If you hadn’t cheated on Cayden first and made me a cuckold, would I have put on this show?”

“I could have just divorced you, but I promised your grandaunt that I won’t initiate a divorce, so you should be glad that you had such a great-grandaunt!”

Hailey said aggrievedly, “Jordan, you misunderstood. Actually, Cayden had just been sending me home after work during that period. I didn’t cheat on you at all.”

Jordan sneered, “You’ve really become silly after giving birth. Did you forget how spiteful you were to me when you went to my place previously?”

“When Cayden was hospitalized, you stayed in his ward for hours. Don’t tell me you spent those hours playing mobile games!”

Hailey bit her lip, not knowing how to defend herself.

Hailey’s mother, Sylvie chimed in, “Yes, yes, Hailey was pregnant at the time, so she was probably just feeling lonely and hence, made that mistake. It really isn’t an unforgivable sin.”

Hailey continued, “Even till now, I haven’t had intercourse with Cayden yet. Jordan, as you know, I was pregnant when I met him, and the pregnancy lasted for ten months.”

“Now that I’ve just given birth, he doesn’t even want to get intimate with me.”

“Jordan, you are still the only man for me. Can we get married again?”

Hailey still wanted to remarry Jordan!

This shameless woman who had betrayed Jordan twice and married three men still had the nerve to say such things!

Jordan had expected Hailey to pester him after learning of his true identity, so he had already proposed to Victoria one step ahead!

Jordan said firmly, “Hailey, you don’t stand a chance anymore. I’ve already proposed to Victoria!”

“What? You proposed to Victoria? She said yes?” A chilliness surged in Hailey’s heart.

Jordan nodded.

Hailey immediately said, “Victoria, that bitch, she must have known that your expulsion from the family was a lie. That’s why she has been following you around.”

“You must not believe her. She’s just an old woman who has been someone else’s kept mistress. She is very scheming!”

Jordan couldn’t stand it anymore and slapped Hailey on her face. “Hailey, Victoria is my fiancée. Please respect her and yourself!”

Hailey covered her face and cried out in misery because she didn’t expect Jordan to have hit her because of another woman.

When Sylvie saw how angry Jordan was, she quickly walked to the middle and pulled him to the sofa. “Jordan, simmer down and talk things over calmly. It wasn’t easy for Hailey to deliver the twins. She had a close shave with death during labor.”

If Hailey hadn’t done so many things to hurt Jordan, Jordan wouldn’t have gotten physical either.

He stopped arguing with Hailey and said, “I’m here only for one thing, and that is to do a paternity test with the kids!”

“If you refuse again, you should know what kind of treatment and privileges they will lose!”

Before Hailey said anything, Sylvie quickly said, “Yes, yes, we’ll do it. Since this is the rule of the Steele family, we’ll do it. The descendants of the Steeles will be able to receive the best education and acquire any company they want in the future. Haha.”

Sylvie patted Hailey's hand and said, "Hailey, don't turn Jordan down again this time."

However, Hailey was still a little hesitant. She paused before getting up from the sofa and sitting next to Jordan again.

She hugged him and said, "Jordan, the children are yours. I can swear to God that I was just trying to spite you when I said they're Tyler's children. Are you that distrusting of me?"

Jordan had actually never believed that the children belonged to Tyler. Besides, Hailey was indeed very much in love with him at that time!

Jordan said, "I trust you, and I also believe that the children belong to me. I'm very clear that I have telepathic communication with these babies."

"However, the rules of the Steele family are such that without a paternity test, the kids won't be able to enjoy the treatment and privileges that other descendants do. They, too, won't have the right to inherit my assets in the future. Are you sure you don't want to do the paternity test?"

As soon as Hailey thought of the fact that the children may not be able to inherit his assets in the future, he immediately agreed, "Fine, we'll let them do the paternity test!"

Chapter 256: Paternity Test!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

When a person chances upon a dog while driving and honks at it...

There will be showers when the weather forecast reports and the sky is full of gray clouds...

When a 23-year-old Michael Jordan leaps up from the free-throw line and runs to the basket...

Sometimes we don't need to look at what happens in the next second to know the outcome.

The outcome is certain.

The dog will dodge, raindrops will fall from the sky, and the god of basketball will dunk the ball into the basket.

Jordan also had absolute confidence that the children belonged to him.

However, we still need a positive outcome that everyone no longer doubts.

The matter will come to a close when the paternity test report is released.

Jordan and Hailey sat in his Maybach, each holding a baby.

Their destination was the DNA test center of New York City.

Along the way, Hailey actually didn't say a single thing, which was relatively rare of her. She merely hugged the baby tightly, seemingly getting a little nervous!

When they arrived at the DNA center, Jordan first met with the head of the center, who was a nationally renowned forensic expert.

“Professor Gunn, I’d like to do a paternity test with two children. May I know how long it will take to get the results?” Jordan asked.

Professor Gunn had already learned that Jordan had an extraordinary status, so he came to receive him in person.

Professor Gunn said, “Mr. Steele, your children were just born less than half a year ago. Generally speaking, we do not recommend paternity testing for children under half a year old.”

Facing the renowned forensic expert, Jordan remained composed and indifferent. “Answer my question.”

Jordan chose to ignore her advice.

If Jordan and Hailey were still in love now, Jordan definitely wouldn’t mind waiting for half a year or even a lifetime!

However, now, Jordan didn’t want to wait a minute longer!

Professor Gunn knew that Jordan was the country’s richest man, so he answered very honestly.

Suppose your children get the test done using blood samples, hair samples, or oral samples. In that case, it will take seven working days to get an accurate identification result.”

Jordan did not know much about this and instead asked, “It’s getting a little late. Can’t you hurry up?”

Professor Gunn smiled and explained, “In fact, from the laboratory’s point of view, it is possible to get the results in eight hours, but according to our procedures, DNA paternity test has to be done twice by different personnel.”

“Especially for outcomes that prove that a paternity relationship doesn’t exist.”

“The first round of tests will require two days to be completed, and the other test will begin from DNA sample collection. That will take two days too.”

“That’s four days, and after the two rounds of tests, we’ll need three more days to do a review of the results. That’s why the entire process requires seven days.”

“After all, the paternity test is not a trivial matter, and we should be more serious and rigorous about it. Your relationship will be affected in case we end up making a mistake. Don’t you agree?”

Jordan nodded and said, “The time needed is not an issue. What I want is a guarantee that the paternity test results are accurate!”

Professor Gunn said, “Rest assured, Mr. Steele, I’ve been in this business for decades, and I can guarantee with my reputation that the accurate results will be out in seven days, and I will personally supervise the processing of the report.”

Knowing that Professor Gunn was reputable and authoritative, Jordan said, “Not only do I have to guarantee the accuracy, I also have to guarantee the authenticity.”

“You should be aware of my status. The Steeles are not an ordinary family, and I can’t guarantee that someone won’t bribe your staff or something like that in order to inherit my family’s assets.”

“Professor Gunn, I’ll make things clear first. If I find out that anyone dares to forge the documents, I won’t spare him!”

Professor Gunn also realized how terrifying Jordan was, and he began to feel somewhat intimidated. “Yes, Mr. Steele.”

Afterward, they collected samples, signed the contract, and then waited for the results.

After leaving the paternity test center, Jordan drove Hailey and the twins back to the villa.

“Jordan, the report will take a week to be released, so you don’t have to be in such a hurry,” Sylvie said.

Jordan said coldly, “It’s alright. I have to go back to accompany my fiancée. I’ll pick you up and go to the paternity test center to collect the results in a week.”

After saying that, Jordan walked back to his and Victoria’s villa.

Victoria had also been waiting at home. When she saw Jordan return, she asked anxiously, “How is it? Did you get the results yet?”

Jordan nodded and said, “We have to wait seven days to get the results.”

Victoria said, “Well, it’s okay to wait a few more days and get an accurate result, lest there’s a mistake and you have to redo everything.”

Jordan was still feeling a little uneasy, and he called Pablo.

“Mr. Jordan!”

“Pablo, keep an eye on every single person at the New York City Medical College paternity test center. Monitor them and see if there are any suspicious persons in the next seven days. Keep close tabs on Hailey and Cayden too.”

“Yes!”

After hanging up, Victoria asked, “Are you afraid that Hailey will bribe the people at the paternity test center?”

Jordan nodded. “Just in case.”

If Hailey really did something wrong, she might just do that.

At this moment, Victoria’s phone rang. It was a call from Russell.

Jordan naturally wouldn’t mind. Everyone had a past; for instance, Victoria wasn’t upset about his past with Hailey.

Jordan said, “Russell should have found out that I’ve already proposed to you. Don’t you guys have a six-month pact that’s due in February too? You should make things clear to him.

Victoria nodded and answered Russell's call.

Jordan didn't stand at the side to listen and instead headed to the bathroom.

"Hello."

"Victoria, have you agreed to marry Jordan?"

Russell might have just watched the news, so he was very emotional.

Victoria replied, "Yes, Jordan proposed to me, and I agreed."

"Russell, I know you want to marry me too, but our relationship is a thing of the past."

Russell got emotional and said, "You shouldn't have said yes to his proposal!"

"We've made a six-month pact. Why did you say yes to Jordan before coming to me first?!"

