Chapter 71: Shan Yue Called the Police

When Shan Yue heard this, she looked at the teachers in the office in surprise. With her strength, she could easily beat up a group alone. She did not need any bodyguards at all. She said, “No need. Just come over.”

For safety reasons, Xi Feng still called the three permanent bodyguards of the law firm and rushed all the way to S City’s First High School. He wanted to see who it was that ordered him to work as soon as he called. Did he have to investigate the other party’s background?

“Take this student out and inform her parents to come to the school!” The principal roared in exasperation.

Ever since Shan Yue finished the call, she had stood rooted to the ground and stopped talking. No matter what they said to Shan Yue, Shan Yue had a provocative smile, as if she was certain that they would suffer.

This was the first time the principal had seen such an unreasonable student in so many years. He was so angry that his head was about to explode. In the end, he could only instruct the dean to call the school’s security guards, hoping that they would quickly throw this annoying Shan Yue out.

This kind of student who had no respect for the teachers should be chased out of the school and never be allowed to enter the school again!

Looking at the circle of security guards who were coming over to attack her, Shan Yue frowned and asked, “Are you feeling guilty and afraid, so you want to use force on me?” With that, Shan Yue took out her phone again and called the police without hesitation. Since she had already caused such a scene, she would make the situation even more chaotic.

On the other side, the private phone in the mayor's office of S City suddenly rang. Han Lin happened to be handling official business and picked it up without hesitation. On the other end of the phone was the voice of the police chief of S City. His voice was a little terrified. "Mayor Han, I just received a piece of news from my subordinates.."

"Speak," Han Lin said coldly.

"The Shan family that you instructed us to specially take care of, a girl called Shan Yue called the police. She said that the school teacher called the security guards to hit her. About this..." the police chief stammered. He only knew that Han Lin was very concerned about the Shan family, but he could not figure out Han Lin's attitude, so he was a little hesitant.

"Shan Yue?" When Han Lin heard this name that had appeared in Zhou Xuan's assistant's mouth, his heart tightened. What had happened to Shan Yue to force her to call the police? If anything happened to the person the Zhou family had specially instructed him to take care of, his job as mayor would come to an end!

Han Lin stood up and rushed out with his private phone. He ordered his assistant to call a taxi and said, "Hurry up and send someone over. Make sure to protect Shan Yue. I'll be right there, understand?"

"Alright, I've already instructed two police cars to rush over as soon as possible." The police chief wiped his sweat and immediately felt pressured.

At first, he thought that it was an insensible high school student who had a conflict with the school. He almost wanted to brush it off. Thinking that this seemed to be a call from the Shan family, whom the mayor cared about, he told Han Lin.

He did not expect Han Lin to have such a huge reaction. Could it be that there was really something big? The police chief hesitated for a while before making up his mind. He wanted to follow them to the scene to see what had happened!

Five minutes later.

Xi Feng, who was dressed in a suit, was the first to stride into the principal's office. After scanning the people around him, he could not recognize who he was familiar with. He hesitated and said, "The person who called me just now was..."

"It's me." Shan Yue stood up from the sofa at the side. The principal, Ms. Li, and the others, who had been standing around, immediately glared at her.

Xi Feng sized up the overly burly Shan Yue with surprise, but his eyes were extremely sharp. "You are?" Why couldn't he remember where he'd met this fat girl? Had their paths crossed?

Just as Xi Feng was still surprised, Shan Yue had already walked over and extended her hand to him generously. "Shan Yue, I'm Ye Ying's friend."

So it was someone introduced by his good brother, Ye Ying! Xi Feng nodded in understanding and shook her hand politely. At the same time, he adjusted his gold-rimmed glasses and his business ability immediately came online. "Tell me what happened."

Chapter 72: Overkill

The principal's room was filled with people. There were a few potbellied middle-aged men, a bald man with an unfriendly expression, and a mean-looking middle-aged woman standing beside him. In addition, there were a few security guards who looked a little troubled.

Xi Feng's preliminary deduction was that this might be a campus violation of a bad nature. He wondered how the victim was doing and what identity Shan Yue was involved in.

Just as his thoughts were quickly wandering and he was thinking about how to fight the lawsuit to protect the victim's rights as much as possible, Shan Yue whispered into his ear and briefly explained the cause and effect of the entire incident.

"So, you called me here because they accused you of cheating." Xi Feng was in disbelief. This was simply an overkill!

"Yes." Shan Yue looked very innocent. After all, she only knew Xi Feng as a lawyer.

"Alright." Xi Feng swallowed the bitterness in his heart and agreed. Although this was his first time fighting such a low-level lawsuit, he would try his best to... make the school lose everything.

"Xi... Are you really Lawyer Xi?" The principal was a little stunned. He stared at Xi Feng's face and did not know what to do.

When the dean saw that other irrelevant people had entered the principal's office, he became even angrier. He shouted at Shan Yue, "How big of a chaos do you want to make? Do you think this is very fun? If you know what's good for you, get out of here immediately!"

