Chapter 133 – Grandfather Fu Scolds Fu Hua And Accepts An Interview To Clarify Things

It didnt take up to an hour for Feng Alixs post to explode. Not because she was too popular, but because of Fu Huas involvement.

And just like she wished, the news was the talk of everyone. The bloggers, reporters, and everyone curious about their relationship carried their news around.

Fu Hua was working in his office when Fu YingPei came into his office.

Fu Hua glanced at him with a frown and asked, What are you doing here ?

Brother, is it true that youre dating that supermodel, Alix ? Fu YingPei asked in a serious tone as he approached his table.

Fu Huas brows were furrowed as he stopped what he was doing to face him.

What nonsense are you talking about, where did you hear that from ? Fu Hua asked.

Its all over the news that you are dating Feng Alix, and she was the one that posted the picture of you two together. Fu YingPei revealed.

Where did you see the picture? Show me! Fu Hua asked as he stretched his hand towards him, and YingPei came to stand beside him before passing his phone to Fu Hua.

When Fu Hua saw the post, he was boiling in rage. He felt like strangling Feng Alix when he saw her public post.

He saw that there was indeed a picture of them together and that was the scene that happened in the morning.

Brother, whats going on? Fu YingPei asked in a worried tone, after seeing Fu Huas angry countenance.

I indeed went to the hospital to see Alix because I thought she had something important to say to me. We used to date, and I got married to Jia Li without ending things with her, and now, she is taking revenge on me. Fu Hua said.

Huh? How come I didnt know about this? Fu YingPei asked with a confused look

He was really surprised that his brother once dated the supermodel, but didnt say anything to him.

Brother, you have to find a way to clear your name since youre not involved with her. She made the caption sound ambiguous, you cant sue her for that reason since she didnt say you two were dating. Fu YingPei pointed out.

But I can at least arrest the person that took this picture. Fu Hua said in an angry tone.

Who took the picture? Fu YingPei asked in a low tone.

We were only three in that room. Me, Alix, and her manager, so who did you think took the picture? Fu Hua asked as he slowly looked up.

Her manager. And I'm sure she must have ordered her to do this. But brother, you need to find a way to explain things to sister-in-law, and grandfather. Fu YingPei reminded him.

I am not afraid of anybody, but I don't need grandfathers scolding right now. Fu Hua said, and right then, he got a call from the old man.

Grandfather Fu was resting in the garden when Butler Lu hurried towards him in quick steps. And before the old man could ask what was going on, Butler Lu showed the news to him while explaining things to him.

Grandfather Fu was very angry and immediately asked him to ring Fu Hua up.

How could he go to visit that girl in the hospital, now look at the news. Does he know the consequences of being in a scandal?!

When Fu Hua answered the call, the old man started scolding him immediately.

Fu Hua, what is the meaning of these? How could you go to see that girl, have you forgotten that you're married?! How do you want to explain things to Jia Li, do you want the poor girl to get depressed that her husband went behind her back to visit his old flame?!

Fu Hua listened on and on till he got a chance to explain himself.

Grandfather, Alix, and I are over. I have already ended things with her. I only went to visit her because she said she had something important to say to me for the last time, I didn't know she had this trick up her sleeve.

Your foolish actions want to make me take a DNA test to confirm if you are my grandchild. I also want to question my teachings to you! How could you blindly fall into a womans trap?! You better find ways to explain things to Jia Li!

After scolding him, Grandfather Fu ended the call and he was breathing heavily.

Butler Lu sighed and took the phone from him. He was about to leave when he heard the old man call him back.

Lu, wait, accept that interview that I rejected, but I have a few questions to add there. Grandfather Fu said after a few seconds of thinking.

Huh...

Butler Lu couldnt tell what the man was thinking.

Seeing his confused look, Grandfather Fu explained...

I want to use this opportunity to announce that Fu Hua is married, let me see how other women will dare to get ideas about a married man! That shameless woman caused so much trouble, who knows where the next one will pop out from?.

Butler Lu thought that the Old man surely had no idea that there were shameless women who wouldnt mind that aspect of dating or sleeping with a married man.

Butler remembered that Fu Hua didnt want his marriage to Jia Li to be made public, so he probed.

Sir, what about Master Hua, how will you settle things with him about the announcement?

Does he dare to say anything to me? I am not going to announce who he is married to, just his status. I don't want someone like that woman to get ideas about him again. Grandfather Fu said.

Oh! Butler Lu replied now that he had gotten the message.

Don't just stand there, go and contact them and give them my condition. There are some things you need to think ahead of me, but you let me do everything! Grandfather Fu complained.

Butler Lu smiled and apologized before leaving to contact the people for the interview.

The main reason Grandfather Fu didn't want to involve Jia Li in this matter, was to protect her and nothing more...

Chapter 134 – Warlord Fu Reveals His Grandsons Secret Marriage

Jia Li was still in school when she received a call from DanDan.

Jia Li, are you okay? DanDan asked in a worried tone.

Im fine. Why do you sound so worried, whats wrong? Jia Li asked as she strolled to the school gate.

Have you seen the news? Your...your... forget it. I'm sure it will pass. How were your exams today? DanDan asked as she changed the topic smoothly.

Yes, the exam was okay. Actually, it was a bit difficult. Jia Li still looked confused when she replied.

I know you will pass with an excellent grade, I trust you. I have to go now, I'll talk to you later. DanDan said and ended the call immediately because she didn't want Jia Li to ask her any questions about the news trending online.

Jia Li glanced at her phone screen that lighted up with furrowed brows. She was curious about the news online for DanDan to call and check up on her.

Jia Li stood still in her position and went online. She saw that the No. 1 trending news on the internet, was about Fu Hua and his ex-girlfriend.

Jia Li felt some series of emotions stir up in her anger, jealousy, pain, envy, doubt, and anything you can think.

Jia Li couldn't understand the reason she was angry. She knew Fu Hua didn't love her, and she was slowly falling for him, which might be the reason she felt all of those emotions.

After a few minutes, Jia Li managed to calm herself and continue with her steps. And she walked towards the school gate, different thoughts clouded her mind.

Are they back together?

Does he still love her?

He went to visit her again ?

While all these thoughts were going through her mind, she stepped out of the school gate and saw the cab waiting for her. She got in and greeted the driver.

Because she was not in a good mood, she remained silent and glanced out through the windows of the car.

When she got home, she went to have a hot bath before going to the kitchen to cook something. After cooking, she discovered she didnt have any appetite to eat, so she covered her food and went straight to the workshop to continue with her sewing.

Immediately a word was sent out to the people that wanted to interview grandfather, they immediately got ready with the equipment.

Grandfather Fu allowed them to come over to the Fu house to interview him, and it was their blessing that they got to see and enter the Fu residence.

Butler Lu made some arrangements for the interview to hold in one of the little rooms in the house, be wise of the cold weather.

According to Grandfather Fus condition, they went straight to ask the questions he wanted, after asking him questions related to Politics and National security.

Sir, we want to intrude a little into your privacy. Can you tell us about your grandson, Mr. Fu Hua, the CEO of FJ Styles, he is an eligible bachelor, does he have any plans of settling down ?

Why do you ask ? Do you want to arrange someone for him ? Grandfather Fu asked.

Hahaha...I dont dare. A lot of women have been eyeing your grandson, and most of them have dedicated their life in wait for him, so we are asking this question on their behalf.

Tell them not to have eyes on my grandson, he is married! Grandfather Fu revealed.

What?! This is indeed a surprise to us. Sir, we saw the news of your grandson trending online with the supermodel, Alix, are they a couple?

She is not my grandsons taste! The news trending about my grandson is fake and was deliberately done by gold diggers and attention seekers, which will be dealt with according to the law. Grandfather Fu said with a stern expression on his face while facing the camera.

His words exposed Feng Alix.

Wow! This is explosive news and of course, justice has to be rendered to Mr. Fu Hua for being used to create hype. Sir, can you reveal your grandsons wife to us?

In due time, we will proudly show her off. For now, we are hiding her away from harm. Grandfather Fu said with a smile.

When the interview was over, Grandfather Fu gave them red packets, and because of that, the interview clip and notes were edited published that night.

The media created hype around it and contacted so many news reporters, who helped to circulate the news.

Grandfather FUs interview had so many titles like...

Retired Major General Fu Wei Leis first interview in so many years.

What Warlord Fu has to say about his grandsons scandal.

Old Mr. Fu, reveals the truth about his grandsons scandal.

Warlord Fu, reveals his grandsons secret marriage

The hype around Grandfather Fus interview was far greater than the one surrounding Feng Alix.

Within an hour, Grandfather Fus interview became the top trending news, and soon, there were so many comments.

Some people were calling out Fu Hua to say something to defend himself.

They also asked him to confirm what Grandfather Fu said about his secret marriage.

About Feng Alix, netizens had already gone to attack her for misleading them. They were so many rude comments under her comment section.

So many people were talking bad about her, and she lost the trust of some of her loyal fans.

Immediately this news started to trend, Butler Lu showed it to Grandfather Fu who phoned Fu Hua immediately.

This is the right time for your side to act, you better make things right! Grandfather Fu warned.

Fu Hua hasnt managed to comment about him publicizing his marriage, but this was not the time, as there were other important matters to handle.

Within few minutes, Fu Hua's lawyer released a statement on behalf of Fu Hua.

The statement said that Fu Hua was suing Feng Alix and her manager for defamation and invasion of privacy since they took his pictures and posted them without permission. And also for the misleading caption attached to the photo.

Fu Hua made a public post about that a few seconds later.

Chapter 135 – [Bonus] The Consequences Of Messing With Fu Hua

Fu Hua made a public post about that a few seconds later.

He said that he was suing Feng Alix and her manager for defamation (taking his photo without permission and used it to make a post that was harmful to his reputation) and invasion of privacy, which is a crime punishable by 6 months of imprisonment and paying a fine of % 1000.

He made an exception and asked her to pay % 10,000 if she didn't want to go to prison.

Fu Hua released a second statement, which summarized in detail what transpired between them.

I went to the hospital to visit Alix as per her request for one reason. Because we had unfinished private matters she wanted to talk about. I considered the fact that she had an accident, and went to see her. But since she decided to take things too far for reasons best known to her, she has to pay for it.

A few minutes later, FJ Styles released a public announcement about the matter. They also banned Feng Alix, with the letter attached to the post.

Since FJ started working with Alix she has never created any trouble this huge for us. And the first time she did, she involved FJ, and our CEO in the matter and for that reason, we cease to work with her. We have banned her from working with us!

