Chapter 541 - Must Be Kept A Secret

‘Did they touch you?’ Mr. Suarez asked as he glared at the bodyguards who seemed surprised by the accusation.

The servants were shocked as well. They felt that Alix was being unreasonable by accusing the innocent bodyguards of what they didn’t do.

Feng Alix glanced at the bodyguards that were staring at her and said, ‘Of course they did. Their hands touched my skin.’

Alix was putting on a crop top, so a small area of her stomach could be seen. When she had tried to walk through the hallway and the bodyguards blocked her off, the skin on her stomach area had touched their hands.

Logically, the bodyguards didn’t touch her, she was the one that tried to push their hands away, and her stomach ended up being grazed by their hands.

Mr. Suarez sent the bodyguards to go out and receive their punishments before turning to glance at Alix who was still grabbing his arm.

‘Next time, don’t disobey my orders. If I tell anyone not to come close, then you need to obey it.’

Alix was surprised that he was reprimanding her right after sending the servants. She let go of his arm and asked with a hurt expression on her face, 'Are you scolding me right now? I was worried about you being hungry and thirsty over the long conversation you were having with your lawyer, so I asked the servants to make you something so I can send them to you but you are here scolding me.'

The young lawyer by the side glanced at Feng Alix and looked away. He even scoffed silently.

'I have told you not to worry about me that I am fine!' Mr. Suarez said in an annoyed tone. Alix's love and care were beginning to piss him off. He didn't want her looking after him like he was a child but he doesn't seem to get her.

Feng Alix was surprised that her old husband was actually angry at her because of the affection she was showing to him. 'So I did bad by caring for you? There is no problem, I won't care about you again. Nobody in this house cares about you more than I do but it looks like my effort is not much appreciated.'

After saying that, Alix asked the servants to clean up the messed-up place and take the snacks, tea and wine back to the kitchen before walking away with tears in her eyes.

When she left, Mr. Suarez glanced towards the direction she walked away to and sighed. He was now beginning to feel bad for treating her that way.

He was old and it's true that nobody in his family cares for him the way Alix does. Whether her affections were fake or real, at least she was putting on a lot of effort, unlike his family that didn't care.

They had a lot of servants to look after him anyway.

‘Do you think I was too harsh on her?’ Mr. Suarez asked his lawyer who didn’t seem to express any other emotion other than being displeased by Alix’s play.

‘You were not too harsh on her, it’s good for her to learn the rules and follow them.’ His lawyer said.

After Mr. Suarez and his lawyer went back to the small sitting room, the servants cleared up the place, and now, nobody was left guarding the hallway, so Alix came back sneakily.

She took off her slippers and carried them in her hand while tiptoeing to the door of the small sitting room, Mr. Suarez was having a discussion with his lawyer.

Seeing that her coast was clear, Alix placed her ear on the door to listen to their conversation. She did that in time to hear the lawyer’s voice.

‘What about Ms. Alix, you’re not leaving any shares for her?’

‘They are already talking about the company shares?’ Alix thought with surprise. This part was very important to hear. With the way the lawyer asked that question, she didn’t want to speculate that something was wrong, but her heartbeats were already accelerating speedily.

Mr. Suarez was quiet for a while before replying. ‘No, I will not give any shares to her.’

Feng Alix was so shocked by the information she just heard. She couldn’t believe that her old husband didn’t want to give her any of his company shares. She was shocked and she felt a pain in her chest. She was heartbroken and anger filled her heart.

Mr. Suarez thought for a while before adding, 'If I give her some of the company shares, there will be a big fight in the family. They might kill her off. Already, I promised my children not to give any company shares to any other woman I will marry and that's the only way the wedding was allowed to go through. If I go back on my words, I can't imagine the fight that will break out.'

'Don't you feel that Ms. Alix would be angry and heartbroken to learn about your decision, after all, she is your wife?' The lawyer asked.

'And that is the reason this meeting must be kept a secret. I don't want her to feel bad. To compensate her, I will give her % 10,000,000 and a small villa in the countryside. With my connection, she can have a job anywhere she wants but she can't work in my company.' Mr. Suarez said with a bitter gaze.

He has thought things through. Alix can't get any of his company shares, and she can't work in any of his companies because of his family. He didn't want her to be a target by his angry family when he does since they hated her, so he had to make the best plans possible for everyone but Alix who heard everything didn't seem to appreciate his concerns.

Not only that, Alix was not going to live in the big family villas with the rest of the family after her husband's death. She was going to move out after his burial to the small villa he would put in her name.

As she listened further, she learned that she will not be allowed to sell that villa even if she doesn't want to live there.

Chapter 542 - Familiarity

After Alix returned to her bedroom she destroyed so many things there in order to vent her anger before leaving the house.

When Mr. Suarez learned of the commotion, he sighed and asked the servants to replace everything she destroyed before she returns.

Feng Alix in anger drove straight to a small familiar villa. It's been a long time since she was there but she was able to recognize the road from one of the texts from an unsaved contact in her phone.

After she got to the small Villa, she parked her car and got out of it. Because she was already popular as the young wife of Mr. Suarez and also because of the relationship the owner of the house has with the Suarez family, she was allowed inside and taken to the sitting room to sit and wait over a glass of wine as per her order.

Although the person she came to find wasn't there, she had the patience to wait because she knew exactly where he was but chose to come to his place to confront him.

About 40 minutes later, the young lawyer of Mr. Suarez returned to his house only to see the familiar car parked outside of his villa.

He stepped out of his car and walked to Alix's car to take a good look at it. 'She is definitely living a good life.'

When he walked into the sitting room with his work bag in one hand and the other hand in his trouser pocket, he saw Alix drinking a glass of red wine with her legs crossed and the bottle of wine was on the stool next to her.

'When last did you come here and you are already making yourself at home, Mrs. Suarez?' He asked as he came to stand before her.

