why he has to park away from the lobby area.

He was walking in a hurry and breathing faster as he reached the lobby.

The people he knew were seen sitting on the sofa which is a bit hidden.

Nicko stays quiet for a while, then trying to interrupt. He wants to make a confession by using the ATM he got.

'I apologize,

gentlemen,' he starts to interrupt.

'What is the matter young man,' Mr. Lloyd replies.

'I am sorry, I just want to know what you will do if the result is something unexpected. I mean if I wasn't your son,' Nicko is saying.

‘Of course i want to see her. I still remember how beautiful and gentle she was.’

This handsome guy is walking after Mr. Lloyd to the luxurious mansion with a mediteranian style. A mansion with a rge garden and filled with various fancy flowers.

‘This house is really big, need a ride to reach the main door from the gate,’ Nicko says in his heart with an admiration.

He can’t hide his admiration on his face while seeing the entire interior.

‘Have a sit, please!’ Mr. Lloyd isasking him on the couch.

Meanwhile the maids are busy to prepare the Young Master welcoming.

An elegant blonde woman appears and come closer. She is followed by another woman, might be her asistant.

‘Nichos!’ She said,

when Nicko raised her head up.

There is no much change on this dy. She looks beautiful as before. Nicko recalled that his mother ia still young when she had him, while his father is mature enough.

‘Mommy,’ Nicko says and runs to her arms.

No matter how,

her instinct as a mother can’t be beaten. Even separatedly for years, the feeling is still the same.

A will to take care and keep her son safely.

‘I miss you my Son. You know what? You really look alike with my deceased father,’ Stephany Lloyd is saying.

Phillip Lloyd lets them take their time to express their feelings.

Let them repay all the missing time.

Stephany is amazed with his son’s appearance. He grew up as a handsome and dashing man. She wasn’t expected, her baby will grow up like this.

Once again, Stephany and Phillip ask him to stay and use privileges as Lloyd.

However he has to reject all the kindness.

It doesn’t mean he doesn’t like his parents’ palace, but if the Windsors know the truth, he is afraid that they will use him. It is possible for them to spend Lloyd’s wealth to have fun, especially for his young parents in w.

‘Honey, our son is married already. Let him stay independent with his wife,’ Phillip says and put his arms on Stephany’s shoulder.

‘But, honey,

we have been leaving him in suffering with Jamie, don’t you want any redemption to him, create him as a man with a power,’ Stephany protests him.

‘Don’t worry,

I have a special present to him,’ Phillip glanced at Kyle Brennan.

This slender man is taking a folder with documents on it, then give it to his Master. That is Richmond Group document ownership and it belongs to Nicko.

‘I want you to take care of this,’ Phillip says.

Nicko narrows his eyes and glanced at the Richmond ownership document. He knew that Richmond was bankrupted then the ownership is changed. Richmond’s value is getting improved and higher under the new ownership.

A company which was minus turned into a giant one in five years. Something really surprising is, he is mandated as the director of Richmond.

‘Me?’ Nicko asks.

‘Yes, Daddy prepared already for long time ago.’

In the meantime, Elizabeth Windsor looks so emotional while watching the numbers in front of her. She is getting old already, but still active in leading her company.

'It's terrible, we could get bankrupt if our financial data is look like this all the time!' She groaned and seen by the Windsor official, which is her son and grandchildren.

'May be we need a new innovation,' Damian is offer an advice to his grandmother.

'Its easy to give an advice but hard to make it. We need an investor to make it,' Elizabeth repys.

'I wish one of our family member is married to Mr.w,' Grandma is muttering and gnced at Josephine.