"Sir, please don't shout at my client. You have to know that every word you say now will be used as evidence against you for infringing on my client's rights and interests," Xi

Feng immediately reminded the dean coldly. With that, he signaled his assistant behind him to take his statement.

Before Xi Feng could start, there was another commotion at the door. Han Lin walked in breathlessly, followed by the police chief, a group of police officers, and a secretary.

As soon as he saw Shan Yue and confirmed that she was unharmed and not even a strand of hair had fallen off, Han Lin's suspended heart relaxed. He turned to look at the principal and criticized, "How did you become the principal?"

When he saw that the mayor of S City, Han Lin, had arrived, the principal immediately became nervous. Seeing that the police chief had also brought people over, the principal's legs went weak. "Mayor Han, Chief Song, why are you here?"

With that, he quickly moved. He panicked and wanted to pour tea for the two big shots, but from the corner of his eye, he saw Han Lin and Chief Song of the police station surrounding Shan Yue and asking about her well-being. He was so shocked that he broke out in a layer of sweat. Who exactly was this Shan Yue? A few calls had caused a few big shots to come looking for her?

"Shan Yue, don't be afraid. I'm here to uphold justice for you," Han Lin said on tenterhooks, afraid that Shan Yue would suffer grievances.

Seeing this, Chief Song of the police station also said kindly, "Little student, you were the one who called the police just now, right? Don't worry, with our people's police around, we won't let you suffer any grievances."

The reason why he could get to the position of police chief under Han Lin was because he had learned from Han Lin to read the situation and observe people's expressions.

Shan Yue did not know the two people in front of her and was a little puzzled, but she still told them the whole story again.

As soon as Han Lin heard this, he smashed the table and shouted at the principal with a cold expression, "I handed the heavy responsibility of teaching and educating people to you. Is this how you treat the children? Shan Yue was wronged and slandered. She was even insulted by an unscrupulous teacher. She found you and hoped that you would solve the problem, but in the end, you can't distinguish between right and wrong and even inverted right and wrong?"

Chief Song also held a cup of tea and lectured, "When you have a conflict with a student, you actually don't think about how to resolve it properly. Instead, you find the school security guards to use violence on the student and force the child to call the police. You really shouldn't."

Xi Feng had already brought his men to finish the investigation of the teacher beside him. He walked over with a stack of records filled with the details and points of the incident and said coldly, "I've already investigated clearly. The trial will start on Monday. Prepare yourself."

The school was under pressure from three parties. They were so shocked that their backs were drenched. They tried to defend themselves helplessly. "No..."

Chapter 73: Watching the Principal Perform

Unable to think of any reasonable excuse, the principal could only smile awkwardly. "All of this is a misunderstanding! However, it's our fault for not conveying it clearly to Shan Yue, causing her to imagine things too seriously."

"Misunderstanding? When I entered just now, I heard you say that you wanted to expel Shan Yue and ask her to scam!" Han Lin said relentlessly.

In order to gain Shan Yue's favor as much as possible, Han Lin simply put himself in Shan Yue's shoes at this moment. He continued to say with an indignant expression, "Look at what you're doing. There's no problem that can't be resolved peacefully. Must a large group of teachers criticize a little girl and ask the security guards to beat her up and chase her away? Did she commit a huge crime?"

Seeing that Han Lin was so excited, Chief Song agreed. "That's right! Even if she made a mistake, we'll handle it as police officers. What are you trying to do? Use lynching?"

Seeing that the two of them were getting more and more serious, raising the entire matter to a terrifying level, the principal wiped the sweat off his forehead and was forced to explain helplessly, "No, it's just that Shan Yue feels that Ms. Li is accusing her of cheating and is very unconvinced." As he spoke, the principal immediately remembered Ms. Li as the fuse. He quickly pointed and pushed the blame away. "It's this Ms. Li. She quarreled with Shan Yue in class, which forced Shan Yue to seek justice from me. Of course, I tried my best to help her."

He had just said that she had come to the principal's office to cause trouble on purpose. Now, he was saying that she had sought justice from him?

Shan Yue's lips twitched in disdain as she silently watched the principal continue his performance.

Once he found a scapegoat, the principal immediately placed himself on the side of justice. He looked sternly at Ms. Li, who was originally gloating, and reprimanded, "Hurry up and explain to the leaders!"

Only then did Ms. Li react. When she saw Han Lin and the others enter, she had a premonition that these people were definitely not ordinary people. When she saw that the principal was so respectful to them, she was so frightened that she did not even dare to breathe loudly. She tried her best to reduce her presence, afraid that the fire would burn her.

At the principal's mention of her name, Ms. Li's body trembled. She told them how Shan Yue had provoked her in class. She calmed herself down and said stubbornly, "I-I didn't do anything. I only punished a student who cheated and violated the rules. The rest has nothing to do with me!"

"You said that Student Shan Yue cheated. Where's the evidence? If you can't produce evidence, it's defamation," Xi Feng reminded coldly.

