

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband - Chapter 691 Love Conquers All

Chapter 691 Love Conquers All

Seeing Nina's meaningful smile, Sylvie couldn't help but ask, "You didn't tell him I wanted to watch that movie, did you?"

Without waiting for Nina to answer, Sylvie stomped her foot and accused her, "A mismatch!"

Then she turned her head and left, ignoring Nina. Nina sighed; it was not easy for her to be her boss.

After registration, the two sat down in their seats, Sylvie murmured to Nina, "Why do you have to get Lucien and me together. We are not a good match at all and the gap between us is too big'

Nina said in a relaxed tone, "I think you shouldn't deny the possibility between the two of you first. There is no such thing as a perfect match in love. As long as you love each other, it is the best match. Love conquers all."

Sylvie looked at Nina and stopped talking.

Nina added, "You can talk to him first and that won't harm. You could get to know each other. If you can't get along well together, then forget it."

Sylvie actually thought what Nina said made sense.

She didn't seem to hate Lucien and even thought he was a little charming.

He is polite and gentle. She has met many men with bad behavior in the entertainment industry and even heard of many nasty things like cheating and some old men who thought they could manipulate girls with their filthy money. She used to have important psychological consequences on men.

But she felt very comfortable when she was staying with Lucien and instinctively felt that he would not hurt her.

However, Lucien didn't explicitly say that he wanted to be with her. They just met and ate a few times together. She felt that she should not think too much, maybe Nina was wrong about Lucien's intentions.

Sylvie was not sure about Lucien's love, but as soon as they got off the plane, she received a concerned text message from

Lucien, "Are you there yet?"

Nina glanced at the message on her phone and couldn't help laughing. She said teasingly, "Lucien is so concerned about you while I haven't received any message from Cameron, a married man."

Sylvie was a little embarrassed for a while. She replied to Lucien and spoke for Cameron, "Cameron must be helping his mother in the hospital now, so he didn't contact you immediately.

Nina set off back to the crew and thus Cameron focused more on Colleen.

After taking her to the airport, he went directly to the hospital to take over from Randall and let him have some rest.

Sylvie replied to Lucien, "I just got off the plane and am ready to pick up my luggage'

“Well, let me know when you get back to the hotel.” Lucien texted back. Since the hotel they stayed in was still a long way from the airport, Lucien was worried.

Sylvie felt that Lucien was making too much of a fuss, which made her a little uncomfortable, so she only replied with an “okay” and ignored it.

They made it back to the hotel and went straight to their rooms to rest. After taking a shower, Nina had a video call with Cameron. His first sentence was, “I miss you.”

Nina was so happy that she couldn’t help teasing him, “Are you going to make up for the sweet words you never said to me before?”

In the past, he never talked like he is now. When they were together, he acted more than words. For example, he tried his best to help her with her studies, which was what he did the most.

Cameron explained, “Before, I didn’t know how rare it was to find your true love and I felt there was no need to say many things.

“The years of separation have taught me deeply that we must cherish when we are together, and we must express all our love so that there will be no regrets.”

Although he used to love Nina very much, at that time he was still young and never separated from her, so he didn’t understand the pain of parting, so he always kept a lot of words in his heart, thinking that as long as she could understand it, it would be fine.

To put it bluntly, he hadn’t cherished her enough, so he became emotional and delicate.

Nina felt so sweet that she was about to say something when there was a sudden knock on her door. She went to open the door and it turned out to be Sylvie.

Sylvie said angrily, "I'm so annoyed."

Nina hadn't hung up the phone with Cameron and she asked with concern, "What's wrong?"

Her assistant has always been big-minded, and there are few things that could annoy her like this.

Sylvie frowned and said, "I just got back to my room to clean up when I received a message from Andrew Sonfield asking me if I was back. He wanted to invite me to dinner tonight."

"Fuck! What kind of nerves does he have? Can't he see that I hate him?"

Sylvie called his names and she didn't have time to care about her image.

