Technician's Manual - Chapter 81

Chapter 81 - It's your kid who brought in the blood saint

Seeing the scarred swordfish dragon hurriedly fled into the white mist, Siflin was lost in thought.

This is already the fourth intellectual creature she met tonight.

Generally speaking, Shivlin will only encounter a special event every night in the exploration of the virtual world. Most of the time, she spends the whole night wandering-because the sea of knowledge is too big and the white fog is too thick. It's not because of the fate of life and death, it is difficult to meet in the sea.

However, tonight I encountered four intellectual creatures in a row, which made Shivlin wonder if today is the reproduction period of intellectual creatures, so they will gather in the surrounding groups to estrus...

However, Shivlin actually understands why she can trigger battle events continuously.

She became a little bat again, and after waiting for a while, she heard the familiar 'puff' sound again!

here we go again!

After hearing this voice five times in a row, Shivlin could no longer deceive herself as a hallucination.

She can even foresee that as long as she flies in the direction of the sound, she will definitely meet another intellectual creature! Just like the previous four times!

What's going on!

This is not mentioned in the books “A Hundred Years of Void Realm, Ten Years of the Sea”, “The Poor Sorcerer, the Rich Sorcerer”, and “Sailing Ten Thousand Miles”!

There is only a similar situation with the legendary “Mermaid Calling”: It is said that there is a kind of intellectual creature called the female lantern dragon in the Sea of Knowledge. Its body is extremely ugly, but its tentacles are a charming, charming voice, sweet body and **** body. The mermaid, when the magician can't bear the temptation to approach the mermaid, the female lantern dragon lurking in the sea will suddenly appear and wipe the magician with one mouth.

However, Shivlin neither saw the mermaid nor encountered any traps, as if the ‘poof’ sound was simply to guide her to the nearest intellectual habitat.

She also wondered if other magicians were tricking her, but if you think about it carefully, it's impossible-her ultrasonic detection is already the top detection miracle at the silver level. For that matter, she can only probe three meters around her. For the terrain inside, the farther ultrasonic waves will be shielded by the white fog.

And the sea area that she flew before robbing the swordfish dragon was nearly a hundred meters away.

Even the miracle of the prophecy faction and the destiny faction cannot penetrate the white mist of tens of meters. Even if it can be done, it is definitely not within the ability of the silver magician.

However, once the magicians are promoted to the two-wing golden and three-wing sanctuary, the door of truth they open cannot lead to the sea of knowledge. The road of the magician is a road of no return, and there is never the possibility of turning back. There will only be a wing of silver magician in the sea of knowledge.

What's more, she couldn't think of the reason for the other party to guide her-if the other party could really see through the white mist of hundreds of meters, his ability would definitely be enough to crush Shivlin, wouldn't it be better to tie Shivlin up and ask for it?

This is the Void Realm. As long as the other party conceals their identity, the Blood Saints cannot find a target even if they want revenge.

Therefore, Shivlin felt that she had triggered a certain mechanism in the Void Realm, causing the Void Realm to actively guide her to find the nearest intellectual creature.

Like the vortex, there are many unresolved mysterious mechanisms in the virtual realm. Some appear randomly, but some are accidentally triggered by the magician.

For example, the “Great Way” of the Sea of Knowledge, although the research institute has not yet found a feasible way to trigger it, but integrating various data, it is found that the magician who specializes in earth arts is the most likely to encounter the “Great Way”. There is a high probability that the actions of the Earthmancer caused a change in the virtual world, thus allowing the great road to emerge.

Siflin has read a miscellaneous book called “Han Shi Lu”, which records many such unfalsified virtual realm mechanisms: For example, if a wing Shu Ling is thrown into the sea, there will be a masked magician from the sea. Appeared, holding a two-winged magic spirit, a three-winged magic spirit, and asked which one you just lost. If you honestly answer no, you will be rewarded...Most of the stories in it are almost like this. Absurd, for nothing, and trigger fantasy with strange conditions.

Although this mechanism is basically impossible to reproduce, Shivlin still remembers what she did just now as much as possible, which triggers this mechanism.

Could it be that the phrase ‘I wish to meet intellectual creatures’ just now by her was heard by the Void Realm?

“I want to meet Qiyu Xiaodao... I want to meet the whirlpool... I want to meet the golden fish... I want to eat truffles and lala fat... I want to condense another seven or eight drops of colorless source blood...”
Shivlin flew While thinking about it, I hope Xujing can hear her wish again.

However, Xujing didn’t seem to hear her prayers, instead she heard the faintly screaming screams of the swordfish dragon, as if the swordfish dragon was beaten up not far away.

This is not the first time, the several intellectual creatures defeated by Shivlin in the front will also scream in the distance after escaping.

Could it be that the new miracle she learned, “Blood Reversal”, is really so powerful that it can make intellectual creatures wailing all night, even after escaping, they can’t heal it?

If Shivlin flew ten meters to the right, she would see the escaped swordfish dragon being brutally hit by a mixed doubles of a pair of dogs and men. It looked at the two people in front of it, with a furious expression of “you kid attracted the blood saint”, and after uttering an unwilling whine of “the tiger fell and the sun was bullied by the dog”, it exploded a bunch of loot.

After licking the bag, the boat followed Siflin’s flight path silently.

...

Blood Moon Kingdom, Broken Lake Prison.

Siflin woke up from the bed, couldn’t help but stretched her waist, and the bones and hair all over her body made a crisp sound-because of the slow flow of blood, the blood saint’s body was easily rigid.

If you want to explore the virtual realm for a long time, the blood saints have to lie in the coffin and reduce the oxidation rate by reducing the air, otherwise the whole body will be stiff when it wakes up.

Shivlin takes a warm bath first, and then brushes her teeth and washes her face. During this process, all water sources must be kept in a static state. One of the taboos of the blood saints is that they can’t touch the flowing water. Although they won’t get hurt, the flowing water gives the blood saints the feeling that the steak you are eating suddenly twists. Aversion to fear.

The taboos that blood saints need to pay attention to are enough to write a thick-handed book. In comparison, the most well-known “fear of the sun” is only the most trivial one.

Although there are many restrictions, there is still an endless stream of people who want to join the research institute to become blood. This is not only because of the strong racial talents of the blood saints, but also because the blood saints are the darlings of the blood moon primordial masters and the only ones in the blood moon kingdom. Rule the race!

“Reporting the adventure of last night to the research institute, you should get a lot of research points... But then you have to talk to the teacher, he will definitely ask questions, super annoying...”

Shivlin put on a loose black robe and a crow mask while thinking wildly, and went to the exclusive restaurant of the medical doctor.

“Good day~www.mtlnovel.com~Your Excellency.”

Seeing that the passing medical doctor was going to salute her again, Shivlin quickly held on to him and said, “I didn’t say everything. I usually treat me as an ordinary medical doctor. Just say hello. This is not outside. “

“but.....”

“If you do this, if it is passed to the institute, the teacher will definitely scold me. Your number plate is [137], right? I remember. If I get scolded by the teacher, I will remember to trouble you. “

[137] I panicked right now, and I was so scared that I bowed again: “I’m sorry, sir, I just—“

“Huh? Still use honorifics?”

“...Good morning, [222].”

PS: Although the first order has not exceeded 10,000 at this time, let’s add 2 more. Thank you very much for your support.

Unexpectedly, when I heard that there is still eight changes a day, not only is it unprecedented, but it may also be the last...

Technician’s Manual - Chapter 82

Chapter 82 - Draw a card!

Looking at the 9 magic spirits in front of him, Ya Xiu had to do a broadcast gymnastics on the spot to relieve his excitement.

Last night's exploration of the virtual realm, they harvested a total of 12 magic spirits!

Three of them were said to be able to sell for a good price, so they were taken away by Jian Ji, but because of that, the harvest of Ya Xiu this night can almost match the harvest of the past few days!

Not to mention they also got 2 experience orbs!

Ah Xiu felt that unless he drew out a new virtual exploration artifact, it would be difficult for him to reproduce the record of last night before the Silver Wings were fully deployed.

And last night's experience also deeply confirmed the truth of life he summarized when he went to work: working is worse than fishing, fishing is worse than exploitation, and exploitation is worse than picking peaches...

When they found a wild magician nearby on the map of the virtual world, the first reaction of Ya Xiu and the others was to stay away—not that their conscience was not clear, they were kind to others, and were unwilling to rob a strange magician they had never met, but that they were afraid. Two people are not enough to fight each other with one hand!

That's right, Ya Xiu is pretty sure that neither of them can beat the other alone!

They are still very compelling about their own strength: both Jian Ji and himself have achieved their current strength through the promotion of seedlings, there will be few miracles, and the combat system is almost non-existent.

Sword Princess is a little better. After all, her talent is there. It only takes a moment to catch up. A Xiu is just a thigh pendant. In addition to ordinary attacks, he will only call a double to send it. The weakest in the same rank is not an exaggeration.

They bullied the magician projection of the inheritance island and beat the knowledge creatures. They were already at their limit, and even a little too weak. Especially after gathering half of the silver wings, the intensity of the battle they encountered rose by one level, almost twice. At the same time, he had to exhaust his mana and was very reluctant to defeat the enemy.

Sorcerers like Ah Xiu and the two are undoubtedly heterogeneous in the sea of knowledge. After all, they have only become Sorcerers for only seven days. They belong to normal Sorcerers. They have not even gone out of the Novice Village. They are still in the village. The rookie stage of familiarity with the game mechanics!

And this magician who can appear near them has undoubtedly gathered more than half of the Silver Wings, and it has taken more than a month to enter the Void Realm, even half a year, a year is possible!

At this time, the advantage of time is enough to draw a big gap. To use the game analogy, the two of Asia Xiu are like players who have opened a plug-in upgrade, but they have not done professional tasks, main tasks, side tasks, etc., even Can't even play a set of tricks.

And because of the increase in level, the gate of truth will only teleport them to the high-level strange area!

Fortunately, the two of them were bound and teamed up, and they were replaced by other single magicians to experience their encounters, and they were killed by the knowledge creatures in the high-level strange area until they died and were overborn.

