

The Boss Behind The Game Chapter 704

“Recently, two major events had happened in the game, shaking the entire player circle.”

The first was the server-wide announcement that ao Jian had received the rule of sword intent.

“This incident was like an earthquake with a magnitude of eight, completely shocking all the players.”

The players had already understood the rules of the game announcement.

“Usually, when a player obtained an inheritance or an extremely rare treasure, only a server-wide announcement would be made.”

“However, this was not the case for the server-wide announcement.”

“This was the game prompt that sounded at the same time in the five major servers, and it was of great significance.”

“At this moment, even the newbies knew that ao Jian had obtained something incredible.”

“Although he didn’t know what ‘nomological sword intent’ was, it must be more valuable than all the inheritances at this stage.”

“As the players discussed this, they also began to urge ao Jian to quickly post the details on the interface on the forums so that they could have a good look.”

Ao Jian didn’t hide anything and shared the details of his nomological sword intent on the forums.

“After the players saw the detailed description of the nomological sword intent, they were completely excited.”

“At this moment, they understood that the man who had once stood at the peak of Beiqi’s hanging wall Regiment had returned.”

“Not only did he not fall from his divine altar due to his failure, but he had also become an even stronger existence.”

“Beiqi’s players were still very happy about this, because the wall-hacking group was the face of a server. The stronger the players in the wall-hacking group were, the more face they would have.”

“After all, when players from other servers were dissing each other on the forum, they would often say, “our cheater xxxxx is so awesome, he can crush your xxxxx, trash!””

“The second matter was the addition of the new NPC, sui ye.”

“Before suiye joined Beiqi’s camp, he was called “bald teacher” by the players. In the players’ hearts, he was connected to opportunities.”

“At this stage, many players had successfully comprehended sword will with sui ye’s help, and they could be considered to have stepped into the threshold of swordsman. ”

“However, the players always thought that the bald instructor would disappear one day. After all, there were no long-term opportunities in the game, so they were very eager to find him and learn the way to condense sword will from him. ”

“However, to the players ‘surprise, the bald instructor joined Beiqi and became a part of underworld city. ”

This news was definitely a joyous occasion for the players.

Who said that there was no free lunch in the world? wasn’t this free opportunity to become stronger delivered to his door?

“However, just as the players thought that they could learn sword will for free from the bald instructor, a new building appeared in Hades city. ”

“””Suiye sword mansion!”” ”

“Upon entering the Kendo gym, the first thing that the players saw was the eye-catching price list hanging on the wall. The list was filled with all kinds of sword intent electives. ”

“At this moment, the players ‘feelings were complicated. ”

“What a sin, he’s become bad again! ”

“The players naturally thought that the bald instructor was like the bronze man and the others, completely corrupted, and was tainted with the ‘stench of money’ from then on, no longer pure. ”

Many of the players who had yet to receive any lessons could not help but cry when they heard this.

“When he stepped into the Kendo gym and saw the exorbitant price of soul coins on the menu, he could not stop his tears from flowing. ”

“This selfless “”gardener”” had finally fallen at the feet of money. It was too F * cking realistic. ”

“At that moment, the players couldn’t help but think of the wood spirits. ”

“When they had just joined the northern divergent’s camp, the wood spirit clan had provided free medical treatment for the players, and if the players wanted to drink wood spirit wine, they could get it as long as they asked. The pure and kind young ladies of the wood spirit clan would offer the spirit wine they had brewed. ”

“As long as one’s skin was thick enough, they could get anything they wanted from the wood spirit race, except ... ”

“Compared to the past, all the services provided by the wood spirit clan were now linked to soul coins. ”

“If you didn’t have any soul coins and wanted to lick the wood Spirit’s service, then the fierce and childish wood spirit would twist off your head without mercy.”

“Even the new players who entered the war didn’t believe in being “calculative” at all. The profit-seeking wood spirit girl was once very pure and kind in addition to her pretty stinky skin.”

They thought that it must be a story made up by the old players to deceive us newbies.

“However, when they saw sui ye, a bald teacher who had selflessly dedicated himself to the wood spirits, go astray, the players who joined later felt a dull pain in their hearts, and they had the same mentality as the old players when they saw the changes in the wood spirits.”

“These evil soul coins, why aren’t they enough to spend ...’ ”

“Although the players were very sad that sui ye had completely changed, if they wanted to learn the cultivation method of sword will, they still had to take out soul coins to buy classes and go to the classes regularly.”

“Of course, the one who benefited the most from this was Lu Wu.”

“He had never thought that ao Jian would actually manage to recruit a godly state expert. After all, ao Jian’s existence would have a very important impact on the development of a player’s power.”

