

The Elite Assassin Becomes a Flat and Ugly Nerd! #Chapter 58 – 60

The Correct Answer –

Read The Elite Assassin Becomes a Flat and Ugly Nerd! Chapter 58 - The Correct Answer Online -

Chapter 58: The Correct Answer

At that moment, Lin Xiao was participating in an academic conference. After saying goodbye to a few familiar professors, he casually swiped his phone and saw a popular post with four pictures. He clicked on it curiously. He wouldn't have known if he hadn't seen it, but he was shocked when he saw it.

The contents of the four pieces of draft paper were the problem that he had been asked by a few old professors to publicly seek answers from the entire world!

Lin Xiao read it seriously for a long time. The first half of the content was exactly the same as the result he had painstakingly calculated. As for the second half, he and the few professors who set the questions did not understand it, let alone judge it right or wrong.

"Ah!" Lin Xiao suddenly shouted. He had a strong premonition that the four pictures sent by this person were the answers they had been searching for.

To a student like Lin Xiao, nothing was more important than searching for academic truths. He held his phone tightly and ran back without looking back. He wanted to quickly tell this shocking news to those old professors!

"Hey! Lin Xiao, aren't you eating?" Behind him, Lin Xiao's companion shouted in confusion.

Three hours later, the famous god who had not updated for a long time, Lin Xiao, the most outstanding student of the Capital University in recent years, posted a post. He reposted Shan Chen's four pictures and accompanied it with the caption: After ten rounds of calculations and verification by me and a few old professors, this unknown friend's answer is completely correct! The previous promise and reward for answering this question still stands. We are very grateful to you. Please give us a chance to meet and communicate with you!

There was actually an unknown person who could solve a question that even a few senior professors and geniuses at Capital University could not figure out!

The netizens immediately exploded. For a moment, the entire Internet was looking for this mysterious person who had been recognized by the Capital University and invited to meet and interact.

However, the account that Shan Chen used was only a small account that he casually registered in his free time. Other than this post, there was no other useful information.

Seeing that the thank-you and response post had been posted for half an hour and there was still no movement from the mysterious person who had made the question, Lin Xiao could not sit still. He opened the other party's chat box and said sincerely, "Hello, a few old professors and I really want to get to know you. We're all people who study seriously and love mathematics. I wonder if we have the honor to befriend you?"

"After learning that you might not want to be disturbed by the outside world, we will keep your information confidential. We promise that you can be sent to the Capital University unconditionally or directly take up a position at the Capital University. As long as you are willing to come, the conditions and treatment are up to you."

"I look forward to your reply!"

As soon as the holidays ended, Shan Yue had to return to school at two o'clock every day. When she went out this morning, Shan Yue realized that Shan Chen's expression was not right. His face was sallow and his eyes were green and black. It was obvious that he had stayed up all night. She sized up Shan Chen and asked, "What did you do last night? Writing code?"

"Yes." Shan Chen rubbed his eyes. Last night, he was addicted to learning programming and was anxious to improve his programming skills. Unknowingly, he had learned until midnight and forgot that he had to go to school the next day.

"If you're tired, sleep in the examination hall," Shan Yue suggested.

Today was the monthly exam for the entire high school. Shan Yue was well prepared and slept well, so she looked energetic.

Shan Yue's mood improved even more when she thought of the bet she had made with Sun Ling. If she got first place in the monthly exam, Sun Ling would cut off her head and use it as a ball for her to kick. She took the lead and strode out the door.

Shan Chen followed behind her in a daze. He was still in a daze when he suddenly saw a few black shadows appear beside him. A rough male voice said, "Miss Shan Yue, let me help you carry your bag."

Immediately after, another voice said, "Miss Shan Yue, let me help your brother carry his bag."

Seeing that they were bodyguards sent by the Zhou family to protect her, Shan Yue nodded indifferently. In any case, she would treat these bodyguards as a reward that should have been given to her. Thinking about this, she felt more comfortable.

