

Levi Garrison: The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 1296

Everyone was under the impression that Levi had donated one kidney to Logan.

Even Zoey thought so.

“Levi is Logan’s savior. All of you should be begging on your knees for gratitude! I can’t believe that there are people like you!” Zoey berated them.

Zoey was utterly disappointed at that moment.

They had treated Levi like a tool in order to achieve their own selfish desires.

“Why do we need to thank him?”

“That’s what he should have done anyway! He should be thanking us instead because we accepted him even though he was disabled!”

“He only did what he should have done. He couldn’t possibly think he could be a freeloader here. Who does he think he is?”

...

As expected, the Black family all echoed the same sentiments.

They all believed that Levi was obligated to sacrifice himself for their family.

“He should be honored that he has the opportunity to save Logan! Others don’t even have the chance to do so,” stated Jennie.

“What did you just say?” Zoey asked.

She and Levi were stunned.

What did she mean by that?

How could this be Levi's honor?

As if saving Logan is a blessing bestowed upon Levi!

Isn't that just ridiculous?

However, this was the way the Lopez and Black families operated.

They had grown increasingly shameless day by day.

"That's beside the point. He is Evie's father. How could all of you bear to see him suffer?" Zoey questioned as she stared at Meredith and Robert, who had always treated Evie very well.

"How is this matter related to Evie? In any case, she is his offspring. Both Evie and this man are your burdens!" Meredith berated her.

Zoey was astonished.

Don't they treat Evie very well?

She instantly came to the realization that they had been putting up a show. They had only been nice to Evie because Dale treated Evie with love.

Now that Dale had broken off their relationship, they instantly stopped with the facade.

It's no wonder they are now ignoring Evie...

"How would Levi burden me? My career is dependent on his! He doesn't rely on me at all. In fact, his business is extremely successful!" Zoey rebutted.

"His business? The Morris Group doesn't belong to him anymore!"

"Exactly! It's yours!"

Everyone ignored Levi and argued fervently that he had nothing to do with the company.

"That's it! I'm sick of talking to all of you!" Zoey bellowed and glared at all of them.

With that, she pushed Levi in his wheelchair and left.

My heart is in pain!

In utter pain and disbelief!

The Lopez family and the Black family are all horrible people.

Every single one of them is self-absorbed.

They only care about their own interests and would use any manipulative methods to achieve them!

After they left, Jennie said, "Grandpa and Grandma, I feel that Zoey has lost herself! How can she cope with taking care of a young kid and a disabled husband? She is the boss of the Morris Group!"

"Exactly! She will soon find herself in ruins!" Logan's parents exclaimed.

"What should we do then?" enquired Meredith. She was also worried about the same matter.

Robert, who was deep in thought, nodded in agreement.

"I think it would be better to transfer the control of Morris Group to both of you! We can't destroy the company's reputation by leaving it with Zoey!" Jennie suggested.

"Exactly! It is tough for Zoey to control such a big organization, especially when she has so much on her plate."

"You are right. It would be better if the company is controlled by a family, rather than a single person."

Instantly, the Blacks started to hatch a plan to take over Zoey's company.

They didn't dare to do it before as Zoey was protected by Dale.

However, times have changed.

“Alright. Let’s think of a way to take over the Morris Group.”

“Zoey will put up a strong fight. We must think of a foolproof plan to ensure that she willingly gives up the company!”

Meredith and Robert exchanged glances.

They were getting old and their only wish left were to help the Black family become more powerful.

This was their sole motive and calling.

They were willing to give up everything for their family.

Hence, they resolved to take over the Morris Group.

“Grandpa and Grandma, what do you think of this plan? We could...”

Jennie brought the two to a corner and started whispering to them.

“Don’t you think that we are crossing the line here?” asked Robert.

Meredith instantly replied, “I don’t see any issue with that. Let’s do this then!”

“Yes, we should do whatever it takes to achieve our goal!” Jennie nodded and murmured in agreement.

“But I think we should discuss some more first!” Robert disagreed.

“No. This is final. We must execute it whilst Levi is ill! This is the best opportunity we will ever get.”

“Exactly! Levi used to be so brilliant but he is nothing now. If we don’t strike now, we won’t have any more chances left,” Jennie chimed in.

“This is the final plan!” Meredith sounded adamant.

“We should at least inform the Lopez family...” suggested Robert.

Meredith agreed. “You are right. We may face difficulties doing it alone. It’s better to team up with the Lopez family.”

Zoey would never have thought that this was only the beginning.

Stealing Levi's kidney was just a small matter.

When they returned to North Hampton, Zoey found some caretakers to look after Levi. After all, he just had a kidney removed.

At that moment, the Garrison family were already on their way to North Hampton.

In fact, Tyrone Garrison had come personally.

He wanted to ensure that Levi was killed.