She was really shocked and speechless. She didn't expect Andrew to ask her out for dinner. After all, it was obvious that she hated him, especially when she learned that he and Jillian planned to frame Nina.

Nina was quite calm, "Actually, I have already seen that he is interested in you."

His eyes looking at Sylvie were quite hot, but Sylvie had always been ignorant in this aspect, so she didn't notice his thoughts at all.

However, Nina didn't expect him to invite her for dinner as a start, which was quite disgusting.

Andrew needed to take a good look at himself. A scumbag like him wanted to pursue her assistant?

He had a romantic relationship with Jillian, which was enough for Sylvie to hate him.

Sylvie was stunned, "Why didn't you tell me earlier? If you told me earlier, I would make him dislike me by acting dumb all day long."

Sylvie was really sick of him, so Nina told Cameron on the phone that she needed to talk with her first, and then hung up.

She was a little embarrassed, "Did he hear what I said just now?"

Nina comforted her, "It's okay. He knows how disgusting Andrew Sonfield is and he definitely agrees with you."

Sylvie covered her face and sat on the sofa, "I want to beat him badly as well."

Nina said, "It's easy to solve this. Just tell him that you have a boyfriend and it's not good to have a meal with him alone."

Not only that, but you have to tell him proudly that your boyfriend is Lucien, which could make him feel ashamed of himself."

Nina could imagine what his expression would be like. He must feel very embarrassed.

Sylvie put down her hands, stared at Nina for a while, and then said, "Why didn't I think of this before? Lucien used me to get rid of Melanie and I can also use him."

"This is a great idea. That's great. Then he will never come to me again."

"Mr. Sonfield, I'm sorry, my boyfriend probably won't allow me to go out to dinner with you alone." Sylvie held back her disgust and texted him back.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband - Chapter 692 Humiliated

Chapter 692 Humiliated

After Sylvie sent the message, she put her phone aside happily, hugged Nina and said, “Nina, you’re so smart. I hadn’t thought of the idea. I was so vexed at it just now. I didn’t know how I should reply to Andrew.”

Although deep inside, she was disgusted with Andrew Sonfield, because Nina had to keep working with him in the same crew for along while, she couldn’t yell at or beat him. The best she could do was to ignore him.

Now that she had told Andrew that she had a boyfriend, she could finally get rid of him.

However, on the other side, Andrew, who had just received Sylvie’s message, looked indifferent after he read the message.

He could tell she was lying in one fell swoop. How could Sylvie possibly have a boyfriend?

Sylvie had been working with Nina the whole time and followed Nina everywhere, but he had never seen any man around her. Besides, Sylvie didn’t look like she was in a relationship at all. Andrew had been with a lot of women before, and he thought he knew women enough to tell if Sylvie was in a relationship or not.

However, as if he had suddenly thought of something, Andrew frowned.

He once saw her in the hotel lobby when she was going out with Lucien. Were they dating?

The next moment, he was relieved again. Lucien would never date someone like Sylvie.
He was the new money in Riverside

City while Sylvie was just an assistant. She was not good enough for Lucien.

In fact, Andrew thought she was not even good enough for him. He only wanted to sleep with her, but didn't want to be in a relationship with her.

As an actor who was somewhat famous, he normally wouldn't date someone like Sylvie. However, she always treated him like he was nothing, which stimulated his desire to win.

The more she treated him like that, the more he wanted to get her.

He thought that with his charm, he should be able to get her soon. As an actor, he was good-looking. Besides, he had been in this industry for years, although he wasn't very famous, he had starred in a lot of movies and plays and was much richer than her, an assistant.

He simply needed to talk some sweet words to her and keep showing up in front of her to get her to fall for him. By the time he was tired of her, he would dump her, so as to take revenge on her for her indifference to him.

As he was thinking about it, he texted her back. "Sylvie, others might buy your story, but not me. I've been working with you for a while and I think I would've known it if you already had a boyfriend."

