There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 211 There Was a Solution

Emelia trembled with anger because of this news. The relationship between her and Vincent was no tabloid material.

On the photos, she did not do anything intimate with Vincent.

There was a photo when Vincent got out of the car, she helped him because Vincent's legs were not good.

The person who released the news obviously rumored the improper relationship between her and Vincent.

Vincent, who was sitting next to her, sensed her displeasure and asked with concern, 'What's wrong?'

Emelia handed the phone to Vincent and said, 'Look at the news. They've gone too far.'

Emelia was speaking in a slightly choked voice. She was so enraged that she almost cried.

These people not only scolded her, but also slandered Vincent, which made her very guilty.

She was just a screenwriter, but Vincent valued his reputation very much.

Vincent took her phone. After reading the news, he was not angry at all. Instead, he sneered, 'They actually did it.'

Emelia was puzzled, 'What do you mean? Who did this?'

She suddenly realized something and said, 'Could it be Yvonne?'

Vincent nodded, 'Yes.'

'Randolph compromised and asked her daughter to apologize to you. But they definitely can't let this go. I've expected that they would get back at us.'

After saying that, Vincent comforted Emelia, 'Don't worry. I've arranged everything.'

Emelia was still confused. Vincent looked at her seriously and said, 'It's not convenient to talk now. I'll tell you when we go back to the hotel.'

Chapter 212 Crying with Joy

They returned to Vincent's room. Julian and Emelia sat down on the sofa, while Vincent took out a file bag from the safe.

Before handing the file bag to Emelia, Vincent solemnly said to Emelia, 'It may be unexpected for you. You should be mentally prepared first.'

Emelia nodded, and then Vincent handed the file bag to her.

Julian raised his hand and stopped them. He narrowed his eyes and asked Vincent warily, 'Are you sure that the thing inside won't hurt her?'

Vincent wore an elegant smile, but his words were not good at all, 'Don't worry. It can't be compared with the divorce papers you gave her.'

Julian wanted to punch him so much.

What was wrong with Vincent? Why did he mention the divorce between him and Emelia at this time?

Julian gritted his teeth and protested discontentedly, 'What do you mean? It's she who wanted to divorce me! It's she who gave me the divorce papers!'

Vincent sneered. If he didn't hurt Emelia too badly, Emelia wouldn't have insisted on divorce.

But Vincent didn't say anything else. Now was not the time to argue with Julian.

Emelia took the folder, and opened it. Julian sat next to her and wanted to read it. He was very nervous, and felt that his heart was about to jump out of his throat.

As an outsider, he seemed to be even more nervous than Emelia.

He didn't know what was in the file bag.

The first thing that Emelia took out from the file bag was a parent-child identification certificate.

When Emelia saw it, her eyes widened in surprise.

A parent-child identification certificate?

Chapter 213 God's Best Arrangement

Emelia and Vincent hugged each other and cried for a long time until Emelia's mood gradually calmed down.

Julian took the initiative to get up and give up the seat next to Emelia. He raised his hand and helped Vincent, who had been squatting on the ground for a long time, to the sofa. He said, 'Sit here and talk freely.'

Vincent glanced at him and sat down next to Emelia.

He knew how to behave, because he couldn't offend her biological father now. He had to try his best to please him.

Julian took out a few more tissues and handed them to Emelia, indicating for her to wipe her tears.

Then he silently sat down on the sofa next to her. Although he really wanted to sit next to Emelia and be the one who held her in his arms and let her cry, it was obvious that he had no chance now.

Emelia tried her best to calm down, but the tears that she had finally stopped fell uncontrollably again.

She was very embarrassed, so she wiped her tears and said, ‘I’m sorry, I’m so happy. I didn’t expect that the fatherly love I have been longing for since I was a child would be given to me today...’

After saying that, Emelia began to cry again.

Ever since she was a child, she had never felt the slightest bit of fatherly love. No one knew how much she wanted from the bottom of her heart.

