

Levi Garrison: The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 1076

It could be said that Levi helped tremendously in letting Tyrone become the head of the clan.

This was the only help he offered as Tyrone's biological son.

"Hahaha! So this illegitimate bastard can benefit me in this way too, huh?"

Tyron even specially called Levi.

"From this moment onward, I'm the mighty head of the Garrison clan. The secret you know no longer poses any threat to me! You've missed the perfect opportunity."

Tyrone's voice was filled with arrogance and pride.

"The head of the Garrison clan? Congratulations, then!"

Levi smiled.

"Yeah, that's right! The most powerful family of Erudia is now completely in my control. I've already reached the apex! But don't you even dare to imagine that I'll validate your identity. It is impossible! I will never acknowledge you as my child. I only have one son— Damien! So, stop dreaming," scoffed Tyrone.

A trace of mockery crept into Levi's smile. "Tyrone, do you know what kind of person you are?"

"What?" asked Tyrone curiously.

“A self-righteous person! You always view things from such a myopic point of view, oblivious to the fact that there are always people stronger than you. Perhaps, you are nothing but a measly ant to others!”

Tyrone could not help but burst into laughter. “Hahaha! I’m a measly ant to others? Do you still not understand who I am now? I’m the patriarch of the most powerful ancient family in Erudia!”

“Okay. Well, there’s not much time left for the Garrison clan now. You should accumulate as much power and social connections as to fight me. Otherwise, when the deadline is up, the Garrison clan will not even stand a chance!”

Levi remembered that this was the second time he had said this to the Garrisons.

They all probably harbored the same attitude towards him— disdain.

“Hahaha! Are you talking about yourself? Everyone in Erudia knows about this bet. It’ll be your death-day by then. Shouldn’t you be thinking about how to extend your pathetic life?”

Indeed, Tyrone was filled with disdain.

No matter what, he believed that Levi would never succeed.

Hence, he posed no threat at all.

“Hahaha!

Levi burst out laughing loudly.

“You madman!” cursed Tyrone before hanging up the call.

To him, Levi was nothing more than an unreasonable madman.

That was why he dared to keep provoking Tyrone.

There was a saying that ignorant people were more confident than the wise.

Levi was one of such ignorant people.

“Don’t be angry, Dad. One day, this illegitimate bastard will understand what true power means. If he wants to succeed, he can only strive in the business domain. However, I’ll deliberately make things difficult for him. I guarantee that within a year, the Morris Group will worsen,” promised Damien with an assured smile.

He would never give Levi any chances.

Tyrone was satisfied with Damien’s words.

Only by resorting to unscrupulous means could one accomplish great success.

Damien was truly his son.

For the following days, the Morris Group kept facing setbacks in their business development. It was simply too difficult to expand their business.

They had no choice but to remain stuck within North Hampton and South Hampton.

Iris immediately called for a meeting with Zoey and Levi.

“It is most likely the Pinnacle Group who is suppressing us. They severed all possible pathways for us to access the external markets. If this continues, we will remain stagnant. It’ll be impossible for us to expand our business,” Iris explained her thoughts.

Everyone knew that it was the Garrison clan who was suppressing them, so Levi would fail in his challenge.

Zoey bit her lips and glanced at Levi. “Levi, I want to hear your opinion. What do you think we should do?”

Levi Garrison: The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 1077

Unable to think of any solutions, everyone turned their gaze toward Levi.

He smiled and said, "My suggestion is very simple. You should just rest well and not fuss over this. Just let them suppress us! We can just continue with our business as usual."

As Zoey was still pregnant, Levi did not want any troubles to arise.

All he wanted was to take care of Zoey until their child was born.

Everything else was insignificant in comparison.

However, Zoey interpreted Levi's attitude in a different manner.

This was the time when Levi should strive hard, stand up to the challenge and solve the problem.

Yet, he had such a pessimistic attitude.

When he was faced with a problem, he was actually backing away and neglecting it.

In fact, he still had a one-year pact with the Garrison clan!

Even if he might not succeed, he should at least have the right attitude.

He should strive till the last moment with his best effort. This was a way for him to prove himself and make the rest acknowledge him.

Even if they lost, they would just admit defeat.

However, this attitude was simply unacceptable!

One year later, how could Levi challenge the Garrison clan?