A normal wizard can only condense the Silver Wings one step at a time. Whether it is faction, combat system, and miracle mastery, it far surpasses the two forces of Asia Xiu, not to mention that the opponent has a high probability of fighting with the wizard. Experience, I'm afraid it wasn't just as soon as I played against him that Ya Xiu was a soft persimmon that could be targeted.

Although Ah Xiu can also bet that the opponent is not a combat magician, it is completely unnecessary- his body is still waiting to be nurtured in the prison. If he or Jian Ji die, even if he cries, "I won't play, give my life back to me.” ‘It’s useless, I can only obediently wait for the punishment of the Blood Moon Trial for the dog gambling.

So when he saw that the opponent seemed to be approaching, Ya Xiu immediately controlled the boat to avoid it. However, because of the white mist, the other party couldn’t find the boat a certain distance away. At this moment, Jian Ji suddenly bit his ear and proposed a very irritating bad idea.

“Wow, you are really bad, but I like it.”

“Cut, it sounds like you are something good.”

So the two sneaked around in front of the stranger, found a “somewhat troublesome” area in the virtual world map, and threw small stones to seduce the stranger to go.

According to the experience these days, most of the “a little troublesome” areas are habitats for intellectual creatures, and they are basically in the growth stage, are large in size, have amazing combat power, and use magic skills. Even if the magician can overcome it, it will inevitably not be able to retain the knowledge creature.

Sure enough, after seeing a stranger in the virtual world map, Ya Xiu saw that the “a bit troublesome” yellow area gradually turned into a “getting out” green area, and the green area was constantly moving. It was obviously a knowledge creature. Running away.

And Ah Xiu’s boat is guarding the escape path of the intellectual creatures!

It is actually very simple to judge which direction knowledge creatures are going to escape: unlike a magician who has a black eye, knowledge creatures must grasp the surrounding conditions of their habitat, so they can escape to a safe area every time instead of crashing into other knowledge creatures. Compete for land for their habitat.

Ya Xiu only needs to observe a circle and rule out the routes leading to areas such as “worth a visit” and “a bit troublesome”. The rest is the escape route that the intellectual creatures will most likely choose. Even if there are some errors, Ya Xiu can look at the map of the virtual realm and make corrections in time, and he can tell young knowledgeable creatures what it means to be “misfortune never comes singly” and “escape is shameful and useless” almost every time.

Relying on this method, Ya Xiu guided the stranger to the habitat of knowledge creatures, and then stayed nearby, waiting for the knowledge creatures to flee from the ruin, pick peaches, and take advantage of the fisherman’s profit.

This is not only rich in harvest, but also high in security. The combat power of intellectual creatures when escaping is greatly reduced, and it is easy to be beaten when encountering an ambush, just like when you suddenly step on a banana peel when you are chased by a ghost, everyone will be autistic.

When the unfamiliar magician consumes too much energy in the soul and can’t hold it to go offline, the two of Ya Xiu are still a little bit more interested. They killed a total of five knowledge creatures, harvested 12 magic spirits and 2 experience orbs.

Especially those two experience orbs, in Sword Ji’s words, “we earned half a year’s income from a common magician in one night”.

More importantly, among the nine magic spirits that Ya Xiu was assigned to, one was exactly the third kind of magic spirit needed for the miracle of slaying me!

It looks like a continuously spinning water polo, with a small water wing, which is trembling in the hand and looks very cute.

“circulation”

“One Wing Shu Ling”

“Restrictions: The affected subject must have a source of water.”

“Basic effects: All effects (instant damage, continuous effects) received by the first target are transferred to the second target, and the speed of circulation varies according to factors such as the distance between the two targets.”

“Passive effect: When there is liquid in the surgeon’s body, it can reduce the physical shock.”

“Water flows down. UU reading www.uukānshu.com”

Collecting the three magic spirits, the body, the heart sword, and the circulation, Ya Xiu has all the prerequisites for casting the miracle of “Slash Me”!

Next, you only need to quickly master the magic spirit, to the extent that you can evoke the resonance of the virtual realm in the prison, you can try to cast a miracle in the state where the magic is forbidden!

After collecting the circulating magic spirits, Ya Xiu opened the “Aurora’s Magician Handbook” and chose to recharge all the remaining 8 magic spirits!

One magic spirit is worth 8 points, and 8 magic spirits are 64 points. In addition to the 40 points that existed before, now Ya Xiu has a huge sum of 104 points, and he can buy a bunch of source crystals!

The purchase is successful!

Obtain 20 source crystals!

Then trigger the double reward for the first charge, and then get 40 source crystals!

In addition to the 4 source crystals signed in these three days, a total of 44 source crystals can be searched for 14 times!

It’s my turn, draw a card!

Chapter 83 - The Growth Report of the Dead Sword Girl

“If the damage is enough, use an opponent and cut open happily...”

Igola got up with a yawn, went to the bath first as usual, and within a few seconds of **** and lying in the bathtub, he heard the doorbell ringing and kept pressing very quickly.

Although he was puzzled, Igola wrapped a bath towel to open the door and found that Ah Xiu was outside.

“Come to guess the punch.”

“Don’t worry, guess the punch, and you have to guess me three times!”

“Is this a necessary ceremony?”

“Yes!”

“Will it be harmful to me?”

“no!”

Igola observed Ash for a while, feeling that he shouldn’t lie, so he said, “Then I don’t want to.”

“Why?”

“It’s love to help you, and it’s duty not to help you. Why should I help you complete the ritual?”

“What reason do you need to help people?”

“Your current position doesn’t support you for saying this... and I look like I’m doing charity?”

Ya Xiu pondered for a moment: “Do you know why the magician can’t drink freshly boiled water? You have to wait a while to drink it?”

Igola was taken aback: “Why?”

“You accompany me to complete this ceremony, and I will tell you.”

Does the freshly boiled water contain a trace of poison that can damage mana? Or is ‘boiled water’ a kind of ritual, and if it interferes, it will cause bad consequences?

In the world of wizards, everything contains truth. Maybe a trivial thing that is usually trivial is the ‘ritual taboo’ summed up by the wizards over thousands of years, like ‘chanting a mantra for the dead’ can effectively reduce the breath of death. Remnants on the body.

Therefore, when Ah Xiu said this, Igola was so curious that he agreed to Ya Xiu’s request and easily won him three times. For Igola who has a certain mind-reading ability, Ya Xiu came up with ideas every turn. Almost everything is on the face.

“Okay, thank you Igola!”

“What kind of ritual requires others to guess the box and win yourself three times...”

“This is called a knife-laying ceremony. Now I am unlucky to lose to you, and my luck will get better later, then bye-“

“Wait, you haven’t told me why the magician can’t drink freshly boiled water.”

“Because your tongue is hot.”

Igola dumbly watched Ah Xiu leave, closed the door, and went back to the bathroom to lie in the bathtub.

He looked at the ceiling and rubbed his temples, lost in thought.

“Is it because I have been with him too frequently recently, which has also affected my IQ...”

After Igula took a bath, she was lucky to trigger the ‘revelation’ magic spirit while brushing his teeth. I saw the splash of toothpaste and white foam leaving such a sentence on the mirror— —

“Don’t try to drink freshly boiled water”

“Who can drink!”

.....

...

At the end of the knife-laying ceremony, Ya Xiu returned to his bedroom.

“Are you sure to consume 30 source crystals for ten seeks? Note that you can manually increase the number of seeks. The more seeks, the easier it is to open rare cards!”

“Are you sure to consume 42 source crystals for 14 searches?”

“determine!”

call out–

The card drawing interface is still simple to the extreme, and there are eight white lights, four purple lights, and...two golden lights emerging from the light curtain!

The eight white lights are 5 bottles of energy potions and 3 bottles of experience potions. Experience potions can be used in stacks, and can increase the experience growth rate by up to 50%. But an operator can only use 1 bottle of energy potion a week, but he draws out so many energy potions... This is an item used to contaminate the card pool! ?

As Yaxiu continued to look, his eyes lit up: the four purple lights were 3 bottles of “Shuling Joy Potion” and 1 “Honey Belly Sword”.

“Shuling Joy Potion”*3: After using it on the operators, it can increase the goodwill of Shuling for the operators and speed up the speed of the operators to master the Shuling. It lasts for a week and cannot be used in stacks.

“Mouth Honey Abdomen Sword”: Honey that can be hidden under the tongue, when needed, it will be turned into a long sword by pressing it hard with the tongue. Can withstand any safety monitoring. Can be upgraded. .

Shu Ling Huan’s Potion is undoubtedly the most needed props for Ya Xiu. His “Heart Sword” and “Circulation” Shu Ling has just arrived, and he can’t master it in the virtual realm, let alone hook in reality. Resonates.

It’s just that this effect is a bit strange. It can actually increase Shu Ling’s favorability towards the operators. Could this potion make Shu Ling estrus...?

The Kou Mi Sword isn't available for the time being, but Ya Xiu will definitely need a weapon when he escapes from prison in the future. From the Broken Lake Prison, it can be seen that the outside world is bound to be a lot of obstacles for the escaped prisoners. I am afraid that security check facilities and monitoring equipment are not everywhere.

Therefore, a weapon that can pass the security check is simply a must-have item for dangerous elements to escape from prison.

Finally, there are two golden lights!

“Alchemist’s Refining Bottle”: After adding two bottles of the same potion, there is a 30% chance to refine a more effective high-grade potion, 30% chance to mutate into other rare potions, 40% chance to lose two bottles of potions if the refinement fails.

Ah Xiu immediately stood up-with this refining bottle, the potions that polluted the card pool could be returned to the furnace for rebuilding. Although there is a chance of losing money, but at any rate, there is a thought, as buying a lottery ticket.

“Random Shu Ling Summoning Card”: After using it on the operator, the operator will perform a summoning ritual to independently summon a rare Shu Ling of the current level, and raise the realm of the faction that the Shu Ling belongs to to the current level. Note that the restrictions, time, and requirements of the summoning ritual are also different depending on the magic spirit, but the longest time will not exceed seven days.

Suddenly, this golden card didn't seem to be very good. Isn't it just summoning 1 magic spirit, and Ah Xiu could harvest 12 in one night.

But a closer look reveals that the point of this card is not the magic spirit, but the 'current level'!

