Chapter 20: Surprise For Josephine

The vice director showed the proposals submitted by his prospective clients who were now waiting downstairs. But the new director didn't want to see it.

'I already know, I made this proposal with my wife. Sign the cooperation agreement with Windsor, please. In order not to arouse any suspicion, ask the Windsor to submit a copy of their annual balance sheet. One more thing, make sure that Josephine Windsor's name is on our agreement!' Nicko's orders.

The decision Nicko made was simply to support his wife. Living two years with the Windsor family made him understand, how the Windsor family behaves towards his beautiful wife.

'I'm going to transfer 60% of the 3 billion total amount to the Windsor company account, I'll add the rest next week. You need to have a meeting with the Windsor family and review their company!' Nicko spoke to him again.

'Yes, Young Master.'

‘After this, see my wife immediately, she is anxiously waiting for you. I’ll see you.’

Josephine’s beautiful face was showing a sorrow, because Mr. Evans did not come. Until finally, she felt even more afraid. However, the blonde haired woman decided to just wait, and never leave her seat even if she just took the drink or snack provided.

Finally, Josephine’s wait is over. The sound of footsteps drew closer to her, and made her turn around and shows a smile.

Josephine stood up to greet Mr. Evans again in a friendly manner. Even though her heart felt worry about the rejection he might receive.

‘Mrs. Windsor, I’m sorry for keeping you waiting,’ he said and bow, to show a politeness. Treating Josephine as a guest of honor.

‘Have a seat, Madame,’ Raymond asked.

Receiving such honorable treatment certainly made Josephine both surprised and proud. Makes her relax a little and is even more impatient to wait for the decisions that have been made by the man who was seeing her.

‘Madame, let’s get to the point of conversation, because I still have things to do.’

‘Yes sir,’ Josephine replied, trying to calm down.

Raymond put down the folder containing Josephine’s proposal, and showed one more folder. However, Josephine didn’t know what that meant, besides hoping for good news.

‘My boss has learned the proposal you submitted, and an investment of 60% of the three billion dollars we have sent to your company account,’ explained Raymond.

Josephine shocked, and could not close her pinky lips. She didn’t expect to get good results so fast. Moreover, what was provided by Richmond exceeded the expectations of his company.

‘60% of three billion? Are you serious sir?’ the full-lipped woman asked.

‘You can see the proof of payment here,’ Raymond replied, opening the other folder and showing an A5 size paper containing proof of payment.

To confirm what she had just seen, this slender woman checked her professional email. There is clearly a notification from the bank which reports the receipt of funds amounting to 1.8 billion from the Richmond Group.

‘Is That means, your director is willing to be our investor?’
‘ Josephine asked incredulously.

‘Of course, Madame. Our director thinks your offer is very spectacur and he believes it will provide many benefits for both parties.’

‘Is that true sir?’ Josephine asked incredulously.

‘Of course, Madame. You are as passionate and talented as your Grandfather Gilbert Windsor.’

Nicko’s wife’s white skin began to flush with blush. This is the first time she has received praise for her work, not the beauty and finesse of the body. Slowly this gave her confidence.

‘For the rest, we’ll finish in a week or two. We need to make a visit to your company.’

‘Of course Sir ... Of course it will be an honor for us if the Richmond is willing to visit our hotel. We will provide the best service for you and also the Director.’

‘Fine madam, I will tell you as soon as possible, when we will visit. Regarding the director, we do not know if he has time to come, since he has an extraordinary busyness,’ Raymond said and was forced to lie to please his boss’s wife.

Of course Josephine really hopes for the presence of the Richmond directorate. This young woman was eager to thank Ray mond's boss in person. The Director Richmond was a savior of his pride and marriage, for her.

Nicko stepped into the backyard of his office.

He wanted to know where Mr Evans's secretary was working.

Seeing the arrival of a man who was dressed casually, ura started acting up. The attitude that was embarrassed and annoyed because his actions were recorded by the head of the HRD division, now actually becomes tempting.

The bck haired woman sprayed water on her body, several times. Make her thin blouse getting wet and show the shillulouette of her curves. Make an erotic movements while squeezing the sponge, occasionally with a slightly tilted ass. Acting like a carwash bikini girl.

'Nuts!'

Nicko said.