In fact, Victoria was planning to make a trip to Houston to make things clear to Russell in person that she was still going to choose Jordan after the six-month pact.

However, Jordan's proposal was too sudden, and Victoria did not expect it at all.

Victoria said, "Even if I go to you, the answer is the same. You've lost, Russell, I didn't get sick of Jordan after six months, and I never will."

“Jordan is not only young and handsome, but he’s also wealthy too. He’s actually wealthier than you now...”

“Russell, don’t blame me for being too harsh with my words. There’s no way you can compare to Jordan.”

Indeed, six months ago, Russell was much richer than Jordan and even had a higher status than him.

Now, as the president of J Corporation and the descendant of the Steeles, Jordan had long trumped Russell!

To his surprise, Russell still didn’t give up even after hearing Victoria’s blunt and straightforward words.

“Victoria, I understand what you mean.. He’s the man that all women would want to marry, but in this world, all women can marry him, except you!”

Chapter 257: Hailey Gets Divorced Again!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

When Victoria heard Russell’s words, she felt extremely flustered.

“Russell, what do you mean? Why can all other women marry Jordan, but not me?”

“Just because I had been your mistress for three years? Or are you trying to... threaten me with those videos and photos from the past?”

When Victoria was with Russell, she was still a simple girl who wasn't scheming.

Hence, Russell had plenty of evidence and proof that he could use to threaten Victoria.

However, when Russell heard Victoria's question, he got even angrier.

“Victoria! I'm your father's good friend! I'm considered your kin! Don't you think of me as such a shameless person, okay?!”

In fact, Victoria also felt that Russell should not be such a despicable villain.

After all, Russell had already reached the age of 50 years old, and he was now the president of a company that was worth dozens of billions of dollars.

Since he couldn't win her heart, he would just let her off instead of resorting to such despicable tricks to make her stay.

“What is the reason then?” Victoria asked, becoming even more curious.

However, Russell did not directly tell her the reason. “Come to Houston to see me, and I'll tell you in person what exactly the reason is.”

Victoria frowned and wondered what exactly it was that they couldn't talk about over the phone.

With Victoria's understanding of Russell over the years, she knew very well that Russell was definitely not lying to her or keeping her in suspense for no reason. She knew that there must really be something important for him to be acting like this.

After giving it some thought, Victoria said, "I can't go over in the next few days. I'll fly there to see you in a week."

Jordan's paternity test report would be released in a week, so Victoria knew that the following week would definitely be arduous for Jordan. Hence, she wanted to stay in New York City to accompany him.

Russell said, "Okay, I'll see you in a week then. However, I want to remind you that before you come and see me, you mustn't get married to Jordan or think of getting engaged to him. Got it?"

Victoria knew that Jordan would not be in the mood to get married before the paternity test results were out.

Hence, she agreed right away, "Yes!"

...

At this moment, Hailey, who had just returned home, wasn't in the mood to cajole her babies at all. Instead, she kept chugging water incessantly.

She would down a large glass of water at a time.

Seeing that Hailey didn't seem to be in the right state, Sylvie asked worriedly, "My dear daughter, tell me honestly, do the children belong to Jordan?"

Hailey immediately denied, “Mom, what are you talking about? They’re definitely Jordan’s children!”

Only then did Sylvie heave a huge sigh of relief. “That’s good. Haha, the Camdens are going to strike it rich. Hailey, with these twins, you don’t ever have to worry about money again.”

...

In the following week, Victoria went to work, continuing the “foreign female courier” plan that Jordan had developed earlier.

Jordan had also built the J Corporation office building in New York City. The world’s top architectural design team designed the overall building structure. The building was set to be the dominant and spectacular building globally.

However, although Jordan had a lot to do since he was the J Corporation President, he couldn’t concentrate on his work.

He only worked for a day and gave up because his brain was filled with thoughts about the report.

He simply stayed home to read.

He read his favorite books, “Love in the Time of Cholera” and “One Hundred Years of Solitude,” written by his favorite author Garcia Marquez, again.

He started watching movies again. He chose all the suspenseful films that are difficult to understand.

Examples are “Inception,” “The Cat and Mouse Game,” “The Night the Comet Came,” and so on.

He also watched the previous NBA basketball games from two decades ago.

Michael Jordan faced the Lakers in the finals and performed a fantastic hand switch in mid-air.

Charles Barkley and Shaquille O’Neal fought to a standstill.

The young Kobe entered his first all-star game and said to Karl Malone, “Get the hell out of my way, I want to go one-on-one with Jordan!”

He watched the drama series that Hailey enjoyed.

He studied up Elon Musk’s favorite field, space, and even engaged in a video call with Elon Musk, which lasted an entire day, just to discuss the feasibility of migrating to Mars.

Finally, it was the seventh day!

He got everything ready early in the morning and went to knock on the door of Cayden and Hailey’s home.

“Who’s here at such an early hour?” Cayden personally opened the door for Jordan.

Jordan said, “The paternity test results are out. I’m taking Hailey with me to go collect the report.”

Cayden smiled sinisterly and said, “Is that so? I’m free too. I can join you guys.”

To his surprise, Hailey suddenly interjected from inside, “Cayden, who are you to go!?! Your grandfather has already made me divorce you. I’m no longer your wife!”

Since the last time Jordan made a scene at the baby shower, Arthur had already learned that the twins weren’t Cayden’s children. At that time, Arthur ordered Cayden to divorce Hailey immediately.

The two of them had yet to go through the divorce procedures, but the divorce was already confirmed.

Cayden didn’t really love Hailey at all, and moreover, Hailey wanted to get back together with Jordan now.

Jordan asked with surprise, “Are you divorcing Hailey?”

Hailey walked over and said, “Yes, Jordan, the Huxleys have already decided to kick me out, and I’m no longer Cayden’s wife! Once the divorce procedures are done, I’ll regain my freedom again!”

Jordan could not help but sigh. ‘Hailey is really impressive. She got married and divorced thrice within two years.’

None of her marriages lasted long.

However, she couldn’t be blamed for her divorce from Cayden this time.

If Jordan hadn't exposed Cayden, the two of them would probably still be in a loving relationship with each other.

Hailey had already grabbed Jordan's hand and said gently, "Jordan, once it's proven that the children are yours, let's get back together."

Seeing how intimate they were behaving, Cayden flew into a rage and hollered, "Hailey! You haven't gotten a divorce from me yet! I'm still your husband now! Yet, you're holding another man's hand in front of me. Do you take me for a dead person!?"

Hailey had already made a cuckold of him a long time ago, and their divorce was already a done deal. Hence, Hailey obviously wouldn't care about his feelings.

Hailey said, "Your family is giving me only five million dollars for our divorce. That's not even enough for me to buy clothes and bags!"

"I've slept with you for ten months, and you gave me so little money.. Yet, you still want me to respect you?"

Chapter 258: Paternity Test Results!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

What goes around comes back around.

Ten months ago, Hailey insulted and humiliated the penniless Jordan because Cayden was wealthy.

Now, Cayden had also gotten a taste of being humiliated by Hailey!

Being paid 5 million dollars for a ten-month marriage meant that she would be getting an average of 500 grand a month, which Hailey felt was a huge loss for her.

She had married Cayden because of the Huxleys' multi-billion dollar fortune.

Cayden was furious too. "Fancy you having the cheek to say that you slept with me for ten months! Since we got married, you've been pregnant, and you refused to let me touch you because you said that you were afraid that the fetus would be affected."

"Which day in the past ten months did you ever let me enjoy!?!?"

"Also, five million may not be a huge amount, but how much have the Huxleys helped your family ever since you married me? Without the help of my family, can your family's net worth increase to several billion!!?"

Hearing this, Hailey retorted, "Trust you to have the cheek to bring that up! Ever since your grandfather found out that the twins aren't yours, all the companies that cooperated with the Camdens have withdrawn their investments!"

"You caused the Camdens to lose billions of dollars! My grandmother reprimanded me so badly!"

As the two of them argued incessantly, Jordan humphed coldly and exclaimed, "Hailey, oh, Hailey, you've lost more than billions. Suppose the children are proven to be biologically unrelated to me. In that case, the Camdens are going to lose all the projects that I've clinched for you guys!"

"When the time comes, the Camdens will be banished to their original form and become a second-tier family of Orlando again!"

The Camdens' glory was actually gained with the help of Jordan and the Huxleys.

Once they leave, the Camdens wouldn't achieve much by relying on Herman and Benedict, who lacked business acumen.

Jordan too didn't want to continue listening to their argument anymore. He had already waited for the paternity test results for a week, and his patience had long become thin!

Jordan said, "Enough! I'm not here to listen to your argument! Hailey, if you're ready, let's go now."

Hailey also stopped paying attention to Cayden and looked at Jordan obediently. "Yes, okay, Jordan, I think I'd better ride in your car."

Jordan said, "You guys drive there on your own. I'm taking Victoria with me."

Hailey muttered softly, "This concerns our children. What is she coming along for?"

However, Hailey still ended up heading to the test center in her Audi, together with Sylvie, who initially didn't want to let Cayden tag along but eventually agreed to let him be their driver.

Jordan and Victoria rode in the Maybach and arrived at the New York City Medical College paternity test center before Hailey and the rest did.