The Elite Assassin Becomes a Flat and Ugly Nerd!
#Chapter 59 - The Bodyguard Who Played With Me -
Read The Elite Assassin Becomes a Flat and Ugly Nerd!
Chapter 59 - The Bodyguard Who Played With Me
Online - All Page - Novel Bin

Chapter 59: The Bodyguard Who Played With Me

Seeing that Shan Yue had agreed, the remaining bodyguards, who had nothing better to do, also became attentive. They had been bored for the entire day. If they didn't do anything now, they would be scolded by their boss again when they returned to report the mission.

Hence, they said, "I bought breakfast for you and your brother!"

"I drove today, let me drive you to school, Miss Shan Yue."

"Miss Shan Yue, do you need a massage service?"

Before Shan Chen could react, the bag on his back and the cup of water in his hand were all taken away. He watched helplessly as a burly man in black stuffed a cup of soy milk into his hand. Shan Chen's voice trembled. "Sister, who are they..." Did he stay up too late and hallucinate?

"Well," Shan Yue was a little embarrassed. She looked at the tall and strong bodyguards and felt that it was too far-fetched to say that they were kind volunteers. She could only cough lightly and say, "I have too much money to spend. I hired bodyguards specially to play with me."

Shan Chen's eyes widened. "Sister, are you really not joking?"

It was not until Shan Chen and Shan Yue were escorted into the MPV by the bodyguards that Shan Chen accepted this and looked at Shan Yue with a complicated expression, suspecting that she was stupid.

Shan Yue felt a little uncomfortable being stared at. She turned her head to avoid Shan Chen's gaze and cursed the Zhou family several times in her heart.

If not for the fact that the one million repayment was not enough from the Zhou family and that she had not been paid for helping the Zhou family kill people, she would not have kept this group of bodyguards. After all, these people were too eye-catching.

However, after the bodyguards drove the two of them to school, Shan Yue could not help but sigh at the benefits of having bodyguards. She did not have to squeeze on the bus to school, buy breakfast in a hurry, or sweat profusely with her school bag on her back. It was really satisfying.

Shan Yue instructed the bodyguards to move freely during school and pick them up after school. She rubbed her chin and couldn't help but think. Why don't I get these six big guys to do some hard labor and help her earn some money?

The monthly academic level exam began on time. After Shan Yue found the corresponding examination hall according to the randomly assigned examination number, she actually met an acquaintance.

Yu Hao's seat was diagonally behind her, less than a meter away. At this moment, he was sizing her up with a look of disdain, then deliberately let out a disdainful snort.

"Hmph." It was as if Shan Yue was deliberately chasing him and sticking to him.

This foolish and arrogant behavior of an adolescent boy seeking his presence was directly ignored by Shan Yue. After ignoring the laughter around her, Shan Yue was still in a good mood.

Although she had an extremely high IQ, she had never gone to school. After accepting the Host's body, this was the first time she had experienced being a student. Today was also the first time she had experienced the feeling of an exam.

Shan Yue found this experience to be novel. Fifteen minutes after the exam started, she quickly filled the papers and began to check.

Ever since Yu Hao was scolded by Shan Yue last time, he had always remembered that Shan Yue had embarrassed him. For some reason, his eyes kept drifting to Shan Yue in this exam. Why did he feel that Shan Yue, this fat girl, seemed to have lost a lot of weight?

The back view that looked like a small mountain had become much smaller at this moment. He could even see the muscles that the school uniform could not hide. Although it was still strong, it inexplicably had a sense of beauty.

Shan Yue's back had also straightened a lot. She looked much more elegant than before. It was actually not too accurate to describe the current Shan Yue as a fat girl. At this moment, she was just a little stronger than ordinary girls.

"Strange, when did this guy start to change..." Yu Hao recalled the unbearable past of being pestered by Shan Yue and subconsciously muttered softly. As his thoughts flew, he suddenly noticed something that surprised him greatly: Shan Yue's paper was already filled!

It had only been less than twenty minutes since the exam started, but Shan Yue had actually filled all the papers and was checking them seriously. Yu Hao felt that he had really seen a ghost.