Alix glanced at him and asked in an annoyed tone, 'What took you so long to come back?'

'After you made a mess of your room, you came to mine to make a mess of it or what? What did you come to see me for?' He asked with a smirk on his lips.

Alix downed the remaining content of the glass and put it on the stool before gazing at him to ask, 'What is the content of my husband's will?'

The lawyer stared at her in surprise for a few seconds before laughing out loud. 'I have been thinking the reason you remembered to visit me after a long time and it turns out that it's because of the will. Mrs. Suarez, I'm sorry to disappoint you but my conversation with Mr. Suarez about his Will, it's confidential information, so I can't tell you about it. But if you want to know about it so badly, you can go back to your home and ask him directly about it.'

Alix smiled and poured another glass of wine for herself. As she swirled the glass gently, she said to him with her gaze on the wine. 'He said not to give me any company shares. He said I'm not allowed to work in the family company. He is only planning on leaving me with money and a villa I can't sell? What does he take me for, a mistress?'

As Alix said the last sentence, she turned to glance at the lawyer with reddened eyes.

'Actually, % 10,000,000 and a small villa with servants at your beck and call, it's a lot to give to a mistress.' The lawyer said as he sat on another couch.

Alix glared at the lawyer and said to him, 'Carlos, I am already pissed off as it is, don't infuriate me further.'

‘Since you know what he Willed to you, what did you come to my place for? Don’t tell me you suddenly find my embrace a comfort zone?’

Carlos asked with a wicked smile.

‘As if!’ Alix snorted and looked away.

‘Don’t you miss the good old times between us? I must say that you really are an ambitious woman for dumping me and jumping right into Mr. Suarez’s arms.’ Carlos said as he stared hard at her.

‘You were not what I was looking for when it comes to terms of wealth and power.’ Alix said.

Carlos scoffed, ‘As Mr. Suarez’s lawyer, can’t you tell that I have connections and power? But you wanted more than that. You were greedy for more wealth, so you dumped me and ran straight to him after I told you he was my Boss in the last party we last attended together.’

Alix and Carlos dated for a short while before Alix met Mr. Suarez at a party she went to with Carlos. There, Carlos had introduced Alix to Mr. Suarez as a big business tycoon.

From their conversation, Alix caught the man’s flaw. He liked younger women and any young woman that manages to catch his attention would forever be lucky.

When Alix heard all that, she gave a shot at it and she was lucky enough to catch the attention of Mr. Suarez.

‘At least I got the benefits of getting married to Mr. Suarez. Money to spend whenever I wanted, connection to get whatever I wanted done and the public attention, it was sure that it.’ Alix replied and looked away.

Carlos decided to taunt her after what she said, 'What about the great s*x and this young rock-hard body, didn't you miss it for that soft pot belly and probably bad s*x?'

'Don't remind me of my ugly experiences in the bed. I didn't marry that old man just to receive this penny after his death.' Alix said angrily.

Normally, Mr. Suarez would only play or keep the young women he liked as his mistress but Alix suggested they have a marriage because she thought she would receive a lot of benefits from his will if she became his wife.

Now that she wasn't given any shares, the anger in her heart knew no bounds. She felt that she has been short-changed. A young woman like her in her early 30s (31 years) married a man in his late 70s, that was definitely not love.

She wanted to use him but it looks like she failed.

Chapter 543 - Jia Li's Idea

'What you received is not a penny. That's a lot of money to set you up for life. Even if you don't want to work, you can slowly spend the money until you die.' Carlos said and crossed his legs

'But that doesn't seem to satisfy me. That is not enough compensation for sleeping with an old man like him, I can't tell how many times I have been disgusted with him but I have to put up with it.' Alix said with a big frown on her face.

It was a very big lie that she loved Mr. Suarez. Her haters were right, she was with him because of his wealth but little did they know that her ambition was far greater than that.

She not only wanted his money but she also wanted some of his company shares and a position in one of the companies.

‘You haven’t told me why you came to my place, are you not scared that your husband will find out?’ Carlos asked.

‘He doesn’t tail you, so I’m sure he would never find out if you don’t tell. I came here for a reason, I want you to change his will.’ Alix said and sipped her wine.

‘What!’ Carlos exclaimed in shock. He is really shocked knowing how crazy and greedy Alix can be.

Back in China, Jia Li who had just finished showering came to join Fu Hua on the bed.

‘Darling, Jasmine will be 2 years old soon, let’s gift her something nice and cool.’ Jia Li said with a big smile.

Fu Hua smiled back at her and said, ‘I will do anything for my Princess. But the way you are smiling, it seems you already have a suggestion. Quick, out with it.’

‘You really know me well.’ Jia Li said with a smiling gaze

‘Even a stranger will know with that grin on your face. Tell me what you want for her birthday.’ Fu Hua said.

Jia Li laid on his chest and put her right hand inside his clothe to caress his chest while speaking, ‘Let’s build a house for her.’

‘A house?’ Fu Hua asked with interest.

‘Yes. The house will have a living room, dining room, a kitchen and a bedroom.’ Jia Li explained. She has been thinking about what to get the little girl as a birthday gift and finally thought about it.

Fu Hua nodded and said, ‘This sounds fun but what would she be doing in that house, she will surely cause a disaster there.’

‘Look at you, you are seeing things differently. I don’t just want to give Jasmine a house, I want to play house games with her. She will learn to wash plates, clean, make her bed and even cook.’ Jia Li said.

Since Jasmine was still small to do any chores in the house and besides, nobody in the family will let her do that when there are so many servants in the house. Even she hasn’t been allowed to do any work in the house, so obviously, Jasmine the little princess of the family won’t be allowed to do anything.

Building a small house for her, will not only be for fun but also educative. She will learn to clean on her own, not minding her age. When she grows up, it won’t be a hassle to teach her how to keep herself and her environment clean.

The Fu family will surely accept this method of teaching her.

