

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 541

Chapter 541 You Are Not Worthy Of Me!

Park Anya said charmingly, "When we were choosing an interpreter and bodyguard on the battlefield, I took a liking to you at first glance. You're very good-looking. I didn't expect your abilities to be equally outstanding

"It's a pity that your background is too low. Perhaps you think that becoming a trillionaire in a few years is already a top-notch achievement. But let me tell you, you're still far from being top-notch! There are many things in this world that you don't know about. There are many secret families that you have no idea exist! They are the top in this world!

Jordan was stunned.

Secret family!

Park Anya actually knew about the Steeles!

No wonder she looked down on Jordan's current results. She had heard about the Steeles! Indeed, what was a mere 20 trillion won in the eyes of the Steele family?

Bang! Bang! Bang! Just then, someone knocked on the door.

Jordan was immediately alerted and picked up the gun.

"Honey, are you in there?"

A man's voice was heard from outside.

Park Anya said calmly, "It's my husband. Go open the door."

Jordan said, "Do you think I am crazy? Open the door and let your husband direct his men in to kill me? Put on your clothes immediately. Otherwise, I'll hold you hostage now!"

Park Anya said in exasperation, "I've already said that I've removed all the security forces outside this room. No one will touch you! Hehe, I didn't expect you to become so timid after four years."

"You..."

Jordan was furious. He did not want this woman to look down on him.

“Alright. Anyway, with the strength of your security guards, they can’t hurt me. If they dare to attack, don’t blame me for killing them!”

As Jordan spoke, he walked out of the bathroom and went to open the bedroom door.

Jordan opened the door carefully and realized that there was only Cheon Ji-hoon outside. There were no bodyguards.

Park Anya seemed to be telling the truth. She had really dismissed all the security personnel.

Jordan sized up the middle-aged man. He was a very ordinary man from South Korea. He had a medium build and average looks. He looked to be in his forties.

Cheon Ji-hoon smiled at Jordan. He did not show any hostility or anxiety as he asked, “Are you the new bodyguard? Is Madam inside?”

So Cheon Ji-hoon thought Jordan was his family’s bodyguard.

It seemed like these bodyguards usually protected Park Anya. Otherwise, as the employer, Cheon Ji-hoon should have recognized his personal bodyguards.

Seeing that there was no need to attack, Jordan went along with the act. “She’s in the bathroom.”

Cheon Ji-hoon didn’t say anything and walked over.

Jordan closed the door and followed him.

Seeing Cheon Ji-hoon enter, Park Anya asked indifferently, “Why are you here?” Her tone was rather cold, it was as if they were not husband and wife.

Jordan found it strange because he had stayed in South Korea for a year when he was young. He knew that in South Korea, the husband was always superior to the wife.

Many people had been misled by the feisty female leads of those Korean movies. Actually, women in South Korea did not have much status at home. Unlike most women in the modern western world who could berate and discipline their husbands after getting married.

In addition, with Cheon Ji-hoon’s social status, he was clearly on a higher level than Park Anya.

Logically speaking, when a husband like Cheon Ji-hoon returned home, Park Anya should have welcomed him at the door and taken the initiative to help him change into his home slippers.

Could it be that Park Anya had a powerful family background too?

Cheon Ji-hoon walked to her side and asked, "Honey, I heard that something happened to my daughter, so I rushed over. What happened to her?"

Park Anya glanced at Jordan before saying to Cheon Ji-hoon, "It's all fine. I just got a scare."

Cheon Ji-hoon nodded. "Oh, that's good." Park Anya asked, "Aren't you concerned about me?"

Cheon Ji-hoon glanced at Jordan who was standing outside and smiled. "You have bodyguards following you even when taking a shower. How could anything happen to you? Haha."

Park Anya looked unhappy. "I think you are only concerned about other women and don't have the time to care about me, right?"

Cheon Ji-hoon's expression turned ugly. "I've been busy the entire day. I'm going to take a rest first."

With that, he turned around and left.

Jordan bowed like a subordinate and watched him leave.

However, Park Anya suddenly asked Jordan, "Jordan, come here and scrub my back."

Jordan was stunned!

When Cheon Ji-hoon heard this, he immediately stopped in his tracks, his face turning red!

Park Anya actually asked for such a thing from her bodyguard right in front of her husband. She was clearly angry and trying to humiliate him!

Unexpectedly, Cheon Ji-hoon didn't say a word. He endured the humiliation and quickly left the room.

Jordan walked towards Park Anya, staring at her in disbelief. He had always felt that Hailey was a very bad woman, but she was not even a tenth as bad as Park Anya! While Hailey had affairs with Tyler and Cayden. But at the very least, she was discreet and tried to keep them from Jordan.

Meanwhile, Park Anya openly made such a request in front of her husband.

If Jordan was Park Anya's husband, he would probably be so angry that he would chop someone with a knife!

This woman was indeed terrifying!

Jordan said, "Your husband must think that there's something between us now. He will hate me to the core. Madam, you're not that kind of woman. Why did you do this?"

Although Jordan had not known Park Anya for long, he believed that he understood her well.

Four years ago, when she was on the verge of death, Park Anya had insisted that a lowly soldier was not worthy to be her lover.

Now, it was even more impossible for Park Anya to lower herself like this.

Jordan had never seen such high standards in his life. If Jordan was right, there were probably not many men in the world who could catch the eye of a woman like Park Anya.

Therefore, it was near-impossible for her to have an affair.

Park Anya smiled. "Oh? You can actually tell that I'm not that kind of woman?"

Park Anya had always wanted to show that she liked to play with men just as rich men liked to play with women. Unfortunately, she had failed.

Jordan said, "I'm not being narcissistic. I can definitely beat 99% of the men in your country. But you still don't like me. The other men don't stand a chance."

Park Anya smiled. "I like confident men. I'm becoming more and more interested in you. I'll give you a chance now. Tell me your story while you scrub my back. Tell me about what happened over the past few years."

Jordan sneered. "I'm sorry, you're not worthy!"

"What did you say?" Park Anya was instantly unhappy. There was a hint of surprise in her displeasure as if she was amazed that a man would reject her, to reject the opportunity to serve her.

"Sorry, I'm in a hurry. I have to go now. I don't have time to give you a massage. Also, you've felt that I'm not worthy of you since four years ago. Even now, you still think so. I swear that one day, I'll let you realize that you're the one not worthy of me, Jordan Steele!"

Chapter 542 One-On-One Fight With Jamie!

After leaving those departing words, Jordan exited the bathroom and jumped out of the window of the bedroom.

Park Anya had kept her word, she did not lie to Jordan. The security guards outside had all left. Jordan walked out of the house easily and left in a car.

Once Jordan had left, Park Anya continued soaking in the bathtub with an intrigued look on her face. She held her phone and continued to look at Jordan's photo as she muttered his name.

"Jordan... I didn't expect us to be so fated. Indeed it's not bad for a lowly soldier to become a top tycoon in just four years. Handsome boy, I hope you can continue to rise. One more level and you'll be qualified to be my lover. I really hope that you can be my man, hehe."

Park Anya smiled charmingly, a glass of red wine in her hand. She was indeed drop-dead gorgeous.

At Park Hyatt Hotel.

