

Read There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband Chapter 243

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 243 Entering the House

Who would've thought, however, that after giving him the answer, Julian would still stand in the rain without moving. Clearly, he wasn't satisfied with her answer.

Emelia roared loudly, 'Julian, are you out of your mind? Are you forcing me to say that I love you?'

Who would force people to say I loved you like this?

Also, she had told him many times about her love for him. At that time, he did not believe her. Not only did he not believe her, but he also ridiculed her from time to time, saying that she was hypocritical and greedy for wealth.

Now he was drenched in the rain and forcing her to say that. How could he bully her like this?

Thinking of this, Emelia's eyes turned red with grievance.

'If you like to get wet, then get wet!' After that, she opened the door and ran into the yard in a hurry. Tears also fell down.

At this time, Vincent came out with an umbrella. Emelia quickly wiped her face. Fortunately, she was also caught in the rain, so that Vincent would not see her cry.

Vincent had just received a call from Winston, saying that he had sent Emelia to the door of his house. However, Julian was waiting there. Vincent was afraid that Emelia would be bullied again by him. After waiting for a while, he did not see Emelia coming back and quickly found her.

After bringing Emelia home, Vincent asked, 'Is Julian still outside?'

Emelia nodded. 'Yes.'

Vincent was so annoyed that he asked, 'What's the use of this kind of painful virtue now?'

However, right now, he couldn't care about Julian. He hurriedly instructed Emelia, 'Go to take a hot bath and change your clothes. Don't catch a cold.'

Emelia agreed and returned to her room. As she stood under the warm shower, for some reason, she thought of Julian in the heavy rain outside, and suddenly felt a surge of irritation. She didn't know if he had left, but if he continued to be drenched, he was gonna get sick sooner or later.

Chapter 244 Never Had a Normal Relationship Before

Emelia didn't hear any response from Julian but only the sound of running water.

She had to call him. 'Julian?'

A thought came to her mind, 'Could it be that he passed out because staying too long in the rain?'

Then the situation would be awkward now. How could she save him if he fainted when taking a bath?

Thinking of this, Emelia could only knock on the door and shout, 'Julian, are you alright?'

The sound of water stopped, and the man's hoarse voice sounded again. 'I won't die.'

Emelia was furious by his words. Did he deliberately speak in such a gloomy tone to embarrass her?

Not wanting to talk to him anymore, Emelia turned around and walked out of the bathroom.

While sitting in the sofa and waiting for Julian, Emelia couldn't help but complain to Nina on WhatsApp about Julian's preposterous behavior tonight.

After hearing this, Nina responded her with some laughing emojis. Then, she said, 'The rain today is as heavy as that when Julian went to the Longerich family to look for Emelia.'

Emelia was a little speechless. She knew that meme. The rain today was as heavy as that when Andy Dufresne succeeded in escaping from the prison; or as heavy as that when Robert Kincaid separated Francesca Johnson.

But she never thought that Nina would use it to make fun of Julian. As soon as she thought of Julian's look of self-torment in the rain, she became furious. ‘What an annoying person he is! Childish!’

As soon as she finished complaining about Julian, Emelia heard the door open and saw Julian walked out, dressing neatly with blown dry hair.

At the first sight, Emelia slightly frowned because of the abnormally red face of Julian.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 245 No Way to Retreat

Seeing that Emelia didn’t speak for a long time, Nina comforted her in a light tone, ‘It doesn’t matter if you don’t want to have a relationship with him again. You don’t have to put too much pressure on yourself. Anyway, let him be. Let’s see what other tricks he can play.’

In Nina’s opinion, if Julian really wanted to chase Emelia again, he definitely wouldn’t give up so easily.

Nina continued, ‘Just take it as a test.’

Emelia said in a low voice, ‘In fact, I don’t want him to waste time on me. His grandfather’s health is not very good either, so that he must hope to see Julian have a perfect family as soon as possible.’

Emelia still remembered that Grandpa being hospitalized a few days ago. Although it was just a false alarm, Grandpa was in his good age.

Nina replied her with a sigh emoji on WhatsApp, not knowing what to say.

Being such a stubborn man, Julian couldn't be persuaded by others to let go of Emelia. Since that was the case, he would have no choice but to endure all sorts of hardships along the way.

After asking for water twice, Julian's fever slowly dropped.

Emelia fed him water one more time and prepared another cup for him on the bedside table. She was about to go back to her room to rest.

Unexpectedly, just as she was about to turn around, her hand was grabbed by Julian. Emelia struggled a few times but failed.

Seeing that he was still a patient with a fever, Emelia thought for a while and decided not to be angry with him anymore. She sat down on the chair beside the bed. Later, she was so sleepy that she fell asleep beside the bed.

When she fell asleep in a daze, Emelia thought, ' Anyway, I'm just lying beside the bed.'

She didn't expect that when she was woken up by the knock on the door next morning, she would find that she was hugging Julian. After she fell asleep last night, she had been carried to the bed!

Emelia suddenly sat up from the bed and glared angrily at the culprit on the bed.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 246 Because Of His Handsome face

‘Beside of my objection.’ Vincent looked at Julian and emphasized, ‘She doesn’t love you anymore. This is the most important thing.’

Julian looked into Vincent’s eyes and said word by word, ‘I don’t believe that she doesn’t love me anymore. She just didn’t dare to love me anymore because I hurt her too much before.’

‘She doesn’t treat love as a game, so she won’t take away all her love for me so soon.’

Vincent snorted and said, ‘Since you know she is serious, you should know that since she must be serious in making the decision of divorce.’

Julian followed Vincent and said firmly, ‘So I hope to get your help.’

Vincent thought he had heard it wrong and asked incredulously, ‘What did you say? You want me to help you?’

Julian nodded solemnly. ‘Yes.’

Vincent was so angry that he couldn't help shouting, 'Did the fever harm your brain? I want to break your legs. How dare you ask me to help you?'

This was the funniest joke Vincent had ever heard. Julian could definitely feel his dislike for him, and he even asked him for help. Wasn't he out of his mind?

Julian still looked calm. 'I admit that I didn't cherish her before. I was wrong, but those who did something wrong should have a chance to correct their mistake, right?'

'Since she can give Winston a chance, why can't she give me a chance?'

Vincent sneered and said, 'How can you compare with Winston Hopkins?'

Based on the fact that he had injured Emelia once, he was struck out already. How could he be so shameless to ask for a chance?