There was an uproar because of the public posts made one after another by Fu Hua, his lawyer, and the HR department of FJ.

Almost everybody was cursing Feng Alix and said she deserves to be sued.

Some people wanted to ask Fu Hua what he had to discuss with Feng Alix but they knew he wouldnt reply, since he said it was a private matter, but a few courageous ones still went ahead to ask.

Because Fu Hua was a public figure, they were wary of him as they didnt want to intrude into his privacy before they would learn a hard lesson like Feng Alix and her manager.

About 0.5% of people criticized Fu Huas actions of being too mean to Feng Alix.

Why do you have to go too far to treat a lady like that? You are truly cold-hearted without considering her situation!

Right after that, someone immediately commented under it...

He has to be cold-hearted to those that deserve it, so gender is not a consideration for dealing with people that feel they could use you to advance their lives.

Feng Alix who was being called out by millions of people was currently crying her heart out in the private hospital she was readmitted to.

It never occurred to her that Fu Hua who she once dated would be so heartless as to treat her this way.

Her mistake was that she forgot who she was messing with, and she forgot to consider the consequences of dealing with someone like Fu Hua.

Now, she had seen and was still tasting the results of her foolish actions.

The more Feng Alix thought of the endorsement deals, titles, brand ambassadorship, projects, and other works she has lost because of this, she felt like killing herself, because her life was almost over.

Leaving aside what she has lost, Fu Hua was going to have her sent to prison, or accept the other option of paying % 10,000 for defamation and invasion of privacy.

Feng Alix will lose all her money, reputation, insurances, job, peace of mind, fan base, and a lot of things.

Losing everything she had, was the retribution of butting off more than she could chew!

Currently, Feng Alix's mother was in her hospital room and scolding her and her manager.

How could you make such a costly mistake?! Did you not think twice before going against him? Just look at all your years of hard work, you have thrown everything down the drain all because of your stupidity!!!

Turning to her manager, she continued, And you, as her manager, you couldnt remind her of her wrongs, but instead colluded with her to cause her downfall! What kind of a manager are you? Both of you are fired!!!
Feng Alixs mother said angrily.

Mum, you cant treat me this way! How can you treat me like this when Im down? I dont have to admit to any of this, my manager can just take the blame as long as I get a leeway! Feng Alix said helplessly.

Her manager who was about pleading to her mother was shocked by her words. She couldnt sit still and watch them blame her, so she said immediately...

You cant blame me, because Im not at fault! You asked me to do everything I did, and you failed to listen to me!

Who can defend you when I say you did everything without my permission? Feng Alix asked with a sharp glint.

Her manager turned calm immediately because Feng Alix could still deal with her if she wanted to.

Both of you, stop it! Alix, nobody is going to take any blame for you! Youre going to confess and apologize to Mr. Fu and your fans, for deceiving them and making false statements. Alixs mother said.

Are you seriously going to abandon me? Feng Alix asked with an unbelievable facial expression.

You are still my daughter, so I will not abandon you. I will send you a ticket so you can leave this country as soon as possible if you still want to survive. I'm calling the press first thing tomorrow morning, so get prepared.

Feng Alix could only watch her mother leave while feeling heartbroken.

She couldn't believe that she had fallen from grace to grass within 24-hours.

Feng Alix sobbed without making a sound, as her body was already beginning to ache.

After making a public statement, Fu Hua's lawyer reached out to Feng Alix's agent and issued them with a letter from the court.

How can Alix go to prison with the injuries on her body, that is unfair to her! Alix's agent said in her favor.

And that is the reason the second option was made available, it was for excuses like this. Fu Hua's lawyer said to them.

What? You really want her to pay % 10,000? Feng Alix's agent asked in shock.

She can go to prison if she doesn't want to pay, after all, she will only be locked up for 6 months, we can't hold her more than that time range. You have 1 week to get back to us! Fu Hua's lawyer said to them.

What he meant by they had 1 week to get back to him, is that Feng Alix, had one week before she pays up % 10,000 to Fu Hua, or got to prison by then, not minding how serious her injury was.

Chapter 136 – Jia Li Snubs Fu Hua

Feng Alix has been under a lot of attacks since some hours ago. It was a good thing she couldn't hold her phone, otherwise, she would have fainted several times.

She still wished she could deal with Fu Hua because right now, she hated him to the bones, but she couldn't risk the only thing she had left, and which was her life.

Feng Alix thought about exposing the fact that she once dated Fu Hua, and that he got married without breaking up with her when she traveled out for work, but her life would be in the line, as she still wanted to live for a long while and make a comeback.

Feng Alix's mother has already warned her to behave and not to cause more trouble to her, and to the company as she had already done more than enough damage to it.

When Fu Hua got home, it was already late. The lights in the living room were already turned off, so he had to turn them on.

As he made his way into the house, he wondered if Jia Li was already asleep, since the lights were off, and the house was silent.

Fu Hua walked straight to his room to have his bath before going to check up on Jia Li. When he tried to open her door, he found out that it was locked.

Jia Li, are you sleeping? He asked after knocking twice on the door, but he didn't receive any response. He had to dial her number to be sure she was in her bedroom.

From outside the room, he could hear her phone ringing.

Jia Li who was fast asleep heard her phone ringing and frowned as she slowly opened her eyes.

She picked up her phone and answered the call.

Hello! She said in a sleepy tone.

Are you sleeping? Fu Hua asked.

Mmm. Jia Li responded.

Okay, Good night. Fu Hua said before ending the call.

When the call ended, Jia Li put her phone back on the nightstand before covering her body with the duvet and going back to sleep.

Although Fu Hua was surprised that she went to bed so early, he had another thought that she must have been tired out in school.

Fu Hua went straight to the kitchen to get himself something to eat, before going straight to bed.

The next morning, around 3:00 AM, Jia Li got off the bed and went to wash up, before going to the study to read for a while.

After studying for 3 hours and 30 minutes, she went straight to the kitchen to prepare breakfast.

When Fu Hua got dressed and came to the dining room, he met Jia Li serving breakfast.

Usually, Jia Li would greet him, but this time around, she didnt say a word to him. Fu Hua was sensitive enough to know that something was wrong.

Jia Li, how were your exams yesterday? I couldnt ask since you went to bed early. Fu Hua said as he sat down with his gaze on her.

The exam was okay. I went to bed early because I was exhausted. Jia Li replied before taking a seat.

Up till now, she hasnt spared him a glance.

Fu Hua didnt know what was wrong with her, because she seemed to not be in a good mood.

Why are you unhappy, did something happen? Fu Hua probed.

Im fine, Im just tired and a bit tensed for my todays exam. Jia Li lied as she picked up her teacup to drink from it.

Fu Hua felt there was more to it, but he didnt know how to deal with her, so he let her be and started to eat after encouraging her with some words.

In the middle of eating, Jia Li suddenly covered her mouth and rushed out of the dining room. Her action came as a surprise to Fu Hua who stopped eating as he directed his gaze to the side that Jia Li disappeared to.

After throwing up, Jia Li gagged some water and threw it up, before returning to the dining room with a worn-out look.

She felt so tired after throwing up the food she had just eaten. Touching her forehead, she felt how hot it was and sighed to herself.

She has been feeling down since she saw the news about Fu Hua and Feng Alix while in school, and she has been in a bad mood since then.

Jia Li knew Fu Hua didnt love her, and she didnt have the right to be angry with his actions, but still, she couldnt help but feel bad.

She wasnt sure if she liked him, but she couldnt control her emotions of being angry with him because of the news online.

When she returned to the dining room, Fu Hua asked with a concerned gaze, Are you alright?

Im fine. Jia Li replied as she sat down and drank some tea.

You dont look okay. Fu Hua replied with a frown.

Im fine. Jia Li said again as she finally spared him a glance.

Fu Hua refused to believe she was fine, so when she lowered her head, he placed his palm on her forehead to check her temperature, only to discover that it was hot.

He withdrew his hand and said to her with a frown, It looks like you have a fever. I will send you to the hospital after breakfast.

No, Im fine. Jia Li said without looking up.

Fu Huas gaze turned cold. Why are you refusing to go to the hospital when youre not feeling well?

There was a few seconds of silence before Jia Li decided to reply to him.

I have an exam in an hour, so I can't go to the hospital now.

Fu Hua finally understood. It was not that she was refusing treatment, but because she didn't have enough time to visit the hospital because of her exams.

Before Fu Hua could talk about rescheduling the visit to the hospital, Jia Li stood up and left the dining room.

The next time Fu Hua saw her, she was already dressed and carrying her backpack.

I'm leaving for school now. Jia Li said to him before leaving the house.

Why is she having mood swings? Fu Hua thought.

Chapter 137 – Congratulations Miss Jia Li, You Are...

In between being worried about her, Fu Hua was angry with her for ignoring him.

He didn't think he has done anything wrong to her, so why would he receive the silent treatment out of the blue?

After school, Jia Li went straight to the hospital to get a test done.

Since she was a child, her mother would only give her drugs, after she had done a test to confirm what was wrong with her.

The reason her mother was always careful health-wise, was not because she was a nurse, but because taking the wrong medication, killed one of her relatives, and she also told Jia Li about it.

Since then, it got stuck in Jia Li's head that she shouldn't take any drugs without the doctor's prescription.

Although, she had learned one or two from her mum who was a nurse, Jia Li didn't dare to take drugs by herself because of it.

Jia Li registered her details and got the hospital card, before going to sit to wait for her turn to see the doctor.

After waiting for 30 minutes, it was her turn to see the doctor, so, she followed the nurse that called her, and walked into the office before going to sit before the doctor.

The middle-aged doctor glanced at Jia Li before bringing up her file.

Miss Jia Li, it says here that you have a fever, headache, nausea, and vomiting, and you also feel a little weak and moody, am I right?

Jia Li heard her report being read out and nodded in confirmation.

The doctor closed the file and asked, Are you married?

She couldn't see a ring on Jia Li's finger, because Jia Li doesn't wear her wedding ring to school.

Jia Li was taken aback by the question before replying slowly, as she wondered the reason for that question.

Yes.

Good. The doctor responded as her facial expression lightened up.

When was the last time you saw your period? The doctor asked with a kind gaze fixed on Jia Li.

Jia Li's heart skipped a beat because the doctor's question got her thinking back to the last time she had her period.

Checking back to the last time, Jia Li discovered that it has been a long time. She remembered that her last period came before she got married to Fu Hua.