After these days of study, Ya Xiu also knew that the magicians in this world were divided into one-wing silver, two-wing gold, three-wing sanctuary, and four-wing legend. In other words, if Jian Ji was promoted to Second Wing, and then used a random summoning card on her, she would surely be able to summon the Second Wing Shu Ling – the more wings the better.

But the magician wants to summon the corresponding magic spirit, provided that her faction reaches the threshold.

If the faction realm does not have a gold rank, it is impossible for the magician to summon the corresponding two-winged magic spirit, and so on!

Therefore, the real effect of this gold card is to upgrade the operator to a random spell faction to the current Void Wing level, and obtain a magic spirit of the same level!

For a one-winged warlock, this gold card is equivalent to an experience orb + one magical spirit, but if the operator is a two-winged, three-winged or even four-winged warlock, then this gold card looks quite terrifying. .

In seven days at most, you will be able to master a magical faction that you have never encountered before from scratch!

Reason tells Asia that the later this gold card is used, the higher the value, but the current situation really does not allow Adam to hide good things as a squirrel.

For the subsequent escape action, Asia Xiu must convert all resources into combat power. If it is really lost and the escape fails, then I am afraid that Asia Xiu will regret applying to become Langner's plate of Chinese food.

The first is the refining bottle. Now there are 7 bottles of energy potions and 4 bottles of experience potions in Ya Xiu. Put them in pairs for refining, and finally get 2 bottles of high-level physical potions and 1 bottle of high-level experience potions.

"High-level physical potion": In the training operation, a high-level action point is added to the staff, which lasts for seven days. High-level action points will eliminate the energy consumption of the operators, improve the positive feedback that the operators get from the action, slowly improve the mood of the operators, and increase the **** level of the operators with a low probability.

"Advanced Experience Pharmacy": In the training action, the operator gains +50% of skill experience for seven days, and a single operator can add up to 100%.

This was supposed to be over, but Ya Xiu thought about it, and put two bottles of Shu Ling Joy Potion in it.

If the purification fails, he still has 1 bottle to use, but it succeeds.

“Shuling Exciting Potion”: After using it on the operators, it can greatly increase the goodwill of Shuling towards the operators, and greatly accelerate the speed of the operators to master the Shuling. It lasts for a week and cannot be used in stacks.

The name of this medicine is more and more like estrus medicine...

When Ya Xiu opened “Crew Management”, the game suddenly popped up a message:

“The training of the Dead Sword Princess has ended. Please check the growth report and set the training strategy for this week as soon as possible.”

“Growth Report of the Dead Sword Princess 4 Swordsmanship Faction: 0→Silver”

“Light Faction: 0→Silver”

“Water Faction: Not Getting Started→Silver”

“Magical Power: 0→Silver Half Wing”

“Cultivation evaluation: A!”

“Because of the A-level evaluation, the death berserk swordsman has received the professional enhancement of the wizard’s manual: one-wing swordsman → slaying silver wizard”

“Silverman of Destruction·Professional Features: Each effective attack can restore 0.5% of maximum mana.”

Ya Xiu didn't expect that there would be an evaluation session after the training strategy was over, and the high evaluation would also get a special reward-career enhancement.

Although it has nothing to do with him, there is no doubt that the stronger the sword girl, the more efficient they will be in exploring the virtual world, and the professional feature of the 'silverman of destruction' is quite practical.

Among them, Jian Ji's water technique faction can rise to the silver rank, naturally because they got 2 experience orbs last night, namely the sword orb and the water orb.

Because he and Jian Ji had the fetter of 'sharing experience', Asia Xiu undoubtedly gave up both of the two gems to Jian Ji. Looking at the touched expression of Jian Ji when she took the orb in the virtual realm, Ya Xiu seemed to be able to hear the prompt of "The bond between the dead sword and you has deepened".

Then open "Training Strategy".

"Dead Sword Girl"

"Current mood: 6 (experience bonus 0

"Optional actions: rest, entertainment, training, combat"

"Suggestion: Jian Ji has not had entertainment for a week. Appropriate entertainment can effectively increase the mood, and a combination of work and rest can better train and learn."

Ya Xiu hesitated slightly: Jian Ji had complained many times that she had no time to rest, and Jian Ji had helped him so much in the Void Realm. It was reasonable and reasonable, and it was time for Jian Ji to relax...

Snapped! Snapped!

“Axiu, come out, today we have to find the last team member as soon as possible!” Igola’s voice came from outside~www.mtlnovel.com~Axiu immediately recovered his senses from his feelings: As the saying goes, set an example, even he can’t Rest, how can Jian Ji rest?

I do not accept your suggestion!

PS: I finally made a million orders. Although I couldn’t reach the wishful thinking of 15,000 orders, Tingri was as happy as a code letter pig to add two more chapters and make up ten more! thanks for your support!

Welcome to the new leader Villie! Big boss domineering!

Here I solemnly recommend a new book by a great author who came from next door, the quality is guaranteed:

“Sleep in Darkness”

“The dark shadow outside the window whispered someone’s name with a cold, numb voice. The shadow on the ground crawled like a snake and insect. The elevator door at the end of the corridor opened by itself. The faceless elevator lady showed a weird smile. There is nothing in the shadow. The skin butcher slowly raised the butcher knife...

In this era when all countries in the world have laws prohibiting staying up late, Chen Xiao has lost his sleep. “

Chapter 84 - \"sincerity\"

Chapter 84 - \"sincerity\"

Gallus, Jianhua University.

Sonia returned to her bedroom and saw Lois getting up to study early in the morning while Adele was still sleeping with the doll in her arms. She couldn't help but ask in amazement, "Didn't Adele wake up early in the morning like you did yesterday? ? I also said that I want to summon Shu Ling before the end of this semester and step into the Void Realm..."

"She has been studying for a long time yesterday, and she didn't open the light screen to watch "Love Through Time" until she finished eating at noon." Lois said lightly: "Before changing to the game, she usually started to wander after eating breakfast and trim her nails. Playing with hair or something."

"Is it Dedaros's new play!?" Sonia asked subconsciously, but she shook her head quickly: "This way... can she get her diploma in the future?"

Lois shrugged: "It doesn't matter if you can't get it. She has a fiancé, and the other party is a very powerful nobleman. With her father's high official career a few days ago, it is estimated that Adele will get married directly after graduation. "

Sonia snorted, and unexpectedly found that she did not have any psychological fluctuations in Adele's fortune.

Before the change, Adele's family and life planning would definitely make Sonia envy: with the support of the family and the support of her fiancé, Adele could not do anything, and she would be a forever if she didn't understand the world. An aristocratic lady who only spoiled and spoiled, she can live happily and peacefully, and all bad things will be shut out for her.

She was born with everything Sonia wanted.

If it's not nothing, who wants to start from scratch; if it's not without backing, who wants to work hard; if it's not because they were born in a greenhouse, who wants to stand the wind and rain?

Suffering is never training, and unfair destiny is reality. Sonia used to have such a bad relationship with Lois and the others. In addition to Lois's domineering and despising her, there are actually some reasons for Sonia – Lois's confidence that stems from confidence has deeply hurt her. She left her hometown within a few days.

But now, Sonia finds that she no longer has jealousy and resentment when she hears about the happy future of others.

Although there is no rich fiancé and no help from the family, she does not think that her future will be worse than that of Adele, Lois and others—yes, she is still so superficial and has to be a human being. Only the master can satisfy self-esteem.

So many things have happened in the past week that Sonia has unwittingly changed things upside down.

She still loves beauty so much, she still strictly requires her makeup, and she still has so much scheming, but she has also become a wing warrior, a research apprentice of Professor Trozan, defeating Felix, and being able to compete with Sister Leonie. Confrontation (she doesn't think that is a victory)...

This series of events is like brick by brick, building a wall behind Sonia.

Even if Sonia can't hold on in the future and wants to retreat, she has to rely on it.

What's more, there is another person next to her, although it may not be reliable, although there are many shortcomings, although the current strength is even worse than her, but at least... he is standing by her side.

Sonia came back from the shower, put a silver coin on the table, let Shu Ling come out to eat, and then began to apply the mask.

At this time she noticed a few things on the table suddenly.

The first is a glass bottle with green, gold and pink liquid mixed in it, which is not a healthy drink at first glance. But Sonia remembers this glass bottle-seven days ago, when the viewer first appeared in the real world, she was holding the same glass bottle in her hand.

A note was pressed under the glass bottle, which read: "It contains high-level physical potions, high-level experience potions, and magical delight potions. Remember to shake it before drinking."

Sonia glanced suspiciously at the glass bottle, but in the end she still shook her head and took a bite—what else could she do? Last time, the viewer directly sent the potion into her throat, and now letting her drink it by herself is a release of goodwill.

As for whether the viewer would injure her such doubts, Sonia had long given up thinking.

Faced with an amnesiac who can control your actions and is suspected of resurrecting the legend, unless Sonia can find the viewer's body and control it in the basement to squeeze out the use value, all her plans will be as useless as the New Year's plan. significance.

It's better to hold on to the high-performance stock of viewers honestly, do what he asks, create a 'I'm easy to use' persona, first let the viewer relax their vigilance and expose more flaws.

The more viewers trust her, the closer to her anti-objective day.

The potion has a sweet taste of citrus, lemon, and sea salt, which is quite delicious. Sonia licked her lips and looked at another obtrusive object on the table.

A letter?

The viewer does not look like such a poetic person... Instead, it seems like the type who would tell me outside the door when I was in the shower...

Sonia opened it with doubts and found a precious card embellished with gold leaf, which read:

“Sword Ji, you will automatically perform a random Shu Ling Summoning Ritual next, and raise the faction of Shu Ling to your current level. Depending on the Shu Ling, the summoning ritual is also different, but the longest time will not exceed Seven days. When you read this line, random magic spirits will start to be drawn. I wish you luck.”

I saw the text on the card began to transform, and finally formed two golden text:

“sincerity”

Sonia naturally realized the power of this card in an instant: no need for her to learn to practice, the automatic summoning ceremony will allow her to raise the realm of a magic faction that she has never contacted before to the silver level! Also comes with a magic spirit!

Although it is just an experience gem, she is very close. If there are no viewers, she may not get an experience gem in this life~www.mtlnovel.com~ and “sincerity” seems to be The magical spirits of the Mind Faction, the Mind Faction is arguably the most difficult to get started with. Sonia definitely made a lot of money this time!