Fu Hua agreed to her explanations and began to look forward to it. ‘I will design some princess dresses for her to keep in her bedroom.’

‘That will be cool. I already have a theme in mind for her next birthday. A day before her birthday, we will visit the orphanage with toys and food and you will have to come with us.’ Jia Li said to him.

‘Sure, I will be there for my Queen and Princess. Do you want anything special for your birthday?’ Fu Hua asked.

When Jasmine's birthday is mentioned, to Jia Li, it doesn't seem that day also belongs to her. Sometimes, she would forget that day belongs to her as well and will end up planning for her little girl and leave herself out of it. But no matter how she forgets, her loved ones and her fans would never forget.

'Nothing, I just want you to help me plan Jasmine's birthday. Your task is to look up some of the children's houses on the net. When you study them, you should be able to come up with a design in mind for Jasmine's house. I want you to design Jasmine's house and give it to the company that will construct and set it up here. When you are done with the building plan and design, we can look at them together. Jasmine can not choose most of the colors she would like, so we will do that with her.'

It's really going to be fun for the family of three to work on the small house together. This will be fun, interactive and also an opportunity to spend time together.

Fu Hua was okay with all the arrangements and even kissed her face for the great idea she has.

'You really are a great mother to Jasmine. You are always thinking about her no matter how busy you are.' Fu Hua said as he hugged Jia Li close to his chest.

'My family comes first, before any other thing. I can't abandon my baby no matter how busy I am, I will always think of her.' Jia Li said with a big smile with her eyes closed.

Fu Hua saw that her eyes were closed and she was still caressing his chest, so he decided to tease her.

‘You are indeed a good mother but for a good wife? I will have to think about it twice before saying anything. I mean, how can you be touching me while laying on me, are trying to stir up something?’

Jia Li replied without moving an inch, ‘Can’t I touch you without you feeling anything?’

‘That would mean that my sensory cells are dead!’

Chapter 544 - Hot Night

(WARNING: Whole Chapter rated 18)

‘That would mean that my sensory cells are dead!’

As Fu Hua said that, he stretched his hand towards Jia Li’s legs slipped his fingers inside her nightdress and began to caress her thighs.

Jia Li felt tickled by his actions and laughed out loud while trying to push him away but he was holding onto her tightly with one hand, while the other hand continued to caress her thighs.

‘Darling, can you stop!’ Jia Li said will laughing out loud.

‘Why should I stop? Now you understand what I meant by my cells are not dead and it looks like yours are still very much alive.’ Fu Hua said.

When she was touching him, she didn’t care if he was turned on and now that it was his turn, she wanted to run away.

‘I’m sorry, I won’t do it again.’ Jia Li pleaded while wriggling her body in laughter.

How could Fu Hua let her go when he was feeling good while touching her? 'I don't care if you are sorry or not, I must be satisfied before I let you go.'

As Fu Hua said that, he managed to pry open her legs which she closed tightly and slipped his fingers in between there to touch her small wetness.

Jia Li felt goosebumps when he slipped his fingers in-between her legs to touch her sensitive area which belonged to her and him.

'You... you're going too far...' Jia Li stuttered as she clamped her legs together to stop his fingers from touching her there, while still gazing at him.

Fu Hua's gaze lost its casualness and playfulness and became darker. His gaze darkened and the more he stared at her and felt her wetness, he wanted more than just to tease her. He wanted her and he was getting hard down there.

As his erection throbbed, he slipped his fingers out from her core and when she thought he was finally going to stop despite that sexy gaze he fixed on her, he suddenly turned her over and pressed his body on hers.

Jia Li was not wearing anything underneath the nightdress she was putting on, so apparently, he was naked and as Fu Hua felt her body, he enjoyed the softness and the natural scent from her body.

Before Jia Li could say a word just after she had opened her mouth to convince him to give up on the idea of s*x that night, Fu Hua who had been seeking the perfect opportunity to gain full access to her small lips, immediately leaned in and slipped his tongue inside her mouth and kissed her senseless.

Not only was he giving her hot kisses but his hands were also roaming all over her body until it reached for the soft big mounds on her chest, and squeezed them gently until she moaned into his mouth.

Since things have come to this, Jia Li didn't struggle and could only give in to him. There was no need to try to stop him when she was already aroused and very wet down there, he had to be allowed to quench the burning fire raging inside of her before he can stop.

Finally, Fu Hua took a break from her lips and put his elsewhere. From her lips, he trained kisses to her neck and earlobe before going down her neckline again, and down to her chest.

Without adjusting her gown, he placed his head in-between the two big mounds on her chest and rubbed his face there, before going on to stick his tongue out to caress her nipples from the thin lining of her nightdress, which aroused her further.

After playing with her nipples, Fu Hua moved his body away from her. He kneeled in-between her legs and went on to roll her dress up to her stomach area, and only then did he stop, and paused to admire her thick thighs and her inner juicy honeycomb which he had thought of devouring soon.

When the air hit her sensitive part after Fu Hua rolled her dress to her stomach, Jia Li attempted to close her legs but she couldn't because Fu Hua was kneeling in between her legs.

Thinking that his next action was him slipping inside her after fingering her, she relaxed.

Slowly, Fu Hua moved his middle finger up her thigh, before slowly tracing its way to her core. Slipping his finger deep inside of her, he found out it was loose and he immediately added another finger which seemed to fit perfectly, before starting to move them in and out of her while he enjoyed her moaning.

As Jia Li moaned with her eyes closed while moving her body because of pleasure, Fu Hua leaned in to kiss her lips hungrily before moving his face to the place in-between her legs.

Jia Li noticed the little movements, and slowly opened her eyes only to see where his face was heading to. She became frightened, out of the great pleasure she would experience when he uses his mouth to pleasure her and tried to close her legs.

Fu Hua paused in his actions and slipped his fingers out and fixed his deep gaze on her. That pause was a warning to her to stop what she was doing but Jia Li did not agree with him. She asked in a sultry tone, 'Don't...'