Thinking of this, Vincent said with anger, 'If you lost her once, you've lost her forever!'

Vincent only hated himself for not knowing Emelia earlier. Otherwise, how could he allow her to marry a man who didn't love her and didn't care about her?

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 247 Would You Cut it Out?

The car steadily drove into the airport parking lot. Winston stopped the car and turned to look at Emelia seriously and said, 'Don't doubt your own good. You have the charm to make people fall in love at first sight.'

On the night of the Longerich family's dinner party, she came out in a milky white dress, holding Vincent Longerich's arm. She was graceful, gentle, and beautiful. She not only attracted him, but also caught the attention of many young men in the Capital. That night, their hearts beat wildly for her.

She was different from many ladies in the upper circle, having that calmness, confidence and a laid-back attitude.

Emelia was a little embarrassed by Winston's words and quickly changed the topic. 'Alright. I'll go in by myself. Go back and do your work.'

'There's no hurry. Since I'm here, I'll go in with you.' Winston parked the car and got out of the car with Emelia. He even helped Emelia push the suitcase.

As they chatted, they entered the airport lobby. At a glance, they saw Julian, who was waiting there.

From this, one could imagine how pale Julian's face was when he saw Emelia and Winston walked in shoulder to shoulder.

Winston was really attentive. Emelia was about to return to Riverside City, and he still want to pursue her.

Winston pushed Emelia's suitcase and politely greeted Julian with a smile. 'Mr. Hughes, what a coincidence!'

Julian smiled faintly. 'What a coincidence. I spent an entire night in the Longerich family last night, and today, I came back with Emelia.'

Emelia stared awkwardly at him. She was shocked by these words.

He was so childish!

Also, what he said was so ambiguous. What would Winston think of Vincent and Naomi hearing his words?

Vincent introduced her to Winston and intended to match them together, but Julian's words sounded like Vincent had asked him to stay for the night, which would have made Vincent seem to be deceiving Winston.

Therefore, Emelia quickly explained what had happened last night to Winston. 'He had a high fever last night because of the rain. My parents called the family doctor for him.'

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 248 Pent-Up Desires

'What are you doing?' Emelia waved away Julian's phone, then sat up straight and asked him in an undertone.

Julian didn't hide his intention. He stared at her with his dark eyes and said, 'You looked very beautiful when you were asleep, so I took photos of you.'

What he said was true, but Emelia felt goosebumps all over her body.

She was really not used to Julian's sweet words.

In the past, in Emelia's heart, he had always been cold and not good at speaking. Not only was he not good at speaking, he didn't even know how to speak softly. It was even more impossible for him to speak sweet words.

She felt very uncomfortable and complained to him in a muffled voice, 'Delete it. You have violated the right of my image!'

At the thought of the picture of her sleeping being kept in his phone by Julian, Emelia felt bad. He really didn't have a quiet time.

In the face of her complaint, Julian just narrowed his deep eyes slightly and said lazily, 'If I remember correctly, you also posted a photo of me with my back towards you on Twitter, without my permission.'

Emelia was rendered speechless by him. She had not expected him to use that to block her.

Just when she didn't know what to say, he raised his eyebrows and complained discontentedly, 'I'm only keeping it myself for appreciation, but you've made the whole Internet appreciate my figure.'

Emelia was both awkward and passive. There was no one who could match up to him in a verbal battle.

She didn't have the confidence to ask him to delete the photo again, so she had to look away and complain to him in a low voice, 'Julian, why haven't I ever found out that you are so vengeful?'

This time, it was Julian's turn to be speechless. He didn't want to delete her photos, so he used what she had done to stop her. He didn't expect she would say that.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 249 Being Threatened

After arriving at the set, Viggo gathered a few main creators to the conference room for a meeting. One of the main actors, Nina, saw that Julian and Emelia had arrived together and rolled her eyes at him in disgust.

She took Emelia's arm and whispered, 'He follows you everywhere you go?'

When it came to this matter, Emelia had a headache. 'What do you think I should do?'

Emelia really was at a loss.

The place where she lived was next to Julian's. Now that he was still involved in her work, she could not hide from him no matter where she went.

She could change her residence, but she had signed the contract and couldn't change her job in a short time.

'Oh, what should I do? Let nature take its course.' Nina comforted her with a relaxed tone.

Emelia felt that this was the only thing she could do. Otherwise, what else could she do?

After solving the problem, Emelia left the set. Naturally, Julian left with her. His driver was waiting outside, so Emelia had no choice but to get into his car.

As soon as the two of them got into the car, Julian's cell phone rang, but he didn't pick it up immediately. He frowned slightly and stared at the phone with a trace of coldness in his eyes.

Emelia sensed the chill from his body and instinctively glanced at his phone: Randolph Sullivan.

Seeing this name, Emelia couldn't help but think of Yvonne. She silently looked away.

Emelia felt that sometimes, fate was also very playful.

In the past, Yvonne had trampled on her with her rich family background. Now that her situation was favorable, she forced Yvonne to apologize to her without any self-esteem because of the background of the Longerich family.

Chapter 250 He's Hurt Deeply

Julian disliked Randolph very much. His face darkened realizing that Randolph belittled his affections for Emelia.

For Julian, the most important thing at this time was to win back Emelia's love.

Anyone hindering this priority would be crushed by him at any time.

Randolph's belittling his affections for Emelia went beyond his bottom line. He was not afraid of falling out with Randolph. Otherwise, he would not have insisted on breaking off his engagement to Yvonne.

He had never understood his parents' good relationship with Randolph and his wife. If his father, Gerhard, had to rely on Randolph because he was incompetent, then when he was powerful enough to take charge of the Hughes Group over the years, his parents didn't have to be subservient to Randolph.

The truth was that Randolph had something on them.

Thinking of this, Julian looked up at Randolph.

He poured himself a glass of wine complacently and drank it elegantly. It seemed that he was confident of winning over Julian.

Julian sneered inward, and then said to Randolph calmly as if nothing had happened, 'I have a question.'

Randolph raised his eyebrows and asked, 'What is it?'

‘Did you manipulate Yvonne and I into being together?’ Julian had wanted to investigate this matter before. Since there was such an opportunity now, he might as well ask Randolph.

If Randolph couldn’t make it clear, he would send someone to investigate.

Randolph was surprised that Julian suddenly asked this question. However, since things had come to this point and he had taken out his trump card, there was nothing that he could not tell Julian.