Although he felt that letting him handle such a case was really overkill and boring, after his observation just now, he realized that the principal and the others purely wanted to deliberately make things difficult for Shan Yue. They probably thought that Shan Yue was easy to bully and were full of prejudice against her. It was only when they realized that Shan Yue was not simple that their attitude changed 180 degrees. It really disgusted him.

"The evidence is her previous results! They're all in the single digits. Now, she suddenly scored full marks. Other than cheating, could it be that her brain has suddenly been enlightened?" Ms. Li gritted her teeth. At this moment, she hated Shan Yue even more. Even if Shan Yue could call for so many helpers to pressure her, so what? Could it change the fact that she cheated in the exam and had a low IQ?

Hearing Ms. Li's words, the other teachers echoed, "That's right. We all know Shan Yue's usual results very well. How can a bottom student score better than the top student in the cohort?"

"With this result, won't she be guaranteed admission to the Capital University?"

"If she really has the ability, why did she only score 30 points in the monthly exam last time?"

Hearing this, Shan Yue provoked them at the right time. "If you're so sure that I can't score full marks, why don't you dare to check the surveillance cameras? If I'm not guilty, why are you?"

“No matter what, you can’t wrong a good child for no reason. Everything has to be based on the truth!” Seeing that Shan Yue had spoken, Han Lin coughed lightly and assumed the posture of a superior. He glared at the principal warningly.

Han Lin did not expect Shan Yue to be treated so harshly in school. If the Zhou family found out that Shan Yue had been wronged in his territory, they might take their anger out on him and think that he was incompetent.

It was all this stupid principal’s fault for planting such a huge hidden danger for him!

Chapter 74: Seemed to Have Seen You Somewhere

“Yes, in that case, go and check the surveillance cameras in the examination hall immediately. Prove Shan Yue’s innocence!” Chief Song waved his hand, and two police officers went to the reference room to check the surveillance cameras.

After a while, the two police officers had indeed come in with a computer. Shan Yue was still calm, as if she did not care that her cheating was discovered. Ms. Li hesitated for a moment, but she still muttered softly, “A poor student like her can only numb herself by cheating. How shameless...”

However, as the two police officers gradually mobilized the time record of the surveillance cameras and released all the recordings of Shan Yue’s exam yesterday, Ms. Li was stunned. “No, that’s impossible. Those papers were all full marks. It’s impossible for Shan Yue to have done them!” Ms. Li was in disbelief. She covered her mouth and widened her eyes.

The surveillance footage clearly showed that ever since Shan Yue entered the examination hall and received the paper, she had been answering the questions dutifully. After quickly finishing the paper, she seriously checked the paper again before getting up to hand in the paper and leaving.

Throughout the entire exam, Shan Yue did not cheat at all, which was enough to prove her innocence.

“Take a good look! Student Shan Yue is so serious about the exam. Is this how you slander and hurt a good child who studies hard?” As soon as Han Lin finished watching the surveillance footage, he turned to the principal and said angrily, “This is the critical period of the third year of high school. Instead of paying attention to the physical and mental health of good students, you’re slandering students who study hard. This is your negligence!”

“Mayor Han, y-you have to listen to my explanation!” When the principal saw Han Lin’s dark expression, he was so frightened that he immediately put on a fawning expression. He nodded and bowed to please him, handing him cigarettes and tea.

After all, as long as Han Lin was unhappy, he could be immediately dismissed. Then all his years of hard work in school would be in vain.

When Shan Yue saw this scene, she immediately lost interest in continuing to watch. After shaking her head gently, she prepared to leave.

When she reached the door, Shan Yue did not forget to remind Xi Feng, “Xi Feng, you must remember to help me go through all the prosecution processes. The more losses they can suffer, the better. I emphasize that I won’t accept any settlement. Also, I’ll transfer the lawyer fees to your private account later.”

“Don’t worry, I will settle it for you. There’s no need for lawyer fees. After all, you’re Ye Ying’s friend.” When he heard that Shan Yue still knew his private account number, Xi Feng looked up in surprise. After carefully sizing Shan Yue up, he quickly stopped Shan Yue, who was walking out. “Wait, I’m almost done here. Just leave the rest to my assistant. Let’s go together later.”

Shan Yue sensed Xi Feng’s meaningful gaze and knew that he definitely had something to say to her alone. She nodded and stopped by the door, waiting for him quietly.

In the office, Han Lin and Chief Song of the police station were still negotiating with the principal and the others. Xi Feng glanced at them briefly before striding out and walking side by side with Shan Yue. “Is it convenient for you to tell me your true identity? I keep feeling that you’re very familiar. I seem to have seen you somewhere before, right?”

When Shan Yue heard this, she knew that Xi Feng was curious about her identity. However, for safety reasons, she was not prepared to tell anyone other than Ye Ying that she had been reborn. At this moment, the time was not ripe, so she only shook her head. “It’s not convenient.”