Fu Hua was already aware that she was trying to stop him, so he shushed her.

'Shhh.... be good and open your legs.'

That kind of command came out in the right situation and the right manner. He was clearly asking her to open her legs so he could eat her up. How could she listen to him? Well, she did because she was already too excited and needed to cool off.

But knowing the kind of pleasure and excitement that came with what he was about to do, and that got her a little scared.

Fu Hua understood her clearly and compelled her to open her legs while helping her to make it faster.. Finally, when her legs were opened, he leaned in to give her a lick, which caused her to shudder and moan out loud.

Chapter 545 - A Limit

After the first lick, Fu Hua blew air inside her which made her weave her fingers through his hair in pleasure.

Still intentionally teasing her, Fu Hua went on to eat her up with his mouth before pulling his pajamas and sliding his hot erection deep inside of her.

Fu Hua was gentle for the first 30 seconds. But after that, he wasn't gentle anymore but he wasn't rough.

As he continuously moved in and out of her with a little speed, he moaned along with her, also a little out of breath.

This hot young blooded couple went at it for over an hour before finally calling it a night. They bought showers together before laying in bed in their night outfits.

Jia Li was already dozing off immediately her head hit Fu Hua's chest. As Fu Hua hugged her with one hand, he gazed at her sleeping face and smiled hard before kissing her forehead.

Thousands our miles away in a faraway country, Alix moaned as Carlos released and got off her to lay beside her on the bed.

The two of them were a little out of breath after an intense sexual exercise.

'I haven't had a good s*x in a long time.' Alix said a little breathlessly.

Carlos turned to glance at her and said, 'I'm surprised a woman like you know what being faithful is. You were with him for a long time without looking outside until now.'

‘It’s not that I didn’t want to cheat on him but because there was no opportunity to do that.’

Throughout the time Alix was with Mr. Suarez until now, she has never cheated on him but the reason was that she was always going out with him or going out to parties where everyone knew her relationship with him, so she didn’t have the opportunity to cheat on him.

Now that her sexual desire has been satisfied, she looked a little happy.

‘Are you satisfied now?’ Carlos asked.

Feng Alix glanced at him and said with a frown, ‘How can I be satisfied? I haven’t had a good s*x since I left you, and that’s quite a long time. Today, I will only leave after my desires have been satiated.’

A smile appeared on Carlos’s face as he asked, ‘Are you not afraid that it will be found out that you cheated on the husband? I’m sure his family is still looking for ways to get rid of you.’

‘I don’t care. It feels good to cheat on someone. It’s fun and exciting, especially to someone that you don’t love.’ Alix said and had a good laugh after.

‘You are lucky that I agreed to satisfy you after all you did to me,’ Carlos said. It wasn’t his intention to sleep with her but she seduced him and he couldn’t resist the temptation.

He was more after satisfying his desires than worrying about the fact that she had left him for an older man because of greed.

‘You are good in bed but you are not better than my ex. His body is as sturdy as a horse and just a touch of his finger can set my entire body on fire. Anytime I think about the fact that he is sleeping with another woman, touching her the way he used to touch me and even treating her better than he used to treat me, I get so angry that I just want to kill that woman and get rid of her for good.’ Alix confessed as her gaze darkened.

Anytime she thought about Fu Hua being together with Jia Li, she always felt like tearing them apart. If given a chance, she wouldn’t hesitate to take Jia Li out of the picture.

Right now, even if she couldn’t get rid of Jia Li, she wanted to have a relationship with Fu Hua. To her, it would be so fun if she gets a chance to sleep with him again and make him have an extramarital affair.

Feng Alix had a dark mind and she seems to have lost all her senses.

Carlos also felt that she was not okay and said to her with a frown, ‘Are you sure you are alright? Why the regrets when you are at fault?’

‘It’s exactly because I am at fault that I regret my past actions.’ Feng Alix said immediately. If she could turn back time, she would never choose her career over Fu Hua.

Thinking about her past mistakes, she blamed herself greatly and thought that she must have been blinded to make that choice. It was now that she was realizing what she had after she had lost it.

‘You left your first boyfriend because of your second boyfriend. You left your second boyfriend because of a big opportunity abroad and when you lost everything including your reputation, you found me and still left me for an older man because of his wealth. Tell me, is there a limit to your making big mistakes and regretting your actions?’ Carlos asked in an annoyed tone.

Alix chuckled and replied, 'I don't need to stop making mistakes that I will regret because I can't stop. I have long accepted that this is my special touch. About the Will, there is no need to change it by yourself, because Mr. Suarez will give you a call to do that.'

Carlos seemed surprised by her look and tone of confidence. 'You sound so confident, what terrible plans do you have?'

Alix immediately climbed his naked and sweaty body. She made sure to sit directly on his weekend private part, which immediately stood at attention at her touch.

'It's not a terrible idea or plan. It's something I have been avoiding since I got together with Mr. Suarez. I didn't want to be tied down, but it looks like that's the only way to be genuine for once in a long time in my life.'

After saying that to him, Alix touched his manhood, before directing it into her core and started to grind her hips against him without giving him time to respond to her words.

Chapter 546 - Take Part In The Fun

Later in the evening of the same day, Alix prepared to leave. She washed up, got dressed and got ready to leave.

'You are not worried about getting pregnant?' Carlos asked with a meaningful gaze on her. They didn't use protection, so he was asking to know how she would handle it.

'There are so many pills to take, don't worry about me. I still have your number, pick up when I call you.' Alix said as she fastened her earrings to her ears. before picking up her handbag to look at him.

Carlos got off the bed saying, 'I'm not your lackey. You are not allowed to call me, send me a text if it's urgent.'

'Fine!' Alix said before leaving.

Leaving his small villa, Alix went to a high-end restaurant and ordered a full meal and a bottle of alcoholic wine.

