Chapter 91 - Prison Break Countdown

"If the damage is enough, use an opponent, cut it open happily, and curse yesterday. I waited into the night for the day, and there were scars left..."

With the sound of getting up and singing, the prison enters free time, and all dormitory access control changes from red to green.

When Ah Xiu came to the central hall, he just saw the light curtain announce the weather: "...The meteorologist announced that on April 21, the weather will become cloudy and clear, and the goblin conception rate will increase sharply today..."

Death row prisoners came in and out in the dining room. As usual, when Ah Xiu came in, many people took the initiative to greet them and their attitude was quite respectful-they could win two consecutive death battles and survive the blood moon trial.' The evil demon'A Xiu has been regarded by the prisoners as another strong man who can sit in prison.

As soon as Ash sat down, Igola sat across from him. They looked at each other and didn't speak. After eating breakfast quietly, they came to the sea-viewing terrace on the top floor. Ronald and Ronald were waiting for them.

Except for those who want to observe the conditions of the sea, no one will come to the rooftops to bask in the sun early in the morning. There are only four of them on the rooftop, so Igola directly asked: "Is the miracle ready?"

Ya Xiu clenched his fists, closed his eyes to recall the feeling of resonance with Shu Ling, and let out a soft breath: "I can only say, do my best."

After many days of running in and practicing in the virtual realm, Ya Xiu has mastered the miracle of 'cut me', and even successfully prostituted the miracle of cut me in the virtual realm without spending a little mana. But he can't guarantee that he can perform miracles 100%, after all, the difference between reality and virtual reality may be as big as the difference between a restaurant and a toilet.

Igola nodded noncommittantly, and looked at Ronald and Ronald: "Being locked up here for so long, can you still remember the way the magician fights? If there is a problem later, you will rely on the person who will raise the problem to solve it. ."

"I have just been in jail for less than a month, no problem."

After not seeing him for two days, Ronald became more and more haggard. It is not that his body is thin, but the whole body is obviously declining. In Ya Xiu's words, 'looks like a programmer who works 15 hours a day for a month, eats, sleeps and sleeps in the company'.

But his low voice was full of unspeakable life force, his pupils seemed to have light, and a fire was burning in his heart, and his decaying body seemed to be gestating a life that was about to be reborn from the ashes.

So Ah Xiu was even more worried.

Generally speaking, ordinary people call this kind of situation—returning to light.

But as long as he can survive today...A Xiu's thoughts are filled with the coldness of capitalists who wipe out temporary workers and abandon them.

"I've been here for a few years, so it's hard to say whether I can recover my previous combat power." Ronner said, "But I am a boxing master, and I don't waste my fighting skills. Even if I don't need a miracle, Just mobilizing Shu Ling is enough to make me reach 70% of my previous combat power."

Among the somanists, especially the unarmed physical warriors like boxing masters, more or less possess the magic spirits that can strengthen their physical fitness.

After all, in reality, fighting doesn't tell you the rules. Others don't use weapons because you only use two fists. On the contrary, the opponents will only use weapons that are more targeted at you to sling

you. Therefore, unarmed warriors must have skills that can bridge the gap between weapons Spirit, either to enhance defense power, or to speed up movement.

And Ronaldo is a Moonshadow Werewolf. After transforming, his physical fitness will rise a lot. With the help of Shu Ling, his combat effectiveness in a narrow and dark environment is probably the strongest in the squad.

“The transport ship usually arrives in the morning, and after escorting the prisoners to carry the supplies, they will return to the Broken Lake Port in Kaimon City.” Igola said: “But there is a detail—the crew of the transport ship and the blood mad hunter will go to the restaurant in two batches. Have a meal.”

“Blood mad hunters have regulations during training. The longest meal time cannot exceed 5 minutes. In addition to the commuting time, we can assume that when the second batch of blood mad hunters appear in the restaurant, there will only be less than ten left to the return journey. minute.”

“That is to say, when the second batch of blood mad hunters step into the restaurant, it is our signal of action. We must purify the chip within ten minutes, put on the crow suit of the medic, and then directly log on to the transport ship with the authority of the medic.”

“do you understand?”

The whole plan is very rough and urgent. If there is a mistake in one of the links, all will be lost, and many links require luck. But in this nearly flawless Broken Lake Prison, Igola was able to make a theoretically feasible plan. Ya Xiu and others admired him quite a bit, and nodded in admiration.

“If this is the case, then each make the final psychological preparations and go to the restaurant for dinner in advance at noon.”

Igola looked at Ash: “Ash, this is your last chance to regret. You are not incapable of living in this prison, you may be able to take a less dangerous path.”

Ronald and Ronald also looked at Ah Xiu. They all knew that Igula was actually not strong enough to escape from prison, and they didn't know how Igula, who had always been holding others, was pinched by Ash.

Ah Xiu said, "I can't walk gently into that good night."

Igola nodded thoughtfully: "Do you mean your dignity can't stand you?"

"No, I mean, if I continue to stay here, I will definitely be selected for the Blood Moon Trial every time. If I don't run, I will wait for death."

"If you are in jail, you still have to worry about other people's revenge. Should you reflect on what you did in the past?"

Seeing that Ah Xiu's determination remained unchanged, Igola also let go of the last fluke, waved his hand and left first-he had to take a bath and calm down.

There was still an hour or two before noon, and Ya Xiu didn't know what to do. He has completely mastered the three magic spirits of the body, the heart sword, and the circulation, and he can move them at any time. And he didn't dare to practice the miracle blindly, because the miracle of "Cut Me" requires a specific target as the target of the spell. In case Ah Xiu accidentally purifies other people's chips and causes prison guards in advance, he will wait to be taunted to death by Igula.

Wandering around randomly, Ya Xiu came to the most familiar Death Fight Club without realizing it.

With a move in his heart, he didn't enter the Death Fight Club, but found a dim entrance behind the Death Fight Club. The surrounding sounds suddenly became very far away. The entrance was a heavy, pitch-black iron gate. Everywhere I experienced the dangerous aura of 'greed for life and fear of death, don't enter this door'.

This is the treatment room.

Yaxiu pushed the door in, and the medical therapist on duty at the front desk glanced at him, "Go to treatment room No. 1, and your dedicated medical therapist will come to you."

He hasn't taken out the number plate for [222], how can the other party know who his exclusive medical doctor is? Although it was a bit strange, Ya Xiu didn't think much, and went straight into treatment room No. 1.

The on-duty medical therapist looked at his leaving back, and chuckled under the crow mask: "I feel honored for your future."

Waiting for a while in the treatment room, the medical therapist [222] pushed open the side door and came in, and threw an apple at Ya Xiu: "Where is the injury?"

Ya Xiu took the apple without rubbing it, and said, "I'm not injured."

"You didn't get hurt, why are you here? Although I hope you are here for medical beauty, but you were so resistant before, it is estimated that you will not be able to correct your timid aesthetics for a while, so you should be here..." The therapist hugged Reasoning with both hands: "To carry out biological transformation?"

A Xiu looked speechless: "Aren't you overestimating my courage?"

"Biological transformation does not require any courage. Now biological transformation is a trend. It is normal to change hands and feet to change eyes, etc.!" The therapist said in surprise, "Are you a fundamentalist celestialist? Resolutely resist new technology. Diehards?"

"What's wrong with the original body, why should I change it?"

"Because it's not good enough! Don't you want to be more agile, stronger, have better eyesight and sharper hearing?"

"I think my body is enough now—"

“You can also modify the lower body to strengthen mating continuity and pleasure.”

Ya Xiu’s eyes shrank: “Next time I have a chance, I will ask you about the profoundness of biological transformation.”

“Although I am glad that you are interested in biological transformation, I think your lower body may not be useful in this life...”

“They say that I will definitely escape here in the future! I will definitely be free again!”

“Even if you add your unrealistic premise, I still don’t plan to modify my conclusion...unless you are willing to accept my beautiful boy change operation! Think about it!”

“It’s not that I don’t believe in the power of beautiful men, I mainly don’t believe in you.”

“cut.”

The therapist sat on the side of the bed with his lips curled, and asked strangely: “Then you have nothing to do. What are you doing in the treatment room? This is the first time you have come to the treatment room!”

Indeed, it was the first time that Ah Xiu had been carried in before. This was the first time he had walked in.

“I’m here... to chat with you.” Ya Xiu spread his hands: “After all, prisoners like me are very idle.”

“But I am not free! You think I am you, but I am very busy, researching techniques, learning new knowledge, and writing research papers...” The medical therapist akimbo: “I don’t have so much time to spend time with you. Chat! Just forget it this time, don’t do that next time!”

Even if there was a crow mask that changed her voice, Ah Xiu could hear that she seemed very happy.

Sure enough, UU reading www. No matter what the world of uukanshu.com hitters are strong fishing, and the happiest thing in fishing is to talk gossip with others.

After the medical doctor happily finished saying “the senior who had been targeting her was driven away for stealing”, “I have been lucky in the virtual world recently”, “I had a double yolk egg for breakfast today” and other happy news, Ya Xiu suddenly talked. One turn.

“Hey, I suddenly found that you look pretty.”

“Huh?” The medical doctor was startled: “Yes, isn’t it? In fact, it’s not that good-looking-do you think it is good-looking?”

“Your suit looks good.” Ah Xiu said, “So can you take it off and give it to me?”

It took five seconds for the medical therapist to realize what nonsense A Xiu had just said.

When she turned to open the toolbox and carefully selected the scalpel, Ashton felt bad-the person in front of him was a ruthless person who could dissect him and then sew him back, and brush a wave of treatment experience by the way!

“222, I don’t have much time.”

Chapter 92 - This is my request for one lifetime and one lifetime

Chapter 92 - This is my request for one lifetime and one lifetime

In the treatment room, the atmosphere became serious.

“Didn’t you survive the blood moon trial?”

“Yes, but my suffering is not over yet.” Ah Xiu said earnestly: “My enemy is still staring at me. He will do everything possible to put me in prison to death.”

The medical doctor shook his head: “This is Broken Lake Prison. The law is like an area where the truth is practiced. No one can violate the law here.”

“But he can send me into desperation legally and compliantly.”

“That can only mean that you should be executed legally and compliantly.” The medical practitioner shrugged: “I don’t believe that you are wronged. I am also full of sympathy for your experience, so I will also pray for you and pray that you are in blood. Redemption in the kingdom of God of the Moon Lord.”

“However, I can only do so much for you. No matter how much it is, it is beyond the scope of my duties.” She warned, and signaled Asia Xiu not to make any illegal requests.

Ah Xiu waved his hand: “I don’t want to ask you anything. I also know that I am running out of time and the death penalty is near... That’s why I wanted to thank you.”

“what?”

“Medicalist [222], you gave me the human care that made me feel a little warm in this indifferent prison.” Ah Xiu said emotionally, “I am dead if I can meet you before I die. Without regret, you can accept my ending with peace of mind.”

“I, I’m not as good as you said...” The medical doctor was a little embarrassed, and whispered back.

“But there is a big horror between life and death. In the dead of night, I still can’t help but curl up, pinched my heart by unspeakable fear, can’t sleep at night, have no intention of eating, and live in deep waters every day.”

“I have a solution for this.” The medical therapist took out a needle with gleaming silver light. “I have a powerful sedative needle. It is guaranteed that one needle will relieve you from troubles, but these drugs have the same side effects. It’s caused by slow thinking, in short, it’s become a bit mentally retarded...”

“So! So!” Ya Xiu quickly interrupted her: “In order to have a peace of mind before dying, I hope that the medical doctor can accompany me.”

“To accompany you? How to accompany you?”

“No! Absolutely not!” The medical therapist stood up nervously and waved his hands again and again: “I, that, I didn’t mean... Yes, there are rules and regulations! Our medical therapists are not allowed to enter the prisoner’s activity area and are not allowed to contact the prisoner. Over-secret! Hmm! I’m not unwilling, but I really can’t!”

Ya Xiu sighed quietly—this sigh was true. Although the answer was in the plan of Ya Xiu, the medical doctor responded so swiftly and strongly that he did not give the slightest chance, which made Ya Xiu a little sad.