“Then you’re definitely not an ordinary high school student, right? You actually called the mayor of S City to help you clean up the aftermath. Your identity is not simple.” Xi Feng smiled. Seeing that Shan Yue was unwilling to say it, he pretended to tease her.

It seemed like an unintentional joke, but in fact, Xi Feng was deliberately getting Shan Yue’s information in an attempt to extract useful clues from her answer. This was a small trick he had always used when chatting with others.

However, Shan Yue did not react to this. Instead, she answered honestly, “I don’t know him.”

“Alright, then how long have you known Ye Ying? This is the first time his friends have come to me.”

“It’s been a long time. I can’t remember.” Shan Yue walked calmly in the direction of the school building and ignored any topic Xi Feng threw at her.

“I’ve known him for a long time too. I don’t think I’ve heard of you, but I think you look like an acquaintance of mine.” Xi Feng suddenly stopped in his tracks and looked behind the flower bed not far away. “Is that your classmate?”

Chapter 75: The Group of People Behind

Behind the flower bed, a few students were looking over. One of them was still holding what looked like a camera.

Shan Yue frowned. After carefully identifying the faces of the students, she shook her head. “I don’t know them. I’m going back to the classroom. What about you?”

Xi Feng understood what she meant. It meant that the matter was already settled and she wanted to chase him away.

This little girl’s temper and personality were exactly the same as his old acquaintance, Ling Yue. The more Xi Feng looked at her, the more he felt that Shan Yue’s temperament was very similar to the Ling Yue he knew. However, their completely different appearances confused him.

He was indeed very curious about Shan Yue and wanted to investigate more secrets about her. However, what if she was really Ling Yue? What should he do?

“But she’s already dead. That shouldn’t be...” Xi Feng thought in a daze and subconsciously said what was on his mind.

“Huh? What did you say?” Shan Yue dug her ears in confusion.

“It’s okay. My car’s parked over there. I’m leaving, too.” Xi Feng tidied his suit and waved at Shan Yue very kindly. “In that case, I’ll treat you as a friend too. You can contact me if anything happens next time. Goodbye!” With that, Xi Feng left. He seemed to have no complaints about Shan Yue’s ordering. Instead, he seemed to be enjoying it.

Shan Yue was very satisfied with Xi Feng, who was easy to order around and did not pester her. After seeing that Xi Feng had already driven away, she slowly walked towards the teaching building.

It was supposed to be class time now, but there were many students wandering around the school building. When many people saw Shan Yue, they immediately made a fuss. "It's Shan Yue! Shan Yue is back!"

What were they doing? Although Shan Yue was puzzled, she ignored the noisy voices and walked on her own. However, the more she walked forward, the more students secretly followed behind her. In the end, a large group actually gathered. They all looked like they wanted to poke their heads out and join in the fun, but no one dared to speak.

Shan Yue was very helpless about this and was a little impatient with such blatant stalking. However, this group of students did not do anything. She could not flare up, so she could only pretend that she did not know anything and lead a large group of people towards the classroom.

Finally, she maintained this awkward state and walked to the classroom door. Shan Chen, who had an anxious expression, was waiting at the door. As soon as he saw Shan Yue, Shan Chen quickly welcomed her and asked anxiously, "Sister, how are you? Did those people do anything to you?"

When the surrounding students heard that Shan Yue had quarreled with the teacher, they quickly pricked up their ears, unwilling to miss anything Shan Yue said.

Only then did Shan Chen see the large group of people behind Shan Yue. He was very surprised. "Sister, what... are the people behind you doing?"

"I'm fine. The matter is resolved." Shan Yue simply ignored the various gazes around her and patted Shan Chen's shoulder to comfort him.

"That's good! Then your results will be full marks, right?" Shan Chen's eyes lit up as he said excitedly.

Shan Yue replied, "Yes, there should be an announcement later."

When the surrounding students heard Shan Yue's confident words, they immediately could not hold it in anymore. There was an uproar. "Really? Not only did Shan Yue quarrel with the teacher because she refused to admit to cheating, but her monthly exam results are also full marks?"

Finally, a bold student took the initiative to ask Shan Yue, "Shan Yue, did you really go to the principal's office to confront a group of teachers?"

Shan Yue said, "That's right."

"Then will Ms. Li really apologize to you in public as you requested?"

"If nothing else happens, yes."

"Shan Yue, were you afraid when you quarreled with the teacher?"

More and more students gathered around Shan Yue with a stomach full of questions.

Perhaps it was because of Shan Yue's heroic achievement of subduing Zhao Rui in public and arguing with the teacher in the hall, this time, no one dared to speak rudely. They all spoke to Shan Yue kindly.

Seeing that no teacher was back for class at this moment and that she was free, Shan Yue casually answered a few questions and answered everyone's questions.

At some point, Shan Yue's image in the hearts of her classmates had quietly changed. She was no longer the weak and incompetent fat girl from before. Instead, she was confident and more and more dazzling.