After filling her stomach, she drank two glasses of wine before going to a drug store with the remaining bottle of wine in her car.

Alix bought sleeping pills before returning to her car. Opening the bottle of wine there, she poured a few tablets inside it before closing the bottle and driving home.

When she got home, she pretended to be drunk although she was slightly tipsy. She had a high level of alcohol tolerance.

Getting down from the car with her purse and bottle of wine, she walked in funny steps inside the house while calling her husband's name.

She called him a mean man for not caring about her. Everyone was home already, so they heard her drama.

'Has that woman gone nuts?' One of the middle-aged ladies asked with an ugly glare.

'Maybe it's time for her to leave this house.' A younger woman who seemed to be Mr. Suarez's granddaughter said.

While still pretending to be drunk, Alix met all some of them in the sitting room and made a few rude comments to them about how they have been ill-treating her and how they have been sabotaging her good plans.

Next, she said she was going to take revenge on them before walking away in unsteady steps, as she went to find Mr. Suarez wherever he was, after grabbing an empty glass from the table.

Before Mr. Suarez could go find her after he heard about the commotion she was making in her drunken state, she found him first in his bedroom.

‘Alix, why would you come home in this state?’ Mr. Suarez asked with a frown. This was his first time seeing her in that state but he was annoyed that she was disrupting the peace in the house.

‘You are the cause of this! Since we were together, I have never been this sad. And today, you caused me to rethink my creation.’ Alix said in a sad tone as she came to stand in front of him. She pretended to look pitiable so she wouldn’t be pushed away, so it worked

‘You are sad because of me?’ Mr. Suarez asked.

Alix chuckled sadly before pouring wine in the glass and handing it to him while speaking and he unconsciously took it from her.

‘You know your family hates me and they try to get rid of me with each passing day. In this house, I can only rely on you but it looks that’s not possible anymore. I am doomed to be hated by everyone, including the one I call my husband!’

‘Alix, who says that I hate you? I don’t! Come here, let me help you to sit.’ Mr. Suarez said and wanted to help her to sit on the bed but she refused.

‘Don’t spill the wine, drink it all up before you say anything to me.’ Alix commanded.

Mr. Suarez glanced at the wine in his hand, the bottle in her hand before asking, 'Have you been drinking this?'

'Yes, What's wrong with that?' Alix asked.

It was as if Mr. Suarez just thought of something and he stared at her in horror. 'Did you drive yourself back in this state?'

'What's wrong with it? If I had called you to send someone to pick me up, you wouldn't have answered my calls.' Alix shrugged.

In her mind, she snorted.

'Alix listen to me, you can't drink-drive next time. What if you got into an accident and lose your life?' Mr. Suarez reprimanded her but she wasn't in the mood to listen to him.

'Don't scold me, drink the wine I offered to you.' As Alix said that, she pushed the glass to his lips and made him drink every drop in the glass.

Mr. Suarez couldn't do anything other than to drink the wine she gave to him. After taking the last sip, he pushed the glass away from his mouth and said with a frown, 'This wine is strong, how many glasses did you take to be in this state?'

Mr. Suarez asked as he guided her to sit at the foot of his bed.

Alix poured another glass and handed it to him. 'If you want an answer, take the last drink for the day.'

'This woman, you are really something!' Mr. Suarez said and from the glass before she took the empty glass from him and smiled in satisfaction.

She was trying to make sure he took enough wine for the sleeping pills to work.

‘I took three glasses of this. I will be glad if you can take part in the fun.’
Alix said.

Mr. Suarez sighed and let her be. He could smell the wine on her and knew that she must have drunk a lot.

‘I have a surprise for you.’ Alix said suddenly as her drunken eyes lit up.

‘What kind of surprise is that?’ Mr. Suarez asked as he thought about what funny idea she has come up with.

‘I won’t tell you now. Just hold on for me. I have to flush this wine down the toilet because it’s terrible, I will be right back.’ Alix said as she got to her feet.

Mr. Suarez was scared that she would put herself in danger if she went into the bathroom alone in that state, so he wanted to go with her but Alix refused.

She asked him to lock the room door before walking into the toilet with the bottle of wine and shutting the door behind her.

Chapter 547 - Fu Ling And Xiulan

Getting to the bathroom, Alix pointed the remaining content of the wine into the toilet and flushed it down.

After doing that successfully, she placed the bottle of wine in the sink while smiling to herself in the mirror.

Next, she took off her clothes and climbed into the shower. She made sure to take her time bathing before stepping out and wrapping herself with a bathrobe.

Mr. Suarez who had been impatiently waiting for her to step out of the bathroom was already feeling sleepy when she finally stepped out. It looks like the drug had begun to work in his system.

When she stepped into the room, Alix teased the sleepy old man by opening her bathrobe and allowing him to take a good look at her naked body before she tied it back.

‘Why did you take so long? I am already tired, are sure we won’t leave this till tomorrow?’ Mr. Suarez asked as she came on him and pushed him down on the bed.

‘No way! This is the gift I prepared for you and it’s only for this night.’ Alix said.

In the end, Mr. Suarez fell asleep after Alix must have finished teasing him and taken off their clothes.

Seeing him sleeping while snoring, Alix snorted to herself as she pushed him off her body and went to pick up her purse that was lying on the floor.

Picking up her phone, she began to browse on a site about some drugs which were deemed important, before putting her phone back in her purse.

Putting the purse on the nightstand, she laid on the bed covered her naked body with a blanket and closed her eyes to sleep.

The next morning, she intentionally slept in so she wouldn't have to be the first person to wake up. Mr. Suarez woke up before Alix and sat up feeling refreshed. He looked down at the faint marks on his body and the one on Alix's naked body and smiled to himself.

While thinking that something must have happened between them last night, he felt a little bad that he couldn't remember the details.

'What a good way to gift me something.' Mr. Suarez thought before calling the servants to bring a hangover pill for Alix.