Therefore, he nodded and said, ‘Of course, we arranged it. We also asked your parents for consent in advance.’

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 251 | Feel Terrible

Julian didn’t expect that one day, his parents, who he had been supporting dutifully, had plotted against him in secret.

When he thought of how Yvonne had deliberately sat beside him at the dinner party and how the shoulder straps of her dress had suddenly been broken, he felt that he was a complete fool.

Hearing Julian’s brief description, Ezra was also surprised. ‘I knew it was a little weird. | didn’t expect it to be arranged by them deliberately.’

Ezra had not known much about Yvonne and Heather before. It was what had happened recently that had him see through them. Out of the instinctive sensitivity of businessmen, Ezra reminded Julian to investigate. It turned out that he was right.

Seeing Julian's sadness, Ezra patted him on the shoulder to comfort him. 'Forget it. Don't be sad. In this world, there are parents who really love their children, and there are also parents who only care about themselves. You are not lucky enough to have such parents.'

'Join the club. My father is also a bastard.' There was no sadness in his tone except self-mockery.

He had long disregarded these so-called family ties, which were just a kind of backscratching veiled by consanguinity.

When the Cantillo family had exiled him and his mother abroad, no one had ever cared about them. Now that the current hostess of the Cantillo family could not have a son, she had to acknowledge him, who was an illegitimate child, as a member of the Cantillo family and rely on him to take over the family business.

He was nicely described by the Cantillo family as a lost son returning home, though in truth the family had no choice but to acknowledge him because they didn't want their family business to be taken over by outsiders.

Hearing Ezra's words, Julian sneered at himself. Then he drank up a glass of wine.

Yes, there were many kinds of people, but he was not lucky enough to have the parents who really loved the children.

If he had children in the future, he would never put them into such a painful and sad situation. He would definitely treat them as apples of his eye and give them the best things in the world, so that they could live in the happiest and most beautiful family.

At ten o'clock at night, after washing up, Emelia went to bed and got ready to sleep.

Her life had been tough these days, and she needed to have a good sleep and rest.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 252 Halt the Work and Take a Leave

Glancing at Julian's sad eyes, Emelia comforted him, 'It's all over, isn't it? The top priority now is to think about how to respond if Randolph discloses the matter.'

'Is it over?' Julian stared at her with bloodshot eyes and said, 'No, it's not.'

'Because of their selfishness, our marriage didn't last long.'

'If they hadn't insisted on getting me and Yvonne together, if they hadn't bullied you in order to drive you away, we wouldn't have ended up like this.'

Although marriage was between the couple, if there were reliable parents mediating in between, he might have changed his attitude towards Emelia earlier.

However, Gerhard was abroad all year round, and Heather, together with Caroline, was making trouble for Emelia all the time. And he increasingly disliked Emelia due to Heather's complaints.

Emelia lowered her eyes and said nothing.

She knew Heather and Caroline always complained to Julian about her.

At first, she tried to explain to Julian that she was not like what Heather and Caroline had said. Later, she was tired of explaining. However, it was all because of her. Randolph wanted to deal with her and Vincent, so she looked up again and said to Julian, 'Well, you'd better draw a clear line with me. We cancel all cooperation. It doesn't matter if they don't want me to stay in Riverside City. At worst, I can leave and move to the Capital.'

Emelia said these after careful consideration, so her expression and tone were very calm.

First of all, Gerhard and Heather had driven someone to death. Even after so many years, it was still regarded extremely vile. Once it was exposed, it would definitely affect the Hughes Group. It wasn't easy for Julian to have the Hughes Group develop to this stage. Perhaps others were all envious of him for his success and achievement, yet she had witnessed him working around the clock during her three-year marriage with him.

Secondly, she was working with Julian on two projects. The filming of 'Princess Leilania' had already begun, so Randolph probably could not force the crew to replace her script.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 253 All About Sex

Seeing that Emelia was so shocked that both her mouth and eyes were slightly opened, he couldn't help but chuckle.

If she wanted to make things difficult for him, he wouldn't make her feel at ease too.

The more she didn't want to see him, the more he wanted to show up in front of her.

When he refused to cooperate with Randolph, he had thought about it. He was sure that he would be attacked when this matter of his parents broke out. It was a good choice for him to temporarily keep silent and lie low in front of the public.

He would take the time to chase Emelia.

Emelia was a bit annoyed by the smile on Julian's face, but then she recalled how he had forcefully kissed her just now. She immediately pushed her away. ‘Do whatever you like. Hurry back to your own place.’”

Julian allowed her to push him a few times without moving, and then bent down to press her down and kiss her regardless of everything.

Once a kiss happened, there would be a second or third time. And when you kissed once, you would want more. This was what Julian was feeling now.

If he wanted more, he wanted a lot.

Emelia was fascinated by Julian’s kiss. She instinctively raised her hand and put it around his neck.

This action was equivalent to an indirect response to Julian, who held her tightly and kissed her even more passionately.

Emelia slowly closed her eyes. Reluctantly, she had to admitted that she didn’t mind having such intimate contact with him.

For amoment, a thought came to her mind. To be with such a man, maybe it was also a kind of enjoyment for her if they could just have a physical relationship.

Therefore, when Julian tried to go a step further, she held his hand and gasped, ‘Julian, let’s talk.’”

In fact, Julian didn’t want to talk too much. He just wanted to continue.

He realized that she was no longer as resistant to him as before. If he continued, he would get her tonight.

But in the end, he chose to respect her will. He slightly loosened his grip on her waist and asked her, ‘What do you want to talk about?’

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 254 I Love You

Emelia couldn't help but regret about her own proposal. It was possible that her heart would be hurt again if they have love involved in this, but a sex- only relationship would also hurt her body. Who would have thought that Julian would be so crazy? After letting go of her, Julian immediately saw through her regret. He stared at her and warned, 'Don't tell me that you regret it and want to cancel this proposal. | won't accept it.'

Emelia protested angrily, 'Then we should also draw up an agreement about when you should stop.'

She didn't want him to do it every night.

However, Julian refused decisively, 'No.'

After that, he smiled at her teasingly and said, 'You should just enjoy the fun when there's a chance.'

The implication was that he would enjoy it at any time.

Emelia gritted her teeth. 'Damn you!'

She pushed him. 'Can you get up please? I'm going to wash up.'

