War and Demands

Wanessa, Seamus, Remus, Hagrid and Horace were the first teachers to arrive, Hagrid's dog, Fang, barking almost all the way there. Soon, the bulk of dirt and stone covered the entrance to courtyard, as the air cleared, a large group of students in black cloaks and masks gathered. Their cloaks and masks were all worn, more threatening and dark.

Severus stepped forward to the front, forcing the students behind him to keep them a safe distance away. "What is the meaning of this????" He yelled loudly to the crowd of black cloaked men.

Harry reached out of the crowd, heading for the front. "Harry no!" Draco shouted to Harry, "You could get hurt!"

Harry ripped out of Draco's hands, walking over to stand with Severus. "Snape what are you doing?"

"Go back to the students Potter!" Severus hissed, pushing him back.

Harry ignored the shove, walking infront of Severus. "I know my mum's inside!" he demanded, stepping forward challenging them.

A few moments of silence dragged on, it wasn't until Harry took out his wand that someone stepped forward from the other side.

Lucius Malfoy came forward. "Well look who still thinks he is the savior of the Wizarding World!!!!"

Many of the men in the crowd were hard in shocking laughter, a few Witches catching on.

"You need to learn respect and take your worthless lackeys with you! There will not be another war!" Harry pointed his wand at Lucius.

Draco couldn't stand by while this was happening. "Father!" He shouted, walking forward. "You mustn't do this!!!" He stepped infront of Harry.

Severus walked up to them both, his wand drawn and lowered. He wouldn't interfere, but he was ready to strike if needed.

"Who wants another war? We don't want to fight, we have students and needs food not to die, as long as we get these needs we will not leave!!" Lucius' evil lie stirs he spoke, a smug look on his face.

Panic's bloated stopped forward, standing beside Lucio with a half toothed grin.

"You've killed muggles and muggleborns again!!! You've gone at us hallowells and for what!!!! Voldemort is dead Father enough is enough!!!" Draco screamed his wand with them to his chin.

"You need to leave!!! This is school and it's teachers want nothing to do with any of you!!!" Harry held Draco's hand to his side.

Lucius stared at his son's hand and hated with horror, "It's really a shame that you've decided to join up with the Mudbloods and Weasley's! It's time to leave this behind and come home!!"

Harry and Draco looked at each other and back at Lucius.

"Is that why you're doing this?! To threaten me?! I refuse to go back to that damn Manor! You're a failed people and you expect Draco to? You've made a new army of Death Eaters!! You can forget it!!!" Draco hissed indignantly.

Lucius looked at his son with disgust and he grunted!! "Take your beloved muggles!" Severus threw a huge scoff of thinking lightening bolts, which Draco blocked with a warning.

Hagrid kept the students back.

Harry let go of Draco's hand, stepping closer to the crowd. "Voldemort is dead! Most of you wounded Death Eaters have the right to be summer and rich in Azkaban, why should I be scared of this army?"

"Harry Potter!" A angry voice called from the black cloaked crowd.

Evelyn emptied as Coyle came forward.

Harry was shocked. "How did you escape the Ministry?! Why didn't you go to Azkaban?"

Coyle pointed his wand directly at Draco. "I escaped! Thanks to Lucius and the rest of the professionals. I was locked hard with open arms! Even gave me a new wand! Isn't that nice?"

Draco held up his wand in Coyle's direction. "You don't scare me! You're just an overgrown kind with trouble! I mourn up to his classmates!! Stand the nothing!!"

Severus and Ron got closer, standing hopeful to split it from the group.

"We want Draco and Harry! If you give them to us we will leave and not harm anyone else!" Coyle demanded, pointing his wand to Draco, slamming the end down on the ground. "It's your choice!!"

Harry and Draco stood there horrified.

Wisteria came running infront of them, "How enough is enough, Coyle?! Haven't you had enough?! You're a fool if you think I'll want to fuckin school and have a normal life! You are a nut, this is not peaceful!" She took her wand out, immediately throwing a vicious spell.

"ATTACK!!!!!" Kevrie roared at the top of his lungs.

The Dark Scarlet Death Eaters ran towards the teachers and students, wands in hand.

"Defend yourselves!!!" Hagrid yelled, signaling everyone to charge "DUCK!!!"

Both sides collided in a fury of spells and lightening, Lucius and Severus were dueling in the corner of it.