Jia Li became a little scared when she thought about the possibility of being pregnant.

Seeing her lost in thought, the doctor had to call back her attention. Miss Jia Li?

Hearing her name, Jia Li came back to her senses and replied, I saw my period last in the beginning of the third week of September.

Okay, when last did you have s*x with your husband? The doctor asked.

Jia Li felt a little shy when that question was asked. She felt it was a private question that shouldn't be brought up.

The doctor smiled when she noticed how shy Jia Li was.

It looks like you are pregnant, but we need to confirm it. The doctor said to her. Then turning to the nurse in the room, she said to her...

Take her to get a pregnancy test done, then bring her back immediately after that.

Yes, doctor. The nurse replied before asking Jia Li to follow her.

Miss, come with me. The nurse said to Jia Li.

Oh! Jia Li replied with a nervous look on her face.

You can leave your bag here. The doctor said to Jia Li with a smile.

Thank you! Jia Li replied before leaving her bag in the doctors office and going out with the nurse.

Jia Li was so tensed as she followed the nurse to the lab to get the pregnancy test done.

Miss, do you have your card or cash at hand to pay for the pregnancy test kit? The Nurse asked politely.

Money, I dont have any here, but I can ask from my relative. Jia Li quickly responded.

Okay. The nurse replied before going ahead to take her blood and urine sample.

The pregnancy test kit was also purchased, and Jia Li made use of it.

After glancing at the screen of the kit, the nurse smiled, before bringing Jia Li back to the doctors office.

Jia Li sat down, while the nurse handed the test kit to the doctor. Just like the nurse, a smile appeared on the doctors face.

When will the test results be out, tell them to hurry up with it. The doctor said to the nurse.

I already urged them, so the result will be out in a few minutes. I will go and check on them now. The nurse replied before leaving the office again.

Jia Li, whose heartbeat has been beating very fast, couldn't resist the urge to question the doctor.

Doctor, am I pregnant? She asked, a little afraid of the result.

Are you scared? The doctor asked with a kind gaze directed at Jia Li.

Is it wrong to be scared? Jia Li asked after hesitating for a while.

It's not wrong to be scared. The doctor said to her.

Jia Li felt a little relieved. But thinking back to the possibility of being pregnant, she didn't dare to relax again.

As she was thinking, a patient came in to see the doctor, and since it was an urgent case, the doctor asked her to sit over on a couch close to the door and wait for her.

After what felt like forever to Jia Li, which was only a few minutes, the nurse came back with her test results, and it was at that moment that the patient that was in the office, left.

The doctor called for Jia Li to come and sit before her.

As Jia Li sat down, the nurse handed her test results to the doctor, who quickly opened it and glanced through it.

Congratulations, Miss Jia Li, you are pregnant. You are already a month and a week-long gone. The doctor announced with a smile.

Chapter 138 – Jia Li Hides Her Pregnancy From Fu Hua

Knowing that she was pregnant, Jia Li couldnt feel happy.

Of course, why would she be happy ? She never had this plan for herself. Her husband didnt love her and she wasnt sure of her feelings for him.

She was also not ready to have and care for a child. She felt that her life was going to go down the drain because she wasnt sure of the future for herself, and now that she was pregnant, how will she take care of the child ?

She wasnt even sure that Fu Hua will like the idea of her being pregnant.

Jia Li wanted to cry since she couldnt feel happy.

Why are you sad, do you want to talk about it ? The doctor asked in a worried tone.

Jia Li shook her cranium and muttered in a low tone, No.

If you want to talk to me, you know you can. The doctor said to her with a kind smile.

Right then, Jia Lis phone started ringing. Taking the phone out of her bag, she glanced at the caller ID only to see it was Fu Hua.

Excuse me. She said to the doctor before accepting the call.

Fu Hua, who was driving and had a bluetooth on his ear, asked Where are you? Are you through with your exams for today?

Im... Im in the hospital. Jia Li stuttered while replying because she was tensed.

Which hospital, Im coming there now? Fu Hua asked as his tone changed.

He called to see if Jia Li was through with her exams, so he could take her to the hospital to get the tests done. But now she was in the hospital already, he would have to go meet her there.

Jia Li gave him the address of the hospital she was in before the call terminated.

Your relative is coming? Do you need my help to break the news to him? The doctor asked after she guessed that it was Jia Lis husband that called her.

No... No... Jia Li rejected with a frantic expression on her face. She looked scared.

Okay. I will refer you to my friend who is an obstetrician, she will prescribe some drugs for you that you need to be take till the end of your pregnancy. She will also give you some drugs to help with your fever and headaches. The doctor said as he put back the pregnancy test result into the envelope along with the pregnancy test kit before handing it over to her.

Thank you! Jia Li said as she took the envelope from her nervously. She was still thinking about the pregnancy because it was a shock to her.

The nurse present in the room took Jia Li to the office of the obstetrician, who prescribed some drugs for Jia Li.

The nurse helped Jia Li to get the drugs that were prescribed for her, and as Jia Li didn't have any card to pay, because she forgot her card at home, she had to wait for Fu Hua to arrive.

A minute later, Fu Hua walked in with his usual cold gaze. When he saw Jia Li standing at the counter with a nurse beside her, he frowned and made his way to them.

Before Fu Hua could ask her any question, Jia Li quickly said to him in a soft tone.

Please... can I have your card, I forgot mine at home?

Fu Hua stared at her for 3 seconds before taking his black card from his jacket and passed it to her.

Thank you! Jia Li said to him before handing the card to the nurse.

All the nurse could think was how rich and handsome Fu Hua was. Well, she didn't have anything bad in mind when she thought like that, she was only admiring his status.

She didn't really recognize Fu Hua, otherwise, she would have freaked out.

How were your test results, What did the doctor say was wrong with you?

Fu Hua asked Jia Li after the nurse left with his card.

Jia Li became tensed when he asked that question, and her heartbeat increased by a few paces. She didn't know how to reply to him, and she was too scared, to tell the truth. So, the only option was to lie.

I...I... The doctor said I have a fever and malaria.

Fu Hua frowned as he slowly moved his gaze to her hand that was holding onto the drugs packed in leather.

How come you were given so many drugs to take? Fu Hua asked as he fixed his gaze on her.

It's just some vitamin and iron supplements.

Jia Li quickly hid the drugs behind her as she lied again. She forgot to hide the drugs in her backpack just like she did with the envelope.

Fu Hua felt that something was wrong with Jia Li, and she was lying to him. This made him wonder what was actually wrong with her, and if she was terribly sick.

Since she didn't want to say the truth or give the medical report to him, he decided to make an investigation after sending her home.

When the nurse returned, She returned the card and the receipt

Fu Hua put his black card and the receipt in his pocket without looking at them, then he thanked the nurse and left the hospital with Jia Li.

The mid-30s nurse, had a smile on her face as she watched Fu Hua and Jia Li leave together.

On their way home, Jia Li was so quiet and was lost in thought, and she had no idea that Fu Hua was paying special attention to her.

When they got home and walked into the house, Jia Li went straight to her bedroom without saying anything.

Whats wrong with her? Fu Hua thought with a frown. He almost wanted to confront Jia Li because he didnt like her attitude, but he held himself back.

Fu Hua walked into his bedroom, and the first thing he did was to take his card and the receipt out from his pocket.

He was already crumpling the receipt

He put his card on the bed, before unfolding the crumbled receipt to take a look at the drugs Jia Li purchased because he was curious to know what kind of drugs were prescribed for her.

Chapter 139 – Fu Hua Discovers That Jia Li Is Pregnant

He put his card on the bed, before unfolding the crumbled receipt to take a look at the drugs Jia Li purchased because he was curious to know what kind of drugs were prescribed for her.

The first thing that caught Fu Huas eyes was the pregnancy test kit purchased for % . The price wasnt his problem, but instead, it was the item purchased.

A surprised glint flashed in Fu Huas eyes as he stopped to think for a while.

Why would she need a pregnancy test kit?

Is she pregnant?

Fu Hua needed answers to his questions, and only Jia Li could answer him, so he took the receipt with him and walked towards her room door.

Luckily enough, Jia Li did not lock the door, so he easily had access to her room.

Fu Hua enters her room and looks around, but he couldn't find her in the room. Her backpack she left on the bed caught his sight and he went straight for it.

Fu Hua opened the bag

She was surprised to see Fu Hua in her bedroom, but most importantly, he was holding onto her current secret.

Fu Hua glanced at the surprised look

Fu Hua knew that she was coming for the brown envelope, so he held it above his head.

You want this? Fu Hua asked the annoyed Jia Li.

Fu Hua give it to me! Jia Li said in an annoyed tone as she tried to reach for the brown envelope, but she failed to do that, and that made her angry.

Tell me, what are you hiding from me? Fu Hua asked in a dangerous tone.

Nothing, just give it to me! Jia Li replied as she was almost about to start crying.

No way! I won't give it to you. Fu Hua replied as he raised the envelope higher and evaded Jia Li from reaching it.

Fu Hua, this is not your concern, give the envelope to me! Jia Li said angrily as she tiptoed to reach for the envelope again, and by doing that, she rubbed her chest on him.

I won't give it to you until I see for myself what you are hiding from me. And, what are you doing now, are you trying to seduce me? Fu Hua asked with a frown.

Jia Li stopped trying to reach for the envelope and glanced at him with an angry look, as tears could be seen brimming in the corner of her eyes.

You are so annoying! Jia Li said before rushing out of the room.

Jia Li was angry, annoyed, afraid and nervous because she failed to get the test results from Fu Hua. She didn't know how Fu Hua will react when he sees the test results.

She had no idea of how he will treat her when he learns that she is pregnant. Jia Li was scared, so she ran away and went to lock herself up in the workshop, and took the key with her.

Fu Hua clearly saw the tears in Jia Li's eyes, and he didn't think his actions just now, was enough to make her cry.

Her action, already told him that she was hiding something big from him, and that, he must find out.

Fu Hua sighed as he opened the envelope, and then the pregnant test kit fell out of it. He picked it up and glanced at it, but he couldn't tell or interpret the result, since he was onto seeing 2 red lines on the screen.

Of course, there was no way for Fu Hua to know what that means since he has never experienced it before.

Another thought that came to Fu Hua's mind, was that Jia Li took the pregnancy test to see if she was pregnant, but the result turned out negative, so she wanted to hide it from him, and became annoyed when he got hold of it.

Fu Hua proceeded to open the test result after keeping the kit aside, and the first thing he saw there, was pregnancy test results.