She had also studied hard, worked hard, and tried to be excellent, hoping to get a little care and love from Oliver. Later, she slowly realized that no matter how hard she tried, Oliver would not like her.

Her desire for fatherly love was deeply hidden in her heart.

However, she did not expect that she would find her biological father after many years, and this biological father was so kind to her. She was so excited and happy that she kept crying.

Chapter 214 Slapped in The Face

Emelia and Vincent recognized each other as father and daughter in the hotel. Those who were waiting to have a good laugh at them were also experiencing ups and downs.

In the afternoon, after the scandal between Emelia and Vincent was exposed, Vincent and Emelia were scolded on the Internet.

Many people even launched campaigns to boycott 'Princess Leilania' and Vincent's new drama.

It could be said that last night, 'Princess Leilania' and Vincent's drama had been expected by many people, but now, they were boycotted. Even some people who once didn't care had joined the team of anti-Vincent and Emelia.

Seeing the remarks on the Internet, Yvonne was so proud that she even forgot the embarrassment at the banquet the night before yesterday. She held her mobile phone all afternoon to see how those people scolded Emelia on the Internet.

The more those people scolded Emelia, the more excited she became.

After waiting for so long, she finally waited for the moment to have a good laugh at Emelia. With such a scandal, Emelia would never be able to stay in the screenwriter circle, let alone stay in Riverside City.

She was sure that at that time, she would launch all her forces to dig Emelia up online. Let everyone go to Emelia's residence to scold her and expose her, making her completely disappear from Riverside City.

Even Randolph Sullivan, who had always been very calm, couldn't help humming a tune. He took a pot of hot tea and enjoyed it comfortably in his living room, wearing a pair of glasses and browsing the comments online.

Randolph had always been arrogant. Over the years, he had power and influence in Riverside City, and no one had ever dared to block his way.

This time, because of Emelia, he was overpowered by Vincent. He would grit his teeth in anger whenever he thought of it.

It was just a grudge between Yvonne and Emelia before, but now it had turned into a contest between him and Vincent. He even spent a lot of money to find connections in the Capital to overpower Vincent.

Unfortunately, the Longerich family had been in the Capital for decades. The descendants of the Longerich family were all over the industry, and almost all of them were elites. It was impossible for him to overpower Vincent.

Chapter 215 A Crushing Defeat

However, none of them had expected such a plot twist.

Polaris was also stunned for a long time after knowing that Vincent and Emelia were biological father and daughter. Those workshops were also stunned. They kept calling her and asking her what to do next.

She had no choice but to quickly tell them to suspect that the paternity test was fake. As a result, she was soon slapped in the face by Vincent's studio. And those accounts had received a lawyer's letter, those people in charge were so scared that they didn't dare to say anything again.

It was not easy for them to run an account with many fans. What if their account was suspended ?

Polaris had no choice but to tell them that Emelia had become the screenwriter of Vincent's new book by using their relationship. Unexpectedly, she was quickly slapped in the face by the studio. Polaris was completely out of tricks.

She threw the mobile phones that kept ringing aside, grabbing her hair and walking around in the living room.

How did this happen ?

How did this happen ?

Emelia was actually Vincent's biological daughter. Wouldn't that mean that Emelia was extremely noble ?

Everyone in the Capital knew about the Longerich family. It was a well-known family that everyone respected!

Polaris was going crazy.

She had always disliked Emelia. It was because Viggo liked Emelia. Besides, she felt that Emelia was just an ordinary girl. Other than being younger and prettier than her, there was nothing else. She had a complete family, but Emelia was adopted.

Therefore, how could someone like Emelia get so much favor, but she couldn't get anything ?

Chapter 216 How Regretful He Was

Seeing Heather's pale face, Caroline quickly came over and asked her, 'Mom, what's wrong with you?'

Heather grabbed Caroline's hand and said in a trembling voice, 'Caroline, Let's go and apologize to Emelia.'