After returning to the hotel, Jordan asked Dragon to come back as well.

"Master, did you encounter any trouble in that house? I fought with Phoenix. He said that if you barge in, you might die there," Dragon asked with concern.

Salvatore was very anxious. "F*ck, so serious? If I had known, I would have gone in to protect Mr. Jordan!"

Jordan said, "That was Cheon Ji-hoon and Park Anya's house."

"Park Anya? Isn't that Madam? Mr. Jordan's ex-lover? F*ck, why did Mr. Jamie go there? Don't tell me he's having an affair with Madam?" Tim asked.

"That's possible. Hasn't Jamie always been passionate about collecting the best beauties in the world? Although Madam can't compare to Ms. Lauren, she's still a top-notch beauty. But didn't he say that he was going to fool around with an underaged girl? Why did he change to Madam?" asked Salvatore.

Jordan said, "Jamie was going to fool around with Madam's daughter."

Everyone was shocked. That Jamie was incorrigible. He really dared to do anything!

Jordan continued, "I've injected Jamie with a facial-paralysis drug. He'll come looking for me soon. We'll just wait for him at the hotel. It's getting late. Go back and rest."

“Yes!”

Jordan was alone in the presidential suite. He poured a glass of red wine and prepared to drink by himself.

All the while, he played a Korean song, Baek Ji-young's “Like Being Shot By a Bullet”.

Madam had introduced this song to Jordan four years ago while they were hiding in the valley. She had played this song on repeat with her cell phone.

Jordan had taken a bullet for Park Anya so he felt very emotional when he heard the song. He could empathize with the song.

At that time, as they listened to the melancholy music, Park Anya had asked Jordan, “If you die with me here today, will you feel regret?”

Jordan joked, “It’s better to die with a beauty like you than to die with a bunch of old men. What about you? If you die with a little soldier like me today, will you feel regret?”

Park Anya smiled and shook her head. “If God has arranged for me to die with you, then I’m very satisfied with God’s arrangement.”

Recalling how gentle Park Anya was when she said that, Jordan could not help smiling as he sipped his red wine.

He was actually very grateful to have the chance to meet this woman again today.

Knock-knock

A sudden knock on the door interrupted Jordan’s thoughts.

“Who is it?” Jordan asked.

A woman’s voice came from outside the room. “Hello, Mr. President. I have brought you some fruits.”

Jordan opened the door suspiciously and saw an exquisite-looking South Korean woman.

However, at this moment, a man’s figure suddenly appeared behind her!

Swoosh!

The man charged at Jordan and smacked him.

Jordan quickly dodged. It was Jamie!

“Hmph, I knew you would come looking for me!”

Jamie didn't waste time talking and continued attacking Jordan.

Thump! Smack! Thump! Smack!

The two of them exchanged dozens of moves, just like 10 years ago, when they were still sparring as children. However, Jordan came with a mission this time. He did not hold back against Jamie.

Jordan suddenly became even more aggressive. He attacked with all his strength, causing Jamie to retreat!

Five minutes later, Jamie finally couldn't hold on anymore. Panting heavily, he raised his hand and said, “Alright, you win. I won't fight anymore!”

Bang!

Although Jamie had raised the white flag, Jordan did not back down. Instead, he punched him in the face!

Jamie took a solid punch and was extremely unhappy. “F*ck! I already said I wasn't going to fight, but you still punched me! Do you want me to call Phoenix in?”

Jordan scoffed. “That punch was for Lauren! Jamie, four years ago, you abducted a good girl like Lauren and made me rape her! Do you know how deeply this affected and hurt her?! How could you do that?!”

Jordan had wanted to hit Jamie for a long time!

That incident was all Jamie's fault. And it had led to a whole string of events.

Jamie was unconvinced. “You heartless person. You enjoyed yourself with her but you're blaming me now? As your brother, what's wrong with me finding you a woman to help you vent your loneliness? 80% of women fantasize about being raped by tall, rich and handsome men. I showed her your photo long before I sent her to Syria.

“Before we flew over, she appeared quite excited. But on the way back, she kept crying. It's obvious that your performance just wasn't up to mark! Besides, I only arranged for the two of you to sleep together once. I didn't force you to have a child, right? It's your fault that Lauren gave birth to Chloe. Speaking of which, what were you thinking back then? I've always been curious about this.

“Weren’t you worried that the woman in the dark room is an ugly freak? What if you impregnated an ugly freak who then gave birth to your child? Won’t you have a mental breakdown for the rest of your life?”

Jordan was speechless. He could not see Lauren’s face clearly back then!

However, at that time, he treated Lauren as Park Anya. That was why... Chloe was born.

n.

Bang!

Exasperated, Jordan threw another punch at Jamie’s face.

Jamie was furious. “Jordan, are you insane?! Are you done?!”

Jordan said, “That punch was for Hailey! I heard from Grandpa that you chose Hailey to be my wife. Did you already know what the Camden family was like? And that she would cheat on me? Is that why you chose her to humiliate me?!”

Jamie shook his head helplessly. “You heartless guy. When I first saw Hailey, I was so elated that I was about to explode! I desperately wished that I could throw this woman onto a bed. I deliberately reserved this supreme-grade woman for you. But you let some heir from a second-rate family take her virginity. If I had known that would happen, I would have bedded that little demoness for

Bang!

Jamie returned Jordan’s punch. “For Hailey, I should be the one punching you!”

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 543

Chapter 543 The Steele Family Secret!

Jordan and Jamie exchanged punches. Neither of them dodged. If a fight could resolve the conflict between them, Jordan would be happy to fight Jamie.

“Alright, how do you explain Lauren and Dr. Gale then? Why did you create false evidence to make me misunderstand Lauren and Dr. Gale’s relationship? You made me think that something happened between them. You clearly know that Hailey’s past transgressions affected me deeply, yet you still want me to suffer such pain! Are brothers supposed to be like this?!”

Jamie was dumbfounded. "When did I create false evidence against Lauren and Dr. Gale?"

Jordan said, "There was a cigarette with your name written on it at Dr. Gale's house. Do you still want to deny it?"

As Jamie took out a box of cigarettes from his pocket, a smile was on his face. He threw it to Jordan

"Writing my name on my cigarettes was something I loved to do when I was young. Look now, which one of my cigarettes has my name?"

Jordan looked at Jamie's cigarettes. Indeed, there was nothing written on them. Based on Jamie's habits, he would write his name on every single cigarette in the box in advance.

"Not you? Could it be Jesse?" Jordan suddenly said.

It was Jesse who had told him about Lauren and Dr. Gale.

Jamie said, "Of course it's him! I tried my best to matchmake you and Lauren. How could I do anything to affect your relationship with her? On the other hand, Jesse doesn't want you to have the Howard family backing you!

"Jordan, do you know why I arranged for Lauren to be with you back then? It's not because she's beautiful, but because she's Martin's granddaughter and a member of the Howard family! I wanted you to become the son-in-law of the Howard family. This way, when Jesse makes his move on you one day, at least you won't die. At the very least, there will be someone to protect you in the US!"

Jordan was surprised. "Jesse wants to move in on me? Why are you so sure?"

Jamie closed the door and snatched his cigarette box back from Jordan. He lit one and said.