Chapter 76: He's Like a Clown

A large group of people were discussing heatedly at the door of Shan Yue's classroom. A wave of people left, and another wave came. They were all here to see Shan Yue.

Ms. Li's personality was not good and she was very mean to most students. Therefore, many students who hated her thought that she was more detestable than the harmless Shan Yue. Therefore, a large number of students agreed with Shan Yue.

"Shan Yue, I heard that you wrote the paper especially quickly during this exam. You filled the entire paper in a short while. May I ask how you did it?" a girl asked.

Shan Yue was stunned for a moment before she reacted. How did these unfamiliar classmates know the details of her exam?

"Who told you that? Or were you in the same examination hall as me?" Shan Yue asked in surprise.

The girl smiled in embarrassment and explained, "Yu Hao told us! After you quarreled with those teachers, the entire third year of high school was in chaos. Some people misunderstood that you really cheated, and it was Yu Hao who explained it for you. He said that he sat behind you and clearly saw that you wrote it yourself."

Yu Hao, as the school hunk, was extremely popular in school. Previously, he was famous for hating Shan Yue. Now that he stood up for Shan Yue, the credibility of the entire matter immediately increased by several levels.

“Yu Hao?” Shan Yue frowned. She had always been at odds with Yu Hao. Why would Yu Hao suddenly speak up for her? Could it be that Yu Hao had found his conscience and felt that he was partly responsible for the Host being bullied in the past, so he wanted to atone for his mistakes?

No matter what Yu Hao’s motive was, Shan Yue still felt that Yu Hao was very disgusting. It was already very rare for her to not beat Yu Hao up when she saw him. It was absolutely impossible for her to thank her.

At this moment, Yu Hao’s voice suddenly came from the back of the crowd. “Why are you all blocking here? The teachers are all back. Class is about to start!”

Yu Hao squeezed his way through the crowd and happened to look into Shan Yue’s eyes. The moment he saw Shan Yue’s eyes, he subconsciously panicked.

Previously, when he heard that Shan Yue had quarreled with Ms. Li for not cheating, he did not want to interfere. However, for some reason, after hearing others slander Shan Yue for cheating, he subconsciously defended her and explained the situation in the examination hall to his classmates.

As soon as he finished speaking, he regretted it. What if Shan Yue did not win the argument and was really thought by the teachers to have cheated? Wouldn’t he become Shan Yue’s accomplice? What would others think of his relationship with Shan Yue?

Moreover, he expected that if Shan Yue returned and heard him defend her, she would definitely deliberately show a disdainful expression to attract his attention, right?

In fact, as early as junior high, when he and Shan Yue were classmates, Yu Hao already knew that Shan Yue had a crush on him. He was disgusted at that time. It was simply a shame for him to be liked by a fat girl. But why did Shan Yue seem to have changed her personality a while ago and no longer have any feelings for him?

Did Shan Yue hide her love in her heart, or did she really let go of her feelings for him for so many years? Yu Hao let his imagination run wild. When he came back to his senses, he had already walked to Shan Yue’s side.

Shan Yue glanced at him and seemed to be about to walk behind him. She stopped for a moment and indeed revealed a disdainful expression. She said coldly, “Yu Hao, a good dog doesn’t block the way.”

Only then did Yu Hao react. He was actually blocking the back door of Shan Yue’s classroom. He quickly moved away and realized that Shan Yue was scolding him. He said angrily, "How can you say that? Shan Yue, don't think that I'm interested in you just because I helped you explain. I'm still the same as before. I hate you and dislike you."

"Alright, alright, alright." Shan Yue did not even look back. She did not even listen carefully to what he said before entering the classroom.

Yu Hao was left on the spot. He felt like a clown at this moment. It was extremely comical.

Not long after the noisy students returned to the classroom, the teachers entered. At the same time, the school's announcement sounded. Then, the principal coughed. "Ahem, students, I'm broadcasting an important notice."

Chapter 77: Prettier Than the School Belle

"In this monthly exam, Shan Yue, a third-year student, was awarded a zero because of Ms. Li Juan's mistake in marking the paper. After the teacher of the grade group re-evaluated the paper, we determined that Shan Yue's actual results were full marks of 750 points. Her results were real and effective, and there was no cheating."

The principal's voice was still ringing on the radio, but the students in the various classrooms were already excited.

"Shan Yue scored full marks of 750 points? Did I hear wrongly?!"

"The Shan Yue who used to always be the last in her grade? Are you sure there's no one else with the same name?"

"So the rumors I heard this morning are all true! Shan Yue wrote her full-marks papers herself. The principal even came out to clarify!"

In Shan Yue's class, the students all turned around and looked at her with all kinds of shock, admiration, and curiosity.

The fact that Shan Yue could score full marks was even more shocking than the terrorists claiming to drop a nuclear bomb to destroy Earth. It was already unbelievable that she could score full marks in all subjects. Moreover, this person was the former bottom student, Shan Yue!

No matter how her classmates sized her up, Shan Yue still sat steadily in her seat. She was already used to being the center of attention.