Caroline seemed to have heard a ridiculous joke and said incredulously, 'Mom! What are you talking about? Why should we apologize to Emelia?'

Heather said in a panic, 'She is now Vincent's daughter. We treated her like that before. What should we do if she takes revenge later?'

'No!' Caroline screamed, 'I won't apologize to her forever!'

Caroline had been spoiled since she was a child. She didn't feel frightened at all. Even though she was about to fall into a dilemma, she still didn't want to repent.

She never cared about the consequences, as long as she could get what she wanted.

Last time, she didn't make things difficult for Emelia and still couldn't bear it. If she hadn't been locked up at home all this time, she would have continued to make trouble for Emelia.

She didn't repent at all. She didn't listen to any admonitory words at all.

'Caroline!' Heather shook Caroline's hand hard. 'What's wrong with you? Open your eyes! Emelia is Vincent Longerich's daughter, the biological daughter!' After all, in such her age,

Heather had been immersed in the rich environment for many years. She was very clear about the power behind these families.

They can't afford to offend the Longerich Family!

Even if Julian was now rich and powerful, he did not dare to confront them rashly, not to mention that he would not stand on their side at all.

Heather could be considered to be able to handle the situation clearly, but Caroline was not.

Caroline shook off Heather's hand forcefully and said with a look of disgust, 'Mom, what's wrong with you? Why are you so cowardly? It's just Emelia and the Longerich family.'

Chapter 217 Love at First Sight?

Since he was ready to go downstairs, Vincent got up and went to the bedroom to change clothes.

Emelia also went to the bathroom to wash her face and check her look. She was only accompanying Vincent to mourn her mother today, so she didn't put on any makeup.

Fortunately, she carried a few simple things with her in her bag, such as lipstick, foundation and eyebrow pencil. Just as Emelia was about to simply makeup in front of the mirror, Julian suddenly pushed open the bathroom door and walked in, which startled Emelia.

He was too rude to knock on the door.

Fortunately, she was just putting on makeup, or she would be awkward.

Emelia stopped her hand from applying lipstick and turned to ask him, 'What's the matter?'

Julian lowered his eyes and stared at Emelia's porcelain-like face. He felt as if it was so far.

Emelia used to be shy and panic-stricken in front of him, and she didn't dare to look at him. Now, she became an elegant and beautiful woman. He wanted to be with her again. But seemingly it was not easy, which made him unhappy.

Julian pursed his lips and didn't say anything. After a while, he suddenly took a step forward, raised his hands, and held Emelia tightly in his arms. Emelia felt that her waist was too painful.

Emelia struggled. 'What are you doing?'

Julian hugged her tightly, not letting her go. He buried himself in her neck and said seriously in her ear, 'Emelia, I'll always stand behind you, protect you and support you forever.'

Julian had always thought that he was the strongest backer around Emelia. But now, Vincent came out of nowhere, and he was her biological father. Julian felt a strong sense of crisis.

He was afraid that Emelia would never need him again.

Emelia felt that these words were quite baffling. It seemed as though she didn't need his so-called protection and support.

Julian really held her too tightly, and Emelia was worried that Vincent could change his clothes and go out at any time. When he saw them hugging each other here, what would he say?

Chapter 218 You Must Protect Me in the Future

However, the reporters didn't expect that the person who came out with Vincent and Emelia was Julian, the new businessman in Riverside City.

A reporter asked in surprise, 'Mr. Hughes, you?'

'Mr. Longerich is my most important partner. Shouldn't I be here after such a big thing happened to him?' Julian's cold words stopped the reporters from suspecting him.

Vincent raised his hand to signal the reporters to be quiet, and then took the initiative to say, 'Thank you for your concern and support. In a while, our Longerich Family will hold a grand banquet and officially introduce my precious daughter to the public.'

'From now on, you can ask me if you have any questions.'

Vincent smiled gently and kindly at the cameras of the reporters. He did not look like the ruthless man who could send Oliver and his son into prison at all, nor did he look like the person who punished Randolph.