It would just be a complete joke!

“For this period of time, Zoey’s health is my priority. Everything else is insignificant to me!” said Levi honestly.

Zoey and Iris sighed simultaneously.

Indeed, Levi was backing away when confronted with the powerful Garrison clan.

“I know what you’re afraid of. Don’t worry! I’m not even concerned about the Garrison clan. They should be the ones worried.”

When Zoey heard Levi’s arrogant words, she became angry.

“Levi, I admit that you’re very impressive. There are not many youngsters as capable as you are! However, the Garrison clan is simply too powerful. I think that you should personally visit Oakland City and take a look. After witnessing how powerful the Garrison clan is, you’ll be back on the right track,” suggested Zoey exasperatedly.

“Don’t be angry, Zoey. I’ll do my best in expanding the Morris Group!”

To calm Zoey down, Levi could only put on an act of firm determination.

“That’s more like it! At least you’ve got the right attitude!”

Only then did Zoey stop being angry.

Yet, Levi’s plan was still to leave the Morris group to Iris and the rest to run.

The only reason why he founded this business was to promote the development of the North Hampton region and benefit the citizens.

He would never use it for private reasons, such as going against the Garrison clan.

Furthermore, it would not prove useful at all.

For now, he only had one objective— to take care of Zoey.

Everyone already knew about his famous bet with Tyrone.

Yet, they could all tell that Levi was completely unbothered by it.

It was as if he had resigned to his fate.

“I heard that the Pinnacle Group, which is currently controlled by Damien, is starting to suppress the Morris Group. Looks like Levi has given up!”

“What other solutions are there except to give up? He can only accept his inevitable fate!”

On the flight from Oakland City to North Hampton, everyone was discussing Levi.

Everyone thought that Levi had certainly given up.

After all, his opponent was so powerful that he stood no chance of winning.

A few youngsters in the same flight were currently sitting in the first-class cabin.

There were a total of two women and three men.

From their appearance and demeanor, it was evident that these five youngsters came from elite families with high social statuses.

When they heard the people beside them talking about Levi, they seemed to be extremely interested. In fact, they were all grinning.

They listened to the discussions about Levi for the entire trip.

Soon, the plane arrived at the North Hampton Airport.

The five youngsters alighted the plane.

"I hope that Levi won't disappoint us. After all, we came all the way to North Hampton!" One of them said.

These youngsters from Oakland City came just for Levi.

Levi Garrison: The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 1078

"I heard that his child is about to be born."

"Yeah, how fortunate! If Levi returned to the Garrison clan, Tiffany might have to marry him!"

"Him? How can he be worthy of Tiffany?"

A few of them mocked him.

The five of the youngsters were Carl Mullins, Dominic Coleman, Eden Davie, Taylor Reilly, and Leia Buxton.

They all hailed from powerful families in Oakland City.

Families in Oakland City were split into five categories.

The first category was ancient families like the Garrison clan with more than a thousand years of history.

The second category was the imperial families.

The third category was the royal families.

The fourth category was the prominent families.

Lastly, the fifth category was the other ordinary families.

However, the prominent families of Oakland City were much more powerful than the royal families in South Hampton. After all, as they were in the capital city, they needed to be powerful enough to gain a foothold there.

These five youngsters came from royal families in Oakland City. Yet, their families surpassed even the imperial Garrison family in Haven.

Hence, now that they were at North Hampton, they acted in an extremely arrogant and domineering way, as if they were superior to the others.

After all, they came from a place that was higher in the hierarchy than North Hampton.

The Tiffany they were referring to was actually Tiffany Meyers.

She was the heiress of the imperial Meyers family of Oakland City.

Back then, Tyrone arranged for an engagement with the Meyers in order to appease Emma—one that took place between Levi and Tiffany.

Although Tyrone did not take it seriously and was only lying to Emma, everyone else took his words seriously.

After all, he was a member of the Garrison clan in Oakland City.

Since he was talking about something as important as marriage, the Meyers took it seriously.

They even specially drafted an engagement contract, which Tyrone and Emma had both signed.

Initially, Tyrone did not think much about it.

Back then, he already knew that the Garrison clan would never allow him to marry Emma.

In other words, her child was not destined to survive.

Hence, the arranged marriage did not matter much.

