

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 511

Chapter 511 I'm The Owner Here!

Jordan was furious when he heard a lowly receptionist slandering the US entertainment industry like that!

South Korea was not even a leader in the global entertainment industry. Even the world's most famous directors and performers wouldn't dare to speak to Jordan like that!

"Yes!"

Salvatore was good at smashing things.

With that, Salvatore smashed the front desk of GE Entertainment. The company logo was instantly shattered into pieces.

The receptionist was shocked. She didn't expect them to really dare to destroy the office.

"Security! Security!"

The receptionist quickly called for the building's security. Soon, a few burly security guards in uniforms rushed over.

The receptionist quickly said, "Stop them! They're hooligans from the US. They want to see our artistes and will smash up the office if we don't allow it. Please chase them out! Call the police and send them to the police station!"

The security guard immediately took out his baton and walked toward Salvatore.

The security guard shouted "stop" in Korean.

The interpreter shouted at Salvatore anxiously, "The security guard told you to stop!"

Salvatore looked at the two security guards disdainfully. "Only Mr. Jordan can tell me to stop. Who do they think they are? How dare they try and stop me? I will smash up this place if I feel like it!"

The interpreter was stunned. Jordan said, "Tell the security that I'm the owner of this building. Everything in this building belongs to me, including them."

The interpreter translated for the security guards.

When the receptionist heard this, she said to the security officer, "Don't listen to his nonsense. How can such an uncultured person be the owner of this building! Whoever owns this building must be a billionaire. Does he look like a billionaire?"

The security guards hesitated because they had just received a notification from their superiors that this building had been bought by a man with the surname of Steele.

In fact, he had even reminded them to be alert. If they met someone from the US with the surname Steele, that person must be their boss. They must not do anything wrong in front of this boss. Otherwise, they would be fired. A security guard sized Jordan up and asked carefully, "May I know your name?" "Jordan Steele!"

"Steele!"

The two security guards panicked. They only knew that their new boss's surname was Steele and didn't know his full name.

"Please wait one moment. I'll ask our captain to come over."

After a while, a slightly older man came. Two security guards whispered to him about the situation.

The security captain walked to Jordan and bowed respectfully. "Are you the new boss of this building, Mr. Jordan Steele?"

Jordan nodded. The security captain asked, "Can we take a look at your identification? Please forgive us for doing this. We are also worried that someone might impersonate you and destroy your building."

Jordan did not mind proving his identity to his employees and showed his passport to the security captain.

When the security captain saw this, he immediately bowed 90 degrees. "Welcome, Mr. Steele. Please feel free to inspect your building!"

The two security guards who came up first also turned pale with fright. Fortunately, they didn't do anything just now, or they would be finished!

"Welcome, Mr. Steele!" The two security guards said in unison.

The receptionist was stunned. "He... he's really the owner of this building?"

Jordan looked at the woman. "Your company rented my building but refused to let me in. I believe you will need to change locations! Get your president here immediately, or I'll destroy your company!"

The receptionist dared not disobey. "Yes Mr. Steele, I will make the call now. Please calm down. I'm very sorry for what happened!"

The receptionist's attitude improved exponentially after realizing Jordan's identity. For working-class folks, big shots like Jordan could fire them with just one word if they offended him. They might not even get a good job for the rest of their lives.

In less than half an hour, Song Cheong-su returned to the company with Ji Chang-wook.

Song Cheong-su had an interpreter with him too. As soon as he entered the reception area, he said with a smile, "Is this the greatest, youngest, most handsome and most capable President Jordan Steele from the US?"

"Why did you come all the way to our little country? Before you came, you should have given me a call to inform me so that I can send someone to pick you up."

Song Cheong-su looked like a smiling tiger as he shook hands with Jordan.

Jordan replied, "President Song, I called you a few times before I came, but you didn't pick up."

Song Cheong-su feigned ignorance. "Really? There must be something wrong with the damned signal! You don't know how bad the signal in Seoul has been recently. Oh right, I heard from the front desk that this entire building belongs to you? Heavens, our meeting must be fated!

"Our company chose this location and hired many great designers and architects. We spent a fortune on it. President Steele, you mustn't terminate the contract and chase us away!"

Jordan scoffed. He did not continue chatting with Song Cheong-su. Instead, he looked at the handsome man beside him.

It was Emily's idol and dream lover, Ji Chang-wook!

"This guy is indeed very handsome." He was over 1.8 meters tall, had handsome features and was very well-dressed.

Although Ji Chang-wook was a few years older than Jordan, it was impossible to tell that he was older just from his appearance.

One had to admit that there was a reason why so many girls were infatuated with this idol. It was obvious he invested a lot in his personal grooming “Hello, I’m Ji Chang-wook.”

Ji Chang-wook bowed to Jordan.

Salvatore looked at Ji Chang-wook with a displeased expression. “Did Mr. Jordan allow you to speak? Sissy, why does a grown man like you need to put on makeup!”

Emily was Salvatore’s goddess. He knew that he was not good enough for Emily, so he always hoped that Jordan would marry her. So Salvatore would not have complained if Jordan married Emily.

If it were anyone else, he would definitely object.

As a result, Salvatore was very jealous that Emily liked this idol.

“Salvatore, don’t be rude,” Jordan reminded him. He did not want these South Koreans to think that they were uncultured people.

Jordan looked at Ji Chang-wook. “I’ll cut to the chase. I want you to hold a concert in Houston within a week. If you agree, I’ll transfer you USD 8 million immediately. If you don’t agree, you can pack your things and go home immediately. I guarantee that there will no longer be a place for you in this industry!”

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 512

Chapter 512 Emily Appears!

Jordan’s word was law in the US entertainment industry. Who would dare to go against Jordan Steele?

Now that he had come to South Korea, he was still as domineering as ever! Song Cheong-su quickly said, “Ji Chang-wook, hurry up and thank President Steele for giving you this opportunity. It is an honor for a South Korean artiste to hold a concert in Houston!”

Upon hearing his boss’s words, Ji Chang-wook had no choice but to agree. He replied respectfully, “Thank you, President Steele. I’ll do my best to train my singing skills so that you won’t be disappointed by my performance!”

Jordan wondered if Ji Chang-wook had misunderstood something. He looked at him strangely.

Could it be that he thought that Jordan was Ji Chang-wook’s fan? And that was why he was inviting him to perform in the US?

This kind of thing had happened before. Rich second-generation heirs often invited their favorite idols to sing at their birthday parties.

Jordan did not want Ji Chang-wook to think that he admired him.

“I don’t care if your performance is good or not. I’m not going to watch it anyway. I invited you because of my sister. My sister is a fan of yours. She has been out of contact for a long time. I want to use you to help me find her. So the concert performance isn’t the main point. Your mission is to install a tracker on my sister’s cell phone.”

Jordan did not plan to show himself after luring Emily out.

He planned to get Ji Chang-wook to secretly plant a tracking device on Emily’s phone. In this way, he could track Emily when she went back to meet Victoria and Jamie!

Ji Chang-wook hesitated for a moment before agreeing. “President Steele dotes on your younger sister so much, I will definitely help you!”

Shortly after, GE Entertainment swiftly announced that their artiste, Ji Chang-wook, would be holding a concert in Houston next week!

To let Emily know the news as soon as possible, Jordan even paid money to boost the online announcement across internet search engines and social media, making it a trending topic.