After he sent the message, Andrew put down his phone with a confident smile, grabbed the coffee at his hand and started drinking it.

He had a lot of tricks for young girls like Sylvie.

On the other side, when Sylvie saw the message, she was disgusted again.

She handed her phone to Nina and said, "Have you seen how he talks to me? I don't know where he got the confidence to think that he could see through me and was sure that I'm single!"

After reading the message, Nina didn't know what to say for a moment. She didn't expect that Andrew still wouldn't give up.

She handed Sylvie's phone back to her and said, "In this case, you should just tell him that your boyfriend is Lucien"

"Okay; Sylvie nodded.

Originally, she didn't intend to tell Andrew her relationship with Lucien. After all, they were only pretending to be a couple.

But Andrew kept pestering her, which left her no choice.

"I do have a boyfriend already. His name is Lucien Fowler!" Sylvie typed on her phone hard, as if she could hurt Andrew in this way.

When Nina saw it, she teased her, "why do you have to press your screen so hard? It's your own phone."

Sylvie gritted her teeth and replied, "I am so pissed, it could make me feel slightly better. If Andrew's in front of me right now, I could poke his eyes out!"

After Sylvie sent the message, she breathed a sigh of relief and thought Andrew should leave her alone now.

After getting Sylvie's reply, Andrew arched his eyebrows, put down the coffee in his hand and texted back without any hesitation, "Sylvie, I know that you girls love to dream, but be realistic. Lucien Fowler is one of the owners of the Camcien Lifetech. He is equally as important as Cameron Dauster. What? You think you are on the same level as Nina?"

Andrew thought that he had been patient enough with Sylvie. The relationship between Cameron and Nina had been made public already. Everyone knew that Nina was one of the A-listers now and that she was glamorous. She had stunning looks and a perfect figure.

Why would Lucien be with someone who was far less than Nina? Why would he be with an ordinary woman like Sylvie?

It was exactly why Andrew didn't believe it when Sylvie told him that her boyfriend was Lucien.

Did she really think she deserved Lucien?

Did she see herself as Cinderella and thought that a prince would come save her?

After reading Andrew's message, Sylvie was so angry that she trembled all over. Seeing how angry she looked, Nina took over her phone and her face changed after she read the message.

On the surface, Andrew's words were as if he was advising Sylvie to be realistic. But in fact, he was looking down upon her.

It was obvious, especially when he said that she was not on the same level as Nina. He meant that Sylvie didn't deserve to be with Lucien.

Sylvie had never been treated with such disrespect before and her eyes turned red in an instant.

Although she came from an ordinary family, she had been the apple of her parents' eye her and parents had always been protective of her.

The last time she cried was when the boy she was having a crush on was with someone else.

"He has gone too far" seeing that Sylvie's eyes had turned red, Nina was even angrier and spoke,
"I'll go talk to him."

If Nina really went to see Andrew, she might beat his ass.

"No; Sylvie hurriedly stopped her.

No matter what, Nina couldn't argue with Andrew, they had to work together on the play.

Sylvie wanted to make Nina feel better, so she said, "I am not that angry. I could just ignore him, and I won't talk to him anymore."

Before Nina could reply, Sylvie's phone rang. It was Lucien. Seeing this, Nina motioned for Sylvie to answer the phone.

Sylvie sniffled, walked to the side to answer Lucien's call.

She had thought that Lucien called her because he had something to tell her. However, as soon as she answered the phone, she heard Lucien ask, "I heard that Andrew asked you out for dinner?"

Somehow, when Sylvie heard Andrew's name from Lucien, her eyes filled with tears again, and she almost cried.

In order not to let Lucien see it, she curled her lips and didn't say a word for a long time.
Then, Lucien asked in a low voice, "What's wrong?"

