

My Three Darlings by Anonymous

Chapter 191

/ My Three Darlings by Anonymous
Chapter 191

Eliza rubbed her sleepy eyes and asked, "What good news?" E Beau stretched out his hand and rubbed the top of her soft hair. "I found Chasity." Found... Chasity? Eliza suddenly raised her head and looked at Beau in a daze. "Re-really?!" She had been looking for Chasity for so long, but there was no news from her. When she woke up, Beau actually said that he had found her? "Of course it's true." He gently rubbed her head and kissed her between her eyebrows. "When did I ever lie to you?"

Eliza excitedly climbed up from the bed. "Where is she?" "Is she far away?" "When are we going to find her?" Seeing her excited look, Beau couldn't help but chuckle. He looked at her face as he chuckled. "You want to see her so much?" "Of course!" Eliza rolled her eyes at him. "I've spent so much time and effort recently just to find her." After that, she smiled and approached him. "How did you find her?" "Because." Beau looked at her jumping up and down like a little bird and couldn't help but tease her. "Because of you." He hugged her slender waist. "Go home first and take a bath. Change into a formal clothes and I'll take you to see her, okay?" Eliza frowned and hesitated for a while. "Okay." After that, she glanced at the wound on his hand, which was wrapped with bandages. "Does it still hurt?" "It doesn't hurt anymore." He looked at her with a chuckle. "After seeing you, it doesn't hurt anymore." No matter how painful and uncomfortable the wound on his hand was, it couldn't overcome the joy in his heart. It turned out that not only the Braint and Demarion, but also Liliana were her children. She had searched high and low for them, only to find them by sheer luck. Eliza could never have imagined that the Chasity that she had been looking for was actually herself.

Thinking of this, he concealed his excitement and looked at her with a smile. "Go back and clean up." "After all, Chasity is the biological mother of Braint and Demarion. She can be considered as half of your love rival. You have to dress up well to see her." Eliza gently bit her lips and nodded. "Yes!" She should go to see Chasity beautifully. Because Chasity was half her love rival and also her old friend. It was only right for old friends to dress up a little solemnly when they met. Thinking of this, she took a deep breath, said goodbye to Beau and went out of the hospital. D Not long after Eliza left, Beau's phone rang. It was Demarion. The voice on the other side of the phone was very arrogant. "Daddy, the venue has been set up." "We've placed a big mirror in a very conspicuous place!" "When exactly are you coming over?" Beau curled his lips. "Why does it seem like you guys are more anxious than I am?" "Of course!" Demarion rolled his eyes. "You've finally figured it out. You planned to give Eliza the perfect wedding. Of course, we're in a hurry." After that, the little fellow lowered his voice and said, "Daddy, tell us, why?" "Why do you suddenly want to hold a wedding ceremony for mommy?" "Is it because mommy is pregnant?" Beau rubbed his glabellar. "No." "Then what's the reason?" "You'll know when the wedding is held." Putting down the phone, he closed his eyes. Eliza's pretty face appeared before his eyes. He had even begun to look forward to see her look when she saw the mirror in the auditorium in her wedding dress. He wanted to tell her at their wedding that she was Chasity. She was the birth mother of the three children. He owed her too much.

This time, he intended to make it up to her. "Sir." Noah knocked on the door and walked in. "Diamond Ring, formal attire, all ready." After that, he hesitated for a moment. "Your wounds haven't healed yet. Because of Miss Yates, your family was turned upside down. Isn't it inappropriate... to hold a wedding at this time?" Beau gave him a cold look. "Do I have to care about others if I want to hold a wedding?" After that, he closed his eyes lightly. "Let the doctor come over and give me a corticosteroid injection. She can't treat me as a patient on her best day."

Noah glanced at his bandaged hand and let out a long sigh.

When Eliza returned to the villa, the servants in the villa were brought out by the butler and they lined up in two rows at the entrance. "Welcome home, Madam!" "Welcome Madam!"

Their uniform movements and voices made Eliza feel a bit flattered. She was stunned for a moment before she smiled and said, "Why are you all so grand..." The butler looked at her with a smile. "Because today is a more important day to you!" Eliza frowned and thought for a while. It was indeed very important for her as she found Chasity. But there was no need for such exaggeration. Eliza didn't expect this, and what was even more exaggerated was still to come. She was pressed in front of the dressing table and put on the bride's makeup, although she was confused, she thought that maybe the bride's makeup was more beautiful. But when the servant gave her a wedding dress, she really couldn't sit still. "Well... I don't have to wear this kind of clothes, right?" The maid gave her a perfunctory smile and said, "As Mr. Valentine said, you have to wear this dress to show your status." "Don't worry, Mr. Valentine won't lie to you. You don't trust us but you can trust Mr. Valentine, right?" Eliza was speechless. She sighed. In the end, she still went to the locker room to change her clothes. Putting on the wedding dress and sitting in the car, Eliza felt more and more improper. She took out her phone and wanted to call Beau to ask what was going on. But before she could dial, her cell phone rang. The phone call was from Luca. Why did her father call her at this time?

Eliza furrowed her eyebrows and answered the call. "Eliza." Luca's voice on the other end of the line was very serious. "Did you fight with someone at the airport yesterday?" "Using the technique I taught you?" Eliza furrowed her eyebrows. "... Yes." When her father taught her these martial arts, he had warned her that these could only be used for self-defense and could not be simply shown. Yesterday at the airport, she was kidnapped. She had no choice but to use those technique in public. "How did you find out so quickly." Luca on the other end of the phone was silent for a long time. After a while, his voice was angry and cold. "I shouldn't have cared about your life or death, let alone teach you these things!" "If I had known that you were so disobedient, I wouldn't have taught you even if you were killed in danger!" Eliza was instantly dumbfounded. Her hand, which was holding the phone, trembled slightly. "Dad, why did you... why did you say that..." "Leave Krine immediately and go somewhere no one recognizes you.” “They are already targeting you.” Eliza was startled. Just as she was about to ask who Luca was referring to, she heard a loud ‘bang’ sound.