“Hello, Professor Gunn.”

When Jordan arrived, Professor Gunn personally greeted him at the door.

“It's been a long while since we met, Professor Gunn.”

Hailey, too, politely came up to greet the person in charge here.

“Hello, Mr. Steele and Miss Camden.”

Professor Gunn also greeted the two with a smile.

At this moment, Professor Gunn already knew the paternity test results, so Jordan was trying to get some information from his expressions.

However, the old man, Professor Gunn, knew how to hide his emotions too well.

There was no way Jordan could find out anything from his expressions at all!

Professor Gunn's face was covered with an insincere, professional smile as he said, "Mr. Steele, the results are already out. Why don't you come with me to take a look at it?"

"Sure."

Jordan had also been waiting for a long time and was extremely eager.

Right after Jordan took a step, Victoria, Hailey, Cayden, and Sylvie, also went forward.

At this moment, Professor Gunn hurriedly said, "Sorry, everyone, the test report can only be perused by Mr. Steele alone, for the time being, so please wait outside in the meantime. We've prepared the finest Earl Grey tea for you guys."

Hailey asked, "I am the mother of the children. Can't I come along too?"

Professor Gunn smiled and said, "The fact that you're the twins' mother is precisely the reason that you'd know the results without having to look at the report. Don't you think so?"

Hailey's expression became slightly unnatural as she said, "Oh, is that all? Do you have green tea? I'd like to have some jasmine green tea."

Professor Gunn looked at Hailey's stunningly beautiful face and exclaimed, "We... do have some green tea!"

Professor Gunn first asked his staff to entertain them, and then he brought Jordan to a laboratory-like room inside.

The room door was heavy, and even Jordan had to exert some force to push it open. Jordan had read “Acoustic Design and Architectural Acoustics” and knew that the soundproofing effects of the room were excellent.

Basically, if he were to talk, sing, or yell in this room, the people outside wouldn’t be able to hear them at all.

The results were extremely private and required such a confidential environment.

There was an unfathomable smile on Professor Gunn’s face as he took the initiative to introduce the two staff members in the room to Jordan.

“Mr. Steele, these two are the most professional and outstanding specialists in our center. They’re also the ones who performed the paternity test for you and your babies.”

After seeing Jordan, the two men greeted solemnly with respect, “Mr. Steele, we guarantee that the paternity test results are accurate and fair!”

Jordan had actually investigated the two of them a long time ago. He knew that they had reasonably clean profiles and had never been bribed.

“Thank you both for your hard work.”

Jordan shook hands with the two of them.

Afterward, Professor Gunn took out the test report and handed it to Jordan!

At this moment, Jordan was highly agitated.

Although he had adhered to a strict strength training regime for years, he found the thin sheets of paper to be overwhelmingly heavy!

“Mr. Steele, please take a look at it,” Professor Gunn said with a look of dismay.”

Each test report was split into four pages. The client’s name, date of acceptance, basic case details, and names of permitted persons were stated on the first page.

However, Jordan read every single word for fear that there would be mistakes.

Jordan then flipped to the second page.

Suddenly, Professor Gunn spoke up as if to remind him, “The results are on the third page.”

Jordan’s breathing suddenly became rapid. After waiting for an entire week for this moment, he actually didn’t dare to flip to the third page!

Professor Gunn and the two specialists also began to look serious!

Jordan hated himself for having learned how to read micro-expressions because he already realized something was wrong!

He had sensed that something terrible was coming!

“Damn it!”

His ability to predict made Jordan feel like breaking down for the first time!

However, Jordan decisively flipped to the third page!

The sixth term on it read: “Based on the available information and DNA analysis results, Jordan Steele is Luke’s biological father!”

“Ah!”

Jordan screamed excitedly!

It was his biological son!

The children belonged to Jordan!

Since the last names of the twins hadn’t been decided yet, the children were temporarily named simply Luke and Leah.

“Congratulations, Mr. Steele.”

Professor Gunn smiled and congratulated, and the other two staff members also followed suit.

Jordan couldn’t help but punch Professor Gunn playfully. “You old man! Since the children are mine, why did you behave so strangely just now? I even thought the children were not mine. You scared me to death!”

Hearing this, Professor Gunn stopped smiling again!

Professor Gunn once again became serious!

Chapter 259: Not Related By Blood!!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

The three people's bizarre expressions made Jordan tense up again!

There was definitely something wrong!

If the children belonged to Jordan, the staff members of the test center should be happy to tell Jordan the result.

They wouldn't make him panic like that!

Jordan again looked at the paternity test report and then furiously at Professor Gunn and the others.

He exclaimed loudly, "Professor Gunn, tell me honestly, is this test report legitimate or not!?"

"Did you take money from Hailey Camden to fabricate this report?"

"Do you know what the consequences of lying to me are!?! If it's just for money, I can pay you a hundred times more!"

Professor Gunn said, "Mr. Steele, please don't get too worked up yet. I can guarantee that I have never taken a single cent from anyone, and we can absolutely guarantee you the truthfulness and accuracy of the report results.”

Jordan exclaimed in exasperation, “Since the report is legitimate and the children are mine, what are you pulling a long face for! Can’t you stand seeing me happy? Are you upset that the kids belong to me?”

Professor Gunn sighed and said, “Mr. Steele, why don’t you finish reading the rest of the report?”

Jordan was instantly astonished.

‘Finish reading the rest of the report?’

‘Did I not finish reading the report?’

Jordan continued to flip through the report, and after turning the third page, he turned to the fourth page.

However, the fourth page was a photo of Jordan, the specialist, and the two babies, which was used to determine their identity. There was no point in it at all!

However, just after Jordan turned to the fourth page, Jordan suddenly discovered another report!

It was for Leah!

Jordan had done a paternity test with the twins, but he had only read Luke’s report and not Leah’s!

Jordan froze on the spot and looked at Professor Gunn. “You mean...”

Professor Gunn took a look at Leah’s report in Jordan’s hand and nodded.

Jordan felt that he had plunged from heaven to hell.

He felt a severe lack of oxygen and great difficulty breathing!

He shivered as he flipped open Leah’s report and went straight to the third page.

On the third page: “Based on the available information and DNA analysis results, we believe that Leah is not biologically related to Jordan!”

Bang!

When Jordan saw the words “not biologically related,” his legs went weak immediately, and he fell backward.

“Mr. Steele! Mr. Steele!”

Professor Gunn and the two staff members hurriedly helped Jordan up and sat down while Professor Gunn said comfortingly, “Mr. Steele, are you okay? Please control your emotions, Mr. Steele. You have a successful career and have made a great contribution to society. There are still many great things waiting for you.”

“Yes, Mr. Steele, at least one of the children is yours,” one of the specialists said.

Jordan was so angry that he wanted to kill someone!

He would never have thought that twins would have two fathers!

Jordan grabbed Professor Gunn's clothes and growled, "Explain to me clearly why this is the case! Are you playing a trick on me?!"

Professor Gunn explained, "Mr. Steele, how dare I play a trick on you?"

"The probability of occurrence is indeed very low. Normally, adult women only ovulate one egg per month, and Ms. Hailey happens to ovulate two."

Jordan butted in, "So that's why she had fraternal twins! I understand that, but why would the twins have different fathers?"

Professor Gunn said, "Because... Ms. Hailey might have... in a very short period of time..."

"Ah!"

Jordan was so angry that he swung all the tea sets on the table onto the floor!

"Hailey Camden."

Jordan wished he could kill that cheap woman!

When they were trying for a baby, they were in the honeymoon period of their relationship!

Before Jordan revealed his identity, Jordan and Hailey had a mundane relationship, so it was understandable that she cheated on Tyler!

After Jordan and Hailey became pregnant, their feelings gradually faded. It was understandable that she wanted to have a new relationship with Cayden.

However, the two of them were in the most passionate and sweetest period of their relationship at that time!

‘Why did Hailey sleep with another man?’

‘Who exactly is that man!?’

‘Why did I not notice anything so far?’

Jordan immediately dashed out with the report in hand.

“Mr. Steele, Mr. Steele, calm down!”

The three of them immediately tried to stop Jordan but to no avail.

At this moment, Hailey, Victoria, and the rest were remaining seated and drinking tea.

When they saw Jordan come out, they immediately looked up and saw his ferocious expression!

Hailey immediately realized that the situation was amiss!

“Jordan... Jordan...”

Jordan walked up to Hailey and slapped the two paternity reports onto Hailey's absolutely beautiful face!

Smack!

Hailey was in so much pain!

Jordan said angrily, "Hailey! Explain to me clearly whose child Leah really is!"

Seeing this, Victoria hurriedly pulled Jordan to stop his impulsive behavior.

In fact, the staff of the test center had also expected this situation, so at this time, there were already more than a dozen robust security guards who were stopping Jordan from making a move.

The people at the center had long gotten used to seeing people who would hit their wives after discovering that their children didn't belong to them.

Hailey nervously swallowed the green tea that she had just taken and then picked up the two test reports from the ground to read them.

"Jordan... is Luke's father!"

"What?"

Cayden, Victoria, and Sylvie were all stunned to hear that.

Seeing Jordan's furious appearance, they thought the children were not his.

However, since they were, they were puzzled as to why he was angry!

