

Chapter 41 Support

"Jea-lou-sy!"

Emily Cole heard everyone's words and her face turned slightly pale. She turned her head and looked at the girl who called her out, holding her fists in both hands.

She immediately stood up, "I'm sorry everyone, this is a misunderstanding, I didn't know that Ryan Young's attacker had been caught, I'm sorry I made a mistake."

Where there is life, there is hope.

She can't show her hatred for Alyssa Graham now.

Now the only way to save herself is to apologize. Only by apologizing can she make everyone think that this was just an incident.

She had exposed herself. She couldn't pretend to not know about it.

"It turned out that Emily Cole was the one who said it. I didn't know Emily Cole say this and post those photos."

"I didn't see it. I didn't know."

"How could Emily Cole do such a thing? I remember. Was it because Emily Cole was outscored Alyssa Graham in the competition."

When Emily Cole heard these words, even though she didn't agree at heart, she still explained, "How would I do this? I really thought Alyssa Graham was going to do something to Ryan Young. I was also worried. What if there is a dangerous person around us? But I didn't expect such a coincidence. "

After hearing Emily Cole's words, some girls immediately stood behind Emily Cole.

Emily Cole saw that the girl around her had gradually stood beside her, worried that this would not be over easily, and immediately pretended to be wronged and cried.

Seeing that Emily Cole began to cry, Alyssa Graham laughed and said: "it seems that Emily Cole just did this for the sake of everyone's safety. It's good for me to make it clear. Therefore, I also want to thank Emily Cole!"

Ella Lloyd liked Alyssa's attitude. Looking at Alyssa Graham, she was very happy. It's good to be tolerant.

Alyssa Graham went to his Grandpa, "Grandpa, the issue is over. I'll take the rest of today off and send you home."

Alyssa thought Grandpa Graham would go with her, but he didn't move.

Alyssa called him, "Grandpa?"

"How could the granddaughter of our family be bullied like this? Just because they called you a suspect, you became the suspect and had to be investigated? I'm not going anywhere unless you gave me a proper explanation. Otherwise, I am going to sue to protect her legally. Even though my granddaughter was willing to let it go, it doesn't mean I'm going to do the same."

Grandpa Graham was not anxious and he sat aside, looking at Alyssa Graham, "Granddaughter, has your Grandpa ever taught you not to be bullied outside? You were wantonly slandered, and your Grandpa is here for you!"

"Grandpa, I'm good and we can just let it go. Let's go home."

Alyssa stopped her Grandpa and smiled, her eyes twinkling like stars.

Understanding Alyssa Graham's thoughts, Grandpa Graham patted Alyssa on the shoulder. "Your school called me old man Graham. Today, things are clear. I won't leave without getting an explanation. If people know that I can't even take care of my granddaughter, everybody would look down at our family."

The teacher in the moral education department didn't know what to do.

It was quiet for a few seconds. Nobody knew what to do.

The teacher of the moral education department came to Grandpa Graham and said, "Mr. Graham, you see, it's not worth being angry because of this matter. Let me take care of this and the school will give Alyssa an explanation."

"When will that be?"

"As soon as possible, I'll bring this up at the meeting."

"No, I'll give my granddaughter an explanation now. How can a little girl stay in school after being bullied like this?"

Grandpa Graham would not let go.

Alyssa Graham knew that her grandpa loved him.

Emily Cole had found lots of ways to make it difficult for Alyssa.

Alyssa Graham saw Emily Cole turning pale. Without saying a word, she just waited for a statement from the school.

The teacher of Moral Education Department immediately said, "Emily Cole, you are too arbitrary about this. It's really too much to accuse Alyssa Graham for no reason. Even if you had reasons, you should not have slandered Alyssa like this. You should apologize to Alyssa Graham."

The situation was really embarrassing for Emily Cole.

She didn't want to apologize to Alyssa Graham. But it seemed that she had to do it in order to get over it today.

If they went out like this, students would think that she didn't admit the mistakes.

Then her image of modesty and gentleness would be greatly reduced.

If Cousin Hunter knew about this and told her aunt, she would be done.

Emily Cole was in dilemma and was already hearing the students' comments.

"If you make a mistake, you have to apologize. Emily Cole slandered Alyssa Graham. I can't believe I used to like her. I thought she was not only beautiful but also good at her academics. She turned out to be nothing good at all."

"That's right. Who could endure this kind of slander? It really hurts one's reputation. If I were Alyssa, I would have cried."

"Apologize for what you have done!"

In an instant, the students around all started claiming, "Apology!"

The sound got louder and louder, one after another.

Alyssa Graham was surprised to hear the protest, and soon found her Grandpa holding her hand.

"Alyssa Graham, don't be afraid. Grandpa will get you justice. Whoever dares to bully you and ruin your reputation has to surrender her own reputation."

Alyssa Graham looked at her grandpa and felt very warm.

She must have gone out of mind when she turned her back at her own family for an ass like Ryan Young.

She got close to her grandpa and hugged him.

Grandpa quickly hugged Alyssa back, "Don't worry, grandpa will protect you."

"Yes." Alyssa Graham felt very happy and held her Grandpa.

Grandpa Graham's heart was filled with warmth and love, "Now that everything is clear. When are you going to apologize?"

The students' protest for "Apology" was also getting louder.

Emily Cole clenched her hands, nodded, and went to Alyssa Graham, "Alyssa Graham, I'm sorry!"

"Well, your voice was not this soft when you accused my granddaughter!" Grandpa Graham was dissatisfied.

Emily Cole nodded, looked at Alyssa Graham and forced herself to say, "I'm sorry!"

Alyssa Graham heard Emily's apology. She looked at her grandpa and smiled, "It's fine, grandpa. It's not worth it to get angry for such a person. Let's go home."

"Now that Alyssa said so, I'll let this go, but I will remember it. In the future, whenever Alyssa gets bullied at school, you will be the first one I go to. It's immoral to slander others like this, especially for a girl at this young age."

Grandpa Graham kept talking as he led Alyssa away.