Dreams Entertainment, the subsidiary of GE Entertainment, would be in charge of ticketing.

Once the news was released and the tickets were released for purchase, Jordan, Tim, Salvatore and the rest of their team sat in front of their computers to track the ticket sales. As buyers had to use their real names to purchase their tickets, Jordan would immediately know when Emily bought her tickets.

To prevent scalpers or Ji Chang-wook’s fans from snatching up all the tickets, Jordan had deliberately raised the ticket price to an unreasonable amount.

For example, the tickets that were usually priced at USD 80 were being sold for USD 800.

VIP tickets that were usually priced at USD 800 were being sold at USD 8,000.

This way, even if Emily only knew about the concert at the last minute, she would still be able to buy tickets.

However, Jordan's actions caused fans to be unhappy. Many netizens complained and questioned if Ji Chang-wook was worth such high ticket prices. Online arguments between netizens and hard-core fans became increasingly heated.

Seven o'clock in the evening.

Salvatore was suddenly overjoyed. "Mr. Jordan! Ms. Emily just bought a VIP ticket worth USD 8,000!"

Tim also smiled. "Haha, Emily has fallen into our trap. In a week, we'll be able to follow her and successfully find Victoria and Mr. Jamie."

Jordan smiled too. "USD 8,000 is nothing to Emily. I knew she would buy a ticket."

Dragon also complimented, "Master, you're really impressive. Mr. Jesse has been searching for so long, but he didn't manage to find any clues. You made such great progress in less than a day."

Jordan remained humble. He was not trying to prove that he was better than his brother. "You can't say that. After all, I know Emily very well. If Victoria wasn't with Jamie, I wouldn't have been able to find Jamie. Anyway, everyone is to keep a low profile and stay hidden. We have to wait for Emily to show up and then follow her when she leaves. Then we can then uncover Jamie's whereabouts and complete my last mission!"

Dragon, Salvatore and Tim said in unison, "Yes, sir!"

Jordan said to himself: 'Victoria, I'll see you soon...'

A week later.

Houston, White Oak Music Hall.

After Emily bought her VIP ticket, the ticket prices returned to normal levels. Other fans also rushed to buy tickets.

That night, the venue was packed with people. It was no surprise that Ji Chang-wook was indeed very popular here.

"Ji Chang-wook! Ji Chang-wook! Ji Chang-wook!"

Tens of thousands of fans shouted in unison, including Emily!

Emily was wearing a pink dress and sitting in the VIP seat in the first row. She was holding a cardboard sign and waving it around.

"Wow, Ms. Emily is so beautiful!"

Backstage, Salvatore watched the surveillance cameras and was extremely excited.

Tim teased him, "Salvatore, what kind of eyes do you have? It's pitch black but you can still see Emily?"

The concert was held at night and the lights in the audience area were turned down. It was basically impossible to see anything clearly.

Salvatore retorted, "Just now, a beam of light swept across Ms. Emily's face. She looked like the moon goddess herself, too beautiful!"

Jordan sat quietly, anticipating the interaction between Emily and Ji Chang-wook. According to the plan, Ji Chang-wook would choose an audience member to sing on stage with him during the final part of the concert.

And Ji Chang-wook would choose Emily!

Two hours later.

Ji Chang-wook held the microphone and said happily, "Thank you for everyone's enthusiasm. Now, I want to choose a fan to perform on stage with me."

Upon hearing this, the fans all screamed.

Ji Chang-wook walked towards the area where Emily was and pointed directly at her. "This beauty, are you willing to come on stage and sing with me?"

Emily was shocked. She never thought that she would be chosen!

"I am!"

It was the dream of every fan to be able to be on the same stage as her idol.

With that, Emily was pulled onto the stage, and the two of them sang a duet. After the song, Ji Chang-wook continued to perform on stage while his interpreter walked over to Emily. "Hello, Miss. You sing very well and look very pretty. Our artiste likes you a lot and wants to add you to his private social media account. Is that okay?"

Emily was surprised. "Sure, sure!"

The interpreter said, "Please give me your cell phone and I'll enter his profile name."

Emily immediately took out her cell phone. She was completely unsuspecting as she passed her cell phone to the interpreter.

Jordan had arranged this little interaction with the interpreter. While the interpreter was entering the information, she also secretly planted a tracking device in Emily's cell phone case!

After that, the interpreter returned Emily's phone to her. "Thank you!"

The tracking device was already planted. Now, they only had to follow Emily!

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 513

Chapter 513 Something Happened To Emily!

Jordan immediately opened the tracking app on his phone. The app would show Emily's location in real-time.

"Success! Now, we just wait for Emily to go back to Victoria and the rest."

Dragon grew solemn. "I wonder if Mr. Jamie will resist Mr. Jordan's attempts to bring him back..."

If Jamie was unwilling to return with Jordan, the two of them would definitely engage in a fierce battle! Tim smiled. "Dragon, are you afraid of Phoenix?"

Dragon snorted disdainfully. "You don't have the right to say that to me. Phoenix's strength is below mine. Even in the worst-case scenario, I will be able to retreat in one piece. But for you two, once he sets eyes on you, you better pray for your lives!"

Tim swallowed hard. Was Phoenix so ruthless?

Meanwhile, Salvatore was oblivious to Dragon's warning, because his eyes were still fixed on Emily.

A minute later, Salvatore suddenly frowned. "Mr. Jordan, Ms. Emily didn't return to her seat after she finished singing on stage."

Jordan was surprised. "Oh? According to the plan, the interpreter was to lead her back to her seat after planting the tracking device on her phone."

Jordan checked her location in his app and saw that she was still in the stadium. However, she was on the move.

"She might have gone to the toilet or maybe she's making a call," Jordan said.

Salvatore didn't suspect anything at first, but after a few minutes, he asked again, "Mr. Jordan, where's Ms. Emily now?"

Jordan glanced at Emily's position. "She's at the entrance of the venue now. Is she leaving? That can't be right. She likes Ji Chang-wook so much. There's no reason for her to leave early."

Salvatore immediately picked up the phone to call the person they had specially planted to sit behind Emily in the audience

"Hello Aaron, did Ms. Emily leave early?"

Aaron replied, "Yes, she did. After Emily left the stage, she was taken away by two security guards. Didn't you arrange it?"

To ensure Emily's safety, all the security guards at the concert venue were specially arranged by Salvatore.

Salvatore immediately became very anxious. "When did I get the security guards to take her away! Which security guard took her away?"

Aaron said, "I didn't see clearly. It was so dark."

Salvatore put down the phone and reported it to Jordan. "Mr. Jordan, Ms. Emily was taken away by our security guards, but I didn't instruct them to do so."

Jordan looked at Emily's position on his app. After Emily left the venue, the speed of her movements suddenly increased!

The speed increased from 80 km/h to 100, and then 110!

"Oh no! Emily has been kidnapped!"

This tracking device could record Emily's speed of movement. Jordan was sure that something had happened to Emily when he saw the sudden increase in her speed.

If Emily had chosen to leave of her own accord, she would not drive so fast in the city.

"Get the car. We have to follow her!"

Salvatore said, "Yes!"

Half an hour later, in an abandoned amusement park in the suburbs of Houston.

Emily, who was wearing a pink dress, was tied to a chair. Her mouth was gagged, preventing her from screaming.

Suddenly five to six fierce men surrounded her!

A man with a buzz cut walked over and removed her gag.

