

Chapter 90 The Designer Chloe

Ten o'clock in the morning.

Alyssa went to see Alice, the director of the design department.

Alice looked pretty and her makeup was exquisite. Her outfit was a limited collection from KK. It seemed that she had made a lot of effort to get it. As the leading merchant in A City, Graham Group didn't even have any of the limited KK products.

Alice carried a noble atmosphere all over her body.

But whether she was really noble or not, Alyssa would not know!

Alice's attitude to Alyssa was very cold. She didn't even look at her.

Alyssa knew that such a person naturally would not take her seriously. But she had read Alice's profile before.

Alice was the daughter of a distant relative of Mr. Jones. Her education was not as high as hers. However, she was particularly skillful and recruited a lot of prestigious designers. So she was promoted very fast.

Alyssa thought that Alice must have supporters. She was aloof and not talkative, and even if she could recruit people, she couldn't do it on her own. It seemed that there was a problem with the board of directors.

Besides Alice, there were many employees in the design department. For example, Pamela, who loved to wear sunglasses indoors, Chad, who was bald, and Janet, who hid in the corner and liked to look out the window.

Through her observation all morning, she soon focused on Ada Cooper, the most gossipy young girl in the design department.

This little girl liked to gossip and was about the same age as her. The most important thing was that she found Ada liked candy.

While others went to lunch at noon, she went outside and bought a bag of candy.

When Ada passed by her in the afternoon, she deliberately put the candy aside. Soon the candy fell to the ground. Ada felt sorry and picked it up, so Alyssa gave Ada some candy. Ada was very happy and took the initiative to talk to Alyssa.

Alyssa smiled and said it was okay.

It went pretty well with such a young girl.

However, after one contact with Ada, Alyssa never had any more contact with her.

It was almost the end of the day, and she hadn't made any progress.

People were leaving one after another.

Only Ada stayed behind to work overtime.

When everyone was gone, Alyssa approached Ada. Seeing that Ada was still busy, Alyssa asked softly, "Ada, do you need help? It's my first day here today, and I don't know what I can do. There's nothing for me to do when I get back. Do you need me to do something?"

Ada looked at Alyssa and hesitated for a moment.

"You don't have to be courteous. We're colleagues, and I feel happy to help you. It's my first day here today and I really don't know what to do."

Hearing Alyssa say this, Ada relaxed, "Then can you make copies of these documents for me? I'm really kind of busy right now and I don't have time to make copies of these documents."

"No problem."

Alyssa quickly set the copies aside, "Is there anything else I can do for you? Just tell me."

"I still have a lot of files to archive. Alice said she will check them tomorrow."

"No wonder you had to make copies of all the documents. So you want to archive them! No problem, I'll help you."

"That's great, thank you, Alyssa."

Alyssa smiled and started to categorize the documents with Ada.

Alyssa moved fast and had a good memory, so she was much faster than Ada.

Ada didn't expect Alyssa to move so fast. In just a short while, she had handled most of the work.

Alyssa felt that Ada was not really good at organizing documents. She was slow and inattentive and put the documents in a mess. With her efficiency, she couldn't do the work even if she was exhausted.

If she was at Citic, she would have been driven out by Hassan.

She still needed to gather more information. Seeing that Ada seemed a little sleepy, Alyssa felt that her chance had come, "Ada, I'm a little thirsty. Can you pour some water for me?"

"Okay." Ada saw that Alyssa was quite efficient in her work and was much faster than her, so she hurried to pour water for Alyssa.

At this time, Alyssa unexpectedly saw the collaborative design drawing of Jones Group and Hunter Group.

The design in front of her should be the design that was leaked out. The author's name had obviously been covered.

After taking a closer look, she found that there were two designs. She felt something was wrong with that design and subconsciously went to find the contract with Hunter Group.

She soon found the contract. After making sure that there was nothing wrong with the contract, she took another look at the design. The design had another company's stamp on it! Could this design have been used by another company?

No way! No matter how bold the design department of Jones Group was, they couldn't have used another company's design.

Alyssa looked at the design and felt more and more strange.

At that moment, Ada came back. Seeing Ada coming with water, Alyssa asked, "I'm almost done with it. We can go home soon."

"You are so fast, Alyssa! I really didn't expect that you could finish all my work in such a short period of time."

"By the way, why is this design so strange? How come there are signatures and stamps on it?"

"I don't know." Ada looked at the design and said, "There's something wrong with this design. It was designed by our company's designer. However, that designer has been dismissed."

"I think this design is quite good! How can a designer be fired? Jones Group's designers are good, aren't they?"

Alyssa helped Ada, and Ada now considered Alyssa as her friend. She pulled Alyssa to the side. Seeing that there were no cameras over here, she said, "This design was given to Hunter Group, but then it was leaked. Because of this incident, our company lost a lot of money. The designer is Chloe Marley, who has been doing very well. Her work has also won awards. I don't think it was Chloe who leaked the design, but everyone said it was Chloe."

"Chloe? The designer? What did she say?"

"She quit directly."

"Oh! Then this has nothing to do with us. Well, let's go and finish the rest."

"Thank you, Alyssa, you are amazing."

Alyssa smiled and turned around to go get all the files in order. After leaving the Jones Group, Alyssa immediately called Hassan and told him to investigate Chloe.

Ten minutes later, Hassan got back to her.

He told Alyssa that Chloe's father worked for the Hunter Group. Moreover, he was a shareholder of the Hunter Group named Derick Marley.

Alyssa had long felt that something was wrong with this. She thought Chloe would be a breakthrough. Hassan also agreed with Alyssa and went to dig deeper into Chloe.
