

Chapter 37 He Agreed

"Alyssa..."

"The investigators have found the person who did this to you. It was a crazy woman."

"Yes, I don't know who did this to me. It must be the crazy woman, Alyssa. I will do anything you want me to." Ryan Young stepped back and nodded. He peeked at Alyssa. He didn't dare to offend her. Although this young lady was arrogant and domineering, she had money!

Money was better than anything these days.

Ryan Young suddenly followed up.

She turned around with a cold face, "What do you want?"

"Alyssa, I like you. Really, you are the most beautiful girl I have ever met. I fell in love with you at the first sight..."

Bang!

Alyssa's foot directly got to Ryan Young's face.

Ryan Young was kicked to the ground and his money scattered all over.

Alyssa raised the corners of her mouth, "Put away your money and do what you're supposed to do. Otherwise, when I kick you next time, it will be your bottom."

Ryan Young's hands shook, and the money he just picked up fell back onto the ground.

She looked at Ryan Young's messy appearance and left.

Because there was a cook at home, Alyssa Graham didn't rush home, but drove directly back to the Graham's House.

On a whim, she remembered that her mother liked pastries from Soft&Sweet very much and got some from Soft&Sweet to bring home.

10 minutes later,

Alyssa went back home and saw her mother.

"Mom, I bought you pastries."

"Alyssa, you are back?" Alyssa's mother looked at her, "Didn't your father tell you before? You have been married to the Hunter family. Don't come back if there is nothing wrong. Why did you come back?"

"Oh! I am back to see you today, and I'm leaving now." Looking at her mother, who always loved her, Alyssa Graham gave her a hug.

Being held by her, Alyssa's mother was stunned for a long time.

Her daughter had not held her like this for a long time. When she approached Alyssa, Alyssa always said that there was a generation gap between them and that she did not understand her.

Whenever she got close to Alyssa before, they would end up in a bad mood. She didn't expect Alyssa to take the initiative to come close to her today.

She thought that the child must want something from her, otherwise why would she be willing to get close.

What happened today?

What did she want?

"Alyssa, do you have something to tell me? Do you need money? Or, do you want to talk about what happened?" Alyssa's mother was held tight by her daughter and could hardly get away.

She was so attentive to her.

She must have something serious going on.

Thinking that her daughter might be in trouble, Alyssa's mother was so nervous that her palms got sweaty.

This wasn't about her wanting to leave Leon Hunter, was it?!

She couldn't make the decision on this matter. She was just about to persuade Alyssa, but she heard Alyssa's voice.

"Mom, I just want to send you a cake. It's OK. I'm leaving."

Then, Alyssa took her bag and car key and was about to leave, but couldn't help looking back at her mother.

Seeing Alyssa turning back, her mother said, "Now that you had come back during dinner time, why don't you stay for dinner?"

Hearing her mother's invitation, she wanted to stay badly, but she had not told Leon Hunter.

"What's the matter? You don't want the yummy food that I have made for you?" Seeing Alyssa's hesitation, her mother wanted her daughter to stay even more. "These days, I have been thinking of your childhood. I remember that you used to like the braised fish and mushrooms, and you wouldn't go to bed unless I was holding you."

Alyssa nodded and thought of the past. She felt sorry that she was very wayward, but didn't dare to show it. She bowed her head and said, "I remember my childhood, too."

Thinking of the past, Alyssa and her mother got emotional.

"By the way, give Leon a call and ask him to come over for dinner. You two are husband and wife now. You should act like a couple. See, are your father and I not always together? You two should be the same. You should always stay together."

"But I haven't told him." Alyssa was stunned and worried that he would refuse to come to dinner.

"What would it be like if you stay for dinner and leave Leon out alone? You are husband and wife. I can tell that Leon treats you well. Alyssa, stop thinking about Ryan Young. What he likes is our family's money." Seeing that her daughter was sensible, Alyssa's mother couldn't help saying a bit more.

"I'll call him." Mother's words moved Alyssa, and she went to make the phone call.

She felt that her mother was right. They didn't spend much time together and should take this opportunity to cultivate their feelings. When their families have more connections, it will help with the relationship of Leon and her.

She made the phone call, which was answered soon..

"Leon Hunter, come to my parents' house for dinner today! I'll ask the cook to make your favorite prawns. "

Leon Hunter still had documents in his hand. But when he thought of the prawns, his indifferent eyes glowed slightly, "What time?"

"What did you say?" Alyssa held the phone in surprise. She did not expect Leon Hunter to ask about the time.

"Did you say dinner? What time should I be there?"

"Well, whenever is fine. Don't you get off work at 5 pm?" Alyssa Graham really wanted to slap herself after she said this. Why would she ask Leon Hunter such a question, which obviously meant that he was welcomed to come over, "Whenever you come, we will have the food ready."

"Then I'll come after work."

"Well, then you..."

Before she finished, Leon Hunter had hung up.

Alyssa should be angry.

But Alyssa Graham did not feel the anger at all.

She was very happy that Leon Hunter could come.

Leon Hunter hung up, but he was a little nervous.

Hearing a knock at the door, Leon quickly awakened from his thoughts.

"Come in." Leon Hunter saw his secretary who had just made a mistake, "Have you checked the data?"

"Yes, I'm sorry, Mr. Hunter. I shouldn't have made such a mistake."

Leon Hunter looked at the data that the secretary had just checked and compared it with what he had, "OK, tell the design department that we will have a meeting at 9 am tomorrow. Double-check today's data again. If there is no problem, you can get off work."

"Got it, Mr. Hunter."

The secretary was shocked. He quickly left Leon's office.

It was strange today. Not only did his boss not yell at him, but Leon Hunter also did not punish him either. That was a surprise.

He felt lucky and went back to work.

Seeing the secretary leave, Leon Hunter quickly packed his things, made sure he had everything, and waited to get off work at 5 pm.

It was 5:25 pm.

It was only 5 minutes before off time.

But Leon Hunter couldn't wait any longer. For the first time, 5 minutes felt so long.

Finally, it was time to get off work.

Leon Hunter got up and walked to his exclusive elevator in big steps.

After he went into the elevator, the staff of the Hunter Group started to scream with surprise, and the sound of discussion boiling up.

"Leon Hunter, President of the Hunter Group, who works overtime 365 days a year, suddenly got off work on time today?"

"If the boss doesn't work overtime, does it mean we can get off work, too?"

"The boss has left. What do we work overtime for? That's great. Let's get off work now."

In a few minutes, the corridor was empty.