Think about it a little bit! It’s okay to act really badly!

Even the crow mask can’t hide your unwillingness!

“I also understand your difficulties, and I don’t want to trouble you, but I really need your care and warmth.” Ah Xiu blinked: “I thought of a good idea.”

“What a good idea.”

“Just if you give me your clothes, I can treat them as you and embrace the warmth every night.”

The therapist was silent for a moment, then took a step back, his voice trembling: “You...want to sleep... holding my underwear...?”

“Don’t have to be so close!” Ya Xiu quickly explained, “And I haven’t seen your underwear. I can’t equate them as your incarnation!”

The therapist finally understood: “Do you want my crow uniform?”

“Hmm, do you have another uniform?”

“It’s not no, after all, I have to have two sets of changes. But according to the regulations, I can’t give this uniform to others... and you sleep with my crow uniform at night, it sounds a bit...”

Ya Xiu sighed suddenly, and his face became depressed: “Yes, I made an excessive request. The medical doctor has helped me so much. I shouldn’t bother you if you are reasonable and reasonable...”

“People like me don’t deserve to die in peace...”

“It’s me holding extravagant hopes that I shouldn’t have, and flukes that I shouldn’t have...”

“Sorry, you just assume that I haven’t been here, thank you [222], I won’t forget you...”

Even though he said that, Ya Xiu didn’t stand up, but looked at the medical doctor eagerly. The therapist couldn’t help but sighed: “Okay, okay, I will subdue my crow to you. Is this all right?”

Plan to pass!

Ah Xiu was secretly overjoyed. He laid so much ground, didn’t he just want the medical doctor to take the initiative to give him the crow uniform.

After all, he had to grab a crow uniform when he escaped from prison, but he was unwilling to injure the medical doctor.

Out of the moral qualities of his previous life, he still has a certain respect for the medical profession. Although he can't take care of it for survival, he still tries to avoid conflicts if he can resolve them peacefully.

It just so happened that his relationship with the medical doctor [222] was okay. If you don't use it when the favor should be used, it would be meaningless. Therefore, Ya Xiu is betrayed and pretended to be pitiful. Later, she asked for her clothes, layer by layer, finally prying open the atrium of the medical doctor, seduce her step by step into the abyss of crime.

"Hey, it doesn't seem to work."

Ya Xiu became nervous: "What's the matter?"

"My other uniform has just taken off and it hasn't been washed yet."

"I do not mind!"

"But I mind! No, I'll give it to you after I finish washing!"

Ah Xiu was anxious: "In fact, I prefer the original flavor, so please fulfill my wish! This is my lifelong request!"

"No, no, absolutely no!" The medical therapist shook his head repeatedly: "Wait until I wash the uniform before giving it to you."

"Then how long will it take you to wash your clothes?"

"Soon, the laundry room has a dryer, and it can be done in as little as an hour."

“Then you hurry up and wash the clothes, I’ll come back at noon to get them.”

Ah Xiu pushed the medical doctor away, and the medical doctor was dumbfounded: “Didn’t you come to talk to me? Don’t you want me to accompany you more?”

“Clothes can also chat with me, and clothes can accompany me more. In addition to clothes, there are many other uses! Anyway, go!”

The therapist went back to the dormitory with a dazed expression to wash his clothes.

...

In the sea-viewing terrace, Igola looked at the dark spots on the lake that gradually became larger, his heart pounding, and goose bumps were all up. He felt that his face was hot, his legs were soft, and his thinking speed became faster.

This is tension.

This is fear.

But also excited.

This is the reason why he has made so much money and hasn’t closed it. The anxiety before the action was like a poison that made him want to stop. Then he will deceive the entire prison and complete the escape in broad daylight.

The thought that countless people would be surprised, angry, admired, and fearful for their feats, Igola couldn’t help but get excited. Nothing makes Igola feel more joyful than fooling others!

In Igola's expectant and nervous sight, a steamer with billowing smoke appeared in his eyes and sailed to the Broken Lake Prison by wind and waves.

However, Igola's face became more and more ugly and paler.

The hull of this ship is no different from other ordinary warships. The only strange thing about it is that ~www.mtlnovel.com~ is covered with a layer of high-strength steel walls that just cover the entire ship, allowing this ship to see Going up is like a bullet warship.

In other words, no deck of this ship is exposed to the sun, no place is 'outside', and all areas belong to the inside of the ship!

Just when Igola was astonished, the transport ship had arrived at Broken Lake and dropped anchor into the port. And the first to step out of the transport ship was a white-haired man wearing a dark red hunter uniform, wearing a hood, and a dark half sleeve on his right shoulder.

He seemed to notice Igola's gaze. He raised his head and looked at Igola. His expression did not change at all. The blood-colored pupils under the hood pierced Igola with a sharp gaze!

Igola's pupils shrank suddenly.

Hunting half sleeve!

The chief of the crime hunting hall is characterized by wearing a lacquered black crime hunting windbreaker, while the leader of the law enforcement brigade, who is on the front line of the crime hunting and representing the face of the crime hunting hall, wears a crime hunting half sleeve to show his honor!

There are only two law enforcement teams in Kaimon City. The captains of these two teams are, without exception...

Three Wing Sanctuary Magician!

Technician's Manual - Chapter 93

Chapter 93 - Gerald Westminster

Chapter 93 - Gerald Westminster

“Oh, isn’t this Edmond, the executive secretary of the tax office? I told you that you will come in to accompany me sooner or later.”

“Brothers, this person has a grudge against me. Don’t grab me. I will give you the last 5 death fights. But the first 5 death fights will make me cool, right?”

“Tsk tusk tusk, really big people after another, so Andreier’s Wine Club of Immortality is wiped out? The mayor’s action was too ruthless, not letting it go.”

“Kaemon City is already Fernanxue’s kingdom.”

In the central hall, the death row inmates were crowded, cheering and laughing to greet the arrival of new inmates. Compared with the gloating predecessors, the newcomers were much calmer, one by one, under the instructions of the prison guard, they pressed their fingers on a bronze roster.

“Strange, I didn’t have such a grand welcome ceremony when I was in jail.” Ah Xiu, who was watching from the side, couldn’t help but sigh with emotion.

“That’s because you are special.”

Ah Xiu turned his head and found that it was Necromancer Harvey. The latter is still so nagging, so naturally he took on his topic, as if they were familiar: “The Four Pillars God is too famous. You are the first Four Pillar God cult leader in a hundred years. You have not completely changed your authority. Before, the prison dared not let you approach other prisoners at all.”

“Modify permissions?”

“Have you seen the “Catalog of Sinners”?” Harvey pointed to the bronze roster: “We all need to touch it when we are in prison. After we press it, our authority will be taken over by the prison. The prison can completely control our various permissions, such as attack permissions and mana output permissions.”

“Huh?” Ah Xiu was a little surprised: “Aren’t these permissions banned when we were arrested?”

“Yes, but before our management authority was in the hands of the crime hunting hall, we had to transfer to the prison after we were in prison.”

“Why is it so troublesome?”

“This is necessary. First, if our authority is still in the crime hunting hall, then the crime hunting hall can lift our ban from a long distance. If we make trouble here, isn’t it a prison? Isn’t the crime hunting hall unlucky? To be dumped? So whether it is a crime hunting hall or a prison, the jurisdiction must be transferred.”

“Secondly, the processor of the crime hunting hall is too far away from the prison. Over time, the prohibition may be worn out.”

Asia was startled: “Will the prohibition be worn out?”

“All the shackles will finally usher in a day of rust.” After Harvey finished speaking, he suddenly walked out of the crowd and grabbed one of the snake lizards by the collar: “Hubron, where is Narbel?”

When the snake lizards saw Harvey, the color of their scales became lighter: “Archibald, you...how do you remember me? You shouldn’t remember me!”

Ah Xiu turned his head around before remembering that Harvey’s name was Archibald Harvey, but the name was too long, so he only remembered the last name.

But what does the snake lizard saying mean, 'should not remember'?

"I am a necromancer, it is not impossible for me to add a back door to my soul... Memorizing this kind of thing will only not be remembered, and will not be completely forgotten." Harvey stared at the snake lizard: "What about Narbel!? Why didn't she come in with you!?"

For a while, Yaxiu thought that Harvey had an enmity with that Narbel—this is the prison for death row prisoners. Normal people would only want their enemies to come in, right?

But the answer of the snake lizard clan made Ya Xiu smell of the dog blood drama, "Why do you think of her...Aren't you asking for trouble?"

"She betrayed you? She escaped? Or she—"

"Dead, Andreyer collapsed. We were chased by the hunter while we were on the run. She was pierced in the head and couldn't be saved."

Harvey's mouth twitched: "...you promised me, the boss promised me, you..."

"The boss is also dead. I am the weakest, so I was the first to be caught." The snake lizard said: "The crime hunting hall sent a whole law enforcement team...Fenanxue and they deliberately released news to let us escape. They are here to cut the grass and remove the roots. We are just the ants they got rid of easily."

"I care about you so much, I care about you so much...a lot!" Harvey was full of anger, gritted his teeth, but his legs fell soft, knelt down, and his eyes were red: "Impossible...that's Narbel, How could she be like this..."

No one pulled them away, and even the guards didn't care—there were chip restrictions, and their biggest offensive action was to grab the collar of the opponent, and it was impossible to fight.

This farce was quickly forgotten, and it's not even worth talking about. Although Ash is very curious about Harvey's * past, it is obvious that he will only be killed by Harvey in the past, and the time is almost the same. So went to the restaurant for dinner.

There are already a group of crew members and blood mad hunters eating in the restaurant. They are all sitting on one side of the restaurant. The prisoners are sitting on the other side consciously—not to mention that there are no thorns in Broken Lake Prison. Can't mess up, and second, can't scold people. Could they walk over to say hello to the hunters?

Today's recommended menu is red bean paste lala fat, orc cheese lettuce, coconut tart. Not long after Ash sat down, a gentle-looking young man sat in front of him.

Ah Xiu felt like he had seen this person's register just now: "New here?"

"Well, hello, my name is Baraka." The young man responded shyly.

"Hello, my name is Ya Xiu."

But after staying here for so long, Ah Xiu had already developed a sense of alertness. As the saying goes, the more powdery the outside, the darker the inside. This shy young man is afraid that he is not an extrajudicial fanatic who commits crimes, "How do you come to eat?"

"Because...it's noon now?"

"Should you not be confined to your dormitory waiting for food delivery the first day you came here?"

"No, after we were taken to the dormitory, we moved around freely without restrictions."

Ah Xiu understood, it turned out that being confined on the first day was the exclusive treatment of the cult leader.

“Did you also come in because of a political struggle? You can become a political prisoner at such a young age. Young and promising!”

“No, no, I’m actually... a writer.”

When it comes to his profession, Baraka is even more shy.

“...Is it so strict outside, writing a book will be sentenced to death? Involving politics? Involving pornography?”

“Actually I haven’t written it yet.”

“what?”

“I finished writing the last novel for a few months, and thought of a wonderful subject, so I discussed with the editor, and the editor told me that if you have to write, then I can only report it to the crime hunting hall. Write it in prison, don’t hurt our publishing house.”

Ah Xiu blinked: “Then you came in?”

Baraka nodded: “After the crime hunting hall heard what I said about the subject matter, it sent a mnemonist to investigate my memory. After the verdict of the court, I finally sentenced me to redemption for the crime of endangering public safety. Purify your mind in the blood moon trial.”

“Then you can’t help writing?”

“After investigating my memory, the memologist found that I had no repentance at all. The memory was full of details of the new book. They thought that as long as I was alive, I would find ways to write it out. This is indeed the case, because I am not a creator, I am just a Narrator, I can’t let such a good story rot in my mind.”

Ya Xiu gave a thumbs up: “Come on, I will support you! By the way, is there any sentimental content?”

“no.”

“Then I support you mentally, I actually have no interest in books.”