The moment he removed it, Emily screamed. "Help!"

Smack!

The man with the buzz cut did not care that she was a female. He slapped Emily's cute and delicate face!

"What are you screaming for? If you continue to scream, I'll smash your mouth!"

Emily was stunned! She had been well protected by her sister since she was a young child. When had she ever been slapped like this?

She didn't dare to scream anymore. Tears streamed down her face.

At this moment, a slightly plump man came forward and smiled. "September, why are you so violent towards beautiful women?"

The buzz-cut man snorted. "August, don't tell me you've taken a fancy to this girl? Let me remind you, we're here on official business. You won't be able to bear the consequences if you ruin our boss' plans!"

August, September. These were clearly code names and not their real names.

August didn't say anything more.

September looked at Emily. "Are you Emily?"

Emily immediately denied it. "I'm not. You've caught the wrong person!" September coldly replied, "I've never grabbed the wrong person in my life. Emily, let me ask you, where are your sister and Jamie?"

Only then did Emily understand why she was kidnapped. She raised her head and said, "I don't know any Jamie. My sister has been missing for a long time, so I don't know where she is."

September said coldly, "If you didn't know, would Jordan be so free as to invite a South Korean idol to Houston for you to admire?"

Emily was stunned. "What did you say? Ji Chang-wook was invited by Jordan?"

She never thought that her idol would have anything to do with her ex-brother-in-law.

September said, "How else could it be? If Jordan didn't specially arrange this concert for him, would Ji Chang-wook be able to hold a concert for ten thousand people in Houston with his lousy singing skills? I was below the stage and listened to him sing for two hours. My ears were almost damaged from listening to him. What kind of bullshit is that!"

Emily was pissed. "You are not allowed to insult Ji Chang-wook!"

September laughed. "Little girl, you're really a pampered flower who spent all its life in a greenhouse. Have you been spoiled? You're about to die, and you still have the mood to defend others? You'd better cut the crap and tell us where Jamie is!"

Emily insisted. "I don't know!"

September was furious. He was about to raise his hand to slap her again when August stopped him.

"August, what are you trying to do?"

September looked at August with a murderous expression.

August laughed and sized up Emily, especially her long legs. He was nearly drooling.

"September, I already told you that she's a beauty. Don't keep hitting her. Do you think you'll be able to find out about Jamie's whereabouts just by hitting her?"

September lowered his arm and snorted. "What despicable idea do you have then, August? Are you going to drug her like what you did to the previous one?"

Rubbing his fat hands together, August chuckled with a leer on his face. "Although my method is despicable, you have to admit that it is the most appropriate for beautiful women." August took out a box from his pocket. There was a pink pill inside.

Emily's heart skipped a beat when she saw the pill. She knew what the pill was for. Terrified, she instinctively squeezed her legs together.

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 514

Chapter 514 Crush Him To Death!

Holding out the pink pill, August said to Emily with a wicked smile, "Come, pretty lady, I'll give you something good to eat."

Emily was tied up and could only shake her head. "No, I don't want to eat it!"

September glanced at the terrified Emily. "Emily, if you don't want to be tarnished by this animal, you'd better tell us the whereabouts of Jamie and your sister. August is not a good person. I can show you what he's done."

With that, September took out his phone and found a video. He played it for Emily.

The video was filled with scenes that were absolutely inappropriate for children.

"The woman in the video took the pill and ended up like this. If you don't want to be tainted by this scum, you better tell me their location immediately."

August was annoyed. "September, is there something wrong with you? You called me an animal and a scum. Are you a good person, then?"

August then looked at Emily with a mischievous smile. "Come on, baby, take the pill. Don't listen to his nonsense. I'm the best man in the world, hehe."

"No, I'm not taking it!" Emily tried her best to resist, but she knew that she couldn't hold on forever.

"I'll tell you! I'll tell you where Jamie is!"

August immediately halted. The group of men became excited.

Jordan was right. Emily knew where Jamie was! It turned out she had been with Victoria and Jamie all this time!

"Quick, tell us where Jamie is hiding! We've been looking for him for so long, but there's still no news of him!"

September was extremely eager.

Trying to calm herself, Emily said, "Jamie is on Deadman's Island."

Deadman's Island!

Hearing this name, the men broke out in cold sweat.

Deadman's Island was located in the Atlantic Ocean near Canada. It was rumored that this island was barren. No human or living thing was able to thrive on it. Not even animals or seabirds!

Over the past hundreds of years, countless explorers had visited the island, but all of them had perished. They never imagined that Jamie, a man who loved luxury, would hide on such a dangerous island.

September immediately picked up his phone and made a call.

“Master, Emily has confessed that Jamie is on Deadman’s Island.

“Yes, Master. We’ll set off to Deadman’s Island to capture Jamie. “Oh right, how should we deal with Emily? Should we kill her?”

“Alright, understood.”

After hanging up the phone, September said to them, “Master ordered us to immediately head to Deadman’s Island. Also, we have to let Emily go.”

Upon hearing that she would be released, Emily heaved a sigh of relief. Her tensed body finally relaxed a little. She didn’t realize that her voluptuous figure was more alluring when she was all tensed up.

It would have been better if she had been more relaxed in the first place. It would have aroused lesser lewd thoughts from these criminals.

However, August still held onto the pink pill. “September, Deadman’s Island is so far away, there’s no rush. This Emily is a top-notch girl. I heard she’s a flight attendant and she’s young. She’s only 20 years old. Maybe she’s still a virgin.”

Emily tensed up again. “What are you guys doing?! I’ve already told you Jamie’s whereabouts! Let me go!” August smirked. “How would I know if you’re telling the truth? Or should I let you take this pill? When you’re in a daze, I’ll ask you again. Just to be safe, hehe.” Emily struggled with all her might. “I’m not lying! I’m telling the truth! Jamie is really on Deadman’s Island! I’m not lying to you! Please let me go!”

However, no matter how much Emily begged for mercy, August was determined to assault her. He forced the pill into her mouth and made her swallow it.

“Hahaha…”

August and the men roared with laughter.

Leering at Emily’s long legs meaningfully, September chuckled. “We can have some fun with this girl. We might not get the chance to come back alive after going to Deadman’s Island. Phoenix is so vicious that if we get caught by him, we will suffer a fate worse than death. We should enjoy ourselves in case we don’t make it back in one piece.”

August laughed. “Haha, that’s right, that’s right. I think so too. It’s a waste not to play with this cute girl.”

However, one of the men left first.

“Where are you going, October? Aren’t you going to join in?” August called out.

October was a very cold man. His skin looked unhealthy as if he were ill.

October said in an aged voice, “Emily is Mr. Jordan’s ex-girlfriend’s sister. I don’t dare to mess with her. I’ll take my leave first. If you guys aren’t afraid of death, go ahead.”

October disappeared into the darkness.

“Damn!”

August shouted, “October is such a coward. So what if she is Jordan’s ex-girlfriend’s sister? He’s still watching that silly concert. How would he know that we’ve already captured Emily? By the time he finds out, it will be at least a few hours before they find her. Unless he’s a god and knows where we are right now.”

Emily immediately shouted. “Don’t you dare do anything, stupid. Jordan dotes on me a lot. If you dare to do anything to me, I’ll tell him and have him kill all of you b*stards!”

August chuckled. “Little beauty, wait another 20 minutes. When the drug takes effect, I won’t have to force you. You’ll be begging us, hahaha.”