Fu Hua didn't understand the part that talked about the level of hormones that were high in her body, so he skipped that part and went straight for the interpretation.

Fu Hua thought he wasn't seeing well, so he glanced at it again to confirm his surprise.

She's pregnant? Fu Hua thought

Why did she get to hide it from me? Is she scared that I won't accept it?
Fu Hua thought as his brows creased in a deep frown.

Remembering that Jia Li ran away from the room, he went to look for her.

He searched in the living room and kitchen while calling out to her name, but he didn't see or receive any response from her.

Glancing at the door to the workshop, Fu Hua walked towards it and tried to open it, but he discovered that it was locked, and definitely, he knew that Jia Li was there.

When he knocked and called out for her but didn't receive any response, he went to his room and came back in less than 2 minutes with a bunch of keys

He picked out the right key and unlocked the door with it. When he opened the door, he saw Jia Li squatting on the floor with her face buried in between her legs.

Fu Hua frowned as he walked towards her.

Jia Li? He called out as he reached for her trembling shoulders.

Jia Li heard him unlock the door and walked towards her but she chose to ignore him because she was convinced that he has found out about her pregnancy, and she was scared of what he had to say.

Chapter 140 – I Will Take Care Of You And The Child

Jia Li, are you pregnant? Fu Hua asked in a low tone as he lifted her face.

Jia Li wiped her teary eyes and remained silent.

Fu Hua sighed and hugged her. This is nothing to cry about. He said to her in a gentle tone.

Jia couldnt get his point. Is he accepting the child? She thought as she sniffed.

Fu Hua was also surprised because this news was unexpected. He forgot about the consequences of sleeping with her without any preparation.

He has never thought about having any child yet, so Jia Li being pregnant now, was surprising to him.

Stop crying. You even threw a tantrum for the first time, were you annoyed with me? Fu Hua asked as he helped her up.

Jia Li wiped her face and allowed him to hold her. She didnt know how to reply to him, because she really threw a tantrum, and it was the first time she was actually showing that side to him.

Fu Hua stared at her face for a while before slowly embracing her in his arms. He shut his eyes and held her for a while.

I will take care of you and the child. Fu Hua said from above her head.

Jia Li let him hold her as she felt a little relieved with his promise.

He accepted the child? She thought with mixed feelings.

She was still yet to accept the fact that she was carrying a child. The little plans she had for herself after graduation, were ruined because of the child.

This means that she can't get a job, but will have to spend a year taking care of the child. Nobody will want to employ a pregnant woman that just came out of school.

This was going to be a huge sacrifice on her part.

As Jia Li was still lost in thought, she was pulled back by Fu Hua's question.

How long have you been pregnant? Fu Hua asked as he patted her back.

1 month and a week. Jia Li replied in a hoarse voice.

Fu Hua was silent for a while before sighing. He was actually thinking about something.

When is your graduation? He asked after because Jia Li still had school to attend.

In a month. Jia Li replied with her eyes closed.

It's fine. Have you eaten? Fu Hua asked as he released her from the hug.

Jia Li shook her head in a negative affirmation.

What do you want to eat, I will order for you. Fu Hua asked as he brought out his phone and was ready to place a food order.

I don't know. Jia Li replied.

She was hungry, but she didn't know what to eat. At least, she was feeling better than before and could eat anything now.

Then I will pick the food for us. Fu Hua said to her before going ahead to make a call to place the food order.

After the call, he said to her, Can you hold for an hour?

The food delivery will take an hour since the food had to be freshly prepared before it will be delivered to them.

Hmmm... Jia Li hummed in reply.

Meanwhile, Fu Hee was in an angry mode while on a call with Bai Fen.

How could your son be involved in this kind of scandal? Was he really involved with that Alix? Bai Fen asked.

When she saw the news making waves on the internet, she was already angry. She didnt know the truth about Fu Huas dating life, since Fu Hee already told her he didnt have a girlfriend back then before the thought of getting her daughter marry him, came to her mind. But whats with the news she was seeing now?

Bai Fen, I dont think my son is involved with that woman. She is only a model that works for his company, maybe she found the opportunity to cause trouble to attract some attention to herself. Fu Hee explained.

Fu Hee was also very angry when she saw the news. It was the first time Fu Hua was being involved in a scandal and she was not happy about it.

Forget that Alix girl. I dont understand how necessary it was that Old General Fu, had to announce that Fu Hua was married. Now, this will ruin our plans once again. Bai Fen said in an annoyed tone.

She wished that Fu Huas marriage will remain hidden, so her daughter will get the opportunity to be very close to him in public without the public thinking that anything was wrong.

But now that the matter about Fu Huas marriage was out, that plan wouldnt work. Even if she insisted on it and everybody assumes that Fu Hua was married to her daughter, Grandfather Fu would never tolerate it.

Grandfather Fu will never tolerate for anyone to take the wrong person to be Fu Huas wife since he liked Jia Li so much. He would bring justice for her.

If that happens Bai Juns actions will be frowned upon and she may be called a loose woman with no home training and Bai Fen wouldnt like that to happen to her daughter.

Fen, I am very tired and I am already having a headache with everything that is going on. I cant tell what that old man is thinking by doing all of these. He keeps ruining our plans every time. And each time I think about it, I get a headache. Fu Hee complained with a frown.

What was more frustrating than your plans getting ruined without even getting to implement them ?

Bai Fen sighed and ended up consoling her. I think we will still have the upper hand, as long as that girl doesnt become pregnant. Now the news of your sons marriage is out, I cant hide these from Bai Jun anymore. Ah! My poor child.

Hearing Bai Fen lament, Fu Hee couldnt feel happy about it. She had to do something to take control of the situation once again.

Chapter 141 – A Move To Assist Her

I will call Fu Hua and tell him to bring Jia Li back home because I miss him. If he doesn't listen to me, I will have to let the old man invite them over himself. I'm sure Fu Hua wouldn't be able to refuse him. Fu Hee said after much thought.

That will be a good idea. Alright, don't forget to inform me if anything happens. I have to call Jun and explain things to her. Bai Fen explained.

After the call, Fu Hee threw her phone on the bed. She was still annoyed with the fact that the old man announced Fu Hua's marital status to the public and the latter didn't even do anything about it.

Fu Hua, don't tell me you have accepted that girl? Fu Hee muttered to herself with a frown.

Things would be made more difficult if Fu Hua starts to protect Jia Li just like the old man has been doing.

Back to Fu Hua's house...

Once their food order arrived, Jia Li helped to serve the dishes.

Fu Hua ordered so many dishes from the five-star hotel, and looking at the dishes arranged on the dining table, Jia Li felt that he went overboard with the ordering.

As they sat down to eat, Fu Hua explained when he noticed the way she was staring at the food.

I didn't know what you would like to eat, so I ordered so many of them.

Thank you! Jia Li replied as she started to eat.

It looks like Jia was very hungry because she ate so much, and Fu Hua was surprised, he sure he hasn't seen her eat that much before.

Did she have lunch at all? He thought to himself.

After dinner, Fu Hua helped Jia Li to wash the dishes, while she went to the workshop to study.

Do you need help with anything? Fu Hua asked when he stepped into the room and saw her going through a thick textbook.

No, I'm fine. Jia Li replied as she spared him a glance before glancing back to the thick textbook.

She had an exam the afternoon of the next day, so she had to study.

Fu Hua went to his desk to sit and began to work on a design draft.

Fu Hua was not as creative as Jia Li, but he was truly a master at creating the perfect dress, and he was very good at choosing the best materials to make a dress.

He was like a perfectionist that was good at perfecting people's works.

Fu Hua was currently focused on creating a masterpiece that would be released in the new year. Because he was a perfectionist, he has been working on that draft for the past few days.

Fu Hua was different from Jia Li who would sometimes throw so many drafts away before she gets the perfect one. He only makes use of one page of a sketchbook, but he can take more than three days to get the perfect design he wants.

After working for a while, Fu Hua glanced over to look at Jia Li who was now sewing, and that seems to be the dress she has been working on for a while.

Having sewed up the hand of the dress, Jia Li used scissors to cut off the excess thread on the dress, before rubbing her fists together.

Fu Hua noticed her actions and thought she was cold and so walked to her side with a cloak and put it on her shoulder.

Since it was Winter ❄ now, the weather was extremely chilly with lots of snowfall, and currently, it was snowing heavily outside.

Do you need help? Fu Hua asked.

No, thank you! Jia Li replied as she adjusted the cloak on her body.

Fu Hua didn't believe that she didn't need help, so he took the half-finished dress from the table and took a good look at it.

Since Jia Li was always rejecting his help, he had to make a move to assist her.

When he saw the mistake she made with the stitch she used for the waist part of the dress, he frowned and immediately pointed it out.

You used the wrong stitch here. Use the invisible/ladder stitch and it will look better...

Jia Li paid attention and listened to the corrections he made.

This is so tiring. Jia Li grumbled when he returned the dress to her.

Its tiring, but your work has to be perfect. Whats your goal as a designer?
Fu Hua asked.

To make the perfect dresses? Jia Li replied with her gaze on him.

Its not enough, you have to improve your vision. Fu Hua said to her.

Oh! Jia Li muttered under her breath.

She knew that Fu Hua was right and making the perfect dresses was not enough, so she had to upgrade her vision.

How many dresses were you asked to make for your projects apart from the assignment? Fu Hua asked.

We are yet to receive it. After exams, we will be given the task. Jia Li replied.

Okay. Go back to work, I still have something Im doing. Fu Hua said to her before going back to his desk to continue with his work.

Jia Li and Fu Hua worked late into the night before they went to bed.

Fu Hua succeeded in finishing his dress illustration, which was a great accomplishment.

The next day, Fu Hua sent Jia Li to school, and on his way to FJ, he received a call from Grandfather Fu.

The house I prepared for you and Jia Li is ready, when are you moving in?
Grandfather Fu asked.

When did you think of doing that? Fu Hua asked. He believed that his old man wasn't someone to wake up in the morning and make a decision without something promoting his actions.

When you and Jia Li got married, I planned to gift you two a bigger house later. But that girl had to come back and intrude into your house. Grandfather Fu replied.

I see. I will take a look at the house first before I decide to move in. Fu Hua replied.

You don't have a lot of time. Check the house today and move in before the weekend, then you can bring Jia Li over to the house. Grandfather Fu said to him.

Chapter 142 – Do You Have To Take The Drugs Everyday?

