

THE GALAXY LEFT BEHIND THE STARS IN THE WORLD - CHAPTER 18 "I'M READY TO BE YOUR BAD GUY!"

That whole night Shutong and aunt did not sleep, she quietly lay in bed looking at the light outside the window.

The bottle had been dropped until after midnight, and blood tests had to be drawn every half hour. Every finger of Shu Tong did not escape the fate of being stuck by needles, and the hand she was playing with was swollen as if it had been inflated with air.

Although the lights in the ward had been turned off, she still saw the figure sitting at the end of the bed.

That night was particularly slow, "Aunt, I just can't stay any longer, I'll go to the doctor and tell him to let me out of the hospital!" Shu Tong said anxiously.

"Good, then you go and say wait for your father to arrive and then go to do the procedures to pay." Aunt nodded and said.

Shu Tong and the doctor said good after and aunt downstairs together and stood outside the hospital waiting, this year's winter is really not too cold sun often hanging in the sky.

Sitting in the car on the way home Shutong did not know how to face them and him at school later, after all, when she left they were very worried and he seemed very angry.

"Come on, let's go find your teacher Xu." Father stood behind Shutong and slowly spoke. Shu Tong came to school when it was noon break, Mu Yunfan they were all in the playground memorizing essays, of course this this is not of their own volition.

Not far away, the language teacher looked at them silently, "Shutong, you're back! How is it better?" Xia Sichen ran over and asked.

"Well, much better."

"How about you still want to go to the stomach wash?" Chu said flirtatiously.

Shu Tong smiled and shook his head, followed his aunt and father towards the second floor, came to the principal's office but saw no one.

The warmth of the midday campus sun stays here, the small bamboo grove on the playground is still green, and the teenagers coming and going on the playground make the winter campus interspersed with that touch of vitality.

In winter, everything goes into hibernation, sometimes heavy snowfall makes the world fall into silence, the earth is snow white looks very clean.

"Hey, Mr. Asahi, where are you? I'm out of the hospital."

"Dormitory." A cold voice came from the other end of the phone.

Shu Tong gave them an explanation and then walked towards the teacher's dormitory building, "Teacher?" Xu Feng heard her voice and came out, "How is it?"

"Much better." Shu Tong silently lowered her head.

"How did you feel after going to the hospital for the second time? Hmm?" His words were interspersed with a hint of laughter.

Shutong stood still and did not speak, just silently bowed his head.

"You bought something for me again, do you have a lot of money?" He said as he glanced at the bag placed on the table.

"It's just a little bit of fruit, I'm really sorry for giving you so much trouble in my heart." Shu Tong replied in a flat tone.

"You take these back to your fathers to eat."

Shu Tong did not say anything, "Okay! When you make your own money in the future to buy me." His face changed quickly smiled and patted Shutong's shoulder.

"Let's go, go tell the principal." He turned around and went downstairs, "Close the door for me and take your things away." He then added.

Shutong closed the door behind him and then turned around and went downstairs.

"How is it? Did you feel comfortable after going to the hospital and hanging a few bottles of suspension?" Sitting next to Shutong, Xu Feng said.

Shu Tong hands clutching the sleeves did not speak, "Shu Tong, this time you really have to listen to ah! You see your aunt stayed with you in the hospital all night yesterday." The principal sitting opposite her also spoke up.

Shutong nodded without saying anything.

"You must listen to me today, you must take time off to go back today." Xu Feng said in a firm tone as he looked at Shutong.

"That vocational education people up when let Mr. Xu call you you come is." Principal Yang also opened his mouth and said.

Almost to junior high school graduation, those who feel they can not get into high school part of the students are decided to go to vocational education, the first thing is to take them to visit the school.

"Shutong, you go and ask Mr. Xu to take you to get your medicine back." Principal Yang said.

"Come."

"Teacher, the day after tomorrow we are going to visit the school you let me stay at the school!" Shutong followed behind Xu Feng and suddenly spoke up.

"No way! Tell you today is the principal came to me to say let you stay, I also do not agree."

To the synthesis room Shutong sat on the sofa, Xu Feng took out the medicine and also sat down.

"Shutong, you have to be obedient know?" His tone became gentle.

"Teacher, I'm much better now, I want to stay." Still persevering, Shutong said.

"You know, my child went to the hospital with a cold and injections his mother and I are heartbroken, I find that you do not accept anyone's good now." He changed his sitting position and looked at Shutong seriously and said.

Shutong ashamedly lowered his head not in a word.

Xu Feng looked at him and said with a smile, "Go back and clean yourself up and go around their school the day after tomorrow."

"Teacher, I "

"I'll be honest with you, from the time I sent you back to the hospital, the moment I stepped into the school gate I decided, it's not good to be your good guy, I'll be your 'bad guy!'"

"Do you hate me now? It's okay, you can hate me if you want!" After he finished speaking, he walked towards the other side of the playground.

Shu Tong froze on the sidelines and was about to speak when the principal came down from upstairs: "Shu Tong, your aunt and your father and I have discussed it, you will go back today."

She looked at the far away figure hesitated for a moment looked at the principal and nodded.

"Good, you go in and pack your things."

"Report!"

Zhao teacher looked at a nod, Shu Tong moved slowly packing things, "It's okay, you just go back." Somehow Chen Yixuan they are standing around Shutong.

Because it is self-study Zhao teacher is notoriously good-tempered also do not care, know not to make a fuss not to make noise on the line.

"Yeah, it's okay we wait for you to come back."

"Yes, wait for you to come back."

"Shutong, hurry up." From the doorway came the voice of the principal urging.

Shu Tong looked at them and nodded and turned to leave.

When Shutong left, he returned the money that the principal had lent to his aunt at the hospital and left.

Some people say "forgetfulness and low laughing point is the standard of a happy life." And Shu Tong also forgetful but tend to remember the sad things very clearly, her laugh point is also low but at the same time her tear point is also very low.

In this world, no one will really understand someone, if they understand they can only love to help, but those who will not understand will only create rumors behind the scenes.

Shu Tong sometimes will be suspicious, those around her "little sun" will not just be so good to her on the surface, and then behind her back to say bad things about her.

But now she is sure that they are the real light in her life, the light that can save her from the abyss of hell, the light that can bring a smile back to her face.

The sky will not always rain, just like people's moods will not always be so bad.