"Nothing. How did you know about it?" Sylvie thought that she had managed to calm down, but in fact, as soon as she spoke, Lucien could tell that she cried and felt sorry for her.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband - Chapter 693 Stand Up for Her

Chapter 693 Stand Up for Her

Nina knew that Sylvie wouldn't tell Lucien the truth, so she raised her voice and said to Lucien on the phone, "That scumbag Andrew, he humiliated Sylvie"

"That bastard!" Lucien cursed, gritting his teeth.

Then he said to Sylvie" You can stay out of this. I'll handle it. I promise, he won't bully you again."

After that, he hung up the phone before Sylvie could say anything.

It was not until a while later that Sylvie murmured to Nina, "He was scary just now.

Just now, Lucien said those words in such a ruthless tone that she felt a chill down her spine.

In particular, hearing how he cursed Andrew, Sylvie was terrified.

Hearing this, Nina smiled and said to her, "He was cursing Andrew, not you. How come you were startled?"

In Nina's opinion, it was just because Lucien cared about Sylvie deeply that he would be so angry when he heard it, which was why he sounded scary just now.

“I know; Sylvie swallowed and said, “I have never heard him like this before, so I was just a little scared just now.”

Sylvie believed that not only her, but everyone would be easily deceived by Lucien’s gentleness and his smiles that none of them had ever imagined he had this side of him.

For a moment, Sylvie was so terrified that she felt weak in her legs. She looked at Nina and said, “Nina, what should I do now? I don’t think I can handle a man like Lucien. I don’t want to date him anymore, and I don’t want Mr. Dauster and you to set me up with someone again.”

Nina was both pissed and amused by her words, “This is all you got?”

Sylvie pursed her lips and didn’t say anything, frustrated. She really wasn’t an ambitious person and she didn’t think she could handle Lucien.

Or maybe it was because of Andrew’s words just now that she felt she shouldn’t be in a relationship at all.

“Lucien has said that he would handle it, right? Just don’t worry about it anymore; Nina comforted her.

“Come on. Let’s go to a fancy restaurant tonight!” Nina knew what could cheer Sylvie up and said, “Delicious food is the cure to every problem. If one meal doesn’t work, then we’ll have two or three or more!”

Sylvie was amused and burst into laughter, “Thank you, Nina.”

She was really grateful that she worked for such a nice person. Nina always protected her and cared for her, she thought she must work harder for her.

After packing up their things, they left for a fancy meal, leaving everything else behind.

Lucien found out about the fact that Andrew had asked Sylvie out for dinner from Cameron, who knew it when he heard Sylvie cursing Andrew in Nina's room.

As soon as he heard it, he told Lucien, whose face changed the second he found out about it.

The last time Lucien saw Andrew, he could tell from the look in his eyes that he wanted Sylvie, but he didn't expect that he would humiliate Sylvie like that. If Andrew was a gentleman, Lucien wouldn't have been so angry, but he wasn't.

He knew that it was only normal that men were attracted by beautiful women and he wouldn't forbid others from pursuing Sylvie just because he liked her. He was confident enough that he would win Sylvie's favor.

But Andrew was a scumbag. Lucien could tell it from the fact that Andrew had been with Jillian and he colluded with Jillian trying to set Nina up before.

Andrew had been in the acting business for years, but he wasn't famous even till today. There was a reason for it.

He was a man of disreputable character.

In Lucien's opinion, such a scumbag wasn't even qualified to pursue Sylvie.

After he called Sylvie and told her that he would handle Andrew, he called Andrew.

When he called Andrew, Andrew was in his room, waiting for Sylvie's text. Seeing that Sylvie hadn't replied his message for along while, he smiled complacently. 'She'd better have a clear self-knowledge and stop telling lies about her and Lucien Fowler'

When his phone rang, Andrew found that it was an unknown caller and frowned before he answered it.

"Hello. Who is this?" he asked in a polite manner.

However, the caller didn't sound friendly at all, "Mr. Sonfield, I heard that you asked my girlfriend out for dinner?"

Andrew was stunned, "Your girlfriend?"