"You should know the reason why our family dared to send us to the battlefield to train. Our family bribed both sides of the conflict. In other words, no matter what happens on the battlefield, the moment we take out the Steele family pendant to prove our identity, we won't die."

Jordan nodded. This was also why he was different from the other soldiers.

The battlefield was a ruthless place and anyone could die at any time. The Steele family would not let their descendants be in such danger.

Jamie continued. "I heard that the enemy team in your camp didn't receive any information about the Steele family. They didn't know that they are not supposed to kill anyone with the pendant. You should remember that Grandpa arranged for Jesse to inform the enemy team!"

Jordan was shocked. He remembered that.

Initially, Jordan's grandfather had arranged for Jordan's father to do it. However, Jesse said that he had finished his training on the battlefield less than two years ago and was more familiar with the place. Therefore, he volunteered to do it himself.

He never expected Jesse not to act as instructed!

This was a serious matter. It was equivalent to taking a plane without a parachute. If anything happened, he could only wait for death. There was no chance of survival!

Jamie said, "I could tell at that time that Jesse wanted you dead. He wanted you to die on the battlefield and never return! I had to go tell Father so that he could personally settle it."

Jordan clenched his fists. "Why... why did Jesse do that?! Our family's assets are enough for everyone to have a good share. He has always been very generous when it comes to money. Why am I a threat?"

Jamie smiled. "He wouldn't kill us just because of money. What he really wants is to monopolize our family's secret!"

The Steele family secret again!

Jordan could not wait to know the Steele family's secret!

Grabbing Jamie's collar, Jordan was adamant. "Fly back to England with me immediately. The moment I hand you over to Grandpa and complete my final mission, Grandpa will tell me the family's secret!"

Jamie shook Jordan off. "F*ck, I don't want to go back. When I go back, Grandpa will definitely make me go through the battle experience. What if Jesse plays some trick and gets me killed on the battlefield?"

No wonder Jamie refused to accept the family's battle experience. He was worried that Jesse would harm him!

Jamie continued, "Why go through so much trouble just to know the family secret? Why do you need to go back to England to ask Grandpa? Can't you just ask me?"

Jordan frowned. "How did you know the family secret? Who told you?"

Jordan was very curious. According to the family rules, descendants who had not completed all the trials were not qualified to know the family secret. Jamie had never participated in the battlefield training. Logically speaking, he didn't have the right to know.

Jamie took a puff and smiled. "Grandpa told me."

Jordan said immediately, "That's impossible! Grandpa set this rule. How could he tell you in advance?"

Everyone knew that Jordan had always been the most favored among the three children. Charleston wouldn't even tell Jordan, so why would he tell the troublemaker Jamie in advance?

Jamie said, "One night, I gave Grandpa a cup of coffee with a newly developed truth serum inside. He revealed the secret to me then, hehe."

Jordan was shocked!

"What... what did you say? You drugged Grandpa! Are you even human?!"

Jordan never expected Jamie to be so audacious!

Charleston was the head of the family and his word was law!

Jamie smiled. "I would never harm Grandpa. I just wanted to know the family's secret in advance. Why go through so much trouble if we can take the shortcut? Grandpa taught us this. Have you forgotten?"

Jordan kept shaking his head. Jamie's actions were challenging his moral viewpoint. He recalled the two variety shows he had watched with Hailey: Running Man and Limit Challenge.

The same locked box.

The contestants on "Running Man" would obediently follow the program's requirements and find the key to open the box.

But the participants of "Limit Challenge" would just smash the lock with a hammer.

Jamie was clearly more suited to playing the "Limit Challenge"!

F*ck, this was too unreasonable!

How could he drug their grandfather and forced the truth out of him!

“Why didn’t I think of that...”

Jordan actually felt a little regret for playing by the rules... He looked at Jamie again.

“Jamie, tell me now. What is the family secret?!”

Jordan really wanted to know!

What kind of secret would cause Jesse, who had always been close to Jordan, to harm him for fear that he would become a threat?

What kind of secret would make Norman hide his identity and fake his death, such that he couldn’t even reunite with his family?

Stubbing out his cigarette, Jamie considered for a moment before nodding.

“Alright, I’ll tell you the family secret!”

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 544

Chapter 544 The World’s Eight Secret Families!!

Like that, Jamie went straight to the point. He told Jordan the world’s top secret!

Jamie said, “Actually, the Steeles aren’t the only secret family in this world. There are a total of eight secret families in the world! The Steeles in the US, the Park family in South Korea, the Miyamoto family in Japan, and the Rong and Geng families in China. The Addington family in England, the Haus family in Germany, and the Schmid family in Switzerland!”

Jordan was stunned. So, there were eight secret families on the same level as the Steeles!

Jordan said, “The Rothschild and Rockefeller families aren’t considered secret families?”

Families like the Rothschild family and the Rockefeller family did exist, as many people on the internet called them.

Jamie smiled. “Those families are also low-key and secretive. However, they can’t be compared to the eight great families! Other families only have hidden wealth. Do you know what our eight families are hiding? Medicine, technology, military power, unfound internet capabilities... it is a world that ordinary people have never even heard of!”

Jordan asked, "Are you saying that the eight major families have more advanced technology than the public markets?"

Actually, Jordan had always suspected this.

For example, the automated music system at the Steele Castle in England. Whenever someone started singing, the system would immediately play the appropriate accompaniment music.

This technology was too awesome. It was impossible to achieve in the current market. Moreover, the drugs in Jordan's medicine box were clearly of a higher grade than the drugs on the market.

When Jordan was blinded by Cayden, the doctors in Houston were helpless. But Jordan was fine after taking one of his own drugs. It was obvious that the Steele family's medicine was not available even in the top hospitals.

Jamie said, "Right now, the best offered on the market is considered the lowest level in the eyes of the eight great families! Norman was one of the top engineers in the US back then, but compared to our family's programmer, his standard is just that of a primary school student! However, our family saw that he had potential, so we asked him to work for us.

"As someone obsessed with technology, he was attracted by our high-end technology and immediately agreed to abandon his wife and daughter. He hid his identity and worked for the Steeles wholeheartedly."

Realization dawned upon Jordan. He finally understood the truth behind Norman's fake death back then.

It turned out that the Steeles had taken a liking and seen opportunity in Norman's talent.

Meanwhile, Norman also admired the Steeles' advanced technology. He was like a person who had just developed a Contra video game and then suddenly discovered the high-level Call of Duty franchise.

The impact was too great for someone obsessed with technology. Norman had no reason to reject it.

Jordan asked, "How skilled are our eight families in all aspects?"

Jamie suddenly took out something the size of a piece of chocolate from his pocket and threw it to Jordan.

"What's the most popular phone on the market now?"

Jordan answered, "iPhone 12?"

Jamie pointed at the item in Jordan's hand. "You're holding an iPhone 18."

Jordan was shocked. "What? 18?!"

Jordan could not believe it. He examined it carefully but did not know how to turn it on. Moreover, it was very small. Although it was convenient to carry, the screen was too small. It would not be comfortable reading off such a small screen, right?

Just as Jordan was feeling doubtful, he suddenly realized that the phone size could be adjusted! Jordan slowly opened it to the size of a normal phone.

Generally speaking, it was similar to those phones which could be folded. But those phones would have a crease across the screen.