Julian put his arm around her waist and 'kindly' helped, 'Let me carry you to the bathroom.'

Emelia refused without any hesitation. 'No need. | can do it myself.'

Emelia couldn't accept that she had had sex with Julian, and now he had even said that he would carry her to the bathroom. It was too awkward.

Julian got up to make way for her and asked, 'Are you sure you don't need my help?'

'No need.' Emelia's reply was straightforward, but for some reason, she felt that there was connotation about what he said. Without much thought, she put on her pajamas and got out of bed. As soon as her feet touched the ground, she fell to the ground.

Emelia was speechless.

Julian stood there, teasing. Emelia was so embarrassed that she covered her face with hands and didn't want to get up again.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 255 Eat More to Get More Energy

Seeing that Julian was staring at her with narrowed eyes, Emelia was very afraid that he would do something to her again.

However, he did not do anything, but let out teasing words.

Julian clasped her waist and said, 'The physical relationship between men and women is not only limited to the bed, right?'

Emelia was a little confused. 'What do you mean?'

Julian leaned closer to her, and said affectionately. 'It can be in the kitchen, the bathroom, the living room, and the sofa. As long as we want, we can do it anywhere.'

Emelia blushed after hearing his words. Coupled the feeling of his breath, she felt sex desire.

How could she have thought that Julian would suddenly let out sexual words, and she was completely unable to refute him?

Made love at other place instead of bed? He just wanted to deny that they would only have physical relationship. Obviously, he just wanted to fall in love with her.

What a great rascal!

Emelia deeply felt that she had been tricked. She thought that her suggestion would hurt his male self-esteem and let him stay away from her. Unexpectedly, she shot herself in the foot.

Fortunately, the doorbell rang at the moment. It should be the food delivery staff.

Emelia pushed him away and said, “I’m going to open the door.’ She didn’t want anyone to see that Julian was in her house, wearing home clothes.

Julian naturally knew that he couldn’t push too hard on Emelia, so he stood up and made way for her.

Emelia came in with some food. WhatsApp on Julian’s phone kept beeping nonstop. Emelia glanced sideways at Julian and felt incomparably frustrated.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 256 Julian Wants to Learn Cooking

She had to admit that Nina was really a very good friend. Although she often looked playful and frisky, she cared about her than anyone else.

Nina knew very well that although Emelia had sex with Julian, it wasn’t her willing but mainly because of feeling helpless with what Julian did.

That was why Nina sincerely reminded Emelia. Once she had a child, Emelia and Julian would really be involved.

Emelia nodded heavily. ‘I went back to the pharmacy to buy medicine.’

If it wasn’t for Nina’s reminder, Emelia would have forgotten about contraceptive.

Last night, she had completely lost her ability to think because of Julian's strength. For a moment, she didn't think of this.

Emelia would never have imagined that in the past, she had been so eager to give birth to a child for Julian, but now, she was so afraid of this matter.

After Emelia left his home, Julian continued to sit in her living room for lunch, chatting with Ezra and the others.

After he said 'body and body are together', the three of them were in an uproar again.

Arthur was confused. 'What do you mean?'

Ezra teasingly said, 'He drank a lot of wine with me last night.'

Phil said, 'He drank wine, but Emelia didn't. How could she let him go crazy?'

Arthur said, 'So, what does this mean?'

Ezra said, 'Yes, he did. Why can't he sleep clearly?'

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 257 Provocation

The matter of Gerhard Hughes and Heather Duncan had blown up a huge fuss. On the Internet, people were scolding them, and all kinds of malicious words came out.

However, Gerhard didn't have much of an impact on him when he was abroad. On the other hand, Heather was so angry that she almost fainted again. Caroline couldn't bear it anymore and called Julian.

'Brother! It's all your fault for not helping mom and dad. Mom is so angry now. Come back and have a look!' Caroline shouted at Julian on the phone.

Julian's face darkened as he held his phone.

His sister really needed someone to teach her how to behave.

What did she mean by not helping his parents?

First of all, this matter could not be erased just because he had helped them this time. Since they had done it, then this fact would exist forever. They would always have the possibility of being blackmailed by Randolph.

Secondly, it was impossible for him to compromise with Randolph for this matter.

He loves Emelia not Yvonne Sullivan.

He was not that great. Gerhard and Heather were not worth losing their happiness for the rest of their lives in order to protect their parents' reputation.

After hanging up Caroline's call, Julian drove back.

Heather leaned against the bed with a haggard expression. Her eyes were red and swollen.

Caroline sat on the edge of the bed and complained to Heather, 'My brother is really crazy. For the sake of Emelia, he doesn't care about your relationship with my father.'

Hearing Caroline's words, Heather burst into tears again.

She really didn't expect that Randolph would threaten her son with such a thing, but he still insisted on standing with Emelia and Vincent Longerich. This was her biological child. How could Heather not be sad?

Chapter 258 Agreement

Heather shook her head. 'I won't leave. After I leave, no one will take care of her.'

'In that case, I respect your choice.' Julian didn't want to say anything more.

Since Heather chose not to leave, he wouldn't force her. Otherwise, if anything happened to Caroline under his nose, Heather would blame him for not taking good care of Caroline.

Julian instructed, 'Don't go out during this period of time. Call me if you need anything.'

'Since the matter has been exposed, let's face it calmly. You should also see Randolph's character clearly. It's best to draw a clear line with his family.' Julian emphasized, 'Especially, tell Caroline not to contact Yvonne again, so that she won't be used as a tool.'

‘Wasn’t Yvonne the one who incited her last time?’

‘Yeah.’ Heather had indeed seen through the matter of Randolph. Moreover, since the matter had been exposed, there was no need for her to please Randolph and Rosalind anymore.

After all these years of flattering others, she was tired.

However, after thinking for a while, she still said, ‘Caroline... I may not be able to persuade her.’

These days, Caroline stayed at home and kept in touch with Yvonne all day long. It could be seen that Yvonne didn’t want to talk to her at all. Heather had mentioned Caroline several times, but Caroline didn’t think that Yvonne deliberately ignored her. She only thought that Yvonne was too busy, so she didn’t have time to talk to her.

Julian was speechless about his brainless sister. Heather took the opportunity to say, ‘So, can you come back these days? Help me persuade Caroline and accompany us.’

Julian refused without thinking, ‘No.’