He had never actually believed that Sylvie was dating Lucien, so he didn't think of her.

Lucien sneered and said, "Yeah, my girlfriend, Sylvie."

Andrew was so shocked that he almost dropped his phone. Sylvie? THE Sylvie?

"You... You are Lucien Fowler?" Andrew centered himself and asked in shock.

"Yes, Lucien answered.

Andrew was still in shock and felt that he was about to pass out.

Sylvie and Lucien were really a couple? How was that even possible? How could Lucien Fowler fall in love with Sylvie?

However, if it was true, he would be doomed for offending Lucien.

Lucien had seen through Andrew's mind for the fact that Andrew hadn't said a word for a long time, he sneered and spoke out Andrew's mind, "What, Mr. Sonfield? You sound incredulous."

Andrew hurriedly forced a smile and said, "I... I am. You are the new money in the city, sir, and you have a bright future ahead of you."

Out of instinct, Andrew tried to suck Lucien up. However, the more respectful he was to Lucien, the more Lucien realized how he must have looked down upon Sylvie.

Lucien replied, "I don't think I'm superior to Sylvie and I don't think love should have anything to do with hierarchy. I love Sylvie and she is the best for me."

Lucien's words made Andrew unable to speak. Before Andrew answered him, Lucien warned him again, "Mr. Sonfield, since you still have a job, then focus on it. I don't think your boss would want to hear any bad news about you at this moment, right? Keep your hands off of my girlfriend."

Of course, Andrew could tell that it was a warning. Lucien warned him that if he didn't stay away from Sylvie, he would make his life miserable.

Although Andrew felt humiliated, he dared not offend Lucien. Forcing a smile, she said, "I'm sorry, Mr. Fowler, didn't know that Sylvie has a boyfriend. But now that I have known that she's your girlfriend, I'll stay away from her."

"I'm sorry again, sir" in the end, Andrew apologized sincerely.

"You should know that there is a reason why your career is stuck; Lucien sneered and said to Andrew before he hung up the phone. Holding the phone in his hand, Andrew's face turned livid upon hearing Lucien's words.

There He Is Again, My Ex-Husband - Chapter 694 A Quarrel

Chapter 694 A Quarrel It was obvious that Lucien was insinuating Andrew's awful personality and lack of capability. Of course, Andrew was pissed upon hearing his words.

However, even though he was pissed, he had to suck it. He was not as rich and powerful as Lucien, so he could only tolerate it.

That being said, he had never expected that Sylvie and Lucien were really in a relationship.

It was unbelievable.

But the next moment, he was relieved again and thought that Lucien was just goofing around with her. Maybe he would dump her soon in a few days. By then, he would definitely mock Sylvie in her face.

These girls nowadays all looked chaste and noble on the surface, but deep inside, they were all just habitually vain and snobbish.

Taking Sylvie for an example, she always looked simple and naive, but it turned out that she was actually a scheming woman. If not, how did she manage to hook up with someone like Lucien?

"She should really look at herself in the mirror!" Andrew thought to himself. In anger, he kept degrading Sylvie and felt much better.

On the other side, Sylvie and Nina ordered a table of delicious food, right after the dishes were served, she got a call from Lucien.

“I have warned Andrew just now. If he keeps harassing you, tell me immediately; Lucien said on the phone.

“Okay, I will.” Sylvie didn’t even know why she answered so readily, as if she had taken Lucien’s help for granted.

Realizing it, she quickly added, “Thank you.”

“You don’t have to thank me, you know?” Lucien said to Sylvie in a gentle tone, which was completely different from that he had used when he was speaking to Andrew.

“You helped me get rid of those annoying ladies, I was just returning the favor.

Hearing this, Sylvie was amused and burst into laughter. She didn’t know that Lucien had a sense of humor in him. He was implying that Andrew was annoying, which was true.

Hearing her laughter, Lucien was delighted.

For some reason, his mood could now be easily affected by hers.