Sylvie stood in front of Hailey to shield her and shouted at Jordan, “Jordan! Is there something wrong with your eyes!?! It’s stated clearly in the report that Luke is your son! How could you hit my daughter like that?”

Jordan shouted at Sylvie, “Get your daughter to show the next report!”

‘The next report?’

Like Jordan, everyone thought that since the children were twins, proving that one of them was Jordan’s child was enough, so there was no need to read both reports.

However, when they saw Leah’s report, they were all dumbfounded.

“Leah... is not Jordan’s child!”

Jordan yelled at Hailey lividly, “Hailey Camden, you shameless woman, you must give me an explanation today! Who is Leah’s father!?!”

However, at that moment, Hailey suddenly passed out.

“Hailey, Hailey! Someone quickly send my daughter to the hospital. She has fainted!”

Sylvie shouted in panic.

In order to avoid conflict, the staff here quickly carried Hailey away to the hospital for emergency rescue..

Chapter 260: Retaliating Against Hailey!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

After Hailey was taken away, Cayden chuckled and said, “Haha, a pair of twins actually have two fathers! This is really crazy!”

Jordan was already boiling with fury, unable to vent his anger at all. Upon hearing Cayden’s mocking, he immediately walked over and gave Cayden a tight slap on the spot!

Smack!

Jordan snapped furiously, “Really crazy? Explain to me what that means!”

Cayden covered his face, feeling incredibly humiliated because he was being put to shame in front of so many people!

“You... How dare you hit me?” Cayden asked, staring at Jordan.

Jordan raised his arm on the spot and gave Cayden two more slaps!

Smack!

Smack!

The two slaps caused Cayden to fall to the ground on his knees.

Jordan said, “So what if I hit you? Haven’t you always been very concerned about your status and identity? I’m now the president of J Corporation and the richest man in the US! You are just the grandson of the president of a company whose market value is only a few billion dollars!”

“Even your grandfather, Arthur, is not a tenth of what I am, and that makes you even less worthy of being compared to me!”

“What do you think? How dare you mock me?”

“Do you believe that I’ll make the Huxleys go bankrupt and become penniless!?!?”

Cayden knelt on the ground, not daring to speak.

Of course he believed it!

Now, Jordan was the wealthiest person in the country and the most talked about person!

However, after learning that one of the twins wasn’t fathered by him, there was nothing he could do!

“I..I’m sorry, Mr. Steele.”

For the sake of his family, Cayden had no choice but to lower himself and apologize to Jordan.

Jordan humphed coldly, not in the mood to go against Cayden and the Huxleys now.

He had to find out the truth now! He had to know the truth about that child!

Jordan walked over to the car and called Pablo immediately after he got inside.

“Pablo, help me find Tyler!”

Previously, Hailey said that the children belonged to Tyler.

Although it was unlikely, Jordan had to confront Tyler to find out the truth now that one of the twins wasn't biologically related to him.

Pablo said, “I heard that that guy went to Thailand after he got castrated. I'll get my underlings there to help find him.”

Jordan continued, “Go to Orlando and bring Rachel Quinn, Hailey's best friend, to me. There's something that I need to personally interrogate her about.”

Rachel was just a weak and vulnerable woman, so bringing her over wasn't an issue at all.

“Yes, Mr. Jordan,” Pablo said.

Jordan recalled what Professor Gunn said just now. The twins had two fathers because Hailey had slept with two different men in a short period of time.

At that time, Jordan and Hailey were both living in the villa in Orlando, and shared the same bed at night.

However, Jordan would work at Ace Corporation after getting intimate with Hailey in the morning.

Hence, the only possibility was that the father of the other twin had gone to Jordan's villa to sleep with Hailey while Jordan was at work.

The thought of it made Jordan clench his fists tightly.

Someone actually dared to barge into his private villa to get fresh with his wife!

‘How many lives does he think he have? How dare he provoke me!?!’

At that time, Jordan had already revealed his true identity, and no one in Orlando would dare to offend him in such a manner!

Jordan continued to order, “Go to Rose Garden Villa in Orlando, where I used to live and collect the surveillance camera footage. Try and see if you can find the footage from ten months ago.”

“Also, the security officers and guards have to be interrogated. Ask them if anyone sneaked into the villa in the morning ten months ago.”

Pablo continued to acknowledge, but he nevertheless asked, “Mr. Jordan, what exactly... happened? Could it be that Hailey's twins weren't fathered by you?”

Pablo was not an outsider either, so Jordan didn't have to hide it from him either. "One of them belongs to me. The other doesn't. I suspect that Hailey's lover would sneak into my home after I left for work every morning."

Pablo flew into a rage when he heard that too. "Damn! Hailey Camden really doesn't know what's good for her! How dare she do that to you!? Rest assured, Mr. Jordan, I'll definitely help you catch that man and skin him alive!"

After hanging up, Victoria held Jordan's hand and said comfortingly, "Honey, don't be too upset. Why don't you go home and take a nap to get some rest?"

Jordan shook his head and said, "How can I sleep now? Victoria, don't worry about this matter. I'll send you back first."

Jordan sent Victoria home before calling Frank to inform him about this.

Frank sighed and said, "I didn't expect that Hailey Camden, a woman from a second-tier family in Orlando, would dare to be so brazen as to cheat on you with another man even after learning of your identity."

"Mr. Jordan, don't be too angry. After all, you've already divorced her, and you don't love her anymore. She's at least the mother of your son."

Jordan said, "Hailey Camden kept me in the dark for so long. I must take revenge on her!"

“Mr. Jordan, how do you want to take revenge?” Butler Frank asked.

The best way to take revenge against a vain and materialistic woman like Hailey is to make her penniless.

‘Isn’t she proud now that the Camdens are now worth dozens of billions?’

‘I shall turn them back to the way they used to be!’

Jordan said, “Undo all of those things I’ve done to help the Camdens in Orlando previously. And, seal Hailey Residences!”

“Yes, Mr. Jordan.”

After giving instructions to Frank, Jordan called Cayden again.

“Mr... Mr. Steele.” Cayden was a little scared after receiving Jordan’s call.

Jordan said, “Cayden Huxley, divorce Hailey Camden immediately without giving her a single cent. Revoke all the contracts and projects that your family has helped the Camdens clinch in the past six months!”

“If you can’t do it, I’ll do it for you!”

Cayden hurriedly said, “I can do it, I can do it! I’ve long disliked that woman, and I won’t give her a single cent!”

...

Soon, in Orlando.

West Lake Villa.

Herman suddenly arrived in the villa in a flustered manner.

Diana was holding Lucky in her arms and listening to the tune happily.

He cursed when he saw Herman, “Why are you so flustered? Can’t you be more mature like your younger brother?”

Herman said, “Mom, bad news! Many companies that we work with have withdrawn their investments and terminated their cooperation with us.”

“The land that Hailey Residences is on has also been bought by someone.”

“What?” Diana was horrified.

Hailey immediately said, “I’ve already found out clearly. Hailey has gone to the test center to get the report today. It turns out that one of the twins doesn’t belong to Jordan!”

Diana, who was in her eighties, got a great shock. “One of the twins belongs to him, and the other doesn’t? Hailey is such a fool. Her grandfather went through great trouble to find her such a good husband like Jordan. Why didn’t she cherish him at all!?!?”

“Yeah, it would have been better if Grandpa had arranged for Jordan to marry Elle. Elle would never have done such a ridiculous thing!” Herman said.

Diana shook her head and said, “Call Hailey immediately.. I want to speak to her!”

Chapter 261: Who Is That Man!?!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“Yes!”

Herman called Hailey immediately, but Sylvie was the one who answered.

“Oh, it’s you, Sylvie. I want to speak to Hailey. Quickly get her on the phone.”

Now that the Camdens had lost so many partners and at least several billion dollars in business because of Hailey, Herman finally felt confident when facing Sylvie.

Sylvie said, “Hailey and I are in the hospital. Hailey has already fainted and is put on the drip. If there isn’t anything important, why don’t we wait a little while?”

Herman exclaimed, “Nothing important? Your daughter has caused the Camdens to almost go bankrupt!”

“Your daughter? It should be Jordan who’s going to suffer. Your daughter should know what she has done. Mr. Steele has suffered a huge blow!”

“Cut the crap and hand the phone over to Hailey!”

Sylvie and Hailey were in the hospital, and she wasn't put on the drip.

Hailey was just pretending to faint just now because under such a situation, there was no way she could explain that matter to Jordan at all.

“Hello,” Hailey said over the phone.

Herman quickly handed the phone to Diana.

As soon as Diana took the phone, she rebuked, “Hailey Camden! What's going on in your brain!?! Forget it if you had a thing with Tyler before Jordan revealed his identity!”

“But you already knew of Jordan's identity when you were trying for a baby. Why were you so silly as to do such a stupid thing!?!”

Hailey said aggrievedly, “I'm sorry, Grandma...”

“You're sorry? Do you know that you have already angered Jordan, who is now going to deal with our family!?! All the companies that work with us have terminated cooperation, do you know that we're going to go bankrupt soon!?!” Diana hollered loudly.

Hearing this, Hailey was startled, and she asked, “What? Why would that happen?”

Hailey simply didn't know that Jordan could easily turn a billionaire like her back to her original state!