15 minutes later.

August finished his cigarette and threw it on the ground. “It’s about time, brothers. I’ll start first!”

At this moment, Emily had fallen into a daze. She could no longer resist. However, she still kept mumbling. “Jordan, save me...”

Upon hearing Emily’s pleas for help, August laughed out loud. “Emily, not even god can save you now!”

Just as August was about to make his move on Emily, a modified Buick GL8 sped over at an extremely fast speed.

“Oh f*ck! Incoming!”

August, September and the others were immediately alert.

Salvatore was driving while Tim sat in the front passenger seat. Jordan and Dragon sat in the back. When Salvatore saw that a man was about put his dirty hands on Emily, his eyes turned red and a murderous rage surged in him!

“Mr. Jordan, this man wanted to rape Ms. Emily. How should we punish him?”

Jordan had also seen what had happened.

“Crush him to death!”

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 515

Chapter 515 The Terrifying Dragon!

Jordan rarely killed people so ruthlessly. He did not even kill Tyler and Cayden.

Hailey was the one who was willing to have an affair. They didn't force her, so she was also responsible. However, if Hailey had been coerced like Emily was, Jordan would never let that person off so easily!

There was no one Jordan hated more than scum like that!

How dare he have designs on Emily? He was courting death!

Salvatore had sped all the way here like he was in an F1 race. This was why they were able to stop them in time. Thank the heavens that Jordan had asked the interpreter to place the tracker in Emily's phone case. Otherwise, Emily would have been tarnished by these bastards!

“Roger!”

Salvatore gritted his teeth and looked at the chubby August with murderous eyes! There was no one who cared more about Emily's safety and chastity!

Salvatore immediately stepped on the accelerator and charged forward!

“Be careful not to hit Emily!” Jordan warned.

Initially, August was standing with Emily. However, when Salvatore drove over, August quickly rolled to the side.

“Good dodge!”

Salvatore swerved the steering wheel and charged straight at August!

Bang! “Ah!”

There was a loud bang followed by a man's scream.

Salvatore had pinned August against a wall!

Jordan immediately instructed Dragon, "Apart from him, there are three other men. Settle them quickly. I want them alive."

Dragon's killing intent soared. "Understood!"

Dragon picked up a katana and was about to alight.

However, Dragon could get out of the car, Salvatore walked out of the driver's seat first. His anger still wasn't appeased even though he had killed August. Salvatore went over to hit and curse August's body.

"F*ck you! You little b*stard! How dare you rip Ms. Emily's skirt? I'm going to smash your pig face!"

Salvatore couldn't stand the thought of another man other than Jordan touching Emily. Even though he had killed August, he still felt that it wasn't enough.

At this moment, September and the others were more than a little scared. Their comrade had been killed just like that. They had no idea how powerful Salvatore was and their wariness of him was increasing rapidly. "Who are you?" September demanded.

Salvatore was still in a rage. Beating a dead body was not as satisfying as beating a live one!

"Salvatore!"

September immediately picked up a brick and charged at Salvatore.

However, September kicked Salvatore to the ground!

Salvatore had been on the streets for many years and physical combat was one of his best skills. However, compared to professional thugs like September, he was not on their level.

September stepped on Salvatore's face in disdain. "I thought you were very powerful. It turns out that you're just a piece of trash. With your mediocre skills, you dare to try and be a hero?"

"Salvatore..."

At this moment, Emily saw Salvatore and shouted his name.

September was still stepping on Salvatore's face. Salvatore wished he could kill this scum who had insulted his goddess!

However, his ability did not allow him to do so!

Nevertheless, he still tried his best to look up and glare at September's arrogant face.

"Kid, in a minute, I'll be the one stepping on your face!"

September laughed out loud. "Oh? Are you that fierce? You can still fight back when you are under my foot? Come on, show me how you plan to do that!"

Salvatore looked at the Buick GL8!

September realized that there were other people in the car!

The car's windows were very thick and dark. No one could not see through to the inside. The only thing they could see was the reflection on the glass.

Therefore, September did not realize there were others inside.

September became cautious. "Brothers, be careful. There's someone else in the car."

His men smiled. "They're just a motley crew. Even if 10 cars came, they wouldn't be our match."

September laughed, too. "That's right."

September shouted at the Buick, "A*sholes, do you dare to come out? Are you so scared that you peed your pants? You killed August. Today, everyone in the Buick will die!"

At this moment, the 1.93-meter tall Dragon stepped out. His hair was pulled back into a ponytail and he was wearing a black t-shirt, revealing his strong muscles and cool tattoos. A shiny katana was in his hand! "Who are you calling a*shole?" Dragon walked over coldly.

Seeing the intimidating figure, September and his men retreated in fear!

"You're... you're Dragon!"

The arrogant September immediately became a worm when he saw Dragon!

Dragon said coldly, "You know me? But I don't know you."

Just as he finished speaking, Dragon attacked at lightning speed!

Whoosh!

Whoosh! Whoosh!

Dragon's movements were extremely fast. In a split second, he had arrived in front of the men with his katana! He slashed September's leg before cutting off the hand of another man who wanted to grab his gun.

With another slash, Dragon killed the third man who was pointing his gun at him!

A crushing defeat!

Dragon did not give his opponents any chance to retaliate! September and his men barely had the chance to move a finger!

Salvatore got up from the ground and knocked the bleeding September to the ground with a punch. He then stepped on September's face with its foot.

"Kid, was I bragging? I said that I would be stepping on your face in less than a minute!"

At that moment, Jordan and Tim got out of the car.

Jordan could have subdued the three men himself. However, with Dragon around, he no longer had to do such things himself.

September was even more terrified when he saw Jordan walking over.

Instead, Jordan walked to Emily and untied her.

"Emily, are you alright?" Emily's eyes were misty as she held Jordan with both hands. "Jordan... you're finally here. I knew you would save me."

Jordan patted Emily's head and comforted her, "Emily, it's alright. I'm here. I won't let anyone bully you."

After comforting her, Jordan instructed Salvatore. "Help Emily back to the car."

"Yes!"

Meanwhile, Jordan walked towards September and the man beside him. He asked, "Who sent you guys? Why did you kidnap Emily?" The two men suddenly had strange expressions on their faces. Shortly after, both of them vomited blood and fell to the ground!

"Mr. Jordan, they bit their tongues and committed suicide!" Dragon said.

"Damn it..."

Jordan did not expect such loyal hitmen to exist. They chose to commit suicide in order not to expose their master's identity.

Salvatore had been escorting Emily back to the car but he suddenly ran over. He grabbed Jordan's sleeve and kept shouting, "Mr. Jordan, bad news, bad news. Ms. Emily..."

"What happened to her?"

Salvatore said, "She seems to have been drugged!"

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 516

Chapter 516 Salvatore Rebels!?

"What?"

Jordan observed Emily carefully and realized that her cheeks were flushed and her clothes were messy. She did look rather out of sorts.

"Jordan... I feel terrible..."

Emily held Jordan's hand as she spoke with much effort.

Jordan comforted her, "Emily, don't be afraid. I have the antidote here. You'll be fine after taking the antidote."

Taking out the medicine box his family had given him, Jordan looked for the antidote to the usual street drugs sold on the market.

"Here, swallow it."

Jordan personally fed Emily. She took a sip of soda and swallowed the antidote.