Rao is dissatisfied with the viewer’s repeated intervention in his own life, but last night he gave all the two experience orbs to himself, and now she has arranged such a wonderful welfare for her, Sonia couldn’t help but feel grateful: Guan Ye, meeting you is really the luck of my life!

At this moment, the card had melted into light smoke and dissipated. Sonia waited for a while and found that nothing happened.

The ceremony has begun? But how come it feels like nothing has changed?

At this time, the door of the bedroom suddenly opened, and Ingulite, who was hot on her body, stepped forward slowly, took up a towel to wipe her sweat and drank water, and said, “Adele, class is about to begin!”

Adele sat up woodenly and followed his body’s instinct to wash, without opening his eyes.

Ingulite went to take a bath, and Sonia and Lois also started preparations before class: eye shadow should be matched with lipstick, blush should not be overpowering, and the perfume is based on five-finger orange and bitter orange. No haunting.

Technician's Manual - Chapter 85

Chapter 85 - I am too lazy to write

"Ah! I forgot to wash my clothes!"

Adele hurriedly opened the closet, looking sad: "I forgot to wash the clothes a few days ago. I have no clean clothes to wear, Luo Yi—"

"Don't find me, blame yourself for being lazy." Loisy twitched her mouth: "My clothes are all tailor-made, and they are basically deformed once you wear them, especially the chest material is forced by you. ...Look for Sonia."

Ingulite, who came out of the shower, wiped her head and said, "I have some loose clothes, but I am taller than you, so the sleeves may not be suitable."

Adele looked at Sonia baba: "Sonia..."

In the dormitory, it was true that Sonia was the only one who was close to her. Sonia couldn't avoid it, so she had to think of a reason to prevaricate-she also didn't want to lend clothes for others to wear.

"No. I don't like to wear other people's clothes, and I don't want others to wear my clothes."

Lois and Ingulite glanced at Sonia, their eyes a little strange.

Adele blinked and had to borrow Ingulite's clothes. But Ingulite was a head taller than her, and the jacket of this swordsman girl almost turned into a dress on Adele.

This morning was a big public class, and all four of them had to attend, so they went out to eat in the dining hall together.

Halfway down the road, a male voice suddenly came: "Sonia!"

They looked over and found that it was a rather handsome blond man coming, and Lois's face suddenly turned black.

This male student is Mei Luowei. He had pursued Lois before. Seeing that he was good-looking and born from a nobleman, Lois rewarded him with a chance to pursue herself. She did not expect Sonia to make a few winks. He turned aside, causing Lois to lose face in front of her friends.

"Good morning, Merrowe."

"Good morning, Sonia." Mei Luowei said enthusiastically: "I rarely meet you after you transferred to the swordsmanship department. Today is such a coincidence, why don't you make an appointment for dinner together? It's the seafood season recently, do you think Do you want to go to the Gold Coast or eel?"

Lois sneered in her heart. Now Sonia doesn't even look down on Felix, and naturally she doesn't care about Meroving anymore. Mei Luowei suddenly took the initiative, afraid that it was not signaled by the family. After all, Sonia was an apprentice of Professor Trozan and had a record of defeating Leonie. In the future, she would almost be a Sacred Swordsman.

For small and medium-sized nobles, the joining of a three-winged artisan is a decisive help. If Mei Luowei was only excited before, then she must still be excited now.

Lois knows that Sonia will definitely refuse, but it is difficult to say how she refuses. After all, her relationship with her is still not good, I am afraid that she will take the opportunity to stab herself with yin and yang...

"No, I want to train, I don't have time."

“You are really hardworking, but relaxation is for better practice. If you are not interested in seafood, we can—”

“I don’t think it would be relaxing to eat with you.”

Mei Luwei’s face became stiff, and he said, “Excuse me,” and walked away quickly. Sonia took a few steps and found that the other three did not follow, but stayed behind and winked at each other, asking strangely: “What’s the matter?”

The four of them came to the lecture hall, and all the students passing by took the initiative to greet them. Don’t mention Sonia’s operations these days. Even before, she and Lois were a beautiful scenery in the school, and it was a routine operation where everyone was surrounded by people.

Lois responded enthusiastically to the classmates’ greetings, but Sonia just nodded calmly without a word coming out. When the other three saw this scene, the weird feeling in their hearts grew stronger and stronger.

As soon as he sat down, Adele’s face became pale: “It’s over, I forgot to write a small essay! This class is about to be accepted!”

Ingulite couldn’t help but gloat: “Then you are done.”

This class is “Modern History of Stars”. The professor Wesley is over 60 years old. He is notoriously rigid and rigid. Random spot checks are a routine operation. If the paper is not completed after class, I will wait for the revision next year.

Sure enough, when the gray-haired old professor walked into the classroom, he shouted the frightening command: “Put the paper on the podium and check it on the spot.”

With that, the old professor stretched out his hand, and a single-wing scholar Shu Ling floated onto the podium. Don't look like it's just a winged Shu Ling, but it is the nightmare of countless students-“Search” Shu Ling!

As long as the magician makes detailed settings, checking the magic spirit can quickly determine that the article does not meet the requirements. The magician can even cast a miracle, link it with the 'document library' in the school curtain, check the duplicates on the spot, and judge whether the student has plagiarized the document!

The students handed in papers one by one, and checked Shuling lightly on the manuscript. The manuscript showed green for passing, yellow for passing the manuscript with duplicate checking rate, and red for major plagiarism suspects.

The old professor didn't speak, and just sat there watching everyone hand in the homework. Only when the student did not hand in the homework, he hummed coldly and wrote down the student information.

When it was Adele's turn, she walked forward empty-handed, her big shiny eyes filled with sincerity: “Professor Wesley, I accidentally fell asleep while writing the paper last night, so I haven't finished it yet. Can I hand it in next week? ?”

Wesley glanced at her: “If you submit a paper next week with a duplicate check rate of more than 10%, you will fail in normal times.”

“Okay!” Adele bounced back, not paying attention to the pressure at all.

When it was Sonia's turn to step forward, she saw her with empty hands, but Wesley's expression eased a lot: “Did you not write?”

“Yes.”

“Why didn't you write? Because the training task is very heavy? I heard that Trozan often asks you to make up extra lessons. Although the cultivation of the magic faction is very important, the humanistic recuperation cannot be left behind.”

Other students are full of envy, jealousy and hatred—people are better than others, and they didn't write papers. They are sure to be deducted, but Sonia is backed by Professor Trozan, and Wesley has even helped her find reasons. !

As long as Sonia gets down on the donkey, UU reads www.uukanshu.com and says a few good things, the old professor might just dispense with her homework—

“I am too lazy to write.”

There was silence in the classroom.

After a while, Wesley showed a 'Am I wrong' expression: “What did you just say?”

Sonia felt that everyone was weird, and she had to repeat it subconsciously.

But she suddenly came back to her senses—wait, shouldn't I praise Wesley in the name of Professor Trozan so that he can save my thesis assignment?

“I...” Sonia opened her mouth: “I am too lazy to write such time-consuming and nutritious homework.”

Looking at Wesley's angry face that almost bursts with lava, and the admiring expressions of the surrounding students who want to laugh but dare not laugh, Sonia finally understands what the 'sincerity' summoning ceremony is!

Viewer, it is the misfortune of my life to meet you!

Technician's Manual - Chapter 86

Chapter 86 - Prison Break Research Club

“This is the port where the transport ship stays. The transport ship will come to the Broken Lake Prison on the 1st, 11th, and 21st to replenish the prison with supplies and executed prisoners. The transport ship is a medium-sized cargo ship, and there will be at least a team of **** hunters Accompanying the prisoners, the average strength of the blood mad hunters is about one wing and two wings. Unless they are escorting particularly important prisoners, the three-wing hunter captain will not appear...”

Ah Xiu looked at the prison guard who was biting his cigarette and vomiting clouds, and couldn't help but said, “Should we stand further and speak?”

Igola glanced at him: “No one will doubt you, this is my business.”

“Business?”

“When you met for the first time, didn't Igola invite you to escape with you?” Ronal was standing outside the yellow line on the shore, looking out over the calm and unwavering lake, the clear blue sky reflected in the lake, occasionally sparkling silver The light leaps across the lake, like a natural beauty-if you don't know that those 'silver lights' are finger sharks that can eat their bones as potato chips.

“I said, but isn't that an excuse to trick children into getting bait?”

“Although I appreciate your accurate positioning of yourself, don't insult my professionalism.” Igola glanced at Ash: “I never lie. If you go to the library and read the “Society Catalog”, you will You will see the society I formed on the thirteenth line of the second page-the Prison Break Research Club.”

There were many questions in the young Ashiu's heart: “How could the prison allow...there is actually a society in this prison...Why do you want to form such a society?”

“Savvy hunters often appear as prey.” Igola said lightly: “When I first met you, did I behave very enthusiastically, like an enthusiastic friend eager to win new companions?”

“Generally, newly arrived prisoners on death row, even if they are vigilant, will be attracted by the information I reveal. And I'm not just talking about it, I have really studied how to escape from prison, and I will take them everywhere.

“When they find out that I am a fool who is committed to escape from prison, they will slowly let go of their guards, and they will be lured into a situation where they will never recover before they know it.”

“I am a trap, this society is my bait.”

Ya Xiu said, “It sounds like a scum girl who has a pure appearance and a pure heart, who specializes in seduce wretched uncles...”

“I now start to have doubts about the chip’s speech control ability. No matter what you think, you have reached the threshold of spreading obscene information?” Igola said calmly: “In short, you don’t need to care about the sight of the prison guard at all– I’ve led people to do it more than a dozen times in the past.”

Ah Xiu blinked: “Is this your conspiracy? Pretend to be thinking about breaking out every day, and use the bait of breaking out to frame new inmates, and when you really want to break out, no one will suspect that you are breaking out. “

Igola looked at Ya Xiu in amazement, and immediately smiled: “A Xiu, you think of me so complicated and darkly, it is really sad.”

“Pooh.”

After investigating the port of Broken Lake Prison, the four returned to the prison. It is worth mentioning that although they reached the edge of Broken Lake Prison, they never went ‘outside’ from start to finish-Broken Lake Prison is a prison that covers the entire island, except for occasional glass canopies that allow the sun to fall. , The rest of the prisoners can only see the ceiling any time they raise their heads, and even the sea-viewing platform has a sunshade dome.