Mr. Suarez had always been a good drinker, so he was alright and didn't feel the need to take any hangover pill.

Back in China, Fu Ling was trying to partner with FJ for their next upcoming female dress-up game. It took Fu Ling and his best team a week to work on the proposal for FJ.

Around 10 AM, after confirming his appointment with Fu Hua from FJ which would be around noon, he called his assistant to bring him the files he was supposed to sign.

'Sir, here are the files you asked for.' Xiulan said as she passed the file to him.

Taking the files from her, Fu Ling asked a weird question out of the blue. 'Do you have a boyfriend?'

'I'm sorry what?' Xiulan said. She didn't think she heard him well, so her reaction was that way.

Fu Ling put down the files in his hands and gazed at her in slight worry. 'Do you have a boyfriend? I'm worried that I may be ruining your existing relationship out of my selfishness and lack of understanding.'

Before asking her to pretend to be a couple with him in front of his family, he didn't remember to check if she already had a boyfriend before using her, so now he was a little worried that if she was seeing someone, his plans might ruin their relationship.

Which man would let his girlfriend pretend to be in a relationship with their Boss maybe in public and in front of his family?

No man who had values would let that happen, even if it's for money.

Xiulan hid her disappointment and replied, 'I don't have a boyfriend.'

She seemed to be disappointed about the reason he was suddenly interested if she was in a relationship.

Fu Ling sighed in relief. 'I'm glad you are still single as my plot wouldn't have to ruin your relationship with other people. Tell me when you have a boyfriend, so I can find a way to immediately end all of these.'

Xiulan nodded in response before stepping back and turning to leave but Fu Ling made her stop in her steps briefly discussing a few things before she made her way out of his office.

Fu Ling had told her to prepare to go with him to FJ in an hour.

Immediately she stepped outside of his office, Xiulan sighed in relief. She stood there for a few minutes before returning to her desk.

An hour later, she and Fu Ling were already on their way to FJ in his car.

Jia Li had just finished eating lunch with Fu Hua when Zimo let Fu Ling and Xiulan in.

On seeing Jia Li in the office, Fu Ling smiled and greeted her first before turning greet Fu Hua.

After greeting them and receiving a response from them, Fu Ling went on to introduce Xiulan to them as his personal assistant.

Xiulan acted invisibly by bowing and greeting Jia Li and Fu Hua softly.

Jia Li smiled gently at her before glancing back at Fu Hua. 'I will leave you two to have your meeting, I have to go back to my office.'

After saying that, she packed up the lunch boxes she brought from home and walked towards the door but Fu Hua went after her.

'Wait.' Fu Hua said as he took giant strides towards her. Thinking that he had something to say to her, Jia Li stopped in her steps and turned around to glance at him with a smile.

Instead of saying something to her, Fu Hua smiled and leaned in to kiss her lips softly, then he hugged her for a few seconds before letting her go.

Jia Li blushed and turned around to leave quickly with Zimo following after her.

When they got to the elevator, Zimo pressed the button for the doors to open.. After she got in, she waved at Zimo before the doors closed and only then did Zimo happily return to his office.

Fu Ling talked to Fu Hua about his new game plans and how he wanted FJ to design the costumes for the dress-up game.

At first, he wanted to use the already made collection in FJ but Fu Hua gave him a piece of advice.

‘You need a fresh design and besides, it’s going to cost you a lot if you want to use our already launched expensive designs. I will suggest you pick a designer from our team and ask him/her to design some outfits for your game, it will become popular if we help with the promotion.’ Fu Hua said.

‘Brother you mean...’ Fu Ling trailed off.

Fu Hua smiled and said to him, ‘This will be beneficial for your company and FJ, it will be a win-win situation. If the designer for your costume is from FJ, this will be huge. After you launch the game, you can include some details leading to FJ, which in turn can direct your customers here.’

The dress-up game would surely be interesting, depending on the age range for it. If a teenager or an adult, plays that game and gets interested in the outfits, she can directly purchase the app in order to get those outfits.

At the end of the meeting, Fu Ling said he would make an adjustment to his proposal and some changes to the game which will allow all females from different age range to play the game.

For instance, after the game has launched and as a female customer, you try setting up your details in order to start playing, you will have to input your age range, so the system can automatically bring out the outfits suitable for your age to play with.

If you pick from ages 18-24 a certain kind of outfits will be displayed for you to play the dress-up game with.

In order for their proposal to work, Fu Ling had to first adjust his initial plans, so over the next several days, he and his team buried themselves in work.

After making the perfect proposal and adjusting their new game plans, Fu Ling went back to FJ with his personal assistant/fake girlfriend, Xiulan.

After going through their proposal, Fu Hua was satisfied with it.

Since this was official, Fu Hua asked Sunny to come to his office to discuss the new plan ahead of them.

Fu Ling chose a certain number of outfits for each level. If the customers from ages 18-24 pay and upgrade to use level 2 outfits, they can get an extra free outfit added to the one they purchased for the game.

Since they were going to be levels in the game, some of FJ's existing outfits will be used, aside from the ones that will be freshly designed.

The new game, Fu Ling was launching was not just a dress-up game alone, it also had some stories to it to make it interesting.

Tasks like, 'Having a prom party to attend, what kind of outfit will you pick for your date with the hottest guy in your high school?'

When the little meeting was over, Fu Hua asked Sunny to pick a team of 3 people that would work on this new project. He was leaving her to make the decision since she was FJ's Creative Arts Director.

Fu Ling felt more grateful to Fu Hua for the advice he gave to him. Since the game will be solely focused on 90% females, he had to put more effort, as this was his first time working on a different kind of game from his usual.

Also, Fu Hua told him to launch the game quickly before Jasmine's birthday, so that on her birthday, the game could be advertised there.