However, in the past, she had been treated as a negative example or a joke. The comments related to her were all negative information. Now, when her classmates discussed her, they all carried a trace of respect and fear.

“Why do I suddenly feel that Shan Yue has changed so much from before!” A classmate suddenly said in surprise.

Compared to the Shan Yue in everyone’s memories in the past, not only had Shan Yue walked without lowering her head, but her hairstyle had also become very refreshing. Her entire body was clean, and she no longer had the strange smell of head oil from before. Moreover, her personality was much more generous and confident. Although she still did not like to talk to others, her eyes were filled with confidence and calm when she made eye contact with others.

“Most of the fat on her face has disappeared. Her eyes are bigger, her double eyelids are out, her nose is very straight, and her mouth is very good-looking!”

“Her skin is actually so fair? She used to wear clothes so tightly that you couldn’t even see her.”

“What should I do? I suddenly feel that her facial features are even better than the school belle’s!” A boy in glasses stared at Shan Yue for a long time and inexplicably blushed. He held his heart and said.

“Really? I’ve always felt that way.”

Shan Yue heard this and was very satisfied with the feedback from her classmates. This meant that her hard training for so long had not been in vain, so she smiled generously at the boy in glasses.

This was the first time the students in the class had seen Shan Yue smile. All of them were stunned. It took them a while to react and they were a little dazed.

The bespectacled boy and the surrounding girls were about to faint from the charm. They muttered, “She suddenly became so charming!”

It was only then that the students realized that a person’s charm did not rely on her perfect appearance. Instead, it was the temperament and aura emitted from the inside out, as well as her experiences and deeds.

For example, although Shan Yue still looked very strong compared to the other girls, no one could associate her with words like ugly or useless anymore.

The emergency notice that the principal had personally read out was also playing in the classroom of the sophomore year.

When Shan Chen heard this, his mood immediately improved. He was sincerely happy for Shan Yue. Finally, his sister did not have to carry the label of a low IQ and poor student. Instead, she directly displayed her excellence and wisdom to everyone.

As for Shan Xing, her expression immediately darkened when she heard Shan Yue's name.

"This damn fat pig is causing trouble in school again. Does she like to attract attention so much? How cheap!" Shan Xing gritted her teeth and cursed softly. At the same time, she stabbed the notebook in front of her with a pen in frustration.

Then, Shan Xing heard the news that Shan Yue had scored full marks. She was stunned and immediately exploded. "How can Shan Yue, this imbecile, score full marks? Are those teachers so stupid? They were all deceived by her methods. She must have cheated!"

Chapter 78: Shan Yue Has a New Lover

This class was Chinese. The teachers and students were originally listening to the radio quietly. When they suddenly heard Shan Xing's vicious scolding, they all looked over in surprise.

Only then did Shan Xing realize that she had accidentally said what was on her mind. She covered her mouth and subconsciously shook her head. "That's not what I meant..."

However, just now, she had publicly said that the teachers were all very stupid. Now, she did not know how to defend herself.

A boy who usually disliked Shan Xing retorted, "Didn't the principal say that he checked the surveillance cameras and re-examined the papers? Shan Yue didn't cheat, right? Are you jealous of her? That's why you don't believe that she's so outstanding!"

"I...!" Shan Xing was almost angered to death. This person actually said that she was jealous of Shan Yue. How could she be jealous of Shan Yue, who was as stupid as a pig?

However, it was not appropriate for her to continue badmouthing Shan Yue in front of so many people. She could only say stubbornly, "All of you know that Shan Yue is a famous bad student in the school. How can she suddenly score so well? Moreover, she's not a good person..."

"But her results are better than yours, and she's much more courageous than you! This morning, a teacher slandered her for cheating. She dared to argue with the teacher in front of the principal. Since you suspect her, go look for the principal!" The boy who spoke up for Shan Yue continued to retort.

"You, what nonsense are you talking about!" This was the first time Shan Xing had been so embarrassed in front of the entire class. She was so angry that her eyes were red, but she had no reason to retort.

"Alright, don't say anything that has nothing to do with the class!" The Chinese teacher interrupted Shan Xing at the right time. She frowned and looked at the angry Shan Xing. The Chinese teacher said, "Shan Xing, come to my office after class!"

After class, the radio sounded again. This time, it was the voice of a middle-aged woman with a slightly teary voice. "Hello, students. I'm Shan Yue's math teacher, Li Juan. Because of my subjective judgment, I suspected that Shan Yue had cheated and used my authority to pull out Shan Yue's test papers. I deliberately gave her a zero and humiliated her in class. After this incident, I deeply realized my mistake. I hope Shan Yue can forgive me. I'm sorry!"

What kind of ability did Shan Yue have to actually force the principal and Ms. Li to broadcast a clarification and apology? The students were excited again.

"Actually, when we followed the teachers over today, we saw many people rushing to the principal's office!"

"What? Do you know those people?"

"I don't know them, but I feel that they're all leaders, right? I also saw the principal nodding and talking to those people. There are police cars coming from behind!"