However, the screen of this phone had no creases at all. The screen was very smooth and it was impossible to tell that it could be folded!

"This is unbelievable!"

Jordan was full of praise.

Jamie smiled. "You haven't discovered the true power of this phone. Open the photo album and take a look."

Jordan clicked on the photo album. There were many photos inside. They were all beautiful women. Moreover, many of them were naked...

Jamie said, "Looking at those photos like this isn't satisfying enough, right? You can pull them all out!"

"Pull them out?" Jordan was confused.

Jamie pointed his right index finger at a photo on his phone. With a gentle flick, he sent it into the air.

A magical scene appeared!

The photo was floating in the air! And it was extremely clear!

"Oh my god! This is too sci-fi... is this hologram technology?!"

Jordan was shocked as he looked at the photo of the beautiful woman. This way, it would be much easier to watch videos on your phone. You could cast your phone screen anywhere you wanted. There would be no market for televisions in the future!

Jamie said proudly, "You can zoom in on this photo or swipe left and right to see other photos."

Jordan touched the photo in the air in disbelief. Indeed, the photo could be enlarged and shrunk! He gently swiped the photo in the air, switching to the next photo.

It was a video file. Jordan played it.

The background of the video looked very familiar. Jordan had just been there. It was Park Anya's daughter's room.

Needless to say, she was the main focus of the video.

The video was a little unbearable to watch.

Jordan felt awkward when he heard the little girl's voice. He could not bear to see her like this, so he quickly stopped the video.

Jamie smiled. "What's wrong? Aren't you going to continue admiring her?"

Jordan snapped angrily, "You are shameless!"

"The girl is not a virgin!" Jamie retorted. "Besides, she's such a top-notch girl. Even if I don't have her, someone else will."

Jordan was exasperated but he did not want to argue with Jamie about that. He continued to swipe.

This time, Jordan was incensed as it was Emily's private photo!

It was a selfie in front of a mirror. Emily was wearing a strapless dress, which was extremely revealing. She might as well have been naked!

Jealousy surged in Jordan's heart. He lunged at Jamie. "You b*stard! Delete Emily's photo immediately!"

"Cough, cough..."

Jamie was choking from Jordan's grasp. "Alright, alright, I'll delete it now. What's wrong with you? Emily isn't your wife, she's just your sister-in-law. Why are you so agitated? It's not as if I have your wife's private photos!"

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 545

Chapter 545 Madam Is From A Secret Family!

Jordan didn't want to explain to Jamie that he had slept with Emily. That was why she could be considered his woman now. Although Jordan would not be with her, Emily liked him. Jordan did not want a bad guy like Jamie to ogle at her private photos.

"I'm warning you. You're not allowed to have any ideas about Emily! There are so many other women out there for you to fool with. Emily is family!"

With a resigned sigh, Jamie deleted Emily's photo and said, "Alright, alright, I understand. Can we talk business first? Do you still want to hear about the family secret or not?"

Jordan finally stopped grumbling and asked, "Does the Apple company own the iPhone 18? Did the eight families collaborate with Apple?"

Jamie smiled. "Collaborate? Apple and Steve Jobs were already pushed out by the eight families! Actually, smartphones were developed by the eight families. It took many years before they allowed Jobs to release the iPhone 4 and change the world. As for the current 5G technology, we actually already developed it a few years ago.

"And it's not just technology. The same goes for medicine. For terminal illnesses like cancer and HIV, there's no hospital in the world now that can treat them. Patients can only wait for death. But we can treat those illnesses!"

Jordan was stunned. "What? You're saying that the eight families have figured out how to cure cancer?"

Jamie nodded. "Of course. There are many other areas. The eight families have all achieved what the current top figures in the world can't even imagine!"

Jordan was very curious. "Why? Why are the eight families so powerful? Also, why are we keeping these techniques and not releasing them to the world? And what's the relationship between the eight families? Why these eight families in particular?"

Jamie said, "I didn't ask Grandpa that much. I'm bold but not that meticulous. I guess I should have brought you along when I drugged Grandpa."

Jordan: "..."

'If I knew that you were going to drug Grandpa, I would never have agreed to it!!'

Jordan suddenly asked, "Did you say that the secret family in South Korea is called Park?"

Suddenly, Jordan recalled that Madam's surname was Park. He wondered if she had anything to do with this family...

Jamie replied, "That's right. The current head is called Park Sang-jun. He's not old, but he has two sons and a daughter. Oh, right. You've probably seen his daughter already. It was her house we went to earlier."

Jordan panicked. "Are you trying to say that Park Anya is Park Sang-jun's daughter?"

Jamie was surprised. "Yo, you even know her name? Looks like you had a good chat with her just now. That's right. It's that detestable woman, Park Anya. She's from the secret Park family. Hehe, how is it? I am awesome, right? Screwing her daughter. She's not from an ordinary family. She's from a secret family that's on par with us."

Jordan was in a daze.

"Madam... she also comes from a secret family..."

At that moment, Jordan finally understood why Park Anya said that he was not worthy of her despite being worth 20 trillion won!

Of course not! She came from a secret family!

20 trillion won was only USD 16 billion. To her, it was considered small change!

Jamie saw that something was wrong with Jordan. "Jordan, you called that vicious woman 'Madam'? Don't tell me you know her?"

Jordan nodded blankly. "I went to the battlefield to train four years ago. She came to the battlefield and I was her bodyguard."

Like Jordan, Jamie was well-versed in psychology and micro-expressions. He could tell at a glance that Jordan had not just been a mere bodyguard to Park Anya.

Something else must have happened!

Jamie said seriously, "Jordan, I know that woman is very charming, but I have to warn you not to like her. Don't provoke her. She's not someone you can control! Even I don't dare to chase after her. She's from a secret family like us. The Park family is on par with us. You can't even handle Hailey. You definitely can't go after a woman like her."

Jordan was very unhappy. He hated being looked down upon! Although Jordan had no intention of pursuing her, why was Jamie so sure that he couldn't?!

Park Anya was a descendant of a secret family, but so was Jordan!

Jordan suddenly thought of something. He asked, "Jamie, do you know who the father of Park Anya's daughter is? Is it Cheon Ji-hoon?"

Jamie thought for a moment before saying, "Her daughter's name is Park Sora, she follows her mother's surname. But anyway, Cheon Ji-hoon and Park Anya have been married for many years. So she should be Cheon Ji-hoon's daughter, right?"

Jamie wasn't too sure.

Meanwhile, Jordan felt that this point was worth pondering over. At Park Anya's house earlier, he had witnessed how humble Cheon Ji-hoon behaved in front of his wife.

It was clear that Park Anya looked down on her husband! If she didn't like him now, how could she have liked him 15 years ago?

With Park Anya's high standards and the fact that he was not an outstanding man, she would never willingly bear his children!

Moreover, Park Sora was so beautiful.

Cheon Ji-hoon was just average-looking. He didn't look like someone who could have such a beautiful biological daughter. Based on that alone, Jordan guessed that someone else must be Park Sora's father!

"Who could make Madam willing to bear a daughter for him?!"

Inexplicably, Jordan suddenly felt jealous of that man. That was because he had completely defeated Jordan in this aspect.