Reason being the Camdens' so-called four-billion-dollar net worth was not in the form of cash and real estate.

Diana said, "You must handle this matter properly. Get on your knees and beg Jordan. Then, explain it to him properly, and make sure to ask him to forgive you. Otherwise, don't come back again!"

Hailey hung up the phone and lay down on the hospital bed as she burst into tears.

Sylvie quickly sat down and patted Hailey's back to comfort her.

Hailey said while weeping, "Grandma is always like this. She threatens to disown me all the time. If he had doted on me and valued us since I was a kid, I wouldn't have cheated at that time! It's all Grandma's fault!"

Sylvie didn't expect Hailey to blame her grandmother for her actions.

Sylvie probed, "Who exactly is that man? Why did you hide it from me too?"

However, Hailey still didn't plan to tell her mother the truth.

She wiped her tears and then dialed Jordan's phone number.

"You're not giddy anymore?"

After Jordan picked up the phone, he first mocked Hailey sarcastically.

Everyone almost fainted when they saw the test results, but Hailey didn't because she had long known what she had done!

Hailey said, "Well, I'm much better now, but I'm still in the hospital on an IV drip."

This woman was still pretending to be pitiful!

'How dare you be so brazen as to make me a cuckold!?'

Jordan said, "I'm going to the hospital to see you now. You'd better be honest with me!"

Jordan knew the hospital and ward where Hailey was in, so he put down the phone and rushed over immediately.

As soon as he arrived at the ward door, Sylvie took the initiative to greet Jordan, probably because she was afraid that Jordan would hit Hailey, and advised, "Jordan, take it easy. On the bright side, you have a son. Look how cute he is!"

Jordan discovered that the twins were in a crib, but they were now separated.

The boy, Luke, was placed near the doorway, and the girl was placed in the innermost corner.

They had probably done that for fear of upsetting Jordan.

Jordan was indeed very heartened to see his own son, Luke.

However, the adorable Leah should have been Jordan's child!

Jordan always wanted a daughter!

Having a pair of twins would be incredible and enviable!

However, they were born to different fathers!

Jordan couldn't forgive Hailey at all.

Lying on the bed while on the drip, Hailey pretended to be feeble and called out to Jordan.

Jordan walked over, but he couldn't hit her. He might have done so when he saw the results, but now he wouldn't.

Hailey looked at Jordan and asked with a look of devotion, “Jordan, do you like the name Luke? Why don't you let your grandfather name him?”

“Our son really resembles you. When he grows up, he must be as handsome and meticulous as you.”

Hailey tried to use Jordan's son to appease his anger at the moment.

However, Jordan didn't want to continue talking about this with Hailey. Instead, he went straight to the point, “Tell me, who is the father of that child?”

“Don't try to tell me it's Tyler Collins. I've already sent someone to interrogate him, and he wasn't even in Orlando at that time. He had been staying in New York City.”

“Moreover, you guys used protection when you got intimate in the hotel previously.”

Hailey said, “It indeed isn’t Tyler. I said that it’s Tyler, only for the sake of spiting you.”

“Who is it then? You didn’t know Cayden yet at that time. Does that mean you have another man apart from me, Tyler, and Cayden? Hailey Camden, you’ve really hidden everything well. You actually kept me in the dark!”

Jordan was really flabbergasted. If it wasn’t for the paternity test results he collected today, he wouldn’t have known that Hailey had another man!

If Jordan was lucky to be the father of both the twins, he might never have known for the rest of his life that Hailey had cheated on him when he loved her the most.

“He is...” Hailey hesitated to speak.

“Who is he!?!” Jordan questioned loudly, frightening the babies to the point that they burst into tears.

Hailey couldn’t bear to watch the babies crying, so she quickly answered, “My first love!”

“First love?” Jordan was stunned.

He had been married to Hailey for three years and naturally knew about her relationship history.

When Jordan met Hailey, she was already in college. A beautiful girl like her couldn't be evergreen.

Hailey said, "That man was my high school classmate whom I had a crush on. We went to the same college too..."

Jordan humphed coldly and said, "It turns out that you've been sleeping with your first love during those three years that you've been married to me."

"No, it's not like that. I didn't contact him in those three years that we were married," Hailey denied immediately.

Jordan got even angrier. "You didn't contact him in those three years that we were married, but when we started trying for a baby, you began contacting him again. Is that what you mean!?"

Jordan was saying those words out of anger.

However, he didn't expect to hear Hailey answering with a straightforward "Yes!"

Chapter 262: Hailey Is Still Lying!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Jordan was incredibly furious with Hailey as he wished to pull out the needle on her hand!

Jordan snapped angrily, "Hailey Camden! You'd better make yourself clear! If you wanted to have your first love's baby so badly, why didn't you marry him? What do you take me for?"

What do you take me for? Do you only want to be in a romantic relationship with me while getting pregnant with another man's child!?"

Hailey hung her head low, looking a little guilty as she explained, "Jordan, I had no choice."

"Do you still remember that when we first started trying for a baby, things didn't work out?"

Jordan recalled that the two did not have a child last year immediately after they moved in. Instead, Hailey got pregnant a long time after they had started living together.

Why?"

Hailey explained, "I was just too eager to get pregnant with your baby, and we haven't been able to get pregnant just now, so I got a little anxious."

"Later on, when I talked to Rachel about it, she said that... we might be facing problems because you... might be impotent."

Jordan slapped the armrest of the hospital bed in anger.

"That bitch, Rachel Quinn! You're the problematic one!"

Jordan was furious.

Hailey continued, "Rachel suddenly remembered the surgery that you said you needed to undergo when we were overseas. We didn't lend you any money, so you looked for Grand aunt Lily and then went to the hospital for surgery."

“Then, Rachel took me to the hospital where you had the surgery and checked your medical records at that time.”

“The doctor said your illness at that time was very special, and later on, we discovered that you got infected by people who had spent time on the battlefield. You even told me that you had gone to the battlefield for training...”

“The doctor told me that you are likely... to become impotent... because of this...”

Hailey’s voice was getting softer and softer.

Hailey was right about that matter.

Jordan’s drug to make Cayden become infertile was obtained from the battlefield.

After Jordan was infected, it did affect his fertility, but he was cured later on.

Jordan sneered, “So, after learning that I can’t have children, you decided to get someone else’s help, huh? Hah, have you forgotten that I told you before that all descendants of the Steeles will have to undergo a paternity test?”

Hailey said, “I didn’t want to do that at first, but Rachel said that if we didn’t have children, I definitely wouldn’t be able to inherit your family’s assets even if I marry you.”

“Rachel advised me to give it a shot and then tamper with the paternity test report after giving birth. Well, as you know, I always take her advice, so I listened to her and did it.”

“Hmph!”

Jordan sneered and looked at Hailey, a beautiful woman who was able-bodied and intelligent but chose to take the advice of an outsider on such a significant matter in her life!

‘Hailey Camden, your life is really pathetic!’

After learning the truth, Jordan didn’t want to listen to the rest of her explanation anymore, so he said, “Okay, now I just want to know the name of your first love!”

Hailey could tell that Jordan was planning to get even with that man.

She was so frightened that she hurriedly removed the syringe herself, got out of bed, and pleaded with Jordan, “Jordan, don’t take revenge on him, okay? This matter has nothing to do with him. He agreed to do it only because I asked him to.”

“He’s very pitiful now. His wife got into a car accident just after their baby was born. He’s now taking care of the baby alone, and he doesn’t have a job.”

“If you want to take revenge against him, he definitely won’t have the ability to fight back, but can you let him off on the account that he’s really pitiful and wasn’t really trying to provoke you?”

“If you don’t like Leah, I can dump her or give her away. I can put her up for adoption abroad, and I guarantee that you won’t see her for the rest of your life. Will that do?”

After hearing Hailey's words, Jordan was powerless to do anything else!

Tears flowed from Jordan's eyes. It was the second time he was crying for Hailey!

The first time was because of his deep love and devotion to her!

This time, it was because he felt like a complete failure!

The person he used to love so much actually treated him like a fool.

The two of them wanted to have children, but Hailey actually asked someone else for help.

Jordan looked at the baby girl in front of him. Although she was not biologically related to him, he wished she was his daughter!

Such a pair of twins was extremely rare. Jordan could have had a son and a daughter at the same time!

However, Hailey ruined everything!

Jordan wiped his tears, looked at Hailey, and said, "Hailey, I will take Luke away in six months, so you should cherish the time you have with my son!"

After saying that, Jordan left in sorrow!

"Jordan! Jordan!"

Hailey kept calling out to Jordan from behind while bruises appeared on the spots where the needle was stuck into her wrist. Sylvie quickly pulled her back.

...

Having learned the truth, Jordan returned to Jade Villa in his car.

He didn't force Hailey to tell him who the person who made him a cuckold was, nor did he issue orders for his subordinates to deal with him.

Since Hailey had already said that the man was in a pitiful plight and she was the one who begged him for help, what else could Jordan do?

He could only blame heaven for playing tricks on him.

When Jordan arrived home, Victoria saw that he was in a somber mood and thus poured him a cup of hot tea, but he couldn't finish it.

She then took out a cold drink from the refrigerator, but Jordan drank it all in one go!