In the entire island, no one inch of land belongs to ‘outside the prison’.

Although it cannot be verified, the powerful control of the back-neck chip on the executed prisoners may have something to do with this ubiquitous ceiling.

“The place we are going next is the biggest result of my investigation into Broken Lake Prison. I have never taken anyone there. You are the first lucky ones to share this secret.”

Before Ah Xiu was moved, Lang Na said lightly, “Have you said this to every victim? Next, are you going to say, ‘So you have to swear to keep all my secrets’?”

Igola was a little surprised: “Gourmet, how do you know this sentence? It stands to reason that everyone who has said this sentence will be bound by the contract magic, and must keep my secret. You can’t say it, you can’t know it. .”

“The wall has ears, Igola. Unfortunately, I am a sophist with a particularly sharp hearing.”

“Understood, next time I do dirty work, I will be more careful and concealed-if I can continue to live in this prison.”

Ah Xiu glanced at Ronald next to Ronald. Ronald was very silent today, being led by Ronald, he didn’t say a word.

After the conversation yesterday ended, Ronald and Ronald had another death fight. You can refer to the practice of shredding the chicken for the specific situation, and the consequences are very obvious-if yesterday Ronald was regarded as a servant locked by Ronald, and his expression was a little reluctant, then Ronald has almost become Ronald’s pendant today. Although it is not joyful, but there is no resistance.

There are fewer and fewer parts of him belonging to ‘self’, and more and more belonging to ‘Lonna’.

One day, when he comes out of the treatment room, all the regenerated parts of his body will be engraved with the name ‘Lonner’.

Perhaps as Igola said, Ronald is already deep in the mud. He thought it was his victory to command Ronald with love, but he didn’t know that it was also Ronald’s fatal counterattack.

Love is a terrifying power, you can use it, but you will also be used by it; you are watching it, and it is watching you; you think you can become its master, but soon you will become its master slave.

When the seed of love germinates ~www.mtlnovel.com~ everything will be parasitized by it.

However, in private, Ronald still has the survival instinct and is determined to escape from prison. Fortunately, Ronald's ceremony cannot be held frequently, otherwise Ronald will definitely become a scum in a few days.

According to Igola's investigation, Ronald's "friend" has the shortest term of one month, which means that Ronald should be able to hold on until the second Blood Moon Trial arrives—this is enough. Anyway, Asia only needs a temporary one. teammate. As for whether Ronald can resist Ronald after breaking out of prison, it depends on his luck.

"However, I never lie." Igola laughed: "This place is indeed the key to our escape. I can even say that this place is just as important as Ah Xiu's miracle of purification... Here we are."

As important as my miracle of killing me?

Is it the secret passage of Broken Lake Prison? arsenal? Or is it.....

Ah Xiu raised his head expectantly, and saw a clear green sign above the room in front of—

"Men's bathroom"

Technician's Manual - Chapter 87

Chapter 87 - Weak medical practitioners

"Honestly, I'm the type who can't urinate when being looked at. Can you turn around?"

"Really?" Igula glanced over, and the corners of his mouth turned up slightly, and chuckled softly: "That's the case, no wonder."

Ya Xiu cursed and entered the cubicle.

Ronald looked around for a week, with a puzzled expression on his face: "What is so special about this bathroom that can be favored by fraudsters?"

"This bathroom is the same as all other bathrooms. There is nothing special about it." Igola moistened his fingers with clean water and gently washed his eyes: "The special thing is that the bathroom can be a medium for us to deceive the chip."

"Perhaps you know that I was a contractor in the insurance industry before I was imprisoned. Of course, I am not only responsible for signing contracts. Sales are also part of my work. With a variety of sources, it's all part-time jobs anyway, I just did a few more jobs at the same time."

Ah Xiu asked curiously: "Sounds very inspirational, then why were you caught in?"

Igola sighed: "Well, I also feel wronged when it comes to this. I always let customers buy their favorite products, but I was found to be a crime of fraud with a particularly serious plot."

Langner said suddenly: "If I remember correctly, your most brilliant record was when a rich man broke his fortune and bought a glass of water."

"A glass of water? A glass of ordinary water?"

"Water is not ordinary, it is the elixir of life, the origin of all life, the medium of miracles, the mother who bred the sky and the earth..."

Yaxiu has fully understood that Igola is the kind of strong person who can pass the interview questions like "You sell this pen to me for 1,000 yuan" with a perfect score.

"Well, there is no target customer for you here, so you can converge on your words, or talk about how to use the bathroom to deceive the chip."

Igola said: "One of the products I have once represented is a life monitoring instrument, which can receive the life signals sent by the miracle chip and analyze the user's current physical condition from various vital signs. The instrument is not The key, the point is, when I was studying the function of the instrument, I found that the miracle chip does not continuously send life signals, but there is a certain interval. The default frequency is 600 seconds/time, which is 10 minutes."

"The frequency can be adjusted, but the higher the frequency, the more demanding the instrument that receives the signal. For example, the instrument I promoted has a maximum specification of receiving a signal every 5 seconds. Even if there is no extra premium, the price of the instrument itself is extremely high. high."

"The chip processor responsible for collecting and analyzing our vital signs in Broken Lake Prison is undoubtedly military-grade, but even so, the prison will not be so extravagant to let our chip continuously send life signals-under the limit of the chip, we There is no way to escape from Broken Lake Prison. Even if the signal transmission frequency interval is the largest, the only effect is that we discover our sudden death later."

"The only place in the prison that allows us to continuously send life signals should be the death fight club ring. Because when we send out the life signal of coma or death, the death fight ring will immediately restore our attack limit, and life can be seen from it. The signal is monitored in real time."

Ah Xiu faintly felt that this is a very important information, but still did not understand how to use it: "It is indeed very interesting cold knowledge, but what does it have to do with jailbreak?"

Igola glanced at him: "If you disarm the chip and the chip no longer sends out the signal of life, guess how the information processor will judge your situation? You must know that even the corpse will send out the signal."

It was immediately clear to Ash: "It will determine that I have disarmed the chip, and will immediately notify the prison that there is an escape from the prison!"

"Yes, but in order to escape from prison, we must disarm the chip, otherwise we won't even be able to step out of this island."

Ya Xiu nodded. When they were observing the port just now, they found a circle of yellow lines on the shore. The yellow line reads "Please don't cross the yellow line."

Although there is a "please" on it, for the prisoners, this is the limit that cannot be crossed-when their toes touch the yellow line, their bodies will be completely stagnated and unable to move.

"Therefore, the period from 'deactivating the chip' to 'the processor found us to escape from prison' is our safest time to act. During this period, we have not only lifted all restrictions, but the prison has not found our anomaly." Look around for a week: "This is the time difference we must seize!"

"It's the limit to be able to study here. As for the transmission frequency of the life signal, we can only expect it to be the default 10 minutes."

Ronner said: "It's already very powerful. I thought you were just a rant, but Igola, your performance makes me have to admit that your success gave me hope."

Even Ronald nodded again and again, and Survival** awakened him a little bit of reason.

"As expected to be the man I chose, my vision is really good." Ah Xiu complimented himself first, and then asked, "But what is the use of the men's bathroom?"

Igola curled his lips: "Of course the toilet is used for excretion, can it still be used for eating? If you have a hobby in this area, please be sure to demonstrate it."

Speaking of his research results over the years, Igola was also a little energetic: "Now we know the time difference between using the chip to send a signal, but there is still a problem to be solved-how do we know when the last time a signal was sent?"

"Death sentenced prisoners are definitely not sending signals at the same time. This puts too much load on the processor. Therefore, the time we send signals is likely to be evenly distributed within 10 minutes. If the processor determines that we are in a special situation, it will temporarily adjust Signal transmission frequency, and then reset the signal transmission frequency of all prisoners to the initial state after 0:00."

“The so-called special situation is that the processor actually needs to get our life signal immediately in order to remove some of our permissions!”

“In the prison, there are only three places where ‘special circumstances’ will happen.”

Igola raised two fingers, “The first one is Deathmatch. The reason is that when the deathmatch begins, the chip removes the attack restriction; when the deathmatch ends, the chip restores the attack restriction.”

“These two time points are the docking time between the processor and the chip. The chip needs to send a life signal to the processor immediately! After the deathmatch is over, the chip will naturally restore the default signal frequency and will send the deathmatch again after 10 minutes. The life signal of the person.”

“In other words, we can take the initiative to enter special situations through special places such as Death Fight Club, thereby changing the signal frequency of the chip and fully grasping the time difference!”

Having said that, even Ya Xiu understood thoroughly.

He looked around for a week, then glanced at the urinal: “The restroom is the second place?”

Igola smiled and said: “In theory, we can also change the signal frequency through deathmatches, but deathmatches are endless. In contrast, the bathroom is more convenient.”

“As for why the toilet can have the same effect as a deathmatch arena, it is naturally because... the prison does not allow us to urinate and defecate anywhere, hahaha!”

Ronner was startled slightly, and couldn’t help but chuckle.

Because the prison requires that inmates can only excrete in the bathroom, every time a prisoner enters the bathroom, the prison processor will take the initiative to remove their ‘excretion authority’!

Just like the deathmatch arena, this is also a special state!

If you don't have this permission, even if you are constipated to the point where your whole body bursts at the touch of a touch, the chip will forcefully control your sphincter so that you can close the back court, and will never leak any soup. If it is really full, you can only vomit with the upper mouth.

For the prisoners, this is undoubtedly an indescribable shame, so the two old inmates, Igola and Ronna, laughed loudly. The strict rules set by the prison actually became their accomplices when they escaped. How can the wonderful causal contrast not cause them to laugh.

It's just that no one knows how much of this laughter is a mockery of oneself.

"Where is the third place?" Ah Xiu asked.

Igola paused from laughter and looked at Ronald.

Ronner thought for a while, "Is it a couple's room?"

Like the restroom, the couple's room will temporarily lift certain restrictions on executed prisoners, and even relax the limits of attacks on death row prisoners. After all, sexual addiction is free.

But like the deathmatch arena, the couple's room requires an application to enter, and of course it's not as convenient as the restroom.