First of all, he rejected living with Heather and Caroline from the bottom of his heart. His character was completely inconsistent. In addition to being angry, he was angry, especially Caroline, who could probably make him angry.

Secondly, his relationship with Emelia had just improved. He couldn’t leave Emelia alone.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 259 Unnecessary and Childish

In the end, without even carefully reading the contents of what Emelia had written, Julian immediately replied, 'Except for the first rule I won't accept anything else.'

After sending the message, he added, 'Even if it is the first one, I can only promise to do my best, but this kind of thing is not 100%. In case of an accident, I will be responsible for you and the child.'

Emelia was about to die of anger after reading his reply.

She had listed so many of them, but he only said that he would try his best to make the first one? 'He also said that he would not accept other terms?'

What was his attitude?

Did he not understand what kind of situation he was in now? He was still being arrogant.

She replied without thinking, 'Then let's end the relationship.'

Everything would have a beginning and ending, but their relationship ended quickly. It was only one night.

Julian was absolutely furious. 'Emelia, aren't you supposed to admit everything that had happened to us?'

Emelia was speechless.

Why he asked her in such a rude manner? What did he mean that she was not responsible for her behavior? Wasn't it because he was too stubborn?

Immediately after, Julian called her. Emelia thought that he would scold her again after he picked up the phone, but his tone was very helpless, 'About the first rule, what else can I do? I can't get fixed before we have children. I can guarantee that you won't be pregnant, is that okay?'

Emelia calmly said, 'There is a good way to ensure that I won't be pregnant at all.'

Julian asked, 'What is that?'

Emelia threw him a few words, 'We don't have sex.'

Julian snorted, 'You proposed to only be each other's sex partner, but now you tell me that we shall do nothing?'

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 260 I Won't Let it Go Easily

Nina turned around and gave Emelia a look, indicating that she could rest assured. Then, she turned around and continued chatting with the two of them.

Emelia wasn't worried that Nina would say too much, because she knew that Nina definitely wouldn't harm her. She just didn't understand why Nina would suddenly tell them that Julian was chasing after his ex-wife.

‘Ex-wife?’ One actress was so shocked that she couldn’t close her mouth.

The other said, ‘Chase his ex-wife? That’s interesting!’

Nina said slowly, ‘I heard that he didn’t cherish his ex-wife at that time, but now he found out that she was so good. He insisted on following her and pestered her, taking actions to win her heart back.’

One of the actresses said, ‘I seem to remember what you said. I also participated in the Hughes Group’s anniversary celebration. That Mrs. Hughes, wearing a red dress, throwing the divorce agreement on Mr. Hughes’ face.’

After the actress finished speaking, she couldn’t help but sigh. ‘It’s a pity that my position was not high enough at that time. I didn’t see Mrs. Hughes’ real face clearly in the last row, but her features and temperament were still amazing from afar.’

Nina nodded her head forcefully. ‘I was right in front of them then. I could see clearly that Mrs. Hughes was truly stunning.’

In the face of Nina’s exaggerated praise, Emelia was so embarrassed that she almost bit her tongue while eating.

She should award Nina ‘The BFF Award’ later on, since she was so capable to describe her as the most charming beauty.

Without a doubt, both of the actresses believed Nina's words. They couldn't help clicking their tongues as they said, 'If what you said was true, then I would like to ask Mr. Hughes what he felt when he shamelessly chases after his ex-wife.'

After saying that, Nina and the two actresses couldn't help laughing out loud.

To the side, Emelia couldn't stand it any longer. She raised her hand and tugged at Nina's clothes. Nina turned around and whispered in her ear in a low voice. 'You and Julian are so close now. Perhaps you might be photographed and exposed one day. I'm trying to spread the news through their mouths first so that we can fight against the public in advance.'

'Thank you...' Emelia didn't expect Nina to be so prepared for this. For a moment, her eyes turned slightly red.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 261 Let's Change Seats

'Mr. Hughes.' In a business-like manner, Emelia smiled as she said hello to him, then she didn't say another word.

Julian looked at her cold expression, which she deliberately pretended not to know him, and thought of the scene of her hugging his waist when they were in the passionate moments last night. He raised his hand to unclasp a button on his collar and thought bitterly in his heart, when he goes back tonight, he was gonna make her cry and beg him.

Because Julian was the sponsor behind 'Princess Leilania', he said a few nice words like 'Wishing a success for the show' before sitting down, and then everyone started to eat.

However, as the big boss behind the scenes, Julian was not gonna enjoy quietness here.

The actors and crew members participating in the dinner came one by one to propose a toast to him, trying to attract Julian's attention.

What they didn't know was that Julian didn't want to talk to them at all. There was only one person in his eyes, but that person didn't even look at him and kept looking away to talk to Nina.

There were not only men but also women rushing to Julian's side, especially those female stars who were not very famous.

Emelia couldn't even tell the names of them, these female stars were all trying their best to squeeze their way over to Julian, showing their beautiful figure.

After Julian and Ezra sat down, several women said that they felt too hot. So they took off their jackets. Some were wearing knitted crop-tops, some were wearing loose off-shoulder sweaters, showing off their cleavages.

Emelia felt that although the room was rather warm, but it didn't feel so hot to this extent.

Emelia also knew their purposes. What they wanted to do was trying to get close to Julian or Ezra. It would be best if they could have rumors with some big men like them. It would be even better if they could marry into a wealthy family.

Emelia couldn't help but sigh in her heart. These female stars really were trying all kinds of methods.

Of course, for these women in the room, only a few had evil intentions to attract men with their beauty, most women were still serious.

For example, like Nina, Zella Sabir and herself.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 262 I'll Die in Your Hands

Julian's kisses had come so fiercely and so deeply that Emelia had been pressed down on her seat, unable to move at all. She could only passively accept his sudden madness.

After kissing for a while, he still didn't seem to be satiated, he simply picked up Emelia from her seat and pulled her to the driver's seat to continue their kissing.

The temperature in the car rapidly rose. Before Julian's movements became more and more reckless, Emelia hurriedly broke free. She glared angrily at him and asked, 'What the hell are you doing? We are in the car!'

As she spoke, Emelia raised her hand and pulled the clothes back onto her shoulder, covering her bare skin.

Julian's eyes darkened as he stared at her and shamelessly said, 'The location is not specified in the agreement.'

The implication was that if she hadn't stopped him, he would have done it in the car.

Emelia's face turned red, she was angry and embarrassed.