“Especially during the current period of the sword essence cultivation craze, it could significantly improve the combat power of the players.”

“Moreover, since sui ye had opened a ‘Kendo gym’ in underworld city, Lu Wu, as the person behind the scenes, naturally had a share of the profits.”

“The price was not low, and most of sui ye’s income went into Lu Wu’s pocket.”

“This time, Lu Wu had obtained another channel to earn soul coins while lying down.”

“At the same time, there was another piece of news that made Lu Wu very happy.”

The hell server’s players had finally established their own stronghold and successfully occupied a small area in the region they were in. They no longer had to wander around.

“For this, Lu Wu generously allocated a sum of soul coins for the construction of the main city of the players from the hell server.”

“After all, it had been almost four years. Even the FEI server had its own main city in the Xuanfeng great domain. However, the hell server had been wandering around all this time, which made Lu Wu a little uncomfortable.”

“However, such a high level of difficulty had also brought the hell server a chance to develop, and there were many benefits to it.”

“After years of development, the hell server’s overall combat power was now able to compete with the European server.”

“Of course, Reinhardt, who had a demigod Mount, was a special exception.”

“Based on the current development, it was inevitable that the hell server would surpass the European server.”

“Even if the players from the European server did not want to admit it, they had to. They could only think of ways to develop their own players and continue to suppress the hell server.”

“Moreover, the players in the European server had found a good way to do it.”

That was to follow the mid-server players to gain experience and soul coins.

“After a few times, the players in the European server had this mentality.”

“Don’t ask if there were any benefits first. When you see a large number of players from the mid-server moving out, you just have to follow them and be done with it.”

“The healthy competition among the five servers had indirectly increased the motivation of the players to become stronger, and everything was developing in a good direction.”

.....

“While the players were developing, the Sea King was also facing its own turning point.”

“Previously, when the yellow Springs Branch of the sea area devouring domain started a war with the players, the Sea King thought that he had to make a decision. He made a ruthless bet and made a move at the critical moment of the battle to help the players fight against the yellow Springs Branch of the sea area devouring domain.”

“However, he did not expect that the battle would turn into a Battle of Gods. In the end, even the netherworld Swordmaster died.”

“All of this was not only beyond the sea King’s imagination, but also beyond the expectations of the yellow Springs headquarters.”

“In response to this, the netherworld headquarters had already mobilized people to prepare for war with the player clans.”

“However, this preparation could not be completed in a short time.”

“According to the usual situation, once there was a force in the outer Sea area that resisted the trade rule of the netherworld Chamber of Commerce, the headquarters only needed to send a few deities to deal with it.”

“However, this battle was different. Even the netherworld Swordmaster died in this battle, which was enough to prove the strength of the opponent. They had to be fully prepared.”

“However, this preparation required a lot of time.”

“Since most of the headquarters’ combat power was scattered in various resource points in the central Sea area, the enemy forces would definitely notice if they transferred people on a large scale without making preparations in advance. It was very likely that the enemy forces would take advantage of the weak defense of netherworld Chamber of Commerce to plunder a large amount of resources belonging to them.”

“Moreover, the upper echelons of the yellow Springs headquarters still don’t know how strong the player clans are, and how many people they should send to wipe them out.”

“Therefore, he could only take it slow.”

“As a superpower that had stood in the yellow spring Sea area for a long time, the headquarters of the Yellow Springs Chamber of Commerce had always looked into the future. It wouldn’t make an impulsive decision just because of a huge loss.”

This was also the reason why the netherworld headquarters did not launch an all-out war against the players after the death of the netherworld Swordmaster.

The Sea King was happy to see the silence of the headquarters.

“After all, it was a great thing for him to be able to freeload off the netherworld Chamber of Commerce’s support materials and be on good terms with the player families.”

What made him even more surprised was that the higher-ups of the yellow spring devouring branch were all escorted to the central Sea area as punishment and became resource slaves.

“In other words, the upper echelons of the yellow Springs Branch in the devouring Sea area had to be replaced by a new batch of fresh blood.”

This was a rare opportunity for the Sea King.

“Following the orders from the yellow Springs headquarters, elder Ying became the chairman of the yellow Springs Branch.”

“But the problem was that elder Ying had long disappeared without a trace, and no one knew if he was alive or dead.”

“In other words, the higher-ups of the yellow Springs Branch in the sea area of devouring were currently blank.”

“Other than the emissaries from the headquarters stationed here, no one could order the Sea King, who was the war Chamber of Commerce.”