During the chat, Ah Xiu finally saw Igula walking into the door, so he hurriedly put the tray in the recycling area and poured the food into the bucket, and quickly walked over to hook up with Igula: “Have you eaten? Those hunters almost ate.” Now, the action signal will appear soon, why don’t Ronald and Ronald see anyone yet—”

“They won’t come.”

“Um?”

“I told them that the plan was cancelled.”

Ah Xiu didn’t show any expressions of surprise or hysteria, nor was there any confusion in his eyes. He just looked at Igola calmly without saying a word.

“Axiu, you know the effect of the contract. If it’s not a last resort, I can’t violate your wishes.” Igola said: “And I don’t really resist in my heart-if I really resist, I can’t propose such a one. Conceive a multi-year plan.”

“For me, this plan is also the stage I’ve been looking forward to for a long time. You filled in the final deficiencies in this plan. To be honest, even if you don’t make this wish to me, maybe I can’t help but cooperate with you. Plan this operation.”

“Believe me, I, like you, want to leave this cesspool where the air is suffocating.”

Igola held Ashiu’s shoulders: “But it really won’t work today. The plan must be cancelled.”

“Why?”

“Because every important link in the plan is impossible to achieve. There have been too many special events this week, and I did not include the impact of these events in the plan, causing the reality to be too far from what I imagined.”

There was a sudden noise at the door. The first group of hunters who had finished their meal left one after another, and the second group of hunters began to enter the restaurant.

Ya Xiu glanced at them and sighed, “The signal for action is here.”

Igola shook his head slightly: “This is a red flag...you will see soon, the first destabilizing factor that undermines the plan.”

Suddenly, all the blood mad hunters stood up and bowed their heads towards the person at the door: “Hello Captain!”

“Everyone, good noon.”

The white-haired hunter wearing pitch-black half-sleeves glanced at the condemned prisoners and smiled: “Scumbags, good noon.”

A condemned prisoner raised his head dissatisfiedly: “I will complain to the crime hunter—”

“It’s rare to scold so many scumbags at once. UU reading www.uukanshu.com I am willing to accept punishment, not just to deduct one month’s salary at a time. Well, now I have scolded twice, two months’ salary is gone.”

The white-haired hunter snapped his fingers and smiled disdainfully: “But I prefer the number three, so add one more sentence-scum, how does it feel to be scolded but not scolded by me? Isn’t it very unpleasant? Haha! I especially like to see the grievances of the scums who are angry and unreasonable!”

Another death row prisoner with a gloomy face said: “I will remember you, you are the best—”

“You really should remember me, because many of you were caught by me!”

With blood glowing in his eyes, he lightly scanned the death row prisoners in the dining room. His gaze was like a sharp sword, everyone was shuddering at him, and Ah Xiu recalled the scene of the last time he met—

The fear of being pierced by the sword in his chest spread to the whole body again.

“I’m Gerald Westminster, the blood mad hunter in the Crime Hunting Hall, hunter number 307791.” Gerald jokingly said: “When you see the Blood Moon Supreme Lord, don’t forget to greet me.”

Technician’s Manual - Chapter 94

Chapter 94 - Danger!

“Three Wings Sanctuary Swordsman, Gerald, Blood Mad Hunter...”

Ya Xiu hid in the corner of the dining room and looked at the high-spirited white-haired hunter in the crowd, feeling unsure.

He is no longer a cute new person who has just crossed into this world. Naturally, he knows that this white-haired hunter who makes his journey experience become a thief has a pivotal position in this city.

One wing of silver, two wings of gold, three wings of sanctuary, four wings of legend.

Under the starry sky, the legendary magician is the pinnacle, the top level of all forces, the limit of a single combat power. The three-winged sanctuary is the mainstay. When the legendary magicians are studying the magic techniques to explore the virtual world, the sanctuary magicians are often responsible for various important affairs, have the greatest power in the world, and are generally the most advanced conventional combat power.

It can also be seen from this that Heath's four-pillar * cult was not the straw team that Ashiu had imagined. Kaimon City actually dispatched Gerrard, the top hunter of the crime hunting hall, which is enough to show that Heath is a high-value monster that can be used as a 'political achievement'.

Compared to his status, Gerrard's strength is even more desperate. Originally, the imaginary enemy in the plan of Asia Xiu and the others was a blood mad hunter at the level of the second-wing magician. Now a three-wing sanctuary suddenly appeared. Gerrard alone was enough to destroy the group.

If the plan originally had 30% vitality, it is now dead and dead. The transport ship cannot return to Kaimon within ten minutes, and the prison will definitely find their escape within ten minutes-capturing the transport ship is part of the plan, and it is impossible for them to escape the fight with the blood mad hunters.

Ya Xiu sighed, "Since it is him, there is nothing we can do to give up the plan. It is our bad luck."

"No, it's not just luck." Igola took him to the Port of Broken Lake, "Look."

Ah Xiu looked at the ship that was fully covered like a bullet, "The look of this ship... is in line with fluid mechanics!"

"This is not an ordinary ship." Igola said: "This is a mobile prison...it just so happens that it's time for them to board the ship."

In Ah Xiu's surprised eyes, those death row prisoners lined up near the port, under the gaze of the hunters, arrogantly crossed the yellow line, left Broken Lake Prison, and stepped into the transport ship.

Tucker, the famous 'Black Beast' in the prison, suddenly turned his head before entering the transport ship, stretched out his fist towards the prison, and laughed: "Hahaha I finally left this dung pit!"

The nearby death row prisoners looked at them enviously, but the yellow line drawn on the ground was like a moat. They could only watch others leave, but they were not allowed to connect.

“They are volunteers!” Ya Xiu finally remembered that the volunteers had been recruited a few days ago: “This ship is here to transport them!”

“This is a loophole in the plan!” Igola couldn’t help biting his finger: “Because this kind of thing is so rare, I didn’t include it in the calculation at all! So this time it is not an ordinary transport ship, but It’s a pig cage!”

“‘Pig Cage’?” It was the first time Ya Xiu heard such a strange ship name.

“This ship will not return to Kaimon City, but will go straight east along the Broken Lake and reach the lake view war zone east of Kaimon!” Igola’s face was full of chagrin: “I should have thought of it a long time ago, even the mayor. They persuaded the lawful organizations in the parliament with their interests, but they would not be able to let the executed prisoners return to the city. That would be too risky!”

“If the news leaks out, letting the public know that there are prisoners fleeing the trial, it will definitely cause a large-scale fermentation of public opinion, and then the entire parliament will suffer! The citizens will use their votes to shuffle the parliament!”

“So the only place for those volunteers is the lake view war zone that is responsible for suppressing the abyss!”

Yaxiu watched the last volunteer step into the cabin and said, “So if we also get on the boat, we will be caught in the trap and run from the prison to the lake view battle zone where the per capita is strong?”

Although Ya Xiu still doesn’t have a full understanding of the blood moon kingdom, the keywords of “repression of the abyss” and “war zone” are put together. With his toes, Ya Xiu knows that there won’t be any water park there.

“No, we have no chance to get on the ship at all.” Igola shook his head: “This ship also has a processor, which will automatically detect any living organisms on the ship. As soon as people like us get on board, the entire ship The ship will sound the alarm and mark our location!”

Ah Xiu was stunned: "Wait, so your plan would not be realized from the beginning! If every ship had such a security system, it would be impossible for us to leave Broken Lake Prison by boat— "

"No, only special-purpose ships like the 'pig cage' will be equipped with processors. Most other vehicles do not have a security inspection system."

"Ah? Why? Is this processor used for security checks expensive?"

"One is that it is very valuable. This kind of processor is the product of a technician and must be manufactured by the technician. The other is that it is a serious violation of the law to detect other people's chips without authorization."

Ah Xiu blinked, his expression a little confused for a moment.

He touched the back of his neck and asked, "Outside, testing the chip, is it a violation?"

"Yes, that's for sure." Igola gave him a strange look: "This kind of privacy violation is a very serious crime."

Although Ah Xiu also understood that there must be many differences inside and outside the prison, but when he heard 'the outside is a country that values privacy,' Ah Xiu still felt that Igola was teasing him.

Implanting a control chip into the human body since he was a child can retrieve people's memory, ban the family system, completely socialize upbringing, and turn the death penalty into a variety show. It will really be more important than this prison that made him * in shackles. Privacy? ?

He gave up discussing this issue and asked: "Why can this ship named 'Pig Cage' detect any uploader's chip?"

"Because the 'pig cage' is a punishment tool prepared for soldiers." Igola said: "The 'Waterway Abyss' suppressed by the Lakeview War Zone must be sent to the deep level to investigate the situation every once in a while."

“But the deeper you go into the abyss of the waterway, the more likely it is for the surgeon to develop mental illness, such as loss of sanity, self-harm, escape, etc. will appear.”

“Because almost no one wants to go to this kind of mission, the war zone will allow warriors who make mistakes and be punished to enter the ‘pig cage’, add many rules to the chip, and let the ship processor control them not to self-harm, escape, or kill each other. And this At the same time, the processor is also responsible for detecting life on the ship. Once a monster enters the cabin, it reminds the soldiers to clean up the monster.”

“When they finish their tasks and come back, they can take their crimes and make meritorious deeds, and all their faults will be wiped out.”

“In order to * the executed prisoners, even if the war zone feels making a fuss, Mayor Fei Nanxue will definitely ask them to send a ‘pig cage’!”

Igola gritted his teeth and said: “I know exactly who Fernanxue is... He will definitely intervene in matters concerning his future... All details will definitely be arranged in accordance with the highest specifications!”

Asia Xiu respected: “Have you even lied to the mayor?”

“The investigation was planned, but the risk was too great and the success rate was too low, so I finally gave up.” Igola said quietly: “If I knew then that I would go to jail sooner or later, then I would definitely give it a try-I have cheated the most. A big man is just a member of parliament.”

People cheat for making money, are you cheating for achievement...

Although Ah Xiu doesn’t understand the mayor, the war zone, and the abyss, he can also hear Igola’s subtext: “In other words, there are unsolvable problems in every link of our plan?”

“It’s just not this time.” Igola said: “There will be a blood moon trial on the 1st of next month. If there is a plan, the time can only be set on the 11th of next month. But according to Professor Schilling’s energy, I doubt it. The Blood Moon Trial on the 1st may also choose you—” suddenly!

A light curtain suddenly popped up in front of Ya Xiu!

“Good noon, everyone. This is the Administrative Office of Broken Lake Prison. I am prison guard Nagu Macmillan.” Nagu said in the light curtain: “Now we will broadcast two notices.”

“First, there will be an additional blood moon trial on the 27th of this month, and the list of trials will be released on the morning of the 27th.”

“Secondly, in order to build the trial scene on the 27th, the blood mad hunters need to stay in jail temporarily for one night. I hope that you will cooperate with the hunters’ work. Any enthusiastic person who assists the hunters can get rewards of varying degrees of contribution. .”

When the light curtain closed automatically, Ya Xiu hadn’t recovered from the shock.

Additional blood moon trial?

Blood mad hunter staying temporarily?

“Generally speaking, this additional blood moon trial should be prepared for those political prisoners who have just gone to jail.” Igola said quietly, “But if your name is selected for the trial list, I would not think Accident.”

Ya Xiu’s face became ugly: “Isn’t it so cruel?”

“When you think that things will go bad, then this thing will definitely become worse than you think.” Igola said: “This is the only truth that I have been a fraudster for so many years and my customers understand deeply. “

“Knowing that you often beat the rich on behalf of the society, you don’t need to always emphasize your record in front of me.” Ya Xiu said grumpily, “The big deal is that you are on the No. 25 trial list. Could this be even worse? ?”

At this moment, Ya Xiu suddenly felt the surrounding light dim, as if a tall figure behind it blocked the light.

“Ash Heath, you have been staring at the ship leading to the outside world, do you want to escape from prison?”

Igola quietly hid to the side.

Ya Xiu turned around, took a step back, and grudgingly smiled at the person who came: “Of course, which guy in the prison doesn’t want to escape?”

“That’s not necessarily. The wicked will repent, and the scum will correct their mistakes. Give you the right despair. This is the meaning of the blood moon trial.”