Seeing that Emily's body was flushed and warm, Jordan instructed Salvatore. "Turn the air conditioner in the car to the maximum."

"Yes!"

Salvatore hurriedly adjusted the air conditioning

At this moment, Dragon said, "Master, I've already arranged for someone to deal with the dead bodies. We shouldn't stay here for long. We must leave the scene as soon as possible."

Jordan nodded. After all, there had been several deaths. Although three of them had committed suicide, Jordan and his men would still be in trouble if they were seen.

Jordan and the rest got into the car. Salvatore drove them away and returned to the Houston central district. All the while Salvatore was constantly observing Emily's condition through the rearview mirror as he drove.

Salvatore asked, "Mr. Jordan, how long will the antidote take to take effect?"

Jordan said, "It usually takes five minutes."

Salvatore said, "It's been six and a half minutes since you gave her the antidote. But judging from Ms. Emily's expression, she still seems to be very uncomfortable." Jordan looked at Emily. Her condition did not seem to have improved.

"Emily, are you feeling better?"

Emily shook her head honestly. "No... the antidote doesn't seem to have any effect."

"What? How can it be ineffective?!"

The Steeles had given Jordan this antidote. He had tested it before and it should be very effective against the typical street drugs sold on the market.

Why was it ineffective when it came to Emily?

Unless the knock-out drug used on Emily was not an ordinary drug!

Dragon said, "Master, your medicine was specially concocted by the family. It's a level higher than the normal antidotes on the market. It's impossible that it's ineffective. Unless, of course, the drug they used was also very advanced." "Could it be..."

At that moment, both Dragon and Jordan thought of the same person.

Jesse!

There were not many people in this world who could possess a drug that even Jordan could not counter.

Jordan did not try to ponder too much about this now. His current top priority was to solve Emily's problem!

Emily was feeling very hot and fidgety. The drug had strong aphrodisiacal effects and now, she was sitting in the back row with Jordan and Dragon.

She felt extremely uncomfortable.

Emily suddenly said, "Jordan, did you invite Ji Chang-wook especially for me?"

Jordan nodded. "Yes, I know you like him, so I invited him over to hold a concert just to lure you out. I'm sorry. If it weren't for me, none of this would have happened... and now that you're in a bad state, I'm responsible."

Jordan was willing to do a lot of things for Emily. He would even shed blood for her. But how could he, as her brother-in-law, help her in such matters?

Emily suddenly became very shy as she whispered, "Um... Jordan, can you... can you..."

Seeing that Jordan was a little embarrassed, Jordan asked, "Do you want Ji Chang-wook to do something for you? Tell me. He accepted my money and he will do anything for you as long as I ask."

Emily's face turned even redder. "Can you... send me to him?"

Jordan was stunned. "Now?"

Emily nodded.

By now, Ji Chang-wook should have already finished his concert and returned to the hotel. But how could Emily face anyone in her current state?!

Could it be that Emily wanted to...

Jordan asked, "Are you planning to... with Ji Chang-wook?"

Emily said in an embarrassed voice, "Ji Chang-wook is my idol. If he's my first man, I... I can accept it..."

"No! Absolutely not!"

Salvatore suddenly went crazy and shouted, "Emily, you can't be with that South Korean! How can that fellow be worthy of you! I firmly object!"

Tim was also very unhappy. "How can we let that South Korean benefit like this? We gave him so much money, arranged a concert for him and now, we are even offering him a top-grade beauty? F*ck! On what grounds?!"

Jordan was in a dilemma. He also did not want to offer a nice girl like Emily to some foreign stranger. However, since Emily had voiced this request and this man was the one she liked, what reason did Jordan have to reject her?

At this moment, Salvatore suddenly stopped the car by the roadside. "Dragon, Tim, come out for a moment!"

Salvatore got out of the car and took the car keys with him. After Dragon and Tim alighted, Salvatore suddenly pressed the lock button!

The car was locked. Jordan and Emily were trapped inside!

Dragon immediately became alert and scolded, "Salvatore, are you trying to rebel? What do you mean by locking your master in the car?"

Tim instantly understood why Salvatore was doing this. He explained, "Dragon, please calm down. Salvatore is doing this to create an opportunity for Mr. Jordan and Ms. Emily." Salvatore said, "That's right! In short, I will never give Emily to that South Korean!"

Dragon shouted angrily, "How can you go against Master's wishes? Drive Emily to the hotel immediately and carry out Master's instructions. Otherwise, don't blame me for attacking you!"

Salvatore knew that he was definitely no match for Dragon!

But he was also very grateful to Dragon for teaching September a lesson earlier.

Looking around, Salvatore realized that there was a small river nearby. He had an idea and immediately ran towards the river! "You overestimate yourself!"

Dragon shook his head in disdain. In a race, he could defeat Salvatore with just one leg.

As expected, Dragon caught up with Salvatore in just two steps and kicked him to the ground. However, he didn't expect Salvatore to throw the car keys into the distance.

Splash!

The car keys were thrown into the river.

On such a dark night, it was impossible to find those keys.

"How dare you! I don't know why Master kept you with him for so long!" Dragon berated Salvatore.

They were both Jordan's subordinates, but Dragon had undergone the Steeles' strict training for many years. The most important thing was loyalty. He was completely loyal to Jordan and could not go against any of his requests.

As for Salvatore, he originally belonged to Pablo Dalton. He was loyal to Jordan, but his loyalty could not be compared to Dragon's. Picking up his cell phone, Dragon called Jordan. "Master, Salvatore threw the car keys into the river. Do you want me to smash open the front window and save you guys?"

"No!"

It was a woman's voice on the other end!

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 517

Chapter 517 Having Emily!

Since Jordan and Emily were the only ones in the car, Emily was the only female there.

So it was obviously Emily who answered the phone!

Meanwhile, in the car. "Emily..." Jordan was surprised as well. He did not expect Emily to reject Dragon so vehemently. Jordan asked, "Don't you want to find Ji Chang-wook?"

Looking at him dazedly, Emily only murmured, "No, I just want to be with you now..."

With that, Emily kissed Jordan...

An hour later...

Jordan called Dragon. "Break the window." Dragon immediately smashed the front window and Jordan got out of the car.

Jordan was covered in sweat. The windows were closed in the car, and the key had been removed. He could not turn on the air conditioner and he was burning up.

But something else was burning up his heart.

He never expected that he would become Emily's first man...

As a flight attendant, Emily had an outgoing personality and she knew many friends of the opposite sex. Jordan thought that she had already had a man.

It seemed Victoria, as her older sister, had taught her well. Perhaps Emily had been in relationships before, but she wouldn't sleep with men so easily.

But how was Jordan going to face Victoria now?

“Sigh, I finally got a chance to find Victoria’s whereabouts and see her, but I ended up sleeping with her sister! I already don’t know how to explain about Lauren to Victoria, and now...”

Jordan was filled with sorrow.

Of course, the sorrow was mostly due to guilt. Any man would be very happy to have had a top-notch air stewardess like Emily.

Jordan was a normal man. He could not say that he had never had feelings for Emily.

Dragon noticed Jordan’s complicated emotions and walked forward. “Master, Salvatore went against your wishes and locked you in the car.”

“I don’t think you can keep such a subordinate.”

Tim hurried over to plead for Salvatore. “Mr. Jordan, Salvatore did that for your own good. He will never do anything to hurt you. Mr. Jordan, please forgive him.”

