

The More The Merrier

Chapter 914

Chapter 914 Billions At Least

“Go, go. Go bath, quick!” Arissa urged. “We’re going to bath, Mommy. You should do the same!” While saying that, Gavin corralled his siblings to go and take a bath.

Arissa giggled. “Jesse, do you want me to bathe you, or are you bathing with your brothers?”

Jesse grinned so widely that her eyes became mere slits.

“I’m bathing with Gavin and the others!”

Chuckling, Arissa brought the children into the room and adjusted the water temperature for them.

“Make it quick, okay? Don’t play in there!” she exhorted.

Only after doing that did she return to the bedroom with the flowers and arrange them nicely.

Taking a step back, she scrutinized the arrangement from every angle.

When she found it satisfactory, she went to the children’s room and laid their pajamas out for them.

“I’m coming in, Sweethearts!”

“No!” the children cried out in unison, denying her entry.

The corners of Arissa’s mouth twitched imperceptibly.

“I want to go in to bathe Jesse.”

“She has already bathed by herself, Mommy!” Zachary hollered.

Torn between amusement and exasperation, Arissa could only sit outside and wait for them to come out. A while later, restlessness swamped her, and she made the bed.

Finally, the six children stepped out of the bathroom with towels wrapped around them.

“We’re done, Mommy!”

“Aren’t you going to take a bath, Mommy?”

Smiling, Arissa wiped them dry. “I’ve already bathed.” At once, the eyes of all six children widened in surprise. Recalling that she had bathed right after arriving home, they all burst into laughter.

Arissa then snagged their clothes and helped them change.

“I’ll help dress you all.”

All the children waited obediently for her to help them into their clothes.

“Mommy, did Daddy give you anything else when he proposed to you?”

Gavin looked at her curiously.

Arissa swept her gaze over the children, only to see that the others were likewise gazing at her in intrigue.

As she dressed Tim, she admitted, “He gave me the key to the study.”

At her answer, astonishment flooded Gavin.

Zachary was also puzzled. “Why did he give you a key?”

“We don’t keep the study locked.” Oliver was similarly bewildered.

Arissa’s lips curved upward slightly. “It’s the significance of it.”

Hearing that, Jasper blinked. “Did he not give you any money, Mommy?”

Arissa chortled, pinching his nose.

“So, did he give you any money, Mommy?”

Gavin eyed her, smiling widely.

That sent Arissa into a fit of giggles. “Yup! He gave me a few bank cards!”

“Wow!” All the children clapped their hands.

“Congratulations, Mommy!”

Sheer amusement inundated Arissa. Good Lord!

They’re too fixated on this issue!

“How much money is in there, Mommy?” Jesse’s curiosity was piqued.

In response, Arissa shrugged. “No idea.”

Disappointed, Jesse stuck her tongue out.

“Mommy, Daddy must have given you all his money!”

Gavin grinned from ear to ear.

“He kept a bank card for himself,” Arissa revealed, for she saw that.

“Where are the bank cards he gave you, Mommy? I’ll know the amount with a single glance!”

Naturally, Gavin was excited beyond words.

“In my handbag.”

By then, Arissa had already dressed them all.

The children started urging her to bring them to her bedroom for a look.

Left with no other choice, Arissa could only bring them over. Then, she snagged her handbag.

All six children surrounded her on the couch.

Thus, she took out the bank cards and key given by Benjamin for them to have a look.

At a single glance, Gavin knew that Benjamin had really handed the control of his finances to Arissa.

“Mommy, the bank card Daddy kept for himself contains the least money. This contains the most money!”

Holding a bank card in hand, he regarded Arissa with merriment dancing in his eyes.

“Do you know how much money is in there, Gavin?”

Zachary looked at him in curiosity.

At that question, Gavin chortled. “A fortune. Billions, at the very least!”

Tim wore a perplexed expression, having no idea what that figure meant.

Conversely, Zachary, Oliver, and Jasper understood it all too well. Their eyes went as wide as saucers in shock.

Jesse was also aware of the significance of it, so she was over the moon.

Meanwhile, Arissa's lips twitched. Does Benjamin have that much cash?