However, according to the rules, the engagement contract was still in effect even till now.

It could only be considered ineffective only if both parties refused and tore up the contract on the spot.

Due to this engagement contract, Tiffany did not dare to marry anyone even till now.

After all, it had been signed by the Garrison clan.

If Tiffany married someone else, it would mean that she was disrespecting the authority of the Garrison clan.

The Meyers family would be destroyed.

Hence, they had been troubled over this matter for a long time. After all, they did not know the Garrison clan's stance on it, nor did they dare to ask.

However, Levi's bet with Tyrone allowed the Meyers to finally know the Garrison clan's attitude towards Levi.

Hence, they were prepared to call off the engagement and ask Levi to rip the contract on the spot.

As the Meyers family was an imperial family in Oakland City, it was too embarrassing for them to personally end the engagement themselves.

After all, Levi was just an illegitimate bastard.

Hence, they sent some members of the royal families to look for Levi, call off the engagement and tear up the engagement contract on their behalf.

"I really hate Levi Garrison! Because of him, Tiffany doesn't even dare to date."

"Yeah! By this time, she should've been married and have kids already."

The five of them lamented furiously.

Leia smiled and said, "After Levi tears up the engagement contract, Tiffany will finally be free!"

"Yeah, Martin has been waiting for Tiffany for many years. Only someone like him is worthy enough for her!"

A look of anticipation crossed Taylor's face.

Martin was ranked second in the Heir Leaderboard in Oakland City.

The Heir Leaderboard ranked the top heirs, excluding those from the most powerful ancient families, in Oakland city.

They were much more powerful than the Prince Gang in South Hampton.

It could be said that the most powerful youngsters of Oakland City were all listed on the Heir Leaderboard.

The five of them wanted to destroy the engagement contract as soon as possible so that Tiffany could marry Martin.

Levi Garrison: The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 1079

Soon, Leia and the rest arrived at the Morris Group office building.

Gazing up at the building, Carl scoffed, "To be honest, even the Mullins family can completely destroy the Morris Group."

"Yeah! Ruining the Morris Group is simply a piece of cake for us."

"Yet, they still want to challenge the Garrison clan. Isn't that completely absurd?"

"How can such an insolent and arrogant madman be worthy of Tiffany?"

Everyone mocked coldly.

After witnessing Morris Group's scale of operations, they were even more certain that Levi's challenge to the Garrison clan was nothing more than a joke.

Someone like he would never achieve much.

Levi was wondering what he should cook for Zoey tonight when Seth suddenly called him, saying that he had some guests.

Confused, Levi went to the waiting area in the lobby.

He did not recognize the five youngsters at all.

However, judging from their arrogant demeanor, it was obvious that they came from exceptional backgrounds.

“So, you are Levi Garrison?” asked Carl disdainfully.

“That’s me. Who are you?” asked Levi, feeling puzzled.

“We come from Oakland City. We’re here on someone’s behalf to call off your arranged engagement.”

Taylor cut straight to the point.

“An arranged engagement? What’s it got to do with me?”

Levi was completely befuddled by her words.

My child is about to be born, yet someone is telling me that I have an arranged engagement?

Isn’t this absurd?

“That’s right, your arranged engagement! Your biological parents settled an arranged engagement for you before you were even born. Your fiancée is Tiffany Meyers, the most beautiful woman of Oakland City!” explained Leia with a cold smirk.

They thought that Levi was putting on an act.

Emma must have told him already.

Yet, he’s pretending to be ignorant?

How annoying!

“Huh? An arranged engagement? Wait a moment.”

Levi quickly contacted his mother and told her to come over.

Soon, Emma arrived.

“Mom, have you ever arranged an engagement for me?” asked Levi.

Emma was shocked momentarily before nodding. "Yeah, that's right. Back then, Tyrone formed an engagement between you and a girl from the Meyers family in Oakland City. Her name is Tiffany Meyers! I've already forgotten about this. What's wrong?"

Levi glanced at the five people and said, "They're here to call off the engagement on behalf of the Meyers."

Emma slapped her forehead in realization. "Oh my, I've completely forgotten about this. Regardless of what happened, this engagement is still in effect. Aren't we holding Tiffany back? As she's bound by the engagement, she probably can't even marry yet. I'm sorry, everyone. This is my fault!"