Regardless of her resistance, Julian grabbed her waist and pressed her into his arms again.

Just as Emelia didn't know what to do to stop him from acting so presumptuously, a warm current suddenly swept past her abdomen. Emelia was stunned for a moment, but then she awkwardly pushed Julian distant away.

Julian reluctantly let go of her lips and whispered into her ear, 'What's wrong?'

Julian had wanted to do this to her just now, and he didn't want to stop at all.

Emelia said awkwardly, 'I'm on my period...'

Julian's face froze, and then he around her waist and said, 'Emelia, you use such an excuse just to reject me?'

Julian only thought that she was lying. Otherwise, how could it be so coincidental? They had just had sex last night, and she was on her period today?

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 263 You' ll Be My Queen in the Future

Emelia and Vincent chatted for a long time on this video call. It was so long that Julian had even finished taking a shower in Emelia's house. He had also dealt with some documents sent by David and Maisie, but the father and daughter were still talking.

Julian was bored and walked to the door of Emelia's bedroom to eavesdrop on what she was talking about with Vincent.

However, as soon as his ear touched the door, he heard Emelia say in surprise, 'Winston is coming to Riverside City?'

After hearing this, Julian was in a bad mood. 'Winston is coming?'

He thought that once he returned to Riverside City, he would be at his home court. But Winston was gonna haunt him in his city!

He couldn't hold back his anger any longer. He raised his hand and knocked on Emelia's door. He deliberately used this kind of behavior to obstruct Emelia and expressed his strong dissatisfaction by the way. He hoped that Emelia would refuse to let Winston live for so many years.

Emelia was scared half to death by Julian's knocking on her bedroom door. She lived alone. In the middle of the night, there was a sound coming from her bedroom door. Vincent could not help suspecting that someone was at home.

Sure enough, Vincent frowned slightly and asked, 'What voice?'

'Maybe Fluffball is scratching the door and trying to come in.'

Emelia said.

Julian, who was outside, was speechless.

She could really talk nonsense. After all, a cat wouldn't knock on the door like that, right?

Vincent smiled and said in the video, 'Then let him in. I also like that kitten.'

Vincent knew that Emelia had a cat. Of course, he didn't know that the cat was given by Julian. If he knew, he wouldn't say anything about liking Fluffball.

Emelia was afraid that Vincent really wanted to see Fluffball. If so, Julian didn't know what would happen when she opened the door, so he quickly changed the topic. 'I'll treat Winston well in Riverside City. You don't have to worry.'

Julian, who was outside, was almost pissed off by her words. Not only did she not refuse Winston's coming, but also said she will treat him.

However, Emelia's bedroom door was tightly shut. If he couldn't enter, there was nothing he could do about it.

Chapter 264 You Don't Have to Do This

Emelia had rejected his suggestion, and Julian's eyes were filled with disappointment.

But the next second, he went on to say, 'When Winston leaves, you have to go out with me too.'

Speaking of which, he had never gone out on a trip with Emelia. He didn't even have a hot spring or a golf vacation, let alone a trip.

He often went on business trips all over the world. When they were still married and she was idle at home, he could've taken her on a business trip. Unfortunately, he did not like her at that time.

Thinking of this, Julian wished he could go back to the past and beat himself up.

Emelia felt that this suggestion was simply unreasonable. 'That's ridiculous. Why should I do that?'

Julian snorted and said, 'You have to be fair. Since you've been entertaining Winston to Riverside City, you have to accompany me on a trip.'

Emelia felt that his words seemed to be competing for favor, boring and childish.

She treated Winston as a form of courtesy. Was it necessary for him to learn like this?

However, she still raised her eyebrows and asked him, 'Are you sure you want to go out with me?'

Julian nodded without any hesitation, 'Yes.'

Emelia glanced at him and said, 'It's the best way to see if two people can match each other in a trip. After a month of traveling, the two sides haven't seen through each other and hated each other. They haven't quarreled yet, and they still have to maintain the original engagement. I'm sure this kind of couple won't divorce.'

After saying this, Emelia 'kindly' reminded Julian, 'When we argue all the time during the trip, don't you regret it.'

Emelia thought that she might as well go on a trip with Julian. Perhaps they really didn't get along well with each other.

Chapter 265 Have Them Both

Julian said seriously, 'But I'm happy to.'

Then he emphasized again, 'As long as you can fall in love with me again, anything I do is worth it.'

Emelia stared blankly at him, Julian then said, 'I can't always be completely ignorant of what's going on at home. When you're in good health, I can take care of you like I do now. In addition, if you have a child in the future, I won't let you be all alone. I'll learn how to cook and help you share the burden.'

Emelia didn't even know if she should be moved or angry by these words.

It was really touching that he could take care of her and share the burden for her, but he still imagined that they had children. What was this?

She had repeatedly emphasized to him that there would be no children. Was he so sure that she would marry him in the future?

Thinking of this, Emelia angrily pulled over the quilt to cover herself. 'I am not hungry. You can go now.'

Damn, she was so pissed by him.

Julian helplessly hugged her and said, 'I'll bring it in for you.'

As he spoke, he got up and went out. Emelia felt that her stomach was just a little uncomfortable, not that she was seriously ill and could not get out of bed. It was too wayward for asking him to bring the meal, so she got up and come out.

Sitting down at the dining table and looking at the exquisite breakfast in front of her, Emelia still couldn't believe that it was made by Julian, so she couldn't help asking, 'Did you really make this?'

He roasted the vomit, made a slippery egg, fried bacon, and prepare some fruits. Emelia really couldn't imagine how cold he so such things.

Julian said proudly, 'Next time, you can stay with me in the kitchen and see me cook in person.'

He had thought that cooking would be a very complicated thing, but it seemed much easier after he done it. Based on his talent and character, there was nothing in the world that could make things difficult for him.

In fact, as long as he was willing to do anything, he would not feel much rejection.

Chapter 266 Don' t Flatter Yourself

Emelia was instantly stunned.

How could she have thought that Julian would just come out and hear Nina's words ?

She was too careless. The delicious coffee and warm sunshine made her completely forget that the person next door was Julian.

'Well...‘ When she came to her senses, she forced a smile and tried to explain.

With his hands already supporting himself against the railings of the balcony, he leapt over. Emelia was startled by his actions.

Although Julian did several times before. But, this time, she was startled by his behavior.

It was too dangerous!