Park Anya said that Jordan was not worthy to be her lover, but this man managed to convince her to bear his child. Jordan did not think that there was a man more outstanding than him in this world!

At this moment, Jamie suddenly said, "Alright, I've told you the family secret. If there's nothing else, I'm leaving!"

"Hey." Jordan grabbed Jamie. "Don't you want the antidote?"

Jordan didn't want to let Jamie leave. Although he had already told him the family secret, he still had to bring him back and hand him to his grandfather! After all, he had to complete the mission and gain his grandfather's approval.

So what if he now knew the family secret? He still needed his grandfather's approval to access the family's advanced technologies!

Jamie smiled. "The antidote to your facial paralysis drug? I've already dealt with it. I even have an iPhone 18. How could I not neutralize your low-end poison?"

Still, Jordan refused to let go of Jamie. "Jamie, can you have some wine with me? There's something I'm afraid only you can help me with in this world!"

The words left Jamie surprised and he halted his steps. "What is it?"

"How can I win Park Anya's heart?!"

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 546

Chapter 546 Jordan, You Win!

Actually, Jordan would never pursue Park Anya.

Madam was indeed a great regret in his life, but he already had Lauren and Victoria. Madam was also married. Jordan only hoped that one day, she would no longer look down on him. He never thought of snatching her from Cheon Ji-hoon.

He was just finding an excuse to make Jamie stay.

Jamie had always claimed to be an expert in romance. His family had endless money and he was handsome. As a result, he had enjoyed countless beauties across the world. There was no doubt that Jamie was the absolute expert when it came to romance.

Therefore, Jordan pretended to consult him.

Jamie joked, "You brat, you are my younger brother, but now, you want to be my father-in-law?"

Hadn't Jamie just slept with Park Anya's daughter? Now, Jordan wanted to woo Park Anya. Things could indeed get a little messy.

Jamie patted Jordan's shoulder. "Haha, I was just joking. Looks like you're really interested in that Black Widow. Sigh, my innocent little brother. Alright, I'll help you."

The two of them sat down and filled their wine glasses. They drank as they chatted.

Jamie was an absolute expert when it came to conquering women. He immediately started talking non-stop. To be honest, Jordan did end up learning quite a number of good tips from Jamie. By 2 AM, the two of them had polished off a few bottles of red wine.

Jamie said, "Alright, I've said all that I can say. It's getting late. I have to go." However, Jordan grabbed him. "Hey, don't go. Have some more."

Jamie smiled. "Do you think I can't tell you are just pretending to want to learn how to pick up girls from me? You want to get me drunk and force me to stay, right? You kept sending messages on your phone earlier. You must be messaging Dragon and the rest of your guys to get ready to capture me, right? Hehe, I'll be honest with you. If I had wanted to leave, you would never be able to stop me."

Jamie had seen through Jordan's ploy. Nevertheless, Jordan remained calm. He took a sip from his wine glass and said, "I know."

"It's good that you know. Goodbye, my silly brother!"

Jamie smiled and stood up.

But Jordan said, "Jamie, you won't be able to leave today."

Jamie looked at Jordan in surprise. Jordan should know that their strengths were on par. It was impossible for either side to defeat the other.

It was impossible for Jordan to keep Jamie here.

Jordan stood up. "It's true I was texting my subordinates earlier. I asked them to evacuate all the guests and staff from the hotel. Now, there's only you and me in this hotel. Oh, Dragon and Phoenix might be here too. So that's four people."

Jamie was shocked. "What are you trying to do?!"

Bang!

At this moment, there was a loud bang!

Jamie felt the entire floor shake. The wine bottles and wine glasses on the table all fell to the ground. Jamie held onto the table with a terrified expression.

"What's that sound?!" Jordan said calmly, "A bomb." "A bomb? Are you crazy? Are you going to blow up this hotel?" Jamie questioned.

Jordan replied, "Although you've told me the family secret, I still have to complete the mission to capture you."

Jamie snorted. "Little Brother, I've always been the one controlling you. You don't have the ability to control me!"

As he spoke, Jamie dashed out.

Jordan quickly went forward to stop him. He leaped in front of Jamie. Jamie threw a kick and the two brothers started fighting.

Slash!

A dagger suddenly appeared in Jamie's hand and he slashed Jordan's shirt into shreds.

Jordan quickly took off his watch and threw it at Jamie's hand, causing Jamie to drop the dagger! Jamie did not want to continue fighting with Jordan. He quickly opened the door and prepared to leave.

However, at this moment, there was another loud bang!

Bang!

Jamie and Jordan lost their balance and fell to the ground.

Jamie grumbled, "F*ck, how many bombs did you plant?! This is f*cking downtown South Korea! You're even wilder than I am!"

Jamie got up again. However, immediately after stepping out of the door, he quickly retreated. There was a huge blaze outside and the fire alarm was blaring!

The French windows of the presidential suite suddenly exploded. It was shattered from the outside.

There was a plane outside the window. It was Jordan's Dolphin One.

Of course, all of this was part of Jordan's plan.

Jordan had to bring Jamie back this time. One of the reasons was that Jordan wanted to verify Jamie's claims. After all, what Jamie told him about the family secret might not be true.

Secondly, even if it was true and Jordan now knew of the family secret. That the Steeles possessed advanced technology and medicine.

He was still not qualified to use them.

If Jordan wanted a woman like Park Anya to like him, he had to become the successor of the Steele family's secret wealth!

Jordan would never let Jesse have this secret wealth that could change the world!

Outside the room, the explosions continued.

At this moment, Jamie was at a loss.

Jordan said, “Jamie, you only have two choices now. One is to barge your way out of this room and this building. With your skills, you might be able to dodge the bombs and fire. You won’t die. But I promise you, even if you don’t die, you’ll be badly burned, especially that handsome face of yours.

“There is one other way. Board the plane with me and return to England to see Grandpa!”

Jamie was very unhappy. He had always been the scheming one, entangling his younger brother in his ploys. He had especially found the vain but beautiful Hailey for Jordan. When he chose the Camden family, he knew that neither Hailey or Elle would ever fall for Jordan.

When choosing a rich family to be Jordan’s in-laws, he had specially picked a very beautiful heiress. Later on, he took the initiative to matchmake Lauren and Jordan.

The reason Jamie did this was to ensure that Jordan would have a powerful backer, but he also did so for himself. When Jesse finally made his move against Jamie, he could also hide behind the Howard family. Jordan would definitely not leave him in the lurch.

Picking up his phone, Jamie called Phoenix.

“Where are you?!”

Phoenix replied, “Master, I’m tied up by Dragon. The fire is spreading very quickly now. The elevator is down. I can’t come up in the next five minutes.”

The presidential suite was located on the top floor of the building.

Caught and cornered with nowhere to run, Jamie was furious.

“Jordan, you’re indeed formidable. No wonder Grandpa values you so much and Jesse sees you as his biggest threat. Alright, you win. I’ll go back to England with you to see Grandpa!”

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 547

Chapter 547 Completing The Mission!

South Korea, Seoul, the five-star Park Hyatt Hotel

Explosions rang throughout the hotel building. From afar, it looked like a sea of flames. The streets near the hotel were filled with onlookers.