'I'm not sure of the theme her mother chose for this year's birthday party but you can still advertise your new game thereafter the launch. If your App is friendly, Jasmine can play the dress-up game with the guidance of her mother or any adult.' Fu Hua said.

These tactics were simple. The little bun only had to choose some dresses she would like her character in the game to wear, while an adult-supervised from the side.

Not only will Jasmine play the game in front of her party guests but also, she will be recorded and the clip, posted online to draw more attention to the game.

This will surely create a buzz on the Internet.

That day when Fu Hua got home, he explained in detail on the discussion he had with Fu Ling concerning his new game.

'...I hope you don't mind?' Fu Hua asked with his gaze on her.

'I don't mind at all. It's not a big deal and we are a family, we should help one another when we have the opportunity to do so.' Jia Li replied.

She had no problem with Fu Ling using Jasmine's birthday for his game promotion. She thought it would be more fun and even asked Fu Hua to talk about it with Fu Ling after the game launches, to see if they could include some other things from the game in the birthday party, to make it more fun.

The next day being the weekend, Fu Hua was spending real time with his little daughter. Jasmine was sitting on his chest while eating a bar of chocolate.

If the little girl takes a bite, she would give her father to have a bite. The father and daughter were really enjoying themselves.

Jasmine's hair was let down and it caused obstruction for her while eating her chocolate bar, so her father had to push her hair away from her face from time to time until they finished eating the chocolate.

Jia Li who left the bed for them and was lying on the couch while reading a book was distracted because Fu Hua just called her to get the little girl's water bottle.

As the little girl was comfortably sitting on him, he didn't want to disturb her, so he chose to disturb his wife.

'Sweetheart, please help me with her water bottle..' Fu Hua said while flashing a sweet smile at the grumpy-looking Jia Li.

Chapter 549 - The Little Girl's Honest Responses

Right now, Jasmine was sitting on the bed with her water bottle while Fu Hua was trying to pack her hair in two ponytails after combing it.

The only thing Jasmine did was to sit there obediently while her father tried to tidy up her hair.

Fu Hua was being so gentle so as not to hurt the little girl and at the end, the hair he packed for her looked funny.

‘Good, you look cuter now.’ Fu Hua said with a proud smile and his hands on his waist as he admired his handiwork.

Jasmine reached out with her short arms to touch her hair while staring at her father. Fu Hua noticed that she was interested in seeing her new looks, so he picked up his phone and turned on the camera.

‘Jasmine look over here and say, ‘sweet’.’

With the way he positioned his phone, the little girl knew he wanted to take photos of her, so she posed and obediently said ‘sweet’ and Fu Hua snapped away.

After taking a few photos, Fu Hua smiled proudly and walked to her side to show the photos to her. ‘Here you go.’

When Jasmine saw how ugly her hair looked, she scrunched up her nose and glanced at her father. ‘Ugly!’ She said with an unhappy tone.

‘What! How is your hair ugly? Princess, Daddy did his best to make your hair look this good and you said it’s ugly?’ Fu Hua said in surprise.

Jia Li laughed out loud with her gaze on the father and daughter. Her daughter’s hair indeed looked funny when she saw it. No wonder Jasmine said her hair was ugly.

‘What’s funny?’ Fu Hua asked Jia Li with a frown. He didn’t seem to be happy that his handwork was laughed at.

‘I can’t believe the CEO of FJ can’t style his daughter’s hair.’ Jia Li said. She really enjoyed making fun of him.

Jasmine who was still annoyed with her funny hairstyle immediately turned to her mother and said while pointing at her hair, ‘Mummy, my hair!’

‘What do you want me to do?’ Jia Li asked while staring at her with a smile.

Jasmine didn’t know how to reply to her, so she picked up the comb her father had used to comb her hair and showed it to her mother.

‘You want me to help you with your hair?’ Jia Li asked while sitting up on the couch and the little girl nodded with furrowed brows.

Stretching her hands towards her, Jia Li asked her to come over.

Jasmine was too small to come down from the bed, so she glanced at her father to ask for help. Fu Hua was unwilling to help her after she said the hair he styled for her was ugly.

Jasmine seemed impatient as she called out to him, ‘Daddy!’

‘Darling, don’t tell me you’re jealous.’ Jia Li said from the side.

It was inevitable for Fu Hua to be jealous after his goodwill was called, ‘ugly’ by his little princess. At last, he relented and carried the little girl down from the bed.

Immediately her little bare feet touched the floor, she ran to her mother with the comb in her hand.

Jia Li immediately lifted the little girl to sit on the couch as she loosened the hairband when she approached her.

After her hair was repacked in two bunnies, Fu Hua took some shots of her and posted them on his official social media handles.

He posted the picture of Jasmine in the hair he styled for her, alongside the style Jia Li made for her with the caption: 'I did my best to make her hair less painful while packing it for her but she called it ugly at the end and ran to her mother to get her hair restyled. My heart is broken.'

Fu Hua tagged Jia Li in that post and before she could see his message and reply to it, there were already thousands of likes and comments under his post.

Many people commented how cute Jasmine was and her funny actions.

In the second picture Fu Hua posted, Jia Li could be seen holding the little girl in her bosom. Jia Li looked especially beautiful in her casual outfit and they were first noticed by a few people before others began to make comments about her.

Later when Jia Li saw the post Fu Hua tagged her to, she commented.

'Learn to style your daughter's hair the same way you design those amazing outfits at work.'

Immediately, Jia Li's comments made it to the Top charts. So many people reposted her comment to Fu Hua's post.

'Oh my goodness! Did Jia Li just make that comment

'Mrs. Fu is making fun of Mr. Fu for his terrible creativity at home.'

'Oh my! The little bun said that style was ugly and it got me cracking up.'

'Daddy Fu, please learn to style your baby daughter's hair so she won't have to run away from you.'

'Oh! The little girl is so honest.'

'Yes, children are so honest that they would tell you the truth without minding your feelings.'

