

The galaxy left behind the stars in the world - The first chapter everything to start again

People will experience a lot of things in their lives, perhaps at the moment you croak you are destined to meet people and experience things in your life.

"Shu Tong" is a fairy-tale-like name, the beginning of her life is the envy of many of her friends, because she has the freedom, no parental coercion, no parental scolding.

But no one expected that Shu Tong would go into depression, and it was because of this that everyone began to suspect.

She began to experience the most difficult and warm time of her life.

A small knife, endless scars; a pill, the first stomach wash; crying again and again, wanting to end herself.

one sentence with me, pulling her back from the cliff; one companion, bringing her back to the light; one warmth, bringing her hope.

Outside the school gate there was a girl, she was wearing a red shirt with a pair of strappy pants, short hair scattered around her ears, a girl who looked very cute from afar, and she was accompanied by a somewhat older man.

She seemed to look a little hesitant, and the older man urged her on.

"Hurry up, Tong Tong! How about we hurry up and get in, we still have to go to the principal to talk about you."

"Oh okay." Shu Tong said carelessly.

She was afraid, she was really afraid, she was afraid of the sudden inquiry of her former best friend, she was afraid of being looked at her with a different look. Because there was gossip surrounding her even before this.

Shu Tong mustered up the courage to take that step into the campus, from the door to the school office she kept her head down, she didn't dare to look up at any one in the school, after all, she almost took half a semester off.

In other people's eyes, she must be unwilling to go to school so she pretended to be sick and took such a long leave.

But who could understand the pain that Shutong was going through?

Shu Tong vaguely remembered that at last year's New Year's Day party, her classmates coaxed her to play the guitar, and she refused repeatedly, but she could not escape the enthusiasm of her teachers and classmates.

So she reluctantly picked up the guitar and played the song she composed herself.

It was snowing on New Year's Day, and the ground was white with snow.

Shu Tong sang while playing, her words were painfully written, but her song was very rhythmic, so that no one present could hear that what was written in the song was actually what she wanted to say.

After it was over the students, teachers were applauding, Shu Tong was very happy that her song could make them like it, the happiness, the sense of achievement made Shu Tong feel very happy.

"Hey! Shutong you sang great today! By the way that song was written by you, right? What's the name?"

"Self-help." After saying that, Shu Tong carried the electric kettle and walked straight towards the dormitory.

"Self-help? Why do you call it self-help? What are you doing to save yourself?" The student said in confusion.

Shu Tong never thought that the song he wrote last year would become the self-help he had to do at the moment.

Walking to the door of the Registrar's Office, Shu Tong was a little surprised that no one asked her, and people around her came and went in a hurry so that she felt more nervous.

"Hi! Shutong long time no see, better?" Just when Shutong was thinking about what to do later, a voice came to his ears.

Yes, it is her, once and Shu Tong inseparable good friend Yang Shuyu.

"Long time no see I'm much better." Shutong said slowly.

"That's good, I'm going to sign up first!"

"Hmm."

Shu Tong walked to the second floor in front of the previous class there are a few square tables, only one teacher is her class teacher, after registration to go out to buy things need to leave, but the class teacher said to find the teacher of Xu Feng to sign.

"This semester to divide the class also to change the class teacher is now your history teacher Mr. Xu to take you, so to find him to sign. Now he went to eat you go pack the dormitory first."

Shu Tong's expression looked grave and then slowly said, "Okay!" Then he turned around and left.

Since living in the school since the bed is Shu Tong do it by themselves, sometimes see other housemates have their own mothers to help get always some envy.

But there are also some parents who let their children learn from Shutong.

Shu Tong moves skillfully to finish making his bed, and then take his father out of the dormitory back to the second floor registration place to take out a leave of absence to Xu Feng teacher, he took it and teased: "This time how long are you going to take." Then laughed, and the teachers around him followed suit.

This is just a flirtation, but for Shu Tong really some inexplicable hard feelings.

Father came out of the principal's office, smiled and took Shutong out to buy something.

Because of the school violence he experienced as a child, his mother's preference for sons, family conditions, his father's disfigurement, his own birth, each experience will make Shutong understand a little more.

Perhaps it is because she knows too much that Shu Tong slowly learns to disguise herself to make others think she is happy, but how to disguise herself again will be revealed.