It was icy cold! Now, only icy cold things could, but Jordan drank it all in one go!

Jordan was long disappointed!

Someone suddenly knocked on the door.

Victoria went over to open the door, only to find that Pablo was outside.

“Hello, Miss Victoria!”

Pablo was also highly respectful to Victoria.

Victoria knew that Pablo was one of Jordan’s subordinates, so she replied politely, “Please come in, Mr. Dalton.”

“Thank you, Miss Victoria.”

Pablo didn’t come alone. He had brought Rachel with him.

“Huh? Isn’t this Hailey’s best friend, Rachel?” Victoria asked curiously.

Pablo replied, “Yes, Miss Victoria, Mr. Jordan has just instructed me to bring her here from Orlando.”

“Hello, Miss Clarke,” Rachel also greeted Victoria respectfully.

“Oh, hello.” Victoria invited the two of them in.

Pablo walked to Jordan, sitting on the couch and drinking some wine. “Mr. Steele, I’ve brought Rachel Quinn here!”

“Mr. Steele.” Rachel, too, didn’t dare to be disrespectful to Jordan anymore.

Had she known that Jordan would have achieved what he has today, she wouldn’t have dared to go against him back then.

However, Jordan said feebly with a deadpan expression on his face, “Let her go.”

He had asked Pablo to bring Rachel from Orlando to find out from her who Leah's father was and why Hailey had betrayed him!

Now that Hailey had told Jordan the truth himself, Jordan no longer needed to ask Rachel about it.

“Uh...”

Pablo was stunned for a moment. He had painstakingly driven over the speed limit all the way here to bring Rachel, whom he had found as quickly as possible, over.

Yet, Jordan was going to let her go without asking any questions.

Rachel also wanted to seize this opportunity to get closer to Jordan.

So, she took the initiative to go over and poured a glass of wine for Jordan.

When Jordan saw Rachel approaching him, he immediately and instinctively slapped her!

“Ah!”

Rachel, who had a thin and light body, fell to the ground immediately.

Jordan lashed out at Rachel furiously, “Rachel Quinn, it's all your fault, you bitch! It's all because of you that Hailey would betray me and give birth to another man's child!”

“I could have had twin children, but you ruined it all!”

Rachel covered her face and said aggrievedly, “I’ve been wronged. Mr. Steele, what does this have to do with me?”

Jordan said, “If you didn’t tell Hailey about my health and infertility, Hailey wouldn’t have gone to the hospital to look at my medical records and gone to see her first love!”

However, when Rachel heard this, she asked with a look of confusion, “To the hospital? What hospital? I haven’t taken Hailey to the hospital before!”

Chapter 263: The Biological Father Is Someone Else!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Jordan frowned and asked, “What did you say? You didn’t take Hailey to the hospital?”

Seeing that Jordan was questioning Rachel’s words, Pablo also immediately asserted his dominance as a gang boss.

“Rachel Quinn, if you dare to lie to Mr. Jordan, the consequences are going to be serious!”

Rachel said with a look of helplessness, “I wouldn’t dare to lie to you, Mr. Steele. I ended up in this situation today because I offended you.”

“I would never dare to lie to you again, Mr. Steele.”

Based on her micro-expressions, Jordan felt that Rachel wasn’t lying.

Or rather, given her current condition, he knew that she wouldn't dare to lie.

Jordan continued to ask, "You've never been to the hospital but did you tell Hailey that I'm infertile?"

Rachel hurriedly explained, "I swear to God, I definitely did not say that about you. It was Hailey who said it."

"What did you say?" Jordan was once again surprised.

Rachel said, "At that time, she had just remarried you, and she desperately wanted to get pregnant with your child because she had betrayed you and was afraid that your family would not approve of her. She wanted her child to allow her to inherit the Steeles' assets."

"However, you two had been sleeping in the same room together, and she still wasn't pregnant yet. So, she got really anxious. On several occasions, she asked me why I hadn't gotten pregnant yet, and she asked if it was because you were infertile."

"I laughed and asked her what she was being so anxious for because getting pregnant wasn't that easy. Besides, I also said that since you could defeat ten people alone, you're definitely healthy and are in excellent physical condition."

"Oh, I remember. She took the initiative to mention that you had undergone surgery and even dragged me there to take a look. However, I didn't have the time, so I didn't accompany her."

Jordan was stunned. All of a sudden, he didn't know who she should trust.

The stories said by the two women were different, but they both liked to lie.

Jordan suddenly put down the wine glass, no longer as weak and without fighting spirit as he was previously.

However, he smiled and said to Rachel tentatively, “Rachel, you really are a master of lies. You can actually lie through your teeth with a straight face. I really admire you.”

Rachel said with a helpless expression, “Mr. Steele, we have known each other for not only a day or two but three years. Don’t you know what kind of person I am?”

“Yes, I may be man-crazy and feel an urge to flirt with handsome men whenever I see one, but I’ve always been a woman of principle!”

“I once accidentally slept with a young hunk and got pregnant with his child, but I resolutely decided to abort it! I can’t let my husband raise someone else’s child! I can’t deceive him like that!”

Jordan nodded. He was very clear about this matter.

Rachel continued, “Mr. Steele, you always say that I’m not a good woman. May I ask, how have I treated you in the past three years?”

“During those three years that you had been Hailey’s live-in husband, all of Hailey’s friends were mocking you and sneering at you. Have I ever looked down on you before?”

Jordan stayed silent and recalled that Rachel was the nicest to him in those three years.

Hailey's other friends would ignore Jordan whenever they met him, be it in the mall or elsewhere.

Even if they knew him, they wouldn't say hi to him.

Rachel was different. She would take the initiative to greet Jordan happily all the time and treat him to meals and drinks.

Jordan had always thought that Rachel was just lusting over his good looks.

However, after he thought about it, he realized that Rachel had met and slept with many handsome men before.

Besides, he was her best friend's husband, so even if she treated him to a hundred meals, there was no way she would ever make any progress with him.

That just meant that Rachel was really not a terrible person.

Rachel continued to defend herself, "You always say that I led Hailey astray, but you know what? Hailey was the one who egged me on the first time I cheated on my husband!"

"What did you say? That's impossible. Hailey was so innocent at that time. There's no way she would ask you to do such a thing!"

For some reason, Jordan actually defended Hailey.

Rachel said, “Hailey is only innocent on the surface. In fact, she’s more ruthless than I am! She’s even greedier than I am! If she was really that good and I was really that horrible, why did she choose to make me her best friend when she can have countless friends?”

Birds of the same feather flock together. If Hailey really didn’t approve of Rachel’s behavior, she wouldn’t have been Rachel’s best friend for so many years.

In other words, Hailey and Rachel were the same as each other!

The difference was that Hailey was way too beautiful. She was the girl of every man’s dream.

She had to maintain her image and showcase only her beautiful side. Only then could she make the boys continue fantasizing about her and loving her.

Rachel was different. She was average-looking and had very few suitors that she could reveal her true self to.

Seated on the couch, Jordan thought about it for a long time. He smoked a cigarette and recalled the memories he shared with Hailey.

He suddenly felt that Hailey was much worse than Rachel!

“Yeah, how can an adult who was born to a wealthy family and graduated from a prestigious university be led astray so easily? Hailey Camden is a wanton woman to begin with! She’s a terrible woman!”

Jordan hurriedly asked, “Is Hailey’s first love her high school classmate whose wife had passed away and is now a single father?”

Rachel thought about it and said, “First love, high school... Oh, there is such a person, but he just got married, and his wife is doing fine. He doesn’t have any kids at all.”

That was different from what Hailey said.

‘Which one of these two is telling the truth!?!’

If what Hailey said was true, Jordan could only blame himself for his own failure to keep Hailey in love with him.

It was a matter that could pass once they accepted it.

But what if Rachel said was real!?

Leah’s father could be someone else!

Jordan asked Rachel, “What is the name of her first love? Do you know where he lives?”

Rachel said, “His name is Wilbur Kay. He lives in Green Haven estate.”

Jordan pinched his cigarette and stood up immediately. “Let’s go to Green Haven estate immediately!”

Jordan wanted to go to Orlando to see Hailey’s first love and then ask if he was the father of Leah!

“Yes!”

Pablo immediately grabbed Rachel’s arm and took her to the car.

Victoria wanted to tag along, but Jordan refuted, “Victoria, stay in New York. I’ll handle this myself.”

“Okay.” Victoria also knew that she would only be adding on to the trouble if she were to go over.

She decided that Jordan and Hailey should handle their relationship affairs on their own..

Chapter 264: Destroying Hailey Residences!

Before leaving, Victoria couldn’t help but hug Jordan.

She said lovingly, “Honey, you’re so nice, and you’ve never done anything malicious in your life. Why is God so unfair to you? Why must he torment you like this?”

Victoria took too much pity on Jordan. Jordan loved Hailey with all his heart, only to get hurt by her ruthlessly!

However, Jordan did not blame God. Instead, he sighed and said, “Maybe, this is retribution.”

“Revenge?” Victoria let go of Jordan and looked at him in bewilderment.

Jordan said, “Victoria, I’m actually not as good as you make me out to be. I’ve also done lots of malicious and evil things before...”

Victoria asked in disbelief, “What... what malicious thing have you done before?”