The phone in Eliza’s hand fell to the ground due to the tremor. She raised her head subconsciously. The bridge in front was blown up. The car had to stop. Eliza was shocked and speechless by the scene in front of her. 2 She looked blankly ahead. “How could it.” She had watched all kinds of explosions in the set for many years. But the real explosion of the bridge in front of her shocked her for a long time. At this time, a row of black BMWs drove from behind to the front and then stopped at the same time. A group of men in black got out of the car. A bodyguard holding an umbrella opened the Bentley’s door. A middle-aged man with gray hair got out of the car. He walked towards Eliza with large steps. Finally, standing outside her window, he respectfully bowed and said, “Welcome back Miss Chapman.”

My Three Darlings by Anonymous

Chapter 192

/ My Three Darlings by Anonymous

Chapter 192

“Everyone, today, Mr. Valentine suddenly announced that he would hold a wedding ceremony with Miss Eliza today.” “As everyone can see, the venue is quite luxuriously decorated.” “It’s said that the bride will come to attend the wedding ceremony today in a wedding dress worth millions of dollar.” “This is the most luxurious wedding in the history of Krine!”

The auditorium of the most luxurious five-star hotel in Krine was crowded. The reporters and guests crowded the whole venue. At the backstage, Liliana, who was wearing a little gown, was sitting in the middle of the Braint and Demarion, holding her head in her hands, feeling wronged. “It seems that Mr. Benton has no chance.” “But it doesn’t matter. Mr. Benton and Miss Lawson are not very suitable together.” Liliana’s words made Demarion laugh uncontrollably. He knocked Liliana’s arm with his and said, “Do you think that my mommy and daddy are a perfect match now?” Liliana hesitated for a moment before pursing her lips. “People who love each other are the most suitable!” “Hmph, if you had said so earlier, Mr. Benton wouldn’t have been so heartbroken after he fell in love with my mommy.” After that, Demarion raised his hand and knocked Braint’s shoulder. “Brother, don’t you think so?”

In a black and white tailored suit, Braint was still holding the laptop in his arms with a frown. His appearance made the Demarion somewhat dissatisfied. The little fellow stood up and stretched out his little hand to block the laptop screen. “Brother!” “What time is it already!” “It’s a big celebration in our family that daddy and mommy held a wedding today!” “Stop staring at your broken laptop!” Braint twisted his eyebrows and raised his hand to push away the hand on the laptop screen. He said in a low voice, “Something happened.” Demarion curled his lips. “Hey, what are you talking about, brother? What happened?” Hearing what Braint said, Liliana twisted her eyebrows and scratched her head while looking at him. Her black eyes suddenly widened. "Is this Miss Lawson's signal wave?" Braint nodded.

She closed her eyes and said, "I just saw the news that Rigg Bridge was blown up. It suddenly occurred to me that Rigg Bridge is the only way from home to the hotel." "So I tried to follow Mommy's signal." "All her signals were cut off at the Rigg Bridge." .

As soon as he said that, Demarion immediately realized the seriousness of the matter. Like a madman, he lifted his leg and ran frantically towards the room Beau was at. At this moment, Beau was lying on the sickbed. His face was completely pale. Demarion was stunned. "Daddy..." "Everything was fine before. But he suddenly became like this." Noah sighed. "I've already sent people to look for a doctor." Demarion clenched his teeth as he watched his father, who had always been cold and calm, become this weak. He went up and held his father's hand. "Daddy, are you alright?" "I'm fine." he forced a smile with difficulty. He turned his head to look at the Demarion. "Is your mommy here?" "Noah, get me some medicine and make up." "I have to arrange this wedding perfectly for her." Noah paused. "But Sir, your body..." "It's not as important as Eliza." He forced himself to up and struggled to get up. "Daddy. Mommy, she can't come!" Demarion grabbed Beau's hand tightly. "The Rigg Bridge was just blown up. Mommy's signal has disappeared!" Beau was stunned. After a long time, he raised his pale face and asked, "Where did she go?" "I don't know!" Demarion said anxiously, "Brother said that we couldn't detect the signal on her mobile phone..." "Maybe... maybe Madam's cell phone fell into the river!" Noah hurriedly held Beau's body and said, "Sir, don't worry. I'll get someone to investigate right now." "You'd better..." "I'll go in person." He struggled to stand up. He held Demarion's hand with one hand and held the wall with the other. "I'm going to find her..." Eliza couldn't have had an accident. She should have just been trapped in place. She should have just dropped her phone in the river. This was definitely the case.

He struggled to get out of the lounge.

Bang-! "Sir!" "Daddy!"

"He was drugged." Outside the ward, Owen heaved a sigh of relief as he looked at Matthew and the three children standing in front of him. "After this poison takes effect, it depends on how excited you are." "Today... is the day that Beau and Eliza get married. He may be too excited, so..." He sighed and bowed his head to write on the medical record book. "It's not a big deal. When the medicine takes effect, it will make people dizzy." "Given Beau's excitement today, he should have fainted long ago." "Perhaps he relied on his willpower to complete the wedding with Eliza, right?" "There is no antidote to this medicine. The only antidote is to have a good rest." Matthew took a look at Beau, who was still in a coma in the ward. "How could he be recuperating after what happened?" Owen sighed and closed the medical record book. "Haven't you heard from Eliza yet?" "No." Matthew sighed. "The bridge was destroyed, and the surrounding surveillance was destroyed." "Almost everyone in the team escorting Eliza was injured in various degrees due to the explosion. Most of them were knocked unconscious." "I've asked around, but there's basically no clue." "As for Eliza.... I found her damaged phone and the wedding dress worth millions of dollar." "As for the rest, there is no clue at all." Matthew sighed and said, "I really don't know where she went." "The family is finally ready to be reunited, but something like this happened..." His words made Demarion frown. The little fellow pursed his lips. "Owen, what are you talking about? What family?" Owen and Matthew looked at each other. After they exchanged glances, Owen sighed and squatted down. "Braint, Demarion and Liliana, the three of you come over here." The two little guys sitting on the bench in the distance trying to find Eliza's signal immediately jumped off the chairs. "What's wrong?" "Your daddy was going to announce it at the wedding." Owen sighed and turned to look at the unconscious Beau. "Now your mommy is missing and Daddy is unconscious." "I'll announce it for them." After that, he handed the file in his hand to Braint. "You are all smart children, read it yourself." The three little kids looked at each other. In the end, Braint directly opened the file pocket. Inside were six DNA test reports. They were Braint, Demarion, Liliana, Eliza and Beau's DNA paternity and maternity test. According to the DNA report, Braint and Eliza were confirmed to be mother and son. According to the DNA report, Liliana and Eliza were confirmed to be mother and daughter. According to the DNA report, Liliana and Beau were father and daughter.

