

Chapter 77 Abandon Her Proposal

Alyssa was really hungry. In the past, she never ate like this at home.

Now, she actually ate all the food!

Looking at her like this, Leon was a little worried, "Are you tired from your usual work?"

"It's okay."

"Have you eaten enough? Do you want me to ask someone to buy something else?"

"No, I'm full."

"Really?"

Leon was a little worried that she hadn't eaten enough. She was already very thin now and didn't need to lose weight at all.

"Yes." Alyssa looked at the duck-shaped water cup in front of her and looked at Leon joyfully, "This cup is very pretty. The little duck is cute. The straw is convenient, too."

"If you like it, you can have it." Leon nodded. He didn't find this cup pretty.

However, for him, the principle of judging whether something was good or bad was whether Alyssa was happy.

As long as she was happy, anything could be good.

After Alyssa finished her meal, Leon got a phone call and started to work. She found an opportunity and left.

She was a little late getting back because of her delay in eating.

Fortunately, Hassan didn't ask her why she was late. Melany and Trent were too busy to pry into how Alyssa got back late.

Alyssa came back and started to work.

She continued her work from the morning.

After the end of the day, they continued to work overtime.

Alyssa pretended to go to buy take-out and actually went to pick Leon up.

After taking Leon home, she rushed to work again.

Leon didn't want to let her go, but when he saw Alyssa's awkward expression, he let go of his hand.

That night, Alyssa worked until 5:00 a.m. to get the Summit Group's proposal sorted out.

Alyssa handed the proposal to Trent and Melany separately.

Trent and Melany looked at the proposal carefully.

Alyssa looked at their expressions and pursed her lips, nervous.

They didn't look up after a long time.

Alyssa was even more nervous.

Did she fail to do a good enough project?

Was it full of mistakes?

But she didn't think there was anything wrong with her proposal.

But looking at their expressions, she was not sure at all.

Alyssa was nervous.

Suddenly, Melany looked up and her eyes fell directly on Alyssa.

Alyssa was a little confused and didn't know what to do.

Melany looked at Alyssa and asked softly, "Alyssa, is this really your first time working on a project? Are you really an intern?"

"Yes." Alyssa nodded, "Yes, so I might have some problems with my proposal. You are all my seniors. If there are any problems with my proposal, you guys can just tell me and I'll change it right away."

Melany shook her head, "I don't see what's wrong with it. On the contrary, I think your proposal is quite good."

Alyssa tilted her head in confusion.

Melany seemed to mean what she said.

She wasn't the kind of person who would flatter someone, and she'd had numerous complaints about her before.

Trent looked at Alyssa and nodded, "I agree with Melany. I don't see the problem either. If I didn't know you were an intern, I'd have to wonder if you were a senior who had been in this field for a few years."

"I am indeed an intern. However, I've worked on Harvey's Technology project before and have some experience."

Alyssa was honest. Other than what she learned in school, she learned the rest here.

"I don't really see anything wrong with it. I think you can show it to Mr. Wood. However, Mr. Wood is very strict and might be picky, so I advise you not to take everything Mr. Wood says personally." After reading the proposal Alyssa had made, Trent quite liked her.

This little girl was more capable than he thought. She was not spoiled. Before that, he had come into contact with some interns. Those people had little ability and were very fragile.

He also gradually understood why Hassan would like such a young girl. She was really quite good at making a proposal that didn't seem to have any problems.

He might not even be better than Alyssa.

Hearing Trent's words, Alyssa was a little embarrassed to know his approval of her, "Actually, my proposal is not that good. I've seen a lot of projects before, and I've borrowed a little. I'm still a student and don't have a lot of experience, so I don't feel that my program is innovative."

Trent smiled.

Having the ability was one thing. It was rare to be humble.

Melany saw Trent's expression and knew that Trent appreciated Alyssa very much.

They had been following Alyssa's project for the past few days. It was already incredible that a little girl could drive them up and direct their work.

This little girl was not an ordinary person.

Mr. Wood always had a good eye for people.

Alyssa had some confidence. At that moment, she glanced at the time. She was about to take Leon to work.

She hurried out and picked Leon up for work, yawning as she drove.

Leon didn't say a word the whole way. Seeing her red eyes, he couldn't bear to blame her, "You've been working late last night?"

"Yeah." Alyssa rubbed her eyes and glanced at Leon, "Today, my work will be over. I won't have anything else to do. What do you want to eat for lunch? I'll bring you lunch."

Alyssa still thought about Leon's lunch. This time, she was going to buy two meals. Then they could eat together.

"You decide."

That was his way of approving of her. She looked at Leon and smiled.

After dropping Leon off, Alyssa went to the office.

Hassan's office.

Alyssa stood in front of Hassan, waiting for Hassan's reprimand.

Hassan took a few minutes to read through the proposal and said, "Your proposal is fine. It just lacks innovation. But that's okay. It's pretty good that you can make the project like this. But I'm really sorry, your project is still substandard."

"..." Alyssa twitched the corners of her mouth and said nothing.

The feeling of being affirmed and then denied was like the feeling of being taken to the sky and then being thrown down hard.

She was in such a low mood that she didn't want to say a word.

Hassan continued, "I've already made a plan. Tomorrow you take your team to Summit Group to meet with Mr. Baker and go through the rest of the process."

Alyssa looked at the proposal on the table and was speechless for a moment.

She had worked so hard just to get this project done.

Trent and Melany both said her proposal was fine. She did work all night on this proposal.

Hassan didn't reject her proposal completely. But the fact that he abandoned her proposal already negated her efforts to some extent.
