

The Vengeful Son-in-law Chapter 19

Everyone at the scene was shocked by Zack's violent action.

Especially the other three young men, who had met Zack and knew that he was Finn's brother-in-law and was very nice to Finn.

Why did he suddenly hit Finn?

Finn cried out in grievance. "Zack, you're crazy! Why did you hit me?!"

Zack just wanted to kill Finn. After Samuel and his men left, all of them panicked and understood that the situation was serious.

Once it was not handled well and the Howard Family got angry, the Scott Family would be destroyed immediately!

They couldn't care less about how Ryan got involved with the Howard Family. The biggest priority was to find Ryan in the shortest time and ask Ryan to call Samuel to explain that this was a misunderstanding. Otherwise, with the anger of Samuel and his men when they finally left, the Scott Family would really be truly screwed.

It was not easy for Zack to find Ryan, but when Zack saw Ryan being bullied by his brainless brother-in-law and was scolded with so many unpleasant words, Zack couldn't help but feel angry when he saw Ryan's gloomy expression.

"Why did I hit you? I even want to kill you!" Zack did not work off his anger. He kicked Finn a few more times before Finn realized that his brother-in-law was really angry. Finn did not dare to retort and was hit with his head in his arms by Zack.

After Zack vented at Finn, Zack hurriedly walked up to Ryan and said politely, "Ryan, what happened just now is a misunderstanding. Don't let it bother you so much. Actually, I always think very highly of you."

Ryan immediately understood why Zack did this. It was only that after he left, Samuel and his men went over so that the Scott Family realized that they were in trouble and tried to make up for it.

Ryan was staring at Zack without saying a word. Zack looked at Ryan and felt great pressure. Zack kept sweating on his forehead and felt extremely aggrieved. In the past, he had always been superior to Ryan. When had he ever been so humble? He really didn't know why Ryan was so lucky to have the chance to know a big shot like Samuel.

Ryan sneered, "I'm a useless son-in-law. I am not allowed to accept your apology." After that, he helped the old man and the two were about to leave.

Zack didn't want him to leave. He trotted over, stopped him, and apologized in a low voice. "Ryan, I know we were wrong just now. We shouldn't have done this to you. Please go back, right? It was our fault, really. We will definitely have the ultimate respect of you in the future."

When Ryan saw Zack's humble look, Ryan felt unprecedented satisfaction. For the past four years, he had always been insulted by Zack.

"It seems that you have offended the Howard Family a lot. Let me guess. Did you tell Samuel how you kicked me out of the Scott Family and took this as a tool to show off?" Ryan said with a fake smile.

Zack's heart skipped a beat and cursed. When did Ryan, a loser, become so smart?

"These are all misunderstandings. You are Phoebe's husband and our son-in-law in the Scott Family. How can we really kick you out? Ryan, you are so righteous and generous that you won't be mean to us, right?" Zack bent down and said at Zack's feet.

"Misunderstandings? I don't think they are misunderstandings. You call me "trash" all the time. Who has ever treated me as one of your own families?" When Ryan said this, he couldn't help but get excited. "How much anger and humiliation have I suffered after I joined you Scott Family? Especially you, Zack! Have you done insulting me? Did you try to get Brian to propose to Phoebe and tried to humiliate me so much? Haha, you don't expect me to know Samuel, right? You don't understand why I could invite Samuel to celebrate Richard's birthday!"

"Now you've offended the Howard Family so much that you recollected me. You want me to call Samuel to explain it as a misunderstanding? I tell you, no way!"

Ryan almost gritted his teeth and said this all. In the end, his eyes were red and bloodshot.

Zack panicked even more. He pleaded, "Ryan, these are all misunderstandings, misunderstandings!"

Ryan ignored him and turned to leave again.

How dare Zack let him go? Zack caught up with Ryan and Zack was sweating and was about to cry.

"Get out of here. If you stop me again, I'll call Samuel right now and destroy you Scott Family!" Ryan said coldly.

Zack was really about to cry. He could only watch Ryan leave.

However, when Ryan walked out of the crowd, he saw a beautiful woman standing in front of him and she was staring at him.

She was none other than Phoebe.

When Ryan saw her, his body trembled, his nose was sore, and the pain in his heart surged up at the same time. He lowered his head to avoid her eyes and left in another direction.

"Ryan!"

Phoebe called out his name.

He paused for a moment and left quickly without stopping.

Phoebe saw him leave and chased after him.

When Ryan heard her footsteps, he quickened his pace and then even began to run.

Phoebe also ran along, but she was wearing high heels and was a little woman. How could she catch up with Ryan? She accidentally sprained her foot and fell to the ground and let out a terrible scream.

Ryan reflexively looked back and saw Phoebe fall to the ground with tears on her face. His heart, which had finally hardened, suddenly softened to her.

Phoebe sat on the ground and looked at him wrongly. He sighed in his heart and scalded himself for being useless. He walked back and helped her to sit on the bench beside him. Without saying anything, he silently massaged Phoebe's injured ankle.

"Ryan, I'm sorry..." Phoebe said guiltily.

Ryan didn't respond. He massaged Phoebe and got up to leave. From the beginning to the end, he didn't look at Phoebe.

When she saw that he was about to leave, Phoebe grabbed his clothes and pleaded, "Don't go..."

"Aren't you going to marry Brian? Why do you come to me?" Ryan tried to make his tone normal, but he could not help but tremble slightly.

Four years of marriage, how could it break up in a few words? Phoebe said with red eyes, "It was my fault. Forgive me this time, okay?" When he heard this, especially Phoebe's crying, Ryan's heart immediately softened.

Ryan was not really a heartless person. When he saw Phoebe begging him like this, he really knew that he was wrong. His anger dissipated, he nodded and said, "Yes."

Phoebe immediately smiled.

Back at the Scott Family, Richard and the others were waiting anxiously. When they saw Ryan coming back, they immediately rushed up to him and apologized to Ryan. They explained that what happened just now was a misunderstanding and that they would never drive him out again.

Ryan saw that they were quite sincere, and his anger dissipated, so he said that he had forgiven them.

Richard and the others got Ryan's forgiveness and couldn't wait to say, "Then you should quickly call the Patriarch of the Howard Family and tell him that this is a misunderstanding!"

Ryan nodded and called Dylan. In a few words, he explained the misunderstanding without revealing his identity.

After he hung up the phone, all the Scotts breathed a sigh of relief. Richard asked carefully, "Ryan, how are you related with the Howard Family? Why didn't you tell us before?"

Everyone held their breath and looked at Ryan nervously and expectantly.