In addition, there must be two or more couples to apply for the couple's room. Ronald and Ronald are down. Are Axiu and Igola applying to enter the couple's room! ?

Igola leaned against the wall and said, "You all know the secrets you should know, so I will now officially explain the escape plan."

"Aren't you looking for a fifth team member?" Ya Xiu asked, "We still lack the logistical support for rapid movement and treatment."

Ronald is a Moonshadow Werewolf who is good at frontal combat and can be used as a pioneer; Ronald is good at gunshots and trap layout, and can be used as a remote output. As for the logistical assistance responsible for the treatment and leading them to move quickly, Yaxiu and Igola have been looking for them for the past two days, but they have not been found.

What, what do you ask Ash and Igola for? Igola is human management, and Yaxiu masters the core technology. Of course, the two of them will not be responsible for fighting!

“I have looked for everything I can find ~ www.mtlnovel.com~ and can’t drag on any longer. Not everything can be done after sufficient preparation. Hurrying to battle is a common situation. After all, the opportunity for crime is fleeting. “Igola glanced at him: “Also, even if we can wait, can you wait?”

Indeed, Ah Xiu didn’t think that Professor Xi Lin outside would just let him go and let him spend his old age in Broken Lake Prison.

If he can leave Broken Lake one day earlier, he will be free from Professor Xi Lin’s conspiracy.

“The jailbreak plan is simple: get in the transport ship and leave.”

With water in his hands, Igola drew a small boat on the mirror, “But if we want to enter the transport ship safely, we not only need to remove the miracle chip, but also a legal identity.”

“What’s interesting is that in Broken Lake Prison, there happens to be a group of people who can leave by transport ship without applying, and they are the objects of our disguise that will not cause anyone to suspect—”

Igola painted a crow mask on the mirror.

“That’s the weak medical practitioners.”

Technician’s Manual - Chapter 88

Chapter 88 - Me, Sonia, good person!

Chapter 88 - Me, Sonia, good person!

"I have personally seen a medical practitioner get into a transport ship with the excuse of 'I want to go back for a good meal,' and they don't have to take off their masks after entering the transport ship. No one checks their identities during the whole process."

"Although I don't know why they have this kind of privilege, from the actual investigation, the identity of the medical doctor should be higher than the prison guard."

Lang took his eyes wandering and asked, "Do you want to deal with the medical practitioner?"

"It's just borrowing their clothes." Igola said, "The specific process is—we gather in the bathroom, and Ya Xiu cleans our nape chip. In the next ten minutes, we rush to the treatment room and use Shu Ling to subdue the medical treatment. The division took their clothes, and finally mixed into the transport ship preparing to return before the prison alarm sounded. Of course, the life of the medical division cannot be harmed. Their death will attract the attention of the prison alarm and guards."

"Does everyone understand? A very simple plan. The only place to practice is how to get from the treatment room to the port in a few minutes. Train more in these two days."

Ah Xiu asked: "What if the prison finds that the medical staff is injured, tell the transport ship to stop and check us?"

"At this time, the 'gourmet' and the 'woodpecker golden beak' are needed." Igola said lightly: "With mental arithmetic or unintentional, can you solve the blood mad hunters on the transport ship?"

Ronald looked at Ronald. Ronald took a deep breath and nodded his head: "Yes!"

“I will protect Ronald.” Ronald said.

“When will the transport ship arrive?”

“The transport ship comes to the prison on the 1st, 11th, and 21st.” Igola wrote a word ‘2’ on the mirror: “Today is the 19th, that is to say, you must master Yaxiu within two days. Is there a problem with purifying the miracle and performing it under the condition of limited mana? If you can’t do it, then the escape can only be postponed to the 1st of next month.”

Ya Xiu was silent for a moment and nodded: “No problem.”

“Then... disband, and in the next two days, please adjust your mindset and simulate the course of action that day, or you should eat and drink, don’t leave yourself any regrets.”

Ronald and Ronald took the lead to leave. When Igola also walked out of the bathroom, Ya Xiu suddenly asked: “The premise of your plan is that the chip will change the signal frequency because of the special situation. But if the chip enters the special situation, It will also send life signals at a fixed frequency. Doesn’t this plan necessarily fail? Maybe the prison processor will discover our abnormality just after we disarm the chip.”

Igola looked back at him: “Yes, there is such a worst possibility.”

“Then what should we do in case the worst is possible?”

“What to do? You ask me?”

Igola seemed to be enraged, and a stride rushed over to grab the collar of A Xiu, and looked at the latter with his eyes straight.

“What are you looking forward to? I designed a perfect plan for you? If you are not satisfied, you can throw it back and let me modify it? Do you still want to make some interesting requests, such as leaving Broken Lake Prison on a rainbow?”

He might want to lift Ashiu up or push it to the wall, but the restroom only allowed excretion permission, not attack permission, so Igola could only grab Ash by the collar.

Ah Xiu didn't flinch: "If that makes you a little better... I'm sorry, I took advantage of you."

"But I feel very grateful for this in my heart. Fortunately, it is you who have used you. If you are someone else, you will definitely not be able to come up with such a highly feasible plan.

"Do you think it's useful to say a few nice words?" Igola sneered a few times, but suddenly he changed his anger, stretched out his hand to adjust the collar of Ash, and said slowly: "But if you really want to prepare more and improve The fault tolerance of the jailbreak plan is not impossible."

"any solution?"

"Pray to your four-pillar god, my dear leader of the cult."

Igola left a scornful look and turned to leave.

...

Gallus, Jianhua University.

"Professor Liblom, I think Lois is a better candidate. She has served as the emcee of various activities before, and she will be very happy to take over the job of the host..."

The young professor holding a textbook in his hand stopped and looked helplessly at the entangled female student: "Miss Servi, the host list of the two schools' party has been reviewed by six persons in charge and reported to The principal has finally determined it. It is not a small activity of the small college and small department, you can let your small group operate freely to replace people..."

Sonia suddenly became anxious: "Professor, I definitely didn't mean that. I have a bad relationship with Lois, and I definitely didn't give this opportunity to her to take care of her! Or you can not give it to her. The elder sister from the third grade can replace me!"

Liblom sighed: "Miss Servi, do you remember our school motto?"

"'Shounuo is the most beautiful rose on the hilt, and the guardian is the sharpest blade under the rose'."

Sonia said helplessly.

"Keeping promises and guarding is the school's greatest expectation of you. If you want to resign from the role of the host, you must give a suitable reason, otherwise the poor performance in this important matter will greatly affect the school's treatment of you. evaluation of."

Liblom said seriously: "And you are still Professor Trozan's research apprentice. In order to show justice, the school may even give you a warning!"

As an apprentice of Professor Trozan, Sonia naturally has many preferential treatments in private, such as the professor turning a blind eye to her homework.

But on the bright side, Sonia's every move must be scrutinized, because she is now the best student at Jianhua University. She represents the face of the university and cannot be flawed or affected. The university's reputation!

Sonia also didn't want to take warnings. The first step for the school to punish students is to issue warnings, the second step is to suspend school, and the third step is to remove them directly.

In other words, after taking this warning, Sonia was only one step away from returning to her hometown to farm.

"I am not suitable to be a host because of some special reasons..."

"what reason?"

Sonia opened her mouth, her lips quivered, but she couldn't make a word out of her mouth for a long time. Liblom raised his eyebrows: "Miss Servi? What is your reason?"

"I..." Sonia spoke very hard, as if fire was burning in her throat: "I..."

"Are you unwell? Something at home? Busy with your studies? Swordsmanship training has reached a critical point?" Liblom felt hard looking at it, and took the initiative to think of many reasons for Sonia, letting her choose any prevarication over it.

"That... is..." Sonia said her tears were about to fall: "At the party I need to introduce the outstanding students in our school, I need to praise the school's performance this year, and I need to introduce the teaching achievements of the professors..."

"Yes, this is one of the host's tasks. What's wrong?"

"But...I...I..." Sonia whispered tearfully: "I can't lie."

Liblom blinked.

"Very good quality, Miss Servi, I hope you can continue. So do you have a valid reason to resign as a host?"

Sonia's mouth twitched, unable to utter a word for a while, and gritted her teeth: "No! Yes!"

"Have a nice evening to you."

Seeing Liblom leave, Sonia stomped her feet with helpless anger. She can still struggle a bit, but her feet are walking in the direction of the training hall-it's time to train.

When she stepped into the training hall, Sonia attracted the attention of the audience. But unlike the envious sights in the past, this time the sight is a little bit more indescribable-admiration? Mocking? gloat?

“Professor Wesley was so angry that he didn’t go to class...”

“Felix is not as crazy as her, is genius great?”

“Hey, genius has the courage to be aggressive and domineering, and doesn’t need to care about interpersonal relationships...”

Sonia became more grief and anger as she listened to her. She, who was so exquisite and dripping, was one day regarded by others as an arrogant genius who didn’t pay attention to interpersonal relationships!

Even reduced to being on par with Felix!

At this time, Felix also came into the training hall. When passing by Sonia, he coughed twice and jokingly said, “Senior Sister Sonia, Professor Trozan has listened to your opinion and has gone to a stylist to change her hairstyle. NS.....”

Many swordsmanship apprentices took a breath-no one in the school knew that Professor Trozan maintains a very tacky mushroom hair style, but no one dared to question Trozan’s aesthetics, even if they did not. Professor Nidala, the ‘Rhythm Swordmaster’ who was too dealt with, never used this to mock the former.

How vicious did Sonia say that Trozan had to give up the hairstyle that he had insisted on for a full ten years?

As expected, Sonia can easily do things that no one else can do!

At this time Ingulite also came to train, she saw Sonia trot over, clenched her fist and encouraged: “Sonia, come on, you are doing the right thing. Our swordsman should rather bend than bend like this, and we don’t need everyone. I like them all, you have to keep going!”

I would rather bend than bend! I don't want to be the same!

I also want to lie, want relationships, want everyone to like me, do everything with less effort, and wherever I go, people will take the initiative to cater to them, instead of being regarded as a poisonous bomber who can't talk. !