Gerrard looked down at Ash from a condescending position. He glanced at Igola and said faintly, “Have you found a new friend? You are indeed a beloved believer of the Four Pillars. I doubt if you stay here for a long time. Have become a hotbed of evil gods.”

“I’m going to take a nap~www.mtlnovel.com~Captain Gerrard. If you want to find someone to chat, you can find this Igola Borkin. He is very good at investment and financial management. I believe you will definitely gain something—”

“Wait, Ash Heath.” Gerrard stopped him. “The prison has ordered you to assist the hunters, right? I need your assistance.”

Ah Xiu feels bad: “How to help? You see, I can’t raise my shoulders or hands. It’s just a titanium alloy waste. I usually eat or sleep. I’m afraid it can’t meet your needs—”

“It’s great, you can just meet my needs.” Gerrard snapped his fingers. “It’s like this—because there are too many inmates in the prison, there is no extra dormitory for us hunters who come to help. Captain, I am definitely giving the single room to other players, and I squeezed with the prisoners.”

Ya Xiu took a breath: “I’m sorry, I don’t know the flower girl in the prison, so I can’t introduce you to it. Why don’t you consult this Igola—”

“Don’t be so troublesome.”

The hunter held down on Ash’s shoulders, his scarlet pupils were full of playful smiles: “Ash Heath, I don’t think you would mind squeezing me all night?”

Technician’s Manual - Chapter 95

Chapter 95 - I will look at you

Chapter 95 - I will look at you

Gallus, Jianhua University.

The three dazzling stars gradually sink to the west, and a young professor on the school road is walking well. When he saw a young and beautiful female student approaching, he suddenly changed his steps and wanted to speed up his escape.

“Professor Lieblom...”

“Miss Servi.” The young professor stopped and said helplessly: “I have to admit that your sincerity touched me. After all, if you continue to be entangled in this way, I don’t need my reputation, my staid and serious My father specially warned me not to do anything that would damage the reputation of Jianhua University, such as entanglement with female students.”

Sonia's eyes lit up: "That—"

"But I really don't have the right to change the moderator temporarily, or you will just disappear, and I will activate the emergency plan if I can't find anyone half an hour before the party starts. The price is that you have to take a warning."

Liblom said: "Either you go directly to the principal, as long as you can get the principal's permission, the school rules can naturally make an exception for you, and if you are not willing to say a 'appropriate reason', you can cancel your chair. "

Sonia shook her head repeatedly.

"The principal is very simple, and she is a four-winged legendary magician, I dare not look for her. If she gets angry, Professor Trozan can't keep me."

"Then you are not afraid of me being angry?"

Sonia immediately covered her mouth, but her voice still leaked from her fingers: "Because you are just a two-wing alchemist who is good at academic theory and full-time research, it doesn't matter if you offend you, it won't hurt me. Benefit."

After speaking, Sonia looked at Liblom pitifully: "Professor, I really can't help it, this is my truth, I can't lie."

Liblom's face became stiff with anger, and he took a deep breath: "Thank you very much, Miss Servi, for your honesty. You let me understand my true value in the eyes of ordinary students and benefit me a lot."

"But since you dare not go to the principal, then you have only two choices left: fulfill your duties, or take a warning. Now it's almost dinner time, please decide as soon as possible. I will wait for your arrival backstage at the party. ."

Seeing Liblom leaving, Sonia was helpless. She wanted to call out the viewers to discuss countermeasures, but thinking that today is also the day of action for the viewers, she also put out the heart of disturbing the viewers.

I don't know if the viewer smells the air of freedom now...

Sonia sighed and returned to the bedroom unhappy.

At this time, Loisi and the three came back from dinner and saw Sonia surprised: "Why are you still here? Everyone from the University of Truth is at the gate of the school. Why don't you go change your dress and make-up?"

"I do not want to go."

"What kind of child's temper are you, your absence like this is not destroying your own face, but the face of Professor Trozan, the face of Jianhua University, don't think that you are a swordsman genius and you can do whatever you want!"

Lois was shocked. As roommates living under the same roof, they naturally knew that something was wrong with Sonia these days, but they didn't expect it to be so bad.

This is a networking party between the two schools!

The networking party is more than just a party. Under Fan Xing's gaze, the two schools will each send outstanding students to the "point-to-finish" friendly match-it is actually the warm-up of the annual Gallus University League. Everyone gets the list of players from other universities this year. Probably Understand the strength of competitors.

Although in today's society, combat technicians are no longer as important as they used to be, and production technicians have gradually gained more voice. Various universities have reduced combat courses, added many production factions, and students have become more important. He is keen to study the production value of magic spirits, miracles and even magic schools.

But this is the case, the warlock who is good at fighting can still get the most resource tilt, and the warlock who is proficient in combat can get the most respect!

This is not because everyone is afraid of the violence of the magician, but for the magician, the combat effectiveness is equal to the potential! The more proficient the warlock is, the more you can gain in the virtual world, the farther you go, and the higher the upper limit!

Among the first wing warlocks, the number of specialized production warlocks is even greater than the number of combat warlocks.

However, in the Second Wing, the number of combat technicians far crushes production technicians.

If you get to Three Wings, even if you are an expert in production, you will have an impeccable combat system, otherwise he will not be able to survive and risk in the virtual world!

In order to encourage the apprentices to improve their combat effectiveness, the Galax College League was born. It has now been held for 167 times, and it has long been the highest-rated program in Galox and even the Starry Nation!

For apprentices, being able to compete in the college league is the quickest way to get ahead!

As an outpost of the league, the status of the networking party has naturally risen with the tide, and the object of this networking is the University of Truth, which is even more sloppy!

However, when Lois saw Sonia lying on the table lazily, she realized that something really happened to the village girl.

“Adele, go look through her closet and find the school-made dress; Ingulite, hold her up, and I’ll give her makeup.”

“Good!” “Oh.”

Adele and Ingulite did what they ordered, and Sonia let them toss without making any resistance.

She is still hesitant in her heart, because she still can't judge which of 'tell the truth in the party' or 'school warning' is the worse consequence.

If the income of 'school warning' is -100, then the income of 'participating in the party' is between 0 and -1000.

Perhaps Sonia can control the situation within a reasonable range and perfectly fulfill her role of host; but it is also possible that she uttered a rant and offended the professors of Jianhua University and Jinri University and became the worst college student in history.

"Isn't this opportunity you've been looking forward to for a long time?" Loys asked her puzzledly while putting false eyelashes on her: "We signed up together two months ago and stood out from more than one hundred female surgeons apprentices. In the end, you defeated me and other senior sisters in the final selection, and finally got this opportunity."

"You also know that league hosts are often selected from the host of the evening party, so I and you will value this opportunity so much. If you can really become the host of this year's league, this resume alone will be enough to apply for each station. The host of the show, not to mention the exposure to millions of people across the country...there is no more comfortable shortcut than this!"

"Although you are now a research apprentice of Professor Trozan, you don't just want to be a swordsman who trains hard every day, right?"

"What's wrong with being a swordsman?" Ingulite was unhappy.

"Of course it's good for you Ingulite. You are not good at socializing, and you don't like the spotlight. The swordsman is indeed your most comfortable and happiest choice." Loys put Sonia's eye makeup on: "Dan Suo Niya, you are not a simple person like me."

"Glorious, eye-catching, yelling from the front, hugs behind, the starry sky..." Loys said, and the corners of her mouth turned slightly upwards: "First become famous in school, then stage a movie, release a record... just like Dai Like Daroth, become the brightest star in this starry sky."

Sonia blurted out: "How do you know that I like Dedaros the most?"

Lois asked back: "Who wouldn't like Dedaros?"

Dedaros Shiva, the most famous actress in the Starry Nation, has appeared in movies and dramas since she was a teenager, and almost all classics, such as "The Queen Returns", "Gorgeous Rebellion", "Don't Apologize to Strangers" "" and other dramas are rebroadcast every year, and so far have won the honor of "Holy Grail Best Actress" five times, and has been hailed as "the first beauty under the stars".

Moreover, she is still a powerful magician, and the news that she stepped into the Three Wing Sanctuary last year has aroused the cheers of the entire Gales.

There were even rich and nobles who threw a lot of money and hired magicians to launch fireworks into the sky for three consecutive days. In those few days, when the residents of Galos went out and raised their heads, they could see the words "Congratulations to Dedaros's promotion to the sanctuary."

For Sonia, Dedaros is undoubtedly her best yearning for childhood.

When she was young, apart from studying, her only entertainment was to watch the Meteor Channel. When she saw the brilliance of Dedaros in the movie, saw Dedaros on stage to accept the award, and saw Dedaros singing on stage, this vision gave her unlimited motivation.

At that time, she didn't even expect to be the other person, but she knew that if she didn't study hard, then she might not be connected to the beauty in the near light curtain.

Lois was right, Sonia was really unwilling to be just a swordsman.

Power is very important, but power is not all of her, not even her goal, but her tool.

Although she is no longer a child, Sonia's desire is still so superficial: she wants to walk into the light curtain, she wants to be a shadow girl, she wants to sing, she wants to be dazzling, and she wants to enjoy the envy and envy of countless strangers. Appreciate...

She also wants to be the object of others' longing.

Sonia took a deep breath: "Thank you, Lois."

"You have become more outspoken lately, to be honest, it's a bit disgusting." Lois laughed.

"But why are you trying to persuade me like this?" Sonia asked: "Seeing that I was going to miss this opportunity, you shouldn't be gloating secretly, and then you should laugh at me with other classmates?"

The corners of Ingulite's mouth twitched slightly, Adele snorted and then covered her mouth and laughed wildly. Lois was a little embarrassed, and pouted: "I didn't...Aren't you also taunting me overtly and secretly after winning the trials?"

Suddenly entering the stage of turning over the old accounts, Lois secretly calculated her ammunition, and when Sonia retorted, she immediately took out a longer case to stop her mouth—

"Because I only have the confidence to get along with you on an equal footing by belittling you."

As soon as she said this, Sonia herself was stunned, and the bedroom fell into a strange silence.

Lois was also confused by Sonia's remarks for a while, and she subconsciously said the words that she had prepared in her mind: "You, you still seduce my admirer..."

"Because I want to get your attention, I want you to look at me, and I want to continue to compete with you. If you even fall in love with you, I will be very lonely."

Lois was stunned.

“I, I’m sorry, I...” She didn’t know why she had to apologize, “Then why did you compete with me when you first enrolled in school? I obviously want to be friends with you, if it weren’t for your repeated rejection of my kindness. ,I do not know either.....”

“Because you are from an aristocratic background~www.mtlnovel.com~ a rich family, you have been well-fed and had a wonderful childhood, and I am a wild girl from a small village and town, I have nothing, I envy you to the inferiority complex. Your kindness is right. At that time, it was charity for me. In order to protect my remaining dignity, I could only activate my only defense mechanism- stubbornness.”

At this point, Sonia has lost all her thoughts.

It’s so embarrassing, we didn’t feel so embarrassed when we were a child.

There is no place for her at Jianhua University, and now she can’t wait to run back to her hometown directly on the train.

This is definitely not her truth, it is the viewer who controls her mouth to say it!

It doesn’t count, it definitely doesn’t count!

After a long silence, Lois suddenly said: “Okay, let’s change clothes, there is no time to eat, let’s rush to the party directly.”

Sonia was pulled out of the dormitory, and when she was going down the stairs, Lois suddenly approached her and whispered a word.

“I will look at you.”

Technician’s Manual - Chapter 96

Chapter 96 - Ash Heath must die

Chapter 96 - Ash Heath must die

Backstage at the Starfall Auditorium, Sonia looked at the teleprompter and read the waiting lines silently, but she couldn't help but walked to the back door when she was thinking about it. Lois hurriedly stopped her.

"The bathroom is not here!"

"I think it would be better for me to take a warning!"

"Didn't you just made up your mind? Why are you shrinking now?"

"Because I found that I was not as confident as I thought, I am afraid!"

At this time, a handsome young man in a dark blue dress approached Sonia and said hello: "Miss Servi, good evening. How can I help you?"