However, Leia and the rest scoffed at Emma's apology. "You've finally realized that it's your fault? Do you have any idea how many years Tiffany has wasted because of you? Till now, she doesn't even dare to marry or even date someone!"

"You ruined half of her life! Someone like you will certainly face karma. You deserve a horrendous death!"

"Yeah, you sabotaged her. If it weren't for you, there wouldn't have been this engagement. You probably don't want to call it off, right? Do you still want him to marry Tiffany? We know your objectives. You still want to be part of the Garrison clan, right?"

The five of them started to hurl accusations at Emma, which infuriated Levi.

"Damn it! Tyrone's the one responsible for the engagement. Why didn't you look for him instead?"

Levi's words rendered everyone speechless.

Naturally, no one would dare to look for Tyrone.

"What's it got to do with Mr. Garrison? It's all your Mom's fault! Call off the engagement immediately and tear up the engagement contract in front of us."

Levi Garrison: The Return of the God of War [The Protector] Chapter 1080

Even though everyone was well aware that Tyrone agreed to establish this arranged marriage, and that Emma had nothing to do with it, they all pushed the blame on her.

Intimidated by power, none of them dared to drag Tyrone into this.

Everything was Emma's fault.

As she spoke, Leia passed the engagement contract to Levi and ordered him to tear it apart.

The rest whipped out their phones to film it.

Sighing, Emma said, "Levi, just tear it. We are indebted to Tiffany, so we should give her back her freedom."

"Yeah, this is the proper attitude of repentance! We won't blame you for wasting so much of Tiffany's time. Rip the contract now and don't pester Tiffany anymore," instructed Taylor arrogantly.

"Tear it up! Why aren't you moving? Tear it now! We still have to return," urged the rest when they saw Levi standing there motionlessly.

To their surprise, Levi crumpled the contract into a ball and shoved it into his pocket.

Everyone was stunned.

What is he planning to do?

"Levi, what are you doing?" yelled Leia angrily.

Even Emma was confused.

"Listen up! I'll safeguard the engagement contract for now. I'm fine with calling off the engagement and tearing the contract up. However, you should tell Tiffany to come personally. Who are all of you? How dare you criticize my Mom like that? Rather, you should directly find Tyrone and call off the engagement!" said Levi sternly as he glared at the rest.

If they spoke in a more courteous manner, he would just tear the contract up.

Yet, since they dared to scold his Mom, he would not agree to their request.

It was not so simple to make him tear the contract!

"You..."

Everyone glared at Levi Garrison resentfully.

"How dare you?" yelled Taylor.

"Get lost! If you want me to tear up the contract, tell Tiffany to come personally. Anyone else will not count," ordered Levi furiously.

"You... You just don't want to call off the engagement, right? That's why you deliberately snatched the contract away. You want Tiffany to marry you, right?"

"You shameless bastard! You aren't worthy enough for Tiffany. She's the most beautiful woman of Oakland City and the heiress of the imperial Meyers family. What right do you have to do this?"

"Yeah, you even have a pregnant wife! Even Martin, who has a crush on Tiffany, can kill you so easily."

Everyone bellowed in fury.

"Haha! The more you act like this, the more reluctant I will be to destroy the contract. The only condition is that Tiffany comes personally. Seth, send the guests away!" instructed Levi.

Seth instantly chased the five people out of the Morris Group.

Although they were furious, they were well aware they no longer had any authority outside their turf.

"I'm sure that Levi is trying to use Tiffany. Even if he doesn't want to marry her, he will use the engagement to extort money from the Meyers!" analyzed Leia.

"What should we do now?" asked the others.

"Should we quickly inform Tiffany and the Meyers family? Let them decide!" suggested Taylor.

At that moment, Eden's phone rang.

"It's a call from Martin! He's been paying attention to our progress in calling off the engagement."

Eden picked up the call.

"Martin, something bad happened. Levi doesn't want to call off the engagement and he even snatched the contract away. He demands Tiffany to personally come and call it off."

Eden relayed everything to Martin, who instantly became mad with fury.

"This is outrageous! You guys, continue staying at North Hampton for the time being. Tiffany and I will personally come to settle this issue!" ordered Martin coldly.

Everyone was overjoyed to hear that.