“I hurt a girl before,” Jordan said, not willing to recall the past.

Victoria asked directly, “How did you hurt her? Who is she?”

Jordan shook his head and said, “Sorry, Victoria, I don’t want to mention this matter because it has marred my life greatly.”

“I gotta go now, stay at home and take care of yourself.”

Jordan just wanted to quickly figure out who Leah’s real father was and whether Hailey was lying or not.

Jordan rode in the same car as Victoria and Pablo as they made their way to Orlando.

More than an hour later, in Green Garden estate in Orlando.

Knock-knock.

The door of a house in the estate was knocked on incessantly.

“Who is it?”

The homeowner seemed rather cautious and didn’t just open the door.

The person who knocked on the door was a beautiful and fashionable woman.

“Annyeonghaseyo (Hello)! I’m from Perry Express!”

As soon as he heard the standard Korean greeting, the owner immediately opened the door and looked at this beautiful woman. “It turns out that we have Korean couriers in Orlando now.”

Due to Jordan’s plan, foreign girls worked as couriers in every top-tier city, so everyone had long gotten used to it.

However, Pablo suddenly leaped up from hiding and kicked the man into the house before barging in!

“Who are you people!?!?”

The man was extremely flustered, and he never thought that something like that would happen to him.

Pablo strangled the man and hollered, “Brat, you’re really brazen. How dare you touch Mr. Jordan’s woman!”

The man was confused, and he asked, “Mr. Jordan?”

At this moment, Jordan entered and closed the door.

When the man saw Jordan, he immediately recognized him. “Jordan Steele?”

Pablo slapped him and exclaimed, “So you really know Mr. Jordan!”

However, the man looked at Jordan innocently and asked, “Jordan Steele, there’s no feud between us. Why are you targeting me?”

Jordan looked at the man named Wilbur Kay, who was rather decent-looking and lived in a home with nice decor. He reckoned that he should be relatively affluent.

It was no wonder that he could become Hailey’s first love in high school.

When Jordan saw him, he felt a sense of jealousy and animosity, but he didn’t want to kill the innocent.

Jordan said, “You must be Wilbur Kay, right? Don’t you know why I’m dealing with you?”

Jordan did not want to say it directly and wanted Wilbur to explain himself instead.

Pablo pressed Wilbur against the ground, rendering him immobile. “Just because I used to be in love with Hailey Camden? Is it wrong to like someone? Every boy in our school has liked Hailey before!”

Pinning Wilbur down beneath him, Pablo said, “I’m not asking you about the past but the present. Are you still in contact with Hailey Camden? Have you ever been to Mr. Jordan’s home in Rose Garden Villa?”

Wilbur frantically asked, “Rose Garden Villa? I’ve never been there before! Last April, my wife, then-girlfriend, and I were in Europe for a month. I wasn’t even in the country!”

Jordan carefully observed Wilbur's expression as he spoke and asked, "Do you have any evidence?"

"I do, in my cell phone, Instagram, and Twitter."

Hence, Jordan asked Pablo to let go of Wilbur and make Wilbur take out his phone to browse through his and his girlfriend's Twitter and Instagram accounts.

It turned out that he and his girlfriend were indeed abroad at that time!

In other words, the one who lied was Hailey!

She didn't ask her first love to help her at all!

"Hailey Camden is still lying!"

Jordan was exasperated. Now that things had come to this, Hailey actually still had the guts to deceive Jordan!

Jordan didn't give Wilbur a hard time anymore and left directly.

On the other hand, Pablo threw $2,000 at Wilbur and threatened, "Don't tell anyone about this. Otherwise, you will know the consequences."

The two returned to the car from upstairs, and Pablo said, "Mr. Steele, pardon me, but although Hailey is your ex-wife, I think we should still punish her so that she can behave herself."

Even Pablo couldn't stand the fact that Hailey repeatedly deceived Jordan.

If it wasn't for the fact that Hailey was Jordan's ex-wife, Pablo wouldn't have cared about the family she was from or how beautiful she was. He would have just abducted her and let his brothers toy with her.

Jordan had the same thought too!

Jordan said indifferently, "The best punishment for Hailey is not to beat her up but to make her end up with nothing!"

"Call Frank and tell him that I want the Camdens to go bankrupt in a week. I want them to end up with nothing!"

"Yes!" Pablo answered respectfully.

Jordan asked, "Also, how's the progress of Hailey Residences?"

Pablo said, "It's almost done. The front door is up. The words 'Hailey Residences' look really imposing!"

"Remove it!" Jordan said coldly.

New York City.

Sylvie arrived at the hospital ward in a panic and said to Hailey, "Hailey, bad news, we're in trouble now!"

"Many of our partners have lodged reports against us and demanded compensation from us. Even your grandmother is worried sick now."

"And, your Hailey Residences..."

At this moment, Hailey was holding Jordan's son and teasing him. When she heard Sylvie's words, she immediately asked in a panic, "What happened to Hailey Residences?"

Hailey Residences was Hailey's palace and the thing she cared about the most!

Hailey had always prided herself as a queen, and she saw the residence as her palace where she would be displaying her charm and status!

She would never allow anything to happen to it!

Sylvie said, "I heard it's going to be demolished. The construction team has already gone to the site."

"No!"

Hailey could no longer control herself. Holding the babies, she scurried outside and exclaimed, "I want to go to Orlando immediately!"

...

More than an hour later.

In the luxurious residential estate of Hailey Residences in Orlando.

The design of the doorway of Hailey Residences was known to be one of the most luxurious and beautiful ones in the world.

It was designed by a renowned designer whom Jordan had hired from abroad.

The signboard with the words ‘Hailey Residences’ was already hung on the door.

However, at this moment, it had already been removed.

“Don’t get rid of it! Stop! Quickly, stop it!”

An Audi suddenly drove over, and Hailey scurried over quickly..

Chapter 265: Hailey’ s Saddest Moment!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Hailey had just finished giving birth, and her body had yet to fully recover.

However, at this moment, she was dashing like a madman and a sprinter to the construction site.

“Don’t demolish my door!”

Hailey Residences used to mean everything to Hailey!

It was her palace and sanctuary where she could satisfy her vanity!

She would never allow anyone to destroy it!

Upon hearing Hailey’s words, the man driving the crane stopped and turned around to look at Jordan.

However, Jordan ordered mercilessly, “Don’t stop! Continue demolishing!”

Having received Jordan's order, the crane driver stopped paying attention to Hailey's yelling and continued to raze down the last bit of the sign with the crane.

Bang!

The last bit of the signboard, which read "Hailey" was soon broken into two.

When she saw the front door of the place named after herself being completely torn down, Hailey collapsed instantly and fell to the ground in tears.

"No! My Hailey Residences! My palace! No!"

Hailey's tears were flowing freely like a tap. In the three years that Jordan had known Hailey, he had never seen her cry so miserably!

Even when Hailey got on her knees to beg Jordan to forgive her, she had never cried as much as she did today.

Indeed, this woman loved 'Hailey Residences' more than she loved him!

Looking at Hailey, who was crying in misery, Jordan no longer felt a trace of pity on her!

The situation today was entirely Hailey's fault! She had brought it upon herself!

Jordan did not feel sorry for her, and after removing the words "Hailey Residences", he continued to instruct the construction workers, “Get to work immediately and start building the cemetery!”

Hearing these words, Hailey looked at Jordan in surprise and hurriedly got up to scurry towards him.

“Jordan, what did you say? You want to build a cemetery here?”

Jordan said, “That’s right, I’ve already bought this plot of land, and there will no longer be a Hailey Residences here. Instead, it will be turned into a cemetery!”

“No! No! No!” Hailey was in so much pain and misery that she was almost going to break down. “Jordan, you can’t do this! Have you forgotten? This is the proof of our love! You were the one who named this place! This place was also chosen by you! How can you turn a place that symbolizes our love into a cemetery?”

Jordan couldn’t help but feel the irony when he heard Hailey say those words.

He suddenly remembered the video of their wedding ceremony that Hailey and Cayden had sent him.

In the video, Hailey said that Hailey Residences was the love nest of her and Cayden!

Jordan said coldly, “Isn’t this the love nest of her and Cayden? It has nothing to do with me!”

Hailey was startled!

Those were the words she said when she married Cayden!

She didn't expect Jordan to know about it!

Hailey immediately apologized to Jordan on her knees, "Jordan, I was wrong. This is the love nest and sanctuary that belongs to us, not Cayden. It has nothing to do with anyone else."

Jordan humphed coldly. 'Hailey really decides her choice of words depending on the person she's speaking to.'

Jordan said, "Hailey, the reason that I'm destroying this place today and turning it into a graveyard is precisely that this is our love nest and the proof that I once loved you. I'm turning it into a graveyard because all my feelings for you are dead and have all been buried!"

"No..." Hailey knelt in front of Jordan, crying and tugging at the hem of his pants. "No, you still love me, you definitely still love me. I'm the woman you love the most. You can't treat me like this."

"Jordan, you know that Hailey Residences mean everything to me, and I consider it as important as our child. Please don't be so cruel as to hurt my child, okay?"

The mention of the child made Jordan even more infuriated!

Jordan yelled at the construction workers, "Work harder! I want to see the first grave before it gets dark!"