"Mr. Cage, good evening." Sonia said hurriedly, "You came in time. I want you to hold my roommate Lois, because she is preventing me from escaping."

This young man is the host of Sonia's partner, Arsenal Cage, a second-year student in the Fengshu Department. He is known as the second-year "sword grass". His handsome appearance even made the female students spontaneously organize him. Fan club.

If it hadn't been for Felix's private visit to the dimensionality reduction attack, he would undoubtedly be the public enemy of the whole school.

"...That won't work, a gentleman can't join the ladies' game."

Arsenal smiled and said, "Professor Liblom asked me to remind you that the party is about to begin in ten minutes. Please handle your personal issues as soon as possible and prepare after the curtain. This is the first time we have cooperated. Please forgive me for what went wrong, Miss Servi, I hope we can become friends after tonight."

Sonia shook her head: "Don't worry, I will definitely make big news so that you won't be round again, I hope you don't hate me after tonight."

The other party was stunned for a moment: "Miss Servi, you are really...very funny. Then I will wait for you first."

When Arsenal left, Sonia pleaded: "Let me go, Lois, I'm really scared, I'm so nervous that I'm pounding, I'm sure to get into big trouble!"

"No, no!" Lois shook her head repeatedly: "What about your ambitions? You don't want to be Dedaros? Are you willing to become a swordsman in the future?"

"I know all the truth, and I know that I will regret it after I leave, but I still want to go!"

When the two were entangled, Ingulite and Adele came in through the back door. As soon as Adele entered the door, he said excitedly: "There is a star falling in the air outside. Go and see!"

Ingulite looked at Sonia who was about to cry: "What happened to her?"

Lois said helplessly: "She flinched, and now she wants to escape again."

"It's weird. The Sonia I know is a swordsman who dares to challenge Felix and Leonie. How could she be so hesitant." Ingullit thought for a while and suddenly clapped her hands: "I understand. Sonia is the kind of impulsive player who can show her strength the more nervous, and now we only need to push her onto the stage."

As the number one fan who witnessed the rise of Sonia throughout the whole process, Ingulite's words were unanimously recognized by everyone, so Sonia was dragged to the preparation area behind the curtain. Professor Liblom and others in charge of the party were in charge of the party. Wait there.

Seeing Sonia's arrival, Liblom nodded slightly, turned his head and said to the staff: "Prepare to pull up the curtain, it's time to start."

By now, Sonia had no room to retreat.

She took a deep breath, smoothed the wrinkles in her dress, and looked at Arsenal at each other, and said: "Wait, you try to be the limelight alone and don't have too much communication with me. Remember my advice, the more I speak The more, the easier it is."

It was the first time Arsenal heard such a request.

He was also the host of the evening party last year. At that time, his partner was almost trying to grab his limelight, interjecting, and fighting for beauty. Arsenal was a little afraid that she would be her again this year, but he didn't expect to be a first-year school girl.

But his biggest expectation for Sonia is to cooperate a little bit. He didn't expect Sonia to give in, which made him feel quite strange. It stands to reason that every host of the party wants to be the host of the league, so Try to show your talents at the party as much as possible, so that the professors can recognize and recommend yourself.

Did Sonia simply come to play as a host? Or maybe she just accompanied her friends to participate in the selection, but she was selected instead, so she was not very interested?

Many thoughts flashed through Arsenu's mind, but he nodded slightly: "I will try my best to meet your requirements."

Liblom said: "Ten seconds later, the curtain will be unveiled, each in its place, the stage will be handed over to you two, remember to turn on the radio."

Arsenal took the lead on the stage, Sonia looked at the stage she had been waiting for, and her heart suddenly calmed down.

“Viewer, are you there?”

Sonia knew there would be no response, but for some reason, she felt that she was suddenly full of courage, her small eyebrows were soothing, the corners of her mouth were slightly raised, and the corners of her eyes filled with smiles.

Viewer, are you fighting alone?

If I really mess up, you have to make up for me.

“Du Dulu—”

With the sound of the orchestra, the lights came on and the curtain was lifted.

Facing the gazes of the teachers and students of the two schools, Sonia completely entered the state.

“Ladies and gentlemen, good evening, I am Arsenal Cage, the host of this evening.”

“I am the host Sonia Servi.”

.....

...

Broken Lake Prison, Ah Xiu’s dormitory.

The white-haired hunter Gerald sits on the edge of the bed, holding a book borrowed from the Talent Library. The title of the book is "Simulated Lightning Spell Basics Concise Course (Third Edition)." Textbooks that can't be admitted after college.

After looking at it for a while, Gerald rubbed his eyes and turned to look at Ah Xiu who was sitting on the bedside and reading.

But unlike him, Ah Xiu reads a comic book titled "It's Just Blame Me that I Like Married Women."

It is said that this is a popular love comic in Kaimon, and Gerrard even sees Amy holding this comic in her spare time.

It is said that this book is about to be adapted into a movie, and Ron, who plays the leading role, is still a member of the same institute as Gerrard-but others are film and television superstars who see others and love cars, and he is like everybody. Fear the coffin to see the blood mad hunter who opened the lid.

He raised his eyebrows when he noticed Gerrard's eyes: "Do you want to read it? I recommend this comic. It has a very unique depiction of emotional humanity, which transcends the limitations of race and era, but it's best to be alone. Lie on the bed and watch, otherwise you will sometimes be as sweet as a worm on the bed, and sometimes you will have a stomachache in grief."

"I thought you were acting specifically for me to watch." Gerrard said: "It's hard to imagine that you will read love comics."

"Then what is my image in your eyes?"

"Probably it's a lunatic who thinks like subverting the blood moon all the time. I thought the books you read should be "The Crowd", "How to Cause a Void Storm with Unarmed Hands", "Criminal Law" and other books that will help your career."

"I said I have amnesia, I am not a cult leader at all." Ya Xiu sighed: "I just want to face the sea, the spring blossoms, and the rest of my life in peace."

“Interesting,” Gerrard smiled. “You don’t seem to be afraid of me. I thought you wouldn’t dare to go back to your bedroom tonight and hide in someone else’s room for the night.”

“Why are you afraid, you won’t do anything to me.”

“No, you are the only ones who have the shackles. My authority rules are very clean. There are no prohibitions.” Gerrard reached out and touched the long sword leaning on the edge of the bed: “That is to say, as long as I want to, you will be headed anytime. Landed.”

“Then I don’t have to be afraid.” Ya Xiu was quite calm: “Anyway, you can do it at any time. The prison is not big. If you really want to do something to me, I can’t escape at all. Stay in my dormitory, at least. You can die decently.”

“Besides, I don’t believe you will do anything to me. I am just a death row prisoner chased by the blood moon trial. Every day I try to steal my life. You kill me for nothing. I can’t think of you having to kill me. Reason.”

Gerald touched the hilt of the sword and let it go again.

“Indeed, this is the correct way for the scums to deal with it-killing can’t create value. Instead of killing you altogether, it is better to let you slowly rot and grow maggots in this prison, like a clown to please those who are disturbed by you. The terrified citizens died ugly in the end, squeezing out your value to make up for the sins you committed.”

“To be honest, I quite agree with this approach.” Ya Xiu said, “It would be better if I were not a permanent resident here.”

“But your state looks very relaxed.” Gerrard’s pupils flashed blood: “It’s not the first time I’ve been here-many people who have just been caught by me have changed their spirits and spirits. It’s very unstable, hysterical, repentant, begging for mercy, there are all kinds of things, but it’s the first time I’ve seen you like you are so natural and relaxed.

“Do you already have a way to get out of this prison?”

Ash and Gerald looked at each other, “Yes, I’m waiting for you to find the wrong person, and my conscience finds that I will be released.”

Gerald laughed, and took a sip from a wine bottle from his arms, “I thought I was catching the wrong person, but I felt relieved when I heard you say that.”

“what?”

“I didn’t expect that you actually have a way to escape from prison!”

Zheng!

At the moment when Gerald swung his sword, Ya Xiu wanted to cut me miraculously, and took out the honey-belly sword from his mouth to fight Gerald desperately. But he still resisted this impulse-even if he used the miracle of cutting me to lift the chip limit, but with his silver strength, even if Gerrard let him use his hands and feet, he could crush him without any effort!

The blade kissed Ah Xiu’s neck, drawing a shallow blood mark.

Gerrard’s nose moved, and the scarlet in his pupils deepened.

“...Why did you come to this conclusion?” Ah Xiu asked.

“Intuition.” Gerrard said lightly: “And, I also guessed your escape method.”

Ah Xiu’s heart was pounding-no way! ? They didn’t have time to act, have they been seen through?

Is this the strength of the Captain of the Blood Mad Hunter, the Three Wing Sanctuary Magician?

Or is there an insider?

“You must want the Four Pillar God to save you, right!”

Ya Xiu widened his eyes and opened his mouth slightly, with an incredible expression on his face, as if he saw someone falling and touching porcelain ten meters away from the car.

After a short silence, he said with difficulty: “I haven’t read the law, but I think the criminal procedure here should be “no doubt”! Even if you want to wrong me, at any rate, give me some evidence to make me die willingly. , Instead of just using your guesses to directly condemn me!”

“Captain Gerald, you noble and busy~www.mtnovel.com~ As for trouble making me a little prisoner like this?”

“Because I actually came here specifically for you, Ash Heath.”

Asia was taken aback.

Gerrard said: “Someone told me that you would escape from prison. He hoped that I could stop your actions and get rid of your curse directly... He even consumed a lot of favors just to invite me to Broken Lake. .”

“Killing a prisoner is actually a very serious crime. Except for a few people in Kaimon, no one can be exempt from this crime, and I am one of them.”

That shadowy name jumped out of Ya Xiu’s heart almost instantaneously, and a bitter cold hit him all over his body, and the murderous intent from the blade made Ya Xiu fall into an ice cave.

But he still asked: “Who is it?”

“Cillin Dole.” Gerald said quietly, “He said, the remnants of the Four Pillar Gods cult must not continue to live in the world.”

“In order to stop the Four Pillar Gods, and for the glory of the blood moon, Ash Heath must die.”

Chapter 97 - Can’t stretch it anymore

Jianhua University, Starfall Auditorium.

“... In order to vigorously promote the spirit of adventurous struggle, create a healthy and good competitive environment, and promote friendly exchanges between Jianhua and Truth, the next stage will be entrusted to the outstanding students of the two schools and let them be under the watchful eyes of the stars. Have a friendly match.”

As Sonia’s voice sounded, the dome of the auditorium suddenly rose. The dome is lined with a mirror. Under the ingenious mirror reflection, the starlight shines into the auditorium like a spotlight. Everyone is covered with a faint starlight tulle, and the light is even more than the previous indoor lighting. Dazzling.

In the starry country, all important activities must be carried out under the starry sky. If the day when the shining stars is high is the ‘working time’, the night when the stars are shining is the ‘entertainment time’-of course ordinary people can’t enjoy such a liver. Timetable, only the magicians who can recuperate their bodies through the exploration of the virtual realm can play like this.

Moreover, the starlight is not only good-looking, it represents the favor of the starry master, so the magician who enters the virtual realm at night, fights, learns, and trains can get extra gains, even if there are not many, it is better than nothing.

“In the gap where the stars are hanging down, I have invited Professor Oleron from Shinri University and Professor Nidala from Jianhua University to express their views on the friendly match.” Arsenu said.

Of course, there will be no headmaster-level characters in the party. After all, the time of the legendary magician is very precious, and it is not enough to spend in the virtual world. Therefore, the representative professor sent by Shinriku University is “Weapon Master” Olelon, and the Sword Flower University is sending “Rhythm Sword Master” Nidalla.

Nidara glanced at the students at the University of Truth, and said lightly: "Leonie, do it quickly, I rushed to the Void Realm, not interested in staying at this boring party."

The burly Olelon snorted coldly. There was no hair on his head, and various line patterns were engraved all over his body. If it was Sonia before, she didn't see any clues, but after fighting with the mine-holder in the virtual world, she knew that the tattoo on Oleron's body was a product of the increase in the thunder-surgery faction.