'Who knows how our CEO felt after his heart was ruthlessly punched by his daughter

'I love this family of 3. Please can you make posts like this often?'

Another hour later, Fu Hua's post and Jia Li's response were now trending and were the most searched, liked, commented on and reposted.

Back in their bedroom, Fu Hua was still playing with the little girl after she got over the ugly hair he styled for her.

'Jasmine say, I love mummy.' Fu Hua said to the little girl.

'I yuv Mummy!' Jasmine said happily. It looks like she was very happy to confess her love for her mother.

'Say, I love Daddy.' Fu Hua said to her.

'I yuv Daddy!' Jasmine said and clapped her hands.

Fu Hua smiled and said to her again, 'Kiss Daddy.'

Surprisingly, the little girl refused. 'No!' She said while shaking her head in a negative affirmation.

'Why?' Fu Hua asked in surprise. 'No.' The little girl replied stubbornly.

At last, when Jia Li went over and asked the little girl for a kiss, she happily kissed her cheeks much to her father's envy.

It looks like the little girl still bore a grudge against her father.

Chapter 550 - Alix Is Pregnant

Alix is pregnant.

Their family doctor confirmed it after Alix fainted and was called over.

Why did she faint, how did she faint?

Alix knew her plans like the back of palms. She was expecting to be pregnant, so she bought a pregnancy test ahead of time while waiting for the right opportunity to make use of it.

It was not yet time for her period for that month to come but she used the pregnancy test kit on herself after a few weeks and it turned out positive.

She was elated not because of the baby she was carrying but because of what she would use it for.

After confirming that she was pregnant, she didn't announce it and instead kept mute about it while waiting for the opportunity to announce it in an unusual way.

The next day, Mr. Suarez called everyone to talk about his will which would be sent over soon but will only be read out when he dies to avoid fights while he was still alive.

During the meeting, Mr. Suarez mentioned the shares. He had said that Alix will not inherit any shares but will not lack money and a place to stay after his death.

Alix who already appeared frail shot up from her seat and started screaming at Mr. Suarez while pointing fingers at him to the anger of the remaining members of the family.

Mr. Suarez's only daughter could not condole her acts and immediately slapped her hard on her face.

There was dead silence after the slap was perfectly delivered but something happened.

'Did you just slap me?' Alix asked in shock while holding her left cheek. Just now after she was slapped, she felt a little dizzy and staggered a bit, while feeling that head was moving on its own.

'And I will do it again. How dare a greedy bitch like you insult my father, have you gone nuts?' The woman asked.

Alix glanced angrily at her and said, 'How dare you hit me, have you forgotten that I am your mother by my marriage to your father?'

Another slap was delivered to her face right after she said that. Mr. Suarez who had had enough of what was going on asked them to stop but nobody listened to him.

'You ugly hag, how dare you to hit me again?' Alix said as she lounged towards the woman but the woman seemed to still be agitated, so she pushed her away.

Alix fell directly on the floor but never got back again. Everyone thought she was pretending including Mr. Suarez who had already gotten to his feet in anger.

'Why did you push her, quickly help her up!' Mr. Suarez instructed in an angry tone.

‘Father, why would I help her up, she can help herself up whenever she is done resting.’ The women said and looked away.

‘Don’t you want any inheritance anymore?’ Mr. Suarez threatened. The woman was forced to go to Alix’s side.

She kicked her legs and asked, ‘Are you not going to get up?’ But Alix did not move an inch.

‘Her drama is getting out of hand.’ One of Mr. Suarez’s grandchildren said.

Mr. Suarez who was impatient from his daughter’s sluggish acts came forward and pushed her away, before calling Alix while shaking her body but there was no response.

Afraid that something serious might have happened to her, the old man panicked and immediately turned her over, only to see that her eyes were shut and there was no movement from her.

The rest of the family were shocked and immediately got up from their seats.

‘What happened to her, is she dead?’ One of them asked in horror.

‘Hurry up and call the doctor, her breath is faint!’ Mr. Suarez roared and his order was immediately carried out.

The woman who pushed Alix down was very scared of killing someone. Luckily, her daughter helped her to sit back in her seat.

‘Anyway, we are rich and can cover up her death if she really dies here’ The woman thought, as she can’t spend the rest of her life in prison. In the worst case, she could put the blame on a servant.

Their family doctor arrived soon and sent everyone out of Alix's bedroom before doing some checkups and connecting a drip to her, while the Suarez family, actually those that cared about her life, waited outside of her room along with Mr. Suarez.

After what felt like several minutes, the doctor finally stepped out of the room with a frown on his face.

'How is she?' Mr. Suarez asked.

'She is out of danger now. How did she fall?' The doctor asked.

Without wasting time, Mr. Suarez summarized why happened. 'She got into a fight.'

'How can a woman in the first stage of pregnancy get into a fight?' The doctor asked to the surprise of everyone.

'Doctor, what do you mean?' One of Mr. Suarez's sons asked.

'Ms. Alix is pregnant but right now, the fetus is unstable because of the fight and she needs to at least have a week of bed rest. I will write a list of drugs she would have to be taking and a diet plan she must strictly follow to help with the fetus development.' The Doctor said.

Mr. Suarez and his family were still in shock with the news of Alix's pregnancy but Mr. Suarez was quick to recover from his shock. He smiled and shook his hands with the doctor before asking one of his sons to take the doctor to sit somewhere, so he could relax and write the list of drugs and the diet Alix would strictly follow.

'Doctor can I see her?' Mr. Suarez asked with a mix of emotions.

‘She is in a deep sleep but you can go in and see her. The nurse will be there to look after her till she wakes up.’

The doctor had come with a nurse who would stay by Alix’s side till she regains consciousness.

Mr. Suarez thanked the doctor again before going into Alix’s bedroom.

When Alix woke up, she seemed a bit out of it.. There was a huge frown sitting on her face as she tried to sit up.