Meanwhile, Salvatore knelt on the ground with a smile. “Mr. Jordan, I was wrong. Please punish me! However, I don’t regret my actions! I can’t let Ms. Emily give her first time to that South Korean!”

Jordan kicked Salvatore and shouted angrily, “Even if you want to force me and Emily to be together, at least leave the key behind. There was no air conditioner in the car. Do you want me to die from the heat?!”

Initially, Tim was worried that Jordan would punish Salvatore severely. However, he smiled when he heard that.

Indeed, Jordan did not intend to punish Salvatore severely or fire him.

Salvatore was a loyal and hardworking person. Jordan also knew that he would always have Emily’s back. Although Salvatore liked Emily, Jordan had warned him that he was just a subordinate. He was not allowed to have any improper thoughts about her.

As a result, Jordan could understand Salvatore’s actions.

Salvatore was kicked to the ground, but he still had a smile on his face. He got up again and said with a goofy smile, “I’m sorry, Mr. Jordan. I was careless. The next time this happens, I’ll definitely turn on the air conditioner for you before leaving!”

Bang!

Jordan kicked him again. “Next time? We’ll be seeing Victoria soon. I can spare you but if Victoria doesn’t, don’t come begging me!”

Dragon asked, "Master, do you know the whereabouts of Ms. Victoria and Mr. Jamie?"

Jordan nodded. "I asked Emily earlier. She said that Jamie and Victoria are on Deadman's Island."

Tim looked confused. "What kind of place is Deadman's Island? It sounds pretty scary."

Salvatore's expression changed as well. "I heard from Mr. Pablo that that place is akin to a barren wasteland. The most common thing there is corpses!"

However, Dragon's expression remained unchanged. "I've been there before. Master, should we leave immediately? Or... wait a little longer?"

As Dragon spoke, he glanced at the Buick GL8.

Emily was still in the car. Salvatore hurriedly said, "There's no hurry to go to Deadman's Island. Let Mr. Jordan and Ms. Emily go at it a few more times. We can wait!"

"Wait my ass!" Jordan rolled his eyes at Salvatore. "I gave Emily more medicine. She's much better now. Let's set off immediately to Deadman's Island!"

Dragon, Salvatore and Tim answered in unison, "Yes!"

Soon, Zephyr Three took off in stealth mode and flew towards the Atlantic Ocean.

Jordan sat in the luxurious seat on the plane with a map in his hand. He was currently strategizing the battle plan with Dragon.

Suddenly, a gentle and professional voice was heard.

"Sir, would you like some tea or coffee?"

Jordan looked up. It was Emily. Moreover, she was wearing a flight attendant's uniform!

It had to be said that Emily's charm increased by at least 10 points when she was in this flight attendant mode.

Jordan looked at her slender legs. He still could not believe that he had her earlier. She had been a flight stewardess for the past two years and served countless guests. Thousands of male passengers had hankered after her.

In the end, Jordan was the one who had taken her...

"Emily, where... Where did you get this uniform from?" Jordan was a little embarrassed to look at her.

Even after their little incident, Emily remained very magnanimous. She did not avoid Jordan but instead took on the role of an air stewardess to serve him.

Emily smiled. "Salvatore prepared it for me!"

"Salvatore, that b*stard..."

Jordan knew that Salvatore had an ulterior motive when he was collecting air stewardess uniforms from all over the world!

Seeing that Jordan was being distant, Emily walked over and hugged his arm. She said, "Jordan, let's forget what happened earlier! Let's pretend it never happened. I won't tell my sister, so don't worry!"

"Dragon, you won't betray Jordan, right?"

Dragon nodded. "Of course."

Salvatore and Tim also walked over. "We will definitely keep this a secret for Mr. Jordan!"

Jordan nodded. "Let's keep it a secret for now. I'll find a chance to tell Victoria when we get back together in the future. Oh yes, Emily. You've been to Deadman's Island before. Do you know Jamie and Victoria's exact location? Also, how many men does Jamie have on the island?"

Emily replied, "Jamie also has a plane like yours. He has about 100-200 men and every single one of them is so handsome! As for their exact location, I have some vague ideas, but I can't say for sure. When I was on that island, I couldn't even tell which direction was north, south, east or west." Jordan asked, "Where did you guys live on Deadman's Island?"

Emily said, "A villa. A garden villa. It's so beautiful. There are trees, flowers, a swimming pool and little rabbits!"

Everyone was stunned. Wasn't Deadman's Island barren?

How could there be a villa?

...And little rabbits?

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 518

Chapter 518 Jamie Is A Good Person?

As Emily was very close to Jordan, she did not intend to avoid him. This made Jordan feel awkward because he would recall the scenes in the car from time to time.

A young lady like Emily, who had just become a woman, was actually more open-minded than Jordan, who had been married twice.

Emily said, "Jordan, don't make it seem like you're going to war with Jamie. He treats me and my sister very well. He's a good person! There must be some misunderstanding between you two. Sit down and have a good chat with him. I'm sure things will definitely be resolved!"

Jordan guessed that Emily must know something after being with Jamie for so long. He asked, "He treated you girls very well? But he took Victoria away from me without a single word."

"Yes, Jamie really treats us very well. He saved my father, and I was with my father during that period of time. I never thought that I would be able to spend time with him again in this life. I'm really grateful to Jamie!" Emily reiterated.

Jordan was stunned. "What? You're saying that your father, Norman, is on the island too?"

"Yes, yes." Emily nodded vigorously. "No wonder he was able to lure Victoria away without any resistance."

On the day Victoria went missing, there were no signs of any scuffle. With Victoria's skills, even if she was no match for Jamie, she would have put up a decent fight.

Jordan did not understand. "Why didn't he tell me that he saved Norman? I would definitely support him. Victoria is my girlfriend, so I wouldn't tell the family about this. Also, why hasn't Victoria contacted me?"

Jamie had always been a rebel. Now that he had secretly brought Norman out, he had violated the family's rules again. Although Jordan was obedient to his grandfather, he would definitely be selfish when it came to his girlfriend. He would not expose Jamie.

Emily replied, "Because they want you to marry the eldest daughter of the Howard family."

Jordan was stunned. "They wanted me to marry Lauren? Why?"

Emily shook her head. "I don't know the exact reason. When we reach the island, you can ask your brother yourself."

Jordan thought about it carefully. He had no idea what Jamie was up to. He had arranged for Lauren to be with him four years ago, and now, he was bent on breaking up Jordan and Victoria, and marrying her himself.

Why did he have to marry Lauren?

At the mention of Lauren, Jordan found that he did miss her a little, especially when he recalled what happened at the amusement park in the suburbs of Houston. Those killers who were sent there.

If those killers were really his brother's men...

Jordan felt worried for Lauren!

"Excuse me."

Jordan walked to a private room and called Lauren.

Perhaps there were still some civilian planes today that didn't allow people to make phone calls during flight, but such a backward concept didn't exist on Zephyr Three.

"Hello, Honey."

Lauren immediately picked up the call. Her voice was still as pleasant as ever.

"Honey, are you alright?" Jordan asked.

Lauren replied, "Yes, I was playing with Chloe and just returned to my room. How are you? Have you found Victoria?"

Jordan said, "I'm on my way to find her now. I'll probably see her soon."

There was a pause before Lauren continued, "I wish you success, Hubby."

Jordan asked, "Honey, are you used to living in the castle? Did anything unpleasant happen? How is Jesse treating you?"

