180 Ideal opportunity to run away

Did Liu Juan really think that they would let her go just like that?!!

She must be dreaming then!

Thereafter, the third man allowed Liu Juan to drink water as she needed strength for that routine. Liu Juan gulped the whole glass of water in one go and asked for more water and the third man happily gave her.

Both the other two men exchanged a look as they somehow understood what their partner was trying to do.

Afterwards, they gave Liu Juan some food and let her rest as much as she wanted.

A few days passed, in these few days not only they allowed her to rest well, but they also brought all the necessary items for her. Liu Juan felt suspicious, she couldn't understand why these men were being so nice to her all of a sudden?

But, she didn't dare question them as she was weak now and she needed to recuperate, so she obediently ate and took rest. Once, she would recover, she would run away from here like before.

However, would Liu Juan really be able to run away this time?

Might be not!

In the night, the stars in the sky spread its brightness as usual and the surrounding of the colony was peaceful. Although it was a shabby place where few drunk men were staggering on the road, it didn't decrease the charm of the night.

In a small and shabby room, pungent smell of the colony disseminated in the room that would make anyone puke their lungs out, but Liu Juan was now used to it.

Liu Juan's health was returning to normal, although she couldn't walk normally as her left leg was badly hurt, still, it wasn't hurting like a few days before. So, seeing the situation was ideal, Liu Juan decided to run away tonight. She didn't know where she would go, but she couldn't stay here because sooner or later, these three men would show their true colors. Moreover, she decided that she would find her sister on her own. She knew that she was a small six years old girl, but she didn't have trust in anyone.

'Creak...'

'Creak...'

Liu Juan was trying to open the door, she couldn't...

It seemed that they had locked her.

It seemed that they had understood more or less her intentions.

Now, what should she do?

There was a small window in this room through which her possibility of escaping was zero.

No!!!

She has to run away from here tonight anyhow.

Liu Juan was continuously trying to open the door. A feeling of uneasiness had started to grow in her heart which made her not to give up. After some point of time, she seemed to be a mad girl that she recklessly hitting her fist on the door.

"Open the door, I want to go out." Liu Juan shouted out of her lung out.

"OPEN THE DOOR!!!"

Liu Juan didn't stop hitting on the door, even though her fists was turning red. An overwhelming uneasiness overtook her senses. She had been locked in this room for a week and now she wanted to go out.

She didn't want to live here.

She wanted to go back to her sister.

During that time, Liu Juan didn't notice that the sound of footsteps were coming closer towards her.

'Bang'

Suddenly, the door opened and caused Liu Juan to fall on the ground.
