

Chapter 111 Idiot

Looking at the faces of the people around her, Emily knew it was best for her not to explain at this time. She struggled to get up from the ground and ran away with her head down.

After Emily ran away, the crowd was still talking about her. Alyssa curled the corners of her mouth.

She had practiced taekwondo. Emily couldn't push her down unless she had practiced too.

She continued to walk outside, wanting to spend some time alone in a quiet place. She had just taken two steps when she heard footsteps behind her. Out of the corner of her eye, she found two people following her. She sensed that something was wrong. She didn't stop, instead, she walked faster.

She wanted to see who was following her!

What she didn't know was that in a corner of the second floor, Leon had been watching her for a while.

He saw her walk to the door and also saw the people following her.

Feeling that Alyssa might be in danger, Leon immediately went downstairs to find Alyssa.

He was done with his business. But when he went outside, Alyssa was gone.

Leon searched around and only saw a few pearls and small diamonds scattered on the floor. He recognized almost immediately that they were the decorations on Alyssa's dress.

He sensed that something was wrong and asked his bodyguards to seal the venue while asking some of them to look for Alyssa. He also ran in the direction of the small diamonds and pearls on the ground.

Half an hour later.

Alyssa woke up from bed in a daze. She felt like something was gripping her neck hard. She subconsciously touched her neck and felt pain on it.

She drew a breath as she not only felt the pain, but also remembered that she had been knocked unconscious earlier.

She just wanted to take a walk outside and wait for Leon to come out. In that short period of time, she was attacked!

Did Emily do it?

It shouldn't be her.

Although Emily might be angry at being in such a mess by her, she shouldn't know that she would come today. She couldn't improvise in such a short time.

Who did it?

Now, all she could think of was Leon's enemy.

He ran Hunter Group, and it was impossible that he didn't have business enemies.

Today she was unlucky to be caught here.

She calmed down and looked at her surroundings.

The environment of this room looked quite familiar.

Alyssa thought carefully and quickly recognized that this was the decoration of the party place. So, now she was still in the venue?

She checked her things and found that all of her stuff was gone.

She stood up and tried to open the door. The door opened surprisingly easily.

She was glad. But when she pulled it open, she saw Mr. Nell standing outside the door.

She had seen Mr. Nell. Before, he had been trying to talk to Leon, but never had the chance.

It seemed that it was Mr. Nell who had brought her here.

Alyssa looked at him, assuming that he would do something to her, but he soon gave a gentle smile.

His big face smiled like a broken cake.

She stepped backward.

Boom!

Mr. Nell actually fell to his knees.

Seeing him suddenly on his knees in front of her, Alyssa frowned.

All her previous defenses seemed unnecessary. Mr. Nell inexplicably fell to his knees. This was really ... strange.

Seeing Alyssa's surprised expression, Mr. Nell hurriedly said, "Miss Graham ... No, Mrs. Hunter, I didn't know you were Mrs. Hunter. I didn't mean to kidnap you here today. Please forgive me."

He didn't know she was Mrs. Hunter?

Alyssa thought this reason was a bit far-fetched, but since he was on his knees and his tone was sincere, she thought his words should have some credibility.

After all, Leon did rarely bring her to such events.

She didn't blame Leon. After all, she was busy too.

Alyssa turned around and sat down on the bed, calm and relaxed.

Mr. Nell panicked since he found out that he had kidnapped Mrs. Hunter. The party's venue was closed by Leon's men. He couldn't escape even if he wanted to.

The host, Mr. Granger, and Leon got into a fight. Leon refused to let anyone go, so a large number of people were trapped in the venue. Meanwhile, Leon sent his men around looking for Alyssa. Mr. Nell knew that if Leon found out that he had kidnapped his wife, he would be finished.

As he watched Leon's men quickly take control of the venue, his ambition, which had previously been boosted by Jacob, was long gone. He couldn't just let Alyssa go now. Otherwise, by the time Mrs. Hunter said he had bullied her, Leon would be so angry that he could kill him.

He didn't dare to let Alyssa go, so he could only put her in the room.

He also thought about running away and pretending that he didn't do it.

But then he was worried that Alyssa would recognize his people before she was knocked out and identify him.

With Leon's skills, it would be so easy for him to find evidence.

The thought of Derick still in prison made him feel stiff.

He got down on both knees and crawled to Alyssa.

"What do you want?"

"Mrs. Hunter, it's all my fault. I'll leave all my people at your disposal, okay? Please don't say that I kidnapped you, okay?"

The corners of Alyssa's mouth twitched. What an idiot!

However!

He really didn't hurt her. She nodded, "Okay, I'll pretend you didn't hurt me. I'll leave then."

She was about to leave, but was stopped by Mr. Nell, "Mrs. Hunter, are you sure you won't mention me? And what if you do? I can't afford to offend Mr. Hunter and I don't want to offend Mr. Hunter, so how about you leave me a note?"

"Sure!"

She was just worried about the lack of evidence.

Now there was evidence.

She calmly wrote the note as Mr. Nell wanted and signed her name. Looking at Mr. Nell, who smiled with his face full of wrinkles, she suddenly lost the mood to eat cake.

She turned around and walked out, and no one stopped her. She just went out and saw Leon's people.

A few minutes later.

Led by the bodyguard, Alyssa saw Leon and she hurriedly jumped into Leon's arms.

Her small face was full of surprise, but her big eyes were wet, like a deer returning home after being lost in the forest.

Seeing Alyssa in his arms, Leon couldn't push her away. Instead, he hugged her tighter.

Alyssa told him about her previous abduction. Mr. Nell, who stood not far away, didn't expect Alyssa to tell the whole story about his kidnapping of her. She had clearly made a note before.

Now it was too late to say anything.

It was important for him to escape.

But he was stopped just as he ran to the door. Soon the police came and took him away.

The venue was restored to order and the guests were dispersed.

The host, Mr. Granger, naturally did not look good. He personally stood at the door as a waiter to see off the guests. His body, which couldn't stand straight, was even more bent. In his conversation with the guests, he kept complaining about Leon's arrogance and unreasonableness.

Alyssa and Leon were still in the venue. She could clearly feel the fear and awe from the surrounding people towards Leon.

Looking at his gloomy face, she tightened her grip on his hand. Soon, she felt Leon's response. Somehow it seemed that Leon was telling her not to worry at the moment!

She suddenly ignored the gazes and emotions of the people around them. She only had Leon in her eyes.