The three little kids were all stunned after reading the six DNA report. In the end, it was Braint who came back to his senses first. He took a deep breath. "So, mommy is our real mommy, and Liliana is our biological sister." Demarion and Liliana were dumbfounded. How could... How could it be so coincidental? The three of them played together all this time. They originally thought that they were fated, but in the end, they were triplets!?

Liliana was stunned for a long time. In the end, she took a deep breath in excitement. "I'm going to call Mr. Benton!"

Benton family. Julian sat idly on the chair and listened to the elders' nagging. "News just came that the Chapman family's butler had brought Miss Chapman back." "Another fake one, right? After so many years, how many fake ladies did the Chapman family find?" "I guess Miss Chapman is already dead." Julian was extremely irritated by the news. He turned to the balcony. At this moment, the phone rang. He picked up the phone. "You little heartless girl, you finally remember to call me?" Liliana on the other end of the phone paused. "Mr. Benton, I have found my biological parents!" He was in a good mood and hooked his lips. "Really?" "My daddy is Beau, and Mommy is Eliza!" "Bang!" Julian's cell phone fell to the ground.

My Three Darlings by Anonymous

Chapter 193

/ My Three Darlings by Anonymous
Chapter 193

"I'm really not your Miss Chapman. You've made a mistake!" Inside the luxurious European style room, Eliza was tied to the bed, her voice already hoarse. "I am just the daughter of a drunkard from a slum. You all really made a mistake!" She had been caught by these people for two days. That day, Beau asked her to go home and change her clothes to meet Chasity, but before she could see Chasity, she was caught by these people. It had been two days! Beau's hand was still injured. She wondered how he was doing... and if he was looking for her as well. Thinking of this, she continued shouting in a hoarse voice, "Please let me go home." "Miss Chapman." After a while, the door opened. The gray-haired butler walked in with a smile. "You've been shouting for two days. Take a rest." Eliza glared at him. "Let me go home!" "This is your home." The butler chuckled and sat down on the chair. He sized up Eliza's face and said, "She's quite similar to Madam when she was young." "After searching for so many years, I finally found the real Miss Chapman." His greedy gaze made Eliza uncomfortable all over. She turned her face away. "Even if we look alike, it's just a coincidence." The butler smiled. He changed into a comfortable position and sat on the chair with his legs crossed. "I won't recognize wrongly." Eliza rolled her eyes. She turned around and stared coldly at the butler for a while. "What do you want to do?" He kidnapped her and claimed that she was Miss Chapman. Since she was Miss Chapman, why was she tied to the bed? "I asked you to come back because I wanted you to revive the Chapman family." The housekeeper glanced at Eliza coldly and said, "You are the young lady of the Chapman family. What you carry with you is the whole Chapman family." Eliza took in a breath of cold air. "You said I was Miss Chapman, then I am?" "You said I should carry the Chapman family, then I should carry it?" "What do you take me for?" After that, she stared at him coldly. "I request you to send me home immediately!" "I have my husband, my children, and my own life!" Regardless of whether she was the so-called Miss Chapman, she did not want to stay in this depressing place for the whole day!

"Miss Chapman."

The butler sighed. "You always care about the past. How can you become the leader of the Chapman family?" Eliza frowned. "Who wants to be the leader of the Chapman family?" "You." The housekeeper stared at her and his eyes instantly turned cold. He stared at her face, and his voice and eyes were equally cold. "Your body is flowing with the blood of the Chapman family. You are born to carry the fate of the Chapman family and become the helper of Master and Young Master."

This was the first time Eliza had seen such crazy eyes. She was so scared that she her body retreated. "... "You don't have to refuse." The butler sneered. "I know you can't give up everything at home and all your feelings and persistence." "It doesn't matter." He looked at Eliza's face and laughed coldly. "We invited a doctor that has been recently working on how to make people lose their memory." "He will help you, forget everything in the past, and become a good leader for the Chapman family." After speaking, under Eliza's shocked gaze, the butler gracefully stood up and left. Watching his back as he left, Eliza felt as if her mind was rumbling. Forget the past. Forget it... No! She did not want to forget! She could not forget Beau. She could not forget Braint and Demarion! In the past 23 years of life, she had always been gloomy. Being cheated by her best friend, foolishly went for surrogacy, and getting betrayed. After marrying Beau, she finally understood what home was and what living was. What light was. He was a beam of light in her life. Now, someone actually wanted to use drugs to make her forget about this beam of light! She struggled violently. In the empty room, the sound of her mourning and the impact of the chains echoed. After who knew how much time had passed, the door was opened again when Eliza became tired. It was a tall man in a white coat who came in with a medical kit. The man wore a hat and a mask. She could not see his face clearly from afar. But she knew that this should be who the butler said, the person who will take away her memory! She instinctively retreated. Blood flowed from her wrists and ankles, but she was unaware of

She seemed to be crazy and shook her head desperately. "No, no!" "I beg you..."

The man still walked over indifferently, quickly opening the medicine chest. There was a smell of disinfectant. Eliza looked at him as he slowly placed those medicines on the table one by one. Every time he took out one, her heart fiercely contracted. "Doctor..." The man in a white coat sighed and turned to look at her. "Long time no see." The man's clear voice made Eliza's eyes wide open. This voice... It was a little familiar! Seeing her staring at him blankly, the man shrugged helplessly and raised his hand to take off the mask on his face. When she saw his familiar face, Eliza's tears almost fell. "Mr. Hill!"

The man in front of her was no other than Ethan, who had said in Krine that he would help Eliza find the amnesia antidote!