Lauren reassured Jordan. "Jesse treats me very well. He asked me to choose another 10 of his businesses and introduced me to many people. He told me a lot about your family. Hubby, your big brother is really good! I've never seen such a good elder brother."

Jordan said, "That's good. Stay in the castle. If you want to go back, get Butler Frank to send you back."

Lauren agreed. "Okay." Jordan added. "Oh yes, is Hailey still in the castle?"

Lauren replied, "Yes, she's still a maid here. However, she has hired many foreign language teachers and is learning English, French, Korean, and Italian every day. Hubby, I think she's still fantasizing about being your wife."

Jordan snorted. "She's gotta be dreaming. Let her be. I need to leave now, call me if there's anything."

In England.

Just as Lauren hung up the phone, Hailey knocked on the door and walked in.

"Mrs. Jordan." Hailey walked in respectfully.

Lauren glanced at her and asked, "What is it?"

Hailey reported, "There are guests at the castle. Mr. Jesse wants you to go down and meet them."

"Oh, okay. Tell Jesse that I'll go down after I change," Lauren said. Hailey wasn't in a hurry to leave. Instead, she asked, "Um... has Jordan called recently?"

Lauren didn't try to hide it. "Yes, he just called and said that he's about to see Victoria."

Hailey asked curiously, "Aren't you worried? What if he sees Victoria and gets together with her and doesn't want you anymore? Or what if Victoria asks him to divorce you? Aren't you worried?"

Lauren smiled. "I only know that if Victoria wanted to snatch Jordan from me, I would never have gotten the chance to marry Jordan. I've always felt that Victoria played a part in helping me marry Jordan."

Hailey was shocked. "What? She helped you? I think you're mistaken. Victoria is a slutty fox. She was a "CEO-killer" back in Orlando. She flirted with many CEOs and made their wives grit their teeth in hatred. Do you know what she's best at? Destroying other people's families. How could she have wanted to help you?!"

Lauren shook her head in exasperation. It looked like Hailey did not know Victoria at all. If Victoria was really that kind of woman, why would Jordan spend so much effort to find her?

"You can leave," Lauren said in a cold voice.

Hailey snorted and turned to leave.

Lauren changed into a more appropriate outfit and went to the living room to meet the guests.

At that moment, Jesse was chatting with a middle-aged man. The middle-aged man was sitting on the sofa, smoking a cigar. He looked very imposing Beside him was a young woman in her 30s.

Lauren approached them and Jesse quickly introduced her, "Uncle Hutton, this is Jordan's new wife. Lauren, this Hutton James, he has been a good friend of the Steele family for decades."

Lauren walked over politely and greeted, "Hello, Mr. James."

Hutton remained in his seat. He did not get up. He glanced at Lauren. "Just call me Uncle Hutton. Jordan has good taste. You are very beautiful."

Hutton puffed without restraint in the living room, and his sitting posture was very domineering.

Most of the previous guests whom Lauren had seen were very respectful and careful. No one behaved in such a casual manner like Hutton.

It looked like Hutton was also an important figure on the same level as the Steeles!

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 519

Chapter 519 Jesse Wants To Cure Lauren!

Lauren straightened her posture and smiled.

"Thank you for your praise, Uncle Hutton."

Hutton just waved his hand, which was holding an expensive cigar. "Hey, you don't have to thank me. I just say whatever's on my mind. I don't know how to be polite. I praised you for being beautiful because I think you're really beautiful. Moreover, with that little rascal Jamie around, I already knew that the wives of the three Steele brothers will definitely be gorgeous." Lauren didn't know how to respond to Hutton's words.

When Lauren was in the capital, she followed her family and saw many upper-class people. But she had never met someone like Hutton before.

Jesse smiled at Lauren. "Uncle is like that. No need to read too much into what he says."

Hutton looked at Lauren and continued, "I see that you don't look too well. You seem to be worried about something. Child, to live in this world, you need to enjoy the present. As they say, easy come easy go. Why are you worrying about things that haven't happened yet?"

Lauren was a little surprised. Hutton seemed to be able to read minds. It had been less than a minute since they met, but he could already see that something was on Lauren's mind.

And it had not happened yet.

At that moment, Lauren was indeed worried about what would happen after Jordan and Victoria reunited.

No woman who knew that her husband was going to meet his ex, would treat it as if nothing had happened.

Hutton laughed. "Do you think I'm very good at psychology? That I can read your mind? I'm not considered that good. I'll introduce you to the world's top psychiatrist, and also the world's top pharmacist. My daughter, Helen."

Only then did Lauren look at the woman beside Hutton.

"Hello, I'm Helen. Nice to meet you." Helen took the initiative to shake hands with Lauren.

Lauren returned her greeting. "Hello, I'm Lauren."

Helen had rather ordinary looks but exuded a very elegant aura.

Hutton looked at Lauren. "By the way, I heard that you have a very strange illness. You can only be touched by Jordan, and you can't have sex with other men. Is that true?"

Lauren didn't expect this guest to ask such a private question at their very first meeting. However, from the way he and Jesse interacted, Hutton must indeed be a very close friend of the family.

So Lauren answered frankly, "Yes."

Hutton laughed out loud. "That's why I said that among the three of you, Jordan is the luckiest! His wife has no choice but to be loyal to him and will never cheat on him. Hahaha... Lauren, all men want their wives to have your illness."

Beside him, Hutton's daughter said seriously, "Mrs. Jordan, I've studied all kinds of illnesses in the world. I'm very interested in your illness. If possible, I hope to cure you of this illness."

Cure?

Lauren was stunned for a moment. She had never thought of changing her current condition.

Hutton took a puff of his cigar and said with a wicked smile, "Helen, you're so insensible. Isn't it good to have such an illness? Jordan doesn't have to worry that his wife will cheat on him. He can rest easy when he's not around. If you cure her illness, Jordan might find you for revenge."

Helen said, "Mrs. Jordan I've heard about your situation. Hypnotherapy is a very dangerous thing. That doctor had no experience but treated you as a test subject. He nearly caused you lasting damage. For your mental and physical health, I strongly advise you to undergo treatment and return to being an ordinary woman."

Jesse added. "That's right, Lauren. You love Jordan so much. Even if you don't have this illness, even if you have the ability to do anything with another man, we all know that you won't betray him. It is still an illness after all. It will affect your mental and physical health."

Lauren didn't know how to react for a moment. Hutton and his daughter seemed to have come especially for her illness.

After thinking for a moment, Lauren said, "Ms. Helen, thank you for your kindness. My illness is very difficult to treat. My husband is already ingrained in my heart... My doctor has tried before but failed. I think you shouldn't waste your time."

Hutton smiled. "Child, you are comparing that mediocre doctor with my daughter. It is an insult to her. I have to tell you that you know nothing about the top medical professionals in this world!"

Helen also smiled. "Mrs. Jordan, your illness is really no obstacle to me."

Lauren was a little surprised. Were they that confident?

Doctor Matt was also considered one of the top doctors in the world.

Was he really that inferior to Helen?

Once again, Lauren thought for a moment and still rejected them. "I'm sorry. I think I'm in a good state now. Maybe you think I'm crazy, but I like it like this. I will only love Jordan in this life."

Seeing how determined Lauren was, Hutton didn't persist in trying to persuade her. He got up. "Why isn't Charleston home today? Did he go to the Queen's place for tea again? Helen, let's come back another day!"