"Oh my god, Shan Yue actually caused such a huge commotion? That's amazing!"

"By the way, we looked outside and even took a photo of Shan Yue talking to a big shot!"

"Show us!"

A photo of Shan Yue and a big shot? Yu Hao was sitting behind these gossipy girls. When he heard this, his curiosity was immediately piqued. If he remembered correctly, Shan Yue's family lived in the slums of S City's E District. How could she have any connections to contact big shots to help her resolve the matter?

Yu Hao went to the girls and looked at the photo they had taken. Shan Yue was expressionless in the photo, but the tall and imposing man beside her was smiling. He turned his head and spoke to Shan Yue, looking very intimate with her.

How was this a leader? He clearly looked like Shan Yue's ambiguous partner! Yu Hao's face darkened.

A few girls were discussing it excitedly. One girl even said infatuatedly, "We seemed to have been discovered by that man when we were taking photos, but he didn't say anything. He was really handsome when he turned around. I wonder how Shan Yue met him."

Could it be that Shan Yue's attitude towards him changed drastically because she had a new person she liked? At this moment, Yu Hao really wanted to question Shan Yue. She had a new lover so quickly. Was the anonymous love letter she had given him in the past all a lie?

Moreover, the more Yu Hao looked at the man in the photo, the more familiar he felt. It was as if he had seen him in some newspaper or news.

Chapter 79: Calling Zhou Xuan By His Name

As soon as class ended, Shan Yue's form teacher came over and kindly informed Shan Yue that she had to go to the office.

Shan Yue thought that there was some unfinished mess that she had to clean up. Unexpectedly, as soon as she entered the office, Han Lin quickly stood up from his office chair and welcomed her warmly. "Miss Shan Yue, let me introduce myself first. My name is Han Lin, and I'm the mayor of S City. I've been instructed by Mr. Zhou to deal with matters related to you."

So it was the Zhou family's doing. Shan Yue was not surprised. After nodding lightly, she casually asked, "Mr. Zhou? Are you talking about Zhou Yang, or..."

“Zhou Xuan?” Shan Yue paused for a moment before remembering that Zhou Yang’s uncle, Zhou Xuan, was the actual head of the Zhou family. Zhou Yang was a silly young master who had been doted on since he was young and was ignorant of the world. There was a high chance that he did not have such a scheme.

Hearing Shan Yue called Zhou Xuan by his name without hesitation, Han Lin was shocked. He was even more surprised that Shan Yue had a deep relationship with the Zhou family. She must be very familiar with Zhou Xuan, so she called him by his name. It seemed that he had to be more careful to please Shan Yue.

“Yes, yes, it’s President Zhou.” Han Lin smiled obsequiously and quickly took out a business card from his pocket. He handed it to Shan Yue with both hands and said, “The benefactor of the Zhou family is my benefactor. Miss Shan Yue, if you have anything in the future, you can look for me. I’ll definitely do my best and not hesitate.”

“Okay.” Shan Yue took the business card and glanced at it before agreeing casually.

In fact, even if she had something to do, she would never trouble Han Lin. She could sense that Han Lin was deliberately trying to please her and get close to her, but in the end, Han Lin was still sent by the Zhou family. She did not want to owe the Zhou family a favor, nor did she want to do anything that would be reported to the Zhou family by Han Lin.

“Mayor Han, I...” The principal had finally completed the few requests that Han Lin had made to please Shan Yue. At this moment, he was chasing after him, wanting to continue pleading with Han Lin.

However, as soon as he arrived near the office, the principal saw through the window that Han Lin was saying something to Shan Yue obsequiously, completely respectful to Shan Yue and treating her like a treasure.

At the thought of Han Lin’s anger and warning to him just now, the principal could not help but swallow. What kind of identity did this Shan Yue have that even the mayor, Han Lin, was very afraid of her? At the thought of having such a terrifying student in his school, the principal immediately felt a chill run down his spine and was a little afraid.

At the same time, Shan Yue raised her eyes and expressionlessly sized up the principal, who was peeping at the door. The warning was clear, and the principal was immediately frightened into walking back. “Something’s wrong, something’s wrong...”

“In that case, I won’t disturb you, Miss Shan Yue. If you have something to do, you can go ahead.” Sensing that Shan Yue was a little uninterested, Han Lin didn’t dare to say anything else that he had prepared to please her, afraid that Shan Yue would be bored.

“Mm,” Shan Yue nodded and walked out of the office under Han Lin’s eager gaze. As soon as she left the office, Shan Yue threw Han Lin’s business card into the trash can.

She did not care how many people in the outside world wanted to get close to Han Lin. Anyway, to her, it was just a matter of tapping on the code to check for private information.

Finally, he successfully met Shan Yue and connected with her. Han Lin felt much more relaxed. His relationship with the Zhou family made him feel very good. He even walked much more energetically.

