Five years back.

In the dark night, the full moonlight was spread out across the sky and bright spark lights of the stars were twinkling in the skies, the sound of the sea wave could be heard, the cool breeze was passing through. This was an awesome romantic environment and every couple wanted to spend their beautiful time with their loved ones, here.

However, no one has expected that some illegal activities were going to happen inside the ship, which was parked near the dock.

Perhaps, that was the reason, not a single person was here.

Complete silence was spread out across this area.

Inside the ship, a man, worn the black T-sheet and jeans came. He was wearing a black cap on his head and gloves on his hands. His movements were so smooth like a wind that the worker, who was doing their work, hadn't noticed his arrival.

The workers were carrying the goods inside the ship. A custom-officer was standing on the dock and was monitoring the loading of the goods to the ship and as per him, everything was going as per rules and nothing abnormal was happening.

However, the custom-officer didn't know that as soon as he would leave, the abnormal things were going to happen.

Soon, all the workers had done their work and left after reporting to the custom-officer.

Complete silence and darkness were there that no one had expected that a man, who had worn the black clothes, was still sitting inside the ship.

After half an hour, ten jeeps had come on the dock near to the ship. The men got down from the jeeps and swiftly held the box and carrying it inside the ship. The men went inside the ship and immediately they took out the packets of white powder from the box and put them inside the containers of the goods.

The security cameras were taken care of, so the men were doing their work swiftly without any fear. As no one was here to notice them.

"Done!" The first man said with an evil smirk.

"Done!" The second man said with an evil smirk

"Done!" The third man said with an evil smirk.

Soon, all twenty men had completed the work. They felt the victory after completing their work.

"Very good, now you will get the reward." A calm voice came out of nowhere.

All twenty men were startled. It was a calm voice, however, all the men felt it was a chilling voice. Their foreheads were sweating. The cold chill passed down through their spine.

They immediately took out their guns and looking everywhere, however, because of the darkness they couldn't find the person, whose voice had come.

A drop of the sweat was rolling from their forehead to their cheek, despite the cool breeze was passing through their faces.

The men were so scared and were busy in searching for the person, whose voice had come, that they hadn't realised that their five team members' throats were cut down and they had lost their precious life.

The man, who had worn the black clothes, was swiftly taking the life of the men one by one through his smooth movements. It seemed that he had worked so hard to achieve this kind of skills.

However, the luck was not there with him and therefore, as soon as he cut the throat of the tenth man. All of a sudden, the lights on the ship were switched on and the left ten men's attention went towards the man, who had worn the black clothes.

Before the man, who had worn the black clothes, could react, a bullet was hit on his thigh.

'Bang'

"Fk!" The man, who had the black clothes, cursed and he immediately pressed a button on his wireless earphone and said "Mission Fail. Plan B active."

And then he jumped off in the sea.

'Clash'

"Who is there? Don't move, otherwise, I will shoot you." The custom-officer shouted and took out his gun.

The custom-officer forgot an important file here and to take it he came back. However, he found that ten jeeps were parked outside the ship, so he swiftly went inside the ships and switched on the lights. However, because of the big containers of goods, he wasn't able to see anyone there. After the few minutes, he heard the sound of the fire from the gun and he ran towards the direction from where the voice had come.

Unluckily, before the custom-officer could see anyone, a bullet hit on his forehead and he fell on the floor and he died.

Soon, the five men jumped after the man, who was in black clothes, and were started searching for him.

"DANGER, a man has found out about our activities. Immediately seize this area and start looking for him." The leader of the twenty men took out the walkie-talkie and informed his other team.

"Come on, clear this ship and remove all the traces." Then the leader of the twenty men ordered the rest of the four men, who were on the ship.

Inside the sea

The man, who had worn the black clothes, was struggling to swim because blood was continually flowing out from his leg. Still, he didn't give up and was almost going to reach the shore in the opposite direction. However, all of a sudden, a hand came and grab him from behind his back and pushed him inside the sea water. The man, who wore the black clothes, was struggling to remove from the grab, but one more man came towards the man, who wore the black clothes, and both the men were pushing the man, who had worn the black clothes, inside the sea.

Still, he continually walked and moved towards a small alley, so that he could hide there.

However, his blood flowed from his legs left the traces of his, behind.

"Oops, it's Mr Mo. How could my men not be able to see him?" The man said with a smug smirk.

The man, who had worn black clothes, was Mo Jiang.

His face had turned pale and all of his energy had gone. The pain in his leg was unbearable. His enemies had pointed out their gun towards him and he knew, within the few seconds he was going to die, however, still, he was no traces of fear in his eyes.

"Boys, let's finish our work and send Mr Mo to hell." The man, who was standing in front of Mo Jiang and said.

"Goodbye, Mr Mo." The man said and went towards his car.

The men pulled the rear sight of their gun and get ready their gun to hit Mo Jiang.

Mo Jiang closed his eyes and be ready for the dead.

However....

All of a sudden...