Fu Hua considered that Jia Li was pregnant, and truly they needed a bigger house with a bigger room to expand their workshop, so he agreed to go take a look at the house.

But also, he didn't like the way his old man was always in control of the situation. Going to take a look at the house is also an excuse to find faults.

He wanted to make his own choice of moving into his own place and not the house someone got for him. But since the old man said it's a wedding gift, he couldn't refuse it.

When Fu Hua went to see the place, he didnt find any faults, and he knew the old man was prepared to counter his excuses.

The painting on the walls, the interior decors, and the kind of pieces of furniture in the house, were really to his taste. There was no flaw apart from the workshop that was left to him to arrange by himself.

Picking up his phone, he called the old man.

Grandfather, I have seen the house. Since its a wedding gift, you should have completed the renovation, why did you leave the workshop out? Fu Hua asked.

Theres no need insisting on something I do not know about. Design it as you like. How is Li girl? Grandfather Fu asked.

Shes fine. She had an exam today. Fu Hua replied.

Okay, I will see you two this weekend. Grandfather Fu said to him.

Fu Hua didnt have anything to say to him, therefore, their conversation came to an end.

Fu Hua didnt want to tell the old man that Jia Li was pregnant, since he hasnt spoken to Jia Li to deliberate on the matter if they wanted their family members to know about it.

From the new apartment, Fu Hua drove straight home. From the door, he could perceive the aroma of the food Jia Li had just prepared.

Going to the living room, Fu Hua was amazed. Jia Li stepped out of the kitchen with a big bowl of soup

Youre back? Food is ready, wash up and come to eat.

You cooked all of these? Fu Hua asked with his gaze on her.

Jia Li glanced at the food with a little confusion before glancing back at him and asked, Yes, Is something wrong?

You cooked a lot today, are we celebrating something? Fu Hua inquired.

No, I just felt like making them. The weather is so cold, so I made so many dishes that could dispel the cold. Jia Li replied with a half-truth.

Oh! Thats good. I will be right back. Fu Hua said before leaving her sight.

A smile appeared on Jia Lis face as she watched him leave.

You need to know the reason Jia Li was so happy today. She just saw on the internet about Fu Hua clarifying his relationship with Feng Alix, and also Grandfather Fu standing up for her, that was enough reason for her to be happy.

She also wished that Fu Hua could explain things to her, so she wouldnt have to think too much, but it wasnt possible with Fu Hua.

Fu Hua was someone that wasnt used to explaining himself. If he encounters a problem just like the one with Feng Alix, he would settle it without saying anything.

Somehow, Fu Hua wasnt to blame for not explaining things to Jia Li, because of his personality, and when Jia Li was behaving oddly with him, he had no idea it was because of that matter with Feng Alix, and that was the reason he didnt think he should explain anything to her.

Moreover, he had already settled the case.

When Fu Hua came back, he joined Jia Li on the dining table. He allowed Jia Li to serve him a bowl of rice, and while eating, he made some efforts to put some food on her plate.

Fu Hua felt weird doing that because he has not done that for anybody before, so he wasn't used to it. But he just wanted to give it a try.

Jia Li felt blissful and continued to eat the food Fu Hua would occasionally put on her plate.

This was not the right time for her to think if he loves her or cared for her or if he was doing all of these because of the child.

Well before too, Fu Hua used to take care of her, so she couldn't say it's because of the baby she was receiving the extra care.

After eating for a while, Jia Li left the dining table and returned a few minutes later with black leather.

Fu Hua had his gaze on her, and finally, he looked away with a scrunched-up nose

Fu Hua literally held his breath till Jia Li swallowed all her drugs before he glanced back at her.

Do you have to take these drugs every day? He asked with a frown.

Jia Li glanced at him as she replied, Yes. The doctor said I have to take them every day because it helps with the baby's development.

Oh! Fu Hua responded.

Fu Hua didn't like the smell of drugs, and he also didn't like them, but how could he tell Jia Li not to take the drugs in his presence again?

After dinner, Fu Hua told Jia Li about them moving houses before the weekend and visiting the Fu house during the weekend.

Jia Li didnt have any problems with that, but Fu Hua was worried about her exams, so he asked, When are your next exams?

We are through for this week. But I just need to submit my assignment on Friday. Jia Li replied.

What do you have next week? Fu Hua asked.

You mean in school? Jia Li asked, and when she saw him nod, she answered, Dressmaking.

Thats fine. Since we are going back home this weekend, do you want to announce your pregnancy to the family? Fu Hua asked with a patient gaze on her.

Chapter 143 – Jia Li Covers Her Chest And Rejects Fu Huas Help

Jia Li unconsciously touched her stomach and became lost in thought. The thought of announcing her pregnancy hasnt occurred to her yet.

As she didnt speak for a while, Fu Hua helped her out. Its okay to take your time before we announce it to the family.

Jia Li glanced up at him and said, Thank you!

Her being able to announce the pregnancy when she wanted, was what she needed.

Fu Hua helped Jia Li to carry the plates to the kitchen.

After putting the plates in the sink, Jia Li turned on the kitchen tap to start washing the plates, but Fu Hua stopped her.

You can go and have your bath, I will help you with it.

Oh! Jia Li replied before leaving him in the kitchen.

When she left, Fu Hua turned on the taps and started to wash the used dishes and within a few minutes, he was through.

Fu Hua opened the two pots on the table gas and saw some food remaining in them, and he didnt know what to do with them.

I think I should call Jia Li. Fu Hua thought before covering the pots and then he walked out of the kitchen to look for his wife.

He went into Jia Lis bedroom without knocking, but he didnt see her there.

Is she still in the bathroom? Fu Hua muttered under his breath before making his way towards the bathroom door.

He placed his ear in the door and listened for a while, but he didnt hear any sound, so he turned the doorknob and opened the door.

Jia Li had her eyes closed as she laid in the tub of hot water. The temperature of the water was right for cold weather ❄️, so Jia Li felt relaxed

But when she heard the door open, her eyes flew open immediately as she directed her gaze to the door, only to see Fu Hua standing there and staring at her.

The first thought in Jia Li's mind was to cover her body, but glancing at the towel that was far from her hand, she gave up that idea and remained in the bathtub.

Fu Hua narrowed his eyes as he glanced at her. And when he didn't move his gaze away after a few seconds, Jia Li frowned.

What do I do with the food in the pots? Fu Hua asked before Jia Li could say anything.

Is this the reason he came to find me? Jia Li thought, with a cautious gaze on him.

Leave it, I will take care of it after bathing. Jia Li replied.

Fu Hua nodded in understanding but remained standing there with no sign of leaving. Jia Li frowned and couldn't help but to ask, When do you plan on leaving?

Soon. But why are you lying there, and not coming out, do you need my help? Fu Hua asked with a frown as he started to take a few steps towards her.

Ah! Fu Hua! Don't come over! Jia Li screamed at him with fear written all over her face.

Fu Hua who was walking towards her with a frown stopped in his steps and started laughing. It turned out that he was teasing her.

There is no need to ask me to leave, I can see everything from the clear water, just let me help you. Fu Hua revealed with a smile.

Jia Li covered her chest and crossed her legs when she discovered he could see her naked body from there.

I dont need your help, go away! Jia Li said angrily.

You are now rejecting your husbands help? You are also talking to me that way? Jia Li, since when did you become so comfortable with me? Fu Hua asked with a slight smile on his face.

His last question, caused Jia Li to be tongue-tied.

Thats right, since when did I get comfortable with him? Jia Li thought and the next moment, she looked up, she saw Fu Huas face up-close.

She was about to scream when her lips were completely blocked by his lips.

This was a trick of Fu Hua. He caused her to be distracted, so he could reach her side without alarming her and now, he also took the opportunity to kiss her to his satisfaction.

He really like the fact that she couldnt defend him, since she was covering her chest with her hands, so she could only let him kiss her.

Fu Hua took his time kissing her lips. He had his eyes closed as he explored her mouth with his tongue.

The kiss was so heated that Jia Li had to shut her eyes as well. Right now, she would prefer him kissing her than seeing her naked body.

Fu Hua only stopped when he felt the water she was lying in, was getting cold.

He released her lips and slowly opened his eyes to look into her eyes.

As their eyes met, Jia Li felt shy seeing his heated gaze on her and looked away.

The temperature of the water is reducing, dont catch a cold. Fu Hua left her with that sentence before leaving the bathroom.

Jia Li sighed in relief when he left. Then thinking back to his actions of opening the door without knocking, she scolded herself for always forgetting to lock it.

She was already used to staying alone without locking the door because she was 100% sure no one will come without knocking. But she forgot that Fu Hua was different.

He was now her husband, and this was his house, so he wasnt used to knocking before opening the door to any room.

Fu Hua had a smile on his face when he left Jia Lis bedroom. It was so fun to tease her and he enjoyed every bit of it.

A few minutes later, Jia Li came out of her bedroom and went straight to the kitchen to take care of the remaining food in the pots and washed everything off and tidied the kitchen.

Chapter 144 – Fu Hee Is Annoyed With The Lack Of Attention From Grandfather Fu

Since Jia Li didnt have any more exams this week, she could work on her assignments freely, and Fu Hua was a great help to her.

He watched over her and made sure she used the right stitches for the right places.

Jia Li discovered that whenever Fu Hua started working, he wouldnt stop until he had accomplished something. And this few hours of him helping her out, made her discover another side of him.

Around midnight when the dress was completed, Fu Hua let Jia Li off.

Finally! Im so sleepy. Jia Li said as she sighed in relief. She couldnt wait for her head to hit the pillow.

Mmm... you have tried, you can go to bed. Fu Hua said to her.

Good night. Jia Li said before turning to leave while letting out a yawn.

Did I overwork her?. Fu Hua asked himself when he saw her yawn and glanced at the wall clock.

Fu Hua didnt stay long in the study, for he left a few minutes later after tidying his desk, leaving the dress they finished working on, on the mannequin.

The next day, Fu Hua didnt go straight to work. Instead, he went to supervise the renovation of the workshop in the new house.

He liked things to be to his taste, so he had to make sure the people there, were doing things right.

When he got to the small villa he saw that the work was almost completed, and according to the interior designer, he could move in the next day.

Fu Hua looked around for a bit before leaving for his office. And as soon as he stepped into his office, his assistant came to meet him.

Boss, do you have the draft ready?. Zimo asked.

Fu Hua gave him a cold glance before pointing at his work

Without wasting time, Zimo opened his bag and took out the design draft. He seemed to be in a rush.