Chapter 60: Obtaining a Guaranteed Admission Opportunity

Even if Shan Yue did not think about anything and only filled in messy words, she could not be so fast, right? Yu Hao was really curious about how she did it. If Shan Yue really just wanted to fill up the test papers, then her actions were really crazy.

Yu Hao's intense curiosity and disdain made him crane his neck to see what was written on Shan Yue's paper.

When he adjusted his posture and glasses and could barely see a little of the words on Shan Yue's test paper, he was surprised to discover that Shan Yue's handwriting was abnormally neat. Moreover, the handwriting she used was not like that of an ordinary high school student. Instead, it was very powerful and sharp. It was simply like the work of a hard calligraphy master.

What was going on? Yu Hao was shocked. Then, he saw Shan Yue turn around and size him up with disgust.

Yu Hao was inexplicably flustered by the gaze. Before he could explain, he heard Shan Yue say in disdain, "If you want to copy the answer, just say it. Your head is stuck out like a turtle. It's so disgusting."

With that, Shan Yue even specially moved her body to the side to reveal the test paper. She had a feeling that she would rather be plagiarized than let Yu Hao stick his head over to take a look.

Yu Hao's face immediately turned green. He was so angry that he wanted to say that Shan Yue was thinking too much, but he was frightened back by the invigilator's cough warning.

With Shan Yue's sharpness, she knew exactly what Yu Hao was doing behind her. After finishing the test paper, she was bored. Yu Hao kept poking over from time to time. The smell of men's perfume on his body floated over from time to time, making Shan Yue dizzy.

No matter what Yu Hao wanted to do, whether he wanted to find trouble with her or simply copy the answer, in short, this guy had disturbed Shan Yue's originally wonderful mood.

That was why Shan Yue deliberately provoked Yu Hao like this. As expected, as soon as she finished speaking, Yu Hao sat obediently on the chair and stopped moving. The smell of men's perfume no longer wafted over.

Why did the Host fall in love with such a coquettish and useless gigolo back then? Shan Yue was puzzled.

The next few exams went very smoothly. As soon as it was time, Shan Yue would hand in her papers in advance and not stay for a minute longer.

Shan Yue's mocking words disturbed all of Yu Hao's thoughts. He was angry and amused. Who didn't know that the fat girl in Year Three, Shan Yue, was the stupidest and worst student in the entire grade? Who would be crazy enough to copy her answers?

On the other hand, Shan Yue, who had always handed in blank papers, actually filled the papers with this behavior. It made him feel very strange. Therefore, at the beginning of every exam, he could not help but look at Shan Yue. Every time he saw her writing seriously, Yu Hao's spiritual world would collapse.

Why did Shan Yue torture him no matter what situation or state he was in? Yu Hao was about to go crazy.

After the monthly exam, the siblings met at the staircase.

"Sister, how did you do?"

"Not bad. If I'm not wrong, I should score full marks," Shan Yue said casually.

A passing student immediately looked at Shan Yue as if she was crazy and shook his head. After walking far away, he said to his companion, "Shan Yue, who is the last in the grade, might really be crazy."

“That’s good!” Shan Chen smiled, revealing his two canine teeth. He firmly believed in Shan Yue’s strength.

Shan Chen had always been silent in class. Only when facing Shan Yue did he gradually reveal his true self.

After the exam, Shan Chen finally had the time to play with his phone. He suddenly remembered the four photos of answers that had been uploaded to the Internet. He clicked on the post and his eyes widened.

More than a million likes, hundreds of thousands of comments, more than a hundred thousand reposts, and countless private messages...

Oh my god, what exactly happened? Did the system collapse? Shan Chen was shocked by this scene. He scrolled through the comments section for a long time and read the headlines before understanding something.

His sister, Shan Yue, had casually written an answer that he could not understand. It was really correct and had obtained the unanimous approval of Lin Xiao and all the professors at the Capital University!

Shan Yue had solved a few questions that even a few old professors who had studied mathematics for their entire lives could not solve. Now, the entire Internet was investigating her identity!

Shan Chen was so shocked by this fact that he gasped. He tugged at Shan Yue’s sleeve and said, “Sister, you can have a guaranteed admission opportunity to the Capital University!”