“What are you doing now?” Lucien asked in a low voice.

“I’m having dinner with Nina; Sylvie replied.

When she saw the food on the table, Sylvie was in high spirits again. Hearing her words, Lucien chuckled, “Okay, I won’t disturb you then. Enjoy.’

“Bye, after saying that, Sylvie hung up the phone and continued eating.

Seeing her eating like this, Nina was amused. It seemed that to Sylvie, delicious food was more attractive to her than Lucien, which proved that she was an honest and kind woman.

If it was other girls, after being treated by Lucien like that, they would definitely grab the opportunity to get close to him.

But Sylvie, her silly assistant...

She seemed eager to end the phone call with Lucien so that she could continue eating.

After Sylvie took a few bites, she noticed that Nina had been staring at her and she frowned, "Is there something on my face?"

Nina shook her head and sighed, "No."

Forget it. She had always known Sylvie's character; Sylvie was not the kind of girl who would play tricks on Lucien in order to win his favor. Perhaps it was just Sylvie's artlessness that Lucien liked.

Moreover, love was about the two themselves, she was an outsider and she shouldn't meddle in it.

If Sylvie was really in love with Lucien, she would automatically do things to win his heart.

But for now, Sylvie didn't like Lucien enough to pay much attention to him.

Thanks to Lucien's interference, the next day, when Sylvie saw Andrew at the set the next day, she didn't even bother to force smiles and simply ignored him.

Of course, with so many people here, Andrew couldn't say or do anything about it.

While Andrew and Nina were acting, their assistants were waiting aside.

Seeing Sylvie, Andrew's assistant said in a sarcastic tone, "I heard that someone just humiliated Andrew, she must feel really good about herself."

Sylvie was rendered speechless. Andrew's former assistant was a gossipy guy, she didn't expect that his new assistant was, too.

Was this as the saying went, "Birds with a feather flock together"?

Because Andrew was a jerk, he would hire someone like him.

That was right. How could he hire a normal person, who had nothing in common with him?

Sylvie didn't even bother to look at Andrew's assistant. She put her arms around her chest, looked ahead and said indifferently, "Not even your boss had said a word, but you're so keen on lecturing me?"

She couldn't argue with Andrew, but she didn't have to tolerate his assistant.

Obviously, Andrew's assistant was pissed, his face turning livid. It was clear that Sylvie was implying that he was sticking his nose into others' affairs. He felt humiliated.

Gritting his teeth, he said, "You'd better stop your daydreaming. Who do you think you are? You should know yourself better than to ever think you can get someone who's way out of your league."

Sylvie knew that he was talking about Lucien and her. She sneered and retorted, "So what if I am daydreaming?

Should I daydream about being with a loser like you instead of an excellent man who's way out of my league?"

Perhaps it was because she had worked with Nina for a while now, Sylvie also had a sharp tongue now.

Again, Andrew's assistant was pissed.

Sylvie had just called him a loser.

Just as he was about to refute, he caught a glance at a tall figure. After fixing his eyes on him, he found that it was Lucien Fowler.

He immediately pursed his lips and swallowed his words.
Not even Andrew could afford offending Lucien, let alone him.

He didn't actually believe that Sylvie was dating Lucien. Just now, he dared to pick on Sylvie because he was.
angry at Sylvie for humiliating his boss, and at the same time, he didn't believe that Lucien got Sylvie's back.

But now, seeing Lucien at the set, he was alarmed and flustered. After all, he had just been sarcastic to Sylvie.

Sylvie had been waiting for his next words when she saw that he stopped talking.

She couldn't help but sneer and said, "Why shut up? Did someone cut your throat?"

It was not that she was being bitchy on purpose, but that the look on the assistant's face was really hideous.

Hearing her words, the assistant's face turned even more livid.

He was absolutely furious, but seeing that Lucien had walked behind Sylvie, he dared not say a word.

Therefore, the look on his face was really weird.