When he took the draft out and glanced at it, a smile big smile appeared on his face. He looked at Fu Hua and said, Wow! another masterpiece, as expected from you, Boss. I will quickly send it for production now.

When Zimo was about to leave, Fu Hua said to him, Dont come back to my office for today!.

Ah! Boss, what did I do wrong?. Zimo stopped to ask, but a glare from Fu Hua sent him away.

When Zimo left his side, Fu Hua sighed. These days, Zimo has been urging him to design something since it has been a long time since he worked behind the scenes.

Fu Hua thought about it and decided to give it a try. But the stress of designing, caused Fu Hua to be annoyed with him.

Back at the Fu Mansion...

Fu Hee sought an audience with Grandfather Fu.

Grandfather Fu was currently reading a book. He adjusted the glasses on the bridge of his nose and continued reading the book, totally ignoring Fu Hee.

It looks like Fu Hee had a lot of patience today because she has been smiling since she stepped into the study, and even with the old man ignoring her, her facial expression did not change.

Butler Lu couldnt continue watching this go on, so he came to Fu Hees side and said to her, Madam, what did you come to see master for?.

Butler Lu knew that the old man will not say anything to her, so she had to start talking first, and thats why he came to remind her of it.

Deep down Fu Hees heart, she was a bit annoyed because of the lack of attention from Grandfather Fu.

Now being reminded that she has to talk while not be paid attention to, annoyed her the more.

Father, its been more than a month since Fu Hua moved out, as his mother, I missed him. Can you tell him to come back home to have dinner with us?

Grandfather Fu remained nonchalant, and Fu Hee frowned before looking at Butler Lu who gave her a sign to continue talking.

Madam, what about Jia Li, you only mentioned your son? Butler Lu thought, and he was right.

This was the main reason Grandfather Fu ignored her. She mentioned her son coming back home, but she left her daughter-in-law out of it.

With Grandfather Fu still ignoring her, a thought came to her mind, so she added with a smile, Father, ask Fu Hua to come back with Jia Li. With them joining us for dinner, the house will be more harmonious.

Grandfather Fu finely glanced at her as he asked, Is this the reason you came to see me for?.

Yes, father, Fu Hua and Jia Li should come back for a while, its been a long time since I saw them. Fu Hee said with a fake smile.

Grandfather Fu fixed his gaze back on the book he was reading and said to her, You can leave.

Huh?

Butler Lu had to come and send her away.

Coming out from his study, Fu Hees true emotions were revealed.

Whats the point of ignoring me? You dont allow men to see my son, and you dont want him to come home, just see if I wont call him myself. Fu Hee said in an angry tone before walking away.

On her way to her bedroom, she met Fu ChunHua who was dressed like she was about to leave the house.

When Fu Chun Hua saw her, she smiled and walked to stand in front of her.

What is it?. Fu Hee asked with a furious gaze.

Fu ChunHua peered into her face, before moving her face away, then she sighed and said, tsk...tsk... Fu Hee, you are getting old now, it looks like you're becoming more stressed since you were dismissed from your position as the mistress of the Fu family

Chapter 145 – Did You Go To Play Games Again?

What is it?. Fu Hee asked with a furious gaze.

Fu ChunHua peered into her face, before moving her face away, then she sighed and said, tsk...tsk... Fu Hee, you are getting old now, it looks like you're becoming more stressed since you were dismissed from your position as the mistress of the Fu family

What nonsense are you saying?. Fu Hee asked with a frown as she touched her face.

You're looking old with lots of wrinkles on your face. You should take a break from all the bitterness in your heart. Fu ChunHua said before trotting away.

Fu Hee was so mad that she became speechless. When she went into her bedroom, she went straight for the mirror to check her looks.

While checking her face out, she discovered she was starting to have wrinkles on her face.

She wasn't teasing me? Fu Hee thought to herself.

Being uncomfortable with the wrinkles on her face, she immediately made an appointment in her favorite beauty shop, before calling Fu Hua to come home.

Fu Hua, when will you come home?. Fu Hee asked.

What do you need me for?. Fu Hua asked.

Your mother missed you, is it not enough reason?. Fu Hee asked.

Its not enough. You wanted me to get married, and I did, so why do you want me back home?. Fu Hua asked.

He was still in his office going through the finance records when his mothers call came in.

Fu Hua, dont get me started. You know thats not the woman I wanted you to marry. You dont listen to me anymore, you only listen to your father. Fu Hee complained.

Grandfather raised me!. Fu Hua replied with his gaze on the laptop screen on his desk.

But I gave birth to you!. Fu Hee argued in an annoyed tone.

It doesnt matter. Mother, I am very busy. Id you have something important to talk about, you can leave me a message. Fu Hua said before ending the call directly.

Fu Hee was not surprised he ended the call on her because it was not the first time, but still, she. wouldnt help but because angry.

All of you are after my life, nobody listens to me anymore, why won't I age faster with the wrinkles on my face?! Fu Hee said to herself with deep annoyance.

Feeling annoyed and restless, Fu Hee decided to leave the house to the beauty parlor to get her skin in order.

When Fu Hee came back from the beauty parlor, she was looking a little better.

Fu ChunHua saw her and commented on her looks.

You really went to the beauty parlor, but too bad you will ruin the hard work of the beautician after only a few days.

At least I'm better than you. You are already so old, but you need to go to the beauty parlor every week to maintain your looks. Fu Hee said with a taunting smile before leaving.

Fu ChunHua's facial expression changed, as she watched Fu Hee leave after taunting her.

After a while, Fu ChunHua said in a low tone. This is the reason I will not easily let go of this position.

Fu ChunHua meant that if Fu Hee continues to make fun of her age, she will not easily allow her to get her position back in case Grandfather Fu has a change of heart one day.

Fu ChunHua was still in a bad mood when Fu Ling and Fu Meixu walked into the house.

Where are you two coming from?. Fu ChunHua asked with her gaze on them.

I went for a photoshoot. Fu Meixu replied tiredly.

Do I need to tell you where I'm coming from?. Fu Ling asked with a blank look.

Did you go to play games again?. Fu ChunHua asked with a frown.

Since you know, there is no need to say anything. Fu Ling replied and tried to walk past her, but she stopped him.

Stop right there! Can you look at yourself? You're already a grown-up, but you still play games, don't you have a better plan for yourself? Look at your sister, she is working so hard because she has a future, but you, you don't have any plans other than to play games every day. If you don't know what to do for yourself, why don't you go to FJ to work?.

To work or to climb up the ranks and fight with Fu Hua?. Fu Ling asked.

When did I say that? Don't twist my words! I'm telling you to find something to do!. Fu ChunHua said angrily.

She was always unhappy when she remembered that her son didn't have any serious agenda for himself, unlike other children of the Fu family.

She was like a torn in her flesh.

Mum, in case you have forgotten, then I will have to remind you of my plans. I want to develop my games, so stop comparing me with others. Fu Ling said before walking away, and no matter how his mother called for him, he didn't react.

After failing to stop him from leaving, Fu ChunHua began to complain to Fu Meixu.

Look at your brother, he doesn't have a decent plan for himself. What does he think he can achieve by making his own game?

Mum, leave brother alone to do what he wants. One day, he might make it. If he is ready and needs investments, Grandfather can help him. Fu Meixu replied.

Still, I don't like it! Look at your cousins, they are doing so well, and you're doing so well too, so why can't your brother choose another career path? Fu ChunHua grumbled unhappily.

Fu Meixu didn't say anything more. She has other things to be worried about. For example, she wants a major supporting role in the upcoming movie, The Filmmaker by a renowned movie director.

She recently heard that Zhi Ruo, her enemy who is still far above her, got the female lead role without any need for an audition, and that alone was enough to fuel her envy and jealousy.

Chapter 146 – Fu Hua Gives An Excuse To Make Jia Li Come To His Bedroom

Since the day Zhi Ruo was rude and looked down on her, Fu Meixu has been working hard to reach the top.

And not only that, but she also got a boost from Grandfather Fu, who gave her a little reward for taking Jia Li's side, and befriending her.

Fu Meixu was an E-list actress, but within a year, she moved to the C-list, because of Grandfather Fu's help.

Knowing that the reward of taking care of Jia Li was worth a lot, Fu Meixu couldn't bring herself to stop taking care of Jia Li or trying to get close to her.

Fu Meixu still had plans to get back at Zhi Ruo, but for now, she will work hard to get to them too and make sure to snatch all her roles and opportunities from her.

Thinking of Jia Li, Fu Meixu decided to give her a call.

Mum, I need to rest now, see you later. Fu Meixu said to her mother before leaving for her bedroom. And once she got to her bedroom, she phoned Jia Li.

Jia Li was dressed and about to leave the house for the grocery store when she received Fu Meixu's call.

I haven't seen you in a long time, when will you come back?. Fu Meixu asked.

I will soon. How was your last filming, sorry I forgot to ask?. Jia Li said.

Before her wedding to Fu Hua, Fu Meixu was shooting a series, and she told Jia Li about it, and now she was done with it, Jia Li felt sorry for not asking about it.

It was fine. We will be having a dinner to celebrate the release, do you want to come with me?. Fu Meixu asked.

Can you bring someone along?. Jia Li asked as she was starting to get excited.

Of course, I can, any one of us is allowed to bring someone. Fu Meixu said like it wasn't a big deal.

Jia Li was interested to know what it would be like to see some celebrities and done with them, so she was quick to accept her idea, but before she could say Yes she remembered how the relationship between her and Fu Hua was, and what he said to her before they got married.

He wouldn't like the media to know who his wife was.

Jia Li, are you coming with me?. Fu Meixu asked after waiting for a while and not hearing her response.

I would like to, but I can't. Jia Li replied.

Is it because of my cousin? Don't worry about it, I will introduce you as my friend, nobody will ask you any question. Fu Meixu assured her.

Okay, I will think about it. Jia Li said after a while.

If Fu Meixu introduces her as a friend, then there wouldn't be any problem, but she didn't know if it will be okay with Fu Hua.

After the call with Fu Meixu, Jia Li went to the grocery store to buy some vegetables, meat, and things for a hot pot.

When Jia Li returned, she sighed in relief, because it was so cold outside that she almost couldn't stand it.

After changing her clothes, she turned up the air conditioner in the house, so she could feel warmer quickly, and when she started to feel a little better, she turned down the temperature to the normal range, before going to the kitchen to make dinner before returned.

