President Lin, how could you, the president of a big company, let your husband do whatever he wants? Both of you deserve what you'll get," said Assistant Liu gloatingly as she took her cell phone back.

To be honest, they were able to turn the tables thanks to Lin Yijun's husband's recklessness. Otherwise, they wouldn't have been able to solve the matter so easily.

However, both Lu Chen and Lin Yijun couldn't be bothered with their attitude. Lu Chen sat on a chair and smoked while waiting for news from the other side, whereas Lin Yijun asked the Public Relations executive to pour her a cup of hot coffee and drank it leisurely.

She was not worried at all since Lu Chen had taken matters into his own hands.

At the end of last year, Lu Chen had numerous superstars attending Yi Qi Technology's annual dinner in support of him. What made this petty popular idol think so highly of herself?

Seeing that both Lu Chen and Lin Yijun showed no signs of bother, Hu Yue and Assistant Liu were extremely displeased.

To be honest, Hu Yue really wanted to see Lu Chen and Lin Yijun begging her in helplessness.

However, Lu Chen and Lin Yijun treated them as if they were a joke, which was an insult to them.

In a fit of rage, Hu Yue took out her cell phone again and posted another status on how Dong Jia Electronics had bullied her in an overbearing manner.

As soon as she posted the status, numerous fans immediately commented under the post, consoling her as well as condemning Dong Jia Electronics more severely.

Just then, the Public Relations executive saw Hu Yue's status and frowned in response. Worried, she came up to Lin Yijun with her cell phone before showing the screen to Lin Yijun with a troubled expression. "President Lin, please take a look."

Lin Yijun lowered her head to look at the screen of the pretty Public Relations executive's cell phone and saw the status Hu Yue posted on social media moments earlier. The post had attracted nearly 200 comments within a short amount of time.

The TV series which Hu Yue had starred in was a hit show, and was now at the peak of its popularity. Therefore, every single move she made attracted public attention.

Every single comment under her post was condemning Dong Jia Electronics.

"How dare Dong Jia Electronics be so shameless by bullying Hu Yue? What a dirty and despicable company!"

"The filthy Dong Jia Electronics must be boycotted once and for all!"

That's right. We must boycott every product from Dong Jia Electronics so that they get what they deserve for bullying Hu Yue!"

"Dong Jia Electronics, you piece of trash! I hope you go bankrupt tomorrow!"

The comments section under Hu Yue's post was flooded with all kinds of swearing and condemnation, and such comments were increasing with the passing of each second.

Some emotional fans even went as far as to comment that they were now rushing to Dong Jia Electronics to seek trouble with the company, for they must claim justice for Hu Yue.

Lin Yijun couldn't help but shake her head at the sight of these comments.

She would honestly be at a loss for what to do if Lu Chen hadn't taken any action today. After all, she had never experienced such an incident and had no idea how frenzied the fans of a celebrity could be.

However, since Lu Chen had taken action, she believed that he would take good care of everything.

This showed how much she trusted Lu Chen.

Besides, she had no need to be afraid of Hu Yue, who was nothing but a petty actress.

Hu Yue couldn't help sneering upon seeing the comments under her post.

Just wait and see, Dong Jia Electronics, didn't you just brag about wanting to let our company go bankrupt? I don't know if our company will be going bankrupt, but all I know is that your company will probably go bankrupt for real!" Hu Yue shot a mocking glance at Lu Chen and Lin Yijun before turning to leave the room.

She decided to leave the matter to her company, since all she had to do now was to continue mobilizing her fans to attack Dong Jia Electronics.

Seeing both Hu Yue and Assistant Liu leaving smugly, the pretty Public Relations executive's eyes were full of worries. "President, the situation right now is very unfavorable to us. The new product might be boycotted by a large number of people when it is launched. Also, Hu Yue's slandering of our company might give opportunities to other companies. If these companies add insult to injury, our company's situation will be even worse."

"It's alright." Lin Yijun shook her head in response. No matter how many fans Hu Yue had, they wouldn't outnumber the fans of those world-class superstars who were on their way here. Hu Yue's fan base was nothing but a speck of dust compared to the huge fan bases of those superstars. Besides, Dong Jia Electronics wouldn't take the blame forever.

She believed that Lu Chen would make it hot for Hu Yue.

Hu Yue's management company was indeed powerful, and they might not give a sh*t about her Dong Jia Electronics. But how about Yi Qi Technology?

—The Man in Disguise

Yi Qi Technology was her husband's company, and its power and influence were acknowledged by countless entrepreneurs as well as heads of states from home and abroad. There was no way Yi Qi Technology would be bothered about a mere management company.

"Don't worry, they'll be back in a short while," said Lu Chen flatly.

The Public Relations executive knew that Lu Chen was Yi Qi Technology's boss, but she still couldn't quite believe his words since Lu Chen had talked so big just now.

Meanwhile, Hu Yue, Assistant Liu and the rest had left the reception hall from the back door. They thought they could avoid the reporters who were waiting outside, but they didn't expect these reporters to have a sharp eye, for they found Hu Yue and the rest in an instant.

"They've come out."

"Let's go. Hurry up and ask her what's going on."

A group of reporters surrounded Hu Yue immediately as soon as they saw her.

Hu Yue was a bit annoyed, but she put on a smile when she suddenly had an idea of using the media to throw mud at Dong Jia Electronics again.

Just then, a reporter asked hastily, "Hu Yue, did you really study medicine?"

Hu Yue was stunned at the question. She looked a bit displeased, yet she still answered, "Didn't we talk about this question before? I don't want to answer that for a second time."

"Would you please answer my question then, Hu Yue? If you happened to meet a coronary heart disease patient having a sudden attack, how would you help the patient?" Another reporter asked a tricky question.

Hu Yue was immediately stumped by the question. She looked extremely displeased, but she couldn't answer the question even after thinking for a long time.

Seeing her expression, Assistant Liu immediately put on a fierce look and shoved the reporters aside forcibly. "Alright, that's all for today. Leave the other questions for the next time. Hu Yue isn't in a good mood because she was just bullied by Dong Jia Electronics. Please make way for us."

Just then, one of the reporters shouted from behind "She had been talking bullsh*t about having a background in medicine and showing her expertise in her acting role. Are all celebrities nowadays talking through their hats?"

"Who did you say was talking through their hats? Say it again and I'll sue you for slander!" Hu Yue lost herself at once. If the reporters made reports about this, her persona would be blown!

"Take a look at it yourself; all the trending topics right now are about you shooting off your mouth,"

—The Man in Disguise

said a reporter with a gloating laugh.

Hu Yue frowned and took out her cell phone to have a look. As soon as she opened the website, she saw over ten trending topics, all of which were accusing her of talking through her hat.

Hu Yue's expression changed immediately; she felt the world was spinning around her.

"It must've been Dong Jia Electronics doing—they must have slandered me! They're asking for trouble!"

She suddenly recalled what Lu Chen had said on the phone previously, and stormed back into the reception hall as if she had gone insane.

Assistant Liu had no idea what was going on, but she didn't have time to check what had happened online. Upon seeing Hu Yue's response, she could only go after her.