“Eh, Uncle Han!” Yu Hao happened to come down from upstairs and was about to ask Shan Yue what was going on when he bumped into Han Lin, who was about to leave by the stairs. He greeted him respectfully in surprise.

His father also worked in the city hall. Han Lin was his father’s immediate superior, and the two families had a good relationship.

When Han Lin saw Yu Hao, he also recognized him as his subordinate’s son. He was about the same age as Han Ye. Because he was in a good mood, he greeted him kindly, “It’s Little Hao. Are you studying here too?”

“Yes, Uncle Han. I’m in my third year of high school this year.”

Yu Hao quickly stood up straight. After scratching his head, he imitated his father and said, “Are you here to inspect work at the school? It’s been hard on you, Uncle Han. My house is near the school. Why don’t you come to my house? My father hasn’t drunk with you for a long time. He’s been talking about you when he’s free.”

Chapter 80: Let Han Ye Curry Favor

“No need, no need. Tell your father that we’ll drink together next time.” Han Lin was a smart person. He had different ways to win over different subordinates and was good at controlling people’s hearts. That was why he had been the mayor for so long.

Suddenly thinking of Shan Yue, Han Lin could not help but say, “Since you’re also in Year Three, why don’t..”

“Uncle Han, please speak,” Yu Hao said seriously.

As he spoke, Han Lin realized something and forced himself to swallow his words. “It’s fine. I still have something on. I’m leaving.”

He had just thought that since Yu Hao was Shan Yue's classmate, he would ask Yu Hao to take care of Shan Yue in school so that some blind people would not find trouble with Shan Yue when he was negligent.

However, on second thought, if he introduced Shan Yue to Yu Hao and let Yu Hao build a good relationship with Shan Yue, it would be bad if he used Shan Yue's relationship to build a relationship with the Zhou family.

Moreover, Yu Hao's father was his subordinate. If he was promoted by the Zhou family, wouldn't his status be higher than his? That could not be done.

It seemed that he should leave a popular person like Shan Yue to his family. For example, his good-for-nothing son, Han Ye, had nothing to do at home anyway. Why not ask him to please Shan Yue...

Thinking about how to get his son to curry favor with Shan Yue, Han Lin strode away.

"Uncle Han, take care!" Yu Hao said goodbye to him. He thought that he had to go home and talk about meeting Mayor Han today. He had forgotten to ask Shan Yue about it.

After school.

The atmosphere at the Shan family's dining table was still very strange.

Shan Xing thought about how Shan Yue had scored full marks only today. She was jealous and unwilling to believe it. She was afraid that Sun Ling would change her opinion of Shan Yue after telling her, so she kept her mouth shut.

Shan Chen was not sure what Shan Yue meant. He did not know if Shan Yue wanted her family to know how outstanding her results were, so he could only look at her from time to time, feeling a little helpless.

As for Shan Yue, she simply did not remember the bet with Sun Ling. She finished her meal quietly the entire time and thought about training her body. She went out early for a night run. A few hours later, when she returned to the Shan family's building with sweat all over her forehead, she heard the commotion in the house on the second floor and stopped in her tracks.

Before she entered, she recognized the voices of the principal, Ms. Li, and the dean. They seemed to be getting close to the Shan family.

"Mother Sun, you really know how to educate children. I didn't expect that the three outstanding students, Shan Chen, Shan Yue, and Shan Xing, are actually your children," the principal said with a smile.

“Creak—”

Shan Yue opened the door expressionlessly and saw a room full of people, as well as various gifts, cigarettes, and wine on the ground of the Shan family, and a thick stack of manila envelopes.

It seemed that what happened today had frightened the principal. Afraid that Shan Yue would instruct Han Lin to do something to the school, he quickly went to curry favor.

“Shan Yue, you’re finally back. The teachers and I have been waiting for you for a long time.” The principal hurriedly greeted her and pushed the worried Ms. Li, gesturing for her to quickly stop Shan Yue.

Li Juan no longer had the prestige she had when she reprimanded Shan Yue the previous few times. After encountering the huge pressure from all sides, she no longer dared to look down on Shan Yue. Instead, she said nervously, “Shan Yue, it’s my fault for what happened before.”

Unfortunately, Shan Yue did not care about this at all. As if she did not hear the few people present, she walked straight to the washroom without looking sideways. When the patter of water sounded, everyone present realized that Shan Yue had gone to take a shower because she had just finished exercising.

“This...” The principal and the Shan family stared at each other, at a loss. They came to seek Shan Yue’s understanding and beg her to let the school off, but Shan Yue deliberately ignored them. What should they do?

Looking at the things on the ground and the envelope containing a large stack of money, Sun Ling’s eyelids twitched. She deliberately pretended to be gentle and virtuous. Seeing that Shan Yue was so disrespectful to the teachers, she cursed in her heart. On the surface, she smiled apologetically. “Ahem, I’m sorry. Shan Yue is not very sensible.”

“Don’t, Mother Sun. You can’t say that. Shan Yue is talented and smart. Geniuses have some temper. It’s normal.” The principal quickly mediated.