"Hush." Ethan made a "shushing" gesture at her. "If your voice is louder, they will know our relationship. Aren't you afraid that they will change doctors for you?" Eliza paused and quickly lowered her voice. "Why are you here?" "For you." Ethan shrugged. "In order to help you find the antidote to the amnesia, I went all over the major research laboratories in Puskia." "Later, I finally found a way to get your memory back." Eliza's eyes widened in excitement. "You really found it?" "That's right." "Because if I wanted to understand the theory of your amnesia, I must find this medicine that can cause amnesia." Ethan took a deep breath and said, "When I was investigating the amnesia drugs, the Chapman family found me." "They are willing to pay a sky-high amount for me to keep one of the medicines for them. They want to keep it as a reserve." "I wandered around. I was indeed short of money, so I agreed." "But I didn't expect you to be the Miss Chapman whom they wanted to wash away memories of the past." Eliza bit her lips and looked at him helplessly. "I... don't want to lose my memories." "So Mr. Hill..." She looked up at him seriously. "Can you pretend to give me medicine and I will also pretend to have amnesia?" "So you go find Beau..." Ethan looked at her faintly. "No."<sup>2</sup>

My Three Darlings by Anonymous

Chapter 194

/ My Three Darlings by Anonymous
Chapter 194

Eliza felt a little despair. She looked helplessly at Ethan. "Mr. Hill." Lowering her voice, she took a deep breath. "If you are short of money, when I go out, my husband will give you a lot." "You don't have to.." Ethan glanced at her indifferently and smiled. "Eliza, do you think I'm still short of money when I'm here?" After that, he began to prepare the medicine gracefully. The thin needle was inserted into a small bottle, and then injected into another small bottle. "You may not know much about the Chapman family of Puskia." "Chapman family, works with both the police and the triads. It is a family in the Puskia continent that no one dares to mess with." "Even though the Chapman family has a strong background and is not easy to deal with, but many people are coveting the Chapman family's property or making enemies with the Chapman family." "Twenty-three years ago, a Hamza, the Master of the Chapman family, who wielded great power, passed away in a car accident. His wife, who had been pregnant for seven months, sneaked to an unknown city to give birth." "After Hamza passed away, the Chapman family instantly turned upside down. In the family, the relatives competed for power and profit with each other. Outside the family, people eyeing covetously at them." "Then, with her child stolen, Shreya had no choice but to go back to Chapman family." "Shreya is also a powerful person." "When she returned to the Chapman family, she directly seized the first person in Chapman family who stood up and wanted to fight for power and money. She personally killed him using a pistol." "Because of this, Shreya established her prestige in the Chapman family, and she became the new leader of the Chapman family." "Then she began to deal with other people in the Chapman family while secretly sending people to search for her daughter." "It's been 23 years now." Eliza was lost in her thoughts after hearing Ethan's words. "Is this Shreya you mentioned... my mom?" "What do you think?" Ethan smiled and said, "But in the past, the Chapman family had turned a blind eye to searching Miss Chapman." "After all, they think the Master is still young, so many things can be done slowly." "Many people are pessimistic about finding the Miss Chapman. They don't think she was stolen by some bodyguard. They think that she must be dead."

Eliza knitted her eyebrows. From the moment the butler and the others found her and anxiously wanted to wash her memory, it seemed that they were in a hurry.

It was not what Ethan said about them turning a blind eye. Seeming to have seen through Eliza's doubts, Ethan shrugged his shoulders. "I said it was before." "Now the Chapman family is extremely nervous." Eliza furrowed her eyebrows in confusion. "The Chapman family is facing an unprecedented crisis." He took a deep breath and said, "Half a month ago, the Master of the Chapman family, Shreya, was poisoned and in a coma." Suddenly, Eliza raised her head. "Coma?" "That's right." Ethan continued to concoct the medicine in his hand. "After Shreya was in a coma, there was no leader in the Chapman family. Most of their business in Puskia was wrested from the LY Group." "The LY Group has been keeping an eye on the Chapman family for a long time. They can't grab hold of the top business position in Puskia, so they keep an eye on the Chapman family. Some people even say that the LY Group had something to do with Shreya getting drugged." "There's no trump card for the Chapman family to compete with the LY Group. The only thing they can rely on is marriage." "And the marriage requires Miss Chapman to return." Eliza took in a breath of cold air. Therefore, the Chapman family spent so much effort to bring her back from home, tied her up, and brainwashed her, just to... send her for a marriage? "But I'm already married!" "No one cares." Ethan smiled and held the syringe, slowly walking towards Eliza. Eliza suddenly became alert! She subconsciously stepped back, but she couldn't escape no matter how hard she tried! Finally, the moment Ethan's needle pierced into her skin, she suddenly looked up at him and said, "What's the use of telling me this?" "Won't I forget everything after you injected me?" Ethan gave her a faint smile. "I think it's incorrect for Beau to say that you're dumb." Eliza frowned. Just as she was about to say something, her vision darkened. She had a long dream. In her dream, she was tied to the bed of the mental hospital, being injected with sedatives and struggling again and again. She screamed like a madman, screamed "I want my child!" "I want my child!" "My child is still alive!" Those people in the hospital snorted and warned her, "Don't look for your children. They will never recognize you!" "You are just a surrogate mother Do you really think he will marry you and take you seriously?" "Doctor Liu, she has always been so crazy. We have no choice but to play the trump card." "Let her forget everything." Eliza's eyes widened, screaming as she was injected with an unknown liquid. The liquid was exactly the same as the one injected by Ethan. His memory rewound again. Luca rescued her from the fire. "I shouldn't have saved you at the beginning. But now, I have caused myself a lot of trouble." Luca carried her thin and unconscious body and sighed helplessly. "They asked me strangle you to death, how could I be ruthless..." "But I didn't expect that I would pay so much for you, little girl!" "Don't cause any more trouble! They found some clues over there." "We have no choice but to send you to a mental hospital to hide for a while." "No matter how powerful the Chapman family is, they won't think of going to the mental hospital." Eliza's eyes were closed. When she heard these words, the corners of her lips couldn't help but raise into a smile.