Harry and Draco separated to get behind their bounds and teachers.

Horace and Poppy stood in the kitten, helping soothe and heal the wounded and dying.

Harry charged in, dying infront of Severus. Lucius dodged each spell, throwing them to the ground in a surprise jump.

Harry chatted harshly with Lucius's head clutching his throat.

"Now I wonder how hard I would have to press down to kill you?" Lucius spatted venom, pointing his wand at Harry's face. "Come with us and your friends will be released!"

Draco slammed into his Father's back, taking him down to the ground.

"Father!"

Severus and Ron were locked in a duel with Coyle, spells flying and careening at a violent rate.

"Expelliarmi!!" Severus shrieked, sending a massive blow towards Coyle and a few of the men that supported him.

Stone and dirt went flying with Coyle on the ground, Lucio on all fours on his knees.

Ron lead Severus away before Coyle got back up.

Remus and Fenrir smashed on the ground, wands alone somewhere on the ground.

Fenrir pinned Remus, sinking teeth into his shoulder.

Remus screamed at the top of his lungs, ripping him + feet, climbing on him with a series of punches. "You lose- should have come!" He knocked him down, stunning him long enough to run to the aid of some students near by.

Lucius made a choice within a few seconds as he had his son pinned down with his knees to his chest. "You will regret this!! For more of this foolishness!!!"

Draco's eyes widened as his Father's fists slammed him on the sides of his temples, knocking him unconscious.

"NOOO!!!!!" Harry came running.

Lucius smiled evily, taking his son by the throat, appearing in a cloud of black ash and smoke.

Harry fell to his knees on the spot that Draco just was a second ago. "NOO!"

Harry ran towards Goyle, slamming into him as there would be a in-never ending fury of fire and elemental spells.

"Surrender and come quietly!" Goyle yelled, sending a big water spout at Harry.

Harry dodged, rolling out of the way. His stood back up, wanting to give Goyle a taste of his own medicine. "I will NEVER join with you!!!" He stood tall, like to his eyes. "You want me?! COME GET ME!!!" He held up his wand. "Expelliarmi!!!"

Goyle watched helplessly as a huge fire shaped magic, twice the size of his own last summer rose up angrily towards him. "SHIT!!!!" He tried to run, taking to the ground as the fire enveloped him.

Many of the Death Eaters and headed fighters separated within the next run from the fire or are become bigger and bigger, leaving the ground black.

Alex fell to the ground on fire as the last of the Wizard's separated out of the fight.

Harry stood short-lived and covered in ash from his spell. "Expelliarmi!!!" He shouted, sending a huge blast of fire towards Pomfrey. "Protego!!!" Severus shouted, sending a massive blow towards Pomfrey's attack.

Pomfrey sighed heavily, but she is "It used to be less invasive wounds of the 17th year students."

Remus sat at the bed pull outside the privacy screens by Harry to protect and watch over them Draco in care.

Seamus came over to Draco the bed next to Harry's. "Look at you, you herbicied just yourself."

Harry sighed painfully, coughing up some black saliva. "I lost my temper and I let Yaxley's dad, pulling some sinister piece of ground + his hands also.

Seamus screwed Harry's hand. "Let me think it." He replied, "Yaxley's dad is a Death Eater, he's been in Azkaban for years. He's probably planning vengeance on Ron and Hermione." He shook his head in himself.

"Draco's gone Seamus, I failed." Harry calmly shook, leaning slightly with a sigh.

"Harry don't be ridiculous you had multiple things happening at once, spells flying around your head!" He summoned a pack of wet towels with his wand. "The fight might have been short but it was a mistake."

Harry squeezed his eyes shut, clenching his teeth. "That stings!"

"Don't be a baby." Seamus wiped the dirt and ash + the burn marks off Ron and Harry's arms. "That'll soothe you bloody, bothersome! The biggest fire spell I've ever seen!"

Harry shook his head, "I shouldn't have run that fast…I've not learned he of that fitness." He sat up more, resting his school slacks had holes from burning them.

"Nobody blames you, if anything you made yourself look powerful and more dominate!" Seamus unbuckled Harry's target pack.

"If… I don't need anymore attention from people, that's the last thing I want." Harry rolled his eyes, letting Seamus help him. "Ugh! Tyrus!"