Fu Hua came back in time to meet the food 99% ready. And by the time he came out after changing his clothes, Jia Li was already serving the food.

How did you do today?. Fu Hua asked.

Jia Li sat down after putting soup in his bowl

Thats good. Fu Hua said as he started to eat.

From the way he was eating, its either he was very hungry, or he enjoyed Jia Lis cooking, so which was was it?

Jia Li and Fu Hua had their dinner in silence, and when they were done eating, Fu Hua reminded her about their moving houses the next day.

I have called the moving company, they will be coming tomorrow afternoon to move our things. Since you have to submit your assignment tomorrow, you can do that in the morning and come back on time.

Okay, what about you? Will you come back from work at noon?. Jia Li asked out of curiosity.

I wont be going to work tomorrow. Fu Hua revealed.

Jia Li thought it must be because they were moving house that he canceled his appointments for the next day.

Fu Hua helped Jia Li take the plates to the kitchen before leaving for his bedroom.

When Jia Li finished working in the kitchen, she went to her bedroom to rest. She didnt know if Fu Hua times her or it was a coincidence because he called her on phone 10 minutes later when she was done resting and about going to the workshop.

Can you come to my bedroom to help me fold my clothes?. Fu Hua asked.

Jia Li didnt think too much about it and agreed to his request. Okay.

Leaving her phone on the bed, she adjusted her sweater and wore her flip-flops before leaving her room for his own.

Jia Li knocked on the door, but she didnt receive any response, so she opened the door and peeped inside, but she didnt see Fu Hua. She even called out to him, but she didnt receive any response, so she walked in and closed the door without looking behind it.

As she made her way into the room, Fu Hua who was hiding behind the door, locked it with a mischievous smile on his face.

Jia Li heard the movement behind her and quickly turned with a vigilant look on her face. Seeing Fu Hua behind her, she was surprised.

How did you... Have you been here?. Jia Li asked with a surprised gaze.

Are you scared?. Fu Hua asked with a smile as he made his way towards her.

Chapter 147 – You Have To Be An Obedient Wife

How did you... Have you been here? Jia Li asked with a surprised gaze.

Are you scared? Fu Hua asked with a smile as he made his way towards her.

Me? Im... Im not scared. Jia Li stuttered as she slowly stepped backward. She didnt know if she was thinking too much, but she felt that Fu Hua was up to something.

Its good that youre not scared. Fu Hua said with a smile as he increased his pace and came to stand in front of her.

Jia Li stared into his eyes innocently and asked, You wanted me to help fold your clothes, where are they?

Forget it, you are more important. Each time I stare into your eyes, I just want to do bad things to you, but why are you so innocent? Fu Hua asked as he cupped her face.

Jia Li was looking at him in confusion because she couldnt make meaning of his words.

You still dont understand that youve been trapped? I called you here for something else, and I also locked the door. Can you guess what I want to do? Fu Hua whispered as he breathed in her scent.

That... I dont know, but I want to go back to my room, I want to sleep. Jia Li said to him in a tiny voice.

Sleep here with me. Fu Hua said as he immediately covered her lips with his.

His action came sudden, and Jia Li was not able to evade him in time.

In between the kisses, Jia Li found her voice and called out to him, Fu Hua But he shushed her.

Shhhh... pay attention. Its been a while since I felt you in my arms. Fu Hua said in a low tone as he captured her lips again.

Jia Li was in a dilemma of where to place her hands, but just in time, Fu Hua hung her hand on his shoulders and continued to kiss her senseless.

As his wet tongue slipped into her mouth, he used that opportunity to explore her mouth, while offering her heated kisses.

Jia Li let him kiss her, and since she couldn't kiss back, she could only close her eyes and leave herself in his hands.

When they were almost out of breath, Fu Hua released her lips, and they breathed heavily.

Slowly letting her off, Jia Li was about to sigh in relief when he dragged her towards his bed, and immediately, she became frightened and tried to free her hand from his grasp.

Why are you so scared? Fu Hua asked with a smile.

No, I just...I just... Jia Li uttered incoherently without saying anything meaningful.

Fu Hua could tell she was scared, but he was not in a good state of mind to let her off, because he had no such plans tonight.

Since you don't want to go there yourself, I will help you. And as Fu Hua said that, he lifted her in his arms without warning and Jia Li let out a yelp and for fear of falling out of his arms, she circled her arms around his neck as he carried her to the bed.

Immediately he put her down on the bed, He started to take off his jacket, then he said to her while sparing her occasional glances, Take off your clothes, or do you want me to help you ?

Jia Li was truly scared of his approach and began to think of how she would escape. She glanced at the door and thought of how long it would take her to get there before Fu Hua would catch her.

Fu Hua followed her gaze to the door, and seemingly not bothered, he smiled and said to her, Dont even think about escaping, because I locked the door when you came inside. Just think about it, if you try to escape, and you get caught, there will be a punishment for you.

Jia Li gazed back at him and swallowed hard. Seeing him taking off his clothes, she was scared, because he knew he wanted something more than a kiss tonight.

Jia Li could remember the last time they had s*x, and it was that night of their wedding. She remembered how many times he made her do it with him, and since then, they have never had s*x.

When Jia Li came back to reality, Fu Hua had already climbed on the bed and was currently helping her to take off her jacket.

Fu Hua? She called out as she tried to turn and look at the man that was kneeling behind her, but he held her shoulder in place.

Jia Li, you have to be an obedient wife. When I want it, you have to give it to me and when you want it, I will pleasure you like a caring husband that I am. Fu Hua whispered to her ear and he took off her jacket and threw it to the floor, and next, he hugged her from behind.

Jia Li felt his warm body plaster on her back, and she felt warm inside. While she was enjoying his warm hug, she felt his lips on the back of her neck, before he slowly trailed kisses to the side of her neck.

Fu Hua was taking his time with kissing her neck area before he slowly moved his right hand to her chest.

He squeezed her left boob gently, as he continued to trail kisses on her neck.

Jia Li could feel the night would belong, and while having that thought, she felt a tinge of pain on her neck, Fu Hua had bitten her.

What are you thinking about? He whispered to her ear, and that made Jia Li feel ticklish.

Nothing... She lied.

If you are being absent-minded, that means Im not doing a good job. Fu Hua said as he let her go.

He gazed at her with darkened eyes, and she felt a little afraid.

Is he annoyed with me? Jia Li thought.

Im sorry, I will pay attention. Jia Li apologized.

Fu Hua sighed and as he turned her to face him.

Why are you apologizing? You look so innocent when you have that look on your face, and I can't help thinking of the bad things I want to do to you.

Chapter 148 – Do You Like It?

Jia Li didn't know what to say to him, but she kind of liked that feeling of him touching her. She didn't know if she was wrong to think that way, but she wanted more of his touch.

Fu Hua gazed into her eyes and saw her hidden desires, but Jia Li was a second late to look away from him.

Fu Hua smiled and wanted to tease her, but he knew she would be hurt if he did that since she was a shy person, so he let go of that thought.

From her face, Fu Hua slowly moved his gaze to her chest. Because she was wearing a turtleneck top, he couldn't see her cleavage, and he felt a bit frustrated.

Fu Hua got off the bed and came to stand before Jia Li. He asked her to raise her hand, and she did that obediently.

Fu Hua smiled as he slowly took off her top. When her boobs that were still trapped in her red bra came to his view, he felt more satisfied.

He flung her top away and kneeled in front of her. Jia Li felt shy that her upper body was out on display for him, so she looked away.

Fu Hua took off his shirt and leaned in to capture her lips with his, as he slowly tasted them, he slowly moved his hands to her back and unclasped her bra, setting her ample bosom free.

With their naked upper body against each other, they could directly feel the warmth from each other. From her lips, Fu Hua trailed kisses to her neck, and then in between her breasts.

As he kissed the middle of her breasts, her warm breasts touched his cheeks, and it delighted him.

Slowly, he caressed her back and her waist before he moved his lips to her right nipple and started licking it.

Jia Li let out a soft moan and touched his hair with her eyes closed in pleasure.

Fu Hua continued to kiss her nipple while caressing her upper body. Earlier when he started, he was gentle, but now, he had increased his pace, as he had fun sucking those pink nipples that were standing erect.

After kissing her breasts for a while, he moved back to her lips and gave her a hot kiss.

Jia Li was not a good kisser, so she let Fu Hua do most of the work. She hugged his neck, as she allowed him to kiss and caress her body.

From her lips, Fu Hua trailed kisses to her neck, and back to her blossom.

Fu Hua... Jia Li called out while moaning with her eyes shut. She felt her brain reset so many times while he was kissing and fondling her.

Hearing her moan his name from her lips, Fu Hua became more passionate and proceeded to move to the next level.

He took off his trousers and was now in his briefs. Jia Li felt excited down there and needed to feel touched there so she could feel better.

With her gaze on Fu Hua, she watched him take off her trousers.

Next time, wear a skirt while you are at home. Fu Hua said a little frustrated with the fact that the fire he slowly ignited, was about to be quenched while taking the tight jeans off Jia Li.

I...I will feel cold if I wear a skirt, and I don't have one. Jia Li said in a soft tone.

We will buy some after we move out tomorrow. And if you feel cold, you can turn up the heater. Fu Hua said in a raspy voice.

Jia Li felt she was being deceived, but she still nodded in response.

Fu Hua wanted Jia Li to wear skirts while at home, so he could easily have s*x with her without going through stress.

Before Jia Li could think properly, Fu Hua took off her panties and moved her to lie on the bed with her back.

Glancing at her body in admiration, Fu Hua couldn't help complimenting her, I like your body!

He surely did not need Jia Li's response, because the next second after he said that, he kissed her cheeks, and then went down to her neck as he kneeled in-between her legs.

Jia Li welcome his kisses once again. And with his guidance, she hugged him and caressed his head and back.

From her neck, Fu Hua continued trailing kisses to her breasts, before he slipped his left hand fingers in-between her legs.

Jia Li gasped in pleasure and let out a loud moan as she inched her body closer to his body.

As his fingers touched her, he felt how wet she was, and smiled and continued to kiss her.

Jia Li only continued to let out moans consecutively as Fu Hua continued to explore her with his fingers.

Fu Hua... Jia Li called out in pleasure as she rubbed his hair with her eyes shut. When she tried to clasp her legs together, Fu Hua stopped kissing her breasts and slowly rose to look at her, with his fingers still trapped in-between her legs.

Do you like it? Fu Hua asked in a hoarse voice as he used his other hand to separate her legs.