Time went back again. It returned to the fire. Elias, who was wearing a suit and tie, stood in front of her with a smile. "Take the children and have a good rest. My brother will be back soon." "You don't have to thank me. As a member of the Valentine family, I naturally can't bear to see you separate from your children. I won't let you suffer." "I have already properly educated them. Those who lied to you about being a surrogate mother have to pay the price." "Thank you." Eliza greedily looked at the two children in her arms and sincerely thanked Elias. Later, it was dark. She choked on the fire. Thick smoke billowed. Her first reaction was to cover the children's faces with a wet towels. A man rushed in. He was charming, handsome and dignified. "I'm the children's father!"

The man directly pulled her up. "I'll take you away!" Eliza glanced at the children. "Take them away first!" "Okay, wait for me to come back!" After saying this, the man carried the two children and disappeared into the sea of fire. The fire grew bigger and bigger. She waited in the fire but no one came back. The fire swallowed her. The fire burnt her face, making her unable to breathe.

In such an extremely difficult situation, Eliza suddenly opened her eyes. In front of her was still the Chapman family's villa. She had a dream. "It seems that I remember." Ethan sat on the sofa beside. He crossed his legs in an elegant manner. His eyes were indifferent. "How do you feel?" Eliza furrowed her eyebrows and looked at him vigilantly. "Who are you?"

My Three Darlings by Anonymous

Chapter 195

/ My Three Darlings by Anonymous
Chapter 195

"Eliza." Ethan knitted his eyebrows. Although he said that he gave her the medicine to make her get amnesia, in fact, he gave her the antidote! She should now remember everything about the past. Why did Eliza look as though she had really been injected with amnesia drug? He lowered his eyes and looked at the medicine in the medicine box. He was confused. Why was she... "Are you acting?" "Although I am an actress." Eliza looked up and gave him an indifferent look. "But I'm not acting." She turned and looked at her hands tied to the head of the bed by the iron chain. She frowned and said, "Let me go." Ethan heaved a deep sigh. "Don't you remember me?" Eliza narrowed her eyes and smiled, her voice cold. "Do I need to know you?" "Do you remember who you are? Who is your father? Who is your husband? Who are your children?" A hint of coldness appeared in Eliza's eyes. "Checking the household registration?" Her cold eyes made Ethan shrink his body, which was rare to see. Something went wrong. Either there was something wrong with the composition of the antidote or someone changed his medicine.

The current Eliza was completely different from before. Even the look in her eyes was different. Frightened by her eyes, he took a step back, swallowed his saliva, and said carefully, "I just want to confirm your current situation" Eliza rolled her eyes coldly. "I'm Eliza." "I'm Miss Chapman from the Chapman family who has been wandering in Krine." "My father was the patriarch of the Chapman family who passed away many years ago. My mother Shreya became the patriarch of the Chapman family after my father died. Not long after that, she was drugged and became a vegetative." "My adoptive father's name is Luca." "I have three children. Two sons and one daughter. My daughter was abandoned by others when she was born. My two sons were taken away by their father in a fire incident As she spoke, she leaned against the head of the bed in a comfortable position. "I have an ex boyfriend whose name is Jay. He's an actor who's not so well known and he's now doing okay." "I still have..."

The more Ethan listened to her, the more he felt that something was amiss. "Then... Do you remember your husband?" Eliza looked up and said, "Are you kidding me? Where did I get a husband? The Chapman family asked me to get married. How could I have a husband?" Ethan knocked on his head. He still didn't want to give up. He took out his mobile phone, looked through it for a long time, and found a picture of a man and showed it to Eliza. "Do you know him?"

The man in the photo looked cold and stern with delicate features, He was dressed in a black suit and looked aloof and cold. The man in the photo coincided with the man in her mind who had abandoned her in the fire... "... Wait for me to come back..." "... Don't look for your children. They won't recognize you for the rest of their lives." ... You only provided your belly. Do you really think he will marry you and take you seriously..." "... Don't blame us for doing this to you. It's your children's father's request. He doesn't want you to get out of here alive..." The pain and suffering in her mind gradually combined together and became the face of the man in front of her.

The hatred in her eyes deepened as she stared at the photo. Finally, she looked up coldly. "Where is he?" Seeing that she had a reaction to Beau's photo, Ethan's brows lit up with joy. "You still remember him, don't you?" "I can recognize him even if he turn himself into ashes." After that, she looked up. "Where is he?" Ethan sighed. "He's in a bad state right now. He's in a coma every day. No one is certain if he's still alive..." Originally, he thought that if he said so, Eliza would be sad and worried. But she just frowned slightly. "It's a pity for him to die like this." Ethan's body stiffened. "People like him should be hacked into pieces."

Ethan was speechless. He lifted his head and realized that Eliza's eyes were filled with hatred when she mentioned Beau. This... He looked up at her weakly. "You don't like him anymore?" "How could I like him?" "He took my children and made me wait for him in the middle of the fire." "When I was in a coma, he didn't come to me again." "He locked me up in a mental hospital where I was tortured and beaten every day. I couldn't see my children and I almost lost my life several times." "And finally, he injected me with a drug that made me lose my memory. He was afraid that I would miss my children and I would steal my child from him." After that, she looked up at Ethan coldly. "I want to tear such a man into pieces!" Bang! Ethan instantly collapsed to the ground. He didn't use the wrong medicine. Eliza did indeed remember the memories she lost during those years. However, there was still a problem with medicine. She had forgotten about her relationship with Beau, from like and love to disgust and hate. This... If he started running for his life now, would he be able to escape from Beau's pursuit? At this time, the butler pushed the door open and came in. "Mr. Hill, what's the matter? The butler smiled and helped him up. "How is Miss Chapman?" "Sergey." Before Ethan could say anything, Eliza, who was sitting on the bed, gave him a cold look. She said coldly, "Did you try every means to kidnap me and bring me back from Krine just to lock me up as a toy?" Her tone and her eyes were completely different from before! Overjoyed, Sergey went up to her and said, "Miss Chapman, you're finally admitting that you are the young lady of Chapman family?" Eliza nodded. "Aren't you going to free me?" "Come on, untie Miss Chapman!" He excitedly began to order the servants behind him. "Go!" Eliza gave him a cold look. "There's no need for them. You come and untie me personally." Sergey hesitated. Leaning on the bed, she chuckled and looked at him. "Well, as Miss Chapman, I can't even order you, a butler, to serve me?" Sergey paused for a moment before taking a deep breath. He walked over with a smile. "It's my honor to serve Miss Chapman." With that, he took the key and quickly opened all the chains.

