training. I will continue to learn how to fight with Nat using my senses, I will learn how to handle weapons with Clint, I will learn how to control my strength and speed with Steve, I will create my suit with Tony, I will see first aid with Bruce and I will learn how to fight stronger than me with Thor. Sometimes some will pair up to train me. For example, Steve and Thor will both fight me, forcing me to use my strength to the max.

These training sessions are really exhausting. But you can see how much I've improved since I've been here. I can beat them all in 1vs1. I wonder if I could even beat the Hulk. Of course, sometimes my power

These training sessions are really exhausting. But you can see how much I've improved since I've been here. I can beat them all in 1vs1. I wonder if I could even beat the Hulk. Of course, sometimes my power took over and my eyes changed color and I was out of control. I was going even faster than ever and using even more strength than I should. So they decided that I should now learn to control this power, to use it when I want to and not let it possess me.

That's what's happening right now, I'm with Thor, Clint, Steve and Nat (yes so many, it takes a lot to stop me if I lose control).

"No problem."

"We're not going to go easy, I want to make that clear." he says,

At first nothing happens, we all wait for Steve's signal. I close my eyes and try to relax and use my hearing to apprehend their movements. I crazy speed. I turn around, catch the object just before it reaches my head. Then I open my eyes, shi the arrow I just caught and look at Clint. I raise my eyebrows playfully and smile at him. Then without moving my head I look to the right, sensing Nat coming. I turn around, spinning the arrow in my hand and throw it towards Steve then find myself fighting with Nat. I know that Steve has protected himself from the arrow with his shield.

The fight with Nat is easier than the first one we had. We throw punches at each other, but we block or dodge every time. The boys look for gaps where they can get in without hurting the redhead.

Then I manage to give her a kick in the stomach that makes her move back quite far. Steve takes the opportunity to charge at me with his shield. I dodge and turn around just as Thor's hammer comes flying in my direction. I dodge at the last moment and find myself fighting against Steve and Nat at the same time. They are really a good duo.

I dodge less and less, and find myself mostly parrying their attacks as I can. But Steve puts all his strength in it. Then suddenly, Steve grabs

Nat, Clint shoots an arrow straight, not trying to reach me, a wire is attached to this arrow, and is therefore above our heads. An object slides along this wire and Steve hangs on it, taking Nat with him.

Confused, I do not move then I feel myself thrown violently backwards. I get up with di iculty and see Thor with his hammer against the ground, a few meters from where I was just before he hit the ground.

Damn they are really well coordinated. I then get up, dodge an arrow from Clint and it goes into the wall behind me. Unfortunately it was an exploding arrow, so it exploded right next to me, sending me flying for several feet before landing hard on the ground.

"Arrgh!"

It hurts, my senses are all giddy, my ears are ringing and there are stars in my field of vision. I slowly stand up holding my head. I feel dizzy. My vision is blurry. Once my vision is restored, I see them in A er a while Steve sends his shield with all his strength in my direction, I catch him and use it to fight the other two agents. Then they move aside and Thor jumps up and hits the shield with his hammer. I felt the vibrations in my whole body and the shock made me move back a little.

I pushed him back and threw the shield at Clint before kicking Thor. Clint sent the shield to Steve and they both came back at me. I'm really starting to get exhausted. Fighting 4 on 1, 4 avengers is really too hard. They're also getting a little exhausted. Then Steve managed to give me a shield hit that surprised me a little bit and then just as I was about to get back into the fight, Thor's hammer hit me full force

The four Avengers looked at Y/n who was still on the floor.

"Didn't we come on a little strong here?" asked Clint.

But right a er he said that, Y/n slowly got up. And stood up to face them. She's in a terrible state. That hit really knocked her out and yet she's getting up. But everyone knows what is happening. It's not Y/n anymore.

They all broke out in a cold sweat when they saw Y/n's icy, silver eyes. In a flash Y/n was behind Thor and hit him so hard that he was thrown into the wall. Steve and Nat started to fight against her. But it's even

A er a while, seeing that nothing was working, they all decided to stop the fight. Thor raised his hammer in the air. The room became dark and lightning flashed across it. Thor loaded his hammer and when he thought it was enough he aimed it at Y/n who was hit by a bolt of lightning. This discharge sent her into the wall and knocked her out.

Seeing that the fight was finally over and that it was a failure, they all collapsed to the ground to catch their breath. Then they all went to

Then I opened my eyes and saw how bad some of them were, which made me lose my smile. Tony was on my right, Steve on my le, Thor and Clint in front of the bed and Nat was in the background.

No one answered and some looked down which gave me my answer.

I felt Tony put his hand on my shoulder and Steve put it on my arm.

"Don't worry about it, kid. You'll get through this." reassured Tony Clint facepalm himself. Steve looked at him with panic. Nat rolled her eyes. I smiled with embarrassment.

Thor looked confused at the others.

"What?" he asked.

"Nothing don't worry Thor, I appreciate your support." I replied,

"Honestly? Sore." I answered, looking into her eyes. Then I sighed and lowered my eyes then my head and turned it to face the end of the bed.

"Hey..." said Nat so ly as she put her hand on my cheek to force me to face her. "Don't be so hard on yourself Y/n. It's not your fault."

I then got lost in her emerald gaze once again. She realized this and smiled. My gaze then dropped to her lips. She moistened her lips and I looked back into her eyes. What I saw surprised me and gave me

My heart was pounding and I could feel my face getting very hot.

Nat passed her hand on my cheek again to force me to look at her and I saw frustration in her eyes and I realized that she is in the same state as I am now.

"I'm sorry." she said with a smile. She then approached my face, I closed my eyes and felt her place a kiss on the corner of my lips. She stayed a moment, letting us savor this moment. Then she moved

Nat's POV

Oh my god I'm frustrated, we almost kissed but this idiot ruined it.

I'm going to kill him. Ah well speaking of the wolf, there he is.

I hope there will be others anyway.

"Y/n huh?" teased Clint.

"No, the moment was over."

"Oh... I'm sorry." he said sincerely.

"You know I'm going to kill you for this?"

"No, since you showed up right on time!"

"Rooh come on, talk to me! Did you guys kiss??"

"But then I le, you could have picked up again."

"Don't worry, there will be others." then I reassure him.

Guys I'm really sorry, I haven't posted new chapters in way too long!

Sorry! Sorry! Sorry!

I hope you can forgive me!

Take care!

Love you!