Sonia became more grief and anger as she listened, devoting all her energy to ravaging the armor statue, and every sword slashed into the ten rings of the armor statue fiercely. For some reason, the more she slashed, the more excited she became, and the more she swung, the more powerful she felt. She was not tired from training, and she could even feel a trace of happiness, and her body energy was constantly pouring out!

Ding~www.mtlnovel.com~ With a clear sword sound, a Yiyishu Ling appeared on the tip of her sword-it was a Yiyishu Ling 'slash the sword'!

Sonia was a little stunned. She didn't understand why the training efficiency was so high today, the training process was so refreshing, and even a wing of magic spirit was successfully summoned. Of course she didn't know that it was the effect of high-level physical potion, and she would only find the reason from her performance today.

Today she did not wear a hypocritical mask, disgusted when she should be disgusted, and liked when she should like it.

Today she did not lie, did not cover up in order to avoid punishment, did not peruse to maintain the relationship.

Today, she didn't wrong herself, seeing Professor Trozan's ugly hairstyle outspoken, and she decisively refused when Adele borrowed clothes.

Then her training efficiency was greatly improved, and the training process was relaxed and comfortable.

Combining these factors, Sonia couldn't help but come up with a terrible conjecture.

Could it be that she Sonia Servi...

In the bone is a good and upright person! ?

Technician's Manual - Chapter 89

Chapter 89 - Jian Hee, do you hate me

Chapter 89 - Jian Hee, do you hate me

In the virtual world, on a small heritage island, the flames start a prairie fire!

"The flames are heavy, burn my remains!"

The axe slasher wearing heavy armor let out a roar, his whole body was ignited with flames, even his pupils turned into flames, the breath of flames was exhaled when he opened his mouth, and boiling magma flowed out from the gaps in the armor!

A flowing flame ignited on the cutting axe blade. He swept across with a loud shout. Sonia immediately retreated and avoided. Then he suddenly rolled to the left, and the cutting axe also transformed into a sword cutting form, stabbing to the side. A Xiu who attacked with a sword of heart!

Ya Xiu immediately plunged the sword into the ground, urging the two magic spirits, the Earth Sword and the Wind Wall, to form a miracle-the "Sword Wind Bulwark"!

The bright yellow sword body barrier perfectly enveloped Ya Xiu!

clang!

Sword Sword and Sword Wind Bulwark made a piercing explosion, but until Sword Sword's flame was worn away by Sword Wind, Ya Xiu didn't take a step back, and the barrier was not damaged at all!

This defensive miracle with the two-winged magic spirit as the core is almost equivalent to a fortress that never falls in the sea of knowledge!

The attack was frustrated, but the flames in the Axe Slayer's eyes were still hot. He let out a low roar, the sword sword gushed out boiling magma, and he thrust into the sword wind barrier fiercely!

"Happiness, anger, sorrow, all fall into the dust!"

boom! boom! boom! boom! boom!

With every explosion, the magma-slashing sword bombarded the sword wind barrier like a heavy artillery, and Ya Xiu's mana was almost disappeared like a waterfall, and the luster of the sword wind barrier became dimmed, and it seemed to be crumbling, as if at any moment. Will be shattered!

This is the attack miracle of the Axe Slayer!

"Sword Princess!"

As Ya Xiu shouted, Sonia was also ready, and the tip of the wooden sword flashed through the brilliance of steel, and cut into the armor of the axe cleaver as if cutting butter!

At the same time, the wooden sword burst into sharp fluctuations, turning into a round of blades that continuously spread and rotate, cutting the axe-cutting master into dozens of pieces!

Sonia's "Split Wave Slash" was completely completed after she obtained the "Slash Sword". Because the Wave Sword is stronger in impact rather than slashing, the Split Sword is to increase the attack area and weaken the attack power, so the previous "Splitting Slash" looked bluffing, but in fact it did not do enough damage.

But now with the sharp blessing of Slashing Swords, Split Wave Slashing makes up for the lack of attack, coupled with a large area of attack range, short and medium range attack distance, it can be called the most practical swordsmanship miracle among Yiyi Swordsman!

The only problem is that Sonia just got the sword slashing, she is not very proficient in combination, it takes some time to prepare, and there has been no opportunity to use it just now. Now that Ya Xiu has attracted hatred, she finally has enough time to use it. NS.

Of course, as to whether she deliberately wanted to see Ah Xiu being beaten, no one knew.

“Pity sentient beings, there are so many sorrows...”

With the last sigh, the axe-cutting master extinguished like a flame, leaving behind four magic spirits and a master manual.

But neither of them was in a hurry to pack the spoils, and Ya Xiu looked at Sonia with some doubts: “Why didn’t you say a word tonight? Sore throat?”

Since entering the Void Realm, Jian Ji has been very silent. Ya Xiu thought she was in a bad mood, but there was no comment after the battle, which was very abnormal.

Before switching to the game, she would first say what contribution she made in the battle, and then point out the mistakes made by Ya Xiu in the battle, so that Ya Xiu could not help but feel that she had made little contribution and was full of gratitude to her...

Hey? and many more?

Think about it carefully, is Jian Ji always using her words to suppress me and make me dependent on her?

As soon as Ash’s social animal radar reacted, Sonia shook her head, pointed at Ashura angrily, and pointed to her own mouth.

But Ya Xiu understood: “You mean, this is because the random magic spirit summoning card has taken effect. You are in the summoning ceremony and can’t speak?”

Sonia nodded.

“Then you can write, what you want to say, just write it on the sand.”

Sonia suddenly realized that she clapped her hands and wrote a few words on the sand with a wooden sword.

“Watcher, I curse you little speaker.”

Yaxiu looked at Sonia, and Sonia looked at the words on the sand, and said, “It turns out that not only can I not lie with my mouth, but I can’t even write against my heart.”

In Sonia’s explanation of adding an insult to every five sentences, Ya Xiu quickly understood—she randomly came to the summoning ritual of “sincere”, which is a very simple summoning ritual, and there is no need to squander sweat like swordsmanship. There is no need to spend a lot of time learning like other magic factions, just to be honest and not to lie.

To be honest, Sonia’s luck is not bad. Not only is the magic spirit of the “sincere” spiritual faction very precious, but also because this summoning ritual has nothing to do with most people.

Like Ash, he tells the truth every day, and no one believes that he is a wronged cult leader.

With other ordinary people, even if he had to tell the truth every day, he could hide at home as much as possible and stay as silent as possible outside.

But Sonia alone can’t—she is a figure in the school, and countless people pay attention to her every move. Not to mention that she is not looking for trouble. There are many things that just come to her every day. There are ties and conspiracies. Yes, there are inside and outside schools.

It would be fine if Sonia had been a high-cold person from the beginning, but the problem was that she used to be a good student, a good lady, a perfect person who went out of the hall to the sword hall, and was faintly regarded as a first-year sword flower.

Suddenly she couldn't lie, and it felt like a collapsed personal design. The villain Sonia became arrogant and disdained to maintain interpersonal relationships!

As Yaxiu listened and laughed, Sonia became angry: "Did you make a mistake, I am in trouble now, don't you help me stop this ceremony!"

"I'm sorry, I have not received professional training. I can't help seeing you so unlucky." Ah Xiu smiled and said, "But if you stop this ceremony, you will not be able to call 'sincerity' on your own, and you will not be able to raise your mind faction to Silver realm, is this really good?"

Sonia hesitated: "If I continue this ritual, I will offend many people in the next few days. And their value is compared with the spiritual faction...obviously the spiritual faction is more important."

Sonia was stunned when she finished talking-did she think so? She turns out to be the kind of person who takes personal strength the most important, even if she destroys her interpersonal relationship for it?

"Look, you said so."

"But at least help me suspend one of the days! I will be the host of the networking party in a few days. I must lie at that time, otherwise I will offend many people!"

"I can't do it." Ya Xiu said, "After I arranged for you this week's plan, even I can't cancel it. I can only temporarily add some special events to you at most, not reduce your existing itinerary."

"Incompetent! I can only control my weak through despicable means!"

“You’re right, after all, it’s really not me who controls you, but Aurora... a gift from my last life.” Ya Xiu shrugged.

Sonia had actually anticipated this, because the viewer’s ability to control her was too different from the viewer’s own combat power, which meant that the viewer did not rely on his’now’ ability to control her.

Since it is not now, it is his legacy as a legendary powerhouse before his amnesia rebirth.

Perhaps this is the reason why the viewer has always relied on himself: he can’t use the inheritance at will, the inheritance randomly chooses her, so the viewer can only help her become stronger as much as possible, and wait until Sonia is strong to a certain extent before feeding back. he.

Sonia’s curse just now was not a whim. From the moment she entered the virtual world, she has been arranging the layout, in order to use the label of ‘I can only tell the truth now’, to say a little off-line accusation, to make the observation. The reader takes the initiative to speak out more information, and will not arouse the viewer’s disgust.

‘Honesty’ is also available.

Just as Sonia digested the information that Ya Xiu revealed, Ya Xiu suddenly asked, “By the way, Sword Ji, do you hate me?”

Sonia covered her mouth as soon as she finished speaking, and her eyebrows were almost erected-she was really angry this time.

“I warn you, if you take this opportunity to ask the secret in my heart.” She said seriously: “I will hate you for the rest of my life.”

“Sorry, I’m sorry, it’s my fault.” Ya Xiu quickly apologized to the third company. “You have the priority to choose the spoils tonight... eh?”

While talking, the four magic spirits exploded by the Axe Slayer had already crawled onto Ya Xiu without knowing it. One of the cat-shaped single-winged magic spirits was the most excessive. It kept rubbing against Ya Xiu's armpits. It smells good.

Noting Sonia's puzzled eyes, Ya Xiu explained: "I used Shu Ling Exciting Potion, which is more effective than the Shu Ling Joy Potion I drank with you, so Shu Ling was entangled with me."

"Will this potion make Shu Ling actively seek us out?"

"I don't know, but it can increase Shu Ling's favorability towards us, maybe it's possible?"

The four magic spirits are 'slashing axe', 'burning', 'magma', and 'residual body'. The slashing axe is an indispensable skill for the slashing master. It effectively improves the destructive power of the slashing axe form and the slashing sword form. What's more interesting is that it is actually a cat form of the magical spirit.