The moment he opened the chain, a cold light flashed through Eliza's eyes. The next second, Eliza's hand accurately grabbed the butler by the neck and pushed him directly against the wall. Her actions were so quick that the crowd did not even have time to react. When they realized it, she had already controlled Sergey.

She used all her strength and stared coldly at the pale-faced Sergey. "Do you think I am easy to bully? "Tie me up with chains?" "Believe it or not, I'll kill you now!" Looking at Eliza like this, Ethan, who was sitting on the ground, subconsciously moved his body back. He caused a big trouble. The little lamb had become hot-tempered after his injection.

My Three Darlings by Anonymous

Chapter 196

/ My Three Darlings by Anonymous
Chapter 196

"Miss... Miss Chapman." The butler's neck was choked by Eliza, and his entire face went purple. "You..." "Spare me..." "Now you know to beg for your life?" Eliza snorted coldly and continued to exert force in her hand.

"Eliza!"

Seeing that the butler was about to roll his eyes, Ethan who was behind her hurriedly called her name. Only then did she narrow her eyes slightly. She raised her long leg and fiercely kicked the butler's leg before releasing him. The butler was in pain and had no strength. In the end, he leaned against the wall and fell to the ground. Eliza turned around and returned to the side of the bed. Crossing her legs, she gracefully sat there and looked down at the butler. "Now do you know who is the master and who is the servant in this house?" The butler clutched his neck in pain, and said with much difficulty, "I... I know." "Very good." She stared coldly at the butler's face and said, "I'll give you a task." "Sure." "I have three children." Eliza raised her hand and lightly played with her hair. "Two sons and one daughter." "They should be at the age of.." She looked at the time. "Five years old." After that, she glanced at Ethan. "What's the name of the man in the photo just now?" Ethan was taken aback. He hurriedly said, "His name is Beau." "That's right." She looked at the butler's face like a sovereign. "The children's father is called Beau." "My two sons are in his hands, and my daughter needs to be found." "I'll give you a week to bring my children back." The butler covered his neck and looked up with difficulty. "Miss Chapman, you... you came back this time because you were arranged to a marriage with the Benton family, so the Chapman family can get investment..." "You are looking for your children in such a big way... Isn't it inappropriate?" Eliza raised her eyebrows. "When did I promise you to get married?" The butler frowned. "If you don't get married, our Chapman family..." She sneered. "In your eyes, do women have no choice but to get married just to help the family out?" "Don't forget, I am Shreya's daughter." If her mother was able to make the Chapman family stand firm in the business industry in Puskia by herself after her father's death, then she could also do it! Thinking of this, Eliza lightly raised her eyebrows. "If she can do it, so can I." The butler still looked hesitant. "But..."

"But what?" Eliza glared at him. "Do you not listen to me?" "No, I don't dare." "Then why don't you go?" She glared at the butler again. "A week later, I want to see my three children." After that, she thought about it again. "Bring me Beau as well." Upon hearing her mention Beau, Ethan immediately coughed lightly. "Why do you want to bring Beau here?"

If Beau knew that Eliza was acting like this because of the problem with the medicine that he had given her... he would probably tear him into pieces on the spot. Eliza looked at him coldly. "For me to beat him up." After that, she seemed to think of something. She turned her head and glanced at Ethan. "Is this Beau married?" If she remembered correctly, that woman from back then came up with such a plan because she wanted to marry Beau but did not have the ability to bear children. Ethan hesitated for a moment. "He's considered... married." His wife was this person in front of him. "He really loves his wife." Eliza yawned and glared coldly at the butler. "What are you still doing here? Get out and look for my children!" The butler paused for a moment, then scrambled out of the room. "Sergey, are... are you really going to help Miss Chapman find her children?" After leaving Eliza's room, a group of servants followed behind the butler, respectfully handing him tissues. Sergey took the tissue and glanced at the man coldly. "Why do I want to find them? Do you want her to recover her memories?" After that, he took a piece of tissue to wipe the cold sweat on his forehead. "I know that Ethan cannot be trusted so I specifically asked someone to change his medicine." "In order not to be discovered, the dosage is not much." He looked ahead, and his eyes were cold. "But now, it seems enough." "But Sergey." The servant behind him hesitated for a moment and said, "Why do I feel that the current Miss Chapman is worse than the Miss Chapman without amnesia..." Although Eliza also caused trouble before she lost her memory, she was not so violent. Now that she had lost her memories, her character seemed to have changed... Sergey sneered. "What's the use of that?" "Let her kick up a row first. Once the wedding date is near, we'll knock her out and send her to the Benton family."

Once the marriage is settled, she will become a member of the Benton family." After Shreya became vegetative, the LY Group has been eyeing her covetously. The relatives of the Chapman family always wanted to take over the Chapman family. The Chapman family was under attack from both sides. Although the Chapman family had married the second young lady to the young master of the Benton family's second branch not long ago, this was far from enough. The main branch of the Benton family was actually the one that was truly wealthy and powerful Julian, the young master of the main branch, was not only engaged to Eliza when he was young but he was also a person who valued relationship. If Eliza married him earlier, the Chapman family would be saved! Thinking of this, Sergey frowned, "By the way, did the Benton family reply?" The servant paused for a while and said, "Yes..." "They said that Master Julian went back to Krine overnight. It seems that something happened to the girl he likes... Sergey frowned "Did the Benton family say when he would be back?" "It is said that he will be back in one to two weeks..." One to two weeks. Faintly, Sergey remembered that Eliza gave him a week to bring back her three children. After a long silence, he glanced at the servant, "Let's pretend to look for them. Don't let her find any flaws." If he did nothing, he was afraid that he would be choked to death before Julian came back.