Although they were on the second floor. If he fell down, his arms and legs would be broken.

Also, after knowing Julian for so many years, she had never known that he was so nimble.

Although she knew that he had a good figure and a strong body, she had never seen him exercising before.

Of course, she didn't know that Julian did boxing almost every day. He and Ezra, and the others had a special place to practice boxing. On the one hand, it was for fitness, and on the other hand, it was for self-defense.

With their status, they had offended a lot of people in the business world, so it was inevitable that someone would do something to them in private. Rather than spending a lot of money to hire a row of bodyguards to protect themselves, it was better to train himself to be a formidable fighter.

Emelia naturally didn't know about this, and even very few people outside knew about it.

'You can have Julian and Winston at the same time?' Julian gritted his teeth and repeated this sentence word by word, then leaned over to approach Emelia, trapping her between him and the chair.

Emelia originally felt that it was a nice sunny day, but when he approached, his body had blocked the sunlight.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 267 Face-To-Face Battle

In the past, when Emelia had celebrated his birthday, he had been moved as well. He had also thought of giving a present for her birthday.

But later, such a thought was wiped out by his damn pride. And he simply ignored her.

At this moment, Julian realized how awkward and stupid he used to be.

As long as he put down some of his damn pride in the past, he would not be in a situation where he chased his wife bitterly.

Looking at the sincere look in Julian's eyes, Emelia didn't know what to say, so she said 'oh' and looked away.

She slowly felt the sincerity in his words.

Just as Julian was about to hug Emelia, her phone rang again. He was puzzled. She was just a screenwriter working at home, so how could she be busier than him?

Every time when he wanted to do something, he would be interrupted by the phone call.

Emelia pushed him away and walked over to take her phone. She didn't immediately pick it up, but instead frowned slightly.

Julian walked over and took a look. He instantly recognized the caller number on her mobile phone.

Emelia also knew that it was Yvonne.

Julian simply snatched her phone and hung up. 'Ignore her.'

Emelia glanced at him disapprovingly, thinking that he was nosy.

She was about to answer the phone when she wanted to see what Yvonne would do next.

Julian, who was despised, was speechless.

He hung up Yvonne's phone for her. Was he wrong?

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 268 Yvonne Didn't See That Coming

Emelia then called Nina and told her that Yvonne had invited her to dinner. Without saying a word, Nina agreed to go with her.

Nina had never been afraid of trouble. When she heard that Emelia was going to confront Yvonne, how could she not go and watch the show?

However, Nina was a bit confused and said, 'I don't quite understand. With her current situation, what else can she do against you?'

'Her family background is not as good as yours, her career is not as good as yours, and her appearance is not as good as yours. Why would she invite you to a dinner party?' Nina scolded Yvonne severely.

Emelia said casually, 'Who knows? We'll do whatever we can.'

The reason why Emelia was so calm was that she thought that no matter what Yvonne did, whether she could take it or not, there was nothing to care about.

In other words, she was much more confident.

Yvonne's actions did not affect her mood at all.

Nina praised her calmness and then said, 'By the way, put on the ruby accessories your grandmother gave you tonight.'

Emelia was speechless.

Why was Nina more serious than her?

Nina continued, 'Really? Listen to me, you must wear it. It's best if you put it all on.'

Emelia was a little speechless. If she put on all her accessories, she was afraid of being robbed halfway.

Chapter 269 The Confrontation

Having understood Yvonne's intentions, Emelia and Nina calmly walking into the dining room.

Yvonne had booked the restaurant today, but she had invited all the socialites she could invite in Riverside City. Looking from afar, the restaurant was crowded.

After Emelia and Nina entered, Yvonne walked out with a graceful smile on her face. 'You two are really late.'

Yvonne was wearing a red dress, which was beautiful. Fortunately, she turned on the air conditioner in the restaurant, so it was not very cold.

Yvonne admitted that her outfit tonight was the most outstanding among the socialites. She had waited a long time to get this dress, so she deliberately wore it on tonight's occasion to suppress Emelia in appearance.

After coming here, the others surrounded her and praised her. They all said that she was beautiful and elegant. She was very proud.

However, when she saw the ruby necklace on Emelia's neck, all her pride was instantly shattered into dust.

How could she have forgotten? Emelia had two sets of luxurious jewelry, a set of emeralds and a set of rubies. A few days ago, Emelia showed up with a ruby earring on her wedding banquet. This set of ruby jewelry was very valuable.

At that time, Yvonne was so jealous that she almost went crazy. She thought that she had a lot of valuable jewelry, but after seeing the price of these two sets of jewelry, her jewelry couldn't even compare to Emelia's.

In addition, Emelia's jewelry was very valuable, completely different from what she had.

Yvonne stared at Emelia's necklace, gnashing her teeth. Nina's beautiful eyes curved into a smile as she said to Yvonne, 'Miss Sullivan, you look so beautiful tonight.'

Nina's words were obviously sarcastic. She purposely mocked Yvonne.

Yvonne was furious, but she could only force a smile and say, 'Thank you, Nina. You are also very beautiful. Ordinary people don't dare to stand by your side.'

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 270 Scumbag and Slut

Although Yvonne was annoyed, she managed to endure it. She couldn't help but laugh at the thought of letting Emelia make a mistake later. Emelia, although you were the daughter of the Longerich Family, you don't have the talent that a noble lady should have.

Apart from writing a story and being a screenwriter, what other strengths did she have?

As for her, she learned dance at the age of four and played the piano at the age of seven. She had never failed for so many years. Otherwise, she would not have dared to venture into the entertainment industry at that time.

The dinner began. A group of women were eating and chatting. The scene was very hot.

Although it was a hot conversation, it was inevitable that everyone's words would secretly reveal all kinds of flaunting. Emelia resisted the irritation in her heart.

While eating, she emptied her brain.

As expected, she still had to be with her best friends in order to be comfortable and natural. She would never participate in such a so-called gathering again.

Although she was from the Longerich Family, she had lived in an ordinary environment since she was a child, so she should continue to be an ordinary person. There was no need to change or cater to anyone.

Sydney took advantage of the time when everyone was toasting each other to come over and whispered to Nina, 'Did Yvonne deliberately organize this dinner today?'

Sydney didn't know about the relationship between Emelia and Julian. She only thought that Yvonne was going to make things difficult for Nina. After all, Yvonne used to be the famous in the entertainment industry and had a lot of conflict with Nina.

