

《The Mysterious CEO》

177 Source of Money and Pleasure.

The past days were flashing in her mind starting from her accident till the day she met their boss .

A few years ago, when the truck hit Liu Juan and left from there without considering her, at that time three drunk men were passing nearby.

"Hey, look...someone is lying there." The first man out of the drunk men said and staggered towards Li Juan.

As soon as he saw Liu Juan lying in a pool of blood, he widely opened his eyes and shrieked "Hey...look it's an accident!"

The rest of the two men came forward, one of them kicked Liu Juan to see whether she had died or not.

"I think she is dead." The second man said, who kicked Liu Juan, when he saw that Liu Juan didn't show movement.

"If she is dead, then let's not waste our time here. It will create unnecessary trouble for us. Let's get out of here." The third man said.

The men turned to leave, they stopped after taking a few steps when they heard a weak voice.

"H-help...H-help...big...s...."Liu Juan weakly murmured and again passed out.

"Huh? Did you hear that voice?" The first man said as he turned around and saw a little movement of Liu Juan.

"She is alive, did you see that?" The second man pointed at the direction towards Liu Juan.

"Yes, What do you think? Should we help her?" The first man asked as he was looking towards the other two men.

The third man looked at the surroundings and saw that there was no one on this highway, There was also no street light but only faint light of the moon was here. They couldn't have a clear view of Liu Juan's face.

Seemed that the situation was appropriate, he had a sinister smile on his face, "Sure, we should help her."

As he said and looked at his two partners with an amused look. Sure enough, both men understood his meaning and they both exchanged looks.

"You mean..."

"Of course, she will be our source of income." The second man interrupted and complete the sentence of the first man.

"And, she will also be a source of pleasure for us...haha....hahahaha...." The third man said then all the men started laughing.

Then the first man took Liu Juan on his shoulder and carried her away with them.

The sun rises every morning and sets every evening. The time followed as per its accord and the days pleasantly passed. Soon, fifteen days passed. During this period, Liu Juan sometimes murmured in her unconsciousness "Help...Help..Big sister... she got hurt..."

Initially, when those men heard her, they got excited as it seemed that Liu Juan was going to be conscious and their expectations from her would be fulfilled, but soon it died out as she again passed out.

...

"I don't think she would be able to wake up. We have already wasted our time and money, I think we should sell her organs to at least gain some of our money which we have spent on her." The first man said in frustration as he was getting very impatient now. It had been fifteen days, still, this da*m girl had not awakened.

Although, she was unconscious, still, she murmured the same line every other day about helping her big sister.

Who the hell is her big sister?