"What? Levi had one kidney removed?" Tyrone asked. He instantly laughed when he heard the news.

"He really is a piece of trash! I can't wait to visit him," Tyrone stated as he let out a cold laugh.

Soon, the Garrison Clan from Oakland City reached North Hampton.

They instantly rushed to Levi's house.

At that moment, Zoey was occupied with something else and Emma Jones had gone grocery shopping.

Only Levi and the children were left in the manor as Levi had asked the caretakers to leave.

Suddenly, Tyrone and his gang of people broke into Levi's manor and appeared in front of him.

"Levi Garrison! The day has finally come!" mocked Tyrone as he smiled at him coldly.

Levi sighed, "Why is it you again? You guys are so annoying. Get lost! You're not the one I'm waiting for anyway!"

In fact, Levi was waiting for the enemies who were hiding in the dark, not a nobody like Tyrone.

"Huh?" Tyrone asked in shock.

Why is Levi saying this?

More importantly, Levi looks calm and collected. This is nothing like how an injured person would behave.

How come he can give out such a strong vibe?

"You guys are also responsible for hurting my wife and mother, aren't you? I didn't look for you but you guys decided to come and visit me instead?" Levi let out a low growl.

"I can't believe you thought of taking revenge upon us! Look at you now; you are a cripple. You don't scare us!" yelled Tyrone.

“Is that all you have?” hollered Levi.

Suddenly, a loud explosion was heard and multiple figures appeared in the manor...

They were decked in black armor and wearing masks with both an angel and a devil.

They embody righteousness and wickedness.

Indeed, they were the protectors of Erudia and were walking national weapons.

They were also wicked in that they had killed millions of people.

“Ha!”

“Ha!”

“Ha!”

...

Their ancient daggers glittered and looked absolutely deadly.

Whoever the dagger touched would immediately die.

Tyrone and his gang were surrounded with such weapons pointed at them!

“What?” exclaimed Levi in astonishment as he looked at the familiar figures in front of him.

“Is this... Is this The Calamity?” Tyrone asked as his mouth widened in shock.

Although the Calamity had been oppressed by Winsor Campbell, the Garrison family was still no match for the group.

All the Garrisons were trembling in fear.

“Indeed! We are The Calamity!” Levi roared loudly.

An even more shocking scene then appeared.

Levi carried Evie and stood up from the wheelchair.

Tyrone and his gang gaped at Levi.

“What...What is going on?” Tyrone asked in disbelief.

Isn't Levi a cripple?

How could he stand up on his own?

And even walk around like a normal person?

And what is The Calamity doing here?

Endless questions were running through Tyrone's head.

Levi isn't injured at all!

He must be the master of The Calamity!

Furthermore, Olivia has been acting weirdly...

He suddenly thought of Olivia's past actions as well as the disappearances of Sampson and Jerry.

All of those must be related to Levi!

What the f*ck?

I can't believe it!

This is terrifying!

This...

Tyrone immediately broke out in cold sweat as those thoughts ran through his mind.

“Did you really think that I will spare the Garrison clan?” Levi asked Tyrone icily.

All the Garrisons shook in terror.

Tyrone started to tremble and stared at Levi. "That means you've been fine all along! You were just pretending to be injured to fool all of us!" Tyrone yelled.

"You are indeed smart. Too bad you figured it out so late," boomed Levi.

Levi would no longer put up with the Garrisons' threats and the hurt they had caused his family.

I can't and won't forgive them!

They have put my family through too much!

It is time for me to retaliate!

"Do you really think I wouldn't kill you?" Levi asked as his eyes blazed with murderous intent.

"Kill!"

"Kill!"

"Kill!"

Members of The Calamity echoed as they pumped their fists in the air.

Thud.

Thud.

Everyone in the Garrison family immediately got on their knees in fear.

Tyrone, also terrified, did the same thing.

He had only realized at this moment how scary Levi was.

Even Winsor Campbell was lied to!

He must be acting this way because there is a mission he has to complete.

He seems to be waiting for someone?

No wonder he warned me that I was not the person he was waiting for.

I'm so stupid to have sent myself into this trap.

"Do you admit to everything you have done?" Levi questioned Tyrone.

"Yes!" Tyrone immediately replied.

"Do you admit your mistake?" Levi continued asking.

“Yes!” Tyrone answered.

“You are here to kill me, aren’t you?” asked Levi.

“I...” stuttered Tyrone, who turned speechless.

That was indeed his goal!

I should have thought of it earlier...

The strange things that Olivia has been doing...

The uncanny happenings in Oakland City and the death of Jeong-seok all point to Levi.

However, like everyone, he was fooled into thinking that Levi was now a cripple and was incapable of doing anything.

“My daughter is here and I don’t want to kill in front of her, so I have thought of another punishment for you.” Levi said coldly.