Although it was already 2 AM, South Koreans generally liked to stay up late. They often stayed out drinking late into the night.

Therefore, there were a lot of onlookers.

It was under such circumstances that Jordan and Jamie jumped onto Dolphin One.

Jamie had no choice but to cooperate with Jordan!

However, the cunning Jamie tried to snatch control of the plane the moment he got on it. Jordan saw through his intentions and tasered him.

After some time.

Jamie slowly opened his eyes. Everything was quiet, and he found himself lying on a comfortable sofa when a man with a bandage on his face walked over and handed him a cup of coffee.

It was Tim.

Tim smiled. "Mr. Jamie, we meet again. Here's some coffee for you. Try it, hehe."

The man was incredibly smug.

Previously, he had been held hostage by Jamie and forced to go to a plastic surgery hospital. This time, Jamie was the one being captured. When Jordan noticed that Jamie had woken up, he walked over with a smile.

"Jamie, I'm sorry. I gave you an injection to keep you unconscious. You know that you're too powerful. I'm afraid that I won't be able to defend myself if you try anything funny. We're already in England now. You can take a look through the window. Grandpa dispatched two planes to escort us. Don't try to escape anymore."

Pulling out a cigarette, Jamie took a few puffs before speaking. "Jordan, the past three days have me seeing you in a different light! The last time I saw you, you were still a naive young man. Now, you actually possess such methods. Impressive, impressive. Alright, I won't escape anymore. I'll return to the castle to see Grandpa. Grandpa will definitely make me undergo the battlefield trial. When that time comes, Jesse will definitely harm me."

Jordan assured his brother. "Jamie, you saved my life when I participated in the battlefield training the last time. I promise you that you'll be fine when you take your turn."

Jamie said, "The most important thing is you have to send me some women. I'll go crazy if I don't have any women for a year. When you were training previously, I sent Lauren to the battlefield for you to have a good time. As my good brother, you have to fly Park Sora over to me, okay? Return the favor?"

Park Sora was the daughter of Park Anya and Cheon Ji-hoon! Their status in South Korea was even higher than that of the Howard family in the US!

If Jordan dared to kidnap Madam's daughter, she would probably be so angry that she would have him assassinated!

Jamie also believed that Jordan would refuse his request.

Unexpectedly, Jordan replied seriously, "Alright, for as long as you stay on the battlefield, I'll fly Park Sora in once a month for you to enjoy."

Jamie became very excited. "Are you serious? She's that woman's daughter! The Park family is on the same level as the Steele family! You dare to provoke them?"

Jordan smiled, "At most, Park Anya will want my head. What's there to be afraid of?"

Jamie laughed out loud and patted Jordan's shoulder. "Good brother! My efforts to introduce so many top-grade beauties to you over the past few years have not been in vain. Haha! Oh, right. When you see Jesse later, I advise you not to get into a conflict with him, especially in front of Grandpa.

"Grandpa trusts him very much. Moreover, Jesse's status in the family has already surpassed Father's. You know that our father never had much ambition. Once Grandpa passes on, I reckon that the successor of the Steele family will be a battle between you and Jesse."

Being the successor to the Steele family had a lot more significance than a successor to an ordinary wealthy family! After all, the Steeles controlled technology that was decades ahead of the world!

It was not an exaggeration to say that they could change the world, or even destroy it! Therefore, the status and responsibilities of the heirs to secret families like the Steeles and Parks were very important!

That was why the Steeles had been so strict with their descendants since they were young.

Not only did they cultivate their abilities, but they also cultivated their characters and worldviews.

At that moment, Jordan realized what a heavy burden he was bearing!

Indeed, as Jamie had said, their father did not have much ambition. Moreover, he was not particularly outstanding in terms of abilities.

Time and time again, Charleston had expressed his disappointment towards their father. Therefore, once Charleston passed on, it was very likely that the Steele family would choose someone from the third generation to succeed him!

Patting Jamie on the shoulder, Jordan said, "Don't just talk about me and Jesse. You're an heir too. Don't worry, I know what to do. As long as I don't have concrete evidence, I won't fall out with Jesse."

Just looking at the incident regarding Lauren and Dr. Gale, if it were anyone else, Jordan would have smacked his face swollen by now!

Before long, the plane landed at Steele Castle.

Jamie strode into the hall.

All the servants had been sent out from the hall. Charleston, Jesse and Butler Frank were the only ones there.

"Grandpa, I'm back!"

Jamie playfully hugged him.

Despite everything, Charleston was clearly fond of this grandson. He couldn't help smiling.

However, Jesse had a stern expression on his face as he berated, "Jamie! You've done so many wrong things and caused so much trouble, yet you still have the cheek to smile! You made Lauren suffer from rape trauma, and you nearly had Jordan killed by the Howard family! Also, you secretly let Norman go and provoked the Park family in South Korea!

"Do you know how much trouble you've caused our family? If Grandpa hadn't cleaned up your mess, do you think you could have been so carefree outside!"

Jamie rolled his eyes at Jesse before kneeling in front of Charleston. "Grandpa, I was wrong. I'm sorry."

Charleston could see Jamie wasn't being sincere in his apology. He knew this grandson too well. Nevertheless, he said, "Alright, get up. Jamie, I won't hold the past against you. Now, prepare to complete your last battlefield trial."

The reluctance on Jamie's face was palpable. "Do I have to go to the battlefield? I'm afraid of death, Grandpa. What if something happens to me on the battlefield and the family pendant doesn't work?"

Jesse said, "What nonsense are you talking about? Our family will take care of everything. We will bribe both sides of the conflict. Once they accept our money, how can they do anything to you!"

A sinister smile was on Jamie's face. "Is that so? What if someone fails to take care of everything? Just like when Jordan went to the Syrian battlefield four years ago."

Jesse's face turned red as he looked at Jordan anxiously!

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 548

Chapter 548 The Forefathers Of The Eight Great Families!

Jesse looked a little guilty. He asked Jamie, "What do you mean by that?!"

Jamie snorted. "Everyone knows about this, apart from Jordan. Four years ago, when Jordan went to the battlefield to train, you said that you would help him. But what happened in the end? Did you do it?"

Jesse's expression turned grim as he explained to Jordan, "I was indeed negligent in that matter. I didn't finish it immediately, but I definitely had no intention of harming you. You should know very well how I usually treat you."

Butler Frank spoke up for Jesse. "Mr. Jesse was just praising Mr. Jordan for completing the mission in such a short time and bringing Mr. Jamie home. He even said that he's not as good as Mr. Jordan and asked Mr. Steele Senior to use all the family's resources to groom you."

Faced with Jesse and Butler Frank's words, Jordan could not say anything.

Charleston said, "Alright, let's not talk about the past. Jamie, I'll personally take care of everything for you during your battle trial. I won't let you enter the battlefield until everything is properly settled. Is that acceptable?"

Jamie knew that he couldn't escape from his battlefield experience, so he smiled. "With Grandpa's guarantee, I have no more worries then!"

Charleston nodded and looked at Butler Frank. "Where is the current conflict?"

Butler Frank replied respectfully, "India and Pakistan."

Charleston thought for a moment before deciding. "Mhm, let's arrange for Jamie to fight in this war then."

Jamie was delighted. "Haha, it's pretty close to South Korea. Not bad, not bad."