***

"Do you think that Sergey will really help you get the children back?" Standing in Eliza's bedroom, Ethan looked at the back of Sergey in the distance as he frowned and asked her Eliza leaned back in her chair, gracefully sharpening a small sharp knife. "Of course he won't truly help me, but at least I have to put on a show." Ethan was stunned and quickly turned around, "What do you plan to do then? Don't you want to look for them?" "Of course not." Eliza looked down at the shining blade and said, "I plan to go back to Krine to find them myself after I deal with the Chapman family's matter."

Ethan subconsciously took a step back as he watched her sharpen the blade. "Then it'll take a long time, won't it?" Eliza looked up at him, "Do you have a better idea?" Ethan fell silent for a moment, After a while, he raised his head. "Why don't we let Beau bring the children over himself?" Eliza smiled. "They're willing to come." Ethan nodded, "I can contact the Valentine family."

My Three Darlings by Anonymous

Chapter 197

/ My Three Darlings by Anonymous
Chapter 197

Eliza gave him an indifferent look. "Then you should contact them." Ethan took out his phone. He remembered that he saved the Valentine family's number, but he only found Elias's number on the phone. He frowned and thought for a while. Elias could do for now. After all, they were all from the Valentine family. Taking a deep breath, he walked out of the room and dialed Elias's number in the corridor.

.....

At the central hospital of Krine. After being unconscious for an entire night, Beau finally woke up. When he woke up, it was early in the morning. It was quiet everywhere.

There were two beds in the ward. He was the one lying on one bed, and three little children were lying on the other bed. Looking at the three of them sleeping together, he sighed helplessly. He didn't want to disturb them, so he struggled to walk out of the ward with a cane. "Sir!" Noah had been sitting on a bench in the corridor taking a nap. Seeing Beau come out, he jumped up directly. Beau gestured at him to keep quiet. Noah glanced back at the three little children who were still sleeping in the ward. In silence, he lowered his voice and said, "They've been waiting for you for an entire day and night. They're very tired." After that, he quickly supported Beau's body. "When did you wake up? How do you feel now?" "I'm fine." With the help of Noah, Beau carefully sat down on the bench. "Is there any news about her?" Beau's question silenced Noah instantly. After a long time, he sighed. "No." "We have searched all the airports and stations in Krine." "We've searched every corner of the surveillance footage. We can't find any trace of her leaving the city." "But she's definitely no longer in Krine." "We have also searched the domestic cities, but we haven't found the entry record of Madam..." Noah carefully looked at Julian's face. "So... do you want to use the manpower from Puskia..." Beau closed his eyes and said, "Search for another day in the country, if you can't find her, then start there." Noah nodded. "Alright." After talking about searching for Eliza, Noah was silent for a while. "What about Lucija?" "We locked her up after Madam caught her. She has been locked up for several days now." "Elias came to see you yesterday. It looked like he wanted to plead for leniency.." Beau rubbed his forehead. "Lock her up first." "When she comes back... let her handle it herself." Eliza was the one who was hurt by Lucija. The one she was sorry to was also Eliza. It was even Eliza who captured her. Even though Eliza wasn't in Krine right now, he believed that she would return sooner or later.

"Beau."

At this time, a man's deep voice could be heard at the end of the corridor. Beau raised his head. On the other end was Elias's smiling eyes. At this moment, the sky was slightly bright. Elias was wearing windbreaker, carrying fruit baskets and flowers as he walked towards him. Beau narrowed his eyes. Six years ago, after the fire, Elias came to the hospital to see him. "Don't worry. We've buried the children's mother well." "You have tried your best. Don't blame yourself too much." "From now on, you should live well with the children." Back then, the words that Elias had said in front of his bed seemed to still linger in his ears. In the past, he felt estranged from his elder brother and Elias was the one who truly loved him. He believed it and regarded him as his closest family member. But now. He looked at Elias walking towards him with mocking eyes. Elias clearly knew everything. Back then, he told Beau that he had found Chasity, the girl he had accidentally slept with and was pregnant with. He was also the one who said that he would bury Chasity's body well. But in the end... Five years later, when Elias saw Eliza standing beside him, he chose to remain silent. While Eliza was desperately searching for Chasity, who did not exist, he was still silent as he secretly helped Lucija.

The brother that he thought was closest to him had only been protecting Lucija from beginning to end. "Beau." Elias stood in front of Beau and looked at him with concern. "How are you feeling?" "About Eliza's disappearance, I also asked my friend working in the police station to help me investigate..." "Are you worried about her?" Beau raised his eyes and swept them coldly across Elias's face. "You must want her to never come back?" His words made Elias silent for a moment. Then, he smiled gently. "I know that you're in a bad mood because of Eliza's disappearance." "But I am indeed worried for her and for you." Beau snorted coldly. "You're worried about Lucija, aren't you?" Having his worries exposed, Elias curled his lips and turned around to sit down on the bench next to Beau. "I'm willing to apologize for the mistakes Lucija has done." "She's just too willful..." Beau narrowed his eyes. He turned to look at Elias and then looked forward. "You can teach her if she is capricious the first time. You can also cover for her mistakes the second time. But what about the third time?" "During the first time, Lucija approached Eliza to be a surrogate mother and tried to plot against me." "The second time, she set a fire during my first encounter with Eliza." "She hired a killer on purpose and planned to kill Eliza when she was filming in the village. It was the third time." After that, Beau turned to look at Elias again. "Is there no bottom line for you to cover-up for her?" "But I'm sorry, I have a bottom line." "I don't know what she did to Eliza the first two times." "If I knew, I wouldn't let her live to do it the third time!" His words made Elias's face turn slightly pale. "There are indeed many things that Lucija did wrong..." Elias closed his eyes. "I didn't teach her well." At that time, he only mentioned one sentence in front of Lucija, "If you marry Beau, then my plan can proceed a lot faster." Because of this sentence, Lucija became what she was now. She had always wanted to stand shoulder to shoulder with him and become his right-hand man. He always knew.

