Chapter 906 Daddy Attracts Crazy Women

Arissa arched an eyebrow at her as she replied, “What do you mean? I’m simply defending my family by preventing other women from stealing my husband!”

“Get lost! You shameless homewrecker!” “Why can’t you just find yourself another man, huh? Why do you have to destroy someone’s relationship?”

“You’re an embarrassment to all the young girls from wealthy families out there!” Rosetta clenched her fists tightly as anger contorted her face. She didn’t expect Arissa to have such a sharp tongue.

“Please stay away from my children, Ms. Adams!” Arissa warned her coldly as she led the kids toward her car.

“You’re the one stealing my man, Arissa! Benjamin didn’t even love you, but you deliberately approached him and got yourself pregnant with his kids!”

Rosetta’s voice was loud enough to be heard by all the parents watching on. Arissa’s eyes narrowed as she turned around and slapped Rosetta hard across the face, much to the surprise of everyone around them.

Rosetta glared furiously at Arissa while rubbing her stinging cheek. “How dare you hit me?”

“Why wouldn’t I hit someone like you? My husband would do way more than slap you if he were here!”

Arissa snapped back at her with a sneer.

Hmph! If I can’t have Benjamin, then she can’t have him either! I’ll get my revenge on Arissa! With that in mind, Rosetta yelled,

“You’ll regret this, Arissa!”

Arissa’s lips curled into a smug grin as she replied, “Are you threatening me, Ms. Adams? Just so you know, I’ve recorded everything you just said. Should any harm befall my family, you’ll be the first person I come after!”

Rosetta tried to hit her, but the bodyguards stopped her by grabbing her wrist.

“Let go of me!” Rosetta screamed while struggling with all her might.

With a swing of his arm, the bodyguard threw Rosetta to the ground and warned her, “Stay away from Mrs. Graham!”

Rosetta looked like a mentally ill woman as she sat on the ground with her hair and clothes all messy.

“Yeah! That was awesome, Mommy!” Zachary and the others clapped their hands and cheered happily.

“Come on, sweethearts! Let’s go!”

“Okay!” Gavin replied as he helped his siblings get into the car.

Arissa then had the driver bring them to the hospital.

Noticing that Arissa was in a bad mood, Tim cautiously tugged on her arm and whispered, “Just ignore that evil woman’s words, Mommy!”

Arissa felt really happy when she heard Tim call her “Mommy.”

She gave him a gentle pat on the head and said, “Yeah, let’s all ignore that evil woman together!”

Tim nodded in response.

“That woman is crazy, Mommy. You mustn’t take what she said to heart!” Zachary exclaimed with a pout.

“It’s Daddy’s fault for attracting all these crazy women!” Gavin chimed in as well.

Arissa chuckled in amusement as she explained, “This has nothing to do with your daddy. It’s Rosetta who keeps pestering him.”

“That woman sure is shameless!” Jasper exclaimed angrily.

“Yeah! She even came to our school just to get closer to us!” Jesse added.

“Remember, kids. Do not let anyone else pick you up from school, okay?” Arissa reminded them.

The six kids nodded in unison. “Got it, Mommy!”

Arissa gave each of them a hug and a kiss on the forehead.

“We’ll only go with you, Daddy, and Grandpa!” Gavin promised.

Arissa nodded at him in response.

Jasper looked up at her and asked, “Why didn’t Mr. Graham come to pick us up today, Mommy?”

“Your daddy was going to do so, but he’s really busy with work today. Since I was able to get off work earlier, I told him to carry on working while I pick you kids up instead!” Arissa replied with a chuckle.

Oliver grinned as he exclaimed, “I didn’t know Mr. Graham would listen to you, Mommy!”

Arissa gave him a light pinch on the cheek. “That’s only because he really had a lot of work to do. I wouldn’t be able to stop him if he insisted on tagging along!”
