

The CEO 435

Chapter 435 Awake

Hearing Mo Yuan's idea, Zhang Zhe expressed his support without hesitation. "Alright! Actually, there are many special needs children like Momo, but they don't receive attention. These children are very smart. God closed the door for them, but opened a window for them as well."

As a special needs child's father, Zhang Zhe knew about this more than ordinary people did.

This was also the reason why Mo Rao looked for him.

"I plan to cooperate with the sanatorium that Momo was in previously and call for everyone to pay attention to these children and get rid of their prejudice," Mo Rao said.

"Alright, I can communicate with the magazine agency and get them to help promote it." Zhang Zhe smiled and said, "You're a big star now. With you around, it will definitely have a good publicity effect."

"That's right! Sister Mo Rao, I'm your fan now!" Momo looked up at Mo Rao and winked at her.

Hearing that Momo was her fan, Mo Rao smiled.

She hoped that she would have more fans one day so that she could convey what she wanted to express to more people.

"That's great. I'll make the plans, but I might need your help with the publicity." Mo Yuan shook hands with Zhang Zhe.

After discussing it with Zhang Zhe, Mo Yuan chose a day to publicize the charity work according to Mo Rao's schedule and discussed the publicity strategy.

Mo Rao only needed to cooperate and continue filming 'Butterfly Fragrance'.

Two days before she started doing charity work, Mo Rao received a call from Gu Hai.

"Miss Mo, President Fu is awake. Do you want to go over and take a look?" Gu Hai sounded excited. "I'm on my way there. I can give you a ride."

Mo Rao tensed up. Fu Ying was finally awake?!

Not knowing if she should go see Fu Ying or not, she was a little hesitant.

She had clearly told Fu Ying to keep a distance from her last time, but now that she was visiting him, wouldn't it make Fu Ying feel hopeful again?

However, when she thought about how her words had made Fu Ying's emotions unstable and that it might have caused Fu Ying to get into a car accident, Mo Rao felt that she couldn't ignore Fu Ying.

After some internal conflict, Mo Rao decided to visit Fu Ying. "Alright, come and pick me up."

After telling Gu Hai the address, Mo Rao hung up.

What should she do when she saw Fu Ying later?

Should she express concern, or should she just watch him coldly?

She didn't know how Fu Ying was doing now. She wanted to know what had happened when he got into the car accident, but she was afraid that if she asked too many questions, Fu Ying would think that she was concerned about him.

Even Mo Rao herself didn't know how she felt about Fu Ying now.

Gu Hai quickly arrived at Mo Rao's place and brought her to the hospital.

"President Fu must be very happy to see you. Perhaps this will be beneficial to his recovery," Gu Hai muttered along the way. "You've been very busy recently, so Master, Madam, and I didn't disturb you."

Mo Rao didn't reply. She stared at the scenery outside the window silently and continued to think about her meeting with Fu Ying later.

However, when she arrived at the hospital, nothing she had expected happened.

Before she entered the ward, she heard a roar coming from inside.

"I don't want to see anyone! Leave me alone!"

From his tone, Fu Ying seemed to be on the verge of a mental breakdown.

"Fu Ying, you have to accept this reality!" It was Fu Lin's voice.

"What reality? The fact that I'm a crippled CEO?" Fu Ying roared in anguish.

Mo Rao felt as if her heart was being pricked.

Previously, Mo Rao had felt that Fu Ying might find it difficult to accept this fact. Now, she realized that it was indeed the case.

But it had already happened.

"This doesn't affect anything. You're still the CEO of the Fu Corporation and can still dominate the business world." Fu Lin comforted her kindly.

Fu Ying smiled bitterly, his eyes red. "I'm just a piece of trash. What CEO? In the end, I can't even keep the woman I love."

"Now that I've become disabled, Rao Rao will be even more unwilling to be with me. How can I be worthy of her?"

Fu Ying, who was usually confident, became extremely depressed at this moment and had very low self-esteem.

Mo Rao heard everything clearly from outside the door.
