

Chapter 47 Thief

But now, not at all!

Now she just hated Ryan Young to death and wanted him to get away.

"Do you want money?"

Alyssa Graham couldn't bear Ryan Young any more and directly asked him how much money he wanted.

Now she just wanted to get rid of Ryan Young.

Ryan Young heard Alyssa Graham and smiled, "Three thousand, I want three thousand, Alyssa. You know I have to pay rent every month and I have a lot of bills. Last time you only gave me one thousand and I have already spent all of it long time ago."

"It's already all gone?" Alyssa Graham stared at him. It had only been a few days.

She nodded, "OK, I'll give you three thousand."

Alyssa Graham took out her card and handed it to Ryan Young.

When Ryan Young saw Alyssa Graham's bank card, his eyes couldn't look at anywhere else.

He grabbed the bank card and ran away in a hurry.

Alyssa Graham saw him running away and raised the corners of her mouth. She picked up the phone and immediately called the investigators she had known before.

After the call, she turned around and saw a female figure running away. Looking at the figure, she could tell that it was Emily Cole.

She called Emily Cole.

The figure stopped for a few seconds and soon ran into the distance.

Alyssa Graham quickly went after Emily Cole and finally caught her in the corner.

"You weren't just there to peep at me. What did you do?" Alyssa Graham looked at the cellphone in Emily Cole's hand and asked, "You took photos of me?"

"So what? I just took a picture of you and Ryan Young together. It's shameless of you to marry Brother Leon, while still hooking up with your first love. "

"That's what it is. Help yourself then." Alyssa sneered at Emily and felt that Emily couldn't find any way to fault her. She just couldn't find anything else to do.

She turned around and left.

Emily Cole watched Alyssa Graham leaving and quickly put away her cellphone. She wanted to find a chance to show her Brother Leon.

As long as Brother Leon got disappointed with Alyssa Graham, his mind would not be on Alyssa Graham anymore.

At the thought of this, Emily Cole couldn't help laughing sarcastically.

Emily Cole began to plan for a good occasion to show this video to Brother Leon. Thinking that she finally got Alyssa Graham's evidence, the haze on her face finally drifted away.

Half an hour later

In the police station,

"No, it's really the bank card that Alyssa Graham gave me. How else could I get it?" Ryan Young explained to the investigators.

"But Mrs. Hunter said that you coerced her into taking out her bank card and wanted to take away her money. When we arrived, we did see that you were holding Mrs. Hunter's bank card in your hand. Are you still saying that you didn't do it?"

"No, this card was given to me by Alyssa Graham. Alyssa Graham and I are lovers."

"But Mrs. Hunter didn't say that. Mrs. Hunter said that you followed her early in the morning just to rob her money. Mr. Young, tell us the truth! How long have you been following Mrs. Hunter? Is it because Mrs. Hunter has money and you wanted to rob Mrs. Hunter? "

"I did not...I already told you that I didn't do that. Where is Alyssa Graham? Can you call Alyssato confront me? "

"Mrs. Hunter had no reason to lie. Why would she need confrontation? Last time, it was because you identified Mrs. Hunter without evidence that made us blame Mrs. Hunter by mistake. Stop your nonsense. Mrs. Hunter also said that she just wanted to take back the card. After that you can leave."

Ryan Young knew that it was useless to say anything, so he turned around and walked away.

He still felt uncomfortable because he didn't get the money.

In the past, Alyssa Graham was easy to cheat. As long as he said something nice, that silly woman would listen to him and give him the money.

He was angry at the thought that he was taken by the investigators instead of getting the money today.

The more he thought about it, the more upset he got. He had to find time to ask that stupid woman.

5 o'clock in the evening.

Alyssa Graham came out of the school 10 minutes early and took her bank card. She was very grateful to the investigators.

She took the card and went directly to pick up Leon Hunter from work.

As Leon Hunter was not back yet, she listened to English songs.

Occasionally raising her eyes, she saw that all the employees of the Hunter's Group had come out, but she still didn't see Leon Hunter.

Alyssa was not in a hurry. She was busy minding her own business.

As soon as she opened the book, Ella Lloyd called.

"Ella, what's the matter?"

"Didn't you see the class groupchat?"

"No." She used to love playing with her cellphone. She was on her cellphone all day and loved to take selfies.

But not any more. She had to spend her time on something more worthwhile.

"Hang up then and take a look at your cellphone first."

"OK."

After hanging up,

Alyssa Graham opened the groupchat which had been blocked by her for a long time. A video was shown in the group. It was the video of her being entangled by Ryan Young in the morning.

The video had been edited with a lot of stitching techniques. In the edited video, she and Ryan Young seemed very close.

Alyssa took a look at the person who sent the video, May Hill?

She didn't have any memory of this person.

She called Ella Lloyd and said, "who is May Hill?"

"A girl in our class! Don't you remember her? "

"I have heard the of the name, but I don't remember having much contact with her." Alyssa Graham regretted as soon as she said it. She patted her thigh. "Oh, I remember. I know May Hill. She looks a little black and always has oily hair. She talks in a very girly way."

"Yes! Didn't you make fun of her before and call her Paris Hilton? "

Did Alyssa Graham remember what she had done and said?

No wonder she sent such a video.

She had offended this person before.

This time, she learned the lesson. We should try to offend others.

She didn't say anything. Ella Lloyd's voice rang, "Alyssa, you and Ryan Young, you two..."

"This video was edited. Ryan Young did come for me this morning, but what happened this morning was totally different from what's shown in the video." Alyssa Graham was worried that Ella Lloyd would misunderstand and explained to her about it.

Ella Lloyd was even more worried when she heard Alyssa's words, "What should we do now? Everybody thinks it's your problem? "

"I'll take care of it. It would be clear who sent the video."

Alyssa Graham put down the phone and called the police directly.

One guest should not bother two hosts. She went to the previous investigators and told them the whole thing.

Investigators said they would deal with the matter immediately.

Alyssa put down the phone. In fact, there's no need to investigate because she already knew who did it.

She saw Emily Cole in the morning. Besides, who else would do such Bullshit. It must be Emily.

Since Emily believed that this video would destroy her, Alyssa felt the need to show Emily that she wasn't impacted at all.

10 minutes later,

She found that the video in the class groupchat couldn't be played any more.

Obviously, the video has been dealt with.

Soon, the phone rang.

It was a number Alyssa didn't recognize.

She picked up the phone and heard a piteous female voice.

"Alyssa Graham, no, Miss Graham, can you cut me some slack? I...still wanna graduate and get my degree. I saw the video by accident. I admit that when I sent this video, I wanted to make fun of you. But I didn't expect you to call the police. "

"Who are you?" Alyssa Graham rubbed her ears and found them hurt.