Vincent stood in front of the camera, while Emelia held his arm and stood side by side with him. Julian stood behind them with a cold expression, and his eyes fell on Emelia quietly.

The reporters asked Vincent, ‘Mr. Longerich, how do you know Miss Jones’s mother?’

Vincent told the truth. ‘I studied in Riverside City when I was young, so I knew her mother. At that time, we were in love. But later, something happened to my family, and I was summoned back in a hurry.’

‘The accident in our family made a big fuss at that time. I couldn’t even protect myself, so I didn’t dare to come back to find Emelia’s mother. Just like that, after a few years, when everything was done, I couldn’t find her when I came back. We completely lost contact.’

‘I only found out recently that she passed away not long after giving birth.’ Vincent’s tone was very sad.

The story sounded really sad, so did the reporters.

A reporter asked Emelia, ‘Miss Jones, may I ask if you will go to the Capital with Mr. Longerich in the future?’

Hearing that, Julian’s heart clenched, and he couldn’t help but stare at the side of Emelia’s face from behind.

If she had gone to the Capital, he would have probably moved the Hughes Group to the Capital.

Chapter 219 Break off the Relationship

Emelia was amused by Nina's words and let out a happy laugh. For the entire night, all sorts of emotions filled her heart and she would burst into tears from time to time. However, Nina's words were enough to make her laugh out loud.

Nina was truly a good laugh.

However, Julian didn't feel like this. He couldn't help but feel even more sour and depressed.

Nina could make her cry into a smile, but he didn't have that ability. He would only make her sad and angry.

In the future, with Vincent's protection, his existence seemed to be unimportant.

Emelia didn't notice Julian's emotions at all. She smiled and said to Nina, 'I will definitely protect you, but are you sure you need me?'

With Nina's personality, why would she need the one to protect her?

Nina used to be a head sister in senior high school, and now she judged the entertainment industry. From the time of her studies until now, Nina had been protecting her.

Nina giggled on the phone. 'Let's help each other.'

Nina asked again, 'By the way, where are you now?'

Emelia glanced out of the window and said her position, 'I should be back in ten minutes.'

At this time, Emelia had no choice but to thank Vincent for being so considerate. The house he gave her was in the same community as Nina's, which made it convenient for them to meet at any time.

When they were sad, they could meet, hug and comfort each other. They could drink and celebrate together when they were happy.

Nina happily said, 'That's great. The takeout I ordered will be here soon. I'll open a bottle of good wine to celebrate for you.'

Emelia was in a good mood, so she happily agreed. 'Okay.'

Nina added, 'By the way, Mr. Johansen is also here. He was worried about you after seeing the news, so he decided to come with me and wait for you here.'

Chapter 220 Have a Hug?

In fact, Viggo had wanted to say that for a long time.

Although he had used the excuse of letting his mother rest in peace to make Emelia his nominal girlfriend, he still had his own selfish motives.

He liked Emelia and really wanted to get her.

But he also deeply knew that Emelia didn't like him at all. After deceiving Emelia with such an excuse, he had always felt sorry for her.

Now with Vincent's support, Viggo felt that he should not tie her up anymore.

Emelia was a little worried. 'But what about Auntie?'

Viggo smiled and said, 'It's okay. As long as we don't tell her, she always thinks that we are together.'

Since Viggo had said so, Emelia could only nod in agreement.

For her, helping Viggo was just because of his kindness to her.

In the future, Viggo would continue to be a good boss and good friend in her heart.

Viggo said affectionately, 'Then... can we hug each other?'

Emelia nodded. She didn't think there was anything special about a hug.

In her opinion, this was also a farewell hug. It was good to restore the pure friendship between her and Viggo in this way.

Viggo opened his arms to her. Emelia walked over and they hugged each other gently.

Viggo hugged her and could not help saying, 'Emelia, if possible, I really want to hold you in my arms all the time.'