He then shot Jordan a look. He was clearly hinting to Jordan that this would make it much easier for him to fly Park Sora over.

After Charleston settled Jamie's matter, he looked at Jordan and said with a gratified smile, "Jordan, congratulations on completing the last training mission! Now, you have the right to know our family secret!"

At that moment, Jesse suddenly looked anxious. He hurriedly said, "Grandpa, although Jordan has outstanding abilities, his emotional state has never been stable enough, especially when it comes to love. I think it's a little too early to tell Jordan about the Steele family secret. We should continue honing his character first to make him more stable and mature.

Afraid that Jordan would be angry, Jesse comforted him, "Jordan, don't blame me for saying this. I'm doing this for your own good. Our family secret doesn't just concern our family. It affects the entire world and the entire human race! You might not know this, but the evaluation I gave you for your experience with Hailey was B+. Faced with her betrayal, you didn't react with enough maturity."

Jordan laughed out loud. "Why? Are you worried that if Lauren cheated on me like Hailey one day, I will destroy the entire world and humanity?"

Jesse replied coldly, "It's not impossible! Lauren might have an affair. She is indeed a hidden danger!"

Jordan was furious. "What did you say?! Lauren can only love me in this life! She will never have an affair. She can't have an affair! Don't you know that she has an illness?!"

Actually, at that moment, Jordan really wanted to ask Jesse about those photos of Lauren and Dr. Gale. However, Jamie had advised Jordan not to fight Jesse head-on. Moreover, based on Jordan's understanding of Jesse, he would definitely not admit to anything

Unexpectedly, Jesse gave a strange smile. "Is that so?"

Jamie spoke up for Jordan. "How should we hone Jordan's character then?"

Jesse said, "Jordan showed his immaturity with Hailey, so we should use her. Hailey is in our castle now. Jordan should marry her again to hone his character for another couple of years. If he can sleep with a woman whom he hates to the core for a year, that will be a true test of character!"

Let Jordan and Hailey be together again?

Before Jordan could flare up, Jamie shouted, "F*ck, how dare you say such things! How many men have Hailey kissed with her filthy mouth? How many other men has she called her hubby? You want her to kiss Jordan again and call him hubby and darling again?"

"I think you're not trying to train Jordan. You're just trying to torture him to death! Who can stand being with a woman who cheated on him and gave birth to someone else's child?"

Jesse said, "You take shortcuts for every training mission. You have no right to speak up for Jordan!"

Jamie snorted. "Do you think Jordan will let you do whatever you want? Let me tell you, I've already told him the family secret!"

"What did you say!?!".

Jesse and Charleston were shocked.

Jordan said, "Yes, I already know about the eight great families."

Charleston said, "Since Jordan already knows, let's put aside the matter of honing his character for the time being. I believe that as he gets older, Jordan will naturally become more mature. Jordan, come with me. I have something to tell you privately."

"Yes!"

With that, Jordan followed Charleston to his room.

Jordan closed the door. He knew that his grandfather was going to tell him something very private and important.

Charleston was very gratified. "Child, I've waited for this day for a long time. You didn't disappoint me!"

Jordan immediately said, "Grandpa, I am sorry for making you wait so long."

Charleston smiled. "Jamie already told you about the eight great families. However, he doesn't know much about them. I'll tell you in detail, starting from the beginning."

"Alright."

Jordan had many questions about the eight secret families.

Charleston stood with his hands behind his back. "A hundred years ago, my father, who is also your great-grandfather, was a fisherman. One day, he woke up and realized that he was on a ship. This ship was sailing in the middle of the sea, and there was no end in sight. He was afraid. He walked around the ship and realized there were others on it. However, these people were all foreigners. From South Korea, Japan, England, China, and so on."

Jordan was shocked. "Those people are the forefathers of the eight great families?"

Jordan had been wondering why there were eight great families in this world and how they were all connected.

Charleston nodded. "That's right. Our eight great families were actually chosen."

"Chosen by whom?" Jordan asked immediately.

"A 10-year-old girl," Charleston replied.

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 549

Chapter 549 The Secret Ring!

"A 10-year-old girl?"

Jordan was confused.

Charleston continued, "The forefathers of our eight families don't even know how they got on the ship. Because of the language barrier, no one knew what was going on or what to do. Suddenly, the little girl told each of them in their native different language that the ship was going to capsize and they must jump off.

"Your grandfather asked how did she know the ship was about to capsize? The little girl said that she had a dream just now about it. Obviously, none of the people believed her and no one jumped into the sea. In the end, a strong wind suddenly blew and the ship capsized!"

Jordan frowned. He immediately sensed that this little girl was not that simple!

"The little girl spoke up again. She assured them that they wouldn't die. She had dreamed that they would be swept onto a beach by a huge wave. In the end, things really happened as she said. No one from the eight great families died!"

Jordan was confused. "Did the little girl have the ability to predict the future?"

Charleston nodded. "Yes. At that time, the forefathers could also tell that this little girl was not an ordinary girl. However, she always looked confused and she couldn't explain her background or how she came to that ship. After that, everyone realized that her dreams were events that would happen in the future. The forefathers of the eight families all believed that this was a good chance for them to leverage.

"Therefore, the forefathers made an agreement with each other not to spread this little girl's abilities. The eight families used her abilities to kickstart their glory, and they called that little girl Deity!"

"Deity!"

Jordan was astounded. Such a title should have sounded a little silly to him, but the whole story was truly unfathomable!

Jordan asked, "The eight families are able to have such advanced technology because of Deity, right? Then by my calculation, Deity should be 110 years old now?"

Charleston said, "Deity passed away 30 years ago at the age of 80. Our current technology already existed 30 years ago. Ever since Deity passed away, our advancements have slowed down significantly without her help. There have been almost no breakthroughs. All our technologies have stagnated. Sigh, it's all our fault. We were too reliant on Deity's predictive ability."

Jordan asked, "Is that why Grandpa gathered top talents like Norman from all over the world to help us achieve technological breakthroughs?"

Charleston nodded. "I am not the only one. For the past 30 years, our eight families have been working hard to uncover the geniuses of this world. If you paid attention to the news reports, you would have realized that many well-known geniuses migrated overseas after becoming famous for their talents. Actually, they were recruited by the eight great families."

Jordan thought about it. He did recall coming across some reports of a so-called brain drain, where many top talents allegedly left the US to work abroad.

Those geniuses were often criticized for being unpatriotic, but in reality, they were attracted by the highly-advanced technology, just like Norman.

Jordan asked, "How's our relationship with the eight great families after the Deity died? Who has progressed the furthest?"

Although Jordan didn't know much about the eight families, he was well-versed in the competitive nature of human beings. As the saying went, it was difficult for great forces to remain cohesive over the long term.

The eight great families were forcibly bound together because of the Deity. Although their forefathers had established close links with each other, how many generations had it been now since the Deity died?

The close links might not last for more than a few generations.

Therefore, Jordan guessed that the relationship between the eight families was not that good now!

Jordan was right. Charleston sighed. "After the Deity died, the eight families continued their research on our own. We basically did our own thing. When Deity was around, whoever developed new things would share them with the other families. But now, no one is willing to do that. "As for which of the eight families has progressed the most, that's hard to determine, because we're all very secretive. We're all too good at hiding. However, I can tell you which family has progressed the least."