Nina smiled. 'It's not for me, it's for Emelia. she wants Emelia to make fool of herself.'

Sydney looked at Emelia in surprise and asked, 'How did you offend her?'

Emelia did not intend to say anything more. She just smiled and said, 'It's a long story. It's been a long time.'

Chapter 271 Acting

After Nina finished speaking, the crowd immediately started discussing amongst themselves.

‘She deserves it.’

‘Emelia is now a member of the Longerich family. Her ex-husband must have regretted it, right?’

‘I really want to know who that shameless mistress is. This is so funny.’

Nina glanced at Yvonne. Seeing that she was very angry but had to pretend to be calm, she felt too happy. She loved to see plots of exposing tricks made by bad people. Yvonne shot herself in the foot.

Emelia’s mood was as good as hers, and her smile became even brighter. She looked not as embarrassed as Yvonne had imagined.

Nina continued to expose more details that made Yvonne even more embarrassed. ‘The most ironic thing is that Emelia’s ex-husband only learned of her excellence after the divorce. Right now, he’s desperately pursuing Emelia and asking her for a second marriage.’

Everyone was very surprised. ‘Really? Is there such a thing?’

‘I think the news has reported that Emelia’s ex-husband’s family background is also very good. He hasn’t married anyone for such a long time after their divorce?’

She meant that a man like Emelia’s ex-husband must not be shortage of women. If they divorced, there must be many women willing to be his wife. She did not expect that his ex-husband would pursue Emelia again.

Nina pretended to be mysterious and said, ‘Do you know how much her ex-husband is trying to please her? Everyone knows that her ex-husband’s family background is very good. In the past, he was served by others and didn’t do any housework. Now, he’s learning how to cook for Emelia.’

Everyone was stunned.

Julian was learning to cook for Emelia?

Yvonne was so shocked that her eyes almost popped out of their sockets.

Chapter 272 Plot Twist

Sydney walked over and asked Emelia worriedly, ‘Did they deliberately make things difficult for you?’

Emelia gently blinked at Sydney. Sydney immediately understood what she meant. Did she mean that Yvonne’s little trick was going to fail again?

Sydney didn’t ask any more questions. She gently patted Emelia’s shoulder. To outsiders, she seemed to be comforting the flustered Emelia. In fact, it meant, ‘I’m looking forward to it.’

After the woman finished her song, everyone applauded and then looked at Emelia.

Emelia stood up uneasily and clenched her fists.

These details were all taught by Nina. She was so serious, as if she was a director telling an actor what to do. Emelia just followed Nina's teaching and walked to the piano under the gazes of everyone who were either expectant or looking for a joke.

Emelia has fair skin, and her black wool skirt made her look even more beautiful. She sat in front of the piano, looking particularly graceful.

With the dazzling ruby necklace around her neck, even if she didn't do anything, no one could look away.

Yvonne stood up with her arms crossed, her eyes fixed on Emelia in front of the piano, waiting for her to make a fool of herself.

Although she had booked the whole place tonight, she had also arranged someone to take photos in the corner. As long as Emelia made a mistake, Yvonne would try her best to bring her down

This time, she was determined to shame Emelia in public.

Unexpectedly, Emelia's eyes suddenly became unusually bright after she sat down. She looked very confident.

Yvonne had a bad feeling. With a smile, Emelia elegantly played the piano. A smooth and pleasant tune instantly sounded in the quiet room.

The beautiful melody stunned everyone present, including Yvonne.

Emelia could play the piano?

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband

Chapter 273 You'll Regret It

Yvonne walked to Julian's car, bent down, and knocked on the window. Her red dress was deep V-neck, so she deliberately bent her waist very low to show her cleavage.

She had always been confident in her figure.

Which man wasn't lecherous?

Therefore, Yvonne believed that her good figure would definitely attract Julian's attention.

Unexpectedly, Julian hung up the phone and rolled down the window. He didn't even look at her and only said coldly, 'Piss off!'

When had Yvonne ever been humiliated like this? She was so angry that she almost fainted.

'Julian Hughes!' Yvonne stomped her feet and glared at the person in the car.

Only then did Julian turn his head lazily to look at her with disgust. The words he said were even harsher. 'Judging from your embarrassed look, you must have been defeated by Emelia, right?'

Yvonne was about to cry from anger.

Yvonne felt that ever since she had fallen out with Julian, he had completely changed. Although he used to be a little cold, he had never said anything unpleasant to her.

But now, he became cold and merciless, mean and vicious, like a demon from hell, which always made her feel very embarrassed.

Julian frowned and warned impatiently, 'Why not leaving? Or do you want to experience the feeling of being beaten in person?'

He meant that if she didn't go, he would get out and slap her in the face.

'You will regret for this today!' After saying that, Yvonne ran away in tears.

In the past, she had expected to be with Julian again. But after tonight, she didn't expect to be with him anymore, because he would be her enemy from now on. She hated him so much that she gnashed her teeth.

And Emelia, she hated them so much!

Chapter 274 Setting Up Another Trap

Julian first sent Nina home, and then returned to the residence with Emelia.

After getting out of the car, Emelia headed home, followed by Julian. Emelia chased him away in disdain. 'Go back to your home.'

Julian simply put his arms around her waist and whispered, 'Home is where you're in it.'

Once he got close to her, he would never want to be separated from her again, not even for a second.

Emelia felt goosebumps rise from his words. She really couldn't stand his words.

But before she could say anything, Julian added, 'Since you have told me the password of the house, I can come in at any time.'

What he said did make sense. Emelia was too lazy to argue with him.

After returning home, Emelia went to remove her makeup and change her clothes. When she stood in front of the mirror and took off the ruby necklace, Julian hugged her from behind and kept getting closer to her.

Emelia really couldn't stand it any longer. She looked at him in the mirror and lectured him. 'Julian, don't you feel tired of getting so close to me all day long?'

The man in the mirror put his chin on her shoulder and said without any embarrassment, 'No.'

Emelia sighed hard and said, 'You're a man. Why are you clingier than a woman all day long?'

In a relationship, shouldn't women be clingier? Why did he want to stay by her side all day long?

Julian asked her seriously, 'Is there anyone who says that men can't be clingy?'

Emelia was a little speechless. Obviously, there was no rule that men could not be clingy, but she was not used to it.

Julian hugged her tightly and complained his friends, 'You don't know Phil. He's even more clingy to his wife.'