When Hailey heard Jordan's words, he tugged harder on Jordan's leg.

Jordan hated Hailey's pestering, but he didn't want to kick her away. After all, Hailey had just given birth and was still recovering.

At the end of the day, Jordan wouldn't bully a woman who had just given birth.

Hence, Jordan immediately ordered Pablo, "Pull her away!"

"Yes!"

Pablo immediately got behind Hailey and held her from behind with both hands, pulling her away forcefully.

Pablo was so strong that he pulled Hailey out in one go.

However, Hailey shrieked, "Ah!"

Hailey looked at Pablo with great annoyance and barked, "How dare you take advantage of me!?! You dog, how dare you take advantage of your master's ex-wife in front of your master!?!"

"How dare you be so reckless with me!?! My son is your master's son and will definitely take over the Steeles in the future. How dare you be so rude to me!?!"

Pablo was so startled by Hailey's words that he turned pale immediately.

He frantically explained to Jordan, "Master, I didn't! I just used a bit of force when I pulled her. I might have hurt her, but I swear I definitely didn't take liberties with her!"

Jordan looked at Hailey and said, “You’re no longer the pure and innocent Hailey Camden that I know.”

“Pablo, ignore her. Throw her back into the car, don’t let her bother me here.”

“Yes!”

With Jordan’s permission, Pablo also stopped talking nonsense and took action immediately. He picked Hailey up and walked towards her Audi.

“Open the door of your Audi, or I’ll throw it onto the roof!”

Pablo hollered.

Pablo was carrying Hailey, who was punching his back incessantly. However, she was so weak that it felt like a tickle to Pablo.

“Why! Why do you have to be so cruel to me!” Hailey’s tears were like raindrops.

While carrying Hailey on his back, Pablo said, “Why? Hailey Camden, don’t you know what you’ve done? You’ve been cheating on Mr. Jordan time and time again. He was kind enough to have not hit you!”

“What did I lie to Jordan about?” Hailey was still pretending.

Pablo snapped. “Quit pretending. Do you think we came to Orlando just to demolish Hailey Residences? We’ve been to your first love’s house. His name is Wilbur Kay, right?”

“His wife is alive and well. Why did you say that she got into a car accident?”

Hailey finally understood what the truth was. “Does Jordan... already know?”

‘No wonder Jordan was so angry that he insisted on demolishing Hailey Residences to build a cemetery in this place that I love the most.

It turned out that Jordan already knew that Hailey’s previous explanation was just a lie.

After a moment of silence, Hailey suddenly slapped Pablo’s back vigorously again and again. She exclaimed, “Quick, put me down! Quickly put me down!”

Pablo hollered, “You’d better behave yourself! Mr. Jordan doesn’t care about you at all! If you continue to misbehave again, don’t blame me for being nasty!”

However, Hailey still kept hitting him and shouted to Jordan in the distance, “Jordan, don’t you want to know the truth? Fine, I’ll tell you the truth!”

Chapter 266: Learning Of The Truth!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Seeing that Hailey was finally willing to confess and tell the truth, Pablo stopped to look at Jordan.

This time, Jordan’s attitude was quite the opposite of before!

Jordan said indifferently, “I no longer want to know the truth now!”

He had had enough of Hailey’s lies and no longer wanted to let himself fall deeper into the mistakes she had made.

‘That woman can be with anyone she wants!’

‘Anyway, she’s not going to be my woman. I’ll just assume that she has given birth to my son!’

“What?” Hailey asked, dumbfounded to see that Jordan wasn’t even willing to listen to her explanation.

Pablo laughed and said, “Oh, you didn’t say anything when you were given a chance to speak previously. It’s too late for you to say anything now! Keep those dirty secrets of yours for the rest of your life! Mr. Jordan doesn’t want to know anything about your nonsense!”

Hailey flew into a rage and yelled at Jordan, “Jordan! Don’t you want to know who deliberately humiliated you!?!?”

Her words made Jordan, who was already indifferent, become excited again.

“What did you say!?!?”

Pablo hurriedly carried Hailey to Jordan, but before he even reached Jordan, Hailey kept slapping Pablo as she clamored, “Quick, put me down.”

Pablo put Hailey down compliantly, after which she walked towards Jordan.

She said, “Jordan, the father of my daughter, is not my lover. I was so in love with you, you’re the only man I had! I’m not a woman who would just sleep with anyone!”

“That man is your enemy! It’s all because of you that things have ended up like this today!”

Jordan was stunned. “My enemy? Who is it!?!?”

Jordan didn’t remember having any enemies, but after so many years of training in various places and being the scion of the Steeles, he had inadvertently offended quite a large number of people.

In just the past three years in Orlando, Jordan had already offended many people in the various industries that he monopolized in pursuit of becoming the king of the business circle.

Hailey looked around and asked, “Are you sure you want to talk to me about this here?”

There were lots of people around, and it was rather noisy, so it indeed wasn’t the place to talk about such private matters.

“Pablo, hand me the car keys.”

Jordan grabbed Pablo’s car keys and was about to leave with her to go elsewhere to talk.

“Get in the car.”

Jordan ordered Hailey.

“Can you not cover the cemetery here?” Hailey pleaded.

Jordan glanced at Hailey’s pleading eyes and instructed Pablo,
“Tell them to stop.”

Afterward, Jordan drove Hailey away from Hailey Residences.

As soon as she got into the car, Jordan asked, “Where do you want to go to talk?”

“Rose Garden Villa!” Hailey said. That was the place they used to live in!

Jordan did not waste his breath and instead drove straight to Rose Garden Villa, the place that was once their sweet home.

The decoration, design, and furniture inside the villa had remained the same. It was also kept tidy and cleaned by the helper.

Hence, Hailey felt that time had turned back to a year ago when she had just remarried Jordan.

Hailey excitedly touched the furniture, walls, and paintings in the villa and walked around gleefully.

Jordan tried to call out to her, but Hailey quickly made her way upstairs to go to their bedroom.

Then she saw the poem, “Hope”, and heard the MIDI tune that she had also heard previously.

Upon returning to this bedroom, Hailey was moved to tears again, and she jumped into Jordan’s arms.

Feeling touched, he asked, “I’m so happy to be here again. There’s still the scent of our past here. As soon as I came here, all the sweet memories that we shared surfaced in my mind. Hubby, what about you ?”

Hailey took the opportunity and addressed Jordan as her husband again.

She indeed liked the villa very much, especially the bedroom.

The last time she left this villa, she was forced into doing so because Jordan had pretended to be expelled from the family, and the villa was confiscated.

Hailey was forced to move out, but of course, Hailey now knew that it was just Jordan’s lie.

Although Jordan lied to Hailey about being expelled from the family, he had never returned since he moved out last time.

Everything in the room was left untouched. It was still the same when Jordan and Hailey left last time.

However, unlike Hailey, Jordan didn't reminisce about the past when he returned to the room that they used to stay in.

Hailey pressed herself against Jordan's arms, but he didn't feel glad like he used to.

He asked, "Hailey, do you know what I was thinking when I came back to this house we used to live in?"

Seeing that Jordan didn't push her away this time, Hailey thought that Jordan was also reminiscing the great memories they shared. She shook her head and pressed herself closer against him.

Jordan sneered, "I'm thinking about which man you had gotten intimate with in this room after I left for work every morning last year!"

Seeing that Jordan was angry, Hailey was so frightened that she immediately pulled away from Jordan's body.

"Tell me quickly, who is that man!?! I'm only giving you this last chance!" Jordan's expression was grave.

Hailey also knew that Jordan was serious this time, so she did not intend to deceive Jordan anymore.

Hailey said, "I don't know what that man's name is. I only know that he has a strong background and is very wealthy."

"After you went to work one morning, a man suddenly climbed in through the window. I was so scared that I was about to shriek loudly, but he covered my mouth."

“He then told me that he would let go of me as long as I didn’t scream.”

“He didn’t look like a robber, killer, or anything, so I agreed to take my time and talk to him.”

“He first showed me a few photos and videos, all of which were of him having dinner and playing golf with some celebrities. After I watched them, I realized that he wasn’t some punk, but someone from a very distinguished family!”

“Then, I asked him why he was sneaking into our house, and he said you were his enemy. So, he wanted to use me to get even with you...”

“Of course I refused to agree, but he said that if I did not agree, he would kill me, but if I agreed, he would give me 150 million dollars.”

‘150 million dollars’

‘Hailey is really worth a lot of money!’

Jordan asked, “Did he give you 150 million dollars then?”

Hailey nodded and said, “Yes, he did on the first day.”

Jordan was a little surprised, but he also somewhat had an epiphany.

He was surprised that that guy would keep his word and really give her the money.

150 million dollars in cash was not a small amount for any family.

That was enough to prove that the man's family was indeed powerful.

Jordan was shocked because he finally understood why Hailey still had the guts to secretly go on dates with Cayden even after she got pregnant.

It turned out that it was because she had 150 million dollars, which gave her a strong foundation!

At that time, the Camdens' assets amounted to only about 200 million dollars, which were probably going to be given to Drew.

Hence, it was a sum that even Hailey could not turn down.

“Hubby...”

“Stop calling me that!”

“Jor... Jordan, think carefully.. Who exactly have you offended?”