Thinking of this, Elias sighed. "Beau, I'm not here to quarrel with you." "I came here to make a deal with you." Beau frowned and turned to stare at him coldly, not saying a word. The atmosphere in the corridor was quiet. Elias coughed lightly. "I've found Eliza's whereabouts." "But as an exchange, I hope you can release Lucija and let me take her away."

My Three Darlings by Anonymous

Chapter 198

/ My Three Darlings by Anonymous

Chapter 198

The atmosphere in the corridor of the hospital suddenly quieted down. The atmosphere began to be tense. Beau frowned and turned around to look at the ward behind him. The door, which had been closed, was now half-closed. He sighed faintly and looked up at Elias coldly. "Elias." "Is Lucija that important for you?" Elias also chuckled. "That depends on how important Eliza is to you." Beau switched to a comfortable position and leaned against the bench. "Eliza is important to me because she is my wife, my children's mother, the woman I love the most in my life." "What is Lucija to you?" "Perhaps, she's also my love." Elias's eyes sunk into a faint smile. "I'm only asking if you're willing to do this deal." As he spoke, he looked at Beau and curled his lips. "You must have done your best to search for her. How many clues have you found?" "My information can let you immediately know Eliza's whereabouts. If you knew it earlier, she would easily come back to you." "The deal.." "It's up to you." Beau narrowed his eyes. Elias was also deliberately provoking him. He took a deep breath and his eyes were cold. "Since you can find Eliza's information, I believe that I can find it with my own ability."

After that, he smiled coldly. "I think that even if Eliza knows, she will support my decision." "She doesn't want me to let go of the person she caught personally in order to get her information." Elias's eyes suddenly turned cold. "Beau, do you really have to go against me like this?" Beau also sneered. "Elias, do you really want to indulge Lucija?" After that, he leaned on the bench in a comfortable position. "Or, you didn't indulge her because she has done so much..." "Did you order her to do so?" Elias also narrowed his eyes and smiled. "I just think that she is a little girl." "If you don't want to make this deal, forget it. I always have a way to make you obediently hand over Lucija." After saying this, he stood up and looked down at Beau who was sitting in the chair. "But it's hard to say whether you can find Eliza or whether she is still your wife when you find her." After that, he lifted his leg and strode away. Beau leaned back in his chair and closed his eyes silently. When Elias walked to the door of the elevator, he called out indifferently, "Elias." Elias stopped in his tracks. He looked back at him coldly. "What's wrong?" "Are you going back on your words?" Beau furrowed his eyebrows. "Is our relationship not comparable to Lucija?" He knew that regardless of whether he agreed to Elias's request or not, there was no way for their relationship to remain the same in the future. Elias also paused and smiled. "Who is your blood brother?" He looked at Beau with a cold, cruel look in his eyes. "My mother is Jory's legal wife. Do you still remember what your mother is?" "You call me brother. Do you deserve it?" After saying this, Elias sneered and walked into the elevator. Watching his figure disappear into the elevator, Beau's uninjured hand clenched into a fist. He, Gian, and Elias were indeed not born of the same mother. Gian and Elias's mothers were the Jory's legal wife. As for Beau, he was born by a young and beautiful woman, whom Jory brought back after Mrs. Valentine died. She was only two years older than Jory's eldest son, Gian. The Valentine family did not allow Jory to marry her. She accompanied him with no reason, maintaining this May-December romance that no one thought highly of. Not long after she gave birth to Beau, she died due to depression. The relationship between the Valentine family's three brothers was actually not as good as it appeared on the surface. But all along, the only person who had clearly hated Beau was Gian. Elias had always appeared as a kind and amiable second brother. When he was young, he was so kind to him that Beau always felt that Elias was different from

Gian.

But now... He looked at Elias's back as his inky eyes narrowed slightly. No wonder Lucija was good at disguising herself. It turned out that she has a good teacher to teach her closely. "Daddy." Just when he was silent, the door of the ward behind him opened. Demarion poked his head out of the ward's door and looked excitedly at Beau. "Daddy, come in!"

Beau came to his senses and pushed the door open before entering the ward. Demarion closed the door behind him silently. Braint and Liliana were sitting on the two beds in the ward with their laptop. Beau frowned and walked over. "How's it going?" "I've traced her whereabouts." Taking a deep breath, Liliana spoke first, "When you were dealing with that person just now, Braint and I had already begun to locate the people he had recently contacted." "According to data analysis, he received a phone call an hour before he came here." "The source of the phone comes from..." Liliana suddenly opened her eyes wide. After a long while, she raised her head and opened her big, watery eyes. "It's from the Chapman family in Puskia." Chapman family. Beau frowned. He had heard of the Chapman family. The former Chapman family was the first family in Puskia. Later, when the master of the Chapman family passed away, the Chapman family was managed by his wife, Shreya. After Shreya took over, the Chapman family changed from the first family in Puskia to the second. Although it was the second family, the Chapman family had always maintained a good relationship with the first family, the Benton family. A marriage had been involved for many years. "The number that called Elias has been locked. His name is Ethan." The distant Braint raised his head. "He contacted mommy before. He went overseas to look for the genius doctor who could save mommy from her amnesia." Beau's eyebrows furrowed. Chapman family. Ethan. A bad feeling rose from the bottom of his heart... "Recently, the gossip news about the Chapman family is that the Chapman family has found the missing Miss Chapman from many years ago." "This young lady of the Chapman family, if she return to the Chapman family, she will abide by the agreement and marry Julian, the young master of the Benton family. From then on, the Chapman family will be protected by the Benton family and won't be annexed by competitors." After saying all that, Braint looked up at Beau. "Dad, what do you plan to do?" What should he do...

Beau narrowed his eyes and picked up his phone. "Noah, get ready. I'm going to Puskia." "I'll go too." Liliana blinked her big eyes and carefully raised her hand. "I am Mr. Benton's adopted daughter, so I am familiar with that place." "Bring me along" Braint closed his laptop silently. "I can help you solve many computer related mechanisms." "The Chapman family is heavily guarded. You can't do it without me." Demarion could only raise his hand silently after hearing his brother and sister's words. "Um... I can help you lie. My mouth is pretty sharp..."