However, compared to the rough appearance, Olelon said unexpectedly and politely: "I hope that the friendly match tonight will be a reward for the outstanding students of the two schools. I look forward to the performance of the students of Jianhua University, but I also believe in the students of our school. I'm going to accept a research apprentice this year. If you don't perform well, this place will be snatched by the students of Jianhua University."

The students of Shinhwa University looked indifferent, and nodded slightly towards Olelon, obviously not paying attention to Jianhua University.

"Haha, the two professors are really full of gunpowder. Professor Olelon even offered a reward for studying apprentices. You must know that the 'Weapon Master' has confiscated new apprentices for five years, and none of the apprentices he taught are graduating. I haven't been promoted to the second wing before, and I want to come to tonight's friendly match is definitely wonderful."

Arsenu naturally took the words of the two professors back, so round that people couldn't tell anything wrong. He glanced at the dome that was only a few seconds away from unfolding, and naturally said to his partner next to him: "What do you think, Servi?"

Sonia, who was still holding a professional smile, couldn't hold her face completely, she looked at Arsenal with horrified eyes.

Isn't it good to say not to talk to me as much as possible, don't let me play on the spot, if you want to show the limelight, just do it yourself?

This is not to blame Arsenu. After all, he thought Sonia was just being polite, and it was too ugly to eat alone. The two hosts were just to create a lively atmosphere of exchanges and conversations, so how could they not let Sonia Standing stupidly.

And he took over all the topics, and he also said good things. Let Sonia say something nice to delay the time, isn't it too much?

Soon, Arsenu knew that he had done too much, very much. If you use the recent hit movie "Love Through Time" to describe it, it would be 'I want to run to five seconds before blocking my mouth'.

"I think Professor Nidala is a person with high emotional intelligence."

"Oh, why?"

"Because Professor Nidara said such low EQ here, it not only arouses the disgust of the teachers and students of the University of Truth, but also makes us who organize the party feel uncomfortable. It shows that we are not worthy of his EQ treatment. People who let him use emotional intelligence to treat must be people with high status, so he has high emotional intelligence."

Sonia said very smoothly: "Perhaps only at the party where the principal is present, we can see the scene of Professor Nidala's high emotional intelligence. Therefore, Nidala's teaching language and art is very good, but it is a bit bad; Nidala The professor's demeanor is also difficult to evaluate, because he doesn't have it at all."

silence.

Except for the sound of the unfolding of the dome, there was almost no sound in the party. You must know that although this party is not public, there are quite a few people attending it. One-third of the professors and outstanding students of all grades gathered together.

They looked at Sonia on the stage, all of them dumbfounded, but it was a pity that Professor Nidala was sitting in the most corner, and no one dared to turn their heads to observe his expression.

Lois and the others, who were hiding in the backstage, were also stunned. They had a premonition for Sonia's performance tonight, but they still didn't expect Sonia to do such a thing.

Even Arsenu was stunned for a while, his head turned into a ball of paste, and he couldn't think of a clever paragraph to take Sonia's words.

"Ha ha!"

Professor Olelon's thunderous laughter sounded, and he applauded: "Well said, Jianhua University is really talented!"

"The University of Truth hasn't done too much," Sonia said: "With Professor Olelon, you are such a polite professor, the University of Truth is really a treasure. I really have to admire GaleX's excellent matching mechanism. ~www.mtlnovel.com~Professor Olelon and Professor Nidala are a matchless winner."

"How can I be polite?"

"You just said that if a student from Jianhua University wins a student from Jinhua University, you will accept a research apprentice from Jianhua University. Isn't that a polite remark? Your past three apprentices are all high-achieving students from Jinhua University. Bad checks, what to do or what to do after you go back, you will never accept students from other schools as apprentices."

"Of course what I said is true!"

"Then you make a paper! Use the film to seal the contract! Set it down!"

Some students who watch the excitement and are not afraid of things also shouted: "Yes, set up a document!"

The students of the University of Truth immediately fought back: "Why do you set up a written evidence?"

Looking at the party gradually turning into a vegetable market, Arsenu suddenly realized that this may be the biggest challenge he encountered in his host career, not one of them.

He yelled decisively: “Now I invite Lorenz from the swordsmanship department of Jianhua University to come on stage with Ligang Carroll of the University of Truth for the first single friendly match!”

Chapter 98 - uninvited guest

Chapter 98 - uninvited guest

As Arsenu said, she quickly pulled Sonia to the commentary stand next to her and sat down.

Sonia shut her mouth obediently.

As long as no one asks her questions, she can control herself not to speak.

At this moment, she was worried and grateful in her heart. The worry was naturally because she had offended the two professors again and again, and fortunately it was because she had offended Nidala, the “Sword Master of Rhythm”—Trozan has always been at odds with Nidala. Presumably Trozan would protect her as an apprentice.

As for the ‘Master of Weapon’ Oleron, it’s even simpler. As long as Sonia doesn’t go to the University of Truth, will Oleron trouble her across the school?

The only problem is that her path as a host, the dream of a movie star, may be about to end here...

At this time, the two players had already stepped onto the stage, and Lolien was Celia’s relative who had troubled Sonia before.

Although his strength is not as good as Leonie, Luolian is also a member of the sword flower competition team, and his strength is definitely not bad. At that time, he was more than enough to deal with Sonia Gafelix alone.

“Luo Lian, I heard that you are so downhearted that you are going to bully the freshmen in the first grade.” Li just took out a long bow with a hideous appearance: “If you don’t grow up, you will vent your temper to the younger brother. Jianhua University has a good style of study. “

“Li Gang, don’t forget who cut your bowstring before.” Luo Lian held the sword in one hand and sneered.

“I didn’t forget whose * was shot by me.”

Arsenu looked down at the information and said: “The two players also faced off in last year’s league. One year later, they must have improved more than them. Miss Servi, what do you think?”

Arsenal didn’t know what was wrong here, but Sonia was responsible for introducing Lolian and Li Gang’s magical situation and past achievements on the table, so he chose to trust Sonia again.

But he forgot that what was written here on the desk was “please introduce the situation of the two young magicians”, not “what do you think”.

In response to Sonia’s helpless eyes, Arsenu knew he was wrong again.

“I think the two of them are wasting everyone’s time by spraying trash talk to each other, so it’s better to start a fight and let everyone have a good time.”

Luo Lian’s mouth twitched, decisively and preemptively, with a kick, his figure turned into a straight line.

Li Gang stepped forward without rushing, condensed a silver arrow from his hand and draped it on the bowstring, instantly swapping offense and defense!

“Swordsmanship miracle shooting star is straight, beautiful! But Carol’s actions are not slow at all. As we all know, archery has always been a method of group combat. If you dare to participate in single-player competitions with archery, you can see that Carol is very good at it. In close combat, I’m afraid the players will be more on guard.”

“Oh, the flashing steel arrow is the best miracle Carol player is good at. At the moment of evasion, he shoots a heavy steel arrow, and the defensive spirit of the player here has been repelled!”

“A beautiful attack! It’s a pity, the Carol player broke the offensive with one arrow and opened the distance again!”

After explaining for a long time, Arsenu couldn’t help feeling thirsty. Before drinking the water, he subconsciously asked, “What do you think of the current situation?”

Tian Lian can see that this is entirely Arsenal’s professional response-when drinking water, others have to help with words to make up for this period of empty window.

“Luo Lian loses more and loses less. He is a speed player, but the opponent is an archer who is good at protracted combat and distance.” Sonia analyzed with a professional eye: “But Li Gang lacks the miracle that bursts out instantly. As long as Luo Lian dares to sacrifice his arm to block the next attack, he will have the opportunity to create a gap between defeat and victory.”

“But Luo Lian seems to be very confident in his back hand, he should still have a powerful miracle. But with his swordsmanship, the miracle he used may not be faster than Li Gang’s reaction.”

Without saying this, many people cast surprised glances at Sonia-including Nidala, Olelon, and Li Gang and Lo Lian on stage!

Luo Lian’s eyes flickered, and he suddenly rushed forward, and at the same time, he drew a cross with his long sword toward the front!

The mana gathered and formed, and the huge cross sword energy almost occupied the entire stage, sweeping towards Li Gang like a guillotine!

“This is your hole card? That’s it?”

Li Gang sneered, stepped forward and turned around to dodge, and actually passed through the cross sword qi directly, unscathed!

At the same time, he took a bow to draw an arrow, and shot an arrow at Luo Lian who was rushing over!

However, Luo Lian did not dodge or block this time, but directly stretched out his hand to block the silver arrow, changing the distance with a small injury!

Li Gang was a little flustered, and quickly retreated and fired three arrows in a row. The three arrows exploded almost at the same time, like a meteor falling, breaking through the sky, and at a glance, it was a bursting arrow that could shoot people into two!

However, Luo Lian became fierce and did not dodge at all. He desperately urged the defensive magic spirit, and directly blocked the three arrows with his left hand!

Zheng!

When the two stopped, everyone saw Luo Lian's left hand full of * holes, and the whole hand was twisted and deformed, as if the wind would break in two.

But Luo Lian's blade was close to Li Gang's neck!

In just a few seconds, Li Gang turned from an advantage to a defeat!

Arsenal announced loudly: "The first friendly match, the winner Lorenz!"

The medical doctor hurriedly received the winner Luo Lian for backstage treatment. On the contrary, there was no injury at all in the loser, and naturally he did not need treatment. The latter seems to have difficulty accepting his own failure, standing on the stage and savoring this unspeakable shame.

"The next player to play is..."

“Hey you!”

Li Gang suddenly interrupted Arsenal’s words and pointed at Sonia and cursed: “I just sit in the audience and talk nonsense, and I don’t see you in the competition. I hate people like you the most—”

“Li Gang!” Olelon’s face sank, shouting to stop the shameful student.

“If it hadn’t been for her to mess up my mind just now, I wouldn’t lose at all!”

Li Gang was dissatisfied: “What I hate most is that others point me when I am fighting. If you are great, you will come up and fight me! After all, it’s—”

“OK.”

“Look, I know someone like her...huh?”

Li Gang was slightly startled.

“Come and fight, I won’t lose anyway.” Sonia stood up from the commentary, “Like you, a bad guy like you who loses and blames the air, I also have the urge to beat you. .”

“Can’t lose? It’s up to you?” Li Gang sneered: “I didn’t see you last year. Are you a freshman in the first grade? Do you have more than one feather in your condensed mana?”

As he spoke, Li Gang stretched out his hand and shook his back, and most of the silver wings condensed appeared on his back!

Although it hasn’t fully expanded yet, it’s only a few feathers away. You must know that Li Gang is a second-year student. He is two years away from graduation. He can be promoted to Second Wing before graduation and enter the Time Continent!

Arsenal quickly grabbed Sonia: “Miss Servi, you don’t have to—”

In the next second, a more complete Silver Wing unfolded before his eyes.

The dazzling silver light is more dazzling than the stars at night, deeply attracting the attention of the audience!

Fully unfolded Silver Wings!

The first-year Sonia, Sonia, who had just become a surgeon not long before, was actually an official first-wing surgeon! ?

“Want to compete with skill? I’m looking for a chance to show off to everyone.”

Sonia gently stroked her Silver Wings and proudly said: “You should be proud to be my stepping stone.”

“Next, use your defeat to pave the way for my glory!”

By now, Sonia didn’t know whether this was the madman that the summoning ceremony forced her to say, or the truth she voluntarily told her.

She only knows that this kind of unscrupulous feeling is really cool!

Seeing Sonia walking towards the stage, Rigang took a step back subconsciously for some reason.

At this moment of nervousness and weirdness, suddenly everyone moved in their hearts and looked up at the same time.

Above the unfolding dome, under the curtain of night, a starlight suspended in the sky suddenly burst out of mana fluctuations, and then a person fell from the starlight and was falling into the Starfall Hall, in front of Sonia.

The man jumped up as soon as he landed. He noticed that there were many people around, so he rushed to the nearest woman and tried to take her hostage and escape—

?!

