

The Pinnacle of Life – Chapter 1095

“Holy sh*t! What the hell is going on?” Alex Rockefeller exclaimed.

Alex was initially queuing in front of Bliss Restaurant. But now, after clearly seeing that the person lying in the coffin was Lady Beatrice Assex, he naturally couldn't stand idle.

Seeing that the two ghost servants carrying the coffin were leaving in haste, he immediately left the queue and followed them.

‘Where are they carrying the coffin to?’

For some unknown reason, Alex felt that there was something more hidden beneath the veil. He used spiritual consciousness to sense Lady Beatrice and discovered that she was just knocked out.

The black coffin was not completely sealed. In the front and back of the casket, there were several small holes for air circulation. Alex didn't have to worry that Lady Beatrice would suffocate to death.

Alex saw that the two ghost servants seemed to be in a hurry, and they didn't even notice him following from behind.

Hence, Alex simply followed them from far behind. He wanted to see where these two living dead would take Lady Beatrice to in the end.

After some time, Alex eventually followed them to a high end villa neighborhood. The two ghost servants didn't enter through the neighborhood's main entrance.

Instead, they hopped over a tall wall directly. Based on how agile they were, they didn't look like regular zombies.

Meanwhile, Alex could identify through his observational Chi that these two fellows had the aura of living beings. That meant these two were living beings, but perhaps they cultivated some sort of wicked, evil martial arts that ultimately caused them to end up like this.

Seeing Lady Beatrice getting carried into a villa by the two ghost servants, Alex immediately followed suit. The moment the door to the villa was opened, Alex saw a familiar figure, Noah Rockefeller!

‘Could this be where Noah’s family lived after they moved out from Rockefeller Manor?’

‘But how are these two fellows related to him?’

Alex hid above a large tree While he stared into the villa.

After that, he also saw another familiar figure, Carol Rockefeller!

‘I knew something wasn’t right!’

When Alex saw that Carol had returned, he knew that this matter must have been related to her. However, after the coffin was carried inside, and the villa door closed, Alex could no longer see what was happening.

However, Alex had another way. He quietly sneaked closer to the villa and activated his spiritual consciousness to investigate further.

No matter what, Alex needed to rescue Lady Beatrice before she got hurt.

“You’ve managed to kidnap her so soon. Excellent work!”

When Carol opened the coffin and saw that the person inside was indeed Lady Beatrice, she burst into laughter immediately.

Meanwhile, Levi Bayer was also standing next to the coffin. He looked inside at Lady Beatrice, now unconscious and lying silently, and he was instantly charmed by her beauty.

This was especially the case since Lady Beatrice coincidentally wore a pair of shorts. Her smooth, long legs with their fair complexion were presented to him. Secretly, he compared Lady Beatrice to Carol and discovered that the former was much more beautiful. He immediately came up with another idea.

“Is this Alex’s sister-in-law?” Levi stared at Lady Beatrice and asked.

“That’s right!” Carol said.

“Young Master Bayer, what do you think of her legs? Would there be a problem attaching them to my sister’s body?” Carol asked.

“Of course not. However, cutting off the legs of such a perfect beauty is truly a waste! Carol, how about this? Before we replace your sister’s legs, let me play with this woman for two days. Consider it my collection of interest from Alex, that b*stard,” Levi said.

Alex, standing silently not too far away, could hear what these people were saying inside the villa. He instantly became enraged.