“Even if the emissaries from the headquarters stationed here wanted to order the Sea King, they had to get the approval of the president of the devouring branch. They did not have the authority to do so.”

“However, the problem was that the devouring branch did not have a President at this stage.”

“According to this system, there was no one who could restrain the Sea King.”

“Moreover, according to the rules, the Sea King, as a member of the war Chamber of Commerce, had higher rights than the middle-level officers in the devouring division.”

“In other words, the Sea King was now the person with the highest authority in this branch.”

“Although the middle-level officers of the sea swallowing division didn’t admit this, they thought that the war Chamber of Commerce and the devouring division were two different systems. Now that the higher-ups were not here, they shouldn’t interfere with each other.”

But the Sea King also had its own excuse to interfere.

This reason was a safety issue.

“When the top ten War Chamber of Commerce and the devouring division’s higher-ups were still around, their combat power was indeed extremely strong. However, at this stage, without them, the devouring division was not even as strong as some of the forces in the nearby Sea regions.”

How could the Sea King miss such an opportunity?

He immediately ignored the protests of the devouring branch and entered the yellow Springs devouring branch.

“The Sea King, who had learned to be shameless from the players, also gave an irrefutable reason.”

I’m protecting you!

“Even the Sea King did not believe this reason, not to mention the middle-level officers of the devouring division.”

“In the eyes of these middle-level officers, even if the door of the branch was open, no force near the devouring Sea area would have the courage to harm them.”

The Sea King also gave its own explanation.

“It was better to be safe than sorry. The benefits were tempting, and if they devoured such a large amount of sea resources in the branch, some force might be jealous and take the risk of offending the headquarters to Rob them.”

“So, for your safety, as a member of the war Chamber of Commerce, I have to protect you!”

“In the face of the Sea King’s righteous reason, the middle-level officers of the devouring branch could not refute it at all. ”

What could be said had been said by the sea King. What could they do? they could only endure it!

“After settling in the devouring branch, the Sea King did not waste its power. ”

The first step was to mobilize a large amount of resources to build high-level warships.

“The middle-level officers of the devouring branch were strongly opposed to this decision, thinking that the Sea King was wasting important reserve materials. ”

“However, the reason given by the sea King remained the same. ”

“It took so much time and effort to build so many high-level warships, but it was all to protect you! ”

“The middle-ranking officers of the devouring division hated the Sea King for abusing his power for personal gain. They cursed him for being shameless in their hearts, but they had no way to restrict him. ”

“Because with their authority, they couldn’t mobilize the Sea King, let alone dismiss him. ”

“At this time, although the Sea King could not mobilize the middle and lower-level officers in the devouring division, it had firmly suppressed them in terms of power. ”

“During the development of the branch, the Sea King was completely shocked by the huge reserve resources inside. ”

He had never seen such rich resources in his life.

“Spiritual materials from the sea, treasures from the sea, baby spiritual beasts from the sea, spiritual mines from the sea, and so on ... ”

“In order to covet these resources, the Sea King began to come up with various excuses. ”

“”If you lack warships, then build a group of high-level warships to arm your mutt Navy. The reason is that we became stronger to protect you, without any selfish motives (the Sea King’s serious face.jpg)! ”

“If they lacked cultivation resources, they could collect a batch of mystical materials from the devouring division for the soldiers ‘cultivation. ”

“For this reason, the Sea King has even spent a large amount of spiritual materials to set up a ‘psionic cultivation array’ on the island of the devouring branch and let the soldiers cultivate here permanently. The reason is still to become stronger to protect the officers like you. ”

“Since he lacked sea beasts, he would just adopt a few of the most valuable ones from the spirit beast circle ... ”

“If he lacked armor, then he could transfer a batch of spirit ores from the resource Warehouse ... ”

“From then on, the Sea King began its lawless days, taking whatever it lacked. ”

And he had a good reason.

“The people outside are unpredictable. They might be gathering strength in the dark to raid us. As the only member of the war Chamber of Commerce, I have to shoulder the heavy responsibility of protecting your safety. ”

The Sea King shamelessly added.

“Even if I have to die, I will never let any of you come to any harm! ”

“At this time, the Sea King had completely lost its serious and rigid image of a sea Overlord, and had been completely led astray by the players. ”

The messengers from the headquarters stationed here were also aware of the Sea King’s various decisions.

“Although he was speechless, he did not stop her. ”

This was because his mission was to report the development of the headquarters ‘devouring Sea area branch. He would not interfere with any development problems.

“However, just as the emissary was about to report the recent happenings in the devouring branch to the headquarters, something happened that changed his view of the sea King. ”