Feeling the opposing party's rich murderous intent, Sonia directly used a hand-made sword to send out an 'Evil Light Slash' to force the uninvited guests back. The uninvited guest was shocked, how could a girl who was just looking for a magician?

He directly gave up the plan to kidnap the hostages and tried to rush out of the crowd by virtue of speed. He is an earth-wind dual-system magician, a once-famous thief, mastering the miracle "Earth Floating Boat", and can easily escape when surrounded by thousands of people!

However, at this time, two suddenly appeared hands were placed on his shoulders, pressing him firmly in place.

"Your neck, hands, and feet are all shackles of starlight." Oleron said.

The uninvited guest looked down and found that his neck and limbs were unknowingly wrapped in dark blue circles, which looked like heavy shackles, but he could not feel any weight.

"This shows that you are an invader from the outer realm. The Starry Nation has marked you as an invasive species and used 'starlight shackles' to prevent you from jumping into space." Nidala raised her head and looked at the one above the dome that looks very similar. The imaginary passage of the starlight.

"Interestingly, there is actually a passage to Outland in the sky above Jianhua University? Tell me, which country are you from? Can you understand our language?"

At this time, the uninvited guest realized that there were magicians all around him.

And he had secretly launched a miracle just now, but it had no effect at all. The whole body was suppressed and unable to move. This means that the two magicians holding him behind are at least the Three Wing Sanctuary magicians. The sanctuary suppressed his magical effects!

As if feeling dangerous, the uninvited guest of UU Reading www.uukanshu.com popped up in front of a light curtain, flashing a series of red warnings: "Detected that life is dying, activate self-detonation mode!"

"Huh? Can't just let you die like that."

The red information was suddenly messed up into unrecognizable garbled codes, and finally the light curtain disappeared with a snap-the body chip was actually suppressed!

The uninvited guest gave a wry smile. In order to prevent him from revealing the location of the Void Realm channel and the secrets of the kingdom, in addition to the chip, his blood, bones, flesh, soul, and even memories were engraved with more than one miracle. Only disarming the chip only allowed his life to live a few more seconds.

"Huh? A curse that even the sanctuary can't purify? Nidalla, can you stop him from committing suicide?"

"Yes, kill him first."

The uninvited guest feels his body is dissolving, the blood is boiling, the skull is singing, and the eyeballs are running away. The intense pain flooded his senses. Before he completely lost consciousness, he felt deep despair for his misfortune, but there was a malicious smile on the corner of his mouth.

Because he knows that his misfortune will crush the happiness of others.

Technician's Manual - Chapter 99

Chapter 99 - Viewer?

Chapter 99 - Viewer?

The networking party abruptly ended, all the students were driven back to the dormitory, a huge white tower was built on the ground, and the nearby area was designated as a military restricted zone.

The students didn't know what the intruder meant, only to see him turned into a pool of mashed potatoes and then packaged in a jar by the professors. It was almost foreseeable that the mashed potatoes in the dining hall would be unsold in the next few days.

The four of Sonia stood on the balcony of the bedroom, looking at the huge tower that almost covered the night in the distance. They were a little dazed for a while—to be honest, although they knew and saw the mighty power of the magician, it was because Galaxy had always Calm and happy, the magician's power has already penetrated into their daily lives, so that they are not surprised.

For example, controlling the weather, preventing ground sound, resurrecting limbs, giving birth to food... These miracles have even become the daily tasks of common occupations in the "University Student Employment Survey".

When every minute and every second is bathed in the glory of miracles, you naturally take it for granted.

As for the magician wars and miracle scenes in the movie, although it is very enjoyable to watch, it will always make people feel unreality.

Really so powerful?

Even if it is so powerful, what does it have to do with me?

However, at this moment, the apprentices of the magician at Jianhua University finally saw the part of the magician Weili.

Just now, in just a few minutes, a white pagoda with a height of several hundred meters was built on the ground. They watched Nuo Da's Starfall Auditorium directly covered by the white pagoda. The mud and sand piled up like building blocks. The top of the white pagoda touched the starlight hanging in the sky at a speed visible to the naked eye.

Not a day, not an hour, but a few minutes!

The magnificent buildings that ordinary people need to build in several years or even more than ten years are completed by the skill of the artisans with a cup of black tea!

“Is it the legendary magician who made the shot?” Lois murmured: “I don’t remember which legendary magician is specializing in earth arts...”

“As long as the legend of the sanctuary can already be understood by analogy, it is commonplace to use one’s own skill to perform other skills.” Ingulite commented: “For example, the Wind Erosion Yadan of the wind magic system is an unearthed exercise with the wind magic spirit. The miracle of magic power, the huge building was carved out of the storm.”

“What’s more, even the magical faction that the legendary magician concurrently cultivates, with the four-winged mana and the four-winged magic spirit, can also exert unimaginable power. That invader seems to be taken seriously, other schools and even nobles The people in the courtyard rushed over, so many magicians gathered together, and it might be just a simple task for them to build a huge white tower.”

“I discovered the turbulent flow of the virtual world before!” Adele exclaimed: “If I report in time at that time, will I be rewarded by the school? For example, exempt my homework and graduation thesis?”

“The school will reward you for rebuilding without spending money.” Lois nodded Adele’s forehead: “You hung up two courses last semester, you hang up two more this semester, next year I will see how your class schedule is.”

“Don’t worry, I recently learned a wonderful cheating method, and I will never fail again!”

“Are you serious? Cheating under the eyes of the professor? Are you a hidden golden mage? Is the magic faction ‘chasing drama’?”

“Humph, wait and see.”

“Speaking of this.” Ingulite looked at Sonia: “Sonia, why did you suddenly unfold the Silver Wings? After calculating, you have only stepped into the Void Realm for less than ten days!”

Lois and Adele also secretly looked at Sonia. They were curious about this, but their relationship with Sonia was not good enough to spy on this kind of information, so they waited for Inguli. Especially provoke the topic.

After all, it is too scary.

Everyone knows that Sonia started her swordsmanship training on the evening of April 12, and she summoned wave swordsmanship spirit in the battle with Felix in the training hall, so she was called the ‘first swordsmanship genius of the watermanship system’. The next day Professor Trozan, who had heard the news, was accepted as a research apprentice.

Then she started to dabble in the virtual world on the night of the 13th, and today is the 21st.

Only eight days!

It took only eight days for Sonia to go from being an apprentice to an apprentice who didn’t even have Void Wings to becoming an official silver magician who unfolded the Silver Wings!

This speed is really too terrifying—you know that Ligang Carroll, who was on the stage just now, just because he gathered most of the Silver Wings in his second grade, he was regarded as a genius at the University of Truth.

And Professor Nidala’s lover, “Orange Dancer” Leonie, who has developed the Silver Wings since the third grade, is regarded as possessing the posture of a swordsman!

No matter how talented the young magician is, it takes a year or two to swim in the sea of knowledge to condense the mana, and Sonia completed this process in eight days!

If there were no realm restrictions, the magical faction had to advance to the golden realm first before the magicians could be promoted to the second wing. Lois even suspected that Sonia would be able to become golden magicians before they became silver magicians.

To be honest, if the starry sky suddenly fell down, the absolute protagonist tonight is undoubtedly Sonia; if it hadn't been for the school's announcement of martial law, all students must stay in their dormitories, and now their dormitories must have been broken by countless people. NS.

For eight days to gather the Silver Wings and navigate the sea of knowledge for thousands of miles, how did this happen?

Sonia was also a little scared at this time.

In fact, she didn't want to expose herself so quickly. However, she just said, "Does your condensed mana have a feather?" Under the restrictions of the summoning ritual, she had to call out Silver Wings to prove herself—this Sonia never admitted that she had a mind to show off at that time.

Naturally, her mana is because she and the viewers have been using the 'Secret of Vortex' to create vortexes in the past two days.

Even if the vortex created in this way is short and difficult to create, but the viewer can find three or four intellectual creatures in one night, and after three nights, the two of them created several vortexes, both unfolding the Silver Wings.

This would have been a good thing, but Sonia's time to become a magician was too short, and once exposed, it seemed too scary. And she is not sure whether the school will covet the 'Secret of the Vortex'. If this thing is pure knowledge and information, she will contribute, and the school will have to reward her with a candy.

But the "Secret of the Vortex" is a secret poison. The more people who know, the deeper the poison will be for those who know. Now Sonia every time she drinks water is as uncomfortable as drinking water. She is not willing to share this secret to cause her to drink. The water difficulty increases.

"Because I met the whirlpool." Sonia controlled the amount of information she revealed to be honest.

Everyone suddenly uttered a sigh, and did not continue to ask questions, with envy and jealousy on their faces.

They may think that Sonia encountered a super long-distance vortex, and then gathered the Silver Wings at once, and did not think about Sonia encountering multiple vortexes—who would have guessed that someone has been the first class repeatedly What about awards?

Huh!

Suddenly there was a sound like a shattering mirror in the starry sky. Everyone looked up and saw a woman in a blue robe flying to the white tower, and then there was a blast from the tower, and even a ring of rainbow ripples bloomed. There was a battle!

“The female magician who just flew to the giant tower is... the saint of the church?” Adele said in surprise: “I seemed to have seen her when I attended the Great Festival last year...”

Lois asked: “Adele, are you religious?”

“I don’t believe it, but the nobles of Galos must go to various festivals.” Adele looked at the top of the huge tower emitting a corrosive halo: “Nothing happened just now... Could it be that the saint of the church beat other professors? Woke up?”

The others couldn’t speak at all, they knew less about the church than Adele. In the starry country, the church is a very contradictory existence. On the one hand, it is the unquestionably only state religion. There is no other faith. It is responsible for presiding over various ceremonies. Even the coronation of the queen must be approved by the pope.

But at the same time, the church is very low-key, and there is almost no missionary activity. Even the movies, operas and other literary works about the church are pitiful, and there are almost no believers.

Even the female college students of them only know that the church worships the Starry Lord, but they have forgotten the full name of the church.

Is it the Starry Church or the Star Church?

“It’s time to take a shower.” Adele yawned.

Sonia suddenly remembered something, opened the miracle bracelet and found that it was already 11:30!

In the past, she had to enter the Void Realm at 11 o’clock!

Regardless of removing makeup and taking a bath, UU Reading www.uukanshu.com Sonia lay directly on the bed, looking for the door of truth in wave swordsmanship—tonight the school was under martial law, so she naturally couldn’t go to the meditation building, but she was An official silversmith, even without the assistance of the Meditation Building, she can easily find the door of truth!

Close your eyes... the door of truth... sink into your consciousness... into the virtual realm!

Enter the steps as usual, but before Sonia opened her eyes, she felt the cold water surrounding her-it was disgusting, as disgusting as when I was studying at home when I was a child, I was scoffed at by others. .

When I opened my eyes, it was not the familiar boats and familiar strangers that caught my eyes, but the eternal white fog and the deep and dark sea of knowledge.

Looking around for a week, I was alone, and the surroundings were terrifyingly quiet. Regardless of the nausea, Sonia swam around, but her pupils were always the same scenery.

An unspeakable panic hit Sonia’s heart.

“The viewer?”

Technician’s Manual - Chapter 100

Chapter 100 - Give a face to the rich woman

“If the damage is enough, use an opponent and cut open happily...”

Igola, who hadn't slept all night, let out a long breath and jumped out of bed to go outside, but he stopped when he reached the door.

“Why am I so anxious? Wouldn't it be better for him to die?”

Igola shook his head, and went back to the bathroom to take a bath as usual. It's just that this time he didn't have the comfort and relaxation of the previous baths. After soaking for a while, he hurriedly dried his body, and then brushed his teeth to start the enlightenment.

But the prerequisite for motivating the resonance of the apocalypse spirit is to maintain a natural calmness, and Igola is now in a mess, and he has no hope at all. But for some reason, Enlightenment Shuling was still activated, and the toothpaste white foam left a line in the mirror:

“Don't be too surprised”

Surprised?

Could it be that Ah Xiu really died?

Igola felt cold in his heart. Yesterday, seeing Gerald paying attention to Ashiu, he realized that the captain of the hunter was directed at the inconspicuous cult leader.