Jordan looked at his grandfather's dejected expression and asked, "Don't tell me it's our family?"

Charleston sighed. "Yes, the Steele family is the worst among the eight families. As you know, your father's aptitude is mediocre and he is not ambitious. For his generation, the gap between us and the other families is too wide. Now, the Park and Miyamoto families have proposed eliminating our family from the eight!"

Jordan was furious when he heard that. "What? The Steeles were chosen back then as well. On what grounds do they have to eliminate our family?!"

Charleston snorted. "I think they want to monopolize power. I've already been forced to move from the US to England because of their accusations at the great meeting, but they continue to target our family."

"Great meeting?" Jordan asked in confusion.

Charleston explained, "Oh, the families hold a secret meeting every year. At the meeting, everyone reports on their results for that year. They will also discuss the future and release selected advancements to the public. We select suitably advanced technology that we have developed to release to the public so that everyone can benefit from it."

Jordan nodded. It seemed like the eight families controlled the lifeline of the world! At that moment, Jordan finally understood why Jesse wanted him out of the way.

He wanted to monopolize this honor!

Opening the safe, Charleston took out a ring.

There was a very mysterious pattern on the ring.

Charleston said, "Jordan, you've completed the family's training. Today, I'll officially give you the family's Secret Ring. I am officially appointing you as one of the successors of the family's secret assets. From today onwards, you can use all our secret assets."

At long last! Jordan was very excited. He took the ring and put it on his right finger. "Thank you, Grandpa! I won't disappoint you!"

Jordan could not help stroking the ring. All of a sudden, the ring made a sound, and some patterns and words suddenly appeared on the ring.

"What's this?" Jordan looked at the patterns and words in surprise.

The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 550

Chapter 550 Porsche 888!

Jordan had recently experienced Jamie's iPhone 18 and knew that it was hologram technology. However, Jordan did not understand the words and images being projected.

Charleston explained, "The names are all landmarks. They denote all of our family's secret industrial bases. All you have to do is tap it or give a command, and it will teleport you over. It's a high-tech gadget, and I've never used it myself. Hehe. But you youngsters should be able to learn quickly."

Jordan nodded with a smile. His grandfather was almost 80 years old and experienced in life, but Jordan had been using a smartphone for decades. It was no surprise that he was much more technologically savvy than a wise 80-year-old man.

So Jordan put the screen away to study later.

Charleston said, "You have to keep this ring well. With our family Secret Ring, you will have access to all of our secret bases. It's best if you don't give this ring to anyone else because it has already identified your DNA. If anyone else wears it, they will be attacked by the ring. If you want your wife to wear it, you need to add a new owner to the ring's system first."

Jordan nodded.

Charleston continued, "Alright, you're now the successor of the Steeles' secret wealth. I have a mission for you."

Jordan straightened his back. "Yes, Grandpa, please tell me!"

Charleston said, "In a few months, it will be the annual great meeting. During last year's meeting, the Park and Miyamoto families kept targeting us and questioning our strength. This year, they will definitely create a bigger fuss. Therefore, I need you to return home and help me find evidence against the Park and Miyamoto families. I heard that the Park and Miyamoto families are secretly selecting people from the US. I don't know what their motive is. Go and find out for me."

Jordan immediately promised. "Don't worry, Grandpa. I'll definitely find out what they're up to! From now on, I won't let any family look down on us. The Park and Miyamoto families can forget about monopolizing power!"

Charleston looked gratified. "Very good. I have the highest expectations for you. Go familiarize yourself with the family's secret bases and understand our advanced technology. Thereafter, return to the US." "Yes!"

After accepting the mission, Jamie had been quickly brought away. He didn't even get the chance to have a meal before being sent to the battlefield. Jamie grumbled at his grandfather for being so mean.

Jordan might have agreed with Jamie in the past, but after learning about the family secret, he realized his grandfather had his reasons for being so strict with them.

The Steele family was one of the eight great families. They looked very impressive on paper, possessing technology that was decades ahead of the world. However, among the eight families, the Steeles were ranked last. Moreover, they were currently being targeted by the Park and Miyamoto families. They could be kicked out at any moment.

It would not be a small matter if the Steele family was kicked out.

The Steeles possessed advanced technology and knew many secrets. The other families would definitely not sit back and do nothing. If things got serious, they might even silence the entire Steele family!

Charleston was eager for Jamie to complete his training on the battlefield because he wanted him to quickly inherit the family business and share the burden of salvaging the Steele family.

"Jordan, remember to fly Park Sora to me! Also, buy her a nurse uniform!" Jamie shouted at Jordan.

Jordan looked embarrassed. She was only 15 years old, but Jamie wanted her to role-play as a nurse?

However, Jordan couldn't deny that he was a little curious about what that lovely girl would look like in a nurse's uniform...

Jordan called Lauren to ask about her situation. He told her that he would return to the capital to meet up with her and Victoria soon.

Thereafter, Jordan opened the Secret Ring and saw the image of a car. He tapped on it.

“Car factory?”

After being teleported to the location, Jordan realized that it was a car factory with a Porsche sign.

The security guard at the entrance said to Jordan, “I’m sorry, Sir. This place is not open to visitors.”

Jordan showed the ring on his finger.

Surprised, the security guard immediately bowed to Jordan and called the manager.

Soon, a man in a suit walked over.

The man glanced at Jordan’s ring and introduced himself excitedly, “Hello, Mr. Steele. My name is Peter. This should be your first time here, right?”

Jordan nodded. “Yes, can you be my guide?”

The man smiled. “It will be my pleasure. Please.”

The man brought Jordan to a secret garage inside where there was a door access reader.

“Mr. Steele, please place the ring in the blue area to scan.”

Jordan knew that Peter was worried that he might be an imposter, so he did as he was told.

Ding!

“Welcome, Mr. Steele, the master of the world!”

Master of the world!

He didn’t expect the Steele family to use such a grand title. They were indeed domineering!

Seeing that Jordan managed to gain access, Peter became even more respectful. “Mr. Steele, please come in!”

After Jordan walked in, he immediately saw a sports car with beautiful lines. It looked like a Porsche 911.

Jordan asked, "Is that red sports car a Porsche 911?"

Peter said, "This is a sports car based on the classic Porsche 911 design. This car is the Porsche 888."

Porsche 888. What an auspicious number!

Jordan asked, "What advanced technology does the Porsche 888 have?"

The Porsche 888 was definitely not for sale. Only the eight great families possessed this model.

Peter said, "The biggest difference between this car and the normal sports cars on the market is that it's equipped with two navigation systems, land and air. It can run on land or fly through the air."

1 run

Jordan was astounded. "A sports car that can fly?"

It was indeed the technology of the future!

Cars would be able to fly in the future. No one had to worry about traffic jams anymore!

"This sports car has the ability to change color automatically. You can give it a try."

Peter handed Jordan a high-tech car key. It projected a holographic image that offered a selection of colors.

The sports car was red now. When Jordan chose white, the Porsche 888 immediately turned white!

Jordan was amazed. "How does this work? Don't we have to spray paint the car to change its color? Did this car really turn white, or does it just look white to our eyes?"