No Jia Li replied while gasping.

Jia Li's mind was clouded in pleasure, so how could she listen and answer his question correctly.

Hearing her say, No Fu Hua touched her clit with one finger, while the remaining four fingers, continued to work in the other areas.

Huhahaha... Jia Li continued to make sounds of pleasure as she inched her body close to him, and not seeking the warmth of his body, she felt more frustrated as she gasped.

While watching her react to his touches, Fu Hua felt pleased as well as the thing in-between his legs reacted by hardening and probed as it wanted to be let out.

Fu Hua felt it wasn't time to enter her, so he continued to pleasure her with his fingers.

Jia Li was still moaning with her eyes closed when she felt Fu Hua stop fingering her. Before she could open her eyes, she felt something wet touch her forbidden place, and she cried out his name.

Chapter 149 – Jia Li Attempts To Leave The Bed

Fu Hua licked her before he started to eat her with his mouth.

The pleasure was too intense for Jia Li that she tried so hard to push his head away, but her hands ended up getting locked and trapped with Fu Hua's hand.

Fu Hua locked her hands with just a hand and continued to eat her.

Jia Li didn't know how long she moaned from the intense pleasure she was receiving. She moaned till tears started to brim at the corner of her eyes.

With no time to waste, Fu Hua pulled his briefs and held them under her thighs with his hand, before entering her gently.

Jia Li gasped when she felt him enter her, and she grabbed the sheets with his fists and closed her eyes and she moaned loudly.

Fu Hua felt alive when he entered her, but he still had the patience to move in and out of her slowly, before he started to increase his pace.

From squeezing the sheets with her hands, Jia Li moved them to caress Fu Hua's hard body. The pleasure she felt was so intense, that she needed something to squeeze, and she ended up scratching him.

Fu Hua was kind of lucky that her nails were cut the previous day, or he would have felt the pain and impact from her scratch.

Fu Hua groaned and breathed out heavily as he kept moving in and out of Jia Li as fast as possible. He felt the pleasure of being inside his woman, and so he shut his eyes for a few seconds, before opening them to glance at Jia Li.

Jia Li couldn't keep her eyes open, so she couldn't spare him a glance.

Fu Hua felt a little excited with the pleasure he was giving her and the way she was reacting, so he slowed down gradually, and took out his member, and rubbed her clits with it.

Jia Li was forced to open her eyes as she was being tortured.

She nearly sat up, but Fu Hua pushed her back on the bed and held her legs tightly as he continued to tease her.

He rubbed her clits with his member and then proceeded to enter her again.

Fu Hua was really enjoying whatever that was going on, but Jia Li seemed not to be in the mood to appreciate it, as she needed him quickly.

She didnt understand and was not in the right senses to find out the reason he was torturing her, because he would take his member out, rub her clit, and then enter her again and move for a few seconds before taking it out again.

Jia Li couldnt endure the waves of unending pleasure and torture, so she started to plead with him.

Fu Hua...please. Jia Li said in-between moans and tears.

I thought you wouldnt beg. Fu Hua said in a low sexy hoarse voice before he lowered his body to kiss her lips.

I will give you what you want since you asked for it. He whispered in her ears, and the next thing was followed with his actions.

He listened to his wifes pleading and stopped torturing her. He entered her and began to move quickly, and at the same time, trying not to be too fast so he wouldnt hurt her.

While moving inside her, he rained hot kisses on her naked body, and pleased her by touching her clit with his thumb

Jia Li continued moaning loudly as she moved her hands back to the sheets and squeezed the life out of it.

As she was getting closer to her climax, her moans grew louder, and so as Fu Huas groans.

Within a few seconds, both of them climaxed at the same time and remained in the same position to allow themselves to recover from whatever just happened.

Fu Hua breathed heavily with his eyes closed and remained inside of her, while Jia Li was still lost with her eyes closed. She couldn't believe that the torture was over.

She was more than satisfied and because she was not used to all of these, it took her a while to get over it.

Slowly, Fu Hua pulled out of her and laid beside her. He had the back of his hand on his forehead and gazed above him while breathing slowly.

Seeing him pull out and laying beside her, Jia Li glanced at him from her peripheral view before turning her back against him.

Fu Hua heard the movements from his side and turned to glance at her. When he saw her back, he felt that she needed his comfort, but first, he had something to do.

He got out of bed and returned less than a minute later with the duvet. He covered Jia Li with the duvet before getting inside it.

And when he laid on the bed with his left hand spread out, he pulled Jia Li into his arms with his right hand.

Jia Li felt a little better because she thought he would abandon her after getting what he wanted, but she was proved wrong.

If it was still that time Fu Hua and Feng Alix were together, it was a sure deal that he wouldn't embrace her.

Staring at Jia Li's rosy face, Fu Hua kissed her forehead before whispering to her, Look at me.

Jia Li obeyed his command and looked up to gaze at him. She was feeling shy, so she turned her face away from him, but Fu Hua placed his fingers on her jaw and forced her to glance at him.

Jia Li thought he had something to say to her, but she was wrong. He only wanted to look at her face.

Fu Hua kissed Jia Li's lips, before moving away, and then, he started to caress her back.

Jia Li felt so exhausted, and with him rubbing her back, her eyelids started to become heavy, but then she remembered that she had her things to pack since they would be moving out the next day.

As she attempts to leave his arms, Fu Hua held her back and asked, Where are you going to?

I...I need to pack my clothes since we are moving out tomorrow. Jia Li replied with her gaze on him.

Sleep, you can do that in the morning. Fu Hua said he placed his hand on her back and shut his eyes.

But... Jia Li tried to refute him, but she received a warning that forced her to shut her mouth and her eyes.

Fu Hua opened his eyes and said to her, If you still have the energy to pack your clothes, why don't we go another round.

Fu Hua felt amused when she shut her eyes immediately. He smiled and pulled her closer to him, before shutting his eyes.

Chapter 150 – Jia Li Rejects A Call During Breakfast With Fu Hua

The next morning, Jia Li wakes up because of the hand that was gently squeezing her boob. She slowly opened her eyes and yawned, before glancing at the hand that was touching her.

She turned over to glance at Fu Hua, and their eyes met.

Good Morning! Jia Li greeted as she moved his hand away from her boob.

Morning! Fu Hua replied with his gaze on her.

Jia Li couldnt stand his gaze, and so sat up and tried to get out of bed, but knowing she was still naked, and her clothes a little far from her, she had to think twice.

Fu Hua glanced at her hair which was still in a bun and stretched his hands to set it free, and it was too late for Jia Li to catch her hair.

Fu Hua watched her long black-ink hair fall behind her like waves. He appreciated her hair and even sat up to admire it.

As Jia glanced at him, she caught his gaze on her hair and wondered what was so special about her hair.

As if just staring at the hair wasn't enough, Fu Hua went on to touch it, and he couldn't help complimenting her.

I like your hair. He said in a low tone.

Thank you! Jia Li said.

She had no idea if Fu Hua had a thing for a woman's long hair, because the way he was staring at it with deep appreciation, seemed odd.

As Jia Li had things to do in the morning, like preparing breakfast and gathering her things, she had to get out of bed.

She was already feeling very hungry and tired after waking up late.

Fu Hua was kind enough to get out of bed stack naked and went into the bathroom, allowing Jia Li to be comfortable with getting out of bed, naked.

Jia Li picked up her clothes and left for her bedroom. Within some minutes, she washed up and went into the kitchen to prepare breakfast.

An hour and 30 minutes later, Jia Li was through with the breakfast preparation and served it, before going to call Fu Hua.

Fu Hua was in the workshop when she came to call him for breakfast, and he was amazed when he saw the breakfast laid out on the dining table.

He didn't expect she would prepare that much (even though it wasn't much) since she still looked very tired when she woke up.

Jia Li and Fu Hua settled down to have a hearty breakfast.

From the way Jia Li was eating, Fu Hua could tell how hungry she was. She wasn't eating too quickly, but you could still tell when a hungry person was eating.

Fu Hua liked the way she eats, because she doesn't fake anything, unlike his ex-girlfriend that ate so little, probably because she needed to watch her weight.

While eating, Jia Li's phone began to ring. She had to pause with the eating to check who was calling.

Seeing the name boldly written, her heartbeat increased by a few paces. She was a little afraid as she glanced at Fu Hua, whose attention was still on his food.

Because of the identity of the caller, Jia Li didn't want to answer the call in Fu Hua's presence, so she declined it, and continued to eat.

Luckily, the person didn't call back again, and her mind which was in turmoil became at ease.

Actually, Fu Hua saw her decline the call, but he didn't say anything to her. He only wondered who the person that called her was, while he continued eating.

Today's breakfast went equally, and it was more like 50:50 because both Jia Li and Fu Hua ate an equal share of the food.

They also cleared everything that was served.

After taking her drugs, Jia Li finished the remaining rice congee in her bowl.

After breakfast, Fu Hua helped Jia Li to send the plates to the kitchen before going to his room to pack his things.

Jia Li washed the plates and cleaned up the kitchen before going to pack her things as well.

When it clocked 11 AM, Jia Li had to dress up and leave for school in a cab, while thinking that she would complete the remaining work when she comes back.

As Jia Li went to school to submit her assignment, Fu Hua was left all alone in the house. After tidying up things in his bedroom, he went to the study to gather their things.

When he was getting exhausted, he made a cup of black coffee and drank, before going back to his work.

When he finished from the workshop, he went into Jia Li's bedroom to look around, and when he saw that she didn't finish up before leaving, he helped and continued from where she left.

Jia Li spent over two hours in school before submitting her assignment.

Her teacher was amazed by her work, and said to her, Jia Li you have gifted hands, and the dress was sewn perfectly. You're sure to get your dress sold quickly.

Jia Li smiled because the reason the dress she made was perfect was that Fu Hua guided her.

Jia Li would be sure to get paid half of the money that would be made from the dress when it was sold.

Jia Lis college was prestigious and lived up to its name. When assignments like these (dressmaking) were given, they would help the students that made the best dresses, to sell their dresses and the rights to the design.

When the money was made, they would give half of the profits made to the students.

Looking for a buyer wasn't a problem. Because of the high reputation of her school, many fashion companies, especially young ones, would always come to them to buy the best clothes, and the rights to make them.

After submitting her assignment and receiving the project she had some weeks to work on, she left her teachers office.

Waking towards the school, gate, she remembered that she had a call to return, so she took out her phone from her trouser pocket to return the call she declined during breakfast.