Although escorting prisoners and assisting the prison in arranging blood moon trials are part of the hunter's job content, they will never dispatch the captain of the law enforcement brigade. With Gerrard's status, he can completely reject work that he is not interested in. Therefore, when he comes to Broken Lake, someone must have aroused his interest!

If it's just that, the big deal is that Ya Xiu sacrifices his skin. But Igola also accidentally learned that people like Gerrard have legal immunity!

In the Kingdom of Blood Moon, the law is God's will, and the rules are God's , and cannot be violated or violated! As long as you are confirmed to have committed a crime, even if you are the permanent secretary, Mayor Kaimon, or wealthy businessmen, you must be tried in accordance with the law, and there is no room for negotiation!

Igola still can't forget. When he was watching the annual National Blood Moon Trial in the nursing home 13 years ago, the elegant man with a calm expression in the light curtain was torn to pieces by the executioner!

That man is the legendary 'silent performer' Thales Gordo! The legend of the blood moon kingdom for nearly a hundred years! The four wings are fully expanded, almost touching the magician in the realm of gods!

However, even such a strong man still has to bear the punishment of a trial hammer as the price of violating the law!

It was also from that day that Igola completely determined his development path.

In the kingdom of blood moon, the real strength is to understand the rules, use the rules, and control the rules. Otherwise, no matter how strong you are, you will only be a slightly stronger ant in the face of the laws made by the gods!

But during his years of life as an "insurance contractor", Igola accidentally learned that some people have legal immunity—even if they commit illegal acts, the law will not sanction them. On the contrary, the parliament and the church must protect them. , Control public opinion and calm the turmoil.

These people are extremely rare, and they must meet two conditions: First, they must be Blood Saints or Moonshadows; second, they must hold important positions!

The former is well understood. The Blood Saints and Moonshadows are the preferred races of the Blood Moon Supreme Lord. Most of the preferential treatment will fall to these two races. No one will be dissatisfied-if you don't agree, you can take the test. It can be transformed into a blood saint or a moonshade, the research institute and church will recruit new people every year.

The latter is an 'important post', because in the eyes of most ordinary people, the mayor of the City Council and members of the parliament are important posts, but this is not the case.

The three most important institutions in the Blood Moon Nation are the "Crime Hunting Office" with law enforcement powers, the "War Zone" responsible for suppressing the abyss, and the "Beloved Church" that has jurisdiction over all nursing homes, specialized maternity hospitals, and population statistics. '.

The bishop of the church, the commander of the war zone, and the captain of the hunter are the three most important positions.

Among them, the bishop of the church must be the Moonshade clan, and the commander of the war zone can only be held by the blood saint clan. As for the crime hunting captain, both clan can be used. Therefore, these three types of people have legal immunity!

Gerald Westminster is a member of the privileged class who can ignore the law!

In other words, even if Gerrard and Yaxiu enter the dormitory, and then he is left alone, Gerald will not be punished, and even if nothing happened.

However, many people in the prison thought that Gerrard should just recount the old times with Ashiu, and the two of them had a friendly exchange-the kind that Ashiu could not fight back-and then passed.

After all, Ah Xiu was a dead end in prison, and Gerrard didn't have any need to harm his reputation for the man who was waiting to die. To put it bluntly, killing Ash will only dirty Gerald's hands.

Igola felt the same way, but he suddenly realized a problem in the middle of the night.

The point of this matter is not whether Gerald is willing or not, but whether he can—why did Gerald ask to live with Ash? He is judging whether Ah Xiu has the value of making him sin!

At that time, Igola felt that Yaxiu was finished. With Yaxiu's low EQ, his undeveloped brain, and infant-level expression management, Gerrard might hack him to death if he didn't like it.

But isn't this great? He has made a wish and has no need to realize Asia's wish...

Just as Igola walked into the restaurant while persuading himself, he saw an unimaginable picture: Ash and Gerald were having breakfast face to face, and even talking and laughing.

Ah Xiu seemed to tell a terrible joke, and the cold white-haired hunter who was dragging him laughed loudly. The decibel of his voice even exceeded the "Regulations on Public Places Management". If he was replaced by a death row prisoner, he must have been directly banned by the chip.

"Ah, Igola, here!" Ah Xiu saw Igola at a glance and raised his hand to greet him.

I don't see your eyes so good at other times...Igola, who wanted to hide to observe the situation, was forced to walk over with the breakfast helplessly, "Good morning two, how did you sleep last night?"

"Okay, very good." Gerrard said, "The accommodation here is better than my home, but I haven't slept for many years. Fortunately, there is Asia, so I don't feel bored."

"Oh?" Igola raised his eyebrows.

"Last night playing with Gerrard very late," Ya Xiu shrugged. "It's been a long time since I had such a fun."

Play? Igola and the people nearby showed subtle expressions.

"Why don't you stay one night? I will give you the chance to turn defeat into victory. But you need to change your habit of being anxious. I didn't use all my strength last night, so you lost yourself."

The expressions of the executed prisoners nearby became more and more weird, and the eyes that looked at Gerrard changed color-Gerrard was actually vulnerable in front of Ash?

Hiss, the 'Evil Demon' Asia is so terrifying!

"No, no, the city is urging me to go back. This time I came to jail as a vacation. If I don't go back to the work director, I will be troubled."

At this time, Gerrard and the others seemed to have received a message. The blood mad hunters who were dining in the restaurant stood up at the same time, and Gerrard waved his hand: "The ship has arrived, then see Ya Xiu next time."

"Did you leave so soon? Have a good trip, remember to write to me when you have time."

"no problem."

When the blood hunters left the restaurant, the death row prisoners looked at Ya Xiu with respect.

Can actually establish a deep friendship with Captain Hunter Gerald, can 'Black Beast' do it?
Can 'Diamond' do it, but 'Evil Demon' Yaxiu can do it!

They knew that Yaxiu was brought back by Gerrard himself, but after only sleeping for one night, Gerrard was actually conquered by Yaxiu!

No wonder he can become a saint favored by the Four Pillars of God, no wonder he can become the only madman who has formed a cult in the blood moon kingdom in the past 100 years!

As expected of Ash Heath, he can easily do what we can't do!

Quietly, the 'evil' Yaxiu has become the awesome king of death row prisoners in Broken Lake Prison- although he is still a death row prisoner.

Igola directly towed Yaxiu to the sea-viewing platform. At this time, the transport ship carrying the blood hunters had just left the port, breaking through the wind and waves of the broken lake and sailing north.

Many early finger sharks greeted with their teeth actively. On the hull, the sunlight fell on their scales and sparkled.

“What did you play with him last night?”

Ah Xiu was slightly startled—this is your first question?

“What else can I play, of course, is playing cards.”

“Play cards?” Igola was stunned: “What cards to play?”

As an extremely developed fantasy society, the Blood Moon Kingdom naturally also has playing cards. Although the details are somewhat different, they are similar. Ah Xiu found that there was no blackjack gameplay of ‘Black Jack’, so he modified it and taught it to Gerald, and the two of them played Black Jack for one night.

Although Gerrard learned quickly, his play was unexpectedly radical, and he often broke his cards accidentally, and Ya Xiu abused him all night.

After listening to this gameplay, Igola was also impressed: “A good game, if you let the casino know, it will definitely become a popular gambling game... But didn’t Gerrard plan to do anything to you? I thought he was deliberate. It’s for you.”

Ah Xiu looked at Igola: “Are you worried about me?”

“Of course, you still owe me a wish.” Igola said calmly: “Who do I want to pay for when you die? Only I owe someone in this world, and no one can owe me.”

“Sure enough, no matter how lonely a person is, there will always be someone who will worry about him—such as taxation and creditors.” Ah Xiu complained, and then said, “Professor Schilling asked him to come and kill me.”

“What?” Igola was shocked: “Silling unexpectedly... how did you escape? If Gerrard wants to kill you, no one in Broken Lake Prison can protect you!”

Ya Xiu proudly said, “Of course it is because of my sincere eyes, kind heart, and endless eloquence!”

“Don’t be kidding, I’m serious.”

“I’m not kidding! I really told him about reason and moved with affection, and then he gave up killing me and played cards with me all night.”

Igola looked at Yaxiu for a while and confirmed that the latter had not lied, and the expression on his face was completely unstretched.

A three-winged blood saint who had lived for more than a hundred years was easily convinced by Ya Xiu?

Are you also a psychiatrist? Otherwise, it is difficult to explain how you have mastered a hypnotism that can control the strong in the sanctuary.

Or is this the power of the Four Pillars God? Can Ah Xiu change the will of others invisibly?

Igola looked at the transport ship that was about to disappear into the sea, and suddenly remembered something: “You said, Gerrard played Black Jack with you all night, and he lost more than he lost?”

Ya Xiu shrugged: “Yeah, I didn’t expect Gerrard to be so weak.”

Igola wanted to say something, but still closed his mouth.

According to him, although Black Jack’s gameplay is ever-changing, for a three-winged sanctuary, this computing power is not worth mentioning. In theory, Gerrard can rely on memory and computing power to master it. All the cards on both sides of the enemy and our own, and even calculate their own optimal decision.

Even if he comes into contact with him for the first time, he should be proficient and proficient quickly, so that he won't lose more or lose less.

But it could also be that Ash is good at playing Blackjack, Igola thought.

.....

...

On the transport ship, a group of blood mad hunters are playing cards together.

"Aha." Gerrard revealed his cards, "It's just full. I won. 5 silver coins per person."

"No, captain, you are not allowed to play!" A hunter shook his head and said, "You cheated!"

"You shuffled the cards, and you dealt them. I am useless with magical skills. What cheats did I do?" The white-haired hunter pretended to be stupid.

The hunter couldn't help cursing: "Your memory and computing power are better than ours. As soon as we got the cards, you analyzed all the situations. How could we win? You are simply using the sanctuary ability to crush us! "

"Okay, okay, if you don't play, don't play." Gerrard blew his whistle, walked to the side railing, and stared at the shattered lake prison that was gradually farther away through the glass curtain wall.

A thin orc hunter walked over. He was different from most hunters, thin and short, and at first glance he thought he was a goblin.

However, like Gerald, he has a pair of ruby-like blood pupils.

“Captain, I’m very curious.” He leaned on the railing and asked, “What the * did Ash Heath actually let you let him go?”

Gerrard smiled and said, “Bath, how do you know I’m here for Heath?”

“It’s not the first time you have done such a thing.” Bass said: “The law enforcement captain is often someone who often breaks the law. Don’t think I don’t know who did the assassination of Congressman Will. Captain, you want to do it every time. What? The entire crime hunting hall has to wipe your butt, and it won’t be troublesome to go through the procedures...”

“However, this is the duty bestowed by the Lord, and it must have his deep meaning.”

“That’s why I’m curious, because you have too many reasons to kill Ash Heath. The leader of the Four Pillars is enough for you to take action. And you should have gotten some information that Heath still exists. It’s dangerous, so I came to Broken Lake on purpose, right?”

Gerrard said: “Sure enough, I am comfortable to use, insightful and smart. In comparison, Amy is really not good...”

Buss raised his eyebrows: “Captain, you violated sexism, racial discrimination and other regulations with a single sentence, and it was involved in the conflict between the blood and moon races~www.mtlnovel.com~ If you let others hear, Kaimon City The media won’t have to look for other news this month, just verbal and penalizing you can fill the page.”

Gerrard smiled, and then said: “As for Ash Heath...you are right. He has too many reasons for me to do it. For example, he reads the love comics I hate the most.”

“So what did he do to make the captain change your mind?”

“He didn’t do anything, or in other words, everything he did did not shake me. The reason I let him go was because I had to give someone a face.”

Buss was startled, “...Is there anyone else who needs you to give face?”

“Of course there is.”

Gerrard looked at the Broken Lake Prison that was about to disappear in the distance, and recalled the crow uniform hidden under the bed in Ash’s bedroom and the sweet smell of Ash’s blood.

“I smelled the breath of colorless source blood.”

“I am the compatriots from the four major research institutes. I dare not * the long-awaited sacrifice of the new people.”
