190 Stupid!

God must have decided not only to show some mercy on her but also to help her as well.

The man had woken up before the other men.

By the time the man had woken up, the sun was at its peak and its rays were spreading the light everywhere.

When the man opened his eyes, he felt the sun rays immediately hit his eyes making him close his eyes swiftly.

Perhaps because of being in the darkness for a long time, his eyes had gotten used to it that it took him some time to adjust to the light.

After a while, he opened his eyes. Although his body was injured to the core, his eyes were still sharp like a tiger!

His sharp eyes scrutinized the area around him and caught a weak figure beside him who had hidden her head in between her legs while kneeling and was shivering badly.

"Now, you are with me, what's there to be afraid of?" Like his eyes, his voice still had the same weight as before.

Liu Juan stiffened for a moment as she immediately raised her head up and looked to the man, who was scrutinizing the room attentively.

Liu Juan's lips trembled as she opened her mouth "You..."

Seeing the room was clean and tidied up he understood that his enemy still hadn't found this room yet.

It meant his plan worked!

Good!

It was a good thing!

Unfortunately, they didn't have much time and had to leave this room as soon as possible!

Now that his men were dead, which was good as well as a bad thing for him. Good thing because now there weren't many people so they could easily escape far from here soon. Bad thing because the man was not in a position to walk and he couldn't rely on this frail figure to carry him on her little back.

The cruelty of the situation was bad!

Seeing Liu Juan was constantly staring at him, he looked at her and asked "What? Stop wasting time, there is a secret path in the bathroom below the shower. If you continuously press the wall, it will open the path. Go and leave before anyone finds you. Now hurry and Go!"

Liu Juan nodded vigorously and sprinted, with allot effort with the help of her left leg as her right leg was injured, towards the bathroom and pressed the wall and after fifty seconds, the wall moved aside and a path came in front of her sight. It was the same like the wall from where she ran away from Bo Xiao's villa.

Thinking about Bo Xiao, a faint picture of Liu Ruolan also came into her mind. She had promised her big sister that she would come back and save her from Mr. Jin. However, the cruelty of life, she wasn't able to go back and save her....

Seeing the path in front of her as a new hope in her life that she would definitely find her Big sister and save her this time, a faint smile appeared on her face again. She took a step inside it, but halted when she heard a faint sound of coughing coming from the room.

Should she leave him just like that?

She had seen how those men had beaten him up. They even found her, if this man hadn't blasted that bomb, she would have died or some more worst thing had happened with her. Because of this man, she was here, would it be okay to leave him here?

Those men would wake up sooner or later and if they found him, they would definitely kill him.

No...

She couldn't leave him here.

Liu Juan ran back to the room to get the man to go with her.

The man was coughing even more when he tried to get up. Although he had told Liu Juan to run away, it didn't mean that he had forgotten about himself.

He simply tried his luck by blasting that bomb, gambling that girl was far away from him at that time, so the effect of the blast on her would be minimal and she would wake up early than the rest because of being young amongst the all. Moreover, he had expected that when she would awake she would take him out of that room with her. Fortunately for him, his gamble paid off and Liu Juan brought him here.

Since she helped him and took him here, now he helped her by telling her about the secret path to get out of this villa. Now, they were even. He wasn't indebted to her for anything!

Well, he was wrong!

He found himself wrong when he saw her coming back and hearing her words "I won't leave without you!"

"Are you crazy? Run away as far as you can when you have time. If those men catch you again, don't expect any more miracles would happen to you again! Even if life is cruel, you have to live!" The man advised her while waving his hand to leave as fast as she could.

"No, you helped me by blasting that bomb. If you haven't blasted that bomb, they would have killed me as well. You have helped me, it is the only right for me to help you now as well."

"Don't be stupid. I blasted that bomb not only to save you but to save me as well. Moreover, I gambled at that time that you would definitely help me and take me out when you woke up. Since you have done things as I expected I rewarded you by telling you about the secret path. Take this reward and leave!"

"Then, let me help you again. In exchange for it, if we safely get out of here then help me find my big sister and send both of us back to the orphanage from where you have adopted me!"

Hearing about the fake Liu Juan and betrayal of Bo Xiao, the man's expression darkened. If he got out from here safely, he would definitely let Bo Xiao feel the consequence of betrayal.

after that, the man's sight went towards Liu Juan, her eyes were looking at him with hope.

The first word came in his mind to spout out to Liu Juan 'Stupid!'

But he wouldn't say it out loud now as she stupidly came back to help him, so why not take her help?
