

Timeless Love 28

CHAPTER 28 DRINK WITH ME TO REDUCE MY SORROW.

After Hathaway finished discussing work with Barry, Barry went out. Hathaway was staying in the office to organize the PPT that Barry had made for her to make up for the meeting she had missed yesterday.

When Andrew knocked on the door and went in, Hathaway was trembling. Although she was still lazily nestled in her chair, she was already highly concentrated and ready to deal with Andrew.

Hathaway saw a white gauze on Andrew's forehead and was stunned for a moment.

Then she asked politely, "Why are you injured? Are you okay?"

Andrew came directly to her desk and said calmly staring at her eyes, "I asked my parents for their permission to let me marry you and my dad hit me with a teacup."

Hathaway, "..."

If she knew he was hurt because of this, she wouldn't have asked him.

And because of Andrew's words, Hathaway instantly understood why Barbara had run to her house early in the morning to fight with them.

Pretending to think that Andrew had just been joking, Hathaway asked as if nothing had happened, "Something wrong?"

Andrew stood looking at her with a serious expression and pursed his lips for a long time, and then suddenly walked around her desk towards her. Hastily standing up from her chair, Hathaway glared at Andrew and asked, "What do you want to do?"

Behind Hathaway's desk was a whole row of bookshelves. Andrew dragged her over and pinned her down on the bookshelf, and he leaned over as well, which made Hathaway panic. She raised her hand to push Andrew away. She shouted in a stern voice, "Andrew!"

Hathaway tried to use a stern tone to warn Andrew not to do something against moral ethics, but Andrew, as if he was crazy, viciously pressed her down on the bookshelf and kissed her directly.

Hathaway opened her eyes wide in shock and hurriedly tilted her head to avoid it.

However, the man's strength was too great, and Andrew, losing control of his emotions, kissed Hathaway's soft lips. But no matter how hard Andrew tried, Hathaway kept her lips tightly pursed to prevent Andrew from kissing her deeper, and finally Andrew, in anger, bit her on her white neck hard. Hathaway got free while shouting toward outside, "Barry!"

Barry hurriedly came in and was shocked to see Andrew pressing Hathaway. Barry had always known that Hathaway and Andrew did not get along, but he had never thought that Andrew would have unusual feelings for Hathaway.

Only then did Barry finally understand that Andrew's indifferent attitude towards Hathaway was due to resentment for not being loved by her, and not because of their different positions.

Andrew let go of Hathaway after Barry came in, but he still kept staring at Hathaway. Hathaway trembled with anger. She wiped her lips and gave a loud explanation to Barry, "Andrew is not allowed in my office again!"

"Yes! Ok!" Barry had been working with Hathaway for over a month and had never seen her so angry before, so he promised her and calmed her down. The bad mood of the boss was a mistake on his part as an assistant!

Andrew turned angry because of her disgusted action of wiping her mouth. "At Leon's place, you kissed him on your own initiative, but when I took the initiative to kiss you, you got so angry?"

Hathaway was getting mad at Andrew's absurdity, and even cursed, "I'm willing to kiss him because he can bring me enough benefits! What the fuck can you bring me?"

"Do you want to bring me the infamous reputation of incest with my cousin, or do you want to bring me the sarcastic humiliation of your parents? Or you want to let your father blow your head off!"

Hathaway yelled at the top of her voice. When Andrew looked at her being so angry that she lost her temper, he clenched his hands and said, "Don't push me."

Hathaway wanted to kick Andrew over, "You're the one who's pushing me!"

Finally, Andrew turned away with irritation after giving her a deep gaze, while Hathaway sat irritably in her office chair, not wanting to say a word.

Barry took a look at the red mark on her neck and couldn't help but ask her, "Boss, Andrew treated you--"

He felt as if he had bumped into some unsightly secrets of the wealthy family, so he didn't know if he would be killed by Andrew, but with his skills, Andrew wouldn't be able to kill him that easily.

Hathaway rubbed her forehead and snorted, "It's what you see. He's an old pervert."

Barry, "..."

When she called Andrew a pervert, she would always add an "old" to it. She really disliked men of Leon and Andrew's age. People said that women like mature and stable men because they could give them a sense of security and also loved them. She was the right age for them and it would be great if they were together, but she disliked both Leon and Andrew. He still wanted to know how to become mature.

He thought about what Hathaway said earlier about inviting him for dinner in the evening, and considering Hathaway's current bad mood, Barry said, "Boss, why not postpone the invitation for dinner tonight? I don't think you're in a good mood..."

Hathaway opened her eyes and said firmly, "This won't delay me from continuing to treat you to dinner. You can drink with me to ease my worries, which will be great."

Nick didn't know that Hathaway had invited Barry as well, so he thought she just invited him. During the day, Hathaway went to the hospital to visit Ashley and asked him before leaving if he had time in the evening. She said if he had time she would treat him to dinner.

That was why he told Leon that whether he minded if the three of them had dinner together.

Since Hathaway invited them to have dinner, she had booked a private room beforehand. Nick and Leon arrived first, and after sitting in the compartment for a while, they heard the happy voice of the girl from outside, "Barry, you've had a few pimples on your face recently because you're suffering from a serious hormone imbalance which needs to be solved with some special methods."

Barry was a bit resistant, "Boss, don't talk with me about this, because I'll be shy."

Hathaway didn't care, "Hah, there is no need to be shy for you with me. I'm your friend."

The content of their chat was heard by the two people in the private room. After feeling the dissatisfaction of Leon beside him, Nick silently took the cup of tea in front of him and took a sip of tea, praying for Hathaway's good luck.

A man always had an inexplicable possessiveness towards a woman he had a physical relationship with, for example, he was somehow uncomfortable when he saw Ashley was with the bad man Charles Robinson after he slept with her.

Even though they didn't have any nominal relationship, they were just angry, not to mention the fact that Barry was still a handsome young boy.
