Chapter 22|| Clayton's Voice

Julie paused and sighed.

“I'm not worried about my past being known.

I did nothing wrong, and it's nothing shameful, so if this kind of thing happens again in the future, don't worry about me.

You don't dare to resist.

But it probably won't happen in the future.

After this time, our relationship is officially made public.

It looks like I have to be like you in the future and wear a hat and a mask when I go out!” More importantly, someone was always staring at them.

If they caught anything, it would become a sign of their marriage failure.

Kai patted her head.

“Jules, I'm sorry...” Nicole got on the plane with Luca, Roland, Logan, and Kai.

Kai was still forced to go with Nicole and had no choice but to tag along.

Especially since Kai was happy lately, and Julie had been convincing him to go and take care of Nicole. Chatty and Fischer insisted on following Nicole too. Floyd suggested that since they had a villa over there, they should just go for a vacation and relax.

Thus, they brought Chatty and Fischer along.

When they arrived at the villa, Chatty played hide-and-seek with Fischer in high spirits.

However, no one had the energy to accompany them. Fortunately, the butler and servants in the villa were thoughtful in preparing everything for them, so they did not have to worry about anything.

Nicole called Grant in the study to discuss the private reception.

Although they received an invitation, the identities of other VIPs who were invited were kept confidential. She was not sure how difficult it would be to invest in the project.

However, there were still a few days before the reception.

Nicole took Chatty to a university.

Michael jumped grades and went to school here.

This was a prestigious school with a long history, and it was the best school for his favorite major.

After receiving Nicole's call, Michael came out on his bicycle in a hurry.

He was taken aback when he saw them and ran over excitedly to hug them.

“Pretty Lady!” Chatty was very surprised to see Michael and clapped her hands, signaling for him to carry her.

Michael pinched her cheek happily and hugged her. He looked elated.

“Chatty, did you miss me?” “Yes, I miss you...” Chatty nodded.

Michael could not hide his joy.

He was already a teenager, but he still looked childish.

He also had a youthful energy that could not be concealed.

His life in this school was peaceful and perfect.

“Pretty Lady! Oh, forget it...”

Dad’s going to scold me again.

Why isn't he here?” Michael did not change the way he addressed Nicole and was pleasantly surprised to see his relatives in a foreign country.

Nicole smiled.

“I’m here for business and came to visit you in the meantime.

Can you keep up in school?” Michael was the youngest in his class, but he should not be underestimated.

Coincidentally, Maverick was his idol.

Although Michael had never met Maverick, he had always regarded him as a god.

“It’s easy.

Why don’t I take you guys for a stroll?” Nicole raised her eyebrows and nodded.

“Okay.” She looked at Chatty and winked.

Chatty received Nicole’s hint and immediately got down from Michael’s embrace.

She said softly, “Brother, I’ll walk by myself! I’m afraid to tire you out!” Chatty even touched her brother’s hand as if he was tired from carrying her just now.

Michael smiled, put Chatty on the back of his bicycle, and tidied up her little skirt.

“Where’s your little follower Fischer?” The two children were inseparable, but why was there only one left all of a sudden? Chatty pouted.

“I didn’t bring him!” Nicole laughed.

“Fischer’s parents are here on a business trip, so I brought him along to reunite with them.” Michael clicked his tongue.

“That’s such a coincidence.” Nicole was wearing a casual beige dress and a beautiful hat.

She looked youthful and vivid.

On this campus, Nicole seemed to become a unique scenery that people could not take their eyes off.

Michael stole a few more glances and noticed something different about Nicole.

He had long regarded her as his family.

Those embarrassing things Michael did in the past seemed to be the catalyst for Clayton to pursue Nicole. To be honest, if it was not for Michael, Clayton might not have ended up with Nicole so smoothly.

However, Michael realized it too late.

The deal was done.

Even so, Michael was glad that Nicole became his family.

She was the mother he dreamed of because she was a motherly yet sisterly figure.

Anyway, Michael would not acknowledge anyone else to be his mother.

Only this time, he felt that there was some gloomy absence in Nicole's expression.

“where's Daddy? Is he too busy to come and see me?”

Michael said aggrievedly.

Nicole paused, glanced at him, and smiled, but her eyes turned red.

When she glanced at Chatty, her opened mouth closed again.

At this moment, Chatty stretched out her hand and revealed her smartwatch.

“Brother, Daddy's here!” She tapped on the screen and dialed a number.