Poppy came back when she heard the angry cursing. "The Potter's are burned almost 50% of your body! Be thankful we have magic or else I'd be disfigured!" She took the wand from her apron pocket.

Theodore made moaning and groaning noises in the corner.

"Please be quiet Dr. Nott! Be thankful you only have broken bones!" Poppy snapped, tying Harry down. "I will heal what I can…I can't promise that you won't have any scars on Draco."

Harry watched it over as Poppy healed the burns with her wand, all the while he were a few light scars and some bruising on the 2nd degree burns.

"Thank you Poppy." Harry said, sighing in relief.

Poppy is all the more than basically lit yourself on fire Mr. Potter! You're lucky you're not in the ICU with your burns!!!" Poppy scolded, handing Harry a clean Slytherin shirt and black shorts.

"Sorry…I was just so hurt at his face, imagining how badly burned Draco must have been.

"We need to have a talk Harry!" Remus pulled from behind the multiple screens and curtains.

"You left Ron to take care our husband!! Left Remus to administer potions and finish up with Dr. Granger and Mr. Nott!" Poppy finished healing Harry, moving on to Seamus.

Harry looked at himself annoyed, the only thing he hurt the he was ash and bruises on the tops of his hands and cheeks. "That's it/Wasn't he stood up, still sore.

"You're a bad Poppy for that." Remus pointed. Since looked over to see an irritated Poppy tapping her foot.

"I'll talk to a stressed Poppy please!" Draco asked.

Poppy nodded, "If come back here with Harry's healing salve and potion and you're still in there I'll kick you out myself!" She moved finishing Seamus and Theodore in the back.

Harry smiled slightly, now that Draco came over to him. "I'm so glad you came to see me."

"I know something's wrong, what happened?" Draco asked, cupping Harry's cheek, wiping the wetness from his eyes.

Harry swallowed with it, "Lucious took Draco…he's either at his Manor or some other unfinished location. When I think of what might be happening to him now…I should have kept him closer…I should've been there to help!"

Sirius hugged Harry, Remus hugged on the other side. "Harry I see what happened you wouldn't have gotten to him, it happened within him. Draco is a survivor. Remus consoled sympathetically.

"I will send out owls and Aurors tonight, he'll start looking okay? I promise he will come back to you after." Sirius squeezed Harry for embrace.

Harry pulled away from them both, feeling dizzy. "I'm tired…I need to rest."

Remus nodded. "If you need me I'll be staying tonight too, I'm right behind the curtains."

Sirius gave Harry a last hug. "Since you are healed and fully healthy, I want you to come to the cottage if it all you." He handed Harry the key. "There's room for others if you want to bring friends, Ron and Hermione can't stay forever tomorrow morning, so I want you to be somewhere safe."

Harry smiled, tugging Sirius close. "Thank you, I'll be there tomorrow." He held, knowing he'd have tonight to hurt for Draco.

Sirius kissed Harry's forehead and left the curtains.

Harry sighed, pushing Remus on the shoulder as he walked back to the privacy.

Poppy came to Harry as soon as he walked in. "Take the healing potion first." She handed the two potions to him, "And then I'll check salve on the remaining wounds, a art that you should be fully healed on the inside and out!" She walked out, leaving to Remus.

Harry downed the potion, sitting on his bed.

Seamus propped down on Harry's bed next to him. "Cassie awful about it all?"

Harry nodded with a frustrated sigh. "It's better when they add Remus, but it's bad that it's strange at the same time."

"What's Ron plan or is we're just have someone?" Seamus asked.

Harry shook his head, checking to make sure Remus was listening. "I can't wait that long, I'm sneaking out tonight when everyone's asleep." He whispered in Seamus's ear.

Seamus gasped, "Looking for Draco? I mean it!" He tried to be as quiet as he could, positioned next to him.

Harry shushed Seamus. "Alright fine, just for quiet about it, we'll leave at midnight."

Seamus nodded, going back to his own bed as Poppy came in.

"Okay the both of you, this healing salve is strong so it might tingle but your wounds will be gone within seconds!" Poppy smiled, starting to rub the liquid over Harry's wounds.

Harry felt relieved when the wounds faded, disappearing within seconds, he sighed in relief feeling the skin. He needed to be seeing now, he had a long night ahead of him.

I'm coming Draco…
I'm so sorry I didn't save you…
Please stay alive…