And 'burning' and 'magma' are pyrotechnic magic spirits, their miracle almost broke the sword wind barrier of Ya Xiu~www.mtlnovel.com~ and 'remnant' is a weak faction, the specific effect is that the more harm you get Heavy, the stronger the body's resilience and resistance, and the greater the reduction of pain, so the 'natural miracle' that the axe chopman just now is actually a common skill.

It can also be seen from this battle that the magician projections they encountered have become more and more powerful, from the gunsmith with only one magic spirit to this one with four magic spirits and mastering two miracles. division. The rapid growth of magical power has caused the gate of truth to go deeper into the sea of knowledge.

Unless you choose to lie flat and escape, the virtual realm will always chase the magician.

Sonia flipped through the magician's manual and threw it to Ash, who took it and looked at it and found that it was a "Trophy Catalog"-it seems that the Axe Slayer was a robber before he was alive?

No, Ya Xiu quickly overthrew his thoughts. This axe slasher was probably a religious mercenary, or a mercenary with religious beliefs, because most of the spoils were contributed as materials to the "Holy Fire Temple" mentioned in it. '.

The trophies are all kinds of materials and go to the temple, and the wisdom race develops into the congregation. It is also assigned to the temple if it is a magical or miraculous spell. I don't know if the axeman has excellent qualities or the temple rules are strict , The axe slayer almost never embezzled loot once, except for...

"Sword Ji, look at this place."

"I'm not you, like a veeva who comes here will not refuse to do anything," Sonia said, "You know, I can't lie now."

Although Ah Xiu felt that she was taking the opportunity to scold him upright and he was not even qualified to retaliate, but he had no evidence.

"It says how to trigger the vortex."

"It's a whirlpool, no wonder... the whirlpool is triggered?"

Facing Sonia's surprise gaze, Ya Xiu nodded: "According to the above, the vortex is actually a virtual realm mechanism that can be triggered artificially!"

Chapter 90 - Vortex Mystic Poison

Chapter 90 - Vortex Mystic Poison

"Loot No. 221: Cylindrical Labyrinth"

"Source: Caravan of Emerald Cross"

“Acquisition process: The temple sent us to looting a caravan from the Emerald Cross. Unlike most caravans, they did not carry any flags, which means that they were not protected by any forces. In this desert, This can only prove that they are hungry for death, or that they have the ability to protect themselves.”

“They are indeed very strong. After the damage to the three silver fire knights, we were led by the captain to completely kill this caravan. Presumably under the **** of the three silver fire knights, their souls will be purified in the flames. , Ascend the stairs of the sun and gain eternal peace.”

“While searching for trophies, I found a very delicate cylinder in a tent that I could hold with one hand. Just then, I found a child hiding in the dark. He was staring at the cylinder in my hand. .”

“Perhaps Jie Huo deceived my heart. I asked him, what is this, he said, this is a family heirloom, and it contains the secret of triggering the vortex.”

“Before the captain came in, I had completed the purification of the child, and wish his soul out of this disaster land forever.”

“I hid the cylinder. After some investigation, I found that it was a treasure named ‘Labyrinth.’ It contained the breath of Four Wing Shu Ling. If it is not opened according to the correct method, the mechanism left by Four Wing Shu Ling will be lost. Automatically damage the contents inside.”

“My wisdom is not enough to solve this maze, so I pursued the smartest woman in the temple. After making the vow of never betrayal, I gave the cylinder to her, and it took her a month to finally open it. Cylinder, got the secret in it.”

“Relying on this secret, our mana has improved by leaps and bounds. Because of my stupidity, I only triggered the vortex once, and she triggered it twice, and the Silver Wings have been fully deployed.”

“Until one day after I left the Void Realm, I found the Templars restrained my body. She was standing behind the knights with a serious face.”

“She told me that there was a broken cylindrical maze hidden in my clothes. She was promoted to the second wing, and she no longer needs this secret, and no longer needs me. What she needs now is an opportunity for temple appreciation, and she needs relief. The whirlpool secret poison.”

“Hiding and damaging important trophies privately, I was sentenced to capital punishment. I could not be purified in the flames. I could only sink into a nightmare in the sewage. Until the last second, I did not tell the secret in the column, because the vow of never betrayal was still After it took effect, she only unilaterally lifted the oath through a miracle after she was promoted to the Second Wing. The oath is still binding on me.”

“Actually, if I use a miracle and burn the remains, I can temporarily suppress all abnormal conditions on my body, and naturally I can break through the oath and expose her disguise.”

“But looking at her, for some reason, I gave up.”

“Perhaps Jie Huo deceived my heart.”

“Final destination: Damaged.”

Sonia hugged her hands: “Holy Fire Sanctuary...I haven’t heard of this force.”

“It stands to reason that normal people should not express their feelings about this magician’s emotional experience?”

“Do you really want to listen? I can’t lie now.”

“Forget it then.”

“How to trigger the vortex? Why did you deliberately skip it just now?”

“I’m wondering if I can tell you.”

Sonia was startled slightly, she wanted to shut up, her expression very hard. Ya Xiu had never seen a sword girl like this before, and he almost laughed.

Sonia couldn't hold back when she heard the laughter, and she pressed her voice and said: "You are so on guard against me and want to eat alone? My value in your mind is not as good as a whirlpool secret?"

Ah Xiu was a little surprised: "So are you angry that I am wary of you eating alone, or are you angry that your status in my mind is not as high as you think?"

Sonia's eyes were almost visibly filled with anger: "I—"

"I'm sorry, don't answer, I was wrong." Ah Xiu quickly said, "I am not on your guard either, but this secret is poisonous. Once you understand it, you will get it. I have been recruited. , So I don't think you need to know."

"Poisonous knowledge? I don't believe it." Sonia said, "I think you are lying to me, big liar."

"I have to say, you are really good at dealing with you who can only tell the truth." Ah Xiu said, "Then I'll tell you, don't blame me."

"How is it possible, if I get caught, I will definitely blame you for not persuading me; if I'm fine, I will think you are lying on purpose." Sonia spread her hands: "I don't think I'm wrong anyway."

"...It's really unreasonable." Ya Xiu sighed: "But this poison is not serious at the moment. As the saying goes, we are in the same boat. I am the only one poisoned and I feel quite at a loss..."

"The way to trigger the vortex is to find an intellectual creature of the ichthyosaur species, make it seriously injured, and after it escapes, chase it all the way, but don't kill it, but let it collapse naturally. The location of its corpse will form. Vortex channel, this is because..."

Sonia and Ashiu said in unison: "The sea of knowledge is embracing its sleeping child."

After all, Sonia looked at Ash in surprise.

She blurted out the words just now almost naturally, as if after listening to the knowledge introduced by Axiu, new knowledge was bred out of that knowledge and flooded into her mind uncontrollably!

At the same time, Sonia felt a strange feeling, nothing changed, but she felt that the whole world was different!

She looked around for a week to try to find the difference, and soon her eyes focused on the water outside. After staring for a while, she felt nauseous in her heart——

“The toxicity of this hidden poison is that it makes us hate water.” Ah Xiu said.

He opened the “Ollora’s Handbook of Magicians” -“Crew Management”, and saw that both “End Viewer” and “Dead Swordsman” had an abnormal state.

“Vortex Secret Poison”

“The number of people infected with the secret poison: 131”

“Secret Poison Strengthening Degree: 131%”

“The current effect of the secret poison: aversion to water (the enhancement level reaches 300% for enhancement, reduction to 100% for relief, and reduction to 50% for conversion into a buff).

The very strange toxin is not a harm to the body, but a distortion of the soul. The most frightening thing is that the more people who know this secret, the higher the enhancement of the secret poison, and everyone who knows the secret will be affected by it!

When Ya Xiu told Sonia about the secret poison information, Sonia suddenly got a bad face: “Why didn’t you just reject me resolutely! Little speaker!”

It's really true, and if you say you will blame me, you will definitely blame me. Although this kind of sword girl is much easier to get along with, she has also become a lot disgusting, just like a double-labeled bear child with no words.

"Wait, you just said that if the number of infected people is less than 50, this secret poison will be turned into a buffing effect?" Sonia suddenly said: "Then we will all other people who know the secret..."

She made a gesture of cutting her neck, and Ashiu immediately slammed to the back: "Are you the wife of the Axe Slayer in the story?"

"I will not betray you until you are sorry."

"Your truth is really uneasy..." Ah Xiu murmured.

After such a conversation, the two also understood why this secret was hidden in the cylindrical maze without any extra effort, and also understood why the axe choreographer was betrayed-because even if you can guarantee your own confidentiality, you cannot guarantee that others will not leak it .

Once the leak spreads, the secret poison reaches a certain critical point and is likely to be strengthened to almost death poison~www.mtlnovel.com~ For example, it is completely inaccessible to water, or even shock and death when it touches water.

When that critical point is reached, the weak who have no life-saving means will die, and the number of people who know the secret will quickly drop to a safe level.

Therefore, those who know secrets are natural enemies, and every one who knows secrets has to get rid of other secretaries as much as possible to reduce the possibility of his own death. For this reason, the wife of the Axe Slayer resolutely reported the Axe Slayer after unilaterally canceling the oath to reduce the number of infections.

But even if everyone who knows the secret takes the initiative to guard the secret, the secret will still be spread out-just like Ash and others, other magicians can also obtain similar information from the magician's manual.

The Void Realm is the tomb of the magician, and death cannot keep a secret.

Therefore, after knowing this secret, Ash was equivalent to taking the mortal poison and embarking on a path of no return.

If he does nothing, when the number of infected people suddenly increases one day, causing the secret poison to be strengthened to a level that he cannot bear, then he can only complain a few words, 'Why me? Why is it so? After that, he ended his journey to another world under the torture of the poison.

But unexpectedly, Ah Xiu didn't have much fear.

Because he knew that all the difficulties endowed by the virtual realm could be solved by one method.

From beginning to end, there is only one way for the magician to survive.

"Then then we should find a ichthyosaur-type knowledge creature." Ya Xiu said: "Only when we become stronger can we alleviate the power of the secret poison, and even directly eradicate the secret poison – such as forgetting this. A piece of knowledge-in short, we must make good use of this poisoned intelligence, convert it into our strength as much as possible, and keep moving forward without stopping!"

"Isn't this a matter of course." Sonia said next to the boat: "Isn't our magician such a greedy creature?"