Hutton was much younger than Charleston, but he still called him by his first name.

"Uncle, I'll see you off."

Jesse and Lauren sent them off together. When they returned to the castle, Jesse immediately turned to Lauren.

“Lauren, Helen is the world’s most talented pharmacist. Some of the Steele family’s life-saving medicines are personally concocted by her. To be able to receive treatment from her personally, I’m afraid that even the top figures in some countries in the world are not qualified. You shouldn’t forgo this opportunity!” Lauren asked, “Jesse, why do you want to cure my illness? You’re Jordan’s brother. Jordan’s ex-wife, Hailey, cheated on him before. You know that. If I am cured, aren’t you worried that I’ll cheat on him and hurt him?”

Jesse was rendered speechless by her question. He paused for a moment before answering, “Lauren, you’re a good girl. Of course I believe that you won’t do something like that! How could you bear to hurt Jordan? It’s more that I’m worried about your mental and physical health! What kind of stupid hypnotherapy did that scumbag doctor use to make you treat Jordan as the most perfect man in the world?

“The man you are in love with will only be perfect forever in your imagination. But the real man will grow old one day and deteriorate. What if Jordan becomes less outstanding one day...”

Lauren interrupted. “I believe that Jordan will be outstanding forever. He will be the most perfect man in my heart for the rest of his life!”

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 520

Chapter 520 Deadman’s Island!

Even Lauren didn’t realize that she might really be “ill”.

She usually respected Jesse a lot as he treated her very well. Lauren wouldn’t dare to talk back to him.

However, if Lauren’s husband was involved, no matter who it was, she would not allow anyone to insult her Jordan.

Seeing this, Jesse smiled. “Lauren, no wonder you don’t want to cure your illness. I guess it’s because of Victoria?”

Lauren was stunned. She didn’t expect Jesse to suddenly mention Victoria. “What does it have to do with Victoria?”

Jesse said, "I received news that Jordan has found Victoria's whereabouts. I believe they will meet soon. With their past relationship, they will definitely be together again. By then, Jordan will make a choice between you and Victoria.

"You're ill. You can't have sex with other men in this life, so Jordan will either dump Victoria or accept the two of you. No matter what, Jordan would never abandon you. Hehe, as expected of a Howard family woman. You are really smart and resourceful!"

Jesse was trying to incite Lauren.

As expected, Lauren fell for his instigation. She explained immediately, "I never thought of that! I... I want to compete fairly with Victoria. I can accept whoever Jordan chooses."

Jesse smiled. "Compete fairly? How can it be fair when you have this illness? You know that Jordan is soft-hearted and that he wouldn't leave you if he knew that you won't have a good life without him. Lauren, your actions are too despicable!"

Lauren stuttered. "I..."

She found herself rendered speechless! That's right. Lauren had this illness. With Jordan's upright good character, he would never abandon her in this way. Even if Jordan wanted to choose Victoria, he would not part with her because he would pity Lauren for her illness.

However, once Lauren was cured of this illness, she could be tempted by the outside world like an ordinary woman...

"Congratulations, Sister-in-law. You're now firmly sitting on the throne. I believe that no matter what happens between Jordan and Victoria, you will always be the daughter-in-law of the Steele family."

With that, Jesse sneered and walked away.

Jesse's words made Lauren feel very upset. She was from the capital and had her pride. She would never allow herself to be pitied by others.

"Alright, I agree to the treatment!" She suddenly burst out.

Jesse smiled. "Lauren, you have to think this through carefully. After you're cured, Jordan won't be the only man in the world who can attract you and make you fall head over heels for him. Don't accuse me of forcing you to treat your illness when Jordan comes back. As his elder brother, I will be seen as guilty of a heinous crime."

Only then did Lauren realize how despicable Jesse was. He was clearly the one who kept inciting her to treat her illness, but after she agreed to do so, he immediately turned around to claim that he had nothing to do with this matter.

Lauren said stubbornly, "I've thought it through. I want to compete fairly with Victoria. I can't let Jordan choose me just because he pities me. Jesse, please invite Uncle Hutton and his daughter back."

A sinister smile crossed Jesse's lips.

In the Atlantic Ocean, along a major European flight path to Canada.

Jordan's Zephyr Three was flying stealthily towards Deadman's Island.

Dragon said, "Master, we will reach Deadman's Island in three minutes."

Jordan nodded. They were finally here. He could finally meet Jamie and ask him the truth. Finally... he could see Victoria!

"Boss, there are many sunken ships in the sea! And there are signs of life!" Tim reported.

Zephyr Three had the most advanced technology. It could detect all living things nearby. Jordan said, "This is the 'Atlantic Ocean Graveyard'. Over the past few hundred years, countless ships have sunk here. However, most of them have already sunk to the bottom of the sea. Zephyr Three shouldn't be able to detect them. So... these sunken ships should be recent ones!"

Dragon's eyes lit up as he looked at the island. "Master, looks like someone came to look for Mr. Jamie before us."

Zephyr Three landed on Deadman's Island.

Judging by the many planes and corpses here, it meant that a battle had just occurred here!

Tim trembled in fear. "Mr. Jordan, can I not go down? There are so many dead people. I... I'm afraid."

Tim was different from Salvatore. Salvatore was originally a gangster who relied on fighting to survive. On the other hand, Tim was originally Victoria's driver. He was quite smart, but his combat strength was very weak.

Jordan said, "It's useless for you to follow me anyway. Just stay here and guard the plane." Tim hurriedly thanked him. "Thank you, Mr. Jordan!"

Jordan instructed, "The rest of you, follow me! Leave ten people behind to guard the plane." "Yes!"

Dragon, Salvatore and 200 of Dragon's men all alighted. As soon as Jordan stepped onto the beach of Deadman's Island and inhaled the air, he could not resist covering his nose.

The air here smelled very strange and unpleasant. Moreover, there were many corpses on the ground, and the smell of blood was very strong.

"It must be Phoenix." Dragon looked at the corpses on the ground.

Salvatore was also a little afraid. "Phoenix is really ruthless. Mr. Jordan, I wonder if he will be so cruel to us?"

Jordan stated firmly. "Would he dare?"

If Phoenix dared to offend Jordan, who was superior in status to him, there would probably be no place for him in this world!

Jordan added, "Although he won't dare to do anything to me, he'll definitely kill you guys. Salvatore, be careful."

Salvatore nodded vigorously.

"Emily, where's the villa?" Jordan asked.

Emily pointed at a high area. "On that mountain." Everyone approached cautiously. 10 minutes later, they arrived at the spot but found nothing "What villa? It's all deserted. There's not even a bird. Ms. Emily, did you remember wrongly?"

Salvatore looked around.

Emily scratched her head. "Eh, that's not right. The last time I came, the villa was here. I'm not lying!" Dragon said, "It might be a mobile villa. If so, they would have moved the villa elsewhere. That's not surprising. Let's continue our search."

"Wait!" Jordan suddenly stopped them.

"What's the matter?"

Jordan frowned. "We didn't see any of my brother's men along the way. Something's not right. Shit, we've fallen into a trap! Call Tim immediately!"

Jordan turned back as he spoke.

Salvatore called, but no one answered. "Mr. Jordan, Tim isn't answering. Did something happen?"

Jordan said, "Jamie wants to snatch my Zephyr Three. Everyone, we have to go